NEW MEXICO BASEBALL

HISTORY & RECORDS

Santa Ana Star Field has become one of the toughest places for opponents to play in college baseball as The University of New Mexico baseball team is 166-98-2 (.629) since returning to its former location on March 24, 2013 after nine seasons at Isotopes Park.

For decades the home of UNM baseball was known as Lobo Field, but thanks to a 10-year, $1 million naming rights gift from Tamaya Enterprises, Lobo Field was rechristened Santa Ana Star Field on Dec. 11, 2015.

"We are delighted to strengthen our relationship with Tamaya Enterprises, who have been long-standing supporters of the Lobos," said former UNM Vice President for Athletics Paul Krebs. "The field naming rights is a great example of their commitment to the community and provides us an opportunity for Lobo Athletics to give back to the Pueblo of Santa Ana. The beneficiary of this field naming rights is not just our baseball program but our entire community and state."

That was the second major announcement regarding the facility in a three-week span in 2015 as on Nov. 20, the UNM Board of Regents approved construction for the $2.3 million R.D. and Joan Dale Hubbard Clubhouse.

"This has been a long process, but I want to thank the Hubbards, Scott Grady and his family, our administration, Vice President for Athletics Paul Krebs, and everyone on main campus that helped this project," UNM head coach Ray Birmingham said. "I could go on for hours thanking people because so many have helped make this possible."

Santa Ana Star Field received a major upgrade that started before the 2013 season. It received a FieldTurf playing surface, upgraded scoreboard, dugouts, bullpens, and bleachers as a part of the first phase of the Santa Ana Star Field renovation. Further renovations and phases will enhance the concessions areas, the fan plaza between Santa Ana Star Field and the softball field, the press box and the bleachers. Lights were installed in the fall of 2013.

"We have lights because of (former Lobo) Dee Dennis and a bunch of guys who chipped in to help me and Dee do this," Birmingham said. "This is Lobo Field. This is (the state of) New Mexico's baseball field, at least that's how I feel about it.

... There will not only be Lobo games on here, but there will also be state championship games here. We hope to bring in some great big tournaments over the years to this city and let our kids experience the world. We think New Mexico kids can get the rest of the experiences that the rest of the country has, then they will grow faster and realize they're as good as anybody."

SAM SUPLIZIO - UNM'S FIRST ALL-AMERICAN

The original superstar in New Mexico baseball was the late Sam Suplizio, a center fielder in the early 1950s. An all-Skyline performer for George Petrol from 1951-53, Suplizio was the Lobos' initial first team All-American, an honor he earned in 1953. He hit .435 in his freshman year, .450 as a sophomore and .509 as a junior when he earned All-America accolades. The Lobos went 23-37 during his three-year career, but won the Skyline Conference championship during his junior year, with a 10-2 record in league play.

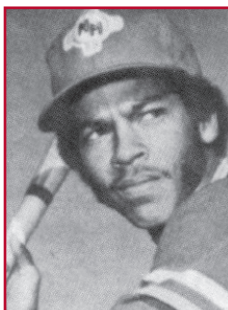

Following his junior campaign, Suplizio signed a $40,000 contract with the New York Yankees. Manager Casey Stengel thought so highly of Suplizio that he moved a prospect named Mickey Mantle to right field and groomed the former Lobo as his center fielder. Unfortunately, Suplizio injured his arm and was forced to retire in 1956.

Suplizio remained in baseball, however, and went on to become the chairman and founder of the NCAA Junior College World Series in Grand Junction, Colo., played at the 10,000-seat Sam Suplizio Field. He was also co-chairman of a committee which brought major league baseball to Denver, in the form of the Colorado Rockies, and he was a scout for the Yankees, Reds, Orioles and Angels.

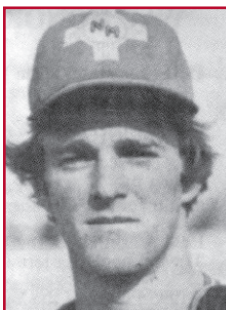

A 1954 UNM graduate with a BS in Education, Suplizio was named to the UNM Alumni Lettermen Hall of Honor in 1998. As his guest of honor to the induction banquet, Suplizio brought with him Angel Hall-of-Famer Rod Carew. Suplizio passed away Friday, Dec. 29, 2006 at the age of 74.
