ADD IT TO THE LIST

New Mexico State guard Brooke Salas was named the College Sports Madness Player of the Week on Monday after leading the women’s basketball team to victory in both match ups last week. The sophomore averaged 16.5 points, 7.5 rebounds and 4.0 assists to go along with 5 steals and two blocks through 59 minutes of play.

This is the second College Sports Madness Player of the Week honor of Salas’ career. The Placentia, Calif. native was also recognized as the Western Athletic Conference Player of the Week in week one after putting up a double-double in the season opener.

The guard earned the second double-double of the season in the first game last week against Pepperdine on Nov. 23, as she dropped 20 points and corralled 12 rebounds. During the Aggies second contest of the week on Nov. 25, the squad defeated New Mexico Highlands, 94-37. The stellar team play featured the sophomore guard putting up 13 points, 4 assists, 3 rebounds and 3 steals.

ONE OF THE BEST

Junior guard Zaire Williams has proven to be one of the best in the country when it comes to sharing the ball. Williams is in the top-20 in the NCAA with 40 assists (6.7 per game), through six games. The Dana Point, Calif. native had 10 assists against New Mexico and quickly followed that up with a season-high, 12, against Sacramento State in the Bank of Hawaii Classic, helping her name climb the list.

Tyesha Taylor, coming off the bench, is showing she can hang with the best of them. Through six games, the forward has averaged 10.7 points, good for second on the team and is posting a .612 field goal percentage, which leads the team. MARK TRAKH

Head coach Mark Trakh (pronounced TRACK) embarks on his sixth season at the helm with the New Mexico State women's basketball program after leading the Aggies to their best two-year run in program history.

After making history with the program in the 2014-15 season, Trakh further cemented his name forever in Aggie history when he led NM State to its second-straight Western Athletic Conference regular-season title and WAC Tournament title. The then fifth-year head coach also guided the Aggies to their second-consecutive NCAA Tournament in 2015-16, the first time NM State has made back-to-back appearances since the 1986-88 seasons.

In leading NM State to its second-straight NCAA Tournament berth, Trakh became just the fifth head coach in NCAA history to lead three separate teams to two-consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances.

The Aggies finished the season tying or breaking a slew of program records. Its 17-straight victories at home were third-best in program history, while NM State's 15-straight wins tied the program record for consecutive wins in a season. At season's end, Trakh had the Aggies at 26-5 on the year and tied the program record for most wins in a single-season.

On top of all the program records, Trakh also solidified himself in NM State lore when he was named the WAC Coach of the Year for the second-straight season. No other coach in Aggie history has done so and is just the fifth coach in WAC history win back-to-back coach of the year accolades.

The historic 2015-16 season also saw Sasha Weber and Moriah Mack earn First-Team All-WAC honors while Brooke Salas was named to the WAC All-Newcomer's team. At the conference tournament, Weber was named the tournament's most valuable player after averaging 14 points and 4.5 rebounds – including a 6-of-13 effort beyond the arc. Salas was also named to the all-tournament team for her 20-point performance in the championship game as NM State routed UT Rio Grande Valley 80-53.

In his fourth season at the helm, Trakh led NM State to a 22-8 season in 2014-15 – including a 13-1 mark in Western Athletic Conference play. The 13-1 record was NM State's first winning record in conference play in seven years and the second-best conference record in program history next to a 10-0 team in 1987-88.

Trakh also guided the Aggies to their first WAC regular-season and tournament titles in 2014-15 en route to their first NCAA Tournament appearance in 27 years against top-seeded Maryland. It was the Aggies' first conference regular-season championship in 20 years and the program's first-ever conference tournament title. The Aggies also finished the year winning 22 of their last 25 games.

For his efforts, Trakh was named the WAC Coach of the Year and the Region VII Coach of the Year by the Women's Basketball Coaches' Association (WBCA). Among his player highlights was sophomore Brianna Freeman, who was named the WAC Player of the Year and the WAC Tournament MVP. Juniors Sasha Weber and Shanice Davis joined Freeman on the All-WAC first team while Davis was also on the WAC All-Newcomer team and sophomore Moriah Mack was named the WAC Defensive Player of the Year.

He moved into third-place on the Aggie women's basketball all-time wins list after back-to-back historic seasons at NM State and is now sitting in third at 78-73 heading into the 2016-17 season.

Last season was the seventh time Trakh has led his squad into the NCAA Tournament. He became only the 10th coach in women's basketball history to lead three different programs into the Big Dance in 2014-15. Trakh also led Pepperdine to three WNIT appearances.

In the 2013-14 season, Trakh led the Aggies to an 11-20 overall record, going 7-9 in conference play.

Sophomore guard Abby Scott was named WAC Player of the Week during her performance in the week of Jan. 13-19. Trakh guided Scott as she hit a career-high 36 points versus Chicago State, including 11 3-pointers, which broke the WAC and NM State record for 3-pointers in a game and tying her for second in the NCAA. Scott followed the game with another 25 points, eight rebounds, three assists and two assists in a win against Kansas City.

During the season, junior guard Danesia Williamson was named Second-Team All-WAC and all-tournament team after her performance during conference play. At the WAC Tournament, Williamson scored a career-high 37 points in the quarterfinals win over Texas-Pan American and went 17-for-19 at the line to set a new WAC and NM State record. Her 37 points tied Anita Maxwell for second-most points scored in a single game for NM State. She finished the year for NM State with five 30-point games and put up double-figure scoring in 21 of her 22 games.

In his second year with the Aggies, Trakh led the 2012-13 Aggies to collect more than double the wins from the previous season and finish with a 15-16 overall record and 7-11 mark in the WAC. He guided NM State to a win over defending Conference USA champion UTEP as part of the Battle of I-10 Rivalry Series. Trakh notched his 300th career victory as a Division I head coach while leading the Aggies in 2012-13. The milestone came off a 70-68 win over Southern Utah in Cedar City, Utah.

Under the direction of Trakh and his staff, the Aggies worked to the program's highest scoring game in 21 years, when NM State topped then-WAC leading Utah State 106-94. The Aggies also notched another milestone in the record books with the 600th program victory in the 87-81 win over Cal State Bakersfield.

NM State garnered three WAC Player of the Week Awards during the latter part of the 2012-13 season and senior Stefanie Gilbreath was named the WAC Newcomer of the Year and earned Second-Team All-WAC honors as well. He led the Aggies to the quarterfinals of the 2013 WAC Championships before falling to No.1 seed Seattle.

In 2011-12, Trakh became the 10th head coach in NM State women's basketball history. The Aggies went 6-24 in his first season as he coached senior Tabitha Wampler to the 1,000 Point Club (1,254).

Prior to NM State, Trakh served as the head coach at USC from 2004-09, where he compiled a 90-64 overall record. In his first two seasons, he guided the Women of Troy to their first NCAA appearances in seven years, as the team advanced to the second round in both 2005 and 2006. The Trojans finished in the top half of the Pac-10 all five years and were the conference tournament runner-up in 2009 and regular season runner-up in 2005.

Trakh coached four All-Pac-10 performers at USC, including two-time first-team honoree Eshaya Murphy, who was later selected in the second round of the WNBA Draft in 2007. In all, his players made various All-Pac-10 teams 20 times and also excelled in the classroom, garnering a spot on the conference all-academic squad on 14 occasions.

On the recruiting trail, Trakh helped the Trojans sign four classes ranked in the top-12 nationally, including the No. 1 class in 2006 according to USA Today and All Star Girls Report. Trakh successfully recruited 10 Street & Smith All-Americans, seven McDonald's All-Americans, three Parade All-Americans and the 2006 National Player of the Year.

Before accepting the position at USC, Trakh had a highly successful 11-year tenure as head coach at Pepperdine from 1993-2004. Under his direction, the Waves posted six consecutive 20-win seasons from 1997-2003, made six straight postseason appearances and claimed four West Coast Conference titles. Trakh was twice named the league's coach of the year in both 1999 and 2002, and ended his tenure with a 199-123 overall record and a 99-55 mark in the WCC.

The Waves had two WCC Players of the Year in Rasheeda Clark (2000) and Tamara McDonald (2002), with Clark going on to become the school's first ever WNBA Draft pick. Trakh coached 10 first-team all-conference players at Pepperdine and his student-athletes posted an impressive 100 percent graduation rate during his stay in Malibu.

Before entering the collegiate ranks, Trakh had a Hall of Fame career as the head girls' coach at Brea Olinda High School in Brea, Calif., from 1981-93. He helped lead the Ladycats to national prominence with a 354-45 overall record, highlighted by four state titles (1989, 1991, 1992 and 1993), six CIF Southern Section championships and 12 Orange League crowns. In his final five campaigns, Brea Olinda posted an amazing 161-8 record and did not lose more than two games in any single season.

Among his standouts at Brea Olinda were current Long Beach State head coach Jody (Anton) Wynn and former Hawai'i associate coach Da Houli. Trakh, a California State High School Coach of the Year, is a member of both the City of Brea Athletic Hall of Fame as well as the Southern California High School Basketball Coaches' Hall of Fame.

A 1981 graduate of Long Beach State, the Wanque, N.J., native earned his bachelor's degree in journalism and also has his teaching credential.
