LOBO SKIING - TEAM NOTES

RMISA Championships/NCAA West Regional Recap

New Mexico took it a little easy on themselves, resting several skiers who already qualified for nationals, and labored to a fifth place finish in the 2016 RMISA Championships, its lowest finish in the championships since finishing fifth in 2009.

The Lobos had solid marks, especially on day two, when three Lobo men's Nordics all hit the top 10, and Carl-Johan Öster flirted with his first collegiate win, ultimately scoring two more top 10 finishes. Sydney Staples tied for a career-best finish in the slalom, and Kati Roivas hit the podium for the first time in her career with a third place showing in the Classical, scoring much needed points with two former NCAA champions watching from the sidelines in Eva Sever Rus and Emilie Cedervärn, who missed her third race out of the last four.

Drew Judycki Memorial/Jade Enterprises/UNM

Invitational Recap

New Mexico suffered a bit in the regular season finale with some injuries and illness to a host of Nordic skiers, but the Lobos got a great showing from the alpine squad as the team finished in fourth place.

While not able to defend its two-time championship in its own meet, the Lobos did have their best alpine showing of the season as Courtney Altringer had a career-best finish of second place on the first slalom day, her first collegiate podium. Carl-Johan Öster also had a career-best finish, just missing the podium as he came in fourth on day one.

While the alpine course became a hockey rink of sorts on Sunday due to a quick overnight freeze, UNM still recorded its highest alpine totals of the season.

In Nordic, defending national champion Emilie Cedervärn skipped the meet due to a cold, as did Austin Huneck for the men, putting UNM in a hole early. Then the Lobos lost Aljaž Praznik to a back injury on Sunday and Julia Devaux to shin splints on Sunday as well, meaning four scorers were missing, which factored in UNM's Nordic showing.

Still, the fourth place finish tied for the best finish of the season for UNM as the Lobos finished fourth at the Montana State Invitational.

Spencer James Nelson/Colorado Invitational Recap

New Mexico had its best showing of the season, recording 514 points and finishing a very close fifth place at the 2016 Spencer James Nelson/Colorado Invitational. The Lobos were easily led by Emilie Cedervärn, who won both Nordic races to score 80 points.

Katharine Irwin also picked up a podium finish with a third place showing in the giant slalom, and the men's alpine squad continue its improvement as Carl-Johan Öster earned the men's alpine team a top 10 finish, coming in seventh place in the giant slalom. Overall, the Lobos had 12 top 10 finishes in the meet, easily the best showing of the season.

Montana State Invitational Recap

New Mexico got a huge effort from its Nordic squad and finished fourth at the MSU Invitational. The Lobos were sitting in seventh place after the alpine events, but the Nordic squads picked up solid marks in the freestyle and then both the men and the women won their respective Classical races.

Emilie Cedervärn picked up two podium finishes, coming in second in the freestyle and third in the classical. Aljaž Praznik picked up the first podium finish for the men this season by coming in third in the classical race.

Overall, UNM had five top six finishes in the classical race with Cedervärn, Eva Sever Rus and Kati Roivas finishing third, fifth and sixth, and Praznik and Petteri Vahekoski finishing third and fifth.

Cedervärn Named RMISA Skier of the Week

Emilie Cedervärn was named the RMISA Female Nordic Skier of the Week after the seasons' third meet by league officials after sweeping the 5K freestyle and the 15K classical races at the Spencer James Nelson/Colorado Invitational at Steamboat Springs, Colo. Those races were also at the site of the 2016 NCAA National Championships.

Cedervärn's two wins gave her three for the season, and eight in her career, which ties her with Martina Stursova for the most Nordic wins in school history.

Other winners from the RMISA this week were Taylor Shiffrin, Denver (Men's Alpine), Julie Mohagen, Utah (Women's Alpine) and Moritz Madlener, Denver (Men's Nordic). It looked like Emilie was a shoo-in to break the record for career Nordic wins at UNM, but she missed three of the last four races (racing only in the RMISA freestyle, but approaching it as a training race, still finishing ninth), meaning to break the tie, she will need a second national title.

Cedervärn ... Swedish for "Record Setter"

Emilie Cedervärn's two wins at the Spencer James Nelson/Colorado Invitational moved her into a tie for first place in the UNM record book for most career Nordic wins with eight. The win was her third of the season after having five wins last year. She is now tied with Martina Stursova for first place with her eight wins.

Emilie Cedervärn last year did something no Lobo skier had ever done before, and that was sweep the freestyle and classical races in a non-home meet. She finished off the feat on Thursday, February 25 at the Seawolf Invitational in Alaska. Three days later she repeated the feat at the RMISA/NCAA West Region Championships.

Theraflu and Tape Anyone?

Emilie Cedervärn's cold wasn't the only thing to cause issues, as the Lobos have missed a host of starts due to injury and assorted ailments

Men's Alpine

Youri Mougél - 8 races (Knee)

Carl-Johan Öster - 3 races (abdominal)

Women's Alpine

Courtney Altringer - 1 race (bruise)

Men's Nordic

Austin Huneck - 2 races (illness)

Aljaž Praznik - 1 race (back)

Women's Nordic

Emilie Cedervärn - 3 races (illness)

Eva Sever Rus - 1 race (stomach)

Welcome Back

The Lobos got two alpine skiers back from injury in 2016 as Patrick Brachner, who skied just the opening meet, and Karoline Sjøvik Myklebust, who skied in just the first two meets before suffering a broken bone in her foot, both returned to the squad with great results in the opening meet.

Neither skier qualified for the 2016 NCAA Championships.

C'Mon Everybody ... We're Going Streaking in the Quad!!!!

New Mexico will be looking to continue a pretty cool streak, as the Lobos have finished in the top nine at the NCAA meet in each of the last 33 NCAA Championships. Here is where they have finished in those 33 previous championships:

1st: 1 (2004)

2nd: 2 (1992, 2006)

3rd: 6 (1984, 1993, 1994, 2009, 2010, 2014)

4th: 4 (2002, 2003, 2005, 2011)

5th: 6 (1987, 1989, 1999, 2000, 2001, 2015)

6th: 9 (1983, 1985, 1986, 1988, 1990, 1991, 1998, 2007, 2013)

7th: 2 (1995, 2008)

8th: 2 (1997, 2012)

9th: 1 (1996)

Speaking of Streaking...

New Mexico is looking for an individual national champion for the fourth straight year.

2013: Joonas Rasanen, Slalom

2014: Eva Sever Rus, Nordic Freestyle

2015: Emilie Cedervärn, Nordic Classical

So How's That New Ski Van for Alpine Working Out?

New Mexico picked up a second fancy van, this for the alpine squad, allowing the team to travel to meets safely and in style. Except for their own home meet, the alpine squad showed up in two white generic passenger vans from the UNM Motor Pool.

What gives? How about vandalism, as one of the windows was shot out of the van by a BB Gun. The culprits were caught immediately, but the vans were a game-time decision for the NCAAAs.

So The SID Might Have Been Hoping to Hear the NCAA Commentator Say This One...

Sadly, Patrick Brachner didn't qualify for UNM's NCAA roster, because for the amount of enthusiasm the fans get from the NCAA ski color commentator, we all were hoping he would attempt Brachner's high school. Brachner's graduated from Höhere Technische Bundeslehr- und Versuchsanstalt Waidhofen an der Ybbs. That's 72 letters, one hyphen and amazingly enough, only 18 of the 26 letters the alphabet. Somehow Pat Sajak would say sorry if you guessed G J K M P Q X or Z. If you bought an E you would get you money's worth, as there are 10 of them.

Carl Said That. But It's Not Gonna Happen. We Won't Get Weak. That's Not In Us Anymore. We'll Make It Work.

OK, truth....that's Rick Grimes from The Walking Dead ... but he could have said that about our Carl ... Carl-Johan Öster.

Öster has been on fire lately, with six consecutive runs that have netted his six straight top 10s, including a career-best fourth place finish at the UNM Invitational.

Things That You Don't See Every Day

When the Lobos swept the titles of the classical race in Montana at the MSU Invitational, it was the first time the Lobos swept both ends of the same race (men and women) since February 26, 2005 when the Lobos won both freestyle races at the NCAA West Regional meet, ironically enough in Bozeman, Montana. In that race, the Lobo men won by 14 points and the women won by six.

UNM also swept the freestyle races at the Western State RMISA Invitational on February 8, 2003.

The last time the Lobos swept both ends of the classical race was February 21, 1999 when the Lobos won the men's classic at the University of Utah Invitational 59-58 over Colorado, and the women won the classical race 59-58 over Denver.

That's a span of 16 years, 10 months, 4 weeks, or 6,175 days. Here's how long ago that was. The Mandalay Bay Casino and Resort hadn't opened yet (March 2, 1999), Wayne Gretzky was still playing hockey (retired April 18, 1999), there was no such thing as Spongebob Squarepants (debuted May 1, 1999), there were no Star Wars prequels (Phantom Menace would be released on May 19, 1999), Brandi Chastain hadn't scored the World Cup winning goal (July 10, 1999), and still alive were musician Dusty Springfield, director Stanley Kubrick, baseball legend Joe DiMaggio, musician Boxcar Willie, musician Al Hirt, actress Dana Plato, actor DeForest Kelly (Dr. McCoy from Star Trek) and John F. Kennedy, Jr.

Lobos Net Seven on All-RMISA Lists

The Rocky Mountain Intercollegiate Ski Association has announced the 2016 All-RMISA ski teams, and the four Lobos were honored. Emilie Cedervärn was the lone First Team member, while Carl-Johan Öster, Eva Sever Rus and Petteri Vaherkoski were all named Second Team. The All-RMISA teams are based on NCAA qualification lists.

RMISA champions Utah led the way with 12 honorees, Colorado was second with nine, Denver was third with nine and Montana State picked up five. Alaska-Anchorage was the only other team in the nine-team league to garner all-conference honorees, picking up three.

Cedervärn won three races during the season and missed the Drew Judycki/Jade Enterprises/UNM Invitational, which possibly cost her RMISA women's Nordic MVP honors. Still, her three wins were enough to place her on the first team. Cedervärn was also named First Team in 2015. Emilie finished in the top five in six of her seven races, and she was the teams' leading scorer with 242 points.

Sever Rus was named Second Team All-RMISA for the second straight year. It's her third all-conference honor after earning first team honors in 2014. Sever Rus skied her way to six top 10 finishes in nine races this season, including a season-best finish of fifth in Montana. She scored 170 points on the season.

For Petteri Vaherkoski, the Lobo newcomer led the men's side with 193 points, scoring in nine of his 10 races. He recorded nine top 20 finishes and four top 10s, including a season-best fifth place showing in Montana. Vaherkoski was a late December arrival to the squad.

Carl-Johan Öster might be the hottest Lobo on the squad right now, finishing his season with six straight top 10 marks, including a career-best fourth place finish at the Drew Judycki Memorial/Jade Enterprises/UNM Invitational. His 153 points were tops amongst the men's alpine squad. For both Vaherkoski and Öster, these are their first RMISA honors.

Thirteen Named To National Collegiate All-Academic Ski Team

Thirteen Lobos were among the 276 student-athletes from 29 colleges and universities that were named to the 2015 National Collegiate All-Academic Ski Team, announced and awarded by the United States Collegiate Ski Coaches Association.

One of, if not the, most difficult academic teams of its kind nationally, to make the team student-athletes must maintain a cumulative 3.5 grade point average in the classroom and have competed in one of three NCAA Regional competitions.

For the Lobos, Kyle Beling, Jessica Gnüchtel, Taylor Grauer, Sean Horner, Mark Miller, Anni Nord, Christian Otto, Sara Ottosson, Juho-Pekka Penttinen, Mats Resaland, Mateja Robnik, Eva Sever Rus and Sydney Staples all were named to the team. Nine of those student-athletes (Gnüchtel, Horner, Otto, Ottosson, Penttinen, Resaland, Robnik, Sever Rus and Staples) competed for UNM at the 2015 NCAA Championships.

New Mexico's 13 honorees was tied for sixth nationally behind Alaska Anchorage (20), Williams College (19), Utah (15), Northern Michigan (14) and New Hampshire (14).

Head Coach Fredrik Landstedt

Head Coach Fredrik Landstedt, himself a former Lobo Nordic skier, is entering his eighth season as the head coach of the Lobo ski team and his 20th season overall as he served as a student assistant coach and assistant coach before becoming the second head coach in program history the summer of 2007. With Landstedt at the helm of the program, the Lobos have finished fourth, third, third, seventh, eighth, sixth, third and fifth at NCAA Championships.

During his tenure at UNM (assistant coach from 1990-91; 98-2007 and head coach from 2007-present) he has coached 45 Nordic Lobos to 72 All-American awards and four individual event Nordic team national championships, and one individual Nordic national champion. Since taking over as the head coach, Landstedt has fostered 35 Alpine All-America performers and four individual event Alpine team national championships. He has mentored three Nordic individual national champions in Kristina Strandberg (2000), Jimmy Vika (2003) and Eva Sever Rus (2014). He has been an integral part of the coaching staff for six Alpine individual national champions in Marte Dolva (2002), Jennifer Delich (2004), Malin Hemmingsson (2007, '09, '10) and Joonas Räsänen (2013).
