REBEL ALUMNI IN THE WBC

The UNLV baseball team has three alumni participating in the 2017 World Baseball Classic. Both Blake Gailen and Dean Kremer are playing for Israel while Efrén Navarro is representing Mexico.

Gailen and Navarro were teammates during the 2006 and '07 campaigns. The former transferred to play at UNLV for two seasons after beginning his collegiate career at Glendale CC (2004-05) while the latter spent his freshman to junior years (2005-07) with the Scarlet & Gray. Kremer, on the other hand, suited up for UNLV in 2016 after coming over from Delta CC.

Gailen has played within the Angels and Blue Jays' organizations as well as with various independent leagues. In 2012, as a member of the Lancaster Barnstormers, he was tabbed the Atlantic League's Most Valuable Player and Baseball America's Independent League Player of the Year.

Navarro was drafted by the Angels in the 2007 MLB Draft, and played 130 games with the organization. After spending the 2016 season in the Mariners' farm system, he signed with the Tigers.

Kremer became the first Israeli citizen to be selected in the MLB First-Year Player Draft - 38th round (No. 1,137) in 2015. In his sole year at UNLV, he made 15 appearances with four wins for the Rebels last year. He threw a total of 82.1 innings and struck out 46. He was later drafted by the Dodgers following the season and played with the Ogden Raptors (Rookie) and Grand Lakes Loons (Single A).

Israel swept through "Pool A" competition (March 6-1) in Seoul with wins over Korea, Chinese Taipei and Netherlands.

Unfortunately, the team finished third in "Pool E" with a 1-2 record. The team began the second round with a 4-1 win over Cuba, but suffered losses to Netherlands (12-2) and Japan (8-3).

Gailen has played in six games and is hitting .235 with four hits. He knocked in three RBI.

Kremer only saw action in one game with 0.2 innings of work. He struck out one against one run and three hits.

Mexico, on the other hand, went 1-2 in "Pool D" with its lone win coming in its finale against Venezuela. The team finished in a three-way tie, but did not advance due to a tie breaker.

Navarro hit at a .444 clip with four hits in nine at-bats. He scored three runs and plated one RBI.

The New Mexico Lobos enter the weekend series with a 20-16-1 overall record and an 11-2-1 mark in the Mountain West. STRONG RECOGNIZED, ONCE AGAIN, BY THE MOUNTAIN WEST

UNLV Baseball's Alan Strong was named the Mountain West's Pitcher of the Week for games played through March 19. Strong helped the Scarlet & Gray to a 5-3 victory at San Diego State (March 17). He threw 5.2 innings and only allowed one run off of four hits. Additionally, he struck out four against three walks. He allowed nine Aztecs to reach base during his time on the mound; seven were left stranded, one was forced out and one scored.

QUANEY NAMED MW'S PITCHER OF THE WEEK

UNLV Baseball's Larry Quaney was named the Mountain West's Pitcher of the Week for the week ending March 5. Quaney threw a complete-game victory, 7-1, against the San Jose State Spartans (March 4). The sophomore right-hander struck out three batters and walked none. Quaney allowed only one run – a first-inning tally – and a total of eight hits in the affair. From the second inning on, he only allowed six runners to reach base with just one advancing as far as third base.

MOUNTAIN WEST PITCHER OF THE WEEK IS STRONG

UNLV Baseball's Alan Strong was named the Mountain West's Pitcher of the Week for games played through February 26. Strong pitched 5.1 scoreless innings and struck out six in the Rebels' 6-1 upset victory of No. 7 Cal State Fullerton. The righty fanned one batter in his five innings of work, including two in the fourth. He allowed four hits and issued four walks; however, no runner advanced past second base during his stint on the mound.

HOT HITTING REBELS

The UNLV Rebels is hitting .307 batting average - 21st in the nation - through nine-plus weeks and 39 games of play. UNLV has scattered 433 hits - ninth nationally, 119 of which have gone for extra bases (76 doubles, 29 home runs and 14 triples), in a total of 1,410 at-bats.

Those extra-base hits have helped the team amass a .443 slugging percentage, and with the addition of 133 walks and 31 hit batters, the team has a .376 on-base percentage.

In all, the Rebels have six players hitting .314 or better with a minimum of 47 hits. Ernie De La Trinidad leads the squad with a .369 average powered with 52 hits while Payton Squier is next at .346 with a team-best 54 hits. Justin Jones (.331/47 hits), Nick Ames (.324/48), Kyle Isbel (.317/52) and Bryson Stott (.314/50) round out the six pack.

Five players have scattered 10 or more extra-base hits with Isbel leading the squad with 17, 10 of which have gone for doubles, four for home runs and three for triples. Ames follows with 16 (nine doubles and seven home runs). Jones (seven doubles, five home runs and one triple) and De La Trinidad (six doubles, four home runs and three triples) are next with 13 apiece. Nick Rodriguez, who has a .287 average off 33 hits, has 11 extra-base hits (seven doubles, three triples and one home run).

Delving deeper, all five players with 10 or more extra-base hits own .426 or better slugging percentages. De La Trinidad is first at .539 while Ames is next at .527. Jones (.500), Isbel (.491) and Rodriguez (.426) sit third through fifth.

LET'S GO STREAKING

The UNLV baseball team has four players that have amassed hitting streaks of 10 or more games this season. To date, Payton Squier owned the longest run with a hit in 17 straight while Ernie De La Trinidad's best was 16. Ironically, both of their lengthy runs came to an end last Friday in the first game against Iowa (March 31). Bryson Stott and Nick Ames have also reached double digits with stretches of 11 and 10 games, respectively.

Squier's streak, which was the longest since teammate Justin Jones strung together of an equal length during the 2014 campaign, dated back to game two of the San Jose State series (March 4). Since that affair in the Bay Area through Arizona State (March 28), he hit .348 with 24 hits in 69 at-bats.

De La Trinidad's run began one day later against San Jose State (March 5), and it produced a .422 batting average with 27 hits in 64 at-bats. He had nine multiple-hit games during the run with three-hit performances against Grand Canyon (March 14) and New Mexico (March 26).

Stott's streak went from game one to game 11, and saw him post a .447 average (21-for-47). He registered multiple hits in seven of these 11 and that included three straight three-hit displays against Omaha (Feb. 20) and Fullerton twice (March 24-25). He's also had a seven game, too.

Ames, like Stott, got his started from game one versus Omaha (Feb. 17) and pushed it through the second contest at San Jose State (March 4). He hit .381 (16-for-42) with five multiple-hit games. He also had an eight-game streak.

BIG ERNIE MCCRAKEN THE BAT

Ernie De La Trinidad began the year hitting .286 with 10 hits in 35 at-bats during the first 12 games he saw action as a Rebel. De La Trinidad has since turned things around with help from getting at least one hit in 23 of the last 28 games. More impressively, this recent run - sparked by a 16-game hitting streak - has upped his average to a team-high .369.

Delving deeper, he has notched 42 hits in 106 at-bats which translates to a .396 batting average during this recent run. He has amassed at least two hits in 13 and that includes three hits against Grand Canyon (March 14), New Mexico (March 26), Iowa (G1/April 1), Air Force (April 8) and Arizona State (April 18). He even had a stretch of four straight multiple-hit outings that began with each Air Force game (March 10-12) and capped by Grand Canyon.

During his 16-game hitting streak, he hit .422 (27-for-64) with eight multiple-hit games.

Besides leading the team in average, slugging percentage (.539), on-base percentage (.473) and stolen bases (seven). He is tied for the top spot with Kyle Isbel in multiple-hit games (17). He's near the top in nearly every other offensive statistic: at-bats (141), runs (22), hits (52), extra-base hits (13), doubles (six), triples (three), homers (four) and RBI (22).

Additionally, he has a 32-game reached-base streak that began with three hits against UC Riverside (March 28). He has gone hitless in six of the contests, but either walks or hit-by-pitches have kept the stretch alive.

SQUIER CONTINUES WHERE HE LEFT OFF

Payton Squier, a 2015 All-Mountain West First Team honoree, is hitting .344 through nine-plus weeks of play with a team-best 54 hits with eight going for extra bases (five doubles and three home runs). Squier has also added 26 RBI and scored 26 runs.

The junior, who has moved behind the plate for the majority of this season after playing in the infield and outfield his first two seasons, has hit safely in 34 of the Rebels' 39 games.

For the year, he has 13 multiple-hit games with two four-hit efforts against Omaha (Feb. 17) and New Mexico (March 26). He's also scattered three hits three times.

He had four hits in the season opener against Omaha (Feb. 17) and followed that up with one hit in four straight before he went hitless against then-No. 7 Fullerton (Feb. 25). He got back into the swing of things with two hits in the series finale against Fullerton (Feb. 26) and followed that with two in both games against UC Riverside (Feb. 28/March 1).

After going hitless at San Jose State (March 3), he began a 17-game streak the following day (March 4) against the Spartans. In all, he hit .343 with 24 hits in 70 at-bats through an affair at Arizona State (March 28). In the run, he matched his season-best hit total with four against New Mexico (Feb. 26) last weekend. He's also had three hits against Grand Canyon (March 14) and two hits versus Air Force (March 12) and New Mexico (March 25).

Dating back to a home affair against Utah Valley (April 4), he has bumped his average up 21 points with 15 hits in 33 at-bats, which translates to a .455 average. He has at least one hit in eight of these nine contests and multiple-hits in six of them.

Despite going without a hit in two outings this season, he has reached base safely in 38 with help of walks in games against Cal State Fullerton (Feb. 25), San Jose State (March 3), Iowa (G2/April 1) and Arizona State (April 11). He had a string of 27 straight snapped in game one at Iowa (March 31).

During his junior campaign, he had at least one hit in 45 games and reached base safely in 50, and that included streaks of 23 and 18 straight. Additionally, he led in batting average (.375), hits (81), on-base percentage (.439), stolen bases and multiple-hit games (25). He also tied for the lead in walks (26).

OH, JONESY

Justin Jones was the primary catalyst for UNLV's 20-3 win on opening night (Feb. 17) over the Omaha Mavericks. The senior out of Coronado High School went 3-for-5 at the plate with two home runs - a three-run shot and a grand slam - that produced eight RBI and three runs. He came up short of sending a third ball over the Earl E. Wilson Stadium fence in his final at-bat when he flew out to right field with the bases loaded in the seventh.

He has hits in 27 of 38 games played in, 36 of those contests he started. He has multiple hits in 14 of those, including four against Air Force (March 10) and three in bouts with Omaha (Feb. 17/20), UC Riverside (Feb. 28) and New Mexico (Feb. 24).

During the opening weekend, he hit .438 with seven hits, four of which went for extra bases (three homers and one double), 12 RBI and five runs. The long ball helped him register 17 total bases and a staggering 1.063 slugging percentage and a .526 on-base percentage.

He notched a seven-game hitting streak that started against Air Force (March 10) that saw him hit .522 (12-for-23) with three multiple-hit games. He added eight RBI and four runs in this stretch. The run ended at San Diego State (March 19).

He had a five-game hitting streak snapped by San Diego State (April 15). The run began against Air Force (April 8) and resulted in a .350 clip (7-for-20).

For the year, he's at .331 with 47 hits in 142 at-bats. Thirteen of his hits have gone for extra bases with seven doubles, five home runs and one triple, which have helped amass a .500 slugging percentage. The addition of 13 walks has aided in a .386 on-base percentage.

He sits near the top in average, at-bats, runs (24), hits, extra-base hits, RBI (31), total bases (71), slugging and on-base percentage.

AMES TO PLEASE THE OFFENSE

Nick Ames has started 38 games, thus far, in 2017 with 32 at first base and six as the designated hitter. The sophomore slugger has notched a .324 batting average with 48 hits in 148 at-bats. Sixteen of those hits have gone for extra bases with nine doubles and seven home runs - a team best. He has also knocked in a team-high 36 RBI and scored 18 times.

He has hit safely in 32 of the 38 games that he has played in - he did not play against Omaha (Feb. 19). The only affairs that he has not recorded a hit were against San Jose State (March 5), Air Force (March 12, New Mexico (March 25), Iowa (G1/April 1), Arizona State (April 11) and San Diego State (April 13).

Dating back to game two of the doubleheader at Iowa (April 1), he had hit safely in five outings and posted a .524 average (11-for-21). Included in this run were four multiple-hit affairs - two each vs. Iowa (G2), Utah Valley (April 4) and Air Force (April 8-9). The five-game streak ended at ASU (April 11).

He had an eight-game hitting streak come to a close against New Mexico (Feb. 25). In the run, he went 10-for-31 (.323).

He also registered one hit in his first 10 starts, and that resulted in a .381 average (17-for-51) with six of his extra-base hits coming in stretch as well as six runs and six RBI.

To date, he has 15 multiple-hit games with one three-hit affair against UC Riverside (Feb. 28).

He leads the team with 11 multiple-RBI games with a season-high four RBI coming in UNLV's come-from-behind 8-7 win over UC Riverside (March 1). In that contest, he hit a walk-off three-run home run in the bottom of the ninth.

Coincidentally, he had been the last Rebel to record a walk-off hit - an RBI single, and that came against Air Force on April 17, 2016.

ISBEL RINGS IN THE HITS

Kyle Isbel, who was named to the Louisville Slugger Freshman All-American Team as well as the All-Mountain West Second Team, has turned things around since the beginning of March.

The 2016 MW Co-Freshman of the Year began the year 6-for-29 and a .207 batting average through the Rebels first nine games, all of which Isbel started. In this stretch he added five runs and five RBI.

Luckily, the offense awakened in March during an 8-7 win at home against UC Riverside. In this 31-game run, he has a hit in 26 of them with 16 multiple-hit outings and a .341 batting average (45-for-132).

Included in this lengthy stretch are hitting streaks of nine, six and seven games. The first of which saw him hit .385 (15-for-39) while the second consisted of a .500 average (10-for-20). The third one, which came to an end against San Diego State (April 14), saw him hit .438 (14-for-32).

For the year, he has scored 35 runs, 30 of those have come since the calendar flipped to March.

He is approaching the program's mark for career triples after scattering 11, thus far, in his year-plus at UNLV. Mike Slavenski (1975-78) sits atop the chart with 16, while Chris Adolph (1996-99) is next with 15 and two more are tied for third with 14.

As a freshman, he finished the year ranked fifth and sixth nationally in triples (eight) and triples per game (0.14), and paced the Rebels in games played (56), runs (38), triples, total bases (103), hit by pitch (five) and multiple-hit games (eight). For the year, he hit .319 with 74 hits, 20 of which went for extra bases.

HELLO BRYSON

Bryson Stott has started all 39 games at shortstop to open the 2017 campaign for the UNLV baseball team. Stott is tied for the team lead in at-bats (155) and walks (16), and ranks near the top in average (.314), runs (25), hits (50), doubles (eight), RBI (19) and total bases (60).

More impressively, the Desert Oasis High School graduate has hit safely in 29 of 39 of UNLV's games and has reached base safely in 32. He has had six three-hit affairs, three of which occurred in succession from Omaha (Feb. 20) and Cal State Fullerton (Feb. 24-25) while the others came against Air Force (March 10 and April 9) and Grand Canyon (March 15). He's also had seven two-hit affairs.

In the 29 games that he has recorded at least on hit, he has a .400 batting average with 50 hits in 125 at-bats.

In his first outing as a member of the Scarlet & Gray, he had two hits, two walks and scored three times against Omaha. He recorded a single in his first at-bat and came around to score the Rebels first run of the game/season. He walked in his next two trips to the plate, but followed those free passes with a leadoff triple in the sixth.

During his first week as a collegian, he hit .471 with eight hits, two of which went for extra bases (one double and one triple). He scored four times and batted in one RBI.

In a five games against Cal State Fullerton (Feb. 24-26) and UC Riverside (Feb. 28/March 1), he registered a .647 average with 11 hits with one double in 17 at-bats that resulted in a .706 slugging percentage. With the addition of two walks, he amassed a .684 on-base percentage. He knocked in four RBI - including the game-winner against then-No. 7 Fullerton (Feb. 24) - and scored once.

He began the year with an 11-game hitting streak that resulted in a .447 batting average. Seven of those were multiple-hit affairs. It came to an end with an 0-for-2 outing at San Jose State (March 5). In this stretch, he had 10 runs and nine RBI.

In March, he had a seven-game run that saw him hit .412 (14-for-34) with at least five of those with multiple hits. He had one of his three-hit outings against Air Force (March 10) and Grand Canyon (March 15) as well as two hits versus Saint Mary's (March 6) and Air Force (March 11-12). He's also scored eight runs and knocked in four in this span.

THE LAST TIME OUT (ARIZONA STATE)

The UNLV baseball team (14-25) rallied for four runs in the bottom of the ninth inning Tuesday night to knock off the Arizona State Sun Devils (16-19) by a final score of 13-12 at Earl E. Wilson Stadium. The Rebels, who trailed by three - 12-9 - as they entered their half of the final frame, managed to send seven batters to the plate and each one reached base safely. Corey Pool got the comeback bid started with an RBI double while two more scored off an errant throw that tied the affair at 12-all. Justin Jones promptly ended the contest with a single through the right side of the infield to bring home the game-winning run.

The Scarlet & Gray had found itself with three outs to play with after ASU's offense had scored all 12 of its runs between the fourth and ninth to erase an early 6-0 lead the hosts had built after three innings of play. To make the rally more daunting was that UNLV had been retired in-order in both the seventh and eighth - the only two instances that had happened all game - by Sun Devil reliever Ryan Hingst, who struck out five of the six he faced.

Hingst; however, was not able to maintain his pitching dominance in the ninth, as he walked Nick Ames on five pitches and then allowed an RBI double to Pool. Connor Higgins (2-2) was then summoned from the bullpen only to give up singles to Nick Rodriguez and Kyle Isbel. The latter was a bunt towards the left side of the infield that Higgins fielded cleanly, but threw errantly past first base to allow Pool and Rodriguez to score and Isbel to reach third base. Payton Squier and Ernie De La Trinidad were intentionally walked to load the bases.

With Jones coming up and the bags juiced, the Sun Devils brought one of their outfielders in to serve as an extra infielder, but it was all for naught, as the game-winning hit made its way past two diving players.

UNLV scattered 19 hits - the second most of the season - in the affair as eight players registered multiple-hit efforts. Pool led all with his 4-for-5 outing with a pair of home runs and a double that, in turn, resulted in four RBI and three runs scored. Isbel, Squier, Jones, Stott, Ames and Rodriguez all had two hits. Squier added three RBI while Ames had two. Rodriguez evened Pools' run tally with three of his own; Isbel, Ames and Stott scored twice apiece.

Pool got the scoring started in the second with a two-run home run that brought home Stott, who had led off with a double. Rodriguez and Squier kept the inning going with a pair of singles, the second of which resulted in an RBI.

Stott kicked things off in the third with a single and came home two pitches later off a two-run homer by Ames. Right after ASU had gone to the bullpen, Pool hit a solo shot to push the Rebel lead to 6-0.

The Sun Devils chiseled away at their deficit with two runs in the fourth and three more in the fifth only to give three back in the bottom of the inning off an RBI single from Isbel and a two-run homer from Squier.

ASU kept its offense going with two runs in the sixth, eighth and ninth as well as a single tally in the seventh.

MAKE SURE TO STAY 'TIL THE END

The UNLV Rebels have given their fans their monies worth at home games played at Earl E. Wilson Stadium. Beginning with a come-from-behind, 8-7 win over UC Riverside (March 1), UNLV had six straight affairs decided in the final frame of action.

The Tucson tandem of Nick Ames and Max Smith played a key role in the first three of these dramatic outings. Ames got things rolling with a walk-off, three-run homer against UC Riverside that turned a two-run deficit into a one-run win.

In the series opener against Air Force (March 10), Smith stepped up with the bases loaded in the bottom of the 11th and promptly hit a sacrifice fly to right field to give the Rebels a 10-9 win.

In game two (March 11), Ames led off the bottom of the ninth with a walk and it would be his run - albeit with Keyon Allen pinch running - being the deciding one in the 6-5 victory. Two singles by Nick Rodriguez and Ernie De La Trinidad helped load the bases before a throwing error handed UNLV the game.

In the finale (March 12), Air Force scored twice in the top of the ninth to pull within one; however, Bryan Menendez came in and retired three straight, two via strikeout, to preserve the win and notch a save.

In the first game of the Grand Canyon series (March 14), Smith stepped in the eighth as a pinch hitter, hit a single and then came around to score to pull UNLV within one at 8-7. In the ninth, Ames led off with a walk and after being pinch ran for by Keyon Allen, his run turned out to be the equalizer that sent the contest to extras - a game UNLV, ultimately, lost 10-8 in 11.

In game two, Ames had a three-run home run in the fifth that put UNLV ahead 4-2. Later, he was intentionally walked in the ninth with the would-be winning run at second base.

This past Tuesday, UNLV rallied from a three-run deficit in the bottom of the ninth against Arizona State (April 18). The Rebels sent seven batters to the plate and, ultimately, got RBI from Corey Pool and Justin Jones and two more runs off a throwing error. Jones' game-winning single occurred with the bases loaded and no out.

PRESEASON RANKINGS

The UNLV baseball team will face two squads that are mentioned in at least four of the five major top-25 preseason polls - Cal State Fullerton is ranked between eight and 16th in all five polls. Baseball America has bestowed the highest ranking upon the Titans at No. 8 while Collegiate Baseball and USA Today have them at No. 10 and 11, respectively. National College Baseball

Writers Association (No. 14), Perfect Game (No. 15) and D1 Baseball (No. 16) round out the quintet of ranking surveys.

Texas Tech is mentioned in four of the polls with its highest showing coming in D1 Baseball at No. 14. NCBWA has the Red Raiders ranked No. 17 while USA Today placed them No. 19. Baseball America has the Big 12 squad at No. 25.

REBEL PROGNOSTICATIONS ... CONFERENCE

The UNLV baseball team was picked to finish in a tie for fifth place in the 2017 Mountain West Preseason Poll, which was voted on by the Conference's seven head coaches. The New Mexico Lobos and Fresno State Bulldogs were predicted to finish first and second in this year's standings, and the pair were only separated by one point and one first-place vote. New Mexico, the 2016 MW Tournament champion, took in 34 points and four first-place votes while Fresno State, the 2016 MW regular-season champ, had 33 points and three votes.

The Nevada, Reno Wolf Pack and San Diego State Aztecs were third and fourth, respectively. The former edged the latter out by two points (23-21). UNLV and Air Force followed in fifth while San Jose State was seventh (six points).

REBEL PROGNOSTICATIONS ... PUBLICATIONS

The UNLV baseball team has been picked to finish fifth in the Mountain West by both D1 Baseball and Perfect Game. Additionally, both publications has the projected order of finish in the MW the same as the Conference's seven head coaches. The only difference from the latter survey is that D1 and PG has UNLV solely in fifth place and Air Force right behind it in sixth.

PRESEASON PLAYER NODS

The UNLV baseball team has had some of its own recognized by the Mountain West and some of the publications.

Sophomore Kyle Isbel, a 2016 MW All-Conference Second Team selection and Co-Freshman of the Year, was named to the Conference's and Perfect Game's Preseason Teams. Isbel was also rated D1 Baseball's seventh-best prospect for the MW in the 2018 MLB Draft.

Junior Payton Squier, a 2016 MW All-Conference First Team honoree, was chosen to Perfect Game's Preseason Team as well as one of the MW's Top-10 Prospects (No. 5). Squier was also tabbed D1 Baseball's seventh-best prospect for the MW in the 2017 MLB Draft.

Bryson Stott has been picked as the MW's Preseason Freshman of the Year by Perfect Game in addition to being chosen an Impact Freshman (No. 10) by D1 Baseball.

Included in the mix of 22 returners are six that served as primary starters last season. Junior Payton Squier and sophomore Kyle Isbel started 55 games apiece in left field and at third base, respectively, while sophomore Nick Ames (first base), senior Justin Jones (second base), junior Nick Rodriguez (short-stop) and senior Cody Howard (center field) were penciled into the starting lineup a minimum of 31 times at one position. Additionally, senior Cooper Esmay began 30 contests as the team's designated hitter.

If you include the likes of Corey Pool, Austin Anderson, Max Smith, Carlos Robles, Vince Taormina, Keyon Allen and Bryan Menendez with those aforementioned seven, the UNLV offense will have returned 83 percent (444/533) of its hitting and 87 percent of its extra-base hits (115/132). The squad also carries over 87 percent (212/245) of its RBI and 83 percent (230/278) of its run production.

Both Squier and Isbel hit well over .300 with the former posting a .375 average to the latter's .319. The duo combined to lead the Rebels in nearly offensive category. Squier was tops in average, hits (81), walks (26), on-base percentage (.439) and steals (eight) while Isbel took the top spot in at-bats (232), runs (38), triples (eight) and total bases (103). More impressively, they both registered 20-plus multiple-hit games, including three affairs that witnessed one scatter at least four hits.

Other newcomers are Zachary Barnhart, Ernie De La Trinidad, Bryson Stott and Caleb Summerhays.

The Rebels will definitely look different on the mound with the loss of their weekend starting trio - Dean Kremer, D.J. Myers and Kenny Oakley - and closer - Ben Wright. All four hurlers were taken in the 2016 MLB Draft; however, Oakley and Wright had already exhausted all of their collegiate eligibility while Kremer and Myers decided to leave school early for the professional ranks.

Blaze Bohall, Tevita Gerber, Chase Maddux, Bryan Menendez, Christian Myers, Larry Quaney, Paul Richey and Corey Wilson are back after pitching last season, and they'll be joined by six newcomers - five of which are junior college transfers. There are two sets of teammates on this year's roster with Clark and Cameron Sepede coming from Salt Lake Community College and Alan Strong and Andrew Schultz formerly of Grossmont College. The remaining pair are GateWay Community College's Garrett Poole and Hart High School's Jake Lewis.

ISBEL IN THE NEWSPAPER

UNLV baseball's Kyle Isbel was selected by Collegiate Baseball newspaper to the 2016 Louisville Slugger Freshman All-American Team. This national acknowledgement follows the Mountain West's Co-Freshman of the Year recognition bestowed upon the Fontana, Calif., native last month.

Isbel played in all 56 games this season with 55 of those starts at third base. He led the squad in at-bats (232), runs (38), triples (eight) and total bases (103), and was second in average (.319), hits (74), RBI (28), slugging (.444), and stolen bases. He hit safely in 43 games and scattered multiple-hits in 20 of those, which placed him second on the team in that category. He tied for third in multiple-RBI games (five) with a season-best five knocked in against New Mexico (May 8).

In addition, he had three hitting streaks that spanned six or more games; the longest of which was a 13-gamer that included six multiple-hit affairs. In this stretch, he hit .400 (22-for-55) with 10 RBI and 10 runs scored.

Coincidentally, Isbel shared positional honors with Air Force's Nic Ready, who also garnered a share of the Conference's Freshman of the Year award.

Isbel is the first Scarlet & Gray freshman to be recognized by Collegiate Baseball since Erick Fedde and Zack Hartman were tabbed for their pitching prowess in 2012 and 2011, respectively.

MOUNTAIN WEST HONORS

The UNLV baseball program had four of its own earn Mountain West recognition following the conclusion of its 30-game season. The MW's seven head coaches selected D.J. Myers and Payton Squier to the All-Conference First Team while Kyle Isbel and Ben Wright were members of the Second Team. Additionally, Isbel claimed a share of the Freshman of the Year award with Air Force's Nic Ready.

Isbel is only the second Rebel to earn MW's Freshman of the Year honors since Joe Wickman did so in 2002. The Fontana, Calif., native hit .338 with 44 hits with 12 of those going for extra bases, including a league-leading five triples that helped him notch a .485 slugging percentage and the addition of eight walks helped him amass a .390 on-base percentage. The third baseman played all 30 games, scored 20 runs, knocked in 14 RBI and stole five bases.

Squier hit .389 - the third-best batting average in Conference play - with 44 hits (six doubles) in 29 games. The sophomore, who hails from Phoenix, scored 19 runs and plated 12 RBI to go along with .442 slugging and .462 on-base percentages.
