WEATHER EFFECT

The Spartans finally played their home opener at Municipal Stadium last weekend (3/3-3/5) after the first five home games were moved to Stockton due to the relentless rain the area experienced.

SJSU still could not escape the elements, having to move up Saturday, March 4 game by two hours due to the weather forecast. And on Sunday, March 5, the first pitch was delayed by over an hour due to rain and once the game got started, it encountered another delay due to hail/rain. The second delay lasted a little less than an hour.

SJSU, BYU and Northern Colorado played round robin format games from Thursday, February 23 to Saturday, February 25 with each team playing four games over two venues in Stockton, Calif. (70 miles from campus) at Billy Hebert Stadium and at San Joaquin Delta College.

The game against Michigan on Feb.27 was played at a third venue in Stockton, at the Banner Island Ballpark. Michigan won, 6-2.

This after Spartans' season opening series against UCLA was cut short by a game due to rain.

THE HAWKINS FILE

Jason Hawkins Head Coach 1st Season

Western Oregon State College, '95

Jason Hawkins, who played an integral part of two baseball programs playing in the NCAA tournament the last four years, was appointed the head coach of San José State baseball on July 2016.

Hawkins brings five years of head assistant coach experience at the Division I level, including stints at the University of Utah and University of Santa Barbara.

The Albany, Ore., native comes to San José State after the University of Utah won the 2016 Pac-12 Conference regular season championship, the school's first baseball title in the Pac-12 and first in any conference since 1997. The Utes concluded 2016 with their first NCAA Division I Baseball Tournament appearance in seven years.

Hawkins joined the Utes in 2015 as the associate head coach. Utah became the first team in Pac-12 baseball history to go from last place to conference regular season champion in back-to-back years since the league instituted the single round-robin format in 1999.

His responsibilities at Utah included management on all sides of offensive development, game planning and strategy, helping the Utes lead the Pac-12 in runs scored and RBI in 2016. They were second in the league in batting average and on-base percentage and third in slugging.

Hawkins coordinated the recruiting in California and in the Pacific Northwest, helping the Utes land its highest ranked class in history in 2016.

Hawkins was instrumental in UC Santa Barbara's recent baseball turnaround as the head assistant coach with the Gauchos during the 2012 through 2014 seasons. In 2013, the UC Santa Barbara program earned its first berth in the NCAA Tournament in 12 years ending the school's longest period between post-season play.

The new San José State head coach implemented and managed a highly aggressive offense in the Big West Conference. The Gauchos led the conference in stolen bases in each of his three seasons. They were second in the Big West in batting average, on-base percentage, slugging percentage, runs and RBIs in 2014

In the last five seasons at UC Santa Barbara and Utah, 24 players he coached or recruited (22 at UC Santa Barbara and two pitchers at Utah) were selected in the annual Major League Baseball First-Year Draft. Players he coached at the two schools also earned 24 post-season all-conference honors in the Big West or the Pac-12.

The 1995 Western Oregon State College graduate majored in English and history. He earned a master's degree in teaching from Pacific University in Oregon in 1998.

Hawkins began his coaching career at Springfield (Ore.) High School in 1995. He also coached at North Eugene High in Eugene, Ore., and at Desert Hot Springs (Calif.) High.

His first college coaching position was at the University of Redlands in 2005. The Bulldogs won 104 games and the 2006 Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (SCIAC) in his four seasons. Hawkins was the head coach at Occidental College in Southern California during the 2009 through 2011 seasons. His Tigers' teams had three sixth-place SCIAC conference finishes – compared to two sevenths and three last-place finishes the previous five seasons.

He and his wife, Angela, have two sons, Will and Cal, named after Major League Baseball stars Will Clark and Cal Ripken, Jr.

Since 2009, 28 pitchers that Stiles coached have been drafted by Major League Baseball teams including 14 in the top 10 rounds including first-rounder Tyler Anderson (Colorado Rockies) who is currently on the MLB roster.

Following the 2015 season, Stiles served as the bullpen coach for the Eugene Emeralds, a Class-A (short season) affiliate for the Chicago Cubs.
