10 LOBO STANDOUTS LOOKING TO SCORE AT NCAA CHAMPIONSHIPS

New Mexico track & field is aiming for superlative performances as it sends 10 athletes to the NCAA Division I Outdoor Track and Field Championships this week at Hayward Field in Eugene, Ore.

Set to compete for the 16th-ranked Lobo women are Courtney Frerichs, Alice Wright, Calli Thackery, Sophie Connor, Emily Hosker-Thornhill, Jannell Hadnot and Aasha Marler. For the men, it will be Allan Hamilton, Elmar Engholm and Josh Kerr competing.

It's the largest group of Lobos to make the NCAAs since 2009, and is the largest group of women to qualify in program history.

With so many scoring opportunities, New Mexico is in position to climb the team standings and perhaps make some history in Eugene, the annual home of the national championships.

Although the men's team has a relatively storied history at the NCAA Outdoor Championships — including nine straight scoring appearances — the Lobo women have scored at the meet just eight times, with only four since 1996.

Last year, the UNM men placed 36th, while the women finished tied for 48th.

But this year's group of athletes can change those fortunes. If the Lobos can score on both sides, they would place both the men and the women on the scoreboard in back-to-back years for the first time since 2008-09.

Leading the charge for the women is their talented and proven group of athletes.

Frerichs, the NCAA leader in the 3,000-meter steeplechase, is back at the national championships after finishing runner up in 2015 for UMKC. She ranks third in NCAA history with a time of 9:29.31.

Right behind are New Mexico's other two veterans of the NCAA Outdoor Championships, Wright and Thackery.

Wright finished eighth in the 10,000-meter run last year, and enters with a PR time of 32:26.11

Thackery placed sixth in the 5000 in 2015, and ran a school-record 15:37.44 in May.

The final four Lobo qualifiers come from two events, with a tandem in both the 1500 and the triple jump.

In the 1500, Connor and Hosker-Thornhill are both trending up, having run superb times in May. Connor owns the school record at 4:14.03, while Hosker-Thornhill ran 4:18.55 at the NCAA West Prelims.

The triple jump, featuring Hadnot and Marler, went 1-2 in the event at the MW Outdoor Championships last month. Hadnot leaped 43-10 (13.36 meters) to win the NCAA West Prelims, while Marler jumped a personal-record 42-9 3/4 (13.05m) to open the season in April.

On the men's side, three Lobos are set to compete.

Hamilton is making his first-ever appearance at the NCAA Outdoor Championships, and owns a PR of 25-10 1/4 (7.88m).

Engholm is also heading to the national championships for the first time and will take aim in the 3000 steeplechase with his PR of 8:40.03.

Kerr, a freshman, is the youngest Lobo on this trip and is the first freshman to make the NCAA for the men since 2012. He will run the 1500 and owns a PR of 3:42.09.

TEAM OUTLOOK

SPRINTS, HURDLES and RELAY

- One of the younger event groups for the Lobos, the short sprints don't lack for talent. Junior Peri Moran is the top returner and will be joined by sophomore Erynn Caldwell and a duo of freshmen, Abby Smith and Samantha Woodman
- While the short sprints are youthful, the quartermile is one of the more veteran groups. Holly Van Grinsven won the 400 at the 2015 Mountain West indoor meet, and has Haley Sanner, Zoe Howell and Faith Cobb alongside. Freshman Larimar Rodriguez can step in right away.
- Holly Van Grinsven advanced to the NCAA West Preliminaries in the 100 hurdles, and should be in contention for another postseason run.

MIDDLE DISTANCE and DISTANCE

- After sitting out the indoor season without any indoor eligibility, Courtney Frerichs is back and will have a shot to set the NCAA steeplechase record. Alice Wright, Rhona Auckland and Calli Thackery can also make the NCAAs, giving the Lobos a high ceiling for the outdoor season. Health is still the key for this ultra-talented bunch.
- Sophie Connor had her breakout campaign indoors, and can continue making noise outdoors. Frosh phenom and ABQ native Natasha Bernal is also ready to make her UNM track debut.
- The long distance has some potential. Heleene Tambet is the most seasoned returnee, and Anna Burton showed flashes in 2015, but hasn't competed in nearly a year. Lindsey Andrews is a D-III All-American looking to make it big at D-I.

JUMPS and POLE VAULT

- Like Frerichs, Aasha Marler is back in the fold outdoors. She had a strong indoor campaign unattached, and can translate that outdoors. Casey Dowling has popped big jumps, too.
- Jannell Hadnot was the headliner of this group indoors, making the NCAAs and tying the UNM record. Keeping up the momentum outdoors is possible for the junior from Oakland.
- Katherine Whiting was the only Lobo to score in the pole vault indoors, but Annie Stirling and Alissa Söderberg can clear big bars when healthy. Lots of talent, but equal room for improvement for this group.

COMBINED EVENTS and THROWS

- Samantha Bowe starts her final season looking to score again in the pentathlon. Kyra Mohns held her own indoors, placing fifth in the pentathlon.
- Amaris Blount started strongly in the weight throw indoors and Allison Mady had her moments in the shot put. Question is whether they can continue to improve.

2016 MEN'S ROSTER

TEAM OUTLOOK

SPRINTS, HURDLES and RELAY

- Ridge Jones capped a fairly quiet indoor season with a second straight MW 60-meter title. The football player is skipping spring football, so improvement in track is his goal.
- Allan Hamilton and Scott Bajere can both score at the MW meet, and if Jones and fellow footballer Carlos Wiggins are ready, another strong 4x100 team is possible.
- With three seniors in the group, Carlos Salcido and Josh Burbank will one day be the go-to sprinters. For now, they add depth and can chip in conference points.
- Mark Haywood scored in the 400-meter dash in 2015, while Chris Kline did the same in 2014. Can this group (which also includes Cheyne Dorsey and Mustafa Mududa) come together at the right time?

MIDDLE DISTANCE and DISTANCE

- Elmar Engholm can be a top-level steeplechaser with solid miler speed. After choosing the 1500 at the NCAA West Prelims in 2015 (and failing to make the NCAAs), a strong showing early is key.
- Graham Thomas proved his value in cross country last fall. He'll look to transition that success to the track as one of the top dogs.
- Adam Cotton and Dan Milechman are Harvard transfers that can contribute right away. Matt Bergin was great outdoors in 2015, but needs consistency. What's the ceiling of the rest of the distance runners (Zac Castillo, Jesús Mendoza, Taylor Potter, Adam Monroe)?

JUMPS and POLE VAULT

- Allan Hamilton is a dangerous man, and could win the long jump and the triple jump at the MW meet this season. He accomplished that feat outdoors in 2015. He was All-American last March, but just missed the NCAAs this March.
- Senior Yannick Roggatz looked like he turned a corner last May. He had a tremendous indoor campaign, and might not be all that far behind Hamilton in the LJ.
- Sam Trigg can win in the triple jump right away if can carry over his talent from the UK. Markus Miller and Joe Kloepfel are tasked with scoring points in the high jump.
- Two true freshman, Jason Atencio or John Harari, showed well in the pole vault indoors. What's the encore outdoors?

COMBINED EVENTS and THROWS

- Daniel Lam and Beau Clifton scored in the heptathlon indoors and will be looked to for points. The status of talented freshman Ryan Chase is in question as he recovers from wrist surgery.
- Clifton, along with Nik Aston, are strong javelin throwers. It's a key event if UNM wants to make a title run.

NCAA CHAMPIONSHIPS NOTES and TIDBITS

WOMEN'S 3,000-METER STEEPLECHASE

- Considering this event has only been competed at the NCAA Championships since 2001 (2016 will be the 16th running of the steeplechase at the NCAAs), there isn't a ton of history for the Lobos in the event. Ruth Senior (2010, 2012) is the only other New Mexico athlete to make the event at the NCAA Championships.
- At the Mountain West level, more athletes have competed in the event at the NCAAs, with seven making it in the last decade.
- However, this isn't Courtney Frerichs' first run in the event. As noted to the left, this is her second straight appearance (and third overall) in the event, with the previous two appearances coming while at UMKC. No other Lobo competing this year has made three NCAA Championships, much less in the same event or within four years.

WOMEN'S 5,000-METER RUN

- Although New Mexico has been a power in the distance events since Joe Franklin arrived in 2007, there haven't been many Lobos to make the NCAAs in the 5000. Calli Thackery is just the third in New Mexico history, joining Kathy Pfiefer (1984) and Timmie Murphy (2007).
- Of that group, Thackery is the only one to make back-to-back NCAA Championships in the 5000. Also, she is just the 11th (12th, if you include Alice Wright) who's made consecutive NCAAs in the same event.
- Including all the NCAA indoor qualifiers in program history, Thackery is just the sixth athlete to make any national championship in the 5000.
- The Mountain West hasn't qualified many athletes in the 5K, either. Between 2005-14, only two MW athletes (Murphy and Boise State's Emma Bates) have made the NCAAs in the 5000.

WOMEN'S 10,000-METER RUN

- UNM has experienced better luck in qualifying athletes in the 10000. Along with Alice Wright, the Lobo women have sent seven women to the NCAAs in the 10K, with five coming in the last seven years.
- Wright, however, is the only underclassman to ever make the NCAAs in the 10000. Not only that, she is just the third athlete classified as an underclassman to make the NCAAs in any event since 2002.
- Along with Calli Thackery, Wright is just the 12th UNM athlete to qualify to back-to-back NCAA Championships in the same event. Tangi Galloway (1996, 1997) is the only athlete to accomplish this feat in the 10K.

WOMEN'S 1,500-METER RUN

- After a one year break, the Lobos are back to qualifying multiple athletes in the 1500. Two years ago, it was Charlotte Arter, Sammy Silva and Suzi Boast, while three years ago it was Arter, Josephine Moultrie and Chloe Anderson.
- This year's duo represents the sixth time in program history that New Mexico has qualified multiple athletes to the NCAA Championships in the same event. Three of those six instances were in the 1500.
- Prior to 2013, the women's track & field team at UNM (dating back to 1970), qualified two athlete to the NCAAs in the 1500: Kristi Leonard in 1985 and Ashley Gibson in 2009. Since 2013, seven different women have qualified.

LOBOS AT THE NCAA OUTDOOR CHAMPIONSHIPS

NCAA CHAMPIONSHIPS NOTES AND TIDBITS

WOMEN'S TRIPLE JUMP

- Only two other athletes in New Mexico history have qualified to the NCAA Championships in the triple jump (Deanna Young in 2010 and 2011 and Laverne Clark in 1990 and 1991). Jannell Hadnot and Aasha Marler doubled that number this year.
- This is the first time in program history that two athletes qualified in the same field event at the NCAA Championships.
- Combined with the two Lobos that qualified in the 1500-meter run, this is the first year ever at UNM that multiple athletes have qualified together in multiple events.
- San Diego State is the only other school in the Mountain West to advance a pair of athletes to the NCAA Outdoor Championships in the triple jump. The Aztecs have done it three times (2007, 2012, 2013).
- This year, California and Georgia also have qualified two athletes in the triple jump. It's the first time in 2013 that at least three schools have qualified at least two jumpers in the triple jump. That year, five schools advanced multiple athletes in the event.

MEN'S LONG JUMP

- Before Allan Hamilton, the last time UNM advanced a long jumper to the NCAA finals was over 30 years ago, when Fidelis Ndyabagye qualified in 1985.
- In fact, Hamilton is just the seventh Lobo in program history (dating back to earliest confirmed records in the 1930s) to advance in the long jump.
- This drought extends to the Mountain West, as well. In the entire existence of the league (since 2000), only two other athletes have advanced to the NCAA Outdoor Championships in the long jump: BYU's Aaron Szmuda (2002, 2003) and Wyoming's Mervin Swaby (2002).

MEN'S 1,500-METER RUN

- Over the years, the men's 1500 is an event in which a few Lobos have advanced to the national finals. Josh Kerr gives the Lobos a NCAA qualifier in the metric mile for the third straight year, following two straight appearances by Peter Callahan. But Kerr is just the fifth athlete in school history to qualify in this event.
- Kerr, the 2016 Mountain West Champion in the 1500, is just the third Lobo to have won the event at the conference champion and advance to the NCAAs. Callahan (2014) and Lee Emanuel (2008 and 2010) won the MW titles before advancing to the NCAA Championships.
- While the Lobos haven't advanced many athletes to the NCAAs in the 1500, the Mountain West has produced a fair few. Including this year, 19 athletes from MW institutions have advanced to the NCAAs.

MEN'S 3000-METER STEEPLECHASE

- Few Lobos have made the NCAAs in the steeplechase. Elmar Engholm is just the fifth in program history, and the last time it happened was in 1983, when Ibrahim Hussein did it.
- 13 athletes in Mountain West history have made the steeplechase at the NCAA Championships.

MISCELLANEA

- According to available records, this year is likely the first time since 1992 that there are no Americans in the Lobo men's travel party to the NCAAs. That year, Australian Simon Arkell was the only Lobo that qualified.
- Similarly, it's the eighth straight year that UNM has qualified at least once British athlete to the NCAA Championships.

WOMEN'S TRACK RANKS 16TH IN USTFCCA RANKINGS

New Mexico women's track & field ranks 16th in the pre-NCAA Championship edition of the U.S. Track & Field and Cross Country Coaches Association National Team Computer Rankings released Monday, May 30.

This is the 17th week in program history that the New Mexico women have been ranked in the top 25. The Lobos debuted at 17th in the preseason rankings and rose to a program-best 12th a month ago before coming in at 16th for the last two releases.

These rankings — which are just composed of marks that qualified to the NCAA Outdoor Championships — credit the Lobos with 143.22 points, with most coming from the distance races.

Courtney Frerichs' NCAA-leading time of 9:29.31 in the 3000-meter steeplechase merited New Mexico 40.52 points, while Calli Thackery (29.57, from the 5000), Alice Wright (27.60, 10000) and Sophie Connor (26.94, 1500) added considerable points.

Also adding points to New Mexico's ledger are Jannell Hadnot in the triple jump (12.59), Emily Hosker-Thornhill in the 1500 (3.00) and Aasha Marler in the triple jump (3.00).

The men are ranked 62nd with 36.31 points. Contributing points are Allan Hamilton (17.06, long jump), Josh Kerr (10.40, 1500) and Elmar Engholm (steeplechase, 8.85).

THE DOUBLE-DIGIT PLATEAU

Over the last decade, both the Lobo men and women have qualified athletes to the NCAA Outdoor Championships. Sometimes, like last season, it's a small pack, with only four Lobos making the national championships. Other times, it's a big pack, like in 2009, when 11 Lobos advanced.

But this season was among the best in regards to advancing athletes to the NCAAs.

In fact, the 10 UNM athletes that advanced to the NCAA finals (seven women, three men) are the most under the current regionals system, which started in 2010.

It's also just one qualifier short of the all-time high of 11 set 2009 (which was set when there were more than just two regionals), and extends a 10-year run of at least four athletes advancing to the national championships.

This group of 10 is also the largest party by a Mountain West program since BYU advanced 13 (eight men, five women) in 2011.

The seven women that made the NCAA Championships did set a new program record for the most athletes that qualified to a national championship, nearly doubling the previous best of four qualifiers that was achieved three times (1983, 1990 and 2009).

The last time a Mountain West school qualified that many women to a single NCAA Championship was 2009, when TCU and BYU both advanced seven each (with TCU also adding a relay team).

FRERICHS NAMED USTFCCA MOUNTAIN REGION TRACK ATHLETE OF THE YEAR

Courtney Frerichs has earned NCAA Division I Mountain Region Women's Track Athlete of the Year honors, as announced by the U.S. Track & Field and Cross Country Coaches Association on Monday.

Frerichs, a senior from Nixa, Missouri, by way of UMKC, owns the NCAA's top time in the 3,000-meter steeplechase this year and picked up the second regional athlete of the year honor of her career.

Last month, Frerichs posted a personal-record time of 9 minutes, 29.31 seconds to win the 3,000 steeplechase at the Payton Jordan Invitational, moving up the NCAA record books.

She ranks as the third fastest collegian in NCAA history, and her time is the fifth-fastest in NCAA history. She now owns three of the top eight time all-time in the NCAA between her time at UMKC and New Mexico.

Frerichs followed that run by winning the steeplechase at the NCAA West Preliminary Round two weeks ago to claim her spot at this week's NCAA Outdoor Championships at Hayward Field in Eugene, Oregon.

She is advancing to her third NCAA Championships of her career.

As of June 6, Frerichs ranks No. 1 in the NCAA, No. 3 in the US and No. 21 in the world in the 3000 steeplechase in 2016

She also owns the New Mexico record (previous record was 10:09.14) and the Mountain West record (previous was 9:37.84), and has the steeplechase record in two different conferences (MW and WAC).

Overall, this is her second such honor after being named Midwest Region Women's Track Athlete of the Year while at UMKC. Frerichs' honor is also the first of its kind for New Mexico. Two Lobos, Alice Wright in 2014 and Sammy Silva in 2013, claimed the corresponding honor in cross country.

FRERICHS NAMED NATIONAL, MW ATHLETE OF THE WEEK AFTER RECORD PERFORMANCE IN STEEPLE

After setting the American lead in the 3,000-meter steeplechase on May 1 at the Payton Jordan Invitational, Courtney Frerichs earned a pair of superlative accolades on Tuesday, May 3.

The senior from Nixa, Missouri was named NCAA Division I Women's National Athlete of the Week by the U.S. Track & Field and Cross Country Coaches Association on Tuesday morning and added Mountain West Women's Track Athlete of the Week honors Tuesday afternoon.

Frerichs, a transfer from UMKC, ran a personal-record time of 9:29.31 to win the top section of the 3,000 steeplechase at the Payton Jordan Invitational on Sunday, May 1.

She is now the third fastest collegian in NCAA history, and her time is the fifth-fastest in NCAA history.

Her national athlete of the week honor is the second USTFCCA National Athlete of the Week honor for Frerichs in her collegiate career; she also earned the accolade in cross country in 2014 while at UMKC.

For New Mexico, this is the cross country/track & field program's second ever, along with Charlotte Arter's selection during the 2014 cross country season.

PACK MENTALITY

When the Lobos headed off to the NCAA West Preliminary championships, they took 11 women, nine men and a relay team to the meet. The men had a total of 10 bids among their qualifiers, while the women tallied 12 bids.

The number of total entries for New Mexico (22) was tied with Utah State for second in the Mountain West behind Colorado State (26 bids).

Those 12 bids for the women tied for the 18th most in all of the Division I and were behind only Colorado State and San Diego State (17 each) for the most in the MW.

The women were one of just five women's programs in the NCAA to earn at least four bids in both the distance and jumps (Arkansas, Alabama, Missouri and BYU).

The men, with 10 bids, tied for 18th in the NCAA. Out of the MW, only Air Force (17) and Utah State (14) earned more.

LOBOS RACK UP THE ALL-CONFERENCE HONORS

22 Lobos were selected to the Mountain West Outdoor Track & Field All-Conference men's and women's teams on Monday, May 16.

The Lobos, who received fourth-place finishes from both the men and the women during the four-day MW Outdoor Championships last week, saw eight men and two relay teams claim 12 total honors, and eight women score eight selections.

The Mountain West awards all-conference selections to the top three finishers in each event from the conference championships held at Veteran's Memorial Stadium in Clovis, Calif.

For the men, Allan Hamilton and Sam Trigg both scored two plaudits for their performances in the long jump and triple jump, as Hamilton won his second straight MW title in the long jump and Trigg his first in the triple jump.

The men's two other individual champions, Josh Kerr in the 1500-meter run and Elmar Engholm in the 3000 steeplechase, claimed all-conference honors, as well.

Also earning individual honors on the men's side were Adam Cotton (800), Graham Thomas (3000 steeplechase), Markus Miller (high jump) and Daniel Lam (decathlon).

The men's 4x100 meter relay team of Hamilton, Scott Bajere, Carlos Salcido and Ridge Jones and the men's 4x400 relay team of Salcido, Isaac Gonzales, Mark Haywood and Cheyne Dorsey also earned all-conference honors.

The 12 All-MW selections garnered by the men are the most since 2014 (21 selections), and continues an eight-year streak of earning double-digit selections.

On the women's side, three titlists were accorded honors, with Sophie Connor in the 800, Calli Thackery in the 10000 and Jannell Hadnot in the triple jump.

Also receiving selections were Courtney Frerichs (1500), Emily Hosker-Thornhill (1500), Alice Wright (5000), Samantha Bowe (long jump), and Aasha Marler (triple jump).

The eight individual honorees for the UNM women are the most since 2013, when nine Lobos and a relay team earned accolades.

MEN'S METRIC MILE MANIA

When Josh Kerr unleashed a ferocious kick on the homestretch of the track at Veteran's Memorial Stadium at the Mountain West Championships, he claimed his first conference title in the 1500-meter run.

But that wasn't the first time a Lobo managed to capture the crown. In fact, it's New Mexico's third championship in the last five years, along with Peter Callahan's in 2014 and Sam Evans in 2012.

On top of that, it's the fourth straight year — and the sixth in the last seven — that the at least three Lobos scored in the 1500. This year, it was Elmar Engholm (fourth-place) and Adam Cotton (seventh) joining Kerr.

Only departed conference member BYU can match that trend, accomplishing that from 2006 to 2009.

STEEPLE PEOPLE

At the Mountain West Outdoor Championships on May 13, Elmar Engholm lived up to his conference-leading rank, seizing his third league title in the 3000-meter steeplechase in 9:07.30. He's the only athlete in conference history to win three steeplechase crowns.

Finishing right behind him at the championships was Dulce, N.M., product Graham Thomas, who came in second with a time of 9:09.92. Engholm and Thomas are the first pair of teammates to go 1-2 in the MW steeplechase since BYU did it in 2010.

LOBOS LOVE LONG JUMP

In fact, the Lobos love this event so much, this tidbit is a two-parter.

On the men's side, Allan Hamilton recorded his second straight sweep of the long jump between the indoor and outdoor Mountain West Championships, giving him four wins in four chances.

Hamilton's win at this year's MW Outdoor Championships was also the fourth for New Mexico in the last six years, to go along with Kendall Spencer's titles in 2011 and 2013.

The Lobos also had two others score this year, with third-place Sam Trigg and seventh-place Yannick Roggatz. Combined with Hamilton, that trio is the first to all score at the MW outdoor meet since UNM did it in 2014. Overall, it's the ninth time in MW history a team had three or more scorers in the long jump.

For the women, Samantha Bowe and Aasha Marler went into uncharted territory. In the 41-year history of New Mexico women's track & field, only eight women have ever surpassed 20 feet in the long jump. Of those eight women, none of them ever broke that barrier in the same meet. Same season, sure (see All-Americans Alesha Walker and Deanne Young), but never the same meet.

Until Bowe and Marler, a pair of redshirt seniors from Albuquerque. Bowe finished third at the MW Outdoor Championships with a PR of 20-1 1/2, while Marler (who owns a lifetime best of 20-3 3/4 outdoors), leaped 20 1/4 for fourth.

FOUR FOR FOUR IN THE TRIPLE JUMP

Let's quickly sum up the last four champions in the triple jump at the Mountain West Outdoor Championships:

- 2016: Sam Trigg, New Mexico
- 2015: Allan Hamilton, New Mexico
- 2014: Reneilwe Aphane, New Mexico
- 2013: Floyd Ross, New Mexico

As you can see, that's four straight conference titles for the Lobos. No other team in Mountain West history can match the Lobos' domination in the event.

LOTS OF EVENTS, LOTS OF NOTES

At the 2015 Mountain West Outdoor Championships, both Daniel Lam and Beau Clifton scored in the decathlon, placing second and sixth, respectively.

Lam, a sophomore from the Netherlands, rode wins in the discus and pole vault to climb from seventh to second on the final day of the decathlon.

His silver medal is the best the Lobos have earned since Richard York took second in 2013.

Clifton, a sophomore from Farmington, N.M., also scored via wins in the 100 and shot put.

The tandem are the first pair of Lobos to score in a MW decathlon since York and Sam Potter went second and fifth in 2012.

FIRST TIME? NO PROBLEM

Although a seasoned distance runner with quite a bit of high-level experience, Calli Thackery had never run a 10,000 on the track before.

That notwithstanding, she took on the event at the Mountain West Outdoor Championships based on her high fitness level. She was already ranked No. 2 in the NCAA in the 5000 (15:37.44) and No. 8 in the NCAA in the 1500 meter (4:14.99), so she had the base. Still, she had never actually run a competitive 10K on the track.

Still, she after sticking with a runner from Colorado State through two miles, Calli decided to go out on her own, upping the tempo of the race. She crossed the finish line of her first-ever competitive 10K in a winning 34:30.24, which was one minute in front of the second-place finisher.

Overall, it's the Lobos' second straight MW title in the 10K, along with Alice Wright's in 2015.

IT'S ALMOST AS IF THEY'RE KIND OF GOOD AT THIS DISTANCE THING

No shocker, but the Lobo women's distance crew — you know, the reigning NCAA champs in cross country — is rather good.

So good, in fact, that they've posted multiple scorers in the women's 1500 for the fourth straight year. Not just multiple scorers, but multiple runners in the top three.

This year, it was Courtney Frerichs (second) and Emily Hosker-Thornhill (third), while last season it was Calli Thackery (first) and Tamara Armoush (third). 2014 saw Charlotte Arter and Suzi Boast go 2-3 (with four other runners scoring), and 2013 it was Josephine Moultrie, Arter and Chloe Anderson sweeping the medals.

DOUBLE TRIPLE

After qualifying to the NCAA Championships in March, it's fair to say Jannell Hadnot finally "arrived" on the scene. But, one could make the argument that she made her first appearance last May, when she won her first of three straight Mountain West triple jump titles between indoors and outdoors.

Hadnot captured her third such title at the MW Outdoor Championships on May 14, and was joined by runner-up Aasha Marler on the podium. Together, the duo is just the second ever to go 1-2 in the event, joining San Diego State's Shanieka Thomas and Alex Evans in 2013.

MEN'S 4X100 RELAY SNAPS 50-YEAR OLD RECORD AT STANFORD

On March 26, 1966, during a home triangular meet vs. Texas Western (now UTEP) and Wyoming, the Lobo 4x100 meter relay team of Bernie Rivers, Steve Caminiti, Ken Head and Rene Matison ran to the fastest time in the nation in 40.24. The foursome wound up placing fourth at the 1966 NCAA Championship on in Bloomington, Ind.

Between that record day in 1966 and the start of the 2016 campaign, only two other UNM relay teams (one in 2009 and one last year) managed to get within a tenth of a second of the record.

Until May 1, 2016.

At the Payton Jordan Invitational hosted by Stanford, the New Mexico group of Allan Hamilton, Scott Bajere, Carlos Salcido and Ridge Jones managed to break that record, combining to clock a time of 40.20.

Considering that the foursome's previous season best coming into the meet was 40.82, their massive improvement at the Payton Jordan Invite moved them to second in the Mountain West and 25th in the NCAA West Region, just enough to qualify for the meet.

THE SOPHIE CONNOR CHRONICLES

After a relatively modest first year in Albuquerque, Sophie Connor entered the 2016 season with an immense amount of potential.

She started to cash in on that potential indoors, running a stellar mile at the Don Kirby Elite Invite to shoot up the national rankings and earn a bid to the NCAA Indoor Track & Field Championship.

The Hertfordshire, England, product hasn't stopped shining, running a personal record 4:16.40 in the 1500-meter run on April 15 at the Bryan Clay Invitational. That time propelled her to third all-time in New Mexico history and sixth in the NCAA in 2016.

She continued to perform at an elite level at the Payton Jordan Invitational, where she posted a superlative time of 4:14.03 against a staunch field professional and collegiate athletes.

That mark set a new school record, topping Josephine Moultrie's old standard by 0.41 seconds, and moves Connor to fourth nationally.

THE INCALCULABLE CALLI

Maybe calling her incalculable is a stretch, but Calli Thackery certainly stretches the boundaries when she takes the track.

Proof in point: take a look at her first two races of the outdoor campaign.

At the Bryan Clay Invitational on April 15, Thackery ran 4:14.99 in the 1500-meter run, climbing to second in the NCAA (at the time) with what was then the second-best mark in school history (see above).

She didn't let up in her next race, as the Yorkshire, England, product smashed her old PR of 15:42.57 at the Payton Jordan Invitational when she ran 15:37.44 against a deep field of pros and the NCAA's elite.

Thackery's performance gets her all the way up to No. 2 in the NCAA, and just edges the UNM record of 15:37.49 that was established in 2012 by Sarah Waldron.

OH SO CLOSE, BUT RIGHT ON TARGET

Last season, Alice Wright went to Stanford and ran a blistering 32:56.33 in the 10,000-meter run. At the time, that mark was the second fastest 10,000 in school history and qualified Wright for the NCAA Championship where she subsequently earned All-American honors.

This year, after some solid 5Ks to open her season, Wright headed back to Cobb Track in Stanford, Calif., to take on another top-notch 10K.

In her race, there were 35 athletes entered with 32 professionals and only three collegians. With virtually all of the pros gunning for standards for Olympic trials and the Olympic Games (with its 32:15 standard), this race was certain to be quick.

Knowing that, Wright posted a stellar time of 32:36.11 that finished as the second-fastest performance by a collegiate athlete.

She currently ranks fourth in the NCAA and 57th in the world rankings, and just missed the existing UNM school record of 32:36.07 set by Sarah Waldron in 2012.

And, if you can believe it, Waldron set her erstwhile record at Stanford during an Olympic year.

HOWELL-IN' FOR YOU

Zoe Howell came into the Payton Jordan Invitational with an existing outdoor personal record of 2:12.06 from last year.

Since running that time, she had been rather consistent, running between 2:12 and 2:15 seven times. But, despite good training and a solid basis, she had yet to break the 2:12 barrier.

And then she went to the Payton Jordan Invitational, a meet renowned for its ability to churn out fast times in the middle-distance and distance events.

Howell was no exception as she clocked a time of 2:08.34, which is a massive improvement from her previous best.

Her time just made the cut for the NCAA West Preliminary Round, seeding her 46th.

THACKERY, HAMILTON NAMED MW ATHLETES OF THE WEEK

After strong performance at the Bryan Clay Invitational, Calli Thackery and Allan Hamilton earned recognition from the Mountain West for their performances for meets held April 13-16.

Thackery was selected as the Mountain West Women's Track Athlete of the Week, while Hamilton earned MW Men's Field Athlete of the Week. It's the third total weekly MW award for Thackery in her career, and the fourth total for Hamilton.

The tandem posted a pair of nationally relevant marks as the Lobos competed at the Bryan Clay Invitational in Azusa, Calif. Consequently, both have put themselves firmly in contention to compete at the NCAA West Preliminary Championship in May.

Thackery, a junior from Yorkshire, England, raced to a time of 4 minute, 14.99 seconds in the 1,500-meter run. A three-time All-American between cross country and track, she won the entire event at the Bryan Clay Invite, topping 192 other runners.

Her time, which set a new personal record, ranks second in New Mexico history and fourth all-time in Mountain West history. Only Josephine Moultrie (4:14.44) has run faster at UNM.

When she was honored, Thackery led the Mountain West and ranked second in the NCAA and 22nd in the world in 2016.

Hamilton, a senior out of Edinburgh, Scotland, leaped 25 feet, 10 ¼ inches (7.88 meters) in the long jump at the Bryan Clay Invite. That mark was the best by a collegian at the meet and finished second overall.

A personal record by 2 ½ inches, Hamilton's mark ranks fourth in school history and second in MW history. When he was honored, he led the league by nearly 18 inches and ranked sixth in the NCAA and 26th in the world this year.

The duo combined for the first set of MW athlete-of-the-week honors that New Mexico has received outdoors in 2016. Indoors, the Lobos claimed three such honors, with Hamilton earning field athlete of the week on January 26.

WOMEN'S XC/TRACK 10TH IN PROGRAM OF THE YEAR STANDINGS

New Mexico women's cross country/track & field program is tabbed 10th in the USTFCCA's Terry Crawford Program of the Year award standings for the 2015-16 academic year.

Led by head coach Joe Franklin, the Lobos have combined to gain 31.5 points in the in-progress report, which accounts for the 2015 NCAA Cross Country Championships and 2016 NCAA Indoor Track & Field Championships.

It's the second straight year that the Lobo women are in contention for the award through two of the three national championships in cross country and track & field.

The women's cross country team got New Mexico in the standings first as the Lobos won the NCAA Cross Country Championships in November. It's the second ever national title in any sport in New Mexico history.

Five All-Americans — Courtney Frerichs, Alice Wright, Rhona Auckland, Calli Thackery and Molly Renfer — powered the Lobos to the best team score (49 points) at the NCAA Championships since 1982.

Thackery continued the trend of scoring performances during the indoor season, as she took sixth-place in the 3,000-meter run at the 2016 NCAA Indoor Track & Field Championships in Birmingham, Ala.

Along with a fifth-place finish by Sophie Connor in the mile (which is the best-ever finish by a Lobo woman in a track event at the indoor championships), the Lobos scored at the national indoor championships for the second straight year.

Overall, UNM tied for 30th with seven team points, which are the best finish and point total in program history.

The only championship left to determine the final standing for the Program of the Year award is the NCAA Outdoor Track & Field Championships, which will be held June 8-11 in Eugene, Ore.

The New Mexico women have placed in the final standings for the award just twice: in 2012 (finishing 16th) and last year (finishing 14th). UNM was also ranked in the in-progress report in 2010, as well, but did not finish the season in the standings.

BRINGING DOWN THE HAMMER

Competing in the hammer throw at the UTEP Invitational on April 30, Amaris Blount continued to impress. The redshirt freshman from Rio Rancho, N.M., continued her breakout spring with another strong showing in El Paso.

After a season-opening performance of 170-11 at the UTEP Springtime on March 26, Blount climbed to second all-time in the event in New Mexico history.

She followed that up with another PR, hurling the ball and chain 173-7 at the UTEP Invite.

She is the first Lobo to climb into the top-10 rankings for the hammer throw since Sarah Swartwood (third all-time) and Tami Williams (fifth all-time) did it in 2010.

Also joining Blount was Allison Mady, who rose to seventh all-time with a toss of 142-1.

HOW'S THIS FOR A SEASON DEBUT?

There was a lot of anticipation for the women's 1,500-meter run at the Bryan Clay Invitational on April 15, as that meet marked the outdoor debuts of three Lobo standouts in Calli Thackery, Sophie Connor and Courtney

Frerichs. And the group performed brilliantly, as all three set new personal records in the race.

Thackery, a three-time All-American between track and cross country, posted a time of 4:14.99 that ranked second in the NCAA at the time. Additionally, she moved up to second in New Mexico history.

Joining the PR parade was Connor, who clocked a time of 4:16.40 that knocked almost five full seconds from her previous best. She moves all the way up to third all-time at UNM.

Frerichs, an elite steeplechaser, ran 4:18.92. She moved to fifth in school history.

CAPTAIN KERR

Not to be outdone his female counterparts, Josh Kerr also shined in the 1500 at the Bryan Clay Invitational. The true freshman and reigning European Junior Champion in the metric mile posted a fine time of 3:42.09 as he kicked for a win in his heat.

He finished third overall in the massive 1500 field in Azusa, and moved to seventh all-time at UNM.

NOW WE KNOW WHY IT'S HIS FAVORITE TRACK

A 2016 All-American in the long jump, Allan Hamilton came into the 2016 Bryan Clay Invitational with a collegiate best of 25-6 1/4 (7.78 meters) achieved last year at the 2015 Bryan Clay Invitational.

That mark was his best since leaping an all-time PR of 25-7 1/2 that he registered in 2014 in Birmingham, England.

But when he returned to the Bryan Clay Invite, he showed everyone why he likes the runways at Cougar Athletic Stadium in Azusa.

On his second jump in the prelims, Hamilton soared 25-10 1/4 (7.88m) with a legal 1.8 meter tailwind.

He shot up to fourth all-time at New Mexico and second in Mountain West history. He currently leads the MW by nearly 18 inches and ranks eighth in the NCAA this season.

IT'S ALWAYS MILLER TIME

Markus Miller, a senior high jumper from Alamogordo, N.M., came into the Bryan Clay Invitational with an existing outdoor PR of 6-6 3/4 set at the 2013 Mountain West Championship at UNLV.

He broke that in resounding fashion at the Bryan Clay Invitational as he cleared 6-10 3/4 for the win.

He opened the competition at 6-2 3/4, clearing that bar on his first attempt. Miller proceeded to do the same at 6-4 3/4, and then he equaled his PR by scaling 6-6 3/4. Once the crossbar went up to 6-8 3/4, there were only eight competitors remaining. On his very first attempt at that height, Miller sailed over the bar to a new PR.

Then the crossbar was moved to 6-10 3/4, where Miller continued to roll, claiming that height — and an all-time PR — on his first attempt. That height moves him to 10th all-time at UNM.

TRIPLE COMBO

Most of New Mexico's athletes at the Bryan Clay Invitational had phenomenal performances, but three Lobos had great performances in a number of events.

New Mexico's multi-event athletes posted tremendous performances on Thursday in their first combined events of the season.

Samantha Bowe had a banner day in the heptathlon, posting personal records in three of the seven events to finish with a final total of 5349 points. A 235-point PR, Bowe strengthened her hold on fourth in UNM history and climbs to 29th in the NCAA.

Kyra Mohns also set a new PR, totaling 4923 points for 19th place. She ranks sixth in all-time at New Mexico.

For the men, Daniel Lam registered new PRs in six of the 10 events in the decathlon, finishing with a new PR of 7079 points for third place. His performance moves him to seventh in UNM history and 25th in the NCAA.

RETURN OF THE MARLER

After redshirting the indoor season, redshirt senior Aasha Marler returned with a bang at the Don Kirby Tailwind Open as she picked up a pair of top-two finishes in the horizontal jumps.

The Albuquerque native won the triple jump with a personal-record mark of 42 feet, 9 3/4 inches, moving to third all-time in UNM history.

Marler also dazzled in the long jump, leaping 20-3 3/4 for second place. An outdoor PR, her mark now ranks fifth in school history.

AND HERE COMES THE STEEPLE...

If the first meet of the season was any barrier, a couple of Lobos had no problems leaping over it — literally.

At the Stanford Invitational on April 1, a trio of Lobos posted tremendous results in the 3,000-meter steeplechase. On the women's side, freshman Natasha Bernal tore it up in the steeplechase in her first track race in a Lobo uniform, while Elmar Engholm and Graham Thomas tallied outstanding marks in the steeplechase for the men.

After redshirting the indoor season, Bernal, a freshman from Albuquerque, made a splash in her UNM track debut. She ran a time of 10:21.32 in her first-ever steeplechase, moving to second all-time at New Mexico.

Her time, which placed third in her section of the steeplechase, is the best-ever by a freshman in school history.

The men's steeplechasers also had exceptional races. Engholm clocked a time of 8:40.03 in his section of steeplechase, setting a six-second PR in the event. A two-time NCAA prelims qualifier in the event, Engholm moved to fourth in school history.

His time, which placed fifth overall, is the fastest time by a Lobo athlete since Tom Glass ran 8:38.64 in 1986.

Thomas also stamped his name in the record books, running a section-winning time of 8:48.15. After redshirting the 2015 outdoor season, Thomas posted a 19-second PR in his first steeplechase since 2014.

He moves to sixth all-time at UNM, and joins Engholm and Alex Willis (8:59.84 in 2011) as the only UNM athletes to break the nine-minute barrier since Glass in 1986.

LOBO WOMEN STAMP NAME ATOP HISTORY BOOKS AT NCAA INDOORS

The Lobos went into the national championships just wanting to score points for the second year in a row.

And they did just that and more, finishing with the best team performance ever at the national championships.

Sophie Connor and Calli Thackery both ran to All-American honors at the 2016 NCAA Division I Indoor Track and Field Championships at the Birmingham CrossPlex.

Behind Connor's fifth-place showing in the mile run and Thackery's sixth-place performance in the 3,000-meter run, the Lobo women scored at the NCAA Indoor Championships in back-to-back years for the first time in program history.

The Lobos finished tied for 30th overall with seven team points, which are the best finish and point total in program history.

The previous highs were a 36th-place finish behind six team points in 2010.

CONNOR GOES WHERE NO LOBO WOMEN HAS GONE BEFORE

Sophie Connor posted a fifth-place finish in the mile at the 2016 NCAA Division I Indoor Track and Field Championships on March 12.

Her time of 4:38.83 was good for fifth in the race, but it's also one of the best-ever at New Mexico.

Her finish is the best finish in any track event at an indoor championship in program history,

She earned New Mexico's second-ever All-American plaudit in the mile after Sammy Silva did it last year with a sixth-place run. Silva previously held the distinction for the highest finish by a woman in a track event at the indoor championships.

CONNOR MAKING HISTORY IN MILE

Sophie Connor made a massive statement when she ran her PR of 4:36.37 in the mile run at the Don Kirby Elite Invitational on February 13.

Her time, which ranks second in UNM and Mountain West history, qualified her for the NCAA Indoor Championships.

In fact, the Hertfordshire, England, product is just the third Lobo to ever make the NCAA Championships in the mile, behind UNM- and MW-record holder Sammy Silva in 2015 and Josephine Moultrie in 2012.

Connor is also just the eighth in Mountain west history, but only the third — along with Silva and Moultrie — to advance to the national championships since in the last decade.

ATTACKERY OF THE THACKERY

Calli Thackery is the seventh athlete in MW history to make the NCAAs in the 3000. She is also just the second in school history to qualify at this distance (along with Josephine Moultrie), and is just the second MW athlete to advance in the 3K since 2007.

But all of that was true last year, when she made the NCAAs in the 3000 for the first time.

Now, the New Mexico record holder in the 3000-meter run is making a repeat performance, becoming the first UNM women's track & field athlete ever to make back-to-back NCAA Indoor Championships in the same event.

She's is also just the second Mountain West athlete to qualify to consecutive NCAA Championships in 3000, joining BYU's Michaela Mannova, who actually made it three straight years (2002, 2003 and 2004).

DISTANCE MEDLEY MADNESS

When the Lobos trot out their distance medley relay at the NCAAs, it'll be the second time New Mexico has qualified a relay team to the national finals.

In fact, UNM is just the third school in conference history to qualify a DMR to the NCAAs, and it's the first since 2010. Only BYU (2000, 2002-04, 2009-10) and Colorado State (2002) have advanced a DMR before.

AIR JANNELL

The Mountain West and New Mexico have a fair amount of history in the triple jump.

San Diego State's Shanieka Thomas was a four-time qualifier and the 2014 NCAA champ in the event, while UNM's Deanna Young qualified twice the event, just the third New Mexico athlete to make multiple NCAA championships in the same event (Calli Thackery, 3000/Sandy Fortner, pentathlon).

So when Jannell Hadnot steps on the runways at the Birmingham CrossPlex for the NCAA Championships, she'll add to a rich legacy in the event.

Overall, Hadnot is the seventh MW athlete to make the NCAAs in the triple jump.

NEW MEXICO WOMEN SEND PROGRAM RECORD TO NCAAs

The New Mexico women have posted some tremendous marks during the season, and were rewarded with three individuals and a relay team qualifying to the NCAA Indoor Track & Field Championships.

The three individuals and the relay team comprise the largest party the New Mexico women have ever qualified to indoor nationals. The previous high was two individuals and a relay, which UNM accomplished last season.

Additionally, with the three individuals and the relay team accepting bids for the NCAAs, the Lobos are sending at least four athletes to the indoor championships for the eighth consecutive year, extending the longest streak in program history.

3 TRACK ATHLETES NAMED COSIDA ACADEMIC ALL-DISTRICT

Three University of New Mexico track & field student-athletes were named to the 2016 College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA) Academic All-District Track & Field/Cross Country District 7 Teams on Thursday.

Women's student-athletes Alice Wright and Sophie Connor joined men's student-athlete Yannick Roggatz in earning All-District honors, which increases UNM's total number of All-District recipients in the 2015-16 school year to 14 student-athletes.

It's the fifth-straight year New Mexico track & field/cross country has placed at least one athlete on the Academic All-District team. Since 2012, the program has earned 14 Academic All-District selections.

The all-district teams are made up of eligible athletes (3.3 GPA or higher; at least a sophomore and no first year students/transfers) from all Division I schools in Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas and Wyoming.

All three Lobo student-athletes are now in contention to earn Academic All-America honors, which will be announced in June.

Wright, a redshirt sophomore from Worcester, England, is majoring in liberal arts and carries a 4.00 GPA. This all-district selection is the second straight for Wright, who is also a three-time All-American athletically, with one honor in outdoor track and two in cross country.

This past November, Wright was the No. 2 scorer for the 2015 NCAA champion women's cross country team. Currently, she ranks fourth in the NCAA in the 10000 and is seeded second in the event at this week's NCAA West Preliminary round.

Academically, she was named Academic All-Mountain West and MW Scholar-Athlete from 2014-15 and was earned a second straight USTFCCCA All-Academic honor in February as part of the NCAA Division I Women's Scholar Team of the Year.

Connor, a graduate student from Hertfordshire, England, posted a 4.04 GPA earning her Master of Business Administration. A 2016 Indoor All-American in the mile, Connor is currently searching for a second such honor and is seeded second in the 1500 at the NCAA West Prelims.

Connor has experienced a breakout year on the track this year, setting the UNM records in the 800 indoors and the 1500 outdoors. She won the mile at the 2016 MW Indoor Championships and claimed the metric mile title at the MW Outdoor Championships two weeks ago.

In the classroom, she earned Academic All-MW and MW Scholar-Athlete honors in 2015.

Roggatz, a senior from Birkenau, Germany, holds a 4.00 GPA as he pursues his MBA. He scored in the long jump and high jump at the 2016 MW Indoor Championships and added a scoring effort in the long jump at the MW Outdoor Championships two weeks ago.

He is currently seeded 36th in the long jump at the NCAA West Prelims, and ranks seventh in New Mexico history in the indoor long jump. He has registered three straight runner-up finishes in the event at MW Indoor Championships (2014-16).

Additionally, he was named Academic All-Mountain West in 2014 and 2015 and earned MW Scholar-Athlete honors from 2013-15.

The group's selections mark the fifth straight year that the UNM track and cross-country squads have earned Academic All-District. Last year, Wright, Sammy Silva and Peter Callahan were selected to the Academic All-District 7 team, with Callahan going on to earn Academic All-America honors.

Additionally, Wright, Connor and Roggatz are the 12th, 13th and 14th All-District selections this year for UNM as a whole. The department record for New Mexico is 17, which was set in 2014.
