NEWS and NOTES

NEW MEXICO CAPS SEASON WITH SHOWDOWN VS. UNLV

Winners of two straight matches, the University of New Mexico volleyball team closes out its 2016 campaign Tuesday as it heads to Las Vegas to take on UNLV in its season finale.

The Lobos (16-15, 6-11 MW), who are playing with some momentum after sweeping their last two contests, are looking to wrap up their season with one more win as they face the Rebels (22-7, 11-6) in Cox Pavilion.

Despite struggling through a seven-game losing streak during the opening weeks of conference play, New Mexico has been playing solid ball to finish the season.

In the last calendar month, the Lobos are 5-3, with two of those losses coming in five-set matches.

They've recorded four sweeps in that span, including a pair of dominant 3-0 wins at Nevada last Wednesday and vs. San Diego State on Senior Day last Saturday.

With that victory against the Aztecs, New Mexico is guaranteed to finish with at least a .500 record this season. A win vs. UNLV would give the team its ninth winning season under 10th-year head coach Jeff Nelson.

The Lobos' seniors have been instrumental during the team's late-season turnaround, with Julia Warren, Devanne Sours and Cassie House all contributing in their own ways.

Warren, the consummate team leader, has been on fire since returning from a knee injury — one that coincided with UNM's midseason slide.

Sours has also been playing strongly down the stretch, and is on the cusp of claiming her 1,000th career kill. She needs just 17 kills to reach that level.

House, who eclipsed 1,000 career kills in October, has also added strong play, including a yeoman performance vs. SDSU.

UNM can also rely on some superb play from some additional upperclassmen in redshirt juniors Ashley Kelsey and Lise Rugland.

Kelsey posted her 1,000 career dig in the Lobos' win over Nevada and currently sits with 501 digs the season, the third-best single-season total in program history. Rugland has been spot on after taking on the starting setter position on October 22.

KELSEY NABS 1000TH CAREER DIG, SITS 13TH IN PROGRAM HISTORY

Although she came to New Mexico as a hitter, Ashley Kelsey has developed into a phenomenal defender for the Lobos.

New Mexico's starting libero, Kelsey registered her 1,000th career dig in the Lobos' 3-0 sweep of Nevada on November 16, and currently sits 13th in program history with 1,018 career digs.

The redshirt junior from Ewa Beach, Hawaii, is the second player this season to eclipse the 1,000-dig plateau along with Julia Warren, who ranks fifth all-time at UNM with 1,192 digs.

Kelsey will all but certainly end her junior campaign in 11th place all-time in career digs, needing only three in the Lobos' final match vs. UNLV to pass Paula Feathers (1,019) and Nao Ikeda (1,020).

WARREN ASCENDING THE RECORD BOOKS, SITS 5TH IN CAREER DIGS

Heading into the final game of her collegiate career, senior outside hitter Julia Warren sits in fifth place in career digs in New Mexico history with 1,192 digs.

FIVE THINGS TO KNOW

The Lobos have seven native New Mexicans on its roster, including four starters.

Devanne Sours looks to finish her career with 1,000 career kills. Cassie House nabbed her 1000th in October.

Ashley Kelsey joined Julia Warren as two Lobos to eclipse 1,000 career digs this season.

New Mexico is aiming to post its fifth straight winning season as it closes out the season at UNLV.

UNM collected 2 wins over Power Five teams this season, the same as the rest of the MW combined.

ABOUT THIS WEEK'S TEAMS

NEW MEXICO LOBOS (16-15, 6-11 MW)

Record: 16-15 (6-11 Mountain West) Years/Rec at UNM : 10th/188-116 (.618) Starters Returning/Lost: 3 + Libero/3
Head Coach: Jeff Nelson Years/Career Rec: 22nd/430-263 (.620) Newcomers: 4

ABOUT NEW MEXICO: The Lobos rely heavily on their contingent of local New Mexicans, with their top four point-scorers hailing from the Land of Enchantment. Rio Rancho product Cassie House leads UNM with 365 kills in 2016 (3.29/set), while Albuquerque native Julia Warren has logged 281 kills and 280 digs, and Devanne Sours, out of Tatum, N.M., has posted 345 kills and 184 digs. Belen's Victoria Spragg rounds out the group with 154 kills and 114 total blocks.

Lise Rugland has taken over the setting duties, logging 483 assists as she's started the last eight matches. Middle blocker Mariessa Carrasco (114 kills, 95 blocks) and freshman outside Lauren Twitty (91 kills) have also contributed.

Defensively, Ashley Kelsey continues to anchor the Lobos defense, compiling 501 digs (4.25/set). She also has 26 service aces, behind Warren (31 aces) and House (27) for the team lead.

LAST TIME OUT: New Mexico claimed a pair of sweeps, dispatching Nevada on the road 25-20, 25-23, 25-21 before coming back to Johnson Center to post a 25-18, 25-19, 25-23 win over San Diego State on Senior Day. Kelsey eclipsed 1,000 career digs vs. the Wolf Pack as the Lobos moved to 5-3 since October 22.

UNLV REBELS (22-7, 11-6 MW)

Record: 22-7 (11-6 Mountain West) Years/Rec at UNLV : 6th/112-70 (.615) Starters Returning/Lost: 6 + Libero/1
Head Coach: Cindy Fredrick Years/Career Rec: 30th/539-421 (.561) Newcomers: 5

ABOUT UNLV: The Rebels have been somewhat of an enigma this season. After opening up 2016 with a 19-2 record, UNLV has gone just 3-5 over the last calendar month, including losses in both of their matches last week — 3-0 at San Diego State and 3-1 at home to Nevada.

Preseason All-MW selection Bree Hammel leads the Rebels with 408 kills (3.85/set) and 40 aces (0.38/set), and ranks third on the team with 85 total blocks. Sadie Stutzman's 239 kills are second on the team, followed by Alyssa Wing (220 kills), Elsa Descamps (212) and Ashley Owens (187). Alex Patterson, another preseason all-conference pick, keys the Rebels' offense with 1146 assists (10.81/set). UNLV is second in the MW in kills/set and assists/set.

Carly Riehl leads UNLV with 317 digs (3.36/set), with Hammel (261 digs), Elisa Woinowsky (259) and Patterson (235) also contributing. Descamps (126 total blocks) and Owens (117) helm the team's defense at the net. UNLV is second in the MW in digs/set and third in blocks/set.

SERIES VS. UNLV: UNLV owns a 22-15 lead overall in the series vs. New Mexico, but since 2007, Lobo head coach Jeff Nelson's first year at UNM, the Rebels own just a 12-11 lead in the series. UNLV won the first matchup this season, taking a 3-1 win in Albuquerque.

LAST TIME vs. UNLV: LOBOS DROP 3-1 DECISION

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (10/11/2016) — The University of New Mexico volleyball team battled UNLV in Johnson Center, coming within points of taking a lead on one of the top teams in the Mountain West before falling in four sets, 16-25, 25-19, 30-32, 16-25.

Although the Lobos (10-10, 1-6 MW) couldn't top the Rebels (17-2, 6-1), they showed a renewed attitude, relying on strong performances from senior outside hitters Devanne Sours (15 kills, nine digs), Cassie House (13 kills, two aces) and Julia Warren (nine kills, 13 digs).

Warren, who played full-rotation in her fourth game back from a knee injury, provided some of the spark that the Lobos have lacked during their recent six-game slide. But with the all three senior pinhitters playing, UNM posted a solid team performance, giving UNLV and its lofty record a run for its money for the better part of two sets.

After dropping the opening set, New Mexico rolled in set two and had a number of chances to win a drawn-out set three to take a 2-1 lead. And while that lead never materialized, the Lobos showed well as they closed out a difficult three-game homestand.

On the night, the Lobos' senior outside hitters led UNM's offense, with middle blockers Victoria Spragg (six kills, four blocks) and Mariessa Carrasco (four kills, four blocks) also contributing.

The Lobos also outblocked UNLV, recording eight stuffs to the Rebels' six.

Warren broke the 1000-digs plateau as a Lobo with her seventh dig vs. Arkansas on September 8, and has continued to ascend the all-time rankings.

As of November 21, the Albuquerque native has 1,192 digs over her four-year career in Albuquerque, 205 behind Miquella Lovato in fourth place.

Warren is the 37th player in Mountain West history to tally 1000 career digs. She ranks fourth among active league players.

Only Allison Buck (1,630 career digs), Gayle Tripp (1,578), Sharon Browning (1,504) and Lovato (1,397) have more career digs than Warren.

With one more match remaining in her career, Warren will likely reach 1,200 career digs. Based off her career average of 2.84 digs/set and assuming the minimum of three sets in the Lobos' finale vs. UNLV, Warren can notch just over eight more digs this season, which would give her 1,200 on her career.

HOUSE KEEPS BUILDING, MOVES INTO 7TH IN CAREER KILLS

Senior outside hitter Cassie House reached 1,000 career kills on October 8 vs. Wyoming, becoming the 12th player in program history to eclipse the 1,000-kill plateau.

Heading in the final match of her collegiate career, she sits seventh in program history with 1,135 career kills, passing Kim Hicks (1,131 kills) in the Lobos' 3-0 Senior Day sweep of San Diego State on November 19.

House is the first to reach the 1,000-kill club since Chantale Riddle in 2013. The list of Lobos to reach 1,000 career kills feature five All-Americans, including current assistant coach Pauline Manser (fifth, 1229 kills), Jeanne Fairchild (fourth, 1238), Maria Gurreri (third, 1473), Tania Gooley (second, 1579) and Riddle (fifth, 1623).

Lisa Meeter (1,161 kills) currently sits sixth in program history.

House, out of Rio Rancho, N.M., eclipsed the 1,000-kill mark in the third set against the Wyoming, taking a Lise Rugland set and rifling it down right into the middle of Wyoming's defense.

She ranks third among all active Mountain West players in career kills, with Boise State's Sierra Nobley ranked first with 1,424 kills and Nevada's Madison Morell second (1,198 kills).

CASSIE MAKING A HOUSE

Heading into the final week of her senior season, Lobo senior Cassie House is rewriting the program record books.

The Rio Rancho product is in the process of stamping her name in the top 10 in three statistical categories, including kills, attempts and points.

She's already broken into the top 10 all-time in attempts and kills and reached the top 10 in points during the Lobos' two-match homestand to close out October.

Currently, House owns 3,024 career attacks, good for sixth in program history. House has passed All-American and UNM Hall of Honor inductee Jeanna Fairchild (2,892) and will likely end her career ranked sixth.

Amber Smith, whom House has passed in career kills, sits fifth with 3,221 career attacks.

House also has 1326 career points, good for No. 10 all-time. She's just nine points from ninth in program history (Kim Hicks, 1335.0 points), and ranks third among all active Mountain West players.

As noted previously, House is also killing it, currently sitting seventh in program history with 1,135 career kills.

SOURS POWERS

Not to be outdone by her fellow seniors, Devanne Sours has also made some moves into the team record book.

After a prolific weekend that featured 22 kills vs. Fresno State on October 27 and 17 kills vs. San Jose State on October 29, Sours broke into the top 10 in one category while also climbing closer in two others.

The Tatum, N.M., native currently ranks seventh all-time in career attempts, sitting with 2,913 swings. She passed All-American and UNM Hall of Honor inductee Jeanna Fairchild (2,892) in the Lobos' 3-0 Senior Day sweep of San Diego State on November 19.

Fellow senior Cassie House is next ahead in sixth place with 3,024 attempts.

Sours can also make a bid to become to the 13th player in UNM history to reach 1,000 career kills. She currently has 983 kills and needs just 17 in her career finale vs. UNLV to reach 1,000.

DIGGING UP RECORDS

Last year, no one really knew who would start (much less finish) a match at libero for the Lobos. But this season, redshirt junior Ashley Kelsey has shined in the clash jersey.

This season, the Ewa Beach, Hawaii, native has performed exceptionally well, leading the squad with 501 digs. She's registered at least 20 digs eight times this season, including a career high 28 vs. Utah State and eclipsed 1,000 career digs on November 16.

Overall, Kelsey's 501 total digs and her 4.25 digs/set average rank second in the MW. The only player with more total digs or a higher average is preseason all-conference libero

SOURS NAMED MOUNTAIN WEST OFFENSIVE PLAYER OF THE WEEK

Senior outside hitter Devanne Sours was named the Mountain West Volleyball Offensive Player of the Week on October 31.

Sours, out of Tatum, N.M., led the Lobos as they swept earned wins over Fresno State on October 27 and San José State on October 29. New Mexico has won three straight matches and four of its last five.

Sours hit .431 on the week, posting 39 kills (4.88 per set) on 72 attempts with just eight errors. She notched 42.5 points on the week, good for 5.31 per set.

She opened the week by logging a career high-tying 22 kills in New Mexico's come-from-behind 3-2 win over Fresno State, hitting a career high .541 in the process.

Her 22 kills and her .541 hitting percentage are the best by a Lobo this season in a single match. Her 22 kills are also the fifth-most in the MW in a five-set match this season, and are tied for the seventh-highest total by a MW player in any match this season.

She contributed on the Lobos' three final points in a set-four win vs. the Bulldogs, with a kill for UNM's 23rd point, followed by a block assist and then the set-winning kill. She followed that by scoring the first four points for New Mexico in the decisive fifth set vs. Fresno State.

Sours followed up that performance with a 17-kill outing vs. San José State, hitting .314. Her 17 kills are tied for the fifth-highest total by a Lobo this season and the fifth-most by a MW player in any three-set match this season.

She posted six kills in set two against the Spartans, including four during the Lobos' set-opening 8-3 run and then the winner at 25-17. She added five kills in the span of six points for during set three, turning a 15-12 UNM advantage into a 20-15 lead.

It's the first time in her career that she posted back-to-back matches of at least 17 kills.

This is Sours' first career MW player of the week honor and the team's first since Skye Gullatt claimed Defensive Player of the Week honors on November 30, 2015.

PUT A ROOF ON IT

At 6-foot-5, Victoria Spragg provides the Lobos a towering presence at the net. This season, she's proved it, stuffing 114 shots this season.

If she can keep up her average of just under a block per set (0.99), she could possibly threaten for one of the top-10 best single seasons blocking by a Lobo. Kelly Therkelsen and Sue Guinn own the 10th-best mark in a single campaign, each tallying 123 blocks.

Spragg can also claim a top-10 single-season mark in blocks assists, sitting with 99 this year. Samie Weber's 105 block assists in 2004 rank as the 10th-best single-season total in program history.

ABSOLUTELY "FAN" TASTIC

With just a week left in the 2016 season, New Mexico volleyball is ranked just outside the top 30 in the nation in attendance, recording an average of 1,248 fans per match that ranks 35th in the NCAA.

The Lobos saw no fewer than 1,000 fans at nine of their 16 home matches this season, including 4,473 fans at UNM's match vs. No. 1 Nebraska at WisePies Arena.

However, the attendance was also high at Johnson Center, the permanent home of Lobo volleyball.

New Mexico has seen great crowds for its contests vs. Arizona State (1851 fans), New Mexico State (1476), Fairfield (1256) and Colorado State (1202).

An average of 1,248 fans is the team's highest since averaging 1,318 fans in 2014.

21 AND OVER

Last season, the Lobos had just two 20-kill performances all year. So far in 2016, the Lobos have registered seven, with three coming in consecutive games.

Cassie House tallied the first, tying a two-year career high with 21 kills in a 3-1 win vs. UT Arlington as she hit .457 (21-5-35) vs. the Mavericks.

It didn't take for the 6-foot-2 Rio Rancho, N.M., native to repeat, as she posted 21 kills less than 18 hours later vs. Samford.

In the Lobos' very next match, Devanne Sours logged 22 kills in a five-set win over UTEP. That number tied her career high set in one of the team's two 20-kill matches from 2015.

It took a little bit longer, but House added her third of the season as she logged 20 kills at Utah State on October 13. She finished with a career-high 57 attempts on the night as she posted her third 20-kill match of the year.

Sours chipped in another performance of 20-plus kills, logging 22 in a 3-2 win over Fresno State on October 27.

Julia Warren got in on the fun late in the season, shattering her career high in kills via a 21-kill performance at Colorado State on November 5. In her very next game, she broke her career record again, posting 28 kills against Utah State.

DOUBLE-DOUBLE, TOIL AND TROUBLE

The Lobos have a quintet of players putting up double-doubles so far this season, as Julia Warren, Devanne Sours, Carson Heilborn, Lauren Twitty and Lise Rugland have all posted double digits in two statistical categories this season.

Warren nabbed her first double-double of the season vs. Idaho, racking up 12 kills and 12 digs. She added more vs. Stetson (16 kills, 11 digs) and South Florida (10 kills, 17 digs), capping nonconference play with 16 kills and 12 digs vs. UT Arlington.

After suffering a knee injury at the final nonconference tournament at UTA, Warren made her front-row return vs. UNLV on Oct. 11, and logged her fifth double-double of the year at Utah State on Oct. 13 with 13 kills and 12 digs. She added more vs. Air Force (14 kills, 11 digs), Fresno State (10, 14), Wyoming (12, 10), Colorado State (21, 14) and Utah State (28, 14).

Warren now has 22 career double-doubles.

Sours started with for 12 kills and 10 digs against Arizona State, and had 14 kills and 11 digs at South Florida. She added an additional double-double vs. Arkansas, with 10 kills and 11 digs.

Heilborn nabbed her first with a 42-assist, 12-dig performance vs. South Florida (just missing a triple-double with nine kills). She also posted 29 assists and 10 digs vs. Arkansas and 44 assists and a career-high 14 digs vs. Boise State.

Twitty logged her first career double-double against UTEP, tallying 11 kills and 11 digs, while Rugland got into the act late in the season, posting 30 assists and a career-high 11 digs in the Lobos road win at Nevada.

A TRIP DEEP INTO THE RECORD BOOKS

Although the Lobos lost, they posted a number of superb performances in their match against Utah State on November 12.

Julia Warren posted a career-high 28 kills and added 14 digs for her team-high 10th double-double of season. Her 28 kills were a new career best by six kills, and are tied for the 10th-most in a single match in program history, and are the most since Ashley Rhoades posted 31 vs. Boise State in 2011.

Lise Rugland also had a tremendous effort, logging a career 67 assists to set a new career high by 17 assists. Her 67 assists are tied for the 10th-most in a single match in program history, and are the most by a Lobo since Janelle Torres had 68 vs. San Diego State in 1999.

Ashley Kelsey has the final superlative performance, setting a new personal record with 28 digs, which are the most since Warren registered 32 in 2014.

LOBOS PICKED FOURTH IN MW PRESEASON COACHES' POLL

The Lobos were selected to finish fourth in the Mountain West this season, as voted by the league's 11 coaches in the MW Preseason Coaches' Poll released August 16.

Seven-time defending league champion Colorado State narrowly claimed the top spot in the coaches' poll over Boise State, earning six of the 11 first-place votes and 96 total points to Boise State's haul of four first-place votes and 92 total points.

Third-place Wyoming secured the final first-place vote and 80 total points, ahead of the Lobos' 66-point tally. UNLV and San Diego State tied for fifth place with 64 points.

Finishing seventh to 11th respectively were Nevada (47 points), Fresno State (35), Utah State (28), San José State (21) and Air Force (12).

This is the Lobos' ninth top-five selection in the preseason poll under Nelson. Last season, the Lobos were picked fifth.

LOBOS VS. THE POWER FIVE

With nonconference play all but in the books — save a couple of standalone matches — New Mexico has posted two wins over Power Five teams via their four-set victories over Arizona State (August 26) and Arkansas (September 8).

So far this season, the rest of the Mountain West has combined for exactly two.

On the whole, UNM went 2-1 vs. Power Five schools this season, while the rest of the league went 2-17. Colorado State (3-1 over Baylor) and Fresno State (3-0 over Boston College) are the only other schools with wins over Power Five schools.

OH, SO CLOSE

The last time a Lobo registered a triple-double (a performance in which a player accumulates a double-digit number total in three statistical categories), the oldest current player was sophomore in high school.

That performance — Jade Michaelson's 11-kill, 44-assist, 11-dig effort vs. UC Santa Barbara on September 10, 2010 — was almost topped on September 2, 2016 when Carson Heilborn came very close to her own triple-double.

Heilborn finished just one kill short of a triple-double vs. South Florida on Sept. 2, finishing with nine kills, 42 assists and 12 digs. However, all those marks were then career highs for the sophomore setter from Auburn, Washington. She since surpassed her career high in assists, but her marks in kills and digs still stand as career bests.

SIZZLING HOT

Although the Lobos lost the match 3-1, it wasn't without trying. In a match vs., Wyoming on November 3, New Mexico posted a smoking hot .696 attack percentage in the third set, logging 17 kills and just one error against 23 swings.

Mariessa Carrasco (4 kills on 4 attempts) and Devanne Sours (3 kills on 3 attempts) where spotless in the set, with Cassie House (4-0-5), Julia Warren (5-1-9) and Victoria Spragg (1-0-2) also contributing.

The Lobos' .696 attack percentage was the team's best since hitting .824 (14-0-17) vs. UNLV on October 29, 2010.

DARN NEAR POINTLESS

New Mexico's shellacking of Western Carolina to cap the USF Invitational probably had something to do with the Lobos' numbers for opponent hitting percentage.

Against the Catamounts, UNM's defense was on point, holding WCU to a .021 hitting percentage.

Most noteworthy, however, was the Lobos' effort in the third set vs. Western Carolina, as the Catamounts finished with six points in the set.

That number is tied for the fewest points yielded by New Mexico in a set to 25 points, joining a six-point set by Air Force on October 30, 2010.

NEW MEXICO TAKES 3 OF 4 MATCHES AT THE UTA INVITE

New Mexico capped the tournament portion of its nonconference schedule with a trio of victories at the UT Arlington Invitational in Arlington, Texas.

It's the first time since 2012 that the Lobos finished with a winning record at four nonconference tournaments.

UNM opened up the weekend with a 3-1 win over Houston Baptist, riding strong serving and blocking to the victory. The Lobos racked up a season-high 12 service aces and 14 total blocks vs. the Huskies.

New Mexico followed that up with a hard-fought 3-1 win over tournament host UT Arlington as Cassie House, Julia Warren and Victoria Spragg notched career highs in kills, Carson Heilborn recorded a personal best in assists and Ashley Kelsey logged a career high in digs.

The Lobos' run ended in a five-set defeat to Houston Baptist.

UNM rebounded in the weekend finale, however, staving off UTEP in five sets as Devanne Sours and Spragg logged career best in kills.

SOURS AND SPRAGG NAMED TO UT ARLINGTON INVITE ALL-TOURNAMENT TEAM

Senior outside hitter Devanne Sours and redshirt sophomore middle blocker Victoria Spragg both earned a spot on the UT Arlington All-Tournament Team after guiding the Lobos to a 3-1 record in Arlington.

Sours, from Tatum, N.M., finished with 58 kills on the weekend, hitting .253 with three aces, 22 digs and six blocks.

She logged double-digit kills in three of UNM's matches, including 14 errorless kills vs. Samford (hitting a career best .538) and a career high-tying 22 kills vs. UTEP.

Spragg, out of Belen, N.M., finished with 21 total blocks (1.17/set), including a career-high nine total blocks in New Mexico's 3-1 win over Houston Baptist. Her nine total blocks vs. HBU is tied for the sixth-most in the MW this year.

She added 36 kills (2.00/set) on a .435 hitting percentage. Her 13 kills and .522 hitting percentage vs. UTEP were both career highs.

NEW MEXICO FINISHES SECOND AT LOBO CLASSIC

New Mexico captured two victories as it hosted the Lobo Classic at WisePies Arena on Sept. 8-10. The Lobos opened with an exciting 3-1 triumph over Arkansas of the SEC, and followed with an exhibition win over Montreal.

UNM also battled No. 1 Nebraska in front of an announced crowd of 4,473, but fell 3-0.

Against Arkansas, Julia Warren notched her 1,000th career dig and was one of three pinhitters to notch double-digit kills.

Senior outside hitters Cassie House, Devanne Sours and Warren powered New Mexico (6-2) past the Razorbacks (1-6), helping fuel a momentum-shifting 11-1 run in the third set that gave the Lobos a 2-1 lead in the match that they would not relinquish.

UNM followed that up with a solid team win over Montreal, overcoming a bit of a slow start before besting Montreal 27-25, 25-12, 25-14.

No. 1 Nebraska proved to be the toughest challenge. But bolstered by a supportive crowd announced at 4,473 fans — the fourth-best in program history — the Lobos pushed the defending NCAA champion Cornhuskers in the first two sets, eventually yielding in the third set.

WARREN, HOUSE NAMED TO LOBO CLASSIC ALL-TOURNAMENT TEAM

Senior outside hitters Julia Warren and Cassie House were both named to the Lobo Classic All-Tournament team after propelling UNM to a 2-1 record at the event at WisePies Arena.

It's the second such honor for both player after both were named to the UNM Invitational All-Tournament team.

Warren, from Albuquerque, N.M., registered 19 kills and 17 digs in the Lobos' two matches vs. NCAA teams. She notched eight digs in the Lobos' 3-1 win over Arkansas and nine digs in the Lobos' loss to top-ranked Nebraska.

She also posted 10 kills and a career high-tying three aces vs. Arkansas, with 9 kills vs. Nebraska.

House, from Rio Rancho, N.M., also performed well in UNM's matches vs. the Razorbacks and Cornhuskers. She finished with 23 kills on a .203 hitting percentage, adding nine digs and six total blocks.

She eclipsed double-digit kills in both matches to increase her team lead in kills to 94.

A MILE HIGH AND LOUDER THAN

WisePies Arena (aka The Pit) is New Mexico's world-famous basketball arena. On occasion, it's also hosted volleyball events, which was the case when Lobo Volleyball welcomed Arkansas, Montreal and No. 1 Nebraska to The Pit for the Lobo Classic.

And against the top-ranked Cornhuskers, The Pit's magic didn't disappoint, as an announced crowd of 4,473 fans watch New Mexico battle Nebraska.

It's the fourth-largest crowd in program history, and the most in 20 years, when 5,114 fans came out to see the Lobos play TCU in The Pit on October 5, 1996. It's the sixth match in program history with over 4,000 fans.

That number is also the 12th-best in Mountain West history. It's also just the second attendance figure in the top 20 not at Colorado State's Moby Arena or Utah's Smith Fieldhouse.

The other? When 4,112 fans came to watch No. 5 Nebraska play UNM at Johnson Center. (Maybe it's just the fans).

THE LOBOS TAKES TWO OF THREE AT USF INVITATIONAL

New Mexico won a pair of matches at the USF Invitational in Tampa, Florida, topping Stetson and Western Carolina. The Lobos also dropped a four-setter to tournament host South Florida.

The Lobos opened vs. Stetson, rallying for a 3-1 win behind a double-double from Julia Warren (16 kills and 11 digs), 12 kills from Cassie House and a career-high 24 digs from redshirt junior Ashley Kelsey.

However, the Lobos couldn't make it two straight, falling to South Florida 22-25, 25-23, 22-25, 17-25 despite three double-doubles and a career-high 14 kills from Lauren Twitty.

UNM did manage to cap the weekend with a win, parlaying strong performances across the board as it swept Western Carolina in straight sets.

KELSEY MAKES IT 2-FOR-2 ON ALL-TOURNEY TEAMS, HEILBORN EARNS HER FIRST-EVER NOD

Ashley Kelsey and Carson Heilborn were both named to the USF Invitational All-Tournament Team as the pair helped New Mexico to a pair of wins during the event in Tampa, Florida.

Kelsey, a redshirt junior libero from Ewa Beach, Hawaii, made her second all-tournament team of the season as she provided strong defense for the Lobos.

Kelsey registered 57 digs on the weekend, including a career-high 24 digs vs. Stetson. She totaled only 1 reception errors in three matches. She added 10 assists and four aces, including a career-high 3 aces vs. Western Carolina (with all three coming in the third set)

Heilborn, a sophomore setter from Auburn, Washington, continued to pace the Lobos at setter. She led New Mexico with 102 assists (9.27/set) over the weekend, helping UNM to a team hitting percentage of .209. She also hit .538 with 14 kills.

She had a career night vs. South Florida, set career highs in kills (nine), assists (42) and digs (12) and finishing one kill short of New Mexico's first triple-double in six years vs. South Florida.

NEW MEXICO GOES 3-1 AT HOME TOURNAMENT TO OPEN 2016

The Lobos opened their 2016 campaign with a solid showing at the UNM Invitational at Johnson Center in Albuquerque, winning three of their four matches on the weekend.

New Mexico started with an efficient sweep of Abilene Christian as four of its local players tallied at least five kills apiece. Behind a game-high 10 kills by Cassie House, the Lobos won 25-15, 25-19, 25-13.

UNM then turned around a picked up a thrilling four-set win over Arizona State, which was receiving votes in the AVCA's preseason poll. House again led the way with 17 kills, with Julia Warren (14 kills) and Devanne Sours (12) also contributing in the Lobos' 25-23, 21-25, 29-27, 25-20 win.

However, New Mexico's momentum was cut down vs. Idaho, as the Lobos fell in five, 27-25, 22-25, 21-25, 25-14, 11-15. House tallied 16 kills and Warren and Mariessa Carrasco notched 12 each, but numerous errors foiled UNM's bid to go 3-0.

The Lobos did close out the weekend on a high note, posting a dominant sweep of behind freshmen Lauren Twitty and J'Kaylee Clark. UNM won 25-14, 25-17, 25-17 as Twitty notched 10 kills and seven digs and Clark collected five kills and five blocks.

THREE LOBOS NAMED TO UNM INVITE ALL-TOURNAMENT TEAM

Cassie House, Julia Warren and Ashley Kelsey were named to the UNM Invitational All-Tournament Team after guiding the Lobos to a 3-1 performance at the event.

House, a senior from Rio Rancho, N.M., finished a team-high 47 kills on the weekend, including a match-high 17 in New Mexico's 3-1 win over Arizona State. Her 47 kills, which she recorded on a .241 hitting percentage, were good for second-most at the tournament.

Warren, an Albuquerque senior, tallied 37 kills, 42 digs and five aces for New Mexico. Her 37 kills were good for third-best at the tournament, with her 42 digs ranking fourth. Her five aces were tied for the most over the weekend.

Kelsey, UNM's libero, had a strong performance over the four matches, compiling 62 digs and 10 assists and four aces. The redshirt junior from Ewa Beach, Hawaii, led the tournament in digs and posted a career-best 23 receptions vs. Arizona State.

LOBOS VS. TOP-5 TEAMS UNDER HC JEFF NELSON

New Mexico head coach Jeff Nelson has never shied away from playing the best teams in the nation. Every year, it's almost a guarantee the Lobos will be playing a top-ranked team in their pursuit of an NCAA bid.

The Lobos' showdown vs. No. 1 and defending NCAA champs Nebraska on September 10 was the seventh for New Mexico under Nelson, and the team's first against the nation's top-ranked squad since taking on Stanford on September 3, 2000 (a 3-0 Cardinal win).

Out of the six previous matches vs. No. 1 teams under Nelson, Nebraska was the opponent in two, once in Albuquerque at the No. 5 team (2011) and once in Lincoln, Nebraska, as the No. 2 team (2008).

UNM has also played No. 2 Texas at home in 2014, No. 4 Stanford at home in 2010, No. 4 Hawai'i in Honolulu in 2010, and No. 3 Hawai'i in the NCAA Championships in 2009.

New Mexico has yet to beat any of these top foes (in fact, UNM hasn't won a set in these matches).

The last time the Lobos beat a ranked opponent November 11, 2011, when UNM swept No. 13 Colorado State in Albuquerque.

FANTASTIC FROSHIES

After falling in what head coach Jeff Nelson called "a classic letdown" vs. Idaho on August 27, the Lobos needed to bounce back when they played Fairfield later that day.

And behind some of their freshman, they certain did.

With newcomers Lauren Twitty and J'Kaylee Clark inserted in the starting lineup, the Lobos had little trouble with Fairfield, sweeping past the 2015 NCAA Tournament team.

Twitty finished with 10 kills on a .368 hitting percentage and seven digs and Clark added five kills and five blocks.

Twitty and Clark posted strong follow-up performances against South Florida, as Twitty logged a career-high 14 kills and Clark notched four kills on four attempts before injuring her left knee.

NELSON IN SEASON OPENERS

New Mexico has never lost a season opener during head coach Jeff Nelson's 10 seasons in Albuquerque. In fact, the Lobos have lost a total of two sets in the eight season openers Nelson has coached (2007 vs. Florida Atlantic and 2011 vs. South Florida).

The Lobos UNM continued their success to open the 2016 season when it swept Abilene Christian to open the UNM Invitational.

Season-opening tournaments have also been successes during Nelson's tenure. Every year, the Lobos have won at least a majority of their matches.

However, New Mexico has posted at least one loss during its season-opening swing each of the last seven seasons (from 2010-16) after opening the Nelson era with three undefeated opening weekends (from 2007-09).

WE ARE NEW MEXICO

Out of the 16 players on New Mexico's 2016 roster, seven hail from the Land of Enchantment. Three are senior outside hitters that all project to start in Julia Warren (Albuquerque), Devanne Sours (Tatum) and Cassie House (Rio Rancho). Expected starting middle blocker Victoria Spragg (Belen) is also from New Mexico, along with freshman middle Jane Cisar (New Mexico).

Defensive specialists Mercedes Pacheco (Albuquerque) and Maddie Mayfield (Albuquerque) round out the Lobos' contingent from New Mexico.

Overall, those seven native New Mexicans make up just under 44 percent of the Lobos' roster. When compared to the rest of the Mountain West, that's the third highest percentage of players competing at a school in their home state. Fresno State tops the list with nine California players out of 14 (64%), while San Diego State has 11 California players out of 20 (55%).

However, compared to every school in Division I, New Mexico ranks 31st in "home-state" players. When you discount all schools from the fertile recruiting states of Texas and California, UNM jumps all the way up to 13th in "home-state" players.

WHO'S BACK

Although New Mexico loses three veteran starters in Hannah Johnson, Skye Gullatt and Simone Henderson, it does bring back a solid nucleus of players. 12 letterwinners from last year's 17-14 squad return, including three starters.

New Mexico returns all of its outside hitters, including Devanne Sours, Cassie House, Julia Warren and Marisa Doran. Also back are the two primary liberos from 2015 in Ashley Kelsey and Mercedes Pacheco.

Additionally, reserves from 2015 like middle blocker Mariessa Carrasco and setter Carson Heilborn are both primed to move into starting or key roles for the Lobos in 2016. Service specialist Allie Askew also returns along with UNM's projected starting middle blocker Victoria Spragg, who redshirted last year after battling thumb injuries.

The Lobos also add back a couple of stalwarts from their beach volleyball program. Lise Rugland and Maddie Mayfield are both crossing over onto the hardwood for New Mexico and look to play important roles indoors.

WHO'S NEW

Four freshman are making their debut at New Mexico in 2016. AVCA High School All-American Lauren Twitty, an outside hitter from Broadlands, Va., is one freshman looking to make an immediate impact for the Lobos' deep offensive corp.

Middle blockers J'Kaylee Clark (Farmersville, Texas) and Jane Cisar (Albuquerque, N.M.) are also in contention for playing time at the net. Clark was a talented dual-sport athlete in Texas, while Cisar was named First-Team All-State in New Mexico.

The final newcomer is Jessica Leo, a setter from Phoenix. A daughter of one of head coach Jeff Nelson's players when Nelson was an assistant at Arizona State, Leo was selected to the Nike Tournament of Champions All-Tournament Team in 2014.

ON THE 2016 SCHEDULE

The Lobos, who went 17-14 overall and 10-8 in Mountain West play in 2015, have put together a challenging 2016 schedule that provides a number of opportunities to build an NCAA-caliber résumé.

The schedule is highlighted by New Mexico's match vs. Nebraska on September 10, but the Lobos also have matches against 2015 NCAA Tournament teams in Arizona State, Fairfield, Rio Grande Rival New Mexico State and Mountain West foe Colorado State.

Fairfield (MAAC) and NM State (WAC) also won their respective conference championships last year.

NEWS AND NOTES

New Mexico opens its season with the a five-team tournament on August 26-27 at Johnson Center. The Lobos welcome Abilene Christian and Arizona State for a pair of matches Friday, August 26, before turning around and playing Idaho and Fairfield on the following Saturday.

The Lobos then travel to Tampa, Florida, to play South Florida, Western Carolina and Stetson on September 2-3.

Nelson and company return to Albuquerque as they host the Lobo Classic at The Pit. New Mexico will take on Arkansas on September 8 before playing their marquee match vs. Nebraska on September 10.

New Mexico closes out tournament play with a five-team affair in Arlington, Texas, as they travel to UT Arlington to play Houston Baptist and the Mavericks on September 16, and Samford and UTEP on September 17.

The Lobos round out their nonconference schedule with New Mexico State on October 16.

ACES IN THE CLASSROOM

New Mexico shined academically in 2015 as Lobo volleyball collected a number of national- and conference-level awards.

The AVCA announced that 131 Division I teams earned the AVCA Team Academic Award for the 2015-16 season and New Mexico earned a spot on the list. The Lobos finished with a 3.32 cumulative GPA for the 2015-16 academic year.

It's the ninth straight semester — and the 27th semester in the last 28 — that the team posted at least a 3.0 GPA.

Overall, New Mexico has earned the honor eight times, previously being recognized by the AVCA in 2004, 2006, 2007, 2009, 2010, 2011 and 2015.

Five Lobos also made their way onto the Mountain West Scholar-Athlete list, including current student-athlete Devanne Sours, Carson Heilborn and Marisa Doran.

New Mexico also placed a number of players on the Mountain West All-Academic team, with Allie Askew, Mariessa Carrasco, Cassie House, Sours and Doran earning a spot.

LOBOS HOST SUCCESSFUL ALUMNI MATCH IN PRESEASON TUNEUP

New Mexico hosted a successful Alumni Match Saturday, August 20, at Johnson Center, sweeping four straight sets against some former Lobo greats, 25-9, 25-11, 25-19, 25-21.

In the team's lone tuneup before the regular season, the Lobos received some strong performances across the board, which is exactly what head coach Jeff Nelson and his staff wanted to see.

UNM's seniors led the way, pacing the Lobos to a strong .364 hitting percentage (56 kills, 12 errors, 121 attempts).

Offensively, Cassie House registered a game-high 18 kills and Devanne Sours chipped in 10 kills and seven digs, while Julia Warren (five kills, nine digs and three aces) and Marisa Doran (five digs, four block assists) posted strong efforts defensively.

The Lobos' setters also shined as Carson Heilborn parlayed a starting effort into 28 assists (and six errorless kills), and Lise Rugland dished out 12 assists.

Victoria Spragg also had a strong night, notching five kills and a pair of blocks assists.

In fact, every player on the roster made an impact, with all 16 players recording at least a kill or a dig.

SPRAGG, HEILBORN PLAY FOR MOUNTAIN WEST ALL-STAR

Sophomore Carson Heilborn and Victoria Spragg, competed with the 2016 Mountain West All-Star Women's Volleyball Team over the summer.

It's the third straight year the Lobos have been represented on the team. Last season, seniors Julia Warren and Devanne Sours competed with Nelson coaching the team, while in 2014, Warren, Cassie House and assistant coach JJ Glavan made the trip.

The year's team competed in the 2016 European Global Challenge in Pula, Croatia, from July 10-14, and faced off against junior national and club teams from throughout Europe.

The team finished third out of the 13-team field.

THE LOBOS TAKE ON AUSTRALIA

The University of New Mexico volleyball team went Down Under to Australia on Saturday, May 21, for a two-week trip, where it spent 11 days touring and playing a number matches against national teams.

The Lobos, under head coach Jeff Nelson and assistants Pauline Manser and JJ Glavan, played two matches vs. club teams in Queensland before taking on national teams from Australia, New Zealand and Croatia in Melbourne.

UNM fared well in their competitions, sweeping a pair of club teams in the Queensland Club Team and the Queensland Pirate and topping the Australian and New Zealand national teams. Croatia was the only team that edged New Mexico.

The Lobos also learned about Australian culture and toured the country's beaches during their trip, which was organized in part by Manser, a former UNM All-American and a native Australian.

It was New Mexico's first international trip since 2012, when the Lobos headed to Italy and Slovenia, as per NCAA rules that allow collegiate teams to take international trips once every four years.

HONG LEADS A HAND TO NEW MEXICO VOLLEYBALL

After a successful professional career in his native South Korea, Gitaik Hong has made an early impact for the New Mexico volleyball team as a volunteer assistant coach, bringing a different perspective on the game.

Hong gives the program another defensive-minded coach who can assist the players.

His first experience in volleyball came in high school, where a volleyball coach noted his height. He put in a year playing with CheongSuk High School in South Korea, and made his first national team at age 18 in 1980.

While playing for the National Junior Men's Volleyball, Hong was part of the team that won first place in the Asia National Junior Championship.

He then went on to have a standout career as an outside hitter for Sung Kyun Kwan University, taking runner-up honors a number of times at the national championships and playing on the South Korean National University team in 1983 and 1985.

After graduating with his bachelor's degree in public administration, Hong then went on to play for the South Korean National Senior Men's Volleyball Team from 1985-87 and the LG Professional Volleyball Team from 1985-92.

Her was awarded MVP in 1985 and won third place for hitter and second place for blocker from 1984-89.

Hong then went on to coach the LG Professional Volleyball Team from 1995-99 before moving to New York.

Eventually, Hong made it to Albuquerque in 2011, when he started to coach with the Albuquerque Rebels Volleyball Club. Over the next few years, he also coached at Cibola High School, New Mexico Highlands University and with the New Mexico Juniors Volleyball Club.
