PACK BEGINS FINAL ROAD STRETCH

Nevada Baseball (18-28, 8-15 MW) begins the final stretch of Mountain West regular-season contests this weekend, opening the run of seven in a row on the road with a Friday doubleheader at New Mexico.

Friday's second game will be the makeup of March 26's snowed-out series finale in Reno, and in that contest the Wolf Pack will be the home team.

The four-game series continues Saturday with a 5 p.m. PDT first pitch, with Sunday's finale set for 11 a.m. PDT.

All four contests will be streamed on the Mountain West Network. All games will be broadcast locally in Reno on KHIT 94.1 FM/1450 AM, and online through The Varsity Network app, with John Ramey on the call.

ABOUT NEW MEXICO

New Mexico (24-19, 11-12 MW) enters the weekend in fifth place in the Mountain West standings, just outside of the top four spots, and a berth in the Mountain West Championship, on percentage points.

The Lobos defeated UNLV in last weekend's series opener to stretch its winning streak to five, but dropped the next two contests, and the series, to the Rebels.

Dylan Ditzenberger leads the Lobos with a .441 average, while Reed Spennath leads the team in home runs (18) and RBIs (59), and Jake Holland is also into double figures with 12 homers.

On the mound, Riley Egloff and Tristin Lively, Friday's Lobo starters, sport matching 6-3 records and near-identical strikeout totals (54 for Egloff, 55 for Lively).

HEAD COACH JAKE MCKINLEY

Jake McKinley, who has spent the past four seasons with the Milwaukee Brewers and has more than a decade of collegiate coaching experience, was named the head baseball coach at Nevada, July 2.

McKinley takes over a Nevada program which went 29-26 and finished second in the Mountain West standings in 2022, a season after the team reached its first NCAA Regional since 2000.

He has been the Brewers' Vice President of Player Development since 2021, having previously served as the organization's Director of Player Development Initiatives (2019-21) and minor league pitching coordinator (2018-19). He oversaw player development strategies throughout the entire organization, as well as oversight of all minor-league coordinators. The Brewers made the playoffs in each of McKinley's seasons with the club, capturing the National League Central Division pennant in 2018 and 2021, and earning wild card berths from 2019-20.

"I'm so honored to become the next head baseball coach at Nevada. The program offers a unique blend of location, academics, strong athletics tradition, and great facilities," said McKinley. "I'm confident we will carry the legacies of past programs and continually build Wolf Pack Baseball into a nationally-competitive program that thrives on the field, in the classroom, and in the Reno community.

"I would like to thank President Sandoval and Stephanie Rempe for entrusting me with such a special opportunity. While going through the process, it was clear that Nevada is driven by strong leadership and I'm thrilled to be a partner in the growth of Nevada Athletics.

"Reno and the surrounding areas are filled with strong talent, and it will be important to us to keep the best players in Northern Nevada at home as they transition into college baseball."

Prior to joining the Brewers' organization, McKinley spent 13 years in the collegiate ranks, including five seasons as a head coach (2014-17 at Menlo College; 2018 at William Jessup). At Menlo College, McKinley won 131 games over his four seasons at the helm, becoming the program's all-time winningest head coach. The following season, he inherited a William Jessup team that had won just 10 games the previous year, and guided it to a 41-17 campaign, marking, at the time, the largest single-season turnaround in college baseball history.

Student-athletes during McKinley's tenure at Menlo College received honors in multiple categories, among them 2017 GSAC Player of the Year (Jordan Getzelman) and Pitcher of the Year (Jason Alexander). Other accolades include 12 All-Conference honorees, six NAIA All-Americans, four NAIA Academic All-Americans, six Scholar-Athletes, and two Capital One Academic All-District selections.

Four of his Menlo players were selected in the Major League Baseball Draft and McKinley was recognized as MLB Scouts Northern California College Coach of the Year in 2016. Of those four draftees, two were selected in the Top 10 rounds, most notably Lucas Erceg who was selected 46th overall by the Brewers. One player from his 2018 William Jessup team was selected in the draft, while another signed with the Brewers as a free agent.

In four years as a head coach, McKinley saw 13 former players go on to play professional baseball after being drafted or signing as a free agent.

Prior to Menlo College, McKinley spent four years (2010-13) as an assistant coach at Sacramento State, serving as the Director of Baseball Operations, a volunteer assistant coach and recruiting coordinator, helping the Hornets to a 67-55 record over his final two seasons.

McKinley started his coaching career after graduating from Bethany University (Santa Cruz, Calif.) as an assistant for the Bruins. One year later, he left his alma mater and headed to Campbellsville University (Ky.) to take on an assistant coach position from 2007-09. At Campbellsville, he played a major role in leading the team to a 39-12 record and a trip to the 2009 NAIA World Series. McKinley returned home in 2009 for two years at West Valley College, where he served as pitching coach.

McKinley graduated from Bethany College in 2006 with a Bachelor of Arts in speech communications and earned a Master's of Arts in Social Science from Campbellsville in 2008.

As a Bethany player, he was a standout pitcher and first baseman, setting multiple records over his career, including most strikeouts in a career, most strikeouts in a single season, lowest single season ERA, and most innings pitched in both a season and career.

LAST TIME OUT

Nevada enters this weekend's series on a three-game slide, having dropped the final two games of its series against Fresno State before falling, 10-9, at Arizona on a walk-off home run.

In last weekend's action, Kade Morris started the series with Fresno State brightly, going seven-plus inning and not allowing an earned run in the 8-4 Friday night win. But the Wolf Pack struggled to keep the Bulldogs off the board in each of the next two games, surrendering 14 runs in each contest, and dropping the series.

Wednesday night at Arizona, the Wolf Pack hit three home runs, two by JR Freethy, but it was a walk-off home run in the bottom of the ninth inning that gave the Wildcats the victory.

WRAPPING THINGS UP ON THE ROAD

Wednesday night's game at Arizona opened a stretch for the Wolf Pack in which it plays its final eight games of the regular season on the road. The Pack bussed to Albuquerque from Tucson, and, after the four games at New Mexico, will return to Reno before embarking on its final trip for a three-game set at San José State.

FOUR GAMES IN ALBUQUERQUE

This weekend's series at New Mexico is the rare four-game edition, for the Wolf Pack. The teams had their scheduled series finale in Reno snowed out March 26, and that game will be made up in the second game of Friday's doubleheader. For that contest, the Pack will be the designated home team. The last time Nevada played a four-game Mountain West weekend series was April 14-17 against Air Force, a weekend that involved a makeup game.

CLAYTON LEADING THE WAY

Fifth-year catcher Matt Clayton, the only returning starting position player for the Wolf Pack in 2023, continued to lead the way Wednesday in Tucson, homering and driving in three runs in a 3-for-5 performance at the plate.

This season, Clayton leads the Pack in batting (.320), hits (57), and RBIs (33), and is second on the team with nine home runs. This season has featured career game for Clayton March 18 against UNLV, in which he went 4-for-5 with three doubles and five RBIs, then a second four-hit game April 15 against Air Force in which he went 4-for-6 with a double and an RBI. The four hits matched his career high from a pair of 4-for-4 games (against Air Force on April 27, 2019, and against San José State on May 29, 2021) and his five RBIs against UNLV matched his career high, previous set at Grand Canyon, Feb. 19, 2022.

MORRIS THROWING SMOKE

Friday starter Kade Morris is primed for another solid outing in Mountain West play, and he comes into this weekend having struck out at least six batters in each of his past six starts. This stretch included a career-best 11 strikeouts at San Diego State (April 21) and nine strikeouts in last Friday's 8-4 win over Fresno State.

On the year, Morris leads the Pack with 76 strikeouts, and has gone the distance twice this season (one of those complete games was of the seven-inning variety).

FREETHY BRINGS THE POP IN THE DESERT

JR Freethy has emerged as one of the Wolf Pack's key utility players this season, starting 29 of the 33 games in which he's appeared. Wednesday in Arizona, Freethy hit two solo homers, the first two-homer game of his career, while going 3-for-5 at the plate.

On the year, Freethy is batting .270 with four homers and 17 RBIs.

PIERCE POWER

Jesse Pierce has provided pop for the Nevada lineup in his debut season with the Pack, leading the team with 10 home runs (eight) and ranking second in RBIs (32) while batting .308 with eight doubles.

POWER PITCHING

Nevada's pitching staff is third in the Mountain West in strikeouts with 401 through May 10.

The Pack has 12 pitchers in double digits in strikeouts, with Kade Morris leading the way with 76. Jason Doktorczyk is next with 52 strikeouts, Peyton Stumbo is third with 49, and reliever Morgan White tops the bullpen with 44 strikeouts. Kolby Kmetko (24 Ks over 20.2 innings), and Michael Sarhatt (28 Ks over 28.0 innings) also contribute to the Pack's strikeout total.

2023 NEVADA BASEBALL GAME NOTES

GRABBING MOUNTAIN WEST WEEKLY HONORS

Nevada has captured two Mountain West weekly honors so far this season. Second baseman Mason Hirata was named Mountain West Freshman of the Week Feb. 27, after his strong weekend against Cal Baptist. On March 6, starting pitcher Casey Burfield was named Mountain West Pitcher of the Week for his series-clinching outing against Hofstra.

For his weekly honor, Hirata batted .300 with two RBIs and two runs scored over four games, including the Pack taking two-of-three from California Baptist. Hirata was also perfect in the field, handling all 20 chances at second base.

Burfield, meanwhile, was masterful in last Saturday's win over Hofstra. The Sparks native and Reed High graduate went six strong innings, scattering five hits, allowing just one run, and striking out a career-high eight. After giving up an RBI single with one out in the third inning, Burfield retired the next 10 Pride batters, and set down 11 of the last 12 he faced, allowing just one walk, over the rest of his outing.

FREETHY NAMED MOUNTAIN WEST PLAYER OF THE WEEK

For this performance over the weekend, most notably in Saturday's 16-8 comeback win, sophomore infielder JR Freethy was named Mountain West Player of the Week, Monday.

Freethy batted .600 (6-for-10) over the Pack's weekend series victory over Air Force, with a double, a home run, and four RBIs. In Saturday's win, Freethy hit the go-ahead, three-run homer which put the Pack up for good at 10-8.

He went 3-for-5 in that contest, after getting two hits in Friday's opener and going 1-for-2 with two walks in Sunday's rubber game.

MORRIS NAMED TO PRESEASON ALL-MOUNTAIN WEST TEAM

RHP Kade Morris returns for his junior season in 2023, following a breakout campaign a year ago. He earned the first accolade of the new season earlier in February, being named to the 13-player Preseason All-Mountain West Team.

Morris was named to the All-Mountain West Second Team in 2022, wrapping up a strong sophomore campaign in which he made 18 appearances (four starts) and posted a 7-5 record with three saves, and 53 strikeouts over 66.2 innings of work. He began the season as the team's bullpen ace, and moved into the weekend rotation in the season's final month, capping a 5-2 record in Mountain West action with three saves, and 29 strikeouts over 41.1 innings of work.

Over his four starts, all against Mountain West teams, he won three, going at least eight innings in each of the victories, while striking out 13.
