THE PIT - HOME OF THE LOBOS

One of college basketball's most famous and recognizable buildings, The Pit is the home of New Mexico basketball.

The 2023-24 season marks the 57th year that The Pit has served as home for Lobo hoops. The first game was played on Dec. 1, 1966, with New Mexico beating Abilene Christian 62-53. The Lobos celebrated the 50th anniversary in 2016-17 with a game against Abilene Christian on Nov. 30, 2016. UNM won 64-55. A total of 975 games have been played overall. The Lobos have come away the victor in 783 of them – good for a stunning .803 winning percentage.

What is even more impressive about UNM's home court is that over 14 million fans have flocked into this sunken edifice to see their beloved Lobos play basketball. The exact figure stands at 14,506,071. The Lobos have averaged an astounding 14,878 fans the past 56 years.

The Lobos have finished second in the nation in attendance five times, third on four occasions and fourth six times.

The Pit is built in a 37-foot hole on Albuquerque's southeast mesa. First the roof was constructed, then the hole was dug and the Arena built. That all happened in 1966. The unique Behlen roof (338 by 300 feet) was set up by contractors and then 55,000 cubic yards of earth were removed. About 28,000 yards of concrete were poured in the initial construction, which allowed a seating capacity of 14,831. The cost - an incredibly economical $1.4 million.

The Pit underwent a $60 million renovation that has updated the facility. Modern amenities include 40 club suites, 365 club seats, new end zone video boards and ribbon boards, expanded concourses with additional restrooms and concessions stands, new ticket office and Lobo store, digital signage and interactive kiosks and a UNM Letterman's Lounge. For the teams, new locker rooms for both men's and women's squads, a state-of-the-art strength and conditioning center, and new training facilities will allow the Lobos to continue their commitment to excellence.

RICHARD PITINO

HEAD COACH
3rd Season at New Mexico

One of the brightest young coaches in college basketball, Richard Pitino enters his third season leading the New Mexico men's basketball program in 2023-24. In each of his first two seasons in Albuquerque, the Lobos have shown great improvement.

In 2022-23, UNM had its first 20-win season and postseason appearance in nine years. New Mexico's 22 victories marked a nine-win improvement over his first season with the Lobos. That first season in Albuquerque, in 2021-22, saw the Lobos make a seven-win improvement from the previous season. New Mexico's season-ending rank of No. 64 in the NCAA NET in 2022-23 was an improvement of 239 places from the No. 303 ranking on the day Pitino was hired.

Pitino enters his 12th season as a head coach having won nearly 200 games, a NIT Championship and making two NCAA Tournament appearances, all by age 40. That success came after seven years as an assistant coach that included five NCAA appearances, including one Final Four appearance and four trips to the Elite Eight, three conference titles and two 30-win seasons.

The success of the Lobos under Pitino's leadership has been evident in the excitement of the New Mexico fanbase. Over 228,000 fans came to The Pit in 2022-23, ranking UNM 15th nationally in overall attendance, its first top 15 national ranking 2004-05. New Mexico had five home games over 15,000 fans, after not reaching that mark since the 2015-16 season. The crowd of 15,431 that attended the game against San Diego State on February 25 was the largest at The Pit since the 2008-09 season, prior to renovations that decreased the capacity.

The 2022-23 season saw the Lobos get off to a 14-0 start, making them the last undefeated team in the nation. New Mexico finished the season with a 22-12 record, capped by a selection to the NIT, for its first 20-win season and postseason appearance in nine years. UNM earned its first AP ranking since 2014 in December, reaching a high of No. 21 in the poll. The program won its first tournament title in a decade when it took the crown at the Lobo Classic in November. A win at No. 23 and eventual NCAA runner-up San Diego State on Jan. 14 extended Pitino's streak to nine straight seasons with at least one win over an AP ranked opponent. The Aztecs were one of four teams that won their conference regular season title that UNM defeated during the year (Iona, Oral Roberts, Saint Mary's), tied for most in the nation. The 2022-23 Lobos were led by first-team All-Mountain West guards Jamal Mashburn, Jr. (the conference's top scorer) and Jaelen House (third in the nation in steals), along with conference newcomer of the year Morris Udeze (the conference's leader in double-doubles).

Named the 22nd head coach of the Lobos on March 16, 2021, Pitino came to New Mexico with a track record of turning around programs in year one. Leading the 2021-22 Lobos, that trend continued as the program saw a seven-win improvement, from six wins the year before to 13 wins, despite playing half its games against NCAA and NIT competition. The Lobos, who led the Mountain West in scoring, defeated four NCAA Tournament teams during the season, their most wins over teams in the tournament in seven years.

Pitino came to UNM after an eight-year stint at Minnesota, where he went 141-123 with two NCAA Tournament berths and an NIT Championship. His first season at the helm of the Golden Gophers saw Minnesota go 25-13, setting a school record for wins as Minnesota won the second NIT Championship in school history. Along the way, the Golden Gophers knocked off three top-20 teams in No. 8 Wisconsin, No. 9 Ohio State and No. 19 Iowa.

In New York, he led his team to a 67-64 overtime win over Florida State in the NIT Semifinals to break the school record for wins in a season with 24. Minnesota then beat SMU 65-63 for the NIT title.

His first NCAA Tournament berth with the Golden Gophers came in 2016-17, when he led Minnesota to a 24-10 record. The 24 wins marked the second time in his career that his team surpassed the previous school record for wins. That 2016-17 team picked up two victories against ranked opponents topping No. 15 Purdue and No. 24 Maryland.

The Golden Gophers earned a No. 5-seed in the NCAA Tournament in 2016-17, facing Middle Tennessee in the opening round. Pitino was named Big Ten Coach of the Year on both the coaches and media teams as well as by the Associated Press. He also was named the NABC District 7 Coach of the Year and Reggie Lynch was named Big Ten Defensive Player of the Year. That year, Minnesota earned its first national ranking under Pitino, earning a No. 24 ranking during the season.

The 2017-18 season saw Minnesota ranked in the preseason at No. 15, climbing to No. 12 as the team started out 13-3.

His second NCAA Tournament berth came in 2018-19 when Minnesota went 22-14 despite one of the nation's toughest schedules that saw the Golden Gophers play 14 nationally ranked squads during the season.

It was that season that saw the Golden Gophers open at 5-0, including a championship in the Vancouver Showcase in Vancouver, British Columbia, defeating Texas A&M, Santa Clara and Washington. The Golden Gophers picked up five wins over nationally ranked opponents including No. 13 Purdue, No. 19 Iowa, No. 22 Wisconsin (on the road) and No. 24 Nebraska before defeating No. 11 Purdue again in the quarterfinals of the Big Ten Tournament.

Minnesota was selected as an at-large into the 2019 NCAA Tournament, earning a 10-seed. The Golden Gophers defeated Pitino's former school, Louisville, in the First Round before falling to No. 5 Michigan State.

The 2019-20 season was highlighted by the play of Daniel Oturu, who earned Third Team All-America honors from CBS and The Sporting News, becoming the first Golden Gopher named All-America since Kris Humphries was named Honorable Mention in 2004. Oturu was also the first to be as high as third team since Quincy Lewis was a third team pick in 1999.

In 2020-21, Minnesota climbed up to No. 16 in the rankings and picked up five more nationally ranked wins, including a pair in the top 10. The team was ranked for five weeks over the course of the season and listed in the polls for nine consecutive weeks.

Overall at Minnesota, Pitino picked up 19 wins over ranked opponents, including five top-10 opponents. Daniel Oturu in 2020 was selected in the second round of the NBA Draft by Minnesota, becoming the first Golden Gopher to be drafted into the NBA in 16 years. Additionally, five players were drafted into the NBA G League.

Under Pitino, Minnesota players were awarded All-Big Ten honors 12 times including Nate Mason, who was named First Team All-Big Ten by the coaches and media in 2016-17. Twice Pitino had players named to the All-Big Ten Freshman Team and twice players were named to the All-Big Ten Defensive Team.

He has seen his players named Big Ten Player of the Week 16 times and Big Ten Freshman of the Week nine times. Academically, 14 student-athletes under Pitino earned Academic All-Big Ten honors over his first seven seasons, including a school-record five in 2019-20. That squad also turned in the highest GPA in Minnesota men's basketball program history.

Pitino was named Minnesota's head coach in March of 2013 after one season as the head coach at Florida International.

With the Panthers, he took over a program that had not turned in a winning season in 12 years and immediately turned them around. Just one year after a dismal 8-21 campaign, Pitino led FIU to an 18-14 record and a third-place finish in the Sun Belt's East Division. The Panthers took out top-seed Middle Tennessee in the semifinals and just missed their first Sun Belt title, as well as their second trip to the big dance, losing 65-63 to Western Kentucky in the championship game.

Pitino's success isn't just as a head coach, as he has been a part of several deep NCAA Tournament runs as an assistant and as an associate head coach. He spent two separate stints at Louisville coaching alongside his Hall of Fame father Rick Pitino. In 2011-12 as associate head coach, the Cardinals went 30-10, advancing all the way to the Final Four. That team along the way scored a 59-56 win in Portland over New Mexico in the NCAA Tournament, paving the way for the Cardinals to make it to the Sweet 16. From there, Louisville defeated No. 5 Michigan State and No. 25 Florida before losing in the Final Four to No. 1 Kentucky.

That Louisville team was ranked for every week of the season, save one, and finished the year ranked No. 4 overall.

His first stint at Louisville was from 2007-09, and both seasons ended in Elite Eight runs. In 2007-08, the Cardinals went 27-9, defeating Boise State, Oklahoma and Tennessee to advance to the Elite Eight. There, the No. 3 seeded Cardinals fell to top-seeded North Carolina. The following season saw Louisville ascend to No. 1 in the national polls, eventually going 31-6 overall. Winners of the Big East regular season title, Louisville also won the Big East Tournament title, defeating Syracuse in the title match. That moved the Cardinals to No. 1 in both polls. Louisville was the No. 1 overall seed in the NCAA Tournament, and the team defeated Morehead State, Siena and Arizona before losing to second-seeded Michigan State in an Elite Eight matchup.

ISAAC CHEW

ASSISTANT COACH
3rd Season at New Mexico

Isaac Chew, who has experience coaching in four different power conferences, enters his third season as an assistant coach with the Lobos in 2023-24. Chew has served as an assistant coach at the NCAA Division I level since 2007 (16 years) and has guided six different programs to the postseason.

Prior to arriving at New Mexico, Chew spent time with Murray State (2007-11), Missouri (2011-12), Marquette (2012-14), Virginia Tech (2014-16), Texas A&M (2016-19) and Grand Canyon (2019-21).

Over his career, Chew has coached several NBA draft selections including Robert Williams III (2018), Isaiah Canaan (2013), Marcus Denmon (2012) and Kim English (2012). He has also helped lead teams to four NCAA Tournament appearances, including a trip to the Elite Eight in 2013 and Sweet 16 in 2018.

The 2022-23 season saw the Lobos get off to a 14-0 start, making them the last undefeated team in the nation. New Mexico finished the season with a 22-12 record, capped by a selection to the NIT, for its first 20-win season and postseason appearance in nine years. UNM earned its first AP ranking since 2014 in December, reaching a high of No. 21 in the poll. The program won its first tournament title in a decade when it took the crown at the Lobo Classic in November. During the season, UNM defeated four teams that won their conference regular season title (Iona, Oral Roberts, Saint Mary's, San Diego State), tied for most in the nation. The 2022-23 Lobos were led by first-team All-Mountain West guards Jamal Mashburn, Jr. (the conference's top scorer) and Jaelen House (third in the nation in steals), along with conference newcomer of the year Morris Udeze (the conference's leader in double-doubles).

In his first season at UNM in 2021-22, he helped the Lobos see a seven-win improvement, from six wins the year before to 13 wins, despite playing half its games against NCAA and NIT competition. The Lobos, who led the Mountain West in scoring, defeated four NCAA Tournament teams during the season, their most wins over teams in the tournament in seven years. A win over No. 22 Wyoming was the Lobos' first ranked victory in three years.

Chew arrived at UNM after spending two years at Grand Canyon. His tenure with the Lopes followed three seasons at Texas A&M, where the Aggies reached the NCAA Sweet 16 in 2018, led by first-round NBA selection Robert Williams III. Texas A&M was a No. 7 seed that season after a 22-win campaign that was capped with tournament wins over No. 10-seed Providence and No. 2 North Carolina to reach the second week.

While at Virginia Tech for two seasons, Chew helped orchestrate a massive turnaround that took the Hokies from back-to-back, two-win seasons in ACC play to a 10-8 conference mark and an NIT bid in 2015-16.

Chew was on the staff of four consecutive conference championship teams from 2010-13 as he helped lead Murray State to back-to-back Ohio Valley Conference championships, Missouri to a Big 12 Tournament championship and Marquette to a Big East Conference title.

During his time at Murray State, Chew not only helped the Racers to a pair of league titles, but also to a 31-5 record in 2009-10 en route to its 2010 NCAA appearance. The 13-seeded Racers knocked off No. 4-seed Vanderbilt to advance to the second round of the 2010 NCAA Tournament. Overall during his four seasons at Murray State, the Racers accumulated a 91-39 record and a 57-17 conference record. Chew also helped Murray State guard Isaiah Canaan develop into a 2013 NBA Draft pick, which led to a six-year NBA career.

While at Missouri, Chew helped lead the Tigers to a 30-5 record in 2011-12 on the way to a Big 12 Tournament title and a trip to the NCAA Tournament. He was on the staff that helped develop Phil Pressey (three NBA seasons), Marcus Denmon (2012 NBA Draft pick) and Kim English (2012 NBA Draft pick).

In Chew's two seasons at Marquette, prior to his time at following Buzz Williams to Virginia Tech, he helped lead the Golden Eagles to the 2012-13 Big East Regular-Season Co-Championship and a trip to the Elite Eight. As the No. 3 seed, Marquette defeated 14-seed Davidson, 6-seed Butler and 2-seed Miami. In addition, he helped to assemble one of the top-15 recruiting classes in the nation in 2013. Among the players he coached at Marquette was Juan Toscano-Anderson, a member of the 2022 NBA Champion Golden State Warriors.

Chew, a native of Chicago, Ill., earned his undergraduate degree at Avila University in Kansas City. He went on to earn his master's degree in business administration from Baker University.

TARVISH FELTON

ASSISTANT COACH
2nd Season at New Mexico

Tarvish Felton joined the Lobos as an assistant coach in August of 2022. He came to UNM after spending the previous four seasons at Fresno State, the last two as associate head coach.

Felton brought over 20 years of coaching experience to New Mexico, including a decade in the Mountain West. Prior to his tenure at Fresno State, he spent 10 seasons as an assistant coach at Utah State as the Aggies transitioned from the WAC to the Mountain West. He also spent time on the staffs of Southern Utah, Sacramento State, Cal State Los Angeles, along with four years as the first ever head coach at Texas A&M-International.

In his first season in Albuquerque, Felton helped the 2022-23 Lobos get off to a 14-0 start, making them the last undefeated team in the nation. New Mexico finished the season with a 22-12 record, capped by a selection to the NIT, for its first 20-win season and postseason appearance in nine years. UNM earned its first AP ranking since 2014 in December, reaching a high of No. 21 in the poll. The program won its first tournament title in a decade when it took the crown at the Lobo Classic in November. During the season, UNM defeated four teams that won their conference regular season title (Iona, Oral Roberts, Saint Mary's, San Diego State), tied for most in the nation. The 2022-23 Lobos were led by first-team All-Mountain West guards Jamal Mashburn, Jr. (the conference's top scorer) and Jaelen House (third in the nation in steals), along with conference newcomer of the year Morris Udeze (the conference's leader in double-doubles).

Over his four seasons with the Bulldogs, Felton helped Fresno State post a pair of 20-win seasons and win The Basketball Classic last year. Among the players he helped develop during that time was Orlando Robinson, a two-time All-Mountain West selection who signed with the Miami Heat. In 2021-22, Robinson became just the second player in NCAA history to record 700 points, 300 rebounds and 100 assists in a season.

In a decade as an assistant coach at Utah State from 2008-18, working on the staffs of Stew Morrill and Tim Duryea, Felton helped the Aggies post five 20-win seasons, including two 30-win seasons. Utah State won the WAC in 2009 and 2011 and made three straight NCAA appearances from 2009-11. He had another one-year stint as an assistant at Southern Utah before moving on to Sacramento State for the 2007-08 season. In those first nine seasons of his career, he coached 11 players who earned all-conference honors before moving on to USU.

A 1999 graduate of Southern Utah with a bachelor's degree in physical education, Felton was a two-time IHC Health Plans state player of the year as a junior and senior. At the conclusion of the 1999 season, he received all-Mid-Continent Conference honors and was named Southern Utah's Male Athlete of the Year, Men's Basketball Academic Athlete of the Year and team MVP. DAVE PILIPOVICH

SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE HEAD COACH
3rd Season at New Mexico

Dave Pilipovich returned to the program as Special Assistant to the Head Coach in May of 2022. Pilipovich, who served in the same role for the Lobos in 2020-21, came back to UNM after spending one season an assistant coach with the Austin Spurs of the NBA G-League.

Pilipovich has over 35 years of coaching experience, including over a decade in the Mountain West. He was the head coach at Air Force for eight seasons (2012-20), and served as an assistant coach at Air Force, Michigan, Eastern Michigan, Robert Morris, Georgia State and Florida Atlantic during his career.

As Pilipovich returned to New Mexico in 2022-23, the Lobos got off to a 14-0 start, making them the last undefeated team in the nation. New Mexico finished the season with a 22-12 record, capped by a selection to the NIT, for its first 20-win season and postseason appearance in nine years. UNM earned its first AP ranking since 2014 in December, reaching a high of No. 21 in the poll. The program won its first tournament title in a decade when it took the crown at the Lobo Classic in November. During the season, UNM defeated four teams that won their conference regular season title (Iona, Oral Roberts, Saint Mary's, San Diego State), tied for most in the nation. The 2022-23 Lobos were led by first-team All-Mountain West guards Jamal Mashburn, Jr. (the conference's top scorer) and Jaelen House (third in the nation in steals), along with conference newcomer of the year Morris Udeze (the conference's leader in double-doubles).

Prior to his first season with the Lobos in 2020-21, Pilipovich coached at Air Force for 13 seasons, the last eight as head coach. From 2012-20, he amassed a 110-151 record at the academy and led the program to more six-win conference seasons (five) than any other coach in Falcon history. During his time as Air Force head coach, the Falcons recorded three of the four ranked victories in program history, including a win over No. 12 New Mexico in the 2012-13 regular season finale at Clune Arena, the program's only win over a top-12 opponent.

Before his tenure at Air Force, Pilipovich spent two years at Michigan. In his first season with the Wolverines, he served as the administrative assistant to head coach Tommy Amaker and helped the team reach the NIT final. He then served as an assistant coach during the 2006-07 season as Michigan again reached the NIT.

Prior to his time at Michigan, he spent five years as an assistant coach at Eastern Michigan (2000-05), four years as an assistant at Robert Morris (1996-2000), two years as an assistant at Georgia State (1994-96) and two years as an assistant coach at Florida Atlantic (1989-91), before being named associate head coach the following four years (1991-94). Pilipovich began his coaching career serving as a graduate assistant at California University (Pa.) for two years (1986-88).

The 2022-23 season saw the Lobos get off to a 14-0 start, making them the last undefeated team in the nation. New Mexico finished the season with a 22-12 record, capped by a selection to the NIT, for its first 20-win season and postseason appearance in nine years. UNM earned its first AP ranking since 2014 in December, reaching a high of No. 21 in the poll. The program won its first tournament title in a decade when it took the crown at the Lobo Classic in November. During the season, UNM defeated four teams that won their conference regular season title (Iona, Oral Roberts, Saint Mary's, San Diego State), tied for most in the nation. The 2022-23 Lobos were led by first-team All-Mountain West guards Jamal Mashburn, Jr. (the conference's top scorer) and Jaelen House (third in the nation in steals), along with conference newcomer of the year Morris Udeze (the conference's leader in double-doubles).

In his first season in Albuquerque in 2021-22, he helped the Lobos see a seven-win improvement, from six wins the year before to 13 wins, despite playing half its games against NCAA and NIT competition. The Lobos, who led the Mountain West in scoring, defeated four NCAA Tournament teams during the season, their most wins over teams in the tournament in seven years. A win over No. 22 Wyoming was the Lobos' first ranked victory in three years.

In 2020-21 at Utah Valley, Flores helped the Wolverines to a conference championship and developed Fardaws Aimaq, who went on to receive both conference and defensive player of the year honors. Flores also developed three other all-conference players that season.

Flores has experience that stretches from the Midwest all the way to the Far East. In 2013, Tim Grover selected him to lead Attack Athletics in Shanghai, China, where he trained gold medal-winning hurdler Liu Xiang. He helped create individualized training plans for Shanghai's national volleyball team members for the 2014 World Cup, the Shanghai Octopus and the Shanghai Golden Age professional volleyball teams. The Golden Age professional volleyball team won two international medals, including a National Championship on the men's team and a National Runner-Up performance on the women's team.

In 2013, Flores was the senior assistant strength coach at Catalyst Sports Medicine in Wisconsin. He led multiple high school athletes to successful seasons and Division I scholarships. At the same time, he was assisting the University of Minnesota with their basketball, hockey, volleyball, wrestling, and softball teams.

Flores' resume also includes stops at Arizona State and Portland State, where he worked with their football, basketball, wrestling, and tennis programs. Flores served in The United States Marine Corps from 2001-2006. From 2005-2006, Flores prepared his squad for their deployment to Iraq, calling it one of the most influential experiences of his life.

Flores earned his bachelor's degree in exercise and wellness from Arizona State in 2012. He also earned a master's degree in exercise science from California University of Pennsylvania in the spring of 2018. He is certified through the National Strength and Conditioning Association (CSCS), National Academy of Sports Medicine (PES), USA Weightlifting (Level 1), and is also a certified speed specialist through the NASE (CSS-II).

BOB KING

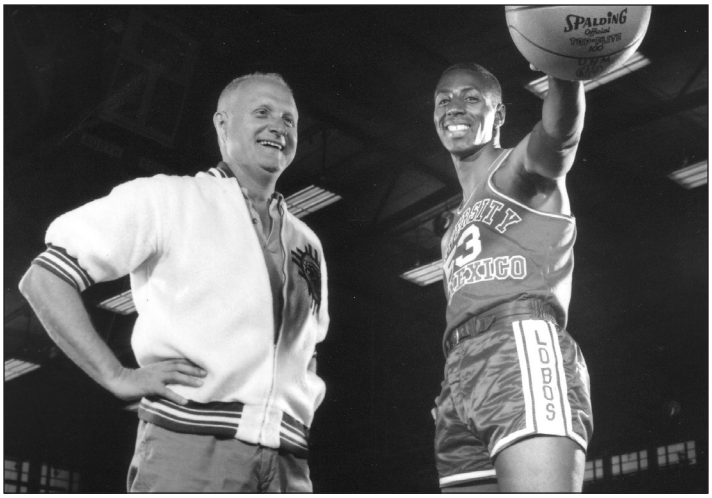

The reason The Pit was built in 1966 and the reason Lobo basketball has its unbelievable following was because of this man...from 1900-62, the Lobos posted a record of 418-485 with zero postseason appearances...since that time, New Mexico has won more than 63 percent of its games and qualified for postseason play 26 times...in the eight years prior to Bob King's arrival, the Lobos never won more than seven games in a season..."Lobomania" was set in motion by King and his early teams that played in Johnson Gym...King's success created the need for a bigger arena, which came to life for the first time on Dec. 1, 1966...26 years later in 1992, the floor was appropriately named Bob King Court for the man who got it all started in New Mexico.

On October 2, 1992, University of New Mexico President Richard E. Peck announced that the basketball court at University Arena would be named in honor of Bob King, former UNM basketball coach. King coached the UNM men's basketball team to national prominence in the 1960's.

"We wanted to recognize Coach King's contributions to Lobo basketball," Peck said. "UNM's Memorial Committee recommended that we honor Coach King's accomplishments, and the naming of the court has allowed us to do so without diminishing the recognition which has already been paid to his colleagues, including former Director of Athletics Pete McDavid. The Bob King Court and the Pete McDavid Lounge are a tribute to two of the men who are responsible for the success of the facility we fondly call The Pit."

The Bob King Court was dedicated at formal ceremonies on Dec. 1, 1992. King passed away on Dec. 10, 2004, at the age of 81.

A TRIBUTE TO TOBY ROYBAL

by J.D. Kailer
Albuquerque - Jan. 11, 1956

Toby Roybal, a slick 6-foot-2 senior guard from Santa Fe, scored a school-record 45 points tonight to lead the New Mexico Lobos to a stunning 92-79 Skyline Conference basketball win over Montana before 2,500 wild fans at Carlisle Gym. Roybal's record performance followed the 37 points he scored against Wyoming in the 80-71 victory at Laramie four nights earlier. Ironically, Roybal committed his final personal foul with 2:30 remaining. When Coach Bill Stockton walked out on the floor to shake Roybal's hand, the crowd gave the guard a two-minute standing ovation. Roybal's record totals: 13 FGs, 19 of 25 FTs, 45 points, 38 minutes.

Albuquerque - Jan. 12, 1956 - Picking up where he left off 24 hours earlier, Roybal scored 30 points to lead New Mexico to an easy 73-50 win over Montana. The Santa Fe product had scored a record 45 points the previous night. Grizzlies head coach Frosty Cox put two, sometimes three men, on the all-Skyline guard. Roybal answered the challenge by either passing to wide-open teammates or drawing a foul. His 30 points came on seven field goals and 16 of 21 free throws. In a five-day span against Wyoming and Montana, Roybal scored 110 points in three games.

Albuquerque - March 21, 1984 - The late-Toby Roybal was inducted into the Albuquerque Sports Hall of Fame before an overflow crowd at the Hilton Hotel. Not only was the stellar athlete the 23rd H.O.F. inductee, but he was also the first UNM basketball player to have his jersey - No. 44 - retired. Previously, No. 44 had been worn by Lobo standouts Ira Harge, Mel Daniels and Rich Pokorski. UNM athletics director John Bridgers presented the jersey to Roybal's widow, Dixie, at the banquet following the induction. Roybal died in 1962 at the age of 30 - a victim of a fast-spreading cancer.

Roybal was inducted into the University of New Mexico Athletic Hall of Honor in 1995.

THEY REMEMBERED TOBY ROYBAL...

"Toby was ungodly even as a freshman; one of the best to ever play at UNM. A great leaper who could hit on any shot from 5-6 feet. He was quick. It took three guys to contain him. He could have played on any team UNM ever had...'60s, '70s, '80s or '90s." — Larry Tuttle, UNM 1950-52.

"Forty-seven years ago, Toby Roybal was the best home-grown athlete New Mexico has ever produced. Things haven't changed. He is the greatest player in New Mexico's basketball history, long before the 3-pointer and bonus free throws." — Jim Hulsman, former Albuquerque High head basketball coach.

"I recruited Toby out of Santa Fe High. He had tremendous physical talents and he improved on them after two years in service. Despite the de-emphasis of sports at UNM in the early-1950s, Toby played a major role in keeping us competitive." — Woody Clements, UNM head basketball coach, 1944-51, 1952-55.

"He was something special. A player's player who could do everything. A starter on any Lobo team...then and now. He played in an era of no shot clock, no 3-pointer, no bonus free throw. On a 1 to 10, he's a 10, easily ranking with the likes of Michael Cooper." — Dave Syme, UNM 1955-57.

"Easy-going, could jump like crazy, lead the fast break and dead-eye on shots around the key. He would be in the NBA today with all of their opportunities. He died too soon." — Gene Golden, UNM 1953-55.

"We grew up together in Santa Fe and were recruited by Coach Woody Clements. Toby was a 'natural' at basketball, track, football and baseball. His moves, like floating through the air on a jumper, were his own; no TV to watch and to copy a Michael Jordan. Toby learned from scratch and hours of practice." — Ray Esquibel, UNM 1953-55.

"He's as talented a player as any we have faced since I've been coaching at Utah." — legendary coach Jack Gardner.

NATIONAL AWARDS

1994 - GREG BROWN - FRANCES POMEROY NAISMITH AWARD

Nation's Top Player Under 6-Feet Tall

Remember, you're too small to play basketball, especially NCAA Division I basketball. Bunk. That's essentially what Greg Brown told those people who thought he was not big enough to play a game controlled by giants.

Greg Brown, 5-foot-7 Greg Brown, proved to all the naysayers that there is room for the little man in the game of basketball. Without Brown, New Mexico doesn't come close to winning a WAC title in 1994, the school's first in 16 years.

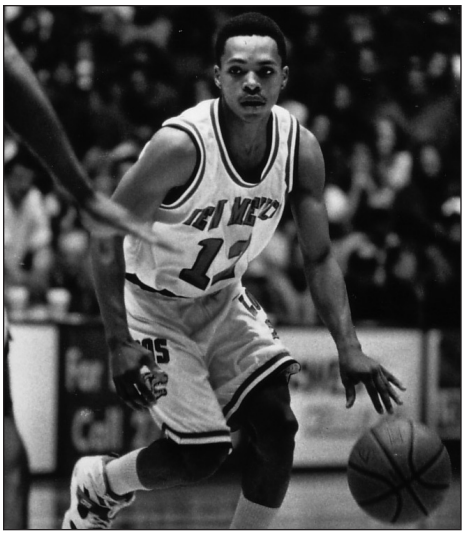

Praise rang from all over the country as Brown, a 1990 graduate of Albuquerque High School, progressed through his senior year. Four times he scored 30 or more. Brown tossed in 42 -- in 34 minutes -- against Texas-El Paso. He poured in 34 against New Mexico State. However, he saved his biggest games for BYU.

Brown had 35 in the Lobos' win in Albuquerque. In the title-clinching victory at Provo, the next-to-last-game of the season, Brown was awesome. He had 34 with 28 of those coming in the second half and overtime of the 84-82 triumph. Brown scored 20 of the Lobos' final 28 points, including 12 straight at one point. His three free throws -- after drawing a 3-point foul with six seconds left in regulation -- sent the game into overtime.

For all his efforts, Brown was named Western Athletic Conference and District 7 Player of the Year. He garnered honorable mention All-America recognition from the United States Basketball Writers and The Sporting News.

The crowning moment of Brown's collegiate career came when he was honored with the Frances Pomeroy Naismith Award, given to the nation's top senior in college basketball under 6-feet.

HALL OF FAME

MEL DANIELS
CLASS OF 2012

Mel Daniels became the first Lobo inducted into the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame in 2012. After his collegiate career at UNM, Daniels played eight seasons in the ABA. He is the ABA's all-time leader in rebounds and ranks fourth in scoring, but his greatest contributions to Hoosier Hysteria are the three ABA championships he won with the Indiana Pacers. In two of the three title runs, Daniels was the postseason leader in total rebounds. The seven-time ABA All Star averaged a double-double for his career and was also named to the All-ABA First Team four times in a row starting in 1968. After concluding his playing career with a season in the NBA with the New York Nets, he began a coaching career at Indiana State, where he coached Larry Bird as the Sycamores reached the1979 NCAA Championship Game. He later served as an assistant coach with the Indiana Pacers before moving into the NBA team's front office, serving as the Pacers' Director of Player Personnel.
