NEW MEXICO NOTES

Winners of five of their last six and four in a row at The Pit - Powered by Nusenenda, New Mexico Volleyball remains home for more Mountain West action this weekend when the Lobos (7-11, 5-3 MW) host San Jose State (7-12, 2-6 MW) Friday and Sunday at 7 p.m. MT.

New Mexico is tied for second place in the league standings heading into the fifth week of conference play after splitting last weekend's matches with UTEP. The Lobos will need to stay in the Top Four in the Mountain West over the next 10 conference matches to earn their first trip to the conference tournament since 2023.

This weekend's matches also kick off a four-match homestand for the Lobos, which are one of just two teams still unbeaten at home in conference play along with Hawai'i (16-3, 8-0 MW). They'll look to snap a three-match losing streak to SJSU and earn their first home win over the Spartans since 2019.

Both matchups with the Spartans will be available to stream via MW+, with live stats for both matches available via GoLobos.com/VBStats. Follow @UNMLoboVB on IG, X and Facebook for match updates and coverage, promotional information, behind-the-scenes content and more.

ALL-TIME SERIES

THE TURNAROUND CONTINUES

UNM has followed a seven-match losing streak by winning five of its last six matches and extending its home winning streak to four. After sweeping two-match series against Nevada and UC Davis, the Lobos bounced back from a straight-set loss at UTEP with a four-set victory over the Miners at the Johnson Center. 5 THINGS TO KNOW

The Lobos have won five of their last six -- and four in a row at home -- after snapping a seven-match losing streak three weeks ago.

UNM is on the hunt for its first win over the Spartans since 2023 and its first home win over them since 2019.

With last week's win over UTEP, UNM is one of just two teams that haven't lost at home in MW play with a 9-2 set record there.

Fifth-year libero Camila Canedo has 122 digs in 29 sets (4.21) in conference matches, trailing only Hawai'i's Victoria Leyva (4.30).

UNM sits tied for second in the conference standings and looks poised to reach their first conference tournament since 2023.

LAST WEEKEND RECAP

New Mexico split its home-and-home series with UTEP last week, bouncing back from Thursday's straight-set loss in El Paso (22-25, 14-25, 22-25) with a four-set victory Saturday at the Johnson Center (23-25, 25-22, 25-21, 25-19). The Lobos have won five of their last six matches, improving to 7-11 overall and 5-3 in Mountain West play while moving to 4-1 at home.

After being held to 27 kills on .065 hitting Thursday, UNM doubled its kill output Saturday and hit .268, including a .500 clip with 17 kills and just one error in the second set. Mina Stanojevic led the bounceback effort with 15 kills, 10 digs and two aces, while Addison France added 11 kills on .290 hitting. Madeleine Miller finished with 39 assists, 12 digs and eight kills on .538 hitting, and Seenane Brewer contributed nine kills and 11 digs.

Stanojevic paced the Lobos across the two matches with 22 kills (3.14 per set), 21 digs and two aces. France totaled 20 kills on .250 hitting to go with 16 digs and a team-high four blocks, while Miller recorded double-doubles in both matches, combining for 60 assists and 22 digs. Camila Canedo anchored the back row with 12 digs in each match, averaging 3.43 per set over the series.

REAGAN HEATING UP

Reagan Miller has emerged as a focal point of the Lobos' offense, averaging 2.49 kills per set with 142 kills in 57 sets across 16 matches beginning with her breakthrough against Northern Colorado on Sept. 4. Miller delivered a career-high 15 kills without an error on 22 swings (.682) in that win and has reached double figures six more times, matching her career high with 15 kills on .650 hitting against New Mexico State on Sept. 7.

Miller contributed seven kills on .400 hitting with two blocks in Saturday's four-set win over UTEP. She previously totaled 14 kills and seven blocks across the Lobos' two road wins over UC Davis, including nine kills on .375 hitting with three blocks in the four-set victory Oct. 10. That followed a .563 hitting performance across two wins over Nevada, when she totaled 20 kills with just two errors on 32 swings.

Miller has 146 kills in 60 sets this season, surpassing her 122 kills from last season. Her 2.43 kills per set is up from 1.36 a year ago, and she ranks fourth in the Mountain West in hitting percentage (.340). She also leads UNM with 43 total blocks, including 16 solo stops, and averages 2.93 points per set. She set career highs with 31 attacks and five solo blocks against Fresno State on Sept. 18, finishing with 13 kills and six total blocks.

MADS KNOCKING ON THE DOOR OF HISTORY

Madeleine Miller ranks No. 10 in UNM history with 2,592 career assists, needing 43 more to pass Sarah Kwasiogroch (2,634, 2005–08) for No. 9 on the all-time list. Miller has 587 assists in 66 sets this season after producing a career-high 984 last year and 854 as a sophomore. She ranked among the Mountain West's top 10 in assists per set in each of those seasons.

matches against UTEP, totaling 60 assists and 22 digs across seven sets. She finished with 21 assists and 10 digs Thursday before delivering 39 assists and 12 digs in Saturday's four-set win. She also matched her career high with eight kills on .538 hitting in the victory, adding two blocks and an ace. Miller has six matches with at least 40 assists this season, highlighted by a season-high 50 in the five-set win at UC Davis on Oct. 8.

Miller leads active Mountain West players in career assists and ranks fourth in career assists per set (7.38). This season, she ranks third in the conference at 8.89 assists per set and leads UNM with 18 service aces, averaging 0.27 per set. She has also recorded four double-doubles and totaled 124 digs.

With 408 more assists, Miller would become the eighth player in program history to reach 3,000. Reaching that milestone this season would require 995 assists, 11 more than her career-best season total.

MILA DIGGIN' IT

After recording 485 digs in her first season — the seventh-most in a single season in UNM history — Brazilian fifth-year libero Camila Canedo continues to anchor the Lobos' back row. An All-Mountain West honorable mention selection in 2025, she added 23 aces and 109 assists while leading the conference in total digs and digs per set (4.33).

Through 18 matches in 2026, Canedo leads the Lobos with 256 digs and ranks second in the Mountain West at 3.88 digs per set. She has reached double figures in digs 14 times, including four matches with at least 20: a season-high 27 at UC Davis on Oct. 8, 21 against Northern Colorado on Sept. 4 and 20 each against Baylor on Sept. 12 and at Hawai'i on Sept. 25.

Canedo recorded 12 digs in each match against UTEP, totaling 24 digs, 10 assists and an ace across the two contests. She has reached double figures in five consecutive matches, a stretch that included 45 digs across the two road wins over UC Davis. She averaged 5.00 digs per set against the Aggies, following her 27-dig performance with 18 in the four-set victory.

Canedo has 61 assists this season and is tied for second on the team with 17 service aces, averaging 0.26 per set. She has accumulated 741 digs in her two seasons at UNM.

HOSFELD AT THE HELM

In his first head coaching job since he transformed Baylor into an NCAA Tournament team from 1996-2004, Brian Hosfeld brings more than three decades of success across the collegiate, international and club levels to the Land of Enchantment. Most recently, he helped Wichita State compile an 81-46 record over four seasons as the Shockers' associate head coach, highlighted by an AAC Tournament championship and NCAA Tournament appearance in 2024. Hosfeld previously became Baylor's winningest head coach with 129 victories, leading the Bears to their first two NCAA Tournament appearances in program history. His championship pedigree also includes a 1993 national title as an assistant at Long Beach State and three consecutive Big 12 championships as an assistant at Texas (2004-10). The Longhorns reached three straight NCAA Final Fours with Hosfeld on staff, including the 2009 national championship match, while posting a 186-33 record in that span. He also touts extensive USA Volleyball experience, including a silver medal at the World University Games.

MEET THE STAFF

Hosfeld has no shortage of experience on his first staff at UNM, with over 80 years of coaching and playing experience between Associate Head Coaches Jeremiah "Jeri" Estes and Patrick Sullivan and Assistant Coach Katie Keiper.

ESTES: Jeremiah Estes brings an extensive international background to Albuquerque after coaching championship programs across Europe, Asia and the United States. His career includes national titles in Switzerland, European Champions League success in Russia and an NCAA championship at Long Beach State, along with experience working with both the U.S. and Russian national teams. Estes has coached more than 40 Olympians and most recently helped Southern reach its first conference championship match in more than 25 years.

SULLIVAN: Patrick Sullivan brings experience from coaching stops at Bradley, Northern Iowa, Long Beach State and Golden West College, contributing in recruiting, scouting, player development and program operations. At Bradley, he helped the Braves' middle blockers make notable gains in offensive efficiency and blocking production within the Missouri Valley Conference, while his time at Golden West included a state championship as co-head coach. Sullivan also founded and directed Stealth Volleyball, where he developed and placed athletes across multiple NCAA levels, and has worked as a recruiting coordinator and private trainer.

KEIPER: Katie Keiper joins the Lobos after building more than 15 years of experience as a player and coach across the high school, club, collegiate and international levels. Most recently, she coached U17 and U18 teams with Great Plains Volleyball Club and led Eisenhower High School, earning Oklahoma Coaches Association Region 4 Coach of the Year honors in 2024. Her previous coaching stops include T3 VBC, 208 VBC, Gonzaga Preparatory School and College Prep Academy Volleyball Club. Keiper also brings an international edge after competing with the Lakenheath U.S. Air Force Women's Team in England, coaching the All-Air Force European Women's Team to gold and playing professionally on the UK Pro Beach Tour and with VLA Team Sakura.

INTERNATIONAL CONNECTION

UNM's 16-player roster features seven different nationalities, with players hailing from the United States, Brazil, China, Finland, Norway, Serbia and Ukraine. Four of the Lobos' seven newcomers hail from outside the U.S.

NEW FACES IN THE MW

After Grand Canyon joined the Mountain West for volleyball last season, three new teams join the league in 2026 – UTEP, Hawai'i and UC Davis.

UNM is 35-8 against UTEP all-time but haven't faced the Miners since 2022, when they won in five sets. The Lobos have won eight in a row over UTEP.

The Lobos are 1-0 against UC Davis, with a three-set neutral-site sweep of the Aggies in 2005 as the lone meeting between the two teams.

They're 0-9 against Hawai'i in a series that dates back to 1982, last meeting over a decade ago in 2014 when they fell 3-1 in Honolulu.

Brian Hosfeld became the 11th head volleyball coach at the University of New Mexico on Dec. 21, 2025.

Hosfeld arrives in Albuquerque after a four-year stint as Associate Head Coach at Wichita State with over three decades of coaching experience under his belt. During Hosfeld's tenure in Wichita, the Shockers accumulated an 81-46 (.638) record, winning an AAC Tournament title and advancing to the NCAA Tournament in 2024. He also departed Baylor as the winningest head coach in school history in addition to winning a national title as an assistant at Long Beach State and reaching the Final Four three times as an assistant at Texas.

"I'm honored and excited to represent the University of New Mexico as the next head coach of women's volleyball," Hosfeld said. "The opportunity to build alongside our student-athletes—developing them on and off the court—is what excites me most.

"UNM is a special place with good history, and I can't wait to begin this journey with the Lobo family."

Hosfeld began his coaching career at Long Beach State in 1993, winning the national championship in his first season with the 49ers – that season, the 49ers went 32-2, only dropping two sets in their entire NCAA Tournament run.

After three seasons at Long Beach, he was chosen to lead the Baylor program in 1996, departing eight years later as the winningest coach in program history with 129 victories to his name. Under Hosfeld's leadership, Baylor reached the NCAA tournament for the first time in program history in 1999, going on to qualify again in 2001.

Following his tenure in Waco, Hosfeld joined the staff at Texas in 2004, working primarily with the Longhorns defense and middle blockers. He helped formulate one of the most productive defensive units in the nation, with the Longhorns winning three consecutive Big 12 titles and reaching the Final Four in 2008, 2009 and 2010 – UT advanced to the national championship match in 2009. With Hosfeld on staff, Texas posted an overall record of 186-33, winning at an .849 clip.

Hosfeld has also coached at the international level, leading the 2005 USA Volleyball A2 junior national team and USA Volleyball to a silver medal at the 1997 World University Games in Sicily, Italy. Prior to his work with that team, Hosfeld served as USA Volleyball's director of the World University and National Team tryouts at the Olympic Training Center.

Hosfeld's most recent collegiate coaching experience before heading to Wichita came as an interim assistant coach at Utah, where he spent the 2011 season before transitioning full-time to club volleyball. He helped found nationally-recognized Magnum Volleyball in 1986 and worked with Austin Juniors, Club Red, Arizona East Valley, Spiral and Catalyst before taking over as director of T3 in Coeur d'Alene, where he spent the previous decade before making his return to collegiate volleyball in 2022.

Estes arrives in Albuquerque following a highly successful stint as Associate Head Coach at Southern University, where he helped guide the program to its most successful season in more than a decade. Under his leadership, Southern advanced to its first conference championship final in over 25 years and produced two All-SWAC selections for the first time since 2016.

At the NCAA Division I level, Estes has served in prominent roles at Long Beach State, UC Santa Barbara, and East Carolina, including being part of Long Beach State's historic undefeated NCAA National Championship season, the first in NCAA history.
