

Verktyg - XmlPad

XmlPad

XmlPad är en kraftfull XML-editor som även har stöd för att t.ex. generera exempel XML från ett XML-schema.

Features:

- XML Schema full support.
- New and improved look & feel.
- Project system with CVS support.
- XML Schema editor with color syntax highlighting, line numbers, element range navigation, and context-dependent source assistant wizard.
- Preview and printing XML Schema in graphical diagram window. The diagram is synchronized with XML Schema editor.XML Schema documentation generation (ws3p.xsl) with diagram images.
- XML Schema validation and XML files validation against the underlying XML Schemas.
- Very big schemas (such as uccnet or xCBL35) use XML Schema binary cache in their implementation that mitigated performance issues in validation and analysis. Every schema used in validation is compiled in binary format on first use and later could be loaded from cache.
- Generation of XML samples from XML schema or a sample of XML Schema from XML file. Converting XSD to DTD and DTD to XSD.
- Schema component renaming (refactoring), navigation between schema components (Goto definition/Goto reference) and navigation from XML data to appropriate schema component.
- Regular expression builder and enumeration builder.
- Schema-aware XSLT editor and debugger with Active script support.
- Support for JAXB and Castor binding.
- HTML & DBF import.

Om WMHelp.com

WMHelp.com is an international team of software developers providing solutions for enterprise software development. Our mission is to build tools and components that foster the creativity of developers without imposing undue burdens on their ability to meet deadlines, design "killer" apps, and achieve their personal goals and objectives. Creating friendly, fast and complete solutions is the basic WMHelp.com principle.

We are always open to our customers and ready to help should any problem occur. Besides some of our products are developers-oriented, any user should be sure to get our fast and complete support, no matter if he is a newcomer or a world-wide known company developer.

Recently WMHelp.com has been creating a set of specialized products that are now decided to be released to public, so there are certain changes to our sales policy. Now we offer some of our products for free and some of them as try-and-buy.

We are continuously preparing and developing new and enhanced versions of our major products, plus various new software components and useful tools.
