* - Big Ten Conference game

Rutgers (8-6, 0-1) vs. Penn State (12-2, 0-1)

Jan. 3, 2015 • 7:30 ET • The RAC • Piscataway, NJ

TV: Saturday evening's game will be televised live nationally on ESPN2 with Mike Crispino calling the action and Sean Harrington providing the analysis.

Radio: The contest will be broadcast live on the Rutgers IMG Sports Network, WOR 710 AM in New York & WCTC 1450 AM in New Brunswick. Chris Carlin will serve as play-by-play announcer and Dick Lloyd will provide commentary. WRSU (88.7 FM) will also broadcast the game.

Rutgers hosts Penn State on Saturday at 7:30 p.m. to renew a rivalry that dates back to 1922. The Nittany Lions are receiving votes in the AP and USA Today/Coaches polls. Both the teams will be seeking a return to the win column after suffering defeat in their Big Ten openers. It's Letterwinners Night at the RAC. Prior to tip-off, a reception will take place in the Rutgers Zone for all former letterwinners.

The game will mark the 67th meeting on the collegiate hardwood between RU and PSU, with the Nittany Lions holding a 37-29 advantage in victories. RU is 20-13 at home all-time versus Penn State, including 8-5 mark at the RAC. The Scarlet Knights and Nittany Lions were both members of the Atlantic 10 Conference from 1976-79 and from 1982-1991. The last meeting occurred in University Park in the post-season, with Rutgers earning a 76-71 NIT victory on March 14, 2006. PSU won the last meeting at the RAC, however, 83-80 on Dec. 1, 2004. Rutgers head coach Eddie Jordan was 2-0 versus the Nittany Lions as a player "On the Banks," competing in an 81-63 road win as a freshman and an 89-72 home win as a senior. As an assistant coach at Rutgers (1984-85, 1988-92), the Scarlet Knights were 7-3 with Jordan on staff and won the 1989 A-10 title against PSU, 70-66, at the RAC under Bob Wenzel.

Myles Mack shot 6-of-12 to score a team-high 15 points, while also grabbing seven rebounds, but Rutgers dropped a 51-47 decision to Northwestern on Tuesday. The Scarlet Knights reduced the deficit to a field goal in the final minutes, but were unable to complete the comeback after trailing by as many as nine points in the second half. RU established a 35-30 rebounding edge, helped by Junior Etou's 10 boards, and forced 15 Wildcat turnovers in the defeat.

Mack is fourth in the Big Ten and is 31st nationally in steals (2.3), fourth in the league in minutes played (35.7), seventh in assists (4.7), ninth in free throw percentage (84.3), 12th in assist-to-turnover ratio (1.7) and 14th in scoring (13.9).

Penn State, under the direction of fourth-year head coach Pat Chambers, suffered an 89-72 loss at No. 4/4 Wisconsin on Wednesday afternoon. The Badgers shot 63.8 percent (30-of-47) to earn the victory. D.J. Newbill made 11-of-18 field goals to register 29 points as the Nittany Lions lost despite shooting 53.7 percent (29-of-54). The senior guard leads the Big Ten and ranks sixth nationally in scoring (21.9). The Nittany Lions, who tied a school record with 12 non-conference wins, open Big Ten play with three of four on the road.

RUTGERS MEDIA POLICIES

In-Season Interview Policy: Requests for coaches and players should be made at least 24 hours in advance. All interviews must be coordinated through the Office of Athletic Communications.

Practice: Practices are closed to the public. The final 30 minutes of practices are open to accredited members of the media with prior arrangements through the Office of Athletic Communications. Rutgers players are unavailable on gamedays until post-game interviews commence.

Post-Game Press Conference: Post-game press conferences begin approximately 10 minutes after the conclusion of each game. A member of the Rutgers Athletic Communications Department will escort the Rutgers head coach to the interview area, located in the media center. The opposing coach and players (if requested) will also be brought to the media conference room, either before or after Rutgers depending on time constraints. Rutgers players will be available for interviews in the men's basketball locker room theatre after the coach's press conference concludes. Please see a member of the staff with any questions or specific requests for interviews.

Web Sites: The latest information on Rutgers basketball is available at www.scarletknights.com. In addition, Big Ten Conference information can be accessed at www.bigten.org.

RUTGERS MEN'S BASKETBALL ANNOUNCES RECRUITING CLASS

Head coach Eddie Jordan announced that point guard Corey Sanders, forward Kejuan Johnson and shooting guard Justin Goode have signed National Letters of Intent to attend Rutgers University and compete in men's basketball.

"We are very excited to welcome these three young men into our basketball family," said Jordan. "They each possess a special skill set that will help us build a winning program. Competing in the Big Ten is very challenging. It's essential to have players that not only have the ability to compete at a high level, but the drive and enthusiasm to attack the process. We believe Corey, Kejuan and Justin have these important qualities."

Sanders (6-1, 170), is a four-star recruit and the 74th-rated overall player in the class of 2015, according to Rivals.com. ESPN.com also has him slated as a four-star recruit (86th overall) and the seventh-best point guard in the country, while 247Sports has him as the 67th best player in the nation. Sanders is considered an electric point guard possessing elite speed and handle on the court. Also ranked as the 15th point guard and 91st overall player in the country according to Scout.com, Sanders averaged 16.8 points, four assists and four steals per game during his junior season at Kathleen High School in Bradenton, Fla.

effectively and is a dangerous coast-to-coast player, according to ESPN's analysis. Johnson averaged 18.1 points and 6.5 rebounds-per-game during his junior season at Hapeville Charter in Atlanta, Ga.

Goode (6-3, 185) is a post-graduate student at Hargrave Military Academy. He is considered a skilled three-point shooter who can stretch defenses with his shooting ability. During his senior campaign at Lord Botetourt High School in Virginia, Goode averaged 19.9 points-per-game and was named VHSCA Group 3A Player of the Year. Goode shot 91.6 percent from the charity stripe and dished out 4.2 assists-per-contest to help Botetourt to a semifinal appearance in the 3A Virginia playoffs.

RUTGERS-PENN STATE CONNECTIONS

- Rutgers head coach Eddie Jordan was 2-0 versus the Nittany Lions as a player "On the Banks," competing in an 81-63 road win as a freshman and an 89-72 home win as a senior. As an assistant coach at Rutgers (1984-85, 1988-92), the Scarlet Knights were 7-3 with Jordan on staff and won the 1989 A-10 title against PSU, 70-66, at the RAC under Bob Wenzel.
- Rutgers sophomore walk-on guard Khalil Batie and Penn State junior forward Brandon Taylor were teammates at Trenton Catholic Academy.
- PSU senior guard John Johnson competed against Rutgers as a true freshman at Pittsburgh. He scored six points in a starting role as RU earned a 62-39 win at Pitt that season. It marked the last time RU held an opponent under 40 points.

- Rutgers walk-on freshman guard Jake Dadika is the son of RU letterwinner Rick Dadika, who was named to the all-tournament team when Rutgers defeated Penn State at the RAC to win the 1989 A-10 title under Bob Wenzel with Eddie Jordan and Jeff Van Gundy on staff as assistant coaches.

RUTGERS SEASON NOTABLES

- Myles Mack's 20-foot game winner at Monmouth marked the first time Rutgers won via a buzzer-beating shot since Jonathan Mitchell's four-point play on Feb. 9, 2011 helped the Scarlet Knights defeat No. 9 Villanova, 77-76.
- Rutgers was 23-of-25 at the free throw line (92.0 percent) versus Manhattan. It marked the most free throws in a game for RU since it deposited 24-of-30 in a 72-68 win over USF in last season's AAC Championship. It was their best free throw percentage since making 100 percent (3-of-3) at Marquette on Feb. 22, 2012.
- Rutgers defeated an ACC opponent on its home floor while it was an active member of the league for the first time in RU history with its 69-64 win at Clemson. The 16/3 assist-to-turnover ratio (5.3/1) by the Scarlet Knights was the best ever by a Clemson opponent and the three turnovers by RU tied for the fewest ever by a Tigers' foe.
- Seniors Myles Mack and Kadeem Jack played the full 40 minutes in the win over Vanderbilt for the first time in their careers. The last time Rutgers had a player log all 40 minutes in a regulation game was both Jonathan Mitchell and Mike Rosario, who played 40 minutes in a 76-60 loss at Louisville on Feb. 6, 2010.
- Senior guard Myles Mack's eight steals versus St. Francis-Brooklyn were a career high and were the second highest single-game total in school history. It was the most since Mike Dabney had nine steals on Feb. 7, 1976 vs. Navy. Dabney had nine steals twice that season, while current Rutgers head coach Eddie Jordan also had nine versus Penn State on March 2, 1974.
- The 44 points scored by Fairleigh Dickinson were the lowest scoring output allowed by Rutgers since holding Pittsburgh to 39 points in a 62-39 win on Jan. 11, 2012.

TOM YOUNG RECEIVES LEGENDS AWARD

At the MSG Holiday Festival (Dec. 14), the ECAC presented a Coaching Excellence Award to former Rutgers Head Coach Tom Young, while John "Jack" Powers (Manhattan College/NIT Executive Director) and Donald "Dee" Rowe (Connecticut) will receive Lifetime Achievement Awards. Young is the win-

DIALLO AND JOHNSON TO SIT OUT 2014-15 SEASON

Rutgers head men's basketball coach Eddie Jordan announced Oct. 3 that freshmen Ibrahima Diallo and Ryan Johnson will sit out the 2014-15 season. Diallo and Johnson will be able to practice and participate in team activities, but will not be permitted to compete in games after being ruled as partial qualifiers by the NCAA. Diallo and Johnson will retain four years of eligibility, beginning with the 2015-16 season.

"Ibrahima and Ryan have both worked very hard since arriving on campus and have done everything we have asked of them," said Jordan. "We will utilize this redshirt season as an opportunity for Ibrahima and Ryan to continually develop, both on and off the floor. We look forward to the contributions they will make during their Rutgers careers."

RUTGERS MEN'S BASKETBALL SHINES IN APR

Rutgers men's basketball earned a multi-year academic progress rate (APR) score of 978 for data concluding with the 2012-13 academic year. The multi-year score marked the highest for Rutgers men's hoops since the data began being tabulated in 2004-05 and was in the top 30 percent of all men's basketball programs Rutgers earned a perfect APR score of 1000 for the 2012-13 academic year. It marked the third consecutive year that RU received a perfect single year score.

RUTGERS "DRAFTS" SEAN MOFFITT

Rutgers men's basketball, via the Boston-based nonprofit organization Team IMPACT, "draft" Sean Moffitt, an 11-year boy from North Brunswick, onto the team on Sept. 4. Moffitt's "Draft Day" press conference took place in the media room at the RAC. Sean signed his "Scarlet Knight Intent Letter" and was presented with his team jersey by head coach Eddie Jordan. He was joined by his parents, Mitch and Beth. Born with hemiplegic cerebral palsy, Sean has limited use of his right side after suffering a stroke at birth. He is able to walk with the help of a brace and has had multiple surgeries to try to gain movement and use of his right arm. Team IMPACT is a 501(c)3 nonprofit whose mission is to improve the quality of life for children facing life-threatening and chronic illnesses through the power of team.

RU HALL OF FAMER GEORGE MACKARONIS PASSES AWAY

Rutgers Athletics Hall of Famer George Mackaronis passed away on Monday, Nov. 3, 2014 at the Roosevelt Care Center in Edison at age 90. A WWII Army veteran, restaurateur and founder of the Rutgers Court Club, Mackaronis was a fixture on the Rutgers men's basketball scene for more than 50 years. An All-State player at New Brunswick HS, Mackaronis became one of the best college players in the East, competing well against All-Americans the likes of NYU's Dolph Schayes, Seton Hall's Bobby Wanzer and Princeton's Butch Van Breda Kolff. In 1942, due to World War II, he became the first Rutgers freshman to ever play on the varsity. From 1943-45, he served in World War II, was involved in the D-Day invasion and earned five battle stars. He returned to Rutgers and started every game over the next three seasons, leading the 1945-46 team in scoring with a 15.0 average.

29 seasons of coaching experience
14 career post-season appearances as a coach, including two NBA Finals appearances and three NCAA bids
17 NBA All-Stars coached during his career

Eddie Jordan, who helped the Scarlet Knights to the 1976 Final Four, was named the 18th head coach in the history of the Rutgers men's basketball program on April 23, 2013. He returned to "The Banks" with an NBA Championship ring and now leads RU into the Big Ten Conference with 29 seasons of coaching experience, including nine at the collegiate level and 19 in the NBA.

In Jordan's first season at the helm, the Scarlet Knights were picked 10th in the American Athletic Conference preseason coaches poll and finished seventh in the league standings. The three position differential between projected and actual finish tied for the best in the league with Cincinnati (4th/t-1st) and SMU (6th/t-3rd). Fifteen of Rutgers' games were played against opponents that earned post-season invites as the team compiled a 12-21 (5-13) record. RU defeated USF in the opening round of the AAC Championship, its third win over the Bulls during the season. It marked the first time the Scarlet Knights had defeated a foe three times in a season since 1988-89, when it completed the trifecta versus St. Bonaventure when Jordan was an assistant under Bob Wenzel.

Kadeem Jack and Myles Mack earned All-MET honors in 2013-14 under Jordan's tutelage. Rutgers players also earned seven conference honors during the course of the season. In conference games, RU led the league in defensive rebounding percentage (.681) and ranked third in the AAC in free throw percentage, shooting .707 percent. It marked RU's best team mark at the charity stripe since shooting .719 percent in 2008-09.

RU's all-time leader in both assists (585) and steals (220), "Fast Eddie" scored 1,632 career points and earned honorable mention All-American honors as a senior in 1977. He later returned as an assistant under coaches Tom Young (1984-85) and Bob Wenzel (1988-92). In his nine seasons with the Scarlet Knights before returning as head coach, RU earned eight postseason berths, including four NCAA Championship bids.

Jordan served as an assistant with the Los Angeles Lakers in 2012-13 under head coach Mike D'Antoni, returning to the club for which he earned a championship as a player in 1982. He helped the Lakers to its eighth-straight playoff appearance, working with notable players such as Kobe Bryant, Dwight Howard, Paul Gasol and Steve Nash. Jordan transitioned back to the NBA after serving as a freshman coach at his alma mater, Archbishop Carroll High School in Washington, D.C., while also working as head coach of the D.C. Assault 17U AAU team.

Jordan has served as an NBA head coach for three different teams over nine seasons. He compiled a career regular season mark of 257-343 (.428) and a playoff record of 8-18 (.308) over nine seasons with Sacramento (1996-98), Washington (2003-09) and Philadelphia (2009-10). Among the players to earn All-Star recognition under his head coaching leadership are Mitch Richmond, Caron Butler, Gilbert Arenas, Antawn Jamison and Allen Iverson.

Born (Jan. 29, 1955) and raised in Washington, D.C., Jordan served as head coach of his hometown Wizards from the 2003-04 season through the first 11 games of 2008-09. After inheriting a Wizards team that posted a losing record in five-straight seasons, Jordan was able to guide the 2004-05 Wizards to their highest win total in 25 years in just his second season, while giving Washington its first playoff berth since 1997 and advancing past the first round for the first time since 1982. Jordan's Wizards made four-straight playoff appearances from 2004-05 through 2007-08. Prior to his arrival, Washington made the playoffs just once over a 16-year span. The Wizards ranked sixth in the league in scoring in 2004-05, third in 2005-06 and fourth in 2006-07.

Before his time with the Wizards, Jordan served as the lead assistant coach on Byron Scott's staff in New Jersey from 2000-03, helping the Nets to the NBA Finals in back-to-back years in 2002 and 2003. Among the players Jordan worked with in the Garden State were Jason Kidd, Richard Jefferson, Stephon Marbury, Kenyon Martin and Dikembe Mutombo. Prior to his work with the Nets, Jordan was an assistant coach with Sacramento for five seasons beginning in 1992, before being named head coach of the Kings for the final 15 games of the 1996-97 campaign. He would spend his first full season as an NBA head coach with the Kings for the 1997-98 season, his last year with the club.

JORDAN'S NBA CAREER

NBA Draft: Second round, 33rd overall by Cleveland
NBA Career: Cleveland Cavaliers (1977), New Jersey Nets (1977-80), Los Angeles Lakers (1980-83), Portland Trailblazers (1984), Los Angeles Lakers (1984).

PERSONAL INFORMATION

Birth Date:	January 29, 1955 in Washington, D.C.
High School:	Archbishop Carroll (Washington, D.C.)
College:	Rutgers University
Wife:	Charrisse
Children:	Eddie II, Jackson, Justin, Paul and Skylar

After retiring from the NBA in 1984, Jordan began his coaching career as a volunteer assistant at Rutgers. He followed Young to Old Dominion before landing an assistant coaching position under Jim O'Brien at Boston College, where he served from 1986-88. He later returned to Rutgers as an assistant coach under Wenzel. The Scarlet Knights made NCAA appearances in 1989 and 1991 and earned NIT berths in 1990 and 1992.

Originally selected by Cleveland in the second round of the 1977 NBA Draft (33rd overall), Jordan averaged 8.1 points, 3.8 assists, 1.9 rebounds and 1.82 steals in seven seasons with the Cavaliers, Nets, Lakers and Portland Trail Blazers. While with the Nets, Jordan led the league in total steals in 1978-79 and was second in 1979-80. He played in 420 NBA games and scored 3,414 career points.

Inducted into Rutgers Athletics Hall of Fame in 1980 and the Hall of Distinguished Alumni in 2004, Jordan was the point guard and catalyst of the great Rutgers teams of the mid-1970's. He was the on-court general for the 1975-76 Scarlet Knights, who fashioned a perfect 26-0 regular season mark and wound up with a 31-2 record. He was named the 1976 NCAA Tournament East Regional MVP.

Jordan and his wife Charrisse have two children, son Jackson and daughter Skylar. Jordan also has three sons: Justin, Eddie II and Paul. Eddie II was a three-year (2000-01, 2003) varsity football letterwinner at Rutgers under head coach Greg Schiano, playing tight end and linebacker. Charrisse Jordan was appointed President of "Behind the Bench," a non-profit organization developed by the National Basketball Wives Association, which raises funds and awareness for charities that benefit women and children.

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT EDDIE JORDAN

David Stern, Rutgers graduate and former NBA Commissioner: "Eddie is a great choice to lead Rutgers during this important transition for the program. His knowledge and passion for the game, coupled with his extraordinary ability to teach, will serve the university well as he returns to his basketball roots at RU."

Dick Vitale, College basketball analyst and former Rutgers assistant coach: "Eddie Jordan is a grand slam of a hire. He brings a special passion and pride to the position. His love for Rutgers will be felt by everyone associated with the Scarlet Knights. His NBA contacts and experience will be a major help on the recruiting trail."

Jason Kidd, 10-time NBA All-Star point guard current head coach of the Milwaukee Bucks: "Rutgers picked the right coach in Eddie Jordan. He's the perfect basketball mind and person to turn that program around."

Kenyon Martin, All-Star and 13-year NBA veteran forward: "I have the utmost respect for Eddie, as a basketball coach, player and a man. He is very deserving of this job and I have all the confidence in the world that he will be successful."

Jeff Van Gundy, NBA analyst and former Rutgers assistant coach: "Eddie is the right hire at the right time for Rutgers University. His combination of basketball knowledge, his ability to relate to all sorts (of people) and his humble demeanor will allow him to unite Rutgers behind its basketball team. (Rutgers) will be proud of the product he puts on the floor."

Tom Young, Rutgers Athletics Hall of Fame Head Coach (1973-85): "This is the best thing that has happened to Rutgers since (Jordan) took them to the Final Four. Eddie will succeed at Rutgers because he is a good guy and he understands the game of basketball. From day one, Eddie was respected as a point guard and could communicate well with his teammates. That has helped him in the coaching profession. Some people worry that because he has been a NBA coach for so long, that he won't be able to get into the collegiate scene. That is the furthest thing from the truth. He will not have any problems adjusting to the X's and O's of college basketball."

Bob Wenzel, College basketball analyst and former Rutgers head coach (1988-97): "I'm thrilled that Rutgers made a great choice in Eddie Jordan. It's a home run. He's one of the most endearing people to ever play at Rutgers. In our time together, he was a great assistant. He has a wealth of basketball knowledge with all of his NBA experience."

Hollis Copeland, Former teammate and Rutgers All-American: "I think very highly of Eddie. He's been a head coach of three NBA teams, as well as an NBA assistant coach, college coach and AAU coach. He's in a position to completely change the complexion of the Rutgers basketball program. It's a marriage made in heaven. When you look at that (1976) Final Four team, we were a family. We haven't changed since then and we still stay in touch to share our views. That's the attitude he will bring. The same attitude we had way back when. He's

Phil Sellers, Former teammate and Rutgers First Team All-American: "I can't express how much this means. Rutgers has a guy who understands what it means to have respect for others. Eddie knows how to approach people. He's been fortunate to be around some great coaches in his career. Having been his roommate for a couple of years (at Rutgers), to see how far Eddie has come is a great feeling. He's a hard worker. Anybody who has been associated with Eddie knows that. When he gets his teeth into something, he focuses in. Hard work brings success, so he can only be successful."

Pete Carill, Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame Head Coach: "Eddie Jordan is the best around, anywhere to turn Rutgers into what it could be."

Game Notables:

- Senior guard Myles Mack's eight steals were a career high and were the second highest single-game total in school history. It was the most since Mike Dabney had nine steals on Feb. 7, 1976 vs. Navy. Dabney had nine steals twice that season, while current Rutgers head coach Eddie Jordan also had nine versus Penn State on March 2, 1974.
- Mack now has 165 steals for his career, passing Rick Dadika for sixth among Rutgers' career leaders.
- Mack scored in double figures for the 65th time, and scored 20-plus points for the 15th time in his career.
- With 25 points scored he now sits at 1,276 for his career, moving past Keith Hughes and Rob Hodgson for 16th place all-time.
- Mack was on the floor for a career-high 38 minutes.
- Junior Etoou led the team in rebounding for the third consecutive game, collecting nine rebounds. He has led Rutgers in rebounding seven times in his career.
- Kadeem Jack tied his career-high with three assists. He scored in double digits for the 33rd time in his career. Jack made his first start of the season after missing the first two games with a thumb injury.
- Rutgers' 45 points in the first half was the highest single-half output thus far this season and the most points Rutgers scored in a single half since a 48-point half versus Memphis on Feb. 4, 2014.
- Behind Mack's eight thefts, the Scarlet Knights forced the Terriers in to 21 miscues, resulting in a 20-10 advantage in points-off-turnovers.
- Freshman forward D.J. Foreman hit his first career three-pointer at the first half buzzer, to send Rutgers to the locker room leading 45-32.
- Rutgers used its third different starting lineup of the year, opening with guard Myles Mack, guard Bishop Daniels,
