MEET NEWS & NOTES

NITTANY LIONS HOST MIDSHIPMEN IN HOME FINALE

Following a long stretch away from home, Penn State returns to McCoy Natatorium for the final time in 2014-15. The Lions have not competed in University Park since their double-dual against Michigan and Virginia which they split with a victory over the Cavaliers and a defeat to the Wolverines.

Head coach Tim Murphy's squad narrowly lost to first time opponent Yale at a meet hosted by Rutgers over the weekend, 181-172. PSU was led by the efforts of senior Nate Savoy (Reading, Pa.) who was first in three individual events (100, 200 Back & 200 IM) and swam lead-off on three first place finishing relay teams.

Savoy is the reigning B1G men's swimmer of the week and will be one of eight total seniors being honored today during their final home meet. The others are diver T.J. Schenkel (Richboro, Pa.) and swimmers Nick Ankosko (East Brunswick, N.J.), Jonathan Eckstrom (Silver Spring, Md.), Jeff Young (Hershey, Pa.), Kyle Madley (Madison, N.J.), Larry Virgillio (Pine bush, N.Y.), and Ryan Magee (Chesnut Ridge, N.Y.)

SERIES HISTORY

The Penn State men's team is an even 2-2 versus Navy with the pair's first meeting coming back in 1944. This is the fourth straight season both squads have competed in regular season dual meets with the Nittany Lions having won two out of the last three.
