MAACnificent

The Saints enjoyed another wildly successful MAAC season, finishing the year 14-4 in league play and capturing the MAAC Championship. Since joining the conference in 1990, Siena has posted a 192-97 (.664) all-time MAAC record while also winning a league-best nine titles.

MAAC Championships

Siena	9
Fairfield	7
Niagara	3
Manhattan	2
Iona	1
Loyola	1
Saint Peter's	1

MAAC Championships under Garvey Pierre (2005, 2006, 2008 and 2014). Siena is now 15-1 all-time as the No. 2 seed in MAAC Tournament play.

Back in the NCAA

Siena is making its sixth NCAA Tournament appearance and first since their last of four straight in 2008 when they were swept at California. Siena and Penn State previously met in the NCAA Tournament in 2007, with the host Nittany Lions sweeping the Saints en route to winning the National Championship.

Dreams Come True

Siena won its ninth MAAC Championship at the HP Fieldhouse inside ESPN's Wide World of Sports Complex at Disney World. It's the second time the Saints won the title at the "Happiest Place on Earth" (2006). Every four years the MAAC holds its Championships at the Wide World of Sports Complex, and when they do, all 10 league teams qualify. The event culminates with an Awards Dinner at one of the Theme Parks – this year Disney's Animal Kingdom – which remains open just for the participating student athletes to enjoy for the night.

Peaking at the Right Time

The Saints' nine-match win streak entering the NCAA Championships is the 12th longest active streak in the nation. After dropping matches to Marist and Fairfield October 25 and 29, Siena won a pair of five-set home matches over Manhattan and Iona. The Saints closed the regular-season with victories at Canisius, Niagara, Rider and Saint Peter's, and then defeated Canisius, Manhattan and Marist on their way to the title.

Two Is Better Than One

Six of Siena's record nine MAAC Championships have come when the Saints were the No. 2 seed. The only loss Siena suffered as a No. 2 seed came to No. 1 Fairfield in the 2012 MAAC Championships. Siena was the No. 2 seed in four of its five

Road Warriors

The Saints won eight of their nine MAAC road matches this season, the best road league record for any team in the conference. Siena's only league road loss came at regular-season champion Marist on October 11 and that was nail-biter. The Red Foxes held off Siena in four – 25-22, 17-25, 28-26 and 26-24 – but the Saints actually outscored Marist in the match.

Senior Moment

Senior Rachel Stoklosa took some time to get going on the outside this year, but she came up huge when it mattered most. Stoklosa played a big part in Siena's late-season surge to a second-place regular-season finish, and then was named MVP of the Championships after averaging 3.64 kills per set. Stoklosa had a match-high 18 kills in 54 swings in Siena's title match win over Marist.

MAAC Tournament Time is Siena Time

This was the ninth time in the last 10 years Siena played in the MAAC Tournament (which only the top four teams typically qualify for). The lone exception came last season, when Siena finished in a three-way tie for third place (13-5 MAAC record), but lost the tiebreaker. Fairfield won the Championships last season at Siena's Alumni Recreation Center in Loudonville.

All-MAAC Honors

Senior captains Meghann Wright and Jacqueline Skeen were each named to the MAAC First Team. Sophomore setter Haley Howell was selected to the Second Team, and freshman middle Samantha Pethokoukis was named to the MAAC All-Rookie Team. Stoklosa and Skeen were joined by sophomore Sonja Vasovic on the MAAC All-Tournament Team. Wright, Stoklosa, junior Erin Bies and sophomore Ramona Georgescu were named to the MAAC All-Academic Team.

Block Party

Siena leads the MAAC with 2.47 blocks per set this season. Senior captain Jacqueline Skeen led the MAAC with 144 blocks this season, and freshman Samantha Pethokoukis ranks sixth with 1.0 blocks per set. Despite standing just 5-7, Skeen ranks second all-time at Siena with 452 career blocks.

Setting the Stage

Siena has the most balanced offense in the MAAC with four players averaging more than two kills per set. The big reason has been the play of sophomore setter Haley Howell who leads the conference with 10.7 assists per set. That total is even more impressive when you consider Howell didn't play setter for several non-league matches early in the year. Since Howell returned to her full-time setting duties after the MAAC's opening weekend in September, Siena's offense has taken off. Howell was named MAAC Player of the Week twice this season (10/21, 11/11), and also earned ECAC Player of the Week accolades October 22 on her way to being selected to the MAAC Second Team. Howell was a six-time MAAC Rookie of the Week selection as a freshman last year on her way to being named to the All-Rookie Team.

The Saints Dig Hawaiians

Sophomore libero Bobbi Lin Kalama (Waikuku, Hawaii) posted match-high digs in 15 of Siena's 18 MAAC matches this season and in all three MAAC Tournament matches. Kalama finished sixth in the MAAC with 4.5 digs per set, partly because she played setter and defensive specialist in many of Siena's first 13 matches. Since that point, she has anchored a Siena defense that averaged 16.4 digs per set. Kalama, who was named MAAC

Libero of the Week twice this season (9/30 and 10/7), continues a tradition of outstanding volleyball players who have made their way to Siena from Hawaii. In fact, the top two liberos in program history Lesli Akeo '12 (2,285 career digs) and Kathi Kobayashi '09 (1,428 career digs) both came from Hawaii, as did Taylor Akana '13 who ranks fourth on the career digs charts (1,370) and second with 1,700 kills.

The Wright Stuff

Red-shirt junior captain Meghann Wright ranks fifth in the MAAC with 2.96 kills per set. Wright missed her freshman season after undergoing a second knee surgery before her Siena career even began. She was named to the All-Rookie Team in 2012 after playing primarily on the right side for a Siena team that reached the MAAC title match. This year, she has transitioned to the outside and emerged as one of the top hitters in the conference.

Welcome to the Club

Senior Rachel Stoklosa joined the 1,000-kill club in Siena's MAAC Championship win over Marist (11/22). Stoklosa enters the NCAA Tournament with 1,003 kills, ninth most in program history. Stoklosa has posted double figure kills in nine of the last 11 matches – a big reason for the Saints' late season surge. Stoklosa had 344 kills (2.7/set) as a sophomore when Siena advanced the MAAC Championship match.

Rarefied Pierre

Now in his 12th season, head coach Garvey Pierre is perhaps the most successful coach Siena has ever had in any sport. Pierre enters the NCAA Championships with a 192-172 record as Siena's coach, and the five NCAA appearances he has led the Saints to are the most for any coach in any sport in school history.

Monroe in the Middle

In addition to Skeen, who ranks seventh in the MAAC with a .277 attack percentage, and Pethokoukis who ranks fifth at .289, junior Christina Monroe provided a great spark late in the year rotating into the front row. Monroe hit .384 in 21 matches played, including a robust .439 (43-7-82) over the current nine match win streak.

Serving Points

Siena ranked third in the MAAC with 1.42 aces per set this season, but that's a deceptive stat. Garvey Pierre has deviated from implementing his traditional aggressive jump serves this season in favor of teaching hard, floating services. Several Saints have mastered the technique, and as a result, the Saints have gotten teams out of system on a regular basis and gone on several long runs. Erin Bies served the Saints to a 9-0 lead in the fifth set of a key home win over Manhattan, and Kiara Pierre also rotates in with a devastating float serve. Bobbi Lin Kalama, Haley Howell, Meghann Wright, Rachel Stoklosa and Sonja Vasovic are all capable of serving Siena on long runs.

Serbian Surprise

Sophomore transfer Sonja Vasovic (Towson) hails from Zemun, Serbia and she's been a major impact player in her first season with the Saints. The left-handed Vasovic plays primarily on the right side where she ranks third on the team with 2.3 kills per set and a .225 attack percentage. Vasovic was named AVSR Global Player of the Week after being selected to the All-Tournament team for posting 3.3 kills per set and .368 efficiency in the MAAC Tournament.
