

Penn State Women's Basketball
Student-Athlete Postgame Press Conference
vs. Pittsburgh - December 5, 2019

Kamaria McDaniel | G | Jr.

Q: Kamaria, what does it mean to score the only the third 40-point game in school history?

A: It's cool. I just know that I was really concerned about us finishing strong as a team. We keep running this narrative of teams being able to creep their way back in their third and fourth quarters so I was just happy that we were able to finish strong, and I guess that's the extra, but it was more important to get the win.

Q: In that second quarter you scored 17 points and that's kind of when it felt like that's when it all started. What was kind of going through your head at that moment?

A: Coach emphasized us pushing pace and that was one of our keys to the game. If we can push the pace in scoring primary, which we call fast breaks, in the first six seconds on the shot clock, that's good for us and that's the style that we want to play. My teammates were doing great jobs getting rebounds and keeping it up to me and spacing the floor out, and they get the credit for me scoring, and fast breaks and stuff like that.

Q: In the last two minutes you had 13 points. What's it like to have that 'can't miss' feeling?

A: It's good. It feels good. I've just been putting in a lot of work and the coaches have been working with me watching film so I'm just learning and try not to make the same mistakes to take bad shots and do what I practice and it worked out well for me today.
