

Where to the Enter the Stadium

All dog owners will enter via Gate A and are required to show up-to-date vaccination records and must sign a liability waiver to bring you dog into the stadium.

Doggie Tickets and Seating Areas

Dogs are not required to have a ticket. Only human companions need a ticket for Pups at Panzer Night and will receive a discounted $3 ticket when entering. After providing the dog's shot records and signing the liability waiver form. Dogs are only permitted to sit with their human companions in the grass area at the north end of the stadium.

Doggie Water and Restroom Areas

Water and doggie bags will be provided for dogs in the designated area. Of course, fans are expected to clean up after their pets and we ask that all dogs complete their business within the grass area. Should your dog have an accident inside the stadium, please alert your nearest staff member so they can alert the cleaning crew immediately.

Other General Pups at Panzer Night Guidelines

- All dogs must be on a leash at all times.
- We ask fans to observe a 1:1 human-to-dog ratio. We understand that many families have multiple dogs, so please recruit a friend to come along if you have more than one dog attending!
- Fans are permitted to bring food and water into the ballpark for their dogs ONLY. Human food and drinks are not permitted to be brought inside the stadium.
- If your dog is known to be aggressive around other dogs, please be extra careful, or refrain from bringing your dog to the stadium. Dogs who show aggression to other dogs or humans will be asked to leave immediately.
- Have fun! We are pleased to provide a rare event in a public facility that permits people to attend with their dogs. Your cooperation and control of your dog will make the night fun and successful, even for those who don't have a dog!
