No. 13 Rutgers men's lacrosse plays its second straight Sunday night conference game, taking to the road for a crucial matchup at No. 9 Penn State at 7 p.m. on Big Ten Network. The Scarlet Knights (9-3, 1-2 Big Ten) can clinch a Big Ten Tournament berth with a win over the Nittany Lions (10-2, 1-2 Big Ten) and wins Saturday by Ohio State and Johns Hopkins.

RU is coming off of a triple-overtime showdown with now-No. 2 Maryland. Rutgers came back from a three-goal second half deficit to tie the game with 39 second remaining in regulation, but the Terps prevailed 13-12. Goalkeeper Max Edelmann tied his career-high with 15 saves in the game, and now boasts a .536 save percentage and 8.45 goals-against-average on the season.

The Scarlet Knights remain the nation's top team in caused turnovers, with 10.25 per game. RU, and the Big Ten, is led by junior All-American candidate Michael Rexrode, who averages 1.75 caused turnovers per game. The team is also fifth in the nation in ground balls per game (33.83) and sixth in man-down defense (.750).

The matchup will feature two of the top scoring freshman in the conference in Rutgers' Kieran Mullins and Penn State's Mac O'Keefe. Mullins, who was ranked the #4 freshman in the nation by Inside Lacrosse this week, leads the Scarlet Knights with 32 goals and 47 points. O'Keefe enters the game as the Nittany Lions' leader with 39 tallies.

Another key matchup to watch is at the faceoff 'X'. RU's Joe Francisco is 47-of-71 (66.2 percent) on faceoffs in conference play, setting and matching his career high with 19 faceoffs won in two of the past three weeks. For Penn State, Gerard Arceri is 165-of-259 (63.7 percent) on the year. Following nonconference play, he was second nationally at 69.2 percent, but is only 10-of-35 (28.5 percent) in conference play.

Rutgers holds a 42-21 advantage in the series against Penn State, winning two-thirds of the contests dating back to 1946. It is the third most played series in Rutgers history, behind Princeton and Army. The two squads play for the Friendship Cup, which debuted in 1998, and has been won by Rutgers five times. Last season, the Scarlet Knights reclaimed the Friendship Cup with a thrilling 15-14 win at High Point Solutions Stadium. Jules Heningburg scored six goals and had eight points in that game en route to being named USILA National Player of the Week honors.

Brian Brecht, who has over 20 seasons of collegiate coaching experience, entered his sixth season as the head coach at Rutgers in 2017. Brecht was named head coach on June 16, 2011.

In 2016, Brecht led Rutgers to one of the largest turnarounds in Division I lacrosse, improving the team's record to 11-5. He was named Big Ten Coach of the Year. The Scarlet Knights tied the program record for wins, defeating three ranked opponents (No. 9 Johns Hopkins, No. 10 Johns Hopkins, No. 17 Penn State).

Brecht mentored a pair of players that were named All-Americans in Scott Bieda and Zack Sikora. Bieda, a Third Team All-American, was also the Big Ten Offensive Player of the Year, a unanimous First Team All-Big Ten Selection, All-ECAC and a Tewaaraton Award Semifinalist. He had 28 goals, 38 assists and 66 points, leading the Big Ten in both assists and points. Sikora, an Honorable Mention All-American was also an Honorable Mention All-Big Ten selection and All-ECAC selection as a long-stick midfielder.

Additionally, the pair was also named Scholar All-Americans. They are two of the five players to be named Scholar All-Americans under Brecht, of the eight selections in the RU program all-time. Brecht also tutored two other all-conference attackmen. Jules Heringburg was a First Team All-Big Ten selection. He scored 39 goals with 21 assists for 60 points, and led Big Ten with 18 goals and 26 points in conference games alone. Adam Charalambides was named the Big Ten Freshman of the Year. The Canadian attackman scored 43 goals, tied for fifth most in a season at RU history, and most for a first-year player.

In 2015, Brecht guided RU through the transition into the inaugural season in the Big Ten Conference. The Scarlet Knights earned five wins, highlighted by a 17-10 win over No. 10 Ohio State in the season finale. Under Brecht's tutelage, senior Joe Nardella established himself as one of the top faceoff men in the nation. Nardella won 223-of-333 faceoffs for a 67.0 winning percentage that was third in the nation, and was third in the nation with 8.33 ground balls per game. He was named a Third Team All-American, the 205th All-American in program history. Nardella was drafted by the MLL's Boston Cannons, and began his professional career after his senior season concluded.

Three players earned All-Big Ten accolades in 2015. Nardella was chosen as the Big Ten Specialist of the Year and was a First Team All-Big Ten selection. Junior captain Scott Bieda, who led the team with 30 goals and 28 assists for 58 points, was also a First Team All-Big Ten selection. Junior midfielder Zack Sikora was named Honorable Mention All-Big Ten. Senior captain Brian Goss was selected as the Sportsmanship Honor. Additionally, Campbell Sode was recognized for his academic achievements, as he joined Nardella as a USILA Scholar All-American and was named a Wayne Duke Postgraduate Award winner by the Big Ten Conference. Rutgers had 14 players in total named to the 2015 All-Big Ten Academic Team.

In 2014, Brecht led the Scarlet Knights to its best season in 10 years in the final year as part of the BIG EAST Conference. RU posted an 8-8 record, its most wins since the 2004 team went 8-6. The Scarlet Knights made their first BIG EAST Championship since joining the conference in 2010, their first postseason appearance since 2004. RU posted an 8-7 mark in regular season play, its best winning percentage in the regular season since the 2007 team went 7-6. Rutgers tallied three BIG EAST victories, its most in a season since joining the league.

Brecht mentored four Second Team All-BIG EAST members in 2014: attackman Scott Bieda, defender Nick Contino, midfielder Joe Nardella, and midfielder Anthony Terranova. Nardella finished fifth nationally with a .632 face-off winning percentage (206-of-326), and was fourth in the country with 9.79 ground balls per game. Brecht's squad continued to achieve high marks academically in 2014, as 28 members of the program were named to the conference All-Academic Team.

In 2013, Brecht coached goalkeeper Kris Alleyne, who earned BIG EAST Goalkeeper of the year honors, after the freshman finished the season fourth in the nation with 14.00 saves per game and seventh in the country with a .596 save percentage. Under Brecht's tutelage, faceoff specialist Joe Nardella earned Second Team All-BIG EAST recognition after finishing fourth in the nation with a .622 faceoff win percentage. In the classroom, the squad earned 20 BIG EAST All-Academic Team selections in 2013, with the 20 players recording a minimum GPA of 3.00 for the academic year.

In his first season at the helm of the Scarlet Knights in 2012, Brecht helped senior midfielder Will Mangan to a long list of accolades, both on the field and in the classroom. Academically, he was named to the United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association (USILA) Scholar All-America Team. On the field, Brecht guided the co-captain to other honors including BIG EAST Midfielder of the Year, All-BIG EAST First Team, a USILA/LaxWorld North-South Classic participant, and USILA All-American Honorable Mention. Mangan was picked up and played professionally on Major League Lacrosse's Long Island Lizards and is now a member of the Denver Outlaws. The head coach also produced student-athletes in year one, leading 23 of his players to BIG EAST All-Academic Team recognition, which was tied for the most of any Rutgers squad that season.

Prior to arriving "On the Banks" he served a seven-year tenure as head coach at Siena College. A native of Long Island, N.Y., and a former Rutgers assistant coach, Brecht was a three-time MAAC Coach of the Year at Siena and led the Saints to multiple conference championships, NCAA tournament appearances and the program's first ever national ranking.

Brecht, who led Siena to 57 victories (57-28) in his last five seasons there, is the 11th head coach in the history of the Rutgers men's lacrosse program. He came to Rutgers after leading Siena to new heights. Under his direction, the Saints earned four MAAC regular season championships and two MAAC tournament crowns, while also making the first two NCAA Tournament appearances in program history. He was named the MAAC Coach of the Year in 2005, 2007 and 2009, while being cited as the Siena College Coach of the Year in 2007, 2009, 2010 and 2011. Siena's 57 victories from 2007-11 included 22-straight MAAC wins and 13-consecutive home victories. The Saints' 57 wins over that span marked the sixth highest victory total in the nation, trailing only the likes of Duke, Virginia, Syracuse, Cornell and Notre Dame.

Thirty-five players earned All-MAAC honors under Brecht and 41 were cited as Academic All-Conference, including a trio of Academic All-Americans. Brent Herbst, who became the first Siena and MAAC player drafted by the Major Lacrosse League, was a two-time USILA All-American. In total, Brecht developed four USILA All-Americans, three North-South All-Star selections, three MAAC Rookies of the Year, three MAAC Offensive Players of the Year and three MAAC Defensive Players of the Year at Siena. In his last season at Siena, the Saints tallied a program-record 13 wins and finished the season nationally ranked (No. 20) in both the USILA Coaches' Poll and Nike/Inside Lacrosse Media Poll for the first time in school history. The squad advanced to the first round of the NCAA Tournament, where it dropped a tightly contested match to No. 1 Syracuse.

Prior to his arrival in Loudonville, Brecht spent nine seasons as an assistant coach with five different schools. He made stops at Hartwick (1995-97), Penn (1997-99), Army (1999-00), Rutgers (2000-01) and Loyola (2001-04). While "On the Banks," Brecht worked under head coach Bill Dirmig and served as the Scarlet Knight's interim head coach in October 2001. A graduate of Sachem High School on Long Island, Brecht played collegiate lacrosse at Springfield (Mass.) College. He earned a bachelor of science in physical education from Springfield in 1995.

2017 RUTGERS MEN'S LACROSSE

NOTES

100 SEASONS OF RUTGERS LACROSSE

Rutgers will be celebrating its 100th season this year. The team's first season overall was 1887, but did not compete from 1890 to 1919 and during World War II in 1944 and 1945.

600 CLUB

With the victory over Brown, Rutgers achieved 600 lifetime wins. The Scarlet Knights are the 12th program to reach 600 lifetime wins.

Other teams with 600 + wins (in ranked order): Johns Hopkins, Syracuse, Maryland, Navy, Army, Hobart, Cornell, Princeton, Virginia, Yale, Harvard.

NATIONALLY RANKED

Rutgers has spent the season ranked among the nation's top teams, steadily climbing the polls each week. The number one ranking on March 20 was the first in program history and the first top ranked team at Rutgers since the men's soccer team was preseason No. 1 by Soccer America in 1995.

O' CAPTAIN, MY CAPTAIN

RU will boast three season-long captains for the 2017 campaign - junior attackman Jules Heningburg, junior defenseman Michael Rexrode and senior defenseman Pat McCabe.

The team will also select "gameday captains", chosen based on contributions to the previous week's game and practice.

Army Gameday Captain: Chris Groel

Fairfield Gameday Captains: Max Edelmann and Christian Scarpello

PISCATAWAY, N.J. – No. 19 Rutgers men's lacrosse team defeated No. 17 Penn State 15-14 in front of 2,328 fans at High Point Solutions Stadium on Friday Night. The win puts the Scarlet Knights at 10-3 overall and 3-1 in the Big Ten. Rutgers also captured the Friendship Cup after defeating the Penn State (7-6, 1-3 Big Ten) and clinched its first ever bid to the Big Ten Conference Tournament.

Jules Heningburg had a career high six goals on the night. Heningburg's eight total points were a team high. Scott Bieda scored three goals and was second on the team with six total points. Adam Charalambides and Jeff George each scored two goals for the Scarlet Knights.

Rutgers trailed 6-1 and 13-9, but each time rallied back. The Scarlet Knights did not lead in the game until the 7:12 mark of the fourth quarter, but scored six of the final seven goals to ice the victory. The Scarlet Knights outshot the Nittany Lions 40 to 36 and recorded a 34-27 advantage in ground balls.

"I'm very proud of everything this team has accomplished," head coach Brian Brecht said. "This was a great night for our seniors. I'm happy and excited for them. We have some great leadership in that locker room. This was a great win for us, for our program, for our seniors, and for our alumni."

- With the win, Rutgers has reached 10 victories in a season for just the fifth time in program history (99 years) and for the first time since 2003.

- Rutgers now has multiple wins over ranked teams this season (No. 9 Johns Hopkins, No. 17 Penn State). The last time Rutgers defeated two ranked teams in the same season was 2004.

- Rutgers clinched its first ever berth in the Big Ten Conference Tournament.

- Jules Heningburg set career-highs with six goals and eight points. It was his first career sock trick.

- Heningburg leads the Big Ten with 37 goals.

- Rutgers now leads the series against Penn State 43-21.

- Jeff George had his first multi-goal game of the season.

- Chris Groel tied his career-high with six ground balls and now has a career-best 26 GBs this season.
