- At 7-3, the Spartans are off to their best start since the 2009-10 season when MSU started 7-2-1. This is the first time since the start of Big Ten play in 2013-14 that MSU has started 2-0. The Spartans are tied for second nationally in wins (7) behind Wisconsin (9).

- At Ohio State, MSU swept its first conference road series since Feb. 19-20, 2016 at Wisconsin. That was MSU's only previous road sweep in Big Ten play.

- MSU has swept 10 all-time B1G series at home, as well as one home-and-home series with Michigan. Three of MSU's 13 all-time weekend sweeps in Big Ten play came during the 2022-23 season.

- MSU has scored 46 goals, and its 4.60 goals per game is ranked second in the Big Ten and third nationally. The Spartans also rank second in the Big Ten (and nationally) in assists (85) and points (131).

- MSU's 12 goals at Ohio State is its most in a series this season. The Spartans have scored 10 or more goals in three of five series - its low was five goals in the two-game set at Boston College. Six goals matches MSU's single-game best this year - and MSU has scored four or more goals in nine of 10 games.

- MSU allowed two power play goals (in nine chances) at Ohio State and the penalty kill is currently at .816 (40-of-49), which ranks fourth in the Big Ten.

- MSU moved up one spot in each of the two national polls this week to No. 11. MSU has been ranked between No. 8 and No 12 in each of the five polls this season.

- MSU's 2023-24 opponents are currently a combined 151-78-39, (.636), the highest winning percentage of any team's opponents in the country.

- MSU's non-conference schedule includes two games at No. 3/3 Boston College, a potential matchup with preseason No. 10 Michigan Tech in the GLI, and against a pair of squads receiving votes in the preseason polls, Alaska and Canisius. MSU went 6-4 in non-conference games a year ago and is currently 5-3.

- MSU enters the weekend a perfect 4-0 at home this season with 15 games at Mason Rink on the schedule. With an 11-5-1 mark at Munn Ice Arena last season, MSU had double-digit victories in its home rink for the first time since 2011-12 (11). It was the most since 14 home wins in the 2007-08 season.

- Ten Big Ten conference victories in 2022-23 was the second-most for MSU in its B1G history. MSU won 11 B1G games in both 2014-15 (37 points) and 2019-20 (35 points).

- Through the five weeks of the season, MSU ranks 13th nationally in total attendance (25,594) and fifth in average attendance (6,399).

head coach adam nightingale

Adam Nightingale, a Spartan alumnus with hockey experience at the international, professional, collegiate and youth levels, was named the eighth head coach in Michigan State hockey history in May 2022 and had an impressive first season at the helm in 2022-23.

Nightingale's coaching trajectory includes quality experience at every level of competitive hockey. Whether at the top high school for developing young talent (Shattuck-St. Mary's), the United States National Team Development Program (USNTDP), collegiately at Michigan State, and with experience as both a video and bench coach in the NHL, the Spartan mentor has built a reputation of exceptional player development. At every step of his career, Nightingale has developed strong recruiting ties and professional relationships through all levels of hockey, helping him identify, coach, and develop young talent to reach their goals both on the ice and for life beyond hockey.

Nightingale's goal to recreate a culture of winning hockey within the Spartan program took a huge step forward in his first season. Winning 18 games – the third-most for a first-year head coach in program history – the Spartans finished in fifth place in the Big Ten standings after being selected seventh in the pre-season coaches poll. The squad posted a six-win improvement from the 2021-22 campaign, which was also the most victories for a Spartan team in more than a decade. In the postseason, Michigan State earned its first-ever Big Ten Tournament victory over Notre Dame, and went on to defeat the Irish in the best-of-three quarterfinal series to earn their way into the semifinals against top-ranked Minnesota. Nightingale was one of three finalists for Big Ten Coach of the Year at season's end.

While asking his charges to focus on process and improvement, nine Spartans posted career-best offensive numbers during Nightingale's first season, including two seniors – Nicolas Müller and Jagger Joshua – who more than doubled their three-season career totals. Joshua and graduate transfer Dylan St. Cyr (who also far surpassed his previous career bests in all statistical categories) both earned postseason All-Big Ten honors.

The summer of 2023 yielded a pair of NHL draft picks – MSU had two picks in the top two rounds of the same draft for the first time since 2006. Trey Augustine (41st overall, Detroit Red Wings) and Maxim Štrbák (45th overall, Buffalo Sabres) went just four picks apart in the second round.

Prior to coming back to his alma mater, Nightingale served as head coach at the US National Team Development Program in Plymouth, Mich. Guiding some of the top talent in world in the age group, he led his team to a silver medal at the U.S. Under-18 Men's World Championships in 2022. His roster boasted 22 Division I commitments.

Nightingale has supported seven U.S. teams on the international stage, which includes his head coaching duties with the U18's in 2022 and as a coach for the bronze medal-winning 2021 U.S. Men's World Championship Team. Previously, he was video coach for the U.S. Men's National Team three consecutive years (2017-19), including for the bronze medal-winning 2018 squad. He was also the video coach for the 2015 U.S. National Junior Team.

Prior to his time with the USNTDP, the Cheboygan, Michigan, native spent four seasons on NHL staffs. From 2017-20, he was a member of the Detroit Red Wings organization. As an assistant coach in 2019-20, he was responsible for player development, pre-scouting opponents and running the penalty kill. He worked as the video coach for his first two years in Detroit, a role he also held for the Buffalo Sabres in 2016-17.

Before joining the pro ranks, Nightingale served as head coach of the Shattuck-St. Mary's 14U (Bantam) Team in Faribault, Minnesota for two seasons (2014-16), leading the team to a national championship in 2016 as well as two years (2008-10) as the head coach of the Shattuck midget AA squad.

Between his stints at Shattuck, Nightingale was the director of hockey operations at Michigan State, serving at his alma mater overseeing all team video as well as team travel.

Adam Nightingale While he began his collegiate career at Lake Superior State, (2000-02), the final two seasons of Nightingale's collegiate playing career came at Michigan State (2003-05). Over a combined 118 games, he totaled 37 points (18g-19a). At MSU, he served as alternate captain for both of his playing seasons, and won the Spartan Fitness Award in 2004. Nightingale then went on to play parts of four seasons in the ECHL with the Gwinnett Gladiators, Greenville Grrrowl and Charlotte Checkers.

Nightingale's family includes his wife, Kristin, and three children, Trevor, Emmerson and Keeton. His older brother, Jason, is the Assistant Director of Amateur Scouting for the Buffalo Sabres, while his younger brother, Jared, is also a Spartan alumnus and is currently the assistant coach for the Rockford Ice Hogs of the AHL.
