SETTING THE SCENE...

- > At 9-4, Temple is riding a three-game conference win streak for the first time this season and sits in a tie for first in the AAC with North Texas.
- > Temple will play back-to-back games in Texas staying in the Lone Star state between its Thursday game at UTSA and its Sunday matinee at Rice.
- > Temple's history with both teams is brief - Temple won an earlier season game vs. UTSA in Philadelphia in the only prior match up and has never faced Rice.

HEADLINES

THE OWLS

- > Temple currently ranks 8th in the NCAA in offensive rebounds per game (16.3) and 19th in turnover margin (+5.04). The Owls also rank second in the AAC to USF in turnovers per game (14.3).
- > Tierra East (12.0 ppg) and Aleah Nelson (12.4 ppg) are scoring over 10 points per game. Seven players, including all five starters, are averaging over 6.6 points per game.
- > Nelson has continued to stake her claim as one of the best passers in the AAC, ranking second in the conference in assist/turnover ratio (+2.02) and fourth in assists per game (4.2). Only seven players in the nation have more points and more assists than Nelson.
- > On the boards, Rayne Tucker ranks 7th the AAC in rebounds per game with 7.9.

NOTABLE TEAM PERFORMANCES

- > Wichita State and at SMU: Nearly identical situations, down two as the final buzzer approaches. Each time Tierra East hit a three as time expired. At SMU the bucket was called off, however, a week later, the shot counted and Temple won by one 66-65.

- > USF: Temple beat the defending AAC Champion Bulls for the first time in six tries (59-55 on 2/10). Temple last claimed a victory in 2020.
- > UAB: Temple traveled to Birmingham and fueled by a 32-point 2nd qtr, came home with a 14-point road win.

NEWS AND NOTES

LAST TIME OUT

- > The Owls saw a well-balanced scoring effort, with four players finishing in double-digit scoring. Aleah Nelson (16), Demi Washington (14), Tarrionna Gary (12), and Tiarra East (12) all scored in double figures.
- > The game against Tulane marked the fourth straight game and fifth out of the last six that the Owls have outscored their opponents in the second quarter. Temple has won those quarters by an average of 12.2 points during that span.
- > Tiarra East's double-double today is the first of the season and the fourth of her career. Her 11 rebounds ties a single-game career high.

SCOUTING UTSA

- > The Roadrunners concluded non-conference play with a 6-5 record. Of their five losses, four came against high-profile opponents, including Arizona State, Texas Tech, Houston, and Oregon.
- > A trio of Roadrunners are averaging double-figures in Sidney Love (10.7 ppg), Kyra White (10.5 ppg), and Elyssa Coleman (11.4 ppg). Coleman also leads the team in rebounds with 7.5 per contest.
- > Karen Aston is in her 16th season as a Division I women's basketball coach and her third at UTSA. She has made stops at current AAC rivals Charlotte and North Texas before landing at Texas, where she coached for eight years. She is 318-199 in her career and 33-53 at UTSA.

ALEAH NELSON RUNS IT BACK

- > Star point guard Aleah Nelson is returning to Temple for a 5th season after a stellar senior campaign. The Baltimore native was named First-Team All Big 5 and Second-Team All-AAC.
- > Last season, Nelson scored her 1000th point against Duquesne in December. She scored 33 points in that game, tied for the 15th most in a single-game in Temple history.

ROLLING IN THE EAST

- > Junior forward Tiarra East has had ice in her veins recently.
- > At SMU (1/24) she shot a three as time expired with the game at 68-66. After review, it was deemed that the ball left her fingertips just after the buzzer.
- > Vs. Wichita State (1/31) she had a nearly identical situation, down two with the clock winding down. Again she drained a three - this time it was good and Temple won 66-65.

THE CAPTAINS

- > Tiarra East, Aleah Nelson, and Demi Washington were named team captains on the first day of practice. All three come different backgrounds in terms of their path to Temple and Coach Rich.
- > East is the only career Temple player of the three. She arrived to North Broad in 2021-22 under Coach Tonya Cardoza.
- > This will be the fourth season Nelson has spent under Richardson and her second as a captain. She followed Richardson to Temple from Towson last season.
- > Washington arrived this summer at The Nest after spending four seasons at Vanderbilt. She is one two first year captains under Coach Richardson, with the other being Nelson.

COACH RICH HITS 100

- > Temple head coach Diane Richardson earned her 100th career victory on 1/9/24 against Wichita State.
- > Richardson received well wishes from several coaches around the women's basketball world, including former Temple coach and two time national champion Dawn Staley.

YEAR TWO OF COACH RICH

- > This season will be the second of the Diane Richardson era on North Broad.
- > In her second season at Towson, Coach Rich took a monumental leap recording only the second 20 win season in Tigers program history at the time and qualifying for the only NCAA Tournament in the history of Towson women's basketball!

YEAH! YEAH!

- > Temple tends to wear pregame warmups that are emblazoned with "Yeah! Yeah!" a battle-cry from Coach Richardson to start the game.

> Rayne Tucker recorded her fifth double-double of the season. It was also her fourth straight game with rebounds in double-figures. She became the first player to record back-to-back double-doubles since program all-time leading scorer Mia Davis in November of 2021.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY OFFENSE

- > The hallmark of a Coach Rich led team is her "equal opportunity offense."
- > We have already seen a marked difference between this season and last in terms of scoring distribution. Last season, the vast majority of Temple's scoring production came from three players, Tiarra East, Tarryonna Gary, and Aleah Nelson. This season, eight players have hit double figures already.
- > In the equal opportunity offense, everybody gets and touch and everyone shoots. Richardson's teams have regularly scored in the high 70s and low 80s during her time at Towson.

OWLS FROM DEEEEEP

- > Temple had a tremendous day from beyond the arc against Delaware on December 14.
- > Temple shot 8-14 from deep (.571), it's best three point shooting day since Bucknell last season. Aleah Nelson went 5-6 from deep, the best single game three point shooting performance since Kristen McCarthy went 5-5 vs Richmond on 1/29/2011.

OPENING WITH A (HISTORIC) BANG

- > The Owls throttled Delaware State by a margin of 66 points, the largest margin of victory in program history.
- > Temple absolutely dominated the first quarter, jumping out to a 30-6 lead. The 26-point first quarter margin is the most of a Temple team since NCAA women's basketball began using quarters in the 2015-16 season. This was the first time Temple has scored 30 points in the first quarter of a game since 11/5/17 against the University of Charleston.
- > 109 points is the second most points scored in program history, while 43 field goals are the second most fields goal made in program history. Both second only to 1/17/83 against La Salle.
- > Eight Owls (Jaleesa Molina, Ines Piper, Tiarra East, Tarryonna Gary, Aleah Nelson, Rayne Tucker, Demi Washington, and Kendall Currence) scored in double-figures setting a new program best.
- > This was the first time Temple has scored 100 points in a game since 2015, also against Delaware State.
- > Temple's +24 rebound margin is the best since the Owls faced off against Sacred Heart on 12/9/15 (+26). 12 three pointers are also the most Temple has hit since the Owls knocked down 12 from downtown in the same game.

TECHICALLY DEBUTING

- > Possibly the two "newcomers" that will make the greatest impact on the Cherry & White this season are players that were already on the roster last season in guard Kendall Currence and center/forward Rayne Tucker.
- > Currence was a 1,000 point scorer at Northeastern where she faced off against Coach Rich, Nelson, and company as a conference foe. Currence was voted 2022 All-CAA after averaging a team-high 15.9 points. She sat out all of last season after tearing her ACL in preseason.
- > Tucker played for Richardson at Towson where she started 18 games and averaged 5.4 rebounds per contest. She was named 3rd team All-CAA in 2021 at James Madison.

TEMPLE TIGERS

- > In addition to Richardson, the Owls have several connections to Towson throughout the program.
- > Two of the three assistants on the Temple staff coached under Richardson in the Baltimore area. Cheyenne Curley was on the Towson staff for five years as Director of Basketball Operations before being elevated to an assistant in 2019. Myles Jackson took the same route, starting as Assistant Director of Operations before becoming an assistant in 2021-22.
- > On the support staff side, Director of Basketball Operations Jasmine Allen comes to Temple after filling the same role at Towson. Assistant Director of Basketball Ops Shelby Bailey-Smilely was a student manager at Towson last season while Video Coordinator Aaron Thomas previously held the role at Towson.
- > On the court, Aleah Nelson, Rayne Tucker, and Tarryonna Gary all played at Towson under Richardson.

SOMETHING IN THE WATER

- > The DMV (DC, Maryland, Virginia) is well known for having some of the best high school basketball in the nation, with Maryland having the highest percentage of D1 basketball players in the nation (5% of high school seniors in 2017).
- > Temple has deep Maryland roots, with four players hailing from the state (Aleah Nelson, Rayne Tucker, Makayla Waleed, and Channing Williams). Additionally, Coach Rich herself is a Maryland native, with all three assistants and several members of the support staff also having ties to the region.
- > Despite originating in North Carolina, both Drew Alexander and Demi Washington attended high school in Maryland.

WISE OWLS

- > Temple has seven players listed as a senior/5th/grad student, including five in their final season of eligibility (Currence, Nelson, Solis, Tucker, and Washington). Temple is tied with North Texas for the most players listed in their final season in the AAC.
- > Of the five players in their final campaign, only two (Nelson and Solis) saw action for the Cherry & White prior to this season.

REFRESHING TO HAVE FRESHMEN

- > This season, Temple has five freshmen, tied with Memphis for the most in the conference. This means the Temple has both one of the oldest, and youngest rosters in the American this season.
- > Last season, Temple housed just one freshman on the roster (Kourtney Wilson). Wilson left the team on her own terms in January after playing only four games.

CROSSING THE POND

- > Temple has two European imports on the roster in forwards Jaleesa Molina and Ines Piper.
- > Piper had a solid first season for the Owls in 2022-23. Molina arrives at Temple after playing several high level seasons in her native Netherlands. She represented the Orange Lions on the international stage at the FIBA U-20 championships where she helped the squad win bronze.

FUNKY COLD MOLINA

- > Jaleesa Molina is believed to be the first number 8 in Temple women's basketball history.

A BIG TIME CLASS IN '24

- > Coach Rich and Temple added three signees to the class of 2024 on National Signing Day. Kelain Cedano, Savvanah Curry, and Adena Webster.
- > Massachusettes native Cedano played at a nationally ranked high school and held offers from several ACC and BIG EAST programs alongside AAC Champion ECU.
- > Curry is a Pennsylvania high school star and state champion. She was ranked No. 37 nationally by Blue Star Basketball.
- > Adena Webster hails from the Bahamas, and ranked second in scoring among juniors last season (34.5 ppg).

WNBA CONNECTIONS

- > The Owls' program is brimming with WNBA connections at every level.
- > Alumnus Shey Peddy has spent the last four seasons with the Phoenix Mercury, including playing a key role in the 2021 WNBA Finals run.

The Temple women's basketball team has 11 active players in professional basketball leagues around the world and one alumnae who is coaching in the largest basketball league in the world, the NBA. While Shey "Playoff P" Peddy is the only player currently in the WNBA, several players are among the best in their respective leagues, including 2023 Mexican League champion Tanaya Atkinson.

One of the most interesting stories among Temple's professional alumnae is Candice Dupree, one of only six active women on NBA staffs. Dupree was hired as a player development coach in 2022 following a stellar playing career. After being sixth overall in the 2006 WNBA draft, Dupree was a 7-time WNBA All-Star and 2014 WNBA Champion with the Pheonix Mercury. The 2016 Temple Hall of Fame inductee is a two time FIBA World Cup Champion.

HEAD COACH

DIANE RICHARDSON

Diane Richardson was named the 21st head women's basketball coach of Temple University on April 5, 2022.

Richardson, who led Towson to more postseason appearances (2) in her five years at the helm than in the program's previous 49 seasons of existence (1), owns an 80-66 overall head coaching record at Towson. In 2021-22, she led Towson to a school record 24 wins and only its second berth in the Women's National Invitation Tournament (WNIT).

In 2018-19, her second season as Towson's head coach, Richardson led the Tigers to the Colonial Athletic Association Tournament Championship and the program's first NCAA Tournament berth in program history. Towson finished that season with a 20-13 overall record, marking just the second 20-win season in program history.

Under Richardson, Towson's Kionna Jeter became the first player in program history to be selected in the WNBA Draft when she was drafted in the third round of the 2021 draft. Jeter enjoyed sustained success under Richardson's guidance as she was also the first player in program history to earn three consecutive All-CAA first team selections.

Before Towson, Richardson worked as an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at West Virginia University (2016-17) following coaching stints at George Washington University (2012-16), the University of Maryland (2007-08), and American University (2006-07). As the recruiting coordinator at West Virginia, Richardson led the efforts which helped the Mountaineers' 2017 recruiting class being ranked No. 17 by ESPNW.

At Maryland, she helped lead the Terapins to a 33-4 record and a number one seed in the NCAA Tournament. In eight years of head coaching experience at the high school level, Richardson led Riverdale Baptist High School in Upper Marlboro, Md. to five National Championships and was ranked in USA Today's Top 10 in five of her eight years. Richardson was named the National High School Coach of the Year in 2005 and coached a host of talented players including Temple alum Tyonna

Williams, a 1,000-point career scorer.

From 2009-2016, Richardson coached WNBA All-Star Jonquel Jones at Riverdale Baptist (2009-12) and again at George Washington (2012-16). Jones was selected sixth overall in the 2016 WNBA Draft after being one of the most decorated players in George Washington's history.

Richardson's path to coaching was a unique one. A highly successful businesswoman who was named one of the top female executives in the country in 1995, Richardson, who at the time was the Founder and COO of American Security Corporation, decided to walk away from corporate America to pursue her passion for mentoring young women through coaching basketball.

Richardson earned her master's degree in management from Central Michigan in 1984 and holds a bachelor's degree in psychology and sociology from Frostburg State. As the 1979 NCAA Regional Champion in the 200- and 400-meter races, she earned a spot on the 1980 U.S. Olympic team.

Richardson and her husband, Larry, have four children – Dana, Larry "Donnie" II, Jonquel and Michael.
