► Tip-Off

The Towson University women's basketball team has embarked on a trip to Puerto Rico to face UTSA and Youngstown State in the Tigers' final non-conference road games of the 2024-25 season.

The game will stream live on puertoricocollegesportstours.com.

Last Time Out

Towson hosted Liberty in its home opener last Sunday. After a halftime deficit, the Tigers outscored Liberty, 38-33, in the second half. The Tigers tied the game in the fourth quarter at 55 before the Lady Flames prevailed, 64-57, at TU Arena in Towson, Md.

Scouting the Tigers

The Tigers began the 2024-25 season facing two AP top 25 teams along with three formidable foes, all on the road. Towson lost its first game of the season at No. 16 West Virginia. It's next two came against George Mason and Morgan State. In the final minutes against the Lady Bears, the Tigers had opportunities to take a lead but couldn't connect to fall, 64-63. The Black & Gold then visited College Park to face No. 11 Maryland, the alma mater of Head Coach Laura Harper. The Tigers hung around early, only trailing by 14 at the half, before the Terps pulled away in the second half for the victory. In their last game of the five-game road stand to begin the season against George Washington, the Revolutionaries outlasted the Tigers for the victory in the nation's capital.

Scouting the Roadrunners

UTSA enters Friday's matchup at 4-1 to open the season in the non-conference slate. The Roadrunners were picked to finish fifth in the American Athletic Association (AAC) Preseason Poll. They boast one preseason all-conference selection in redshirt-senior forward Jordyn Jenkins, a transfer from USC.

Scouting the Penguins

Youngstown State enters the weekend at 4-2 overall with a matchup against Southern Indiana on Friday before facing the Tigers. The Penguins were picked to finish fifth in the Horizon League Preseason Poll.

Leading the Way

Junior guard India Johnston put up a season-high 22 points against #11 Maryland earlier this season, finishing just two points shy of matching her career high of 24 against George Washington last year. She's averaging 13.0 points per game and 2.5 assists per game, which both lead the team for the Tigers.

Impact Freshmen

The two Tiger freshmen have become impactful rotation players quickly in the 2024-25 season. Forward Khady Leye ranks third on the team with 8.3 PPG, first with 7.8 rebounds per game, third with 1.7 APG and tied for second with 1.3 steals per game. Guard Shariah Baynes is tied with Johnston for the team lead with 2.5 APG and stands fourth in scoring with 7.0 PPG. Baynes is adding a team-high 1.5 steals per game.

Fresh Faces

The Tigers welcome five newcomers to the team this season, highlighted by CAA transfer Deja Bristol from Northeastern, who averaged 10.4 points and 5.8 rebounds/game for the Huskies last season. Other transfers include junior guard Masyn Marchbanks from Samford, who averaged 8.4 points and 2.6 assists in 22.5 minutes per game for the Bulldogs last season, and graduate guard Jordan Wakefield, who most recently played for George Mason in the 2021-22 season. Tiger freshmen include 6'2" forward Khady Leye from Louga, Senegal and guard Shariah Baynes.

CAA Preseason Poll

In the 2024-25 Coastal Athletic Association (CAA) Women's Basketball Preseason Poll, Towson was selected to finish third with one first-place vote. N.C. A&T led the way with 11 first-place votes. Drexel finished second with two first-place votes. Charleston and William & Mary finished in a tie for fourth, while Delaware and Elon completed the top half of the table. Campbell, Stony Brook, Monmouth, UNCW, Hofstra, Northeastern and Hampton rounded out the group.

Returning Percentages

Towson returns eight players from last year's 20-11 team, including 2023-24 All-CAA Second Team selection Patricia Anumgba. Other returners include junior guard India Johnston and forwards Kayla Morris and Anasia Staton. The Tigers return 48.5% of their scoring alongside 46.1% of their rebounding from a season ago.

Welcoming Coaches

The Tigers welcome two new assistant coaches to the staff ahead of the 2024-25 season. Eric Atkins, who most recently served as an assistant coach for the Wisconsin Herd, the National Basketball Association (NBA) G-League affiliate for the Milwaukee Bucks, joined the staff in July. Atkins played college basketball for the Notre Dame Fighting Irish, where he graduated in 2014. He is the first three-year captain in the history of Notre Dame men's basketball. Also joining the staff is Lorie Khalil, who joins with 19 years of Division III coaching experience, including 10 seasons with Penn State Lehigh Valley most recently. She joins the staff with a 252-155 overall coaching record in 19 years across three D-III institutions.

League Honors

Patricia Anumgba was named an All-CAA First Team selection after leading the Tigers with 14.4 points/game last season. The senior guard posted 3.2 rebounds/game, adding 2.2 assists. Anumgba is also the team's leading returner with 44 steals from a season ago. She was one of four unanimous first team selections in the preseason poll.

Last Season's Recap

Towson finished the regular season 20-11 last season with an 11-7 mark in conference play, earning the sixth seed to the CAA Tournament in Washington, D.C. The Tigers defeated the 11-seed Northeastern Huskies before securing a spot in the CAA Tournament Semifinals with a win over 3-seed Charleston. In the semis vs. Drexel, the Black & Gold fell 68-69, finishing two points shy of securing a spot in the CAA Championship game for the second year in a row.

TU Fortress

The Tigers hold a 91-63 (.591) home record since TU Arena was built, including a 35-19 (.648) record against non-conference opponents. Towson holds a 56-44 (.560) against CAA foes. The Tigers finished with a 9-4 record at home and had an 8-1 home record in conference play last year.

Next Up

The Tigers will return to TU Arena to face UMBC for their annual STEM Day game on Wednesday, Dec. 4, at 11 a.m. The final three games of the non-conference slate will all be played at the Tigers' home arena.

Laura Harper, who helped the University of Maryland win a national championship as a player, was named Towson University's Women's Basketball head coach on April 20, 2022.

"Laura Harper embodies all that Towson Athletics is looking for in the next leader of our women's basketball program," Director of Athletics Steve Eigenbrot said. "Her background and understanding of this area uniquely positioned her to build on the amazing foundation we have in place. We have found an excellent, high-energy leader in Laura that represents a thrilling next chapter for this program."

"I am ecstatic to accept this position as the Towson women's basketball head coach," said Harper, who replaces Diane Richardson. "I think the championship caliber culture that was instilled by Coach Rich is admirable and coming from the leadership that Brenda Frese taught me at the University of Maryland, I know what it takes to win. I am so excited that this group of young student-athletes are ready and prepared to continue their journey of success. I am eager, I am excited and I am ready to be the leader that believes and trusts in them."

"This is a home run hire for Towson," Frese said. "Laura is a rising star in our profession. All she does is win wherever she has been. Laura is a passionate, relational, competitive person who will continue to uphold the standard for the Towson Tigers. What a great day for Towson Women's Basketball."

Harper comes to Towson after a two-year stint as head coach at Coppin State University. In 2021-22, Harper guided the Eagles to one of the largest turnarounds in the nation and earned Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference (MEAC) Coach of the Year honors in her second season at the helm. The Eagles won a school-record six games against Division I non-conference opponents, had a six-game win streak midway through the year and had their first winning campaign (15-13) since the 2013-14 season. In the four seasons before her arrival, Coppin went a combined 22-95. Jaia Alexander was named the 2021-22 MEAC Player of the Year while Aliyah Lawson also earned First-

HEAD COACH LAURA HARPER

Team All-MEAC honors.

Prior to taking over at Coppin, Harper worked as an assistant coach at five NCAA Division I institutions and was head coach at one of the top collegiate preparatory schools in Florida.

Harper won 18 games as the head coach at Montverde Academy in 2019-20 with a team where five seniors earned NCAA Division I scholarships.

From 2017-19, Harper assisted the women's basketball team at the University of Florida for two seasons. Under her tutelage, Paulina Hersler and Haley Lorenzen had career years as seniors.

Harper spent the 2016-17 season at George Washington University under Women's Basketball Hall of Fame player Jennifer Rizzotti. That season, the Colonials won an Atlantic 10 regular season championship and advanced to the WNIT. Post players Lexi Martins and Caira Washington received all-conference honors.

From 2014-16, she worked as an assistant coach at High Point University. The Panthers won 20 games during the 2014-15 season and advanced to the Big South championship game. Stacia Robertson was named the Big South Player of the Year and an Associated Press Honorable Mention All-American before going on to play overseas.

Harper spent the 2013-14 season as an assistant at Loyola University Maryland. She was responsible for post player development, scouting and served as an academic liaison for the Greyhounds.

Immediately before going to Loyola, Harper spent the summer of 2013 coaching at American University after finishing her five-year professional career.

As a sophomore at Maryland, Harper led the Terrapins to the 2006 National Championship. She received the NCAA Final Four Most Outstanding Player award after scoring a then career-best 24 points in the semifinal victory over North Carolina. Two days later, Harper recorded 16 points in the title win against Duke. While in College Park, Harper scored 1,407 points, grabbed 873 rebounds, and broke the school record with 198 blocks. In her senior year, she was an Associated Press Honorable Mention All-American and Third Team All-Atlantic Coast Conference (ACC) selection after averaging 14.1 points and 8.5 rebounds per game. She was a Naismith Award finalist during her junior season. On February 5, 2009, Harper's No. 15 jersey was raised to the rafters at Xfinity Center.

Following her collegiate career, Harper was the 10th overall selection of the Sacramento Monarchs in the 2008 WNBA Draft. In two seasons, she averaged 5.0 points and 3.7 rebounds per game in 67 appearances. In her rookie campaign, she ranked in the top 10 among first-year players in field goal percentage (5th-.474), rebounds (6th-4.0) and blocks (6th-0.6) plus was 13th in points (5.5).

Harper spent the next three seasons overseas playing in Italy, Turkey and Russia before beginning her coaching career.

In addition to her collegiate success, Harper was a member of the U21 national team, where she helped the United States to a gold medal at the 2007 FIBA U21 World Championship in Russia. She was a starter for the 2004 USA U18 team which won the gold medal at the FIBA Americas Championship. During that tournament she averaged 12.8 points, while shooting 63 percent from the floor.

Originally from Elkins Park, Pa., Harper earned a communications degree from Maryland. Her father, Haviland Harper, played basketball at George Washington from 1973-76.
