AAVSB Position(s) of Interest:

If elected to an AAVSB position, my preference would be as an ICVA Representative. If that position is not available, I'm also interested in a position on the AAVSB Board of Directors. I know I can contribute to either position, having actively served on numerous boards. My role on the AVMA Board of Directors ends in June 2024, reducing my scheduled obligations.

Personal Characteristics:

I naturally create contagious confidence to begin any project. I pride myself in my ability to understand, relate to and interact with people from many walks of life. I can effortlessly discuss complex medical conditions with laypersons or field specialists. This flexible communication style comes from my breadth of previous working and educational experiences, as well as my personal experiences. My Strengths (StrengthsFinder®) are Activator, Learner, Belief, Achiever, and Consistency. I am drawn to new projects and challenges, such as my involvement in Otto (formerly TeleVet). I maintain physical and psychological fitness with kettlebell sport and am continually developing my personal and professional leadership skills. I also have a strong interest in wellbeing and methods to utilize technical teams within the veterinary profession.

RE: Nomination of Dr. Jennifer K. Quammen, DVM, MPH as an AAVSB
Representative to the International Council for Veterinary Assessment (ICVA)

Dear Dr. Roger Redman and Members of the Nominating Committee,

It is with pleasure that Members of the Kentucky Board of Veterinary Examiners (KBVE) nominate Jennifer K. Quammen, DVM, MPH, and KBVE Board Member, for the open position as an AAVSB Representative to the International Council for Veterinary Assessment (ICVA).

Dr. Quammen was appointed to the KBVE in October 2023. She currently serves on the Applications Committee, Government Affairs Committee, and the Education and Outreach Committee. During her initial months as a Board Member on the KBVE, Dr. Quammen has been a highly engaged participant.

Although Dr. Quammen is attending her first AAVSB Annual Meeting during September 2024, she is no stranger to board and association work for the veterinary profession. She has been involved with the American Veterinary Medical Association (AVMA) committees and councils since 2013. She completes the 2022-24 AVMA Vice President term in June of this year. During her tenure, she enjoyed the opportunity to visit dozens of Council on Education (COE)-accredited colleges of veterinary medicine to connect with students, faculty, and administrators. She has developed a deep understanding of the challenges facing veterinary colleges across the country.

In addition to her role on the national association's board, Dr. Quammen has maintained leadership roles in the state and regional VMAs. She has been closely involved with the Kentucky Veterinary Medical Association (KVMA) since 2011 and served as the President of KVMA during 2018-2019. Further, she has been an active member and board member of the Northern Kentucky University Alumni Association since 2004, Society for Veterinary Medicinal Ethics since 2019, and the Friends of the Stealy Library since 2023. Dr. Quammen was also a member of the Veterinary Leadership Institute 2012-2019.

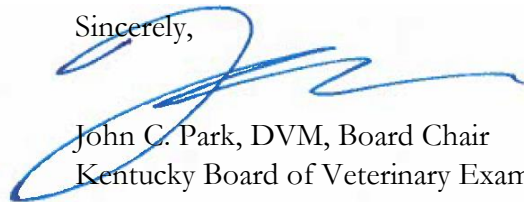

Dr. Quammen began her veterinary career as a veterinary technician. She completed a Master of Public Health in May 2010 and a DVM degree in June 2011. Today, Dr. Quammen operates multiple businesses, including Veterinarian Coaching, a business she co-founded. She was the medical director for a small, mixed animal hospital in Grants Lick, KY, and now serves as the Chief Veterinary Officer for Otto (formerly TeleVet). Additionally, Dr. Quammen operates a relief veterinary service and is currently licensed in five (5) U.S. jurisdictions.

Her passion for the veterinary profession keeps Dr. Quammen motivated to serve in a wide variety of roles. She is an expert at juggling responsibilities and travel schedules to accomplish her objectives. She thoroughly enjoys interacting with people and is a mighty motivator, bringing tremendous energy to any group she engages with.

Dr. Quammen is a dedicated member of the veterinary community with a wealth of veterinary knowledge and skills that apply directly to AAVSB's mission. Her variety of experiences and current involvement bring invaluable perspectives to KBVE and all the organizations with which she serves. In short, Dr. Quammen is a superb candidate to serve as the AAVSB ICVA representative, and it is the hope of Members of the KBVE that she be elected to serve in this important role at the national level.

Sincerely,

John C. Park, DVM, Board Chair
