April Topic is

Growth and life cycles

Here are some ideas to support your child at home

Literacy

- Visit the local library to read some non-fiction books that discuss plants, animals and their life cycles

Numeracy

- Use seeds and beans as a way of counting
- If planting in the garden, let your child measure the amount of water used

Discussion

- When on family trips or out and about walking, see if your child can tell you of any changes in the natural environment, such as plants growing, leaves appearing on trees or baby animals being born
- When discussing the natural world ask your child 'why' and 'how' questions to initiate deeper thinking

Notes

- As the weather becomes drier and warmer we will be inviting parent's/carers to come and help develop and plant in our allotment area. Dates to be confirmed
