WRITING LESSON
FAIRY TALES FROM AROUND THE WORLD
50 MINUTES
GOOGLE EARTH USAGE OVERVIEW:

Teachers will foster real world connections to examples of fairy tales from around the world using the Voyager Story, Fairy Tales from Around the World. Students will identify common characteristics of fairy tales and use them to generate a fairy tale.

LESSON SUMMARY:

- In this writing exercise, students will identify characteristics specific to fairy tales such as the use of magic and the “rule of three”.

- Students will also explore 3 examples of how authors found inspiration in their surroundings and included elements of the real world in the fairy tales they wrote.

- Students will apply their understanding of the characteristics of fairy tales and their connection to the real world to generate a fairy tale of their own that includes all five plot elements, the use of magic, the “rule of three”, and is set in their hometown.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

- Students will identify key characteristics of a fairy tale (includes elements of magic, includes the “rule of three”).

- Students will identify author’s reference to the real world in 3 examples of fairy tales from around the world.

- Students will apply key characteristics of a fairy tale, knowledge of plot elements, and inspiration from their local environment to write a fairy tale of their own.

LESSON PLAN

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>INTRODUCE (1 minute)</th>
<th>Today we will explore the writing genre of fairy tales and use elements of our local surroundings to write fairy tales of our own. Ask: What are some common examples of fairy tales?</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| EXPLORE (5 minutes)  | 1. Introduce Slide 1 of Fairy Tales from Around the World. Point to the imagery of the globe with pins in multiple different locations. Fairy tales have been written in many cultures all over the world!
2. Read the text aloud on Slide 1. Regardless of their origins, most fairy tales have common characteristics that set them apart from other genres of stories.
   - Magic! Fairy tales include elements of magic such as fairies, witches, ogres, dragons, or magical items.
   - The "rule of three"- Fairy tales often make reference to the number three, for example three main characters, three events, three wishes, etc. |
| ENGAGE (15 minutes)  | 1. Let’s look at 3 examples of fairy tales from different countries around the world. (In order to stay within the 15 minute time frame, focus only on Slides 2, 3, and 7)
   - Introduce Slide 2: “Cinderella”. Explore the area using Street View and watch the video. Turn and Talk: How did Charles Perrault use elements of real world France in his version of Cinderella? (castles, prince).
   - Introduce Slide 3: “The Funny Little Woman”. Read the text, explore the area using Street View and watch the video. Turn and Talk: How did Arlene Mosel incorporate elements of real world Japan into the story "The Funny Little Woman"? (Scenery, Jizo statues, food)
   - Introduce Slide 7: Abiyoyo. Read the text and watch the video. Turn and Talk: What elements of real world Germany are evident in Hansel and Gretel. How are those elements different in the African version? (spooky woods vs. jungle full of plants and animals)
2. Quick Write: Make a list of three elements of your local environment or culture that you could include in a fairy tale. (i.e. landmarks, geographical features, foods, traditions, commonly used objects) |
| EXTEND (25 minutes) | 1. Now you have identified common characteristics of fairy tales from around the world as well as the way that authors use elements of the real world to inspire them.
2. Introduce the fairy tale writing prompt: Write a fairy tale that takes place in your hometown. Use elements of your real world, magic, and the “rule of three”. Be sure to include all five plot elements in your story.
3. Students work independently or with a partner to write fairy tales. |
