Help Sampson find his bone!

Find a friend and play this box-making game!

You must each take a turn and connect a dot with a line. Here's an example: You must try to make a complete square. Here's another example: Once you complete a square, write the letter of your first name in it. Here's an example: Whoever has the most squares at the end is the winner.

In this lesson, we learned about being "Born Again." Do you remember what T. J. learned? Try and answer these questions.
