HEAD COACH: JOSE VAZQUEZ

Jose Vazquez begins his first year at Alabama State University.

Vazquez has spent 14 seasons as an assistant baseball coach, the last six as Associate Head Coach, including five seasons at Alabama State. In addition to the day-to-day duties of the Alabama State baseball program, Vazquez has coached Hornet hitters and outfielders and is widely regarded as one of the top recruiters in the nation.

Vazquez, named the 2013 Assistant Coach of the Year by the Alabama Baseball Coaches Association, has helped Alabama State post a Top 60 recruiting class each year, as rated by Perfect Game, the largest amateur baseball scouting service in the nation.

He has played in an integral role in the rise of Alabama State baseball into a championship program. Vazquez helped the Hornets land C Richard Gonzalez and OF Richard Amion in the 2011 signing class, both of whom would go on to earn Freshman All-America accolades in 2012. Those two players, along with another 2011 signee in SS Emmanuel Marrero, would prove to be cornerstone pieces of the ASU program, leading the team to 89 wins from 2012-14. All three players were selected in the 2014 Major League Baseball Amateur Draft.

In 2015, two other freshmen from the initial signing class, RHPs Armando Ruiz and Michael Estevez, along with 2012 signing class pitcher Jorge Pantoja, were drafted for signed to pro contracts.

This past season, RHP Angel Alicea was drafted by the Toronto Blue Jays, and three-time SWAC Pitcher of the Year Joseph Camacho signed a free agent contract with the Oakland A's. Alabama State has had nine players earn a chance to play professional baseball, with six players drafted, all in the last three seasons.

In 2016, the Hornets set a school record with 64 home runs as Alabama State baseball won a school record 38 games, including an unprecedented 24-0 record in Southwestern Athletic Conference play, in winning the first SWAC Championship in program history and earning ASU first berth to the Division I NCAA Baseball Tournament.

Under Vazquez' guidance, the Hornets have become a more potent offensive team each season. In 2012, with 18 true freshmen on the roster, the Hornets hit .247 (7th SWAC) with no

.300 hitters and 14 home runs as the team won 20 games for the first time since 2002. ASU improved in 2013 to hit .282 (second in SWAC) with four .300 hitters and 26 home runs (1st in SWAC), and last season hit .292 with four .300 hitters and 35 home runs.

The Hornets led the SWAC in all major batting categories in 2014, including batting average, on-base percentage, slugging percentage, runs scored, hits, RBI, triples and home runs. In 2015 the Hornets were first in on-base percentage and slugging percentage, second in batting average, runs scored, home runs and RBI, and third in hits.

Prior to Alabama State, Vazquez spent the previous nine seasons as assistant coach at Bethune-Cookman, with 2011 his first as Associate Head Coach. Vazquez played a prominent role in the programs' success, bringing in players that posted a staggering 100-4 MEAC record over the final six seasons, all ending in conference titles and NCAA Tournament appearances.

Playing under former ASU head coach Mervyl Melendez at B-CU, Vazquez earned all-conference honors as a catcher in his only season with the Wildcats, transferring there for his senior season in 2002. As a starter, Vazquez helped post the best record in school history (39-22), including the programs' only NCAA Regional victory over Florida International.

Vazquez then joined the coaching ranks, first as a student in 2003 and, upon graduating, a full-time assistant.

A native of Bayamon, Puerto Rico, Vazquez is married to the former Jana Swanson. The couple has two daughters, Liana and Elaisa.

ASSISTANT COACHES

Drew Clark • Associate Head Coach/Recruiting Coordinator • Bethune-Cookman, 2009

Drew Clark enters his sixth season on the Alabama State baseball staff. Clark works with ASU's catchers and assists with hitting and recruiting.

Clark helped catcher Richard Gonzalez to develop into one of the best catchers in the nation in earning freshman All-America honors in 2012 as he became a three-time All-SWAC selection. Gonzalez threw out 70 base stealers, while picking 20 runners of base in his career.

Gonzalez, along with SS Emmanuel Marrero and OF Richard Amion would form the trio to lead the Hornets to a program best 89 wins over a three-year period, with all three players earning 2014 first-team All-SWAC honors, and were selected in the 2014 Major League Baseball Amateur Draft. Alabama State scored six or more runs 36 times in 2014, winning on 32 occasions. In 2015, the Hornets scored six or more runs 32 times, winning 26 of those contests.

The Hornets' power numbers have steadily improved each season. ASU went from sixth in the SWAC in home runs (14) in 2012 to leading the league in round trippers each of the last two seasons (26 in 2013, 35 in 2014). Clark's efforts helped him earn 2014 Assistant Coach of the Year by the Alabama State Baseball Coaches Association. In 2015, the Hornets were second in the second in the SWAC with 38 home runs.

Clark joined the coaching ranks in 2010 after a four-year career playing catcher at Bethune-Cookman, winning more than 150 games, four Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference championships and four appearances in the NCAA Tournament.

Clark is married to the former Carrie D'Ippolito, a native of Ormond Beach, Fla. The couple has one son, Jaxon Colt Clark.

Matt Crane • Assistant Coach/Pitching • Bethune-Cookman, 2009

Matt Crane is in his fifth season on the Alabama State baseball staff, his fifth as assistant coach under Head Coach Mervyl Melendez, as Crane worked with Bethune-Cookman pitchers as assistant coach from 2010-11. Among his responsibilities, Crane is in charge of the Hornets' pitching staff, scheduling and serves as director of all Alabama State Baseball Camps.

He has helped produced three consecutive Southwestern Athletic Conference Pitchers of the Year in T.J. Renda (2013) and Joseph Camacho (2014, 2015).

A trio of pitchers from the 2015 team signed pro contracts, including relief pitchers Armando Ruiz (29th round, Oakland) Jorge Pantoja (30th round, Washington), and Michael Estevez (FA, Toronto).

Under Crane, Alabama State has ranked in the top four in the SWAC in earned run average and top three in strikeouts each season. Despite a staff of eight true freshmen and only two upper classmen in 2012, the Hornets ranked fourth in ERA at 5.02 and were third in strikeouts with 350. In 2013, Hornet pitchers were second in ERA at 4.38 and lead the SWAC with 435 strikeouts. In 2014 ASU's ERA improved to 4.25 (3rd in SWAC) while once again leading the league in strikeouts (373). Last season, the Hornets were again third in the league in ERA (4.87), and were first in strikeouts (446) for the third straight year.

Crane had a successful two-year stint as a pitcher in the Wildcats' program and was a part of two MEAC Championship teams and two NCAA Tournament appearances. Crane transferred to B-CU after playing two seasons at Kellogg Community College in Battle Creek, Michigan. He helped the Bruins to a runner-up finish in the NJCAA Division II World Series in 2007 as a starter and reliever.

Crane a native of Flint, Michigan, was married to Ashley this past September.

WHEELER-WATKINS BASEBALL COMPLEX

The Wheeler-Watkins Baseball Complex has given Hornets baseball an on-campus facility to call home and has emerged as one of the toughest road venues in the Southwestern Athletic Conference.

The $3.9 million baseball complex was completed in the spring of 2011, and brought baseball back to ASU's campus for the first time since 1996.

The bermuda grass playing surface is one of the best in the region.

And while the cozy venue provides an intimate setting for college baseball, its major league-like dimensions (330 LL - 375 LC - 400 C - 375 RC - 330 RL) gives pitchers an advantage, ensuring home runs that leave the park have been earned.

Alabama State has won just more than 67 percent of its games at the facility (85-41) since opening on March 26, 2011, including winning more than 69 percent (81-36) in the Mervyl Melendez era.

The Wheeler-Watkins Baseball Complex was dedicated in February, 2012. The complex is named in honor of the second and third head baseball coaches in program history, Herbert Wheeler and Larry Watkins.

Wheeler earned both his undergraduate (1937) and graduate (1967) degrees from ASU. He played several sports, and his athletic abilities earned him the nickname "Hot Dog." Wheeler played for George "Pops" Lockhart, who founded the Hornet baseball program in 1926, Wheeler became head coach of the baseball team in the 1960s and led the Hornets until 1981, passing the torch to his former player and assistant coach.

Watkins (left), a native of Thomasville, Ala., earned his undergraduate (1973) and graduate (1975) degrees from ASU. He played for Coach Wheeler as a student, and joined his coaching staff after graduating. As a player, coach and administrator, Watkins has served the University for more than 45 years.

Watkins took over as head coach in 1982, a position he held for 30 years. His teams earned more than 500 wins, making him the all-time leader in wins in ASU history. He is currently special assistant to the athletic director.
