Iowa Baseball Outlook

2004 IOWA BASEBALL

"Building the Foundation." This is the theme new Iowa Head Coach Jack Dahm and his staff are using to lay a solid foundation for the future of the Iowa baseball program.

Dahm inherits 17 letterwinners from 2003. He has stressed the importance of building a team from the ground up. Dahm and his staff have set a priority in the program on pitching and defense. The team will also have an aggressive mentality in all phases of the game.

"We're excited about the season," said Dahm. "The coaching staff is excited about the current talent level in the program. Our players worked extremely hard this off-season and they've had tremendous attitudes. Hopefully, this will allow us to take a step forward this spring."

PITCHING

The pitching staff made great strides last fall under the direction of pitching coach Nick Zumsande. Zumsande has enjoyed success in the Big 12 and Missouri Valley Conferences and Dahm expects that to continue in the Big Ten.

"The staff made a lot of progress and responded well to Coach Zumsande's philosophies and approach to pitching," explained Dahm. "He has established himself as one of the top pitching coaches in the country and I'm totally confident that will continue at Iowa."

In the starting rotation, senior Nathan Johnson returns as the ace of the staff after being the Hawkeyes' top pitcher a year ago. Johnson garnered third team all-Big Ten accolades in 2003 after compiling a 6-2 record with a team-leading 3.38 ERA. Johnson led the team with 53 strikeouts in 58.2 innings.

"Nathan proved that he can be a quality starter in the Big Ten last season," explained Dahm. "He has a maturity about him that he brings to the mound and he possesses the confidence that makes him a legit number one starter. He gives us a good chance to win the series openers."

Behind Johnson, the Hawkeyes lack experience, but the potential is enormous.

Two righthanders that are slotted to appear in the rotation are sophomore Austin Seward and redshirt freshman Ryan Dupic. Seward saw limited action last season as he pitched only five innings.

"Austin and Ryan are both pitchers with tremendous ability," explained Dahm. "Austin has one of the best arms on our team and the only thing he is lacking is game experience. He just needs to get out there and get some innings to build up his confidence. Ryan has a great arm and is an outstanding athlete. He has the whole package and can develop into a good Big Ten pitcher with experience."

Dahm likes having a southpaw in the starting rotation, so he will turn to junior Jeff Maitland to fill that role. Maitland struck out ten in 28 2/3 innings last season after serving as Iowa's primary mid-week starter.

"Jeff pitched well last summer and it really carried over into the fall," stated Dahm. "He has a good feel for pitching with a strong change-up. He is not afraid to work both sides of the plate."

Freshmen Casey O'Rourke and Michael Washburn could come in and compete for a spot in the rotation after having stellar high school careers. O'Rourke was an Iowa Elite-Team all-state selection, while Washburn holds the Sioux City East school record for strikeouts in a season.

"Casey and Michael both have bright futures," explained Dahm. "Casey has shown a lot of composure and Michael has one of the top arms on the team. Both of these freshmen will get valuable experience early in the year. They will possibly have a shot of earning a spot in the rotation by the middle of the year."

The Hawkeyes return three of their top relievers from a year ago in seniors Chris Maliszewski and Andrew Hanson and junior Brent Jackson.

Maliszewski, a southpaw, appears to be the odds-on-favorite to serve as Iowa's closer after appearing in 12 games in 2003.

"Chris is a competitor," explained Dahm. "He has the mentality to get that 27th out and that is hard to find."

Jackson and Hanson were second and third, respectively, on the team in ERA last season. Jackson held batters to a .290 batting average, after he stepped in as one of the team's most reliable pitchers last season. Hanson made a team-high 19 appearances last season, compiling a 3-0 record with three saves.

"Andrew and Brent had solid fall seasons," said Dahm. "We're looking for them to give us quality innings out of the pen. They had success last season and we're looking for them to continue to build on that!"

2004 IOWA BASEBALL

Senior Brian Furlong and redshirt freshman Scott Brune will also serve as valuable righthanders coming out of the bullpen. Furlong, a transfer from Creighton, has experience after pitching in the Missouri Valley Conference.

The diamond in the rough may be sophomore Tim Gudex. After redshirting in 2003, the lefty could be a key for the Hawkeyes.

"Tim made as much progress as anyone in the program last fall," explained Dahm. "We like having lefties in the pen and Tim will be a valuable asset to the staff in that role along with Maliszewski."

Junior Jeff Felgar, sophomore Aaron Reasland and freshman John Beck will add depth to the pitching staff.

CATCHERS

There will be four new faces behind the plate for the Hawkeyes this season, but junior college transfer Kris Welker appears to be the top candidate.

Welker, a first team all-conference selection at the College of Southern Idaho, will be a solid backstop for Iowa, as well as providing pop in the middle of the batting order.

"Kris is an outstanding player and has all the qualities you want to see in a catcher," said Dahm. "He has good leadership skills and will provide a solid bat in the lineup."

Junior Clint Bitting will serve as the primary back-up after starting for two years at Cloud Community College. Brian Trumm, John Skay and Zak Koga also will battle for playing time in 2004.

INFIELD

Dahm is excited about the infield because he has the luxury of having an incredible amount of depth. It starts with shortstop Jeff Gremley.

Gremley started every game for the Hawkeyes last season and will be the foundation for what appears to be a strong infield defense. Gremley is Iowa's top returning hitter after batting .313 last year with a team leading 32 RBI.

"Jeff is as talented an infielder as I've worked with," explained Dahm. "He needs to continue to mature as a player. He has all the physical tools to develop into one of the best infielders in the Big Ten."

Gremley's mate up the middle is in question. Three players, Andrew Lytle, Andy Cox and true freshman Jason White, will be battling for the starting nod.

Lytle started all but one game at second base last season and was second on the team with a .991 fielding percentage. Lytle missed the fall season with an injury and Dahm is hopeful that he'll be healthy when the season begins.

Cox played the role as a utility man in 2003, but the versatility he provides will be an advantage for Dahm.

"Cox is an outstanding athlete that can play first, second or third base for us," explained Dahm. "He worked as hard as anyone in the program this fall, and we feel that he is a player that needs to be in the lineup on a daily basis."

White could prove to be one of the biggest surprises. The two-time all-Colorado first team selection will add depth to the infield as well as a left-handed bat to the lineup.

"Jason had a tremendous fall for a freshman," said Dahm. "Jason is a player with good speed and great baseball instincts. He will gain experience early in the season at second base to show us what he can do"

Luis Andrulonis will provide experience to the infield as he returns to the hot corner for his junior campaign. Andrulonis started all but six games at third base for the 2003 Hawkeyes and could provide some pop offensively after a strong fall season.

Iowa will look to senior Mike Best as an offensive force in the middle of the lineup, while manning first base. Best started 44 games at first base last season and was sixth on the team with a .285 average.

"Mike has the capability to be one of the top offensive players on our ball club," explained Dahm. "He has also made excellent progress defensively."

True freshmen Cole Grandfield (1B), Austin Wilcox (3B), Neal Coleman (middle infield), and Ryan Gardner (corner infield) and junior college transfer Justin Petty (2B) will all compete for playing time.

OUTFIELD

The Hawkeyes should have a strong core of outfielders led by returning starter Nate Yoho.

The junior rightfielder was one of Iowa's most productive hitters in 2003 as he was second on the team with 28 RBI.

"Nate is a very talented left handed hitter that has the abilities to be a frontline player," said Dahm.

Yoho will be joined in the outfield by a pair of transfers in Jesse Brownell and L.J. Mims.

Mims has the daunting task of replacing two-time all-Big Ten selection Kyle Thousand in centerfield after transferring from Central Arizona. The speedy right-hander could come in and serve as a prototypical lead-off hitter for the Hawkeyes.

Brownell provides Dahm with versatility as he can play any of the outfield positions and catcher. Brownell also gives the Hawkeyes another strong bat to add to the middle of the order.

"L.J. is our top defensive outfielder and he has a chance to be an outstanding lead-off hitter," said Dahm. "Jesse swung the bat well in the fall and has good speed. He will be a valuable player in the program."

Sophomore Skyler Moss, redshirt freshmen Mike Mogard and Matt Wooldrik and freshman Jeff Engel will all provide depth and compete for playing time this season.

Mogard should see playing time in left field after having a solid fall showing. Moss also performed well during the fall season before breaking his leg.

Dahm is hopeful that Moss will return to full speed in the spring. Engel is a big left-hander that Dahm feels could develop into a middle of the order type hitter.

Seniors Jim Reid and Gabe Haugland will also provide some depth for the Hawkeyes. Reid played in 20 games a year ago and provided some pop offensively. Haugland, a transfer from St. Edwards University in Texas, will provide additional experience in the outfield. According to Dahm, Haugland is a player that can really drive the ball. He could be a valuable designated hitter or pinch hitter for the Hawkeyes.

SCHEDULE

Dahm is looking forward to a challenging schedule his first year with the Hawkeyes as he tries to build enthusiasm for Iowa baseball.

"We want to get Iowa baseball out there in the public eye," said Dahm. "We want to start getting people excited about Iowa baseball."

Iowa will start the season with two tough road trips. The Hawkeyes will face Centenary in the opener before facing College World Series qualifier, Southwest Missouri State.

From March 12-21, Iowa will travel to Florida to play seven games for its annual spring trip. The trip is highlighted by games with perennial powers Maine and Stetson, a team that has made four consecutive regional appearances. The Hawkeyes will also play dates against Massachusetts, Bucknell, Dartmouth and Army.

On March 26-29, the Hawkeyes will get a taste of professional baseball, as they host a four-team tournament (Minnesota, Northern Illinois and Northern Colorado) at Sec Taylor Stadium, the home of the Iowa Cubs, in Des Moines. Iowa will also hope to build some excitement when it plays an exhibition game on April 7 against the Iowa Cubs in Des Moines. In addition, the Hawkeyes will play a neutral site game against Northern Iowa in Cedar Rapids at Veterans Memorial Stadium.

"We have a very competitive schedule that should prepare us for Big Ten play," said Dahm. "It will allow us to develop our team fundamentally and gain confidence. If we continue to work hard and progress, I feel we can be successful in laying a solid foundation towards the future."

Head Coach Jack Dahm

2004 IOWA BASEBALL

Jack Dahm enters his first season at Iowa and the Big Ten after spending the past 18 years as a member of the Creighton Bluejays baseball program. Dahm left the Bluejays as the winningest coach in school history, having compiled 283 wins against 276 losses in 10 seasons as a head coach.

"Building the Foundation." This is the theme that Coach Dahm has stressed since he was hired in July of 2003.

Dahm's plan for Hawkeye baseball is to build the program from the ground up.

"In order to build a consistent program we must have a solid foundation and that starts with quality student-athletes who are willing to make personal sacrifices on and off the field," said Dahm. "We must also develop a level of trust and belief in each other and in the program. If we can build that solid foundation the success on the field will start to take care of itself."

Even though the Hawkeyes have not played a game in the Dahm era, the foundation has already begun to be laid. The players have been busy giving back to the community by helping raise money for breast cancer and helping the Iowa Children's Museum at the Crystal Ball dinner. Dahm has arranged the first annual leadoff dinner and the guest speaker will be the General Manager of the Chicago Cubs, Jim Hendry.

Other new and exciting events on the schedule will be the I-Cubs/Hawkeye Classic at Sec Taylor Stadium in Des Moines and an exhibition game against the Triple A Iowa Cubs. Also, the Hawkeyes will try to pack the park in April at Veterans Stadium in Cedar Rapids when they battle intrastate rival, Northern Iowa.

Dahm gained praise nationally for his first recruiting class, after it was ranked in the top-50, and perhaps the top-25, by Jerry Ford, the National Director of Perfect Game U.S.A. Dahm and the Hawkeyes made their mark on the in-state recruiting trail when they inked six of the top eight high school prospects in the state of Iowa, which included the top four pitching prospects.

Dahm's 283 coaching wins are one more than his mentor, Jim Hendry. Dahm went to Creighton in 1986 to play under Hendry and spent four years as a student-athlete from 1986-89. In 1990, Dahm accepted a position as a graduate assistant coach for Hendry and spent four years helping build Creighton into a Missouri Valley Conference power.

In 1991, Dahm was promoted to a full-time assistant as he helped the Bluejays reach the College World Series. That Creighton squad ended the season as the second-highest hitting club in the nation, batting .355 as a team. The team's 60 triples in 1991 led the nation and remain a school record.

In October of 1993, Dahm was hired as Creighton's head coach, becoming the youngest head coach in Division I at the age of 25. For the next ten years, five of Dahm's ten teams would finish in the top three of the Missouri Valley Conference.

In 1999, Dahm earned his first of two Missouri Valley Conference Coach of the Year honors as the Bluejays advanced to the NCAA tournament for the first time in the Dahm era. Creighton posted 38 wins that season, the most since Dahm's first year in 1994, before being eliminated from the South Bend Regional.

In 2000, Dahm guided the Bluejays to their second consecutive NCAA Regional appearance at the Arizona State regional in Tempe, AZ, after finishing the season with a 38-23 record. During the season, Dahm led Creighton into the national spotlight as they peaked at No. 15 in the Collegiate Baseball poll and were ranked in the top 25 of the Baseball Weekly/ESPN Coaches' Poll and Baseball America.

Dahm earned his second coach of the year honor in 2002 when the Bluejays finished the season 30-24 against one of the nation's toughest schedules. Victories over nationally ranked Nebraska, Notre Dame and Wichita State were overshadowed by the team's best-ever season in the Missouri Valley Conference. Despite having a lineup top-heavy with underclassmen, Creighton finished second in MVC play with a 21-10 record.

A native of Morton Grove, IL, Dahm entered Creighton as a highly recruited infielder in 1985 and left 18 years later as the all-time winningest coach in school history. As a player, Dahm shared the dugout with former Major Leaguers Mike Heathcott, Dax Jones, Scott Servais, Dan Smith and Scott Stahoviak. Eighteen of Dahm's players have been selected in the Major League draft since 1994, four of which have played at the Major League level. Since 1994, Dahm has produced 16 first-team all-MVC players, seven freshman All-Americans and two All-Americans.

Besides being a student of the game on the field, Dahm was active in community service, fundraising and his teams have strived academically as well.

The Bluejays were actively involved in the community under Dahm, as they held various free baseball clinics, raised money for the Nebraska Children's Home and were a part of "Operation Bluejay," a program that provided tutoring for young people in Omaha.

Dahm also played a large role in the planning, designing and fund raising for the $3.5 million Creighton Sports Complex. The Kitty Gaughan Pavilion baseball facility is one of the finest indoor baseball complexes in the country. It featured a state of the art hitting facility, locker rooms, Legends View Club and coaches' offices.

Dahm's teams have not only had success on the field, but in the classroom as well. During his tenure at Creighton, Dahm's players were named to 32 spots on the Missouri Valley Conference Scholar-Athlete teams, 10 Verizon Academic all-District honors and three Verizon Academic all-Americans. His teams also consistently finished with G.P.A.'s around 3.0.

Dahm has also been active in the advancement of college baseball by being a member of the many national committees. He was a ten-year member on the College World Series Board of Directors and served on the American Baseball Coaches Association Change of Season Committee. He was also a part of the NCAA Division I Regional Advisory Committee and was an onsite director of the NCAA Yes Baseball Clinic for 11 years.

The 37-year old Dahm and his wife, Lynn, have been married for 10 years. The couple has three children—sons Casey and Tyler, and a daughter Lyndsey.

What others are saying about Coach Dahm:

"Iowa made an outstanding decision when they hired Jack Dahm. He understands what it takes to be successful at a northern school. He has already begun to build the excitement about the program locally and he will work to keep the best players in the state home. I expect great things from Jack and the Iowa baseball program in the near future.

Jim Hendry, Chicago Cubs General

"Iowa made a great choice in hiring Jack Dahm to be its new baseball coach. I have admired him for many years as a tough competitor, an outstanding game coach and a great person. He competes hard on the field, but he always does so with a tremendous amount of class. We had many great games against his Creighton teams and I hope we will have the same in the future with his Iowa Hawkeyes. I have no doubt Jack will lead the Hawkeyes to the upper echelon of the Big Ten Conference in the near future."

Paul Mainieri, Head Baseball Coach at the University of Notre Dame

"Jack Dahm is a perfect fit for the future of the University of Iowa Baseball. He has a great understanding of the commitment it will take to have a winner in Iowa City. Jack possesses the work ethic as a coach and recruiter to make the Hawkeyes a consistent contender for the Big Ten title and NCAA Regionals."

Brian O'Connor, Head Baseball Coach at the University of Virginia

On Dahm's first recruiting class:

"Jack Dahm is off to a running start at Iowa. He glued in on the Iowa high school players with pitching being his biggest concern. This is the best class of recruits going to Iowa in well over 10 years. Dahm and his recruiters signed nearly all the top in-state pitchers. This is a very rare class that ranks in the top-50 nationally, and perhaps the top 25. It shouldn't be too long before Iowa baseball regains its reputation as a strong program."

"Overall, this class brings in the top four Iowa high school pitchers and a couple of top JUCO transfers, two top infielders who can really hit and two catchers that scouts claim are the best in their states. However, the big news is, for the first time, in a long time, the best Iowa players are going to be Hawkeyes. Congratulations to Jack Dahm and his staff."

Jerry Ford, National Director of Perfect Game USA

What others are saying about Coach Brownlee:

"Ryan Brownlee was very instrumental in the success of the JMU Baseball Program both on and off the field and in various other areas of baseball related duties. His energy, vision and work ethic will be sorely missed. Iowa should feel very fortunate to attain his services. During his tenure at JMU, the baseball team won 146 games in four years and was rated in the top-40 in three of his four seasons. He knows what it takes to be a winner both on and off the field and JMU's loss is surely Iowa's gain."

Spanky McFarland, Head Baseball Coach at James Madison University

"Ryan Brownlee is one of the bright young coaches in the country. His knowledge, teaching ability and communication skills are outstanding. In the Cape League, we see outstanding young assistants from every top program in the country. Brownlee was on the top of our list."

Bob Stead, Cape Cod Baseball League Commissioner

Nick Zumsande

Pitching Coach

Nick Zumsande enters his first season as Iowa's pitching coach after collecting 14 years of collegiate coaching experience throughout the Midwest.

"Coach Zumsande is a proven winner that has had success everywhere he has coached. He has developed outstanding pitching staffs in the Big 12 and Missouri Valley Conferences and I believe he will do the same in the Big Ten," said Dahm.

"Zumsande has the unique ability to teach not only the mechanics of pitching, but also the mental side. The one characteristic that has stuck out to me about his pitching staffs is that they will compete."

Prior to being named Iowa's pitching coach in August of 2003, Zumsande served as a pitching instructor at Indiana State University. Zumsande joined the Sycamores in 2001 as the pitching instructor and recruiting coordinator. In his second and final season with the Sycamores in 2003, Zumsande guided the Indiana State hurlers to a 36-21 record and a 4.15 earned run average, the second lowest team ERA in the Missouri Valley Conference.

Before arriving at Terre Haute, IN, Zumsande served one year as the pitching coach at Iowa State University. In his lone year at Iowa State, the Cyclones team earned run average lowered nearly two runs and led the team to its first Big 12 Tournament appearance in school history. Zumsande's staff finished the conference season with a 4.38 ERA, which was tied for fourth with Nebraska in the conference.

Zumsande held the head coach's position at Muscatine Community College before accepting the assistant position at his alma mater, Iowa State. Zumsande headed the Muscatine program from 1988-2000, recording 431 career victories against 195 losses, a .688 winning percentage. The Indians finished in the national polls six times in the 1990's under Zumsande's guidance. During that period, Zumsande earned NJCAA Region IX Coach of the Year honors in 1990, 1994 and 1999.

Over 50 of Zumsande's former MCC player were sent on to major four-year colleges and 30 former players signed professional baseball contracts.

A member of the American Baseball Coaches Association and Iowa High School Baseball Coaches Association, Zumsande has twice guided his team to the NCJAA Division I World Series (1994 & 1999). In 1994, the Muscatine baseball program was awarded the Homa Thomas Team Sportsmanship Award by designated members of the media.

In the professional ranks, Zumsande spent the 1993 season working for Major League Baseball International in Northern Europe. While in Europe, he served as an ambassador as he promoted and instructed baseball for MLB.

Zumsande graduated from Iowa State in 1984 with a bachelor's degree in Physical Education. He earned his master's degree in Athletic Administration from Northwest Missouri State in 1986.

Ryan Brownlee

Assistant Coach

Ryan Brownlee enters his first season as the Iowa hitting coach, infield instructor and recruiting coordinator.

"We are very fortunate to have Ryan on the coaching staff here at Iowa," said Dahm. "Ryan grew up around the game of baseball and he understands the commitment and work ethic it takes to build a championship program. He is definitely one of the bright young coaches in college baseball!"

Prior to joining the Iowa staff, Brownlee served as the infield/baserunning coach and assisted with hitting and recruiting at James Madison University for four years. Brownlee did a variety of game day assignments during his tenure at JMU including coaching first base, bench coach, infield shifts, defensive plays and opponents' scouting reports. In back-to-back years, 2001 and 2002, Brownlee guided the Dukes to school record .967 and .968 fielding percentages. Also, in 2002, the Dukes broke the school record for wins in a season with 43 and advanced to the NCAA Southeast Regional at Columbia, SC, after winning the Colonial Athletic Association crown.

Before joining the James Madison coaching staff, Brownlee served as an assistant coach under his father, James, at Evansville for two seasons. While at Evansville, Brownlee was responsible for outfield, catching and hitting instruction. Brownlee advanced to the Purple Aces' coaching ranks after excelling as a player for four seasons. A four-year starter at second base, Brownlee earned all-MCC honors in 1994 and all-MVC accolades in 1996. He was also selected to the American Baseball Coaches Association all-Region squad. In 1997, Brownlee was tabbed a TPX preseason third-team all-American and he received the University of Evansville's William V. Slyker award for the most outstanding male athlete at the university.

Brownlee, a native of Evansville, graduated with a bachelor's degree in psychology with a minor in biology in 1997. He received his Master's in athletic administration in 2002 from James Madison. He and his wife, Aimee, welcomed their first child, Jackson, on Dec. 31, 2002.

Spencer Allen

Spencer Allen enters his first season at the University of Iowa as a volunteer assistant coach. Allen will be responsible for outfield instruction and will coach first base on game days. Allen will also serve as the Iowa baseball camp director.

"Spencer has already made a tremendous impact in our program. I have been very impressed with not only his knowledge of the game, but also his teaching ability," said Dahm. "With Spencer and Ryan on our staff, I believe we have two of the best young coaches in the country."

Allen earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in 2001 from Iowa State University where he was a three-year starter at second base. In 1999, Allen was part of a Big 12 record-breaking double play combination and in 2001 was named a captain on the first team in Iowa State history to reach the Big 12 tournament.

After completing a collegiate career that included a first-team Academic All-American selection and multiple scholar athlete awards, Allen served as an associate scout for the Kansas City Royals from 2002-2003. Under the eye of veteran scout Greg Smith, Allen gained experience writing evaluation reports and running prospect workouts.

While serving his two-year tenure with the Royals, Allen was able to gain valuable coaching experience with Connie Mack's Northern Reign Baseball Club and Edmonds Community College. Allen's responsibilities in the coaching ranks included recruitment and assessment of players, infield and outfield instruction, organizing baseball camps and guest speaking at coaching clinics.

Allen is single and resides in Cedar Rapids, IA.

2004 IOWA BASEBALL

Former Iowa standout Mike Boddicker, and his family, have established the Mike Boddicker Scholarship. The scholarship goes each year to a member of the Iowa baseball team who is an Iowa resident, is in good academic standing and displays outstanding character and personality.

Boddicker, a native of Norway, Iowa earned all-Big Ten honors as a pitcher and infielder during his campaign as a Hawkeye (1976-78). In 1983, he was named the American League "Rookie of the Year." After pitching in the major leagues for 11 years, Boddicker retired in 1993. He played for the Baltimore Orioles and Kansas City Royals.

The Mike Boddicker Scholarship was established in 1993. Pitcher Colin Mattiace was the first recipient and held the scholarship all four years of his Hawkeye career. Infielder Nate Frese received the scholarship in 1997 and 1998, Iowa City native Brian Mitchell won the scholarship in 1999, and the 2000 and 2001 scholarships were awarded to outfielder Andy Jansen, a Bancroft, Iowa native. Four-year starter Ian Mattiace received the scholarship in 2002 and former Louisville Slugger Freshman All-American Reed Pawelk has benefited from the scholarship in 2003 and 2004.

The Iowa baseball program has a long history of former athletes competing on the professional level. Over 100 Iowa players have been sent into the pro ranks.

The baseball program has reached new heights, by combining talented student-athletes with first class facilities and superior coaching.

Two Hawkeyes prolonged their 2003 baseball seasons at the professional level. Junior Kyle Thousand surrendered his final year of eligibility to pursue a professional career with the Toronto Bluejays. The two-time all-Big Ten centerfielder was selected in the 26th round of Major League Baseball's amateur draft. Former Hawkeye MVP and right-handed pitcher Reed Pawelk signed a free-agent contract with the Florida Marlins following Iowa's 2003 season.

Four Hawkeyes were drafted by the major leagues after the 1999 season. Pitcher, Wes Obermueller was drafted in the second round by the Kansas City Royals, second baseman Brian Mitchell went in the 40th round to the Toronto Blue Jays and pitcher, Matt Sawvell signed a pro contract with the New York Mets.

Obermueller started the 2002 season as a member of the Wichita Wranglers, a Double-A affiliate of the Kansas City Royals, before being promoted to the parent club and making his Major League debut September 20th, against the Cleveland Indians. In 2003, Obermueller was traded to the Milwaukee Brewers, where he won two games and struck out 34 hitters in 65.2 innings.

Signed by the Tampa Bay Devil Rays, hurler Jim Magrane, set Iowa's single season records for innings pitched (107.2) and strikeouts (110) during the 1999 season. He also tied a 63-year old school record with 17 strikeouts against Western Illinois. Magrane pitched a 9-3 complete game win over nationally ranked Miami (FL). Magrane is currently a member of the Durham Bulls, a Triple-A affiliate of the Devil Rays.

In 1998, Iowa infielder, Nate Frese, was drafted in the 10th round by the Chicago Cubs. He currently serves as shortstop for the Iowa Cubs, a Triple-A affiliate of the Cubs.

In 1993 outfielder Bo Porter was drafted by the Chicago Cubs. During the 1999 season, Porter was brought up from the minors by the Cubs. Porter saw action in 24 games, while starting five in the outfield. Porter was the opening day centerfielder for the Texas Rangers during the 2001 season.

Outfielder, Chris Hatcher was drafted following the 1990 season. He has been a member of many minor league organizations, compiling a .275 batting average in 953 games. During the 1998 season, Hatcher was a member of the Kansas City Royals, where he saw action in eight games.

Tim Costo was a first-round draft pick of the Cleveland Indians in 1990 before being traded to Cincinnati. He spent the 1995 season at the Indians AAA class Buffalo team, playing in 105 games. He was also a member of the St. Louis and Toronto organizations.

Cal Eldred was a first-round draft pick by Milwaukee in 1989 and remained there until he was traded to the White Sox in 2000. In 1994, he had the honor of being the opening day pitcher, and led the American League in starts (25). Eldred made a name for himself in 1992 by going 11-2 for Milwaukee, winning 10 straight decisions. In 1993 he led the American League in innings pitched (258). After a two-year stint on the Chicago south side, Eldred signed a free-agent contract with the St. Louis Cardinals in 2003. After posting a 7-4 record with a 3.74 earned run average with the Cardinals, St. Louis rewarded the Iowa native with another one-year deal through 2004. In 12 Major League seasons, Eldred has collected 82 wins and compiled a 4.52 ERA.

Cal & Christi Eldred Fund Lights

with baseball in the state. "I coached Cal when he played for Urbana High School in the mid-1980's, and he and Christi have been Hawkeye supporters for years," Broghamer said. "This gift will make Iowa's field one of the finest anywhere. We're very excited and grateful."

The Eldred's cited their desire to give back to Iowa and to honor former Hawkeye coaches Banks and Broghamer—who they said are their good friends and longtime mentors—as reasons for making the gift. The gift was commemorated by a plaque at the field.

Cal Eldred, who grew up in Urbana and attended Iowa for three years before being drafted by the Milwaukee Brewers in 1989, said, "My experience at Iowa helped shape me as a player and as a person. And Coach Banks has stayed involved in my life and has always been there for me. I couldn't be happier about making this gift for Hawkeye baseball. I hope others will consider helping out however they can."

Cal Eldred has lit up Hawkeye baseball once again. But this time, instead of employing his expert pitching, the major-league star and his wife, Christi, made a gift to fund the installation of lights at Iowa's Duane Banks Field. The Cedar Rapids couple gave $245,000 for the installation of lights at the baseball field named after Cal Eldred's former coach.

The gift, the largest ever from a current professional athlete's family to Iowa athletics, allowed the project to be completed in September 2001. The Hawkeyes won the first night game played at Banks Field April 10, 2002, against Northern Illinois, 11-9. The University of Iowa officially dedicated the lights Saturday, April 13, 2002.

Iowa Athletic Director Bob Bowsby hailed the Eldreds' generosity, saying, "Cal and Christi's gift shows that once a Hawkeye, always a Hawkeye. Cal has been representing Iowa well for years, first with the Milwaukee Brewers, then with the Chicago White Sox and now with the St. Louis Cardinals, all the while making us all proud. But the fact that he and Christi have remained true to their Iowa roots in this very generous way makes us even prouder."

Former Iowa Baseball Coach Scott Broghamer noted that the Eldred's gift is another chapter in their long association

Iowa Baseball Facilities

2004 IOWA BASEBALL

Duane Banks Field

The Iowa baseball program has some of the top facilities in the Big Ten and the Midwest. In the fall of 2001, the Iowa baseball field was re-named The Duane Banks Baseball Field in honor of the Hawkeyes' former head coach. Banks, the winningest coach in Iowa history, served as Iowa's head baseball coach from 1970-1997.

Banks Field was originally built in 1974. The 3,000-seat stadium has dimensions of 330 feet down the lines, 375 in the power alleys and 400 to centerfield.

The infield was re-designed following the 1999 season with a new playing surface and ten-foot fences were added to the outfield. The field's drainage system was also improved. Both bullpens were restructured and the hitter's background was replaced. Located next to the Hawkeye bullpen are two Astro Turf batting cages.

The complex features locker rooms for both teams and umpires. In 1998, Iowa's clubhouse was expanded, giving the Hawkeyes one of the best college baseball environments in the nation.

Prior to the 1996 season a Daktronics state-of-the-art scoreboard system was installed. In addition to providing spectators with pertinent game, the system also has a marquee that is capable of displaying player information.

A new press box was built in 1989 and again renovated in 2002. It can accommodate several radio stations and up to 25 media members. The official scorer, scoreboard operator and announcer are housed in the press box.

Banks Field is maintained by Larry Putney and Ted Thorn and the Iowa grounds crew is headed by Pete Vanelswyk.

(Pictured Right) Dedicated on May 2, 1998 in memory of Diane Mitchell, mother of Hawkeye athletes, David, Mark and Brian Mitchell, and wife of former Hawkeye football player Bob Mitchell. Diane died in an automobile accident while en route to the 1996 Alamo Bowl. During her life, Diane never missed an inning or a down of her sons' games and was always their biggest supporter. Her dedication to the Hawkeyes was surpassed only by her love for her family.

Robert Bowsby

Director of Athletics

Bob Bowsby, in his 13th year as director of athletics at The University of Iowa, heads a team of coaches and athletic staff members that has merged men's and women's programs to form one department that continues to rank among the nation's best. The combined entity encompasses 24 varsity sports and an annual budget in excess of $34 million.

As the chief administrator for Iowa's athletic department Bowsby has earned a reputation as one of the most respected, energetic and ambitious athletic administrators in the nation. His hiring of new head coaches in football, men's and women's basketball and wrestling, all in the past five years, will enable Iowa to maintain its standing as one of the most visible and successful Division I athletic programs.

The National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) named Bowsby in 2001-02 as Central Region Athletic Director of the Year. Bowsby was one of only four athletic directors selected in the Division I-A category. The award highlights the efforts of the athletic directors for their commitment and positive contributions to campuses and their surrounding communities.

A Waterloo native, Bowsby became Iowa's 10th Athletic Director in June, 1991 after serving in the same role at the University of Northern Iowa since 1984. He previously served as Assistant Athletic Director for Facilities at Northern Iowa.

Bowsby earned his bachelor's degree from Moorhead State University (Minnesota) in 1975 and his master's degree from the University of Iowa in 1978.

Bowsby has served as chair of the Big Ten Championships and Awards committee, as a member of the league's Conference and National Structure committee and was appointed as one of two Big Ten representatives to the NCAA Management Council. Bowsby was elected to chair the Management Council for the first two years of its existence.

Bowsby managed five NCAA Wrestling Championships as chair of the Wrestling Committee and has served on NCAA committees on Financial Aid and Amateurism, the Special Committee to Review Amateurism Issues and the Special Committee to Review Financial Conditions in Athletics. Bowsby is in the second year of a four-year term on the NCAA Division I Basketball Tournament Committee.

Bob has served as an Executive Committee member with both the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics and the Division I-A Athletic Directors Association and currently serves as President of the I-A Directors group.

Bowsby was also elected chair of the NCAA Olympic Sports Liaison Committee and represented the NCAA as one of two voting members on the United States Olympic Committee. Bowsby also was appointed by former United States Olympic Committee President LeRoy Walker to the NCAA/USOC Liaison Committee, chaired by George Steinbrenner and NCAA Executive Director Cedrick Dempsey. Bob has also served as a member of the Board of Governors for the National Wrestling Hall of Fame.

Bowsby is a charter member of the Iowa Olympics Committee and a current member of the Board of Directors of the Iowa Games. Bob is a board member of the Iowa Scholarship Fund, Inc. and a Board member on the Honda Awards program, which recognizes our nation's top female collegiate athletes each year.

He and his wife, Candice, have four children, Lisa, Matt, Rachel and Kyle. Bowsby was born Jan. 10, 1952.

The University of Iowa Athletic Department, under the direction of Athletic Director Bob Bowsby for the past 12 years, is regarded as one of the top intercollegiate programs in the nation.

The men's and women's departments, operating separately for over 25 years, merged in 2001 under Bowsby's direction. It combined nationally recognized programs for both genders into one successful and progressive athletic program.

Combining their successes on the playing fields with continued success and recognition in the classroom, UI student-athletes practice and perform in some of the best facilities in the nation, while knowing the support of their efforts and attendance by Hawkeye fans ranks among the best in the country.

While the Hawkeyes continue to compete with the best in the nation in a variety of sports, Iowa continues to boast some of the most impressive athletic facilities in the nation, operated by one of the most respected departments.

Several new projects are underway on the Iowa campus. The goal is to improve all areas of the collegiate experience for Hawkeye student-athletes. One of the latest additions to the UI campus is the Roy G. Karro Athletics Hall of Fame and Visitors Center. The Hall of Fame and a varsity soccer complex make up the first phase of a $37 million project.

Phase two of the project includes new swimming and diving pools, and indoor and outdoor tennis facilities, in addition to bicycle and walking paths. More than $15 million of the total cost will be generated through private giving.

Additional priorities for the Iowa program include the establishment and development of endowments for all sports programs, the continued enhancement of graduation rates, and the implementation of a long-range plan to ensure Iowa's financial, academic and competitive future. As an example, all of Iowa's 13 scholarships for men's basketball are fully endowed.

The graduation rate of Iowa's student-athletes has improved in each of the past 10 years and has consistently ranked above the graduation rate of all UI students. Hawkeye athletes have garnered more than 50 academic All-America honors since 1992. In 1998-99 Iowa led the Big Ten in academic all-Big Ten selections and Iowa ranked second in 1999-00. In 2002-03, over 140 male and female Iowa athletes earned academic all-Big Ten recognition.

Iowa athletes have been recognized as all-Americans in their sport on more than 175 occasions during the past 12 years.

Iowa's athletic teams during the 2002-03 athletic year continued their trend of success.

The Hawkeye football team posted a perfect 8-0 Big Ten record in winning the league title. Iowa participated in the 2003 Orange Bowl and ended the season ranked eighth nationally in both major polls. Iowa's men's and women's basketball teams have advanced to post-season play in each of the last three seasons, while Iowa's wrestling and gymnastics teams continue to rank among the best in the nation. Iowa has won six of the last nine NCAA wrestling titles and nine of the last 13 championships.

Iowa's men's gymnastics team placed sixth in the nation, while the women's gymnastics squad also advanced to the team competition at the NCAA championships. The women's softball team earned both the Big Ten regular season and post-season tournament titles, advancing to NCAA regional action for the eighth time in 10 seasons.

Iowa's field hockey squad was ranked in the top 15 in the nation throughout the 2002 season, while individual performers in track and field and women's tennis also qualified for NCAA championship competition.

From the rankings on the courts and playing fields, to the rankings in the classroom, to the rankings in fan and community support, to the ranking as a program that boasts some of the best athletic facilities in the nation, it's easy to understand why Iowa fans everywhere truly believe, "It's Great to be a Hawkeye."

The University of Iowa student body is a fixture at all Hawkeye athletic events, making Iowa City a very difficult place for opposing teams to visit.

Since its inception in 1979, Athletics Student Services has evolved from a two-person, academic support service to a broad-based, nationally prominent student support services operation. Its purpose is to assist student athletes to become tomorrow's leaders by offering academic and personal support services to assist them in making timely and satisfactory progress toward their degrees.

Athletic Student Services focuses on four important areas — academic counseling and monitoring, educational and support programs, retention programs and compliance services — when working with student-athletes. Following are descriptions of some of the programs, services and opportunities available to student-athletes in those areas.

Athletics Learning Center

The $4.6 million Russell A. and Ann Gerdin Athletics Learning Center, scheduled to open in August of 2003, will give all Iowa student-athletes a state of the art facility to help them with their educations.

The Athletics Learning Center is a multi-level, 20,000 square foot facility which will provide a computer center, study areas, classes and meeting places for all Hawkeye student-athletes.

The Learning Center will feature an auditorium that converts into two classrooms, separate study rooms for under and upper-class student-athletes that feature 28 study carrels, a computer lab, five tutorial rooms, the book loan repository, office space for Iowa's Student Services staff and a display area to recognize the academic accomplishments of Iowa's student-athletes.

Academic Counseling and Monitoring

Athletics coordinators work closely with student-athletes and their university-assigned advisors from the time they arrive on campus until the time they leave the University. Along with focusing on academic planning matters such as goal-setting, plans of study, choosing majors and degree requirements, athletics coordinators also help student-athletes understand NCAA, Big Ten and University academic policies. They also solicit feedback from instructors on academic progress made by student-athletes.

Tutoring

Tutoring is available free of charge to all student-athletes. Tutors, who are post-graduates and teachers, help with course content as well as study strategies and are available in virtually all general education program subjects.

Retention

A full-time staff member directs the retention program, which identifies student-athletes who may need tailored academic assistance and structure, and implements individualized learning plans to help them succeed. Such plans may include daily and weekly planning sessions with athletics coordinators and retention staff, tutoring, study groups, mainstreaming into on-campus services like the writing center, math labs and services for students with learning disabilities.

Transition Seminar

All new student-athletes attend an eight-week transition seminar during the fall semester that is geared toward helping them make the transition from high school to college successfully. Seminar topics include time management skills, learning and study strategies, the culture and rules of the university, and life skills concerning alcohol and other substances, relationships and intimacy, diversity, tolerance, values and character.

CHAMPS/Life Skills

Life skills programs are conducted throughout the year with and for student athletes on quality of life issues critical to personal growth, such as personal accountability, responsible use and nonuse of alcohol, diversity and gambling.

Career Guidance and Development

Planning a meaningful career and a fulfilling life is an ongoing process of expanding and narrowing choices, beginning when student-athletes arrive on campus and continuing throughout their college career and lifetime. The professional staff works with other career development professionals on campus to offer individual consultation, career development seminars, workshops, referrals to other campus offices and special events like the Senior Recognition Banquet for graduating student-athletes.

Minority Enrichment Program

This program offers a culturally supportive environment in which minority student-athletes have the opportunity to develop friendships and a support network in the university. A core focus group of students and staff coordinate programs such as guest speakers, holiday celebrations, community service activities with the local neighborhood centers, events with Cultural Centers and networking with minority faculty, staff, professional and business leaders.

Compare the Numbers

Iowa's student-athletes have outperformed the University's entire student population each year since the NCAA started requiring a report of student-athlete graduation rates.

When student-athletes consider their future, they should consider prospects beyond athletics. A list of all University of Iowa alumni who have distinguished themselves professionally would be difficult to assemble and could never be complete. However, some are truly outstanding in their area of expertise.

Strength and Conditioning

The University of Iowa has two 2,000-square-foot facilities for strength and conditioning training of Olympic sport athletes. One facility is located in Carver-Hawkeye Arena and the other is located in the Recreation Building. Each facility has eight squat racks, eight Olympic platforms, multiple physio- and medicine balls, padded plyometric boxes and over 10,000 pounds of free weights. Iowa Strength and Conditioning staff Bill Maxwell, Paul Longo and Chad Bower oversee the programs.

The major goals of the University of Iowa strength and conditioning program are the enhancement of athletic performance while reducing the risk of injury through a progression of free weight, multi-joint exercises. Those goals are achieved through Olympic lifts, squats, plyometrics, medicine ball and physioball exercises. These multi-joint movements improve synchronization of movement, intramuscular coordination and stabilizer muscle groups.

Dedicated research and education result in outstanding care.

Athletic Training Services connect student-athletes to the various resources and specialty areas. Iowa's staff of 10 full-time athletic trainers are committed to providing quality health care, injury rehabilitation programs, and prevention programs. ### THE HAWKEYE NICKNAME

The University of Iowa borrowed its athletic nickname from the state of Iowa many years ago.

The name Hawkeye was originally the name of the hero in the fictional novel, The Last of the Mohicans, written by James Fenimore Cooper. Cooper had the Delaware Indians bestow the name on a white scout who lived with them.

In 1838, 12 years after the book was published, people in the territory of Iowa acquired the nickname, chiefly through the efforts of Judge David Rorer of Burlington and James Edwards of Fort Madison.

Edwards, editor of the Fort Madison Patriot, moved his paper to Burlington in 1843 and renamed it the Burlington Hawkeye. The two men continued their campaign to popularize the name, and territorial officials eventually gave it their formal approval.

HERKY THE HAWKEYE

The Hawkeye nickname gained a tangible symbol in 1948 when a cartoon character, later to be named Herky the Hawkeye was hatched. The creator was Richard Spencer III, instructor of journalism at Iowa.

The impish Hawk was an immediate hit and acquired a name through a statewide contest staged by the athletic department. John Franklin, a Belle Plaine alumnus, was the man who suggested Herky.

Since his birth more than 45 years ago, Herky has symbolized Iowa athletics and epitomized University life. He even donned a military uniform during the Korean War and became the insignia of the 124th Fighter Squadron.

During the mid-1950s, Herky came to life at a football game as the Iowa mascot. Since that time, Herky has been a familiar figure at Iowa athletics events.

SCHOOL FIGHT SONG

The Iowa Fight Song was written in 1950 by Mason City, Iowa, native Meredith Willson. Best known as the creator of Broadway's "The Music Man," Willson was awarded a 1963 University of Iowa Alumni Association Distinguished Service Award for "setting the spirit of Iowa to music." The lively cheer is sung hundreds of times during Iowa athletics events the year around.

*The word is Fight, Fight,
Fight for IOWA
Let every loyal Iowan sing;
The word is Fight, Fight
Fight for IOWA
Until the walls and rafters ring
(Go Hawks!)
Come on and cheer, cheer, cheer
for IOWA
Come on and cheer until you hear the final gun.
The word is Fight, Fight, Fight for IOWA
Until the game is won.*

SCHOOL COLORS

For 40 years Iowa was without school colors, but in 1887 a group of 50 seniors met on the steps of the Old Capitol to decide what are now the school official colors. They chose Old Gold, the color of Iowa's vast corn fields and Black, the color of the rich soil.
