

NFL HAWKEYES

When a student-athlete excels on the football field at the University of Iowa he gets noticed. He's noticed by the thousands of fans in Kinnick Stadium and the stadiums where the Hawkeyes play; by the vast numbers of media who follow the Iowa football program and Big Ten football; by the millions of college football fans watching the Hawkeyes on nationally televised games; and by scouts for the franchises of the National Football League.

When the Oakland Raiders selected offensive tackle Robert Gallery with the second selection in the 2004 NFL Draft, it marked the high point of Iowa's selections in the Kirk Ferentz era. Five Hawkeye players were selected in the 2003, 2004 and 2005 NFL draft, while linebackers Chad Greenway (first round) and Abdul Hodge (third round) were drafted in 2006. That includes eight players selected in the first two rounds. Along with the 17 selections, an additional 21 Hawkeyes in the past four years have signed free agent contracts with NFL teams. An Iowa football player has been selected in the NFL Draft in each of the past 29 years.

In the past seven seasons, with Kirk Ferentz as the Hawkeye head coach, 48 of the 54 seniors who were starters, have been selected in the NFL Draft or signed an NFL contract.

The relationships Kirk Ferentz established during his six years as an NFL coach, along with the reputation established by the Iowa football program for preparing players for the professional level, are beneficial to members of the Iowa football program who aspire to a professional career.

These relationships, paired with an Iowa football program that stresses fundamentals, discipline and pro-like offensive and defensive systems, have meant that highly-skilled Hawkeyes are often the choice of NFL teams in the league's annual college football draft. And the Hawkeyes have been successful in the NFL as well. Twenty-five former Hawkeyes have competed in the Super Bowl.

The following list of former Hawkeyes have made the step from college to professional football, with the majority of the players listed currently active in the NFL.

1 - JASON BAKER

Iowa's career leader in punts and punting yards, Jason Baker signed a contract with San Francisco for his rookie season in 2001. Earning the starting punting job for the 49'ers, Baker as a rookie averaged 40.8 yards on 69 punts while handling all of the San Francisco punting duties during the season. Baker later joined the Kansas City Chiefs, where he handled all of the punting duties during the 2003 season. Baker, in 2003, averaged 39.5 yards per kick on 80 punts, with no blocked kicks, as the Chiefs advanced to the second round of the playoffs. Baker spent the majority of the 2004 season with Kansas City before joining the Carolina Panthers for the 2005 season. Last year he averaged 43.3 yards on 72 punts, with no blocks, for the Panthers, who advanced to the NFC championship game.

2 - LADELL BETTS

After rushing for over 1,000 yards in each of his final two seasons at Iowa, Ladell Betts moved onto the NFL, being selected by the Washington Redskins in the second round of the 2002 draft. Betts as a rookie averaged 4.7 yards per carry with the Redskins and totaled 1,151 all-purpose yards. In 2003 Betts rushed 77 times for 255 yards and two touchdowns before missing seven games due to injury. In 2004 he played in all 16 games, with one start, averaging 4.1 yards per carry. Betts rushed 26 times for 118 yards in his only start, helping the Redskins to a win over Minnesota. Last season he played in 12 games while helping the Redskins advance to the playoffs, averaging 3.8 yards per carry. He had one rushing touchdown and one receiving touchdown and scored on a 94-yard kickoff return vs. Tampa Bay.

1 - MATT BOWEN

One of the toughest defensive backs in recent Hawkeye history, Matt Bowen was selected in the sixth round of the 2000 NFL Draft by the St. Louis Rams, the defending Super Bowl champions. Moving to Green Bay in 2002, Bowen started six of 16 games and recorded 40 tackles. Bowen signed a multi-million dollar contract to continue his career with the Washington Redskins prior to the 2003 season. In his first season in Washington he started all 16 games, recording 94 tackles, three interceptions, two forced fumbles and two recovered fumbles. He started the first five games of the 2004 season before a knee injury forced him to miss the final 11 games. He had 14 tackles in 13 games during the 2005 season and begins the 2006 season with the Buffalo Bills.

2 - DALLAS CLARK

Dallas Clark was a consensus all-American and the winner of the 2002 John Mackey Award as a junior. Declaring for the NFL Draft, he was a first round selection of the Indianapolis Colts in the 2003 draft. As a rookie he recorded 29 receptions for 340 yards and a touchdown over the first 10 games of the season before a broken leg forced him to miss the final six games of the regular season and the playoffs. In 2004 Clark started 13 games, with 25 receptions for 423 yards and five touchdowns. He reached career-high marks with 102 receiving yards and two scores vs. Houston. His numbers continued to rise last season as he had 37 receptions for 488 yards and four TDs. He set career high marks with six catches for 125 yards vs. Cincinnati and he had four catches for 84 yards vs. Pittsburgh in the playoffs.

3 - JARED CLAUSS

Defensive lineman Jared Clauss enjoyed a solid rookie season with the Tennessee Titans after being selected in the seventh round of the 2004 NFL Draft. Clauss saw action in 14 games during his rookie season for the Titans. Last year Clauss recorded 18 tackles while seeing action in 15 games.

4 - TIM DWIGHT

Tim Dwight, a fourth round selection in the 1998 NFL draft, played a key role as the Atlanta Falcons advanced to the Super Bowl for the first time in 1999. Dwight scored on a 94-yard kickoff return in the Super Bowl loss to Denver and set a Super Bowl record for kickoff return average. Dwight in three seasons with the Falcons totaled over 1,000 receiving yards.

Dwight was traded to the San Diego Chargers for the top selection in the NFL Draft prior to the 2001 season.

In 2002, he had 50 receptions for 623 yards and two TDs with San Diego, along with a 7.7 average on 12 rushing attempts, a 12.2 punt return average and a 20.8 average on kickoff returns. Dwight was hampered by injuries during the 2003 and 2004 seasons before joining New England for the 2005 season. Dwight played in all 16 regular season games, averaging 17.5 yards per catch on 19 receptions. He averaged 25 yards on 10 KO returns and 8.5 yards on 32 punt returns. He signed with the New York Jets for the 2006 season.

5 - ZERON FLEMISTER

One of several Iowa players to sign a contract following the 2000 NFL Draft, TE Zeron Flemister earned his way onto the roster of the Washington Redskins. After being hampered by injuries throughout his Iowa career, Flemister played for the Washington Redskins for four seasons. He had 18 receptions for 196 yards in 2001 and 10 receptions for 146 yards and two touchdowns in 2002. Flemister began the 2005 season with the New England Patriots and ended the season with Oakland. With the Raiders, he started three games and saw action in 12. Along with his tight end duties, Flemister recorded two kickoff returns for 16 yards while seeing action on the Raider special teams.

NFL HAWKEYES

1 - ROBERT GALLERY

After earning the Outland Trophy as the top college lineman in the nation as a senior in 2003, Robery Gallery was the second player taken in the NFL Draft. Gallery made an immediate impression with the Oakland Raiders. Gallery saw action in all 16 games for the Raiders in 2004 and started the final 15 games of the season at right tackle. He started all 16 games at right tackle a year ago.

2 - MIKE GOFF

One of the reasons Tavian Banks was able to set a single-season rushing record for the Hawkeyes in 1997 was the play of the offensive line, and in particular the play of Mike Goff. For his efforts Goff was selected in the third round of the NFL Draft by the Cincinnati Bengals. Goff was a member of the Bengal offensive line in 2000 that led the way for record-setting RB Corey Dillon. He started every game for the Bengals in both 2000 and 2001. Goff in both 2002 and 2003 was a mainstay in the offensive line for the Bengals. In March, 2004, he signed a five-year contract with the San Diego Chargers. Goff became a solid reason San Diego was able to enjoy success in 2004, starting all 16 regular season games and the single playoff game in the offensive line. He started all 16 games as well in 2005 for the Chargers. He played in career game No. 100 vs. Dallas in the first week of the season and later started his 50th consecutive game vs. Kansas City on Oct. 30.

3 - C.J. JONES

WR C.J. Jones, who will long be remembered for his 100-yard kickoff return for a touchdown on the opening play of the 2003 Orange Bowl, also made a lasting impression on the Cleveland Browns. Signed to a free agent contract, Jones made the Cleveland roster as a return specialist during the 2003 NFL season and was also on the Browns squad in 2004 and 2005. He begins the 2006 season on the Seattle roster.

4 - NATE KAEADING

Rookie PK Nate Kaeding played a key role in the resurgence of the San Diego Chargers during the 2004 season. Kaeding, in his first season, set a team scoring record with 114 kicking points as he connected on 20-25 field goals and 54-55 PATs. Kaeding had a career-best 53-yard field goal while helping the Chargers make a return appearance to the NFL playoffs. Last season Kaeding connected on 21-24 field goal attempts, with a long of 49 yards. He also connected on all 49 PAT attempts during the year.

NFL HAWKEYES

1 - AARON KAMPMAN

After being selected by Green Bay in the fifth round of the 2002 NFL Draft, Aaron Kampman immediately went to work on beginning his NFL career. Kampman's efforts paid off as he enjoyed a productive rookie season with the Packers, as he started six games. In 2003 Kampman recorded 35 solo tackles, 18 assists and three forced fumbles. Playing his best at the end of the year, Kampman recorded 14 solo tackles and one assist in two playoff games at the conclusion of the 2003 season. Kampman played in 16 games for the Packers in 2004, recording 120 tackles and seven QB sacks. A year ago he started all 16 games. He recorded a career-high 105 tackles (62 solo), the second most ever for a Packer defensive end. He also had 6.5 QB sacks and tied a career-high with three forced fumbles.

2 - DEREK PAGEL

DB Derek Pagel, selected by the New York Jets in the fifth round of the 2003 NFL Draft, began his lowa career as a walk-on before helping lowa win the Big Ten title in 2002. Pagel in his rookie season saw action in 14 games for the Jets, recording 23 tackles as a fifth defensive back and special teams player. Pagel was a key member of the Jet special teams in 2004 before being injured. Pagel saw action in one pre-season game for Dallas in 2005 before a shoulder injury forced him to miss the entire season.

3 - BOB SANDERS

After earning a reputation as one of the biggest hitters in college football, Bob Sanders stepped right in at the professional level as a rookie in 2004. Missing portions of the early season and in the middle of the season due to injuries, Sanders made the most of his opportunity when healthy. Sanders started four of the six games he played, recording 39 tackles and two fumble recoveries. Enjoying a healthy second season in 2005, Sanders was named All-Pro and selected to the Pro Bowl, the first Colt defensive back to earn that distinction since 1971. He was second on the team with 118 tackles, including 71 solo stops. He recorded 10 or more tackles in five games, with a career-best 20 tackles vs. San Diego. Sanders had one interception during the year and recorded nine tackles vs. Pittsburgh in the playoffs.

4 - COLIN COLE

In the case of DL Colin Cole, patience and hard work have paid off nicely. After helping the Hawkeyes post a perfect 8-0 record in Big Ten play in 2002, Cole signed as a free agent with the Minnesota Vikings. Cole did not see game action in his initial professional season, in which he spent time in both Minnesota and Detroit. Cole's stock in the past two seasons has risen with the Green Bay Packers. A year ago Cole played in all 16 games for the Packers, recording 40 tackles and two QB sacks.

NFL HAWKEYES

1 - ERIC STEINBACH

OL Eric Steinbach was the first player selected in the second round (by Cincinnati) of the 2003 NFL Draft. He was named Big Ten Lineman of the Year as a senior after helping the 2002 Hawkeyes earn a share of the Big Ten title. Steinbach as a rookie started 15 games for the Bengals, missing one game due to injury. He was named to Pro Football Weekly's all-Rookie team. Steinbach started 14 games for the Bengals in 2004 and saw action in every contest. A year ago he started all 16 games during the regular season and the playoff game vs. Pittsburgh. He played 1,059 of 1,066 offensive snaps in the 17 games.

2 - JARED DEVRIES

After earning all-America honors for three straight seasons, DT Jared DeVries was a third round selection of the Detroit Lions in the 1999 NFL draft. He was the Big Ten Defensive Lineman of the Year as a junior. After overcoming injuries earlier in his professional career, DeVries has become a steady and dependable defensive lineman for the Lions. A year ago he saw action in all 16 games, recording 22 tackles, three QB sacks and two recovered fumbles. He has played in 82 career games in Detroit and in 2004 was awarded Detroit's Ed Block Memorial Courage Award.

3 - ROSS VERBA

Ross Verba was the final player selected in the first round of the 1997 NFL Draft when he was taken by the world-champion Green Bay Packers. Verba established himself early in the season and by the end of the year became the first rookie to start at left tackle in the Super Bowl. Verba was named to the NFL all-rookie team as well. Verba played for the Cleveland Browns for four seasons after signing a multi-million dollar contract. Verba started all 15 games in which he played for the Browns in 2001 and all 16 games in 2002. He started 84 of 90 games in which he played in his first six pro seasons before an injury forced him to miss the entire 2003 season. Verba returned to start all 16 games in 2004 in Cleveland. He has signed to play for the Detroit Lions in 2006.

4 - CASEY WIEGMANN

Center Casey Wiegmann is proof that patience and hard work does indeed have its rewards. Wiegmann, a three-year starter at center for the Hawkeyes who concluded his college career in Iowa's 38-18 Sun Bowl win over Washington, played four seasons with the Chicago Bears. Wiegmann joined the NFL as a free agent and worked his way into Chicago's starting line-up in 1998 before signing with the Kansas City Chiefs prior to the 2001 season. Wiegmann started all 15 games in which he saw action for the Chiefs in 2001 after an injury forced him to miss the opening game. After starting all 16 games in each of the past three seasons, Wiegmann has increased his streak to starting 79 straight games for Kansas City over the last five seasons.

1 - LEVAR WOODS

One of Iowa's most dedicated players over the last few years, and a Hawkeye fan favorite due to his work ethic, LeVar Woods signed a contract with the Arizona Cardinals prior to the 2001 season and made a name for himself with his hard work and determination. Woods recorded 18 tackles for Arizona in his rookie season. Woods started two of the 15 games in which he played in 2002, recording 26 tackles. In 2003 he had three starts in 16 games, recording 22 total tackles and two recovered fumbles. In four seasons in Arizona Woods played in 60 games and had seven starts, recording 96 career stops. He signed with the Chicago Bears for the 2005 season and joined Detroit in the 11th week of the year. Woods started three games in Detroit, recording 26 tackles in six games.

2 - MATT ROTH

After earning all-America honors as a senior while helping the Hawkeyes win the 2004 Big Ten title, DE Matt Roth was a second round selection of the Miami Dolphins. Roth, in his rookie season in Miami, played in all 16 games, recording 22 tackles and a QB sack. His top game was against Kansas City when he recorded six tackles.

3 - JONATHAN BABINEAUX

After fighting through major injuries earlier in his career, DT Jonathan Babineaux was at his best as a Hawkeye senior, earning all-America recognition. With Babineaux playing a major role in Iowa's defense, the Hawkeyes won their final eight games of the 2004 season, earning the Big Ten title and a win over LSU in the 2005 Capital One Bowl. Babineaux was a second round selection of the Atlanta Falcons, and he made an immediate impact. Babineaux saw action in all 16 games as a rookie, recording 31 tackles, including 24 solo tackles.

4 - SEAN CONSIDINE

After joining the Iowa program as a walk-on, Sean Considine became one of the top defensive backs in recent Iowa history. Even after working his way on the field as a starting safety, Considine remained a key player on Iowa's special teams throughout his career. He blocked two punts in a win at Iowa State and closed his career with a touchdown against LSU in the 2005 Capital One Bowl, picking up a blocked punt for a score in Iowa's dramatic win. Considine was the first player selected in the fourth round of the 2005 NFL draft. He was a quality performer on special teams for the Eagles, recording eight tackles before suffering a season ending injury.

2006 NFL DRAFT

WHY IOWA - A TOTAL PROGRAM

The University of Iowa has been well represented in the NFL Draft in the past nine seasons, as 29 Hawkeye players have been selected in the first six rounds over the past seven drafts. Five Hawkeye players were drafted each year from 2003-05, including OL Robert Gallery as the second player selected in the 2004 draft. Two Iowa players were selected in the first three rounds of the 2006 draft, with four additional Hawkeyes signing free agent contracts. Overall, Iowa has had 20 players selected in the last five years of the NFL Draft, a figure that ranks third among Big Ten Conference teams. In addition, 21 players in the past four seasons have signed NFL free agent contracts.

LB Chad Greenway was a first round selection (Minnesota, 17th pick) in the 2006 NFL Draft and LB Abdul Hodge was selected in the second round by Minnesota. Immediately following the draft, wide receivers Ed Hinkel and Clinton Solomon, defensive back Jovon Johnson and center Brian Ferentz all signed NFL free agent contracts.

In 2005, DE Matt Roth and DL Jonathan Babineaux were both second round selections. Along with Gallery being selected second in the 2004 Draft, DB Bob Sanders was taken in the second round and PK Nate Kaeding was a third round selection. In 2003, TE Dallas Clark was taken in the first round and OL Eric Steinbach and OL Bruce Nelson in the second round.

1 - Linebacker Chad Greenway was a first round selection of the Minnesota Vikings, the 17th player selected in the 2006 NFL Draft.

2 - LB Abdul Hodge was a third round selection of the Green Bay Packers.

Three of the five Hawkeye players selected in the 2003 NFL Draft joined the Iowa program as walk-ons from prep programs from within the state of Iowa. This is believed to be the first time in the history of the draft that any one team had three former walk-ons selected in the same year. It was more of the same in the 2005 draft. DB Sean Considine, a fourth round selection, and OL Pete McMahon, taken in the sixth round, also joined the Iowa program as walk-ons before becoming starters on a team that played in three straight January bowl games.

Roth and Babineaux led the Iowa defense in 2004 before being second round selections. Considine was the first player selected in the fourth round and TE Tony Jackson joined McMahon as a sixth round selection. NFL teams signed three additional Hawkeye players immediately following the 2005 NFL Draft.

In 1997, OL Ross Verba and DB Tom Knight were first round selections. Knight was the ninth pick overall and Verba was the 30th player selected. Iowa had four players selected in the first five rounds of the 1998 draft and another five Hawkeyes signed NFL contracts following the draft.

In the 1999 draft, DT Jared DeVries was taken in the third round and DB Eric Thigpen was a sixth round selection. DeVries was selected by the Detroit Lions, while Thigpen was selected by the NFC champion Atlanta Falcons.

In 2000, Iowa had two players selected, as TE Austin Wheatley was a fifth round selection of the New Orleans Saints and DB Matt Bowen was taken in the sixth round by the Super Bowl champion St. Louis Rams. TE Zeron Flemister has been in the NFL for the past five seasons after signing a NFL free agent contract.

In 2001, record-setting WR Kevin Kasper was drafted by Denver in the sixth round, while three additional Iowa players signed contracts shortly after the draft was completed. Kasper, along with P Jason Baker, DL Anthony Herron and OLB LeVar Woods earned positions on NFL rosters.

RB Ladell Betts was a second round selection of the Washington Redskins in the 2002 draft, while DL Aaron Kampman was selected by Green Bay in the fifth round and Atlanta selected WR Kahlil Hill in the sixth round. In addition, eight other Hawkeye players signed NFL contracts within one week of the completion of the draft.

NFL HAWKEYES

- 1 - Wide receiver Ed Hinkel, a solid receiver and special teams player throughout his career, signed a free agent contract with Indianapolis following the 2006 draft.
- 2 - Clinton Solomon, one of the top receivers in Iowa history, signed a free agent contract with the St. Louis Rams.
- 3 - Offensive lineman Brian Ferentz, who battled major injuries throughout his career before starting Iowa's final 20 games in his last two seasons, signed a free agent contract with the Atlanta Falcons.
- 4 - DB Jovon Johnson, a first team all-Big Ten selection as a senior who ranks third in career interception, signed a free agent contract with the New York Jets.
- 5 - Three former Hawkeyes were able to share the moment after an NFL battle during the 2005 season. Nate Kaeding (left) and Mike Goff (right) of the San Diego Chargers share a post-game chat with Oakland's Robert Gallery.

PRO TIMING DAY

NFL SCOUTS KNOW THE IOWA FOOTBALL PROGRAM

The University of Iowa football program has established close ties with National Football League teams, a connection that proves very beneficial to Hawkeye football players as they pursue their dreams of playing professional football in the NFL.

Iowa Coach Kirk Ferentz, who coached in the NFL for six seasons prior to taking his current position as the Iowa head coach, has established close ties with coaches and scouts from around the NFL. Each year, scouts from all NFL teams make it a point to spend time at the Iowa football complex, checking in on the current class of Hawkeye seniors.

Each spring, pro scouts are invited to Iowa City to work out and evaluate the Iowa players who are heading into their senior year, giving the players a chance to showcase their talents and improve their opportunity to catch the interest of one or more NFL teams.

Along with the spring visits, NFL personal are welcomed to the Iowa campus throughout the football season to observe practice and view video tape of the Hawkeye players in action. The relationships that Coach Ferentz and the Iowa staff have formed with NFL coaches and scouts assure Hawkeye players the chance to be evaluated by NFL personal.

With 23 Hawkeye players being drafted in the first six rounds of the last seven NFL drafts, including 17 in the last four years, Iowa players are well known to NFL scouts. Even more impressive is the fact that Iowa has had 34 non-drafted players sign NFL contracts in the last seven years.

The Iowa football program, under the direction of Kirk Ferentz for the past six years, has seen 46 of 54 seniors who were starters, earn their way into an NFL training camp, either by being drafted or signing a free agent contract.

LB LeVar Woods and P Jason Baker are two former Hawkeyes who signed free agent contracts following the 2001 NFL Draft. Both Woods and Baker have spent the last five seasons in the NFL. Baker handled all punting duties for Kansas City in 2003 and was Carolina's fulltime punter in 2005. Woods played four seasons with the Arizona Cardinals before finding a home and starting at the end of last season for the Detroit Lions.

Following the 2003 NFL draft, an unofficial survey of major college football conferences revealed that the Iowa football program is almost certainly the first to have three former walk-on players drafted in the first five rounds of an NFL draft.

2 - After spending six years as an NFL coach, Hawkeye Coach Kirk Ferentz (right) has established many contacts with NFL coaches and college scouts, which assists Hawkeye players as they prepare for a future in the NFL.

3 - A large gathering of NFL scouts and coaches are on hand each spring as Iowa players show their talents prior to the annual NFL Draft.

NFL SCOUTS

Following is a list of NFL personnel who visited the University of Iowa football department over the past year in preparation for the 2006 NFL Draft. Linebacker Chad Greenway was a first round selection in 2006, while fellow linebacker Abdul Hodge was a third round selection. Iowa has had 17 players selected in the NFL in the past four years. In addition, four additional Hawkeye players signed free agent contracts shortly following the completion of the 2006 draft.

WHY IOWA - A TOTAL PROGRAM

HAWKEYES EARN NFL RESPECT

Quotes From the NFL

As scouts from around the National Football League search for the top college football players in the nation each year, their visits to Iowa City and the University of Iowa football program are experiences that have resulted in positive results for both sides, the Iowa players looking to continue their playing careers, and the NFL teams who are searching for quality individuals who have grown and matured in one of the most respected programs in the nation.

"Coach Ferentz is an excellent coach who has been exposed to every level of football. Using his philosophy and understanding of the game, he develops all of his players to their maximum ability. His experience in the NFL gives his players every opportunity to be successful at the next level."

The style of play they employ at Iowa really prepares those players to play in the NFL. They will have all of the support they need to reach their full potential.

Coach Ferentz and his entire staff are always very hospitably and cooperative with NFL personal. We are always treated in a very positive, professional manner."

BILL REES

Special Assistant to the General Manager
San Francisco 49ers

1 - DL Aaron Kampman joined the Green Bay Packers as a rookie in 2002 and started six games in his first season in the NFL. Last season he started all 16 games and recorded 105 tackles.

2 - TE Dallas Clark (44) and DB Bob Sanders (21) are two former Hawkeyes who are now playing for the Indianapolis Colts. Sanders, in his second season, was an all-Pro selection in 2005.

"Everybody knows the Big Ten Conference is arguably the best football conference in the country. With the University of Iowa having some of the top facilities in the nation, you combine that with Kirk and his staff, with their ability and energy level, they have what it takes to build a championship team."

Because of those factors, Kirk and his staff, the facilities, the support staff, any player would have the opportunity for success. The atmosphere at Iowa pushes student-athletes to compete at their highest level and to be prepared for the next stage of their career."

Ross Verba, our first round selection in the 1997 NFL Draft who earned a starting position in our offensive line as a rookie, and Aaron Kampman, who has had three good seasons with us in Green Bay, are great examples of how well the Iowa guys are prepared for the future."

JOHN DORSEY

Director of College Scouting
Green Bay Packers

"We really enjoy having Iowa kids with our football team. We find they are exceptionally self-disciplined, they have a tremendous work ethic and they really love the game of football."

In addition, they are tremendously well coached, as well prepared as anyone we get, for life in the NFL, and that is a direct reflection on Coach Ferentz, his staff and the entire Iowa program."

BILL POLIAN

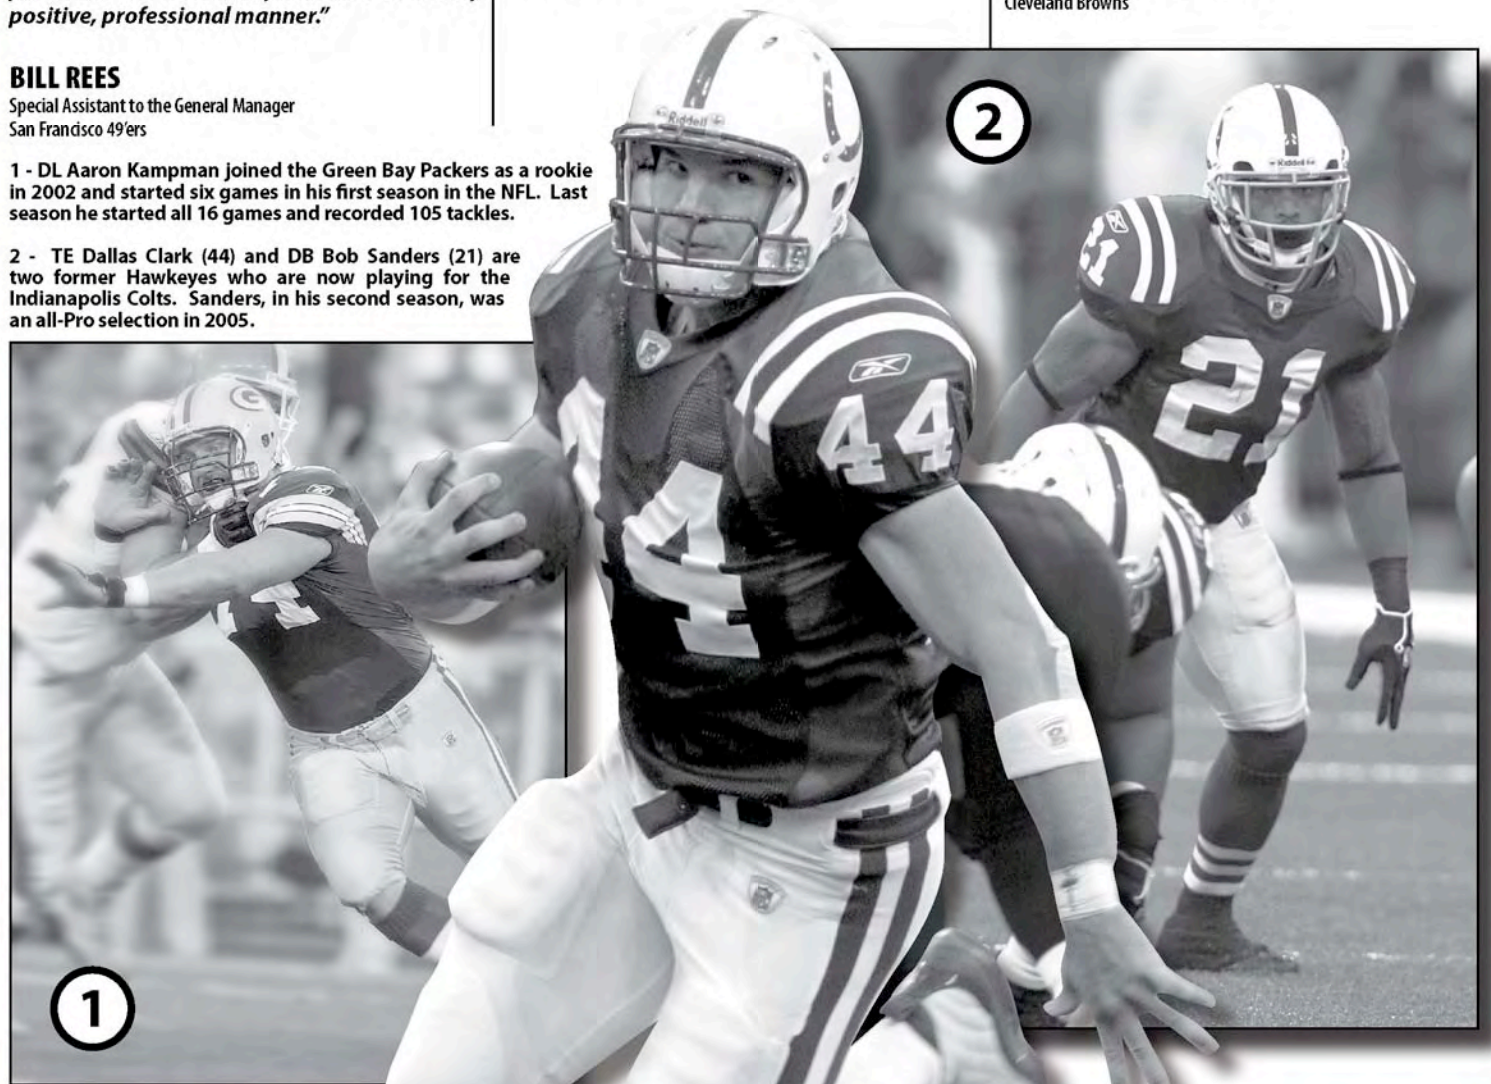

President
Indianapolis Colts

"Football is all about people. I can't think of a better combination, as a person and a coach, than Kirk Ferentz."

With Kirk's NFL background and his ability to communicate with his players, to me, there's no one better in the country to play for right now in major college football, than Kirk Ferentz."

PHIL SAVAGE

Senior Vice-President & General Manager
Cleveland Browns

HAWKEYES IN THE SUPER BOWL

Not only are Iowa football players annually selected in the NFL draft, those players selected by NFL teams have often helped their team advance to the Super Bowl.

In fact, 13 former Iowa Hawkeyes have competed in nine Super Bowl games since 1990. And, several times those former Hawkeyes were key players in the game.

Since the inception of the championship game, 25 former Iowa players have competed in the Super Bowl, with four of those players appearing in the game on more than one occasion. OL Bruce Nelson, in his rookie season as an offensive lineman with Carolina, appeared in the 2004 Super Bowl. WR Kevin Kasper was a member of the New England Patriot team that won the 2005 Super Bowl and TE Erik Jensen was a member of the winning Pittsburgh Steelers team in 2006.

1 - DB Merton Hanks earned all-Pro honors with the San Francisco 49'ers and was a member of the San Francisco team that won the 1995 Super Bowl.

2 - In 1997 Ross Verba of the Green Bay Packers became the first rookie to start at left tackle in the history of the Super Bowl.

3 - Ronnie Harmon, who ended his college career as Iowa's all-time leading rusher, played in the 1995 Super Bowl as a member of the San Diego Chargers.

4 - In 1999, Tim Dwight set a record for kickoff return average in a Super Bowl, electrifying the crowd late in the game with a 94-yard return for a touchdown.

5 - Erik Jensen, who signed with St. Louis following his Iowa career, was able to enjoy the success of reaching the 2006 Super Bowl with the champion Pittsburgh Steelers.

"ALL-STAR" IMPRESSION

Hawkeyes Make "All-Star" Impression

Iowa football players have a long tradition of being well prepared for professional football, following their college playing careers. This tradition is enhanced by their performances in post-season all-star games, where senior players each year have the chance to shine.

After being selected for any of the all-star contests, college players have the advantage of practicing and playing in front of the watchful eyes of NFL coaches and scouts. Over the past seven years, Hawkeye players coached by Kirk Ferentz, have played well in the post-season games, enhancing their chances at a professional playing career.

Since the end of the 1999 season, 42 Hawkeye players have made 51 appearances in post-season games. RB Fred Russell, the most recent member to join Iowa's 1,000-yard rushing club, was named his team's Most Valuable Player in the 2004 Hula Bowl. A year ago, seven Hawkeye players were selected to participate in all-star game action.

"It is a great honor for senior players to be selected for post season all-star contests, a reward for their hard work and a by-product of a good career. These games give players the chance to continue to display their skills and attitude for professional scouts and coaches. It's a great experience to meet and work with other fine players and to work with new coaches."

"Our players who have had the opportunity to participate in these events have been able to take advantage of the invitation. They've gone in with good attitudes and a serious approach, treating the experience as a job interview. It's a great stage to enhance their opportunity for a career in professional football."

KIRK FERENTZ

Head Football Coach | University of Iowa

RB Fred Russell was named team MVP while competing in the 2004 Hula Bowl.
