John Davey

Head Coach
Sixth Season
University of Iowa, 1989

Former Hawkeye all-American John Davey starts his sixth year as head swim coach at Iowa. From 1995-98, he served as assistant coach at Iowa under head coach Glenn Patton. Prior to returning to his alma mater, Davey was the swim coach for the Anderson Barracudas/M.E. Lyons YMCA swim club in Cincinnati, Ohio (1994-95). Davey also served as an assistant and interim head coach at the University of Wisconsin (1992-94) and as assistant coach at Ohio State University (1991-92).

During his swimming career at Iowa, Davey was and still is the only Big Ten athlete, in any sport, to be named Athlete of the Year all four years of eligibility. While at Iowa, Davey won 10 Big Ten titles and was a 10-time all-American. He was a finalist in both the 1992 Olympic Games in Barcelona, Spain, and the 1988 Olympic Games in Seoul, South Korea. In addition, Davey has been a finalist in two World Championships, three European Championships, and has won a silver and three bronze medals at the Commonwealth Games.

Under Davey's direction, the Hawkeyes have crowned four Big Ten champions and six all-Americans. The 1999-2000 season marked the first time Iowa crowned a Big Ten champion since 1995, and the first time the Hawkeyes had multiple champions since 1994. Ales Abersek became the second swimmer in Iowa history to be named Big Ten Swimmer of the Championship after winning the 100 and 200 butterfly. In 2003, Timo Klami became the seventh diver in school history to win a Big Ten title, placing first in the three-meter event at the Big Ten Championships. He was also Iowa's first diver since Randy Ableman in 1982 to win a conference title.

As the coach for the Anderson team, Davey led his tankers to the YMCA national championships in the spring and summer of 1995. Davey's team captured seven individual national YMCA titles and swimmer Dod Wales set two YMCA national records.

While at Wisconsin, Davey coached five all-Americans including Ola Stromberg, who holds the Field House pool record in the 1,650-yard freestyle, Robert Pinter, an Olympic finalist in 1992 and Valter Kalas, an Olympic finalist in 1988.

A native of Middleton, England, Davey has held British and English senior records in three different events, which he broke on numerous occasions during his swimming career. He presently holds the Iowa records for both the 200 and 400 individual medley. In 1999, Davey was elected to the National Iowa Varsity Club Athletic Hall of Fame.

Davey earned his bachelors degree in exercise science from Iowa in 1989. His wife, Kate, was an all-American swimmer at The Ohio State University and a gold and bronze medal winner for the U.S. in the 1991 World University Games. They have a two-year-old daughter, Gillian, and two cats, Styx and Stone.

Coch Davey's Philosophy:

"I strive to present each student athlete with a well-balanced collegiate experience that emphasizes self-discipline and equal commitment to excellence in the classroom and the pool. To achieve this balance, I work to provide a positive, productive and team-oriented environment where each swimmer is expected to set both individual and common goals. In order to help them achieve these goals, I am committed to daily communication, support and encouragement."

The University of Iowa men's swimming and diving team is looking to an experienced group of upperclassmen, along with a solid recruiting class, to lead them to success in the 2003-04 season. Iowa Head Coach John Davey hopes experience along with talent will help the Hawkeyes improve on last year's finish.

The Hawkeyes return 14 of the 17 top individual performances from 2002-03, as well as all four legs of the 200 and 400 medley relays. Iowa will miss contributions from Chris George, Chris Brunson, and Roberto Gutierrez, who were lost to graduation. George was Iowa's top 100 freestyle swimmer last year, Brunson held the top time in the 200 breaststroke, and Gutierrez was the top Hawkeye diver in the platform event. Davey is looking forward to a strong mix of five seniors, 12 juniors, four sophomores, and five freshmen to fill the voids.

Leading the way this year will be seniors Jason Snider and Andrei Prada, juniors Timo Klami and Cal Shelangoski, and sophomores Cameron Dye and Konrad Kazmierczak. Snider is the top returning butterflyer and IM'er while Dye returns as the team's top distance freestyle swimmer, holding last year's season best times in the 500, 1,000, and 1,650 events. Kazmierczak was last year's top swimmer in the sprint freestyle events, holding season best times in the 50 and 200 yards. Prada and Shelangoski, Iowa's top returning breaststrokers, both scored in the 100 and 200 events at last year's Big Ten Championships.

Senior Andrei Prada

Klami had a breakout season in 2002-03, claiming Iowa's first Big Ten title in the three-meter diving event since 1982. He also placed first in the three-meter diving event at the NCAA Zone C qualifying meet and placed 15th at the 2003 NCAA Championships. He was a first team all-Big Ten selection.

"I'm hoping Timo can repeat as Big Ten champion in the three-meter, and that he continues to improve on one-meter and platform," said Davey. "He is a very hard worker and I believe he will do just as well or better than last year."

Davey expects strong leadership from the team's senior co-captains, Jason Snider and David Mazur. "Both captains have many strong leadership qualities and since the position is elected solely by their teammates, they have the respect and confidence of their peers," he explained. "David is certainly an inspirational leader with an excellent work ethic, while Jason's organization skills combined with his ability to perform in practice and meets make them a well-rounded duo." The remaining seniors include Gregg Gazvoda, and John Singer who Davey is expecting to step up more in their final year.

The 12-man junior class now has two years of experience and Davey believes that will be important this season. "Experience will help us a lot," added Davey. "Everyone is swimming faster and starting to believe in themselves. Their confidence will allow them to score at big meets."

The Hawkeyes have a very talented recruiting class with international experience. Newcomers include freshman Paul Divan (San Juan Capistrano, CA), Tomasz Dzedzic (Krakow, Poland), Jeff Kubat (West Des Moines, IA), Steve Medaglia

Senior Co-Captain Jason Snider

(Ottawa, Canada) and Mariusz Muras (Lodz, Poland), and junior Peter Ranstead (Orland Park, IL). Ranstead transferred from the University of Tampa, who has scored at the NCAA Division II Championships and is expected to make an immediate impact on the team. Dziejczak and Muras have been finalists at junior European Championships and should be able to make their presence felt at the Big Ten and NCAA level. Medaglia is a very versatile swimmer with plenty of international experience and Davey predicts he will score high at the Big Ten and NCAA Championships. Divan and Kubat have improved in leaps and bounds over the past year and should also make an immediate impact.

Davey is looking forward to making constant improvement from last year's ninth place finish at the Big Ten Championships. "The end of the year was disappointing for us," said Davey. "I'm hoping to post more dual meet victories this season, but that isn't our priority. We want to score higher at the Big Ten Championships and get more people qualified for the NCAA Championships. We want to be a top 20 team next year and we look forward to moving up the ranks in the Big Ten Conference."

Field House Pool

Iowa's Field House Pool was built in 1927 and was, at the time, the world's largest indoor swimming pool. The pool has been the site of many national and international meets.

In 1979, the pool underwent a $400,000 renovation, making it one of the fastest competitive pools in the midwest. Diving platforms were added in 1980.

The pool is 150 feet long and 60 feet wide and has eight lanes (7-foot-3 wide) with a one-foot buffer lane on each side. The lanes in the competition end of the pool are separated by two Kiefer nonturbulent lines, and all four walls have recirculating gutters which make for very fast conditions.

The competitive end of the facility is separated from the shallow section by a four-foot wide Whitten bulkhead. The bulkhead allows 30 percent of the water to flow through, contributing to the calm water surface.

Each lane is equipped with a Whitten starting block, which can be adjusted to permit competition at 25 meters or yards or long-course training. Diving facilities include a pair of one- and three-meter springboards, plus five- and ten-meter platforms.

Automatic timing equipment is used in all eight lanes and a large readout board posts times for each swimmer.

Future Swimming Facility

Construction is underway for the University of Iowa's Hawkeye Athletic and Recreation Facilities Complex, which will be the new gateway to the west side of campus. The project, for which the ground-breaking ceremony was conducted last April, will include a visitors center, athletic hall of fame, and will be the new home for Iowa's tennis, soccer and swimming and diving teams. The new facilities will provide for competitive, instructional and recreational swimming, competitive, as well as instructional and recreational indoor and outdoor tennis. It will also hold facilities for strength training, organized exercise and general fitness.

The University of Iowa's new state-of-the-art swimming and diving complex will occupy a total of 46,829 net square feet and include an Olympic size pool with three movable bulkheads and a diving well with platform diving up to 10 meters.

The facility will also provide weight training facilities, sports medicine training facilities, men's and women's team and public locker rooms and wet and dry meeting and video rooms. The building will also house the Iowa swimming offices.

"Upon completion, the Hawkeye Athletic and Recreation Facilities Complex will immediately have a huge impact on our program," said Iowa Head Swimming Coach John Davey. "It will have a major influence on recruiting as well as give our current athletes a great environment for training and competition. We are also very excited about the possibility of hosting our conference championships and other major meets, such as the NCAA Championships and USS Nationals."

Dr. David Skorton

University President

David J. Skorton was appointed the 19th president of The University of Iowa on March 1, 2003. He has been a faculty member at the University since 1980. He holds joint appointments at the rank of professor in the Departments of Internal Medicine, Electrical and Computer Engineering, and Biomedical Engineering. Skorton was appointed vice president for research in 1992 and, additionally, interim vice president for external relations in 2000. He served as vice president for research and external relations from March 2002 until he assumed the presidency. As vice president, he oversaw more than 30 administrative units and headed a research and development program that ranks among the nation's top 20 public research universities in obtaining external funding. He also continued his role as a physician, caring for adolescents and adults with inborn heart disease.

Co-founder and co-director of the UI Adolescent and Adult Congenital Heart Disease Clinic at the University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics, Skorton has focused his research on congenital heart disease in adolescents and adults, cardiac imaging, and computer image processing. He has published numerous articles, reviews, book chapters, and two major texts in the areas of cardiac imaging and image processing. He has served in a variety of administrative positions at The University of Iowa, including director of the Cardiovascular Image Processing Laboratory (1982-1996), director of the Division of General Internal Medicine (1985-1989), and associate chair for clinical programs in the Department of Internal Medicine (1989-1992).

A national leader in research ethics, President Skorton is charter president of the Association for the Accreditation of Human Research Protection Programs, Inc., the first entity organized specifically to accredit human research protection programs. He has served on the boards and committees of many national organizations, including the American College of Cardiology, the American Heart Association, the American Institute of Ultrasound in Medicine, the American Society of Echocardiography, the Association for the Accreditation of Human Research Protection Programs, the Association of American Universities, the Council on Competitiveness, and the Korea America Friendship Society. He has traveled widely in Europe and Asia on behalf of both academic and community projects.

President Skorton is actively engaged in service to the community and to the state of Iowa, particularly in regional and state economic development. He serves on and chaired the Iowa City Area Development Group, and currently serves on the Cedar Rapids Chamber of Commerce Priority One Advisory Committee, the Technology Corridor Committee, and the Cedar Rapids Symphony Orchestra Board of Directors. He has also served on committees of the Iowa Business Council, the Iowa Department of Economic Development Board, the Governor's Life Sciences Advisory Committee, and the Iowa Research Council, of which he was president from 1999-2001.

President Skorton earned his bachelor's degree in psychology in 1970 and an M.D. in 1974, both from Northwestern University. Following a medical residency and cardiology fellowship at The University of California, Los Angeles, he came to The University of Iowa in 1980 as an instructor. He was named assistant professor of internal medicine in 1981 and assistant professor of electrical and computer engineering in 1982. He was promoted to associate professor in 1984 and to professor in 1988.

Robert Bowsby

Director of Athletics

Bob Bowsby, in his 13th year as director of athletics at The University of Iowa, heads a team of coaches and athletic staff members that has merged men's and women's programs to form one department that continues to rank among the nation's best. The combined entity encompasses 24 varsity sports and an annual budget in excess of $34 million.

As the chief administrator for Iowa's athletic department Bowsby has earned a reputation as one of the most respected, energetic and ambitious athletic administrators in the nation. His hiring of new head coaches in football, men's and women's basketball and wrestling, all in the past five years, will enable Iowa to maintain its standing as one of the most visible and successful Division I athletic programs.

The National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) named Bowsby as 2001-02 Central Region Athletic Director of the Year. He was one of four athletic directors selected in the Division I-A category. The award highlights the efforts of the athletic directors for their commitment and positive contributions to campuses and their surrounding communities.

A Waterloo native, Bowsby became Iowa's 10th Athletic Director in June, 1991 after serving in the same role at the University of Northern Iowa since 1984. He previously served as Assistant Athletic Director for Facilities at Northern Iowa.

He earned his bachelor's degree from Moorhead State University (Minnesota) in 1975 and his master's from the University of Iowa in 1978.

Bowsby has served as chair of the Big Ten Championships and Awards committee, as a member of the league's Conference and National Structure committee and was appointed as one of two Big Ten representatives to the NCAA Management Council. He was elected to chair the Management Council for the first two years of its existence.

Bowsby managed five NCAA Wrestling Championships as chair of the Wrestling Committee and has served on NCAA committees on Financial Aid and Amateurism, the Special Committee to Review Amateurism Issues and the Special Committee to Review Financial Conditions in Athletics. Bowsby is in the second year of a four-year term on the NCAA Division I Basketball Tournament Committee. He has served as an Executive Committee member with both the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics and the Division I-A Athletic Directors Association and currently serves as President of the I-A Directors group.

Bowsby was also elected chair of the NCAA Olympic Sports Liaison Committee and represented the NCAA as one of two voting members on the United States Olympic Committee. Bowsby also was appointed by former United States Olympic Committee President LeRoy Walker to the NCAA/USOC Liaison Committee, chaired by George Steinbrenner and NCAA Executive Director Cedrick Dempsey. Bob has also served as a member of the Board of Governors for the National Wrestling Hall of Fame.

Bowsby is a charter member of the Iowa Olympics Committee and a current member of the Board of Directors of the Iowa Games. Bob is a board member of the Iowa Scholarship Fund, Inc. and a Board member on the Honda Awards program, which recognizes our nation's top female collegiate athletes each year.

He and his wife, Candice, have four children, Lisa, Matt, Rachel and Kyle. Bowsby was born Jan. 10, 1952.

The University of Iowa Athletic Department, under the direction of Athletic Director Bob Bowsby for the past 12 years, is regarded as one of the top intercollegiate programs in the nation.

The men's and women's departments, operating separately for over 25 years, merged in 2001 under Bowsby's direction. It combined nationally recognized programs for both genders into one successful and progressive athletic program.

Combining their successes on the playing fields with continued success and recognition in the classroom, UI student-athletes practice and perform in some of the best facilities in the nation, while knowing the support of their efforts and attendance by Hawkeye fans ranks among the best in the country.

While the Hawkeyes continue to compete with the best in the nation in a variety of sports, Iowa continues to boast some of the most impressive athletic facilities in the nation, operated by one of the most respected departments.

Several new projects are underway on the Iowa campus. The goal is to improve all areas of the collegiate experience for Hawkeye student-athletes. One of the latest additions to the UI campus is the Roy G. Karro Athletics Hall of Fame and Visitors Center. The Hall of Fame and a varsity soccer complex make up the first phase of a $37 million project.

Phase two of the project includes new swimming and diving pools, and indoor and outdoor tennis facilities, in addition to bicycle and walking paths. More than $15 million of the total cost will be generated through private giving.

Additional priorities for the Iowa program include the establishment and development of endowments for all sports programs, the continued enhancement of graduation rates, and the implementation of a long-range plan to ensure Iowa's financial, academic and competitive future. As an example, all of Iowa's 13 scholarships for men's basketball are fully endowed.

The Iowa's student-athlete graduation rate has improved in each of the past 10 years and has consistently ranked above the graduation rate of all UI students. Hawkeye athletes have garnered more than 50 academic all-America honors since 1992. In 1998-99 Iowa led the Big Ten in academic all-Big Ten selections and ranked second in 1999-00. In 2002-03, over 140 Hawkeye athletes earned academic all-Big Ten recognition.

Iowa athletes have been recognized as all-Americans in their sport on more than 175 occasions during the past 12 years.

Iowa's 2002-03 athletics teams continued their trend of success. The Hawkeye football team posted a perfect 8-0 Big Ten record in winning the league title. Iowa participated in the 2003 Orange Bowl and ended the season ranked eighth nationally in both major polls. Iowa's men's and women's basketball teams have advanced to post-season play in each of the last three seasons, while Iowa's wrestling and gymnastics teams continue to rank among the best in the nation. Iowa has won six of the last nine NCAA wrestling titles and nine of the last 13 championships.

Iowa's men's gymnastics team placed sixth in the nation, while the women's gymnastics squad also advanced to the team competition at the NCAA championships. The women's softball team earned both the Big Ten regular season and post-season tournament titles, advancing to NCAA regional action for the eighth time in 10 seasons.

Iowa's field hockey squad was ranked in the top 15 in the nation throughout the 2002 season, while individual performers in track and field and women's tennis also qualified for NCAA championship competition.

From the rankings on the courts and playing fields, to the rankings in the classroom, to the rankings in fan and community support, to the ranking as a program that boasts some of the best athletic facilities in the nation, it's easy to understand why Iowa fans everywhere truly believe, "It's Great to be a Hawkeye."

The University of Iowa student body is a fixture at all Hawkeye athletic events, making Iowa City a very difficult place for opposing teams to visit.

Since its inception in 1979, Athletics Student Services has evolved from a two-person, academic support service to a broad-based, nationally prominent student support services operation. Its purpose is to assist student athletes to become tomorrow's leaders by offering academic and personal support services to assist them in making timely and satisfactory progress toward their degrees.

Athletic Student Services focuses on four important areas — academic counseling and monitoring, educational and support programs, retention programs and compliance services — when working with student-athletes. Following are descriptions of some of the programs, services and opportunities available to student-athletes in those areas.

Athletics Learning Center

The $4.6 million Russell A. and Ann Gerdin Athletics Learning Center, scheduled to open in August of 2003, will give all Iowa student-athletes a state of the art facility to help them with their educations.

The Athletics Learning Center is a multi-level, 20,000 square foot facility which will provide a computer center, study areas, classes and meeting places for all Hawkeye student-athletes.

The Learning Center will feature an auditorium that converts into two classrooms, separate study rooms for under and upper-class student-athletes that feature 28 study carrels, a computer lab, five tutorial rooms, the book loan repository, office space for Iowa's Student Services staff and a display area to recognize the academic accomplishments of Iowa's student-athletes.

Academic Counseling and Monitoring

Athletics coordinators work closely with student-athletes and their university-assigned advisors from the time they arrive on campus until the time they leave the University. Along with focusing on academic planning matters such as goal-setting, plans of study, choosing majors and degree requirements, coordinators also help student-athletes understand NCAA, Big Ten and University academic policies. They also solicit feedback from instructors on a student-athlete's academic progress.

Tutoring

Tutoring is available free of charge to all student-athletes. Tutors, who are post-graduates and teachers, help with course content as well as study strategies and are available in virtually all general education subjects.

Retention

A full-time staff member directs the retention program, which identifies student-athletes who may need tailored academic assistance and structure, and implements individualized learning plans to help them succeed. Such plans may include daily and weekly planning sessions with athletics coordinators and retention staff, tutoring, study groups, mainstreaming into on-campus services like the writing center, math labs and services for students with learning disabilities.

Transition Seminar

All new student-athletes attend an eight-week transition seminar during the fall semester that is geared toward helping them make the transition from high school to college successfully. Seminar topics include time management skills, learning and study strategies, the culture and rules of the university, and life skills concerning alcohol and other substances, relationships and intimacy, diversity, tolerance, values and character.

CHAMPS/Life Skills

Life skills programs are conducted throughout the year with and for student athletes on quality of life issues critical to personal growth, such as personal accountability, responsible use and nonuse of alcohol, diversity and gambling.

Career Guidance and Development

Planning a meaningful career and a fulfilling life is an ongoing process of expanding and narrowing choices, beginning when student-athletes arrive on campus and continuing throughout their college career and lifetime. The professional staff works with other career development professionals on campus to offer individual consultation, career development seminars, workshops, referrals to other campus offices and special events like the Senior Recognition Banquet for graduating student-athletes.

Minority Enrichment Program

This program offers a culturally supportive environment in which minority student-athletes have the opportunity to develop friendships and a support network in the university. A core focus group of students and staff coordinate programs such as guest speakers, holiday celebrations, community service activities with the local neighborhood centers, events with Cultural Centers and networking with minority faculty, staff, professional and business leaders.

Compare the Numbers

Iowa's student-athletes have outperformed the University's entire student population each year since the NCAA started requiring a report of student-athlete graduation rates.

When student-athletes consider their future, they should consider prospects beyond athletics. A list of all University of Iowa alumni who have distinguished themselves professionally would be difficult to assemble and could never be complete. However, some are truly outstanding in their area of expertise.

Strength and Conditioning

The University of Iowa has two 2,000-square-foot facilities for strength and conditioning training for Olympic sport athletes. One facility is located in Carver-Hawkeye Arena and the other is located in the Recreation Building. Each facility has eight squat racks, eight Olympic platforms, multiple physio- and medicine balls, padded plyometric boxes and over 10,000 pounds of free weights. Bill Maxwell and Chad Bower oversee the programs.

The major goals of the University of Iowa strength and conditioning program are the enhancement of athletic performance while reducing the risk of injury through a progression of free weight, multi-joint exercises. Those goals are achieved through Olympic lifts, squats, plyometrics, medicine ball and physioball exercises. These multi-joint movements improve synchronization of movement, intramuscular coordination and stabilizer muscle groups.

Athletic Training

Continuing to set the standard in Sports Medicine Service, The University of Iowa provides the student-athlete with the most up-to-date and highest-quality medical care available.

Services from the UI Hospitals and Clinics, among the world's largest university-owned teaching hospitals, support the efforts of a dedicated sports medicine staff. Located next to Kinnick Stadium, the hospital creates an environment where staff physicians, interns, and residents can care for student-athletes with cutting edge outcomes. Dedicated research and education result in outstanding care.

Athletic Training Services connect student-athletes to the various resources and specialty areas. Iowa's staff of 10 full-time athletic trainers are committed to providing quality health care, injury rehabilitation programs, and prevention programs. With physical conditioning as one of the major components of a prevention program, the athletic trainers work closely with strength coaches to pave the way for safe and effective participation.

THE HAWKEYE NICKNAME

The University of Iowa borrowed its athletic nickname from the state of Iowa many years ago.

The name Hawkeye was originally the name of the hero in the fictional novel, The Last of the Mohicans, written by James Fenimore Cooper. Cooper had the Delaware Indians bestow the name on a white scout who lived with them.

In 1838, 12 years after the book was published, people in the territory of Iowa acquired the nickname, chiefly through the efforts of Judge David Rorer of Burlington and James Edwards of Fort Madison.

Edwards, editor of the Fort Madison Patriot, moved his paper to Burlington in 1843 and renamed it the Burlington Hawkeye. The two men continued their campaign to popularize the name, and territorial officials eventually gave it their formal approval.

HERKY THE HAWKEYE

The Hawkeye nickname gained a tangible symbol in 1948 when a cartoon character, later to be named Herky the Hawkeye was hatched. The creator was Richard Spencer III, instructor of journalism at Iowa.

The impish Hawk was an immediate hit and acquired a name through a statewide contest staged by the athletic department. John Franklin, a Belle Plaine alumnus, was the man who suggested Herky.

Since his birth more than 45 years ago, Herky has symbolized Iowa athletics and epitomized University life. He even donned a military uniform during the Korean War and became the insignia of the 124th Fighter Squadron.

During the mid-1950s, Herky came to life at a football game as the Iowa mascot. Since that time, Herky has been a familiar figure at Iowa athletics events.

SCHOOL FIGHT SONG

The Iowa Fight Song was written in 1950 by Mason City, Iowa, native Meredith Willson. Best known as the creator of Broadway's "The Music Man," Willson was awarded a 1963 University of Iowa Alumni Association Distinguished Service Award for "setting the spirit of Iowa to music." The lively cheer is sung hundreds of times during Iowa athletics events the year around.

*The word is Fight, Fight,
Fight for IOWA
Let every loyal Iowan sing;
The word is Fight, Fight
Fight for IOWA
Until the walls and rafters ring
(Go Hawks!)
Come on and cheer, cheer, cheer
for IOWA*

Come on and cheer until you hear the final gun.

*The word is Fight, Fight, Fight for IOWA
Until the game is won.*

SCHOOL COLORS

For 40 years Iowa was without school colors, but in 1887 a group of 50 seniors met on the steps of the Old Capitol to decide what are now the school official colors. They chose Old Gold, the color of Iowa's vast corn fields and Black, the color of the rich soil.
