The 2005 Hawkeye Baseball Media Guide is a publication of the University of Iowa Athletic Department. The guide was written and designed by Assistant Sports Information Director Tony Wirt. The cover was designed by Matt Ellison and printed by Tru-Art, Iowa City, IA.

Student-athletes throughout the country each year face the difficult task of selecting a University in which to pursue their college degree while reaching their full potential academically and athletically.

Selecting a University and baseball program that is the right fit for you is a very important decision. This decision is one that will have a great impact on both the near future as well as the many years to follow your collegiate experience and baseball career.

As you begin to compare all of your options, I strongly encourage you to consider The University of Iowa and our baseball program. Many of the same qualities which distinguish Iowa's academic reputation are the foundation we are building within the baseball program... a commitment to excellence, tradition of success, strong community support and first class facilities.

Iowa is an outstanding university with a worldwide reputation of academic excellence. The university features faculty and staff members who are committed to making your experience as a student-athlete a positive experience academically, not to mention Iowa City is a classic college town that prides itself on the success of the university in every regard.

We are also looking forward to regaining the past success that Iowa Baseball has had in winning seven Big Ten Championships, qualifying for three NCAA Tournaments and one appearance in the College World Series. Our Coaching staff is looking forward to taking The University of Iowa Baseball program to new heights. We believe that we have an opportunity to become one of the finest baseball programs in the nation, while helping to produce graduates who are prepared for successful careers.

The athletic department at the University of Iowa has built its reputation on the sound foundation of academic, athletic and personal integrity. These qualities are present at the very top in University President, Dr. David Skorton; Athletic Director, Bob Bowsby; and Associate Athletic Director Fred Mims (Baseball Administrator) and are embraced by each member of our coaching and administrative staff.

It is our hope that you will continue to consider The University of Iowa as a place for your future. Our program offers incredible academic opportunities combined with a Big Ten athletic experience that is unparalleled. The University of Iowa and the Iowa City Community will provide all the necessary ingredients to make your academic and athletic experiences as rewarding as possible.

We hope you will share in the excitement about The University of Iowa and our program.
It's great to be a Hawkeye!

Jack Dahm
Head Baseball Coach
University of Iowa

University of Iowa baseball coach Jack Dahm heads into his second season with the Hawkeyes with a seasoned squad and sense of optimism.

"We are really looking forward to our second season here," Dahm said. "We've made a lot of strides since last year. We have so much more competition within our program and a much better work ethic. I truly feel that we are headed in the right direction and that we will continue to build the foundation of a successful program."

PITCHING

The pitching staff will have a host of new faces after the Hawkeyes lost three of their top four starters from a year ago to graduation. The biggest shoes to fill will be those left by first team all-Big Ten selection Nathan Johnson, who was drafted by the Philadelphia Phillies after his senior season.

"There is no way to replace a pitcher the caliber of Nathan Johnson," Dahm said. "He was a real luxury last year, knowing that every Friday he was going to go out there and give us a chance to win."

While the Hawkeyes will enter the season without a clear-cut ace on the staff, the coaches are excited about the potential of this group of arms from top to bottom. Seven hurlers will come into the season battling for starts.

"We need guys to step up and establish themselves early in the season," Dahm said. "There is a lot of competition that we didn't have last year."

The top question for Dahm and pitching coach Nick Zumsande is where they are going to use talented and versatile southpaw Tim Gudex. The junior served as the Hawkeye closer last season, but has the tools to be an effective starter in the Big Ten.

"Gudex isn't overpowering, but he is a great competitor and always gives you a chance to win in whatever situation you put him in," Dahm said. "He has three quality pitches he can go to, and could be very valuable in a number of roles as a lefthander."

With a strong showing in the fall, sophomore Casey O'Rourke has made a strong case for a spot at the top of the rotation. The Williamsburg, IA, native appeared in 11 games last year and made five starts in mid-week games.

"Casey has established himself as someone who should be considered as a weekend starter for us," Dahm said. "He likes to have the ball in his hand in big games, which is exactly what we look for in a starter."

Two other pitchers that had solid falls and should be in the mix as starters are sophomore Ryan Dupic and junior Austin Seward. Dupic made eight starts last season as a freshman, while Seward made 13, posting a 5.21 ERA.

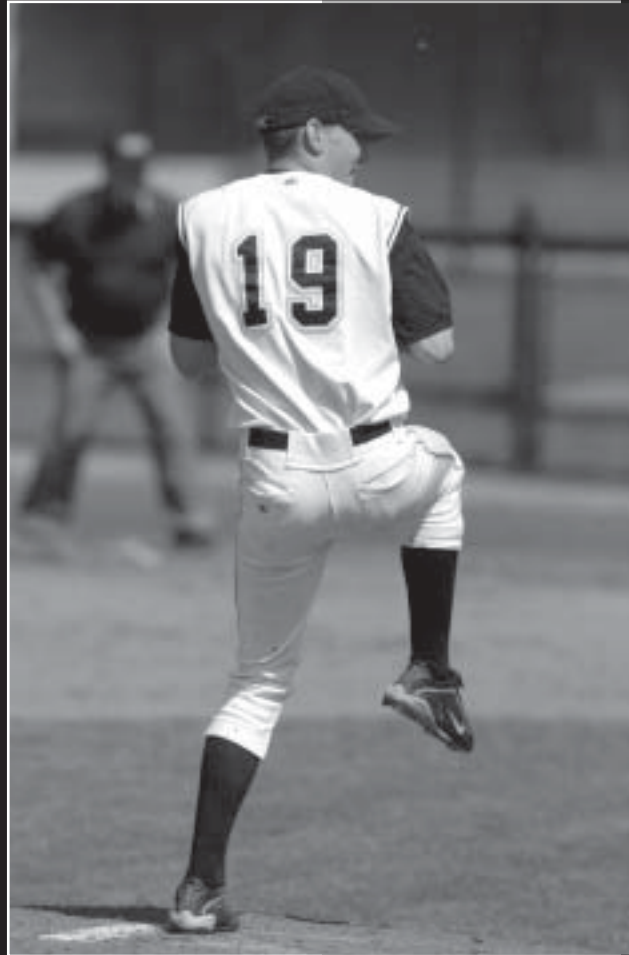

The coaching staff will also have a lot of options with their newcomers, led by 6-5 junior Luke O'Laughlin, who comes from Triton Junior College. David Conroy and Travis Sweet are also talented freshmen who could battle for starts.

Tim Gudex In the Hawkeye bullpen, Scott Brune and Kevin Sunderman will be looked at in short relief. Sunderman, who split time between third base and the mound last year, will become a full-time pitcher this year.

"Both Brune and Sunderman have stepped up during the off-season," Dahm said. "They give us good options in short relief, as both can close the door."

In long relief, Aaron Reasland has experience and should provide solid innings for the Hawkeyes. Cory Dawson, Brian Furlong and Andrew Sparks will also be counted on in long relief.

The status of Jeff Maitland, who is still recovering from the elbow injury that caused him to miss all of last season, is uncertain for this season. Iowa will be without the services of Danny Bales and Josh Wheatly, who will miss the season with arm injuries.

INFIELD

The infield should be a strength of the 2005 Hawkeye team after returning quite a bit of experience from last season. With a young pitching staff, strong infield play will be paramount for the Hawkeyes.

"We will need to be one of the top defensive teams in the league to be successful, because we don't have a lot of strikeout pitchers," Dahm said. "We will have to be able to catch the ball well, and I have confidence that we will. We're trying to build the program around pitching and defense."

The double play combination of shortstop Andy Lytle and Jason White returns for another season and could end the year as one of the best combos in the conference. Lytle hit .305 last year and has all the tools to succeed in the Big Ten.

"Lytle is an extremely talented offensive and defensive player," Dahm said. "I believe he can develop into one of the better infielders in the Big Ten. He has an above average arm, speed, and he is a good hitter. He was also one of our most consistent players last year."

At second base, White is an explosive athlete that gained valuable experience last year and pushed Lytle for the starting shortstop spot in the fall.

Senior Andy Cox will split time at both corner infield spots, and Coach Dahm likes his work ethic and defensive abilities at both third base and first base.

Luis Andrulonis will see action at the hot corner after an injury plagued season last year in which he started 32 games and hit .264.

They will be challenged by freshmen Travis Sweet and Kody McManis. Sweet will also see action on the mound this season, while McManis can play second base as well.

Splitting time with Cox at first base will be freshman Dusty Napoleon. Brian Burmester and Skylar Moss should also challenge for playing time.

Neal Coleman, T.J. Cataldo, Justin Petty and Luke Sassano will provide quality depth in the infield.

CATCHER

Senior Kris Welker returns after a solid season behind the dish for the Hawkeyes in which he hit .284 and was second on the team with 50 hits and 32 RBIs.

"Welker is the leader of the team," Dahm said. "He is a competitive kid who takes charge of things on the field with his fiery personality. He runs the staff really well and is a good middle of the order hitter."

A pair of talented youngsters will provide depth behind the plate in Dusty Napoleon and Ben Geelan.

Kris Welker

"We are not only excited about having Welker back, but we are really excited about the future of the position with Dusty and Ben," Dahm said. "Both of these players have a chance to be special."

The Hawkeyes also have Tom Moreland, Chase Metzger and John Suvada ready to step up and play.

OUTFIELD

The Hawkeye outfield will be anchored by all-Big Ten rightfielder Nate Yoho, who returns after a breakout year in 2004. Yoho led the Hawkeyes in hits (63), doubles (15), home runs (4) and RBIs (48).

"Yoho is the leader in the outfield," Dahm said. "He is a talented five-tool player who continues to improve. He has gotten more consistent throughout his career and should have a great senior season."

In centerfield, L.J. Mims returns after a productive offseason that should set the stage for successful junior season.

"L.J. had one of the best falls of anyone on our team," Dahm said. "He's worked very hard and has much more confidence. He was a bit overpowered last year, but he gained strength in the offseason and is ready to dive into the leadoff spot."

In leftfield, the Hawkeyes have plenty of options, led by Nate Price and Jeff "Boomer" Engel.

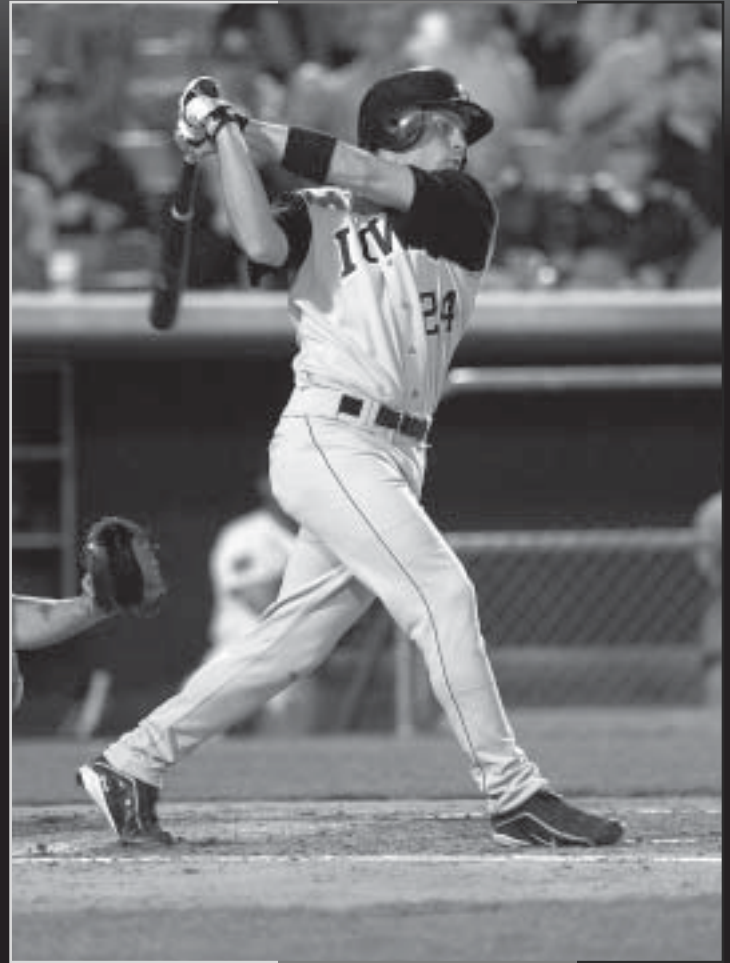

Price is a 6-2 lefty with speed that Dahm says reminds him of Steve Finley. He can play center or left, along with being a designated hitter.

Engel is coming off a strong fall and can also DH when not playing the field.

"Boomer is a big strong kid who brings a real physical presence to the lineup," Dahm said. "He's even stronger than he was last year, and should be a good, solid player for us."

Jesse Brownell and Mike Mogard will also challenge for starts in the outfield. Dahm says Brownell is the best defensive outfielder on the team, while Mogard is the hardest worker of the Hawkeyes.

Matt Wooldrick, Skylar Moss, Marcus Thompson and Ryan Considine will add depth to the outfield and should challenge for playing time throughout the year.

Nate Yoho

"We are going to play a lot of guys early, and whoever steps up will play during the season," Dahm said. "It's nice to have options like that, but we do need guys to step up and establish themselves."

SCHEDULE

The Hawkeyes will play a demanding schedule that starts with their season opening tournament in Alabama, a three-game series with 2003 College World Series participant Southwest Missouri State and a spring trip to Florida. Iowa will face the top teams in the Midwest, including Wichita State, Nebraska, and the annual Corridor Classic with Northern Iowa.

"We have one of the toughest schedules an Iowa team has had in a while," Dahm said. "We're going to be challenged early, but that will prepare us for the Big Ten season. We will play all the NCAA Qualifying teams from the Midwest, and it will be good to see how we stack up against them."

Head Coach

Second Year

Creighton University, 1989

Jack Dahm enters his second season as the head coach of the University of Iowa baseball team.

In his first year, Coach Dahm began building the foundation of what he expects to be a top-notch ballclub. The Hawkeyes went 20-35 with a very challenging schedule, and finished eighth in the Big Ten with a 12-20 record.

Dahm helped guide both Nathan Johnson and Nate Yoho to All-Big Ten honors. Johnson was named to the first team and Yoho earned his way onto the second team. Iowa also had eight players on the Academic All-Big Ten team in Dahm's first year.

Before coming to Iowa City, Dahm spent 18 years as a member of the Creighton Bluejays baseball program. He left the Bluejays as the winningest coach in school history, having compiled 283 wins against 276 losses in 10 seasons as a head coach.

Building the Foundation is the theme that Coach Dahm has stressed since he was hired in July of 2003. Dahm's plan for Hawkeye baseball is to build the program from the ground up.

"In order to build a consistent program we must have a solid foundation and that starts with quality student-athletes who are willing to make personal sacrifices on and off the field," said Dahm. "We must also develop a level of trust and belief in each other and in the program. If we can build that solid foundation the success on the field will start to take care of itself."

That foundation is not just on the field, but off it as well. Players have been busy giving back to the community by helping raise money for breast cancer and helping the Iowa Children's Museum at the Crystal Ball dinner. Dahm also arranged the annual Lead-Off Dinner, which featured Cubs General Manager Jim Hendry as a speaker in 2005.

Other new and exciting events were added to the schedule. The I-Cubs/Hawkeye Classic at Sec Taylor Stadium in Des Moines and an exhibition game against the Triple A Iowa Cubs was a rousing success, as was the first annual Corridor Classic against intra-state rival, Northern Iowa. The Classic, which is held at Veterans Memorial Stadium in Cedar Rapids, helped raise over $85,000 for the American Diabetes Association with a Kiss A Pig contest held before the game. It was the third largest ADA fundraiser in Iowa history.

Dahm gained praise nationally for his first recruiting class, after it was ranked in the top-50, and perhaps the top-25, by Jerry Ford, the National Director of Perfect Game U.S.A. Collegiate Baseball named it the top-ranked class in the Big Ten and the No. 44 class nationally. Dahm and the Hawkeyes made their mark on the in-state recruiting trail when they inked six of the top eight high school prospects in the state of Iowa, which included the top four pitching prospects.

In year two on the recruiting trail, Dahm and his staff continued its success by signing some of the top players in the Midwest.

Dahm went to Creighton in 1986 to play under Hendry and spent four years as a student-athlete from 1986-89. In 1990, Dahm accepted a position as a graduate assistant coach for Hendry and spent four years helping build Creighton into a Missouri Valley Conference power.

In 1991, Dahm was promoted to a full-time assistant as he helped the Bluejays reach the College World Series. That Creighton squad ended the season as the second-highest hitting club in the nation, batting .355 as a team. The team's 60 triples in 1991 led the nation and remain a school record.

In October of 1993, Dahm was hired as Creighton's head coach, becoming the youngest head coach in Division I at the age of 25. For the next ten years, five of Dahm's ten teams would finish in the top three of the Missouri Valley Conference.

In 1999, Dahm earned his first of two Missouri Valley Conference Coach of the Year honors as the Bluejays advanced to the NCAA tournament for the first time in the Dahm era. Creighton posted 38 wins that season, the most since Dahm's first year in 1994, before being eliminated from the South Bend Regional.

In 2000, Dahm guided the Bluejays to their second consecutive NCAA Regional appearance at the Arizona State regional in Tempe, AZ, after finishing the season with a 38-23 record. During the season, Dahm led Creighton into the national spotlight as they peaked at No. 15 in the Collegiate Baseball poll and were ranked in the top 25 of the Baseball Weekly/ESPN Coaches' Poll and Baseball America.

Dahm earned his second coach of the year honor in 2002 when the Bluejays finished the season 30-24 against one of the nations toughest schedules. Victories over nationally ranked Nebraska, Notre Dame and Wichita State were overshadowed by the team's best-ever season in the Missouri Valley Conference. Despite having a lineup top-heavy with underclassmen, Creighton finished second in MVC play with a 21-10 record.

A native of Morton Grove, IL, Dahm entered Creighton as a highly recruited infielder in 1985 and left 18 years later as the all-time winningest coach in school history. As a player, Dahm shared the dugout with former Major Leaguers Mike Heathcott, Dax Jones, Scott Servais, Dan Smith and Scott Stahoviak. Eighteen of Dahm's players have been selected in the Major League draft since 1994, four of which have played at the Major League level. Since 1994, Dahm has produced 16 first-team all-MVC players, seven freshman All-Americans and two All-Americans.

Besides being a student of the game on the field, Dahm was active in community service, fundraising and his teams have strived academically as well.

The Bluejays were actively involved in the community under Dahm, as they held various free baseball clinics, raised money for the Nebraska Children's Home and were a part of "Operation Bluejay," a program that provided tutoring for young people in Omaha.

Dahm also played a large role in the planning, designing and fund raising for the $3.5 million Creighton Sports Complex. The Kitty Gaughan Pavilion baseball facility is one of the finest indoor baseball complexes in the country. It featured a state of the art hitting facility, locker rooms, Legends View Club and coaches' offices.

Dahm's teams have not only had success on the field, but in the classroom as well. During his tenure at Creighton, Dahm's players were named to 32 spots on the Missouri Valley Conference Scholar-Athlete teams, 10 Verizon Academic all-District honors and three Verizon Academic all-Americans. His teams also consistently finished with G.P.A.'s around 3.0.

Dahm has also been active in the advancement of college baseball by being a member of the many national committees. He was a ten-year member on the College World Series Board of Directors and served on the American Baseball Coaches Association Change of Season Committee. He was also a part of the NCAA Division I Regional Advisory Committee and was an onsite director of the NCAA Yes Baseball Clinic for 11 years.

As a speaker, Dahm has been the featured speaker at the Young Leaders Society of Johnson County, the United Way Board of Directors in Iowa City and at numerous Rotary Clubs, I-Club functions and baseball clinics throughout the Midwest.

The 38-year old Dahm and his wife, Lynn, have been married for 11 years. The couple has three children - sons Casey and Tyler and daughter Lyndsey.

What Others Are Saying...

"Iowa made an outstanding decision when they hired Jack Dahm. He understands what it takes to be successful at a northern school. He has already begun to build the excitement about the program locally and he will work to keep the best players in the state home. I expect great things from Jack and the Iowa baseball program in the near future."

Jim Hendry
General Manager
Chicago Cubs

"Iowa made a great choice in hiring Jack Dahm to be its new baseball coach. I have admired him for many years as a tough competitor, an outstanding game coach and a great person. He competes hard on the field, but he always does so with a tremendous amount of class. We had many great games against his Creighton teams and I hope we will have the same in the future with his Iowa Hawkeyes. I have no doubt Jack will lead the Hawkeyes to the upper echelon of the Big Ten Conference in the near future."

Paul Mainieri
Head Baseball Coach
University of Notre Dame

"Jack Dahm is a perfect fit for the future of the University of Iowa Baseball. He has a great understanding of the commitment it will take to have a winner in Iowa City. Jack possesses the work ethic as a coach and recruiter to make the Hawkeyes a consistent contender for the Big Ten title and NCAA Regionals."

Nick Zumsande

Pitching Coach

Second Year

Iowa State University, 1984

Nick Zumsande enters his second season as Iowa's pitching coach.

Last season, Zumsande guided Hawkeye hurler Nate Johnson to a fantastic season that saw him named first team all-Big Ten and drafted by the Philadelphia Phillies.

Zumsande was also a big factor in helping Iowa land the top-ranked recruiting class in the Big Ten during the coaching staff's first year of recruiting.

Prior to being named Iowa's pitching coach in August of 2003, Zumsande served as a pitching instructor at Indiana State University. Zumsande joined the Sycamores in 2001 as the pitching instructor, recruiting coordinator and baseball camp director. In his second and final season with the Sycamores in 2003, Zumsande guided the Indiana State hurlers to a 36-21 record and a 4.15 earned run average, the second lowest team ERA in the Missouri Valley Conference.

Before arriving at Terre Haute, IN, Zumsande served one year as the pitching coach at Iowa State University. In his lone year at Iowa State, the Cyclones team earned run average lowered nearly two runs and led the team to its first Big 12 Tournament appearance in school history. Zumsande's staff finished the conference season with a 4.38 ERA, which was tied for fourth with Nebraska in the conference.

Zumsande held the head coach's position at Muscatine Community College before accepting the assistant position at his alma mater, Iowa State. Zumsande headed the Muscatine program from 1988-2000, recording 431 career victories against 195 losses, a .688 winning percentage. The Indians finished in the national polls six times in the 1990's under Zumsande's guidance. During that period, Zumsande earned NJCAA Region IX Coach of the Year honors in 1990, 1994 and 1999.

Over 50 of Zumsande's former MCC player were sent on to major four-year colleges and 30 former players signed professional baseball contracts.

A member of the American Baseball Coaches Association and Iowa High School Baseball Coaches Association, Zumsande has twice guided his team to the NCJAA Division I World Series (1994 & 1999). In 1994, the Muscatine baseball program was awarded the Homa Thomas Team Sportsmanship Award by designated members of the media.

In the professional ranks, Zumsande spent the 1993 season working for Major League Baseball International in Northern Europe. While in Europe, he served as an ambassador as he promoted and instructed baseball for MLB.

Born July 17, 1961, Zumsande graduated from Iowa State in 1984 with a bachelor's degree in Physical Education. He earned his master's degree in Athletic Administration from Northwest Missouri State in 1986.

Dahm on Zumsande

"Coach Zumsande is a proven winner that has had success everywhere he has coached. He has developed outstanding pitching staffs in the Big 12 and Missouri Valley Conferences and I believe he will do the same in the Big Ten. I enjoyed watching Nick work with and develop our pitching staff last year. He took a very inexperienced staff and taught them how to compete on a daily basis. Nick has the unique ability to teach not only the mechanics of pitching, but also the mental side. The one characteristic that has stuck out to me about his pitching staffs is that they will compete."

Ryan Brownlee

Assistant Coach
Second Year
Evansville University, 1997

Ryan Brownlee enters his second season as the Iowa hitting, infield instructor and recruiting coordinator.

In his first season as recruiting coordinator at Iowa, Brownlee inked one of the finest classes the Hawkeyes have seen. The class was ranked No. 1 in the Big Ten by Collegiate Baseball. As the batting coach, Brownlee was also key in the success of Nate Yoho, who earned all-Big Ten honors for the first time last year.

Prior to joining the Iowa staff, Brownlee served as the infield/baserunning coach and assisted with hitting and recruiting at James Madison University for four years. Brownlee did a variety of game-day assignments during his tenure at JMU, including coaching first base, bench coach, infield shifts, defensive plays and opponents' scouting reports. In back-to-back years (2001-02), Brownlee guided the Dukes to school record .967 and .968 fielding percentages. Also in 2002, the Dukes broke the school record for wins in a season with 43 and advanced to the NCAA Southeast Regional at Columbia, SC, after winning the Colonial Athletic Association crown.

Before joining the James Madison coaching staff, Brownlee served as an assistant coach under his father, James, at Evansville for two seasons. While at Evansville, Brownlee was responsible for outfield, catching and hitting instruction. Brownlee advanced to the Purple Aces' coaching ranks after excelling as a player for four seasons. A four-year starter at second base, Brownlee earned all-MCC honors in 1994 and all-MVC accolades in 1996. He was also selected to the American Baseball Coaches Association all-Region squad. In 1997, Brownlee was tabbed a TPX pre-season third-team all-American and he received the University of Evansville's William V. Slyker award for the most outstanding male athlete at the university.

Brownlee, a native of Evansville, graduated with a bachelor's degree in psychology with a minor in biology in 1997. He received his Master's in athletic administration in 2002 from James Madison. He and his wife, Aimee, welcomed their first child, Jackson, on Dec. 31, 2002.

Dahm on Brownlee

"Ryan is one of the brightest young coaches in college baseball. I have been amazed at his relentless work ethic with our players on the field and in the recruiting process. Ryan has been very instrumental in coordinating our first two recruiting classes, including this year's, which was the top class in the Big Ten. Ryan grew up around the game of baseball and he understands the commitment and work ethic it takes to build a championship program."

Grady Symonds

*Assistant Coach
 First Year*

Grady Symonds enters his first season as a volunteer assistant coach at the University of Iowa. He will coach first base for the Hawkeyes, along with working with the catchers and assisting with hitting and out-field play.

Symonds coached at Triton Junior College last season under his father Bob Symonds, who has coached the Trojans for 33 years and is a member of the NJCAA Hall of Fame. He served as the first base coach and worked with catchers and outfielders.

Symonds, a catcher, played for Triton Junior College for two years before attending the University of Hawaii for one. He then played in the Arizona Diamondback's organization.

"Grady is a very knowledgeable young coach who has grown up around the game," Dahm said. "We are excited to have him on the staff."

Chris Maliszewski

*Undergraduate Assistant Coach
 First Year*

Chris Maliszewski enters his first year as an undergraduate assistant coach for the University of Iowa baseball team.

Before joining the coaching staff, Maliszewski was a four-year letterwinner for the Hawkeyes.

A southpaw, Maliszewski had a 7-10 career record with three saves. As a sophomore, Maliszewski earned the win in Iowa's playoff clinching win over Illinois, which sent the Hawkeyes to the Big Ten Tournament for the first time since 1991.

He is a health, leisure and sports studies major.

"Chris has an outstanding work ethic, passion for the game and loyalty to the Iowa baseball program," Dahm said. "He will be a great help to us, especially to Coach Zumsande and the pitching staff."

The Iowa baseball program has a long history of former athletes competing on the professional level. Over 100 Iowa players have been sent into the pro ranks. Recently, the Hawkeye baseball program has reached new heights by combining talented student-athletes with first class facilities and superior coaching.

In 2004, first team all-Big Ten pitcher Nate Johnson was selected by the Philadelphia Phillies in the Major League Baseball Amateur Draft.

Two Hawkeyes prolonged their 2003 baseball seasons at the professional level. Junior Kyle Thousand surrendered his final year of eligibility to pursue a professional career with the Toronto Bluejays. The two-time all-Big Ten centerfielder was selected in the 26th round of Major League Baseball's amateur draft. Former Hawkeye MVP and right-handed pitcher Reed Pawelk signed a free-agent contract with the Florida Marlins following Iowa's 2003 season.

Four Hawkeyes were drafted by the major leagues after the 1999 season. Pitcher, Wes Obermueller was drafted in the second round by the Kansas City Royals, second baseman Brian Mitchell went in the 40th round to the Toronto Blue Jays and pitcher, Matt Sawwell signed a pro contract with the New York Mets.

Obermueller started the 2002 season as a member of the Wichita Wranglers, a Double-A affiliate of the Kansas City Royals, before being promoted to the parent club and making his Major League debut September 20th, against the Cleveland Indians. In 2003, Obermueller was traded to the Milwaukee Brewers, where he won two games and struck out 34 hitters in 65.2 innings. Last season Obermueller went 6-8 with a 5.80 ERA in 118 innings pitched.

Signed by the Tampa Bay Devil Rays, hurler Jim Magrane, set Iowa's single season records for innings pitched (107.2) and strikeouts (110) during the 1999 season. He also tied a 63-year old school record with 17 strikeouts against Western Illinois. Magrane pitched a 9-3 complete game win over nationally ranked Miami (FL). Magrane is currently a member of the Durham Bulls, a Triple-A affiliate of the Devil Rays.

In 1998, Iowa infielder, Nate Frese, was drafted in the 10th round by the Chicago Cubs. He currently serves as shortstop for the Iowa Cubs, a Triple-A affiliate of the Cubs.

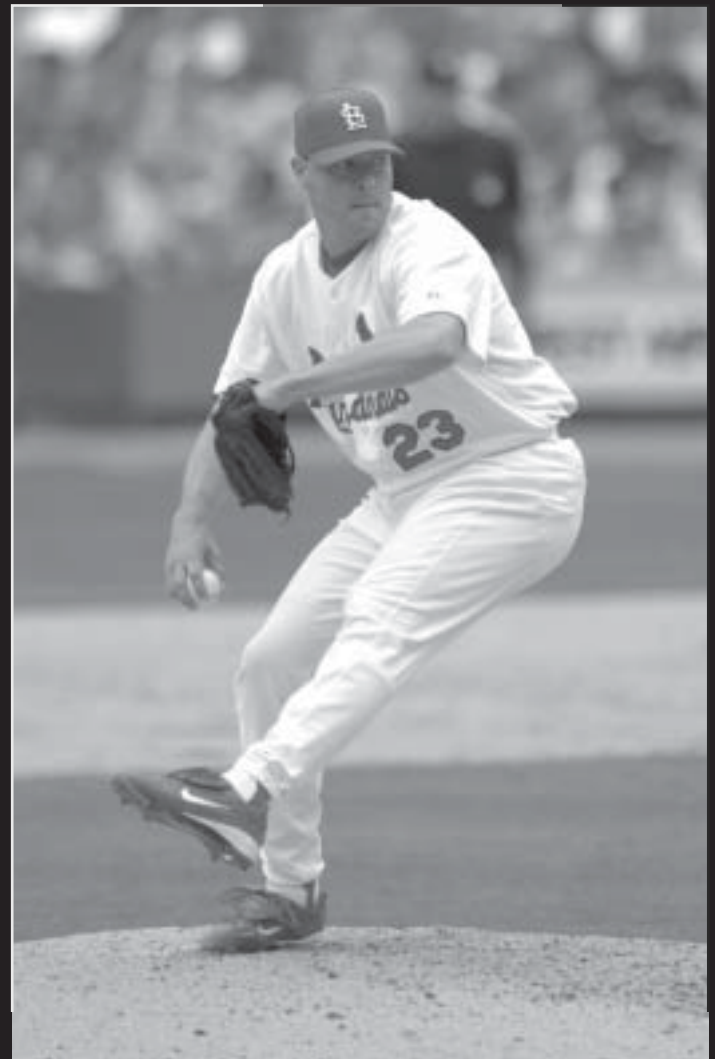

In 1993 outfielder Bo Porter was drafted by the Chicago Cubs. During the 1999 season, Porter was brought up from the minors by the Cubs. Porter saw action in 24 games, while starting five in the outfield. Porter was the opening day centerfielder for the Texas Rangers during the 2001 season.

Outfielder, Chris Hatcher was drafted following the 1990 season. He has been a member of many minor league organizations, compiling a .275 batting average in 953 games. During the 1998 season, Hatcher was a member of the Kansas City Royals, where he saw action in eight games.

Tim Costo was a first-round draft pick of the Cleveland Indians in 1990 before being traded to Cincinnati. He spent the 1995 season at the Indians AAA class Buffalo team, playing in 105 games. He was also a member of the St. Louis and Toronto organizations.

Cal Eldred was a first-round draft pick by Milwaukee in 1989 and remained there until he was traded to the White Sox in 2000. In 1994, he had the honor of being the opening day pitcher, and led the American League in starts (25). Eldred made a name for himself in 1992 by going 11-2 for Milwaukee, winning 10 straight decisions. In 1993 he led the American League in innings pitched (258). After a two-year stint on the Chicago south side, Eldred signed a free-agent contract with the St. Louis Cardinals in 2003. In 2004, he was a key part of the Cardinal team that advanced to the World Series.

Mike Boddicker, a native of Norway, Iowa earned all-Big Ten honors as a pitcher and infielder during his campaign as a Hawkeye (1976-78). In 1983, he was named the American League "Rookie of the Year." After pitching in the major leagues for 11 years, Boddicker retired in 1993. He played for the Baltimore Orioles and Kansas City Royals.

Mike Boddicker Scholarship

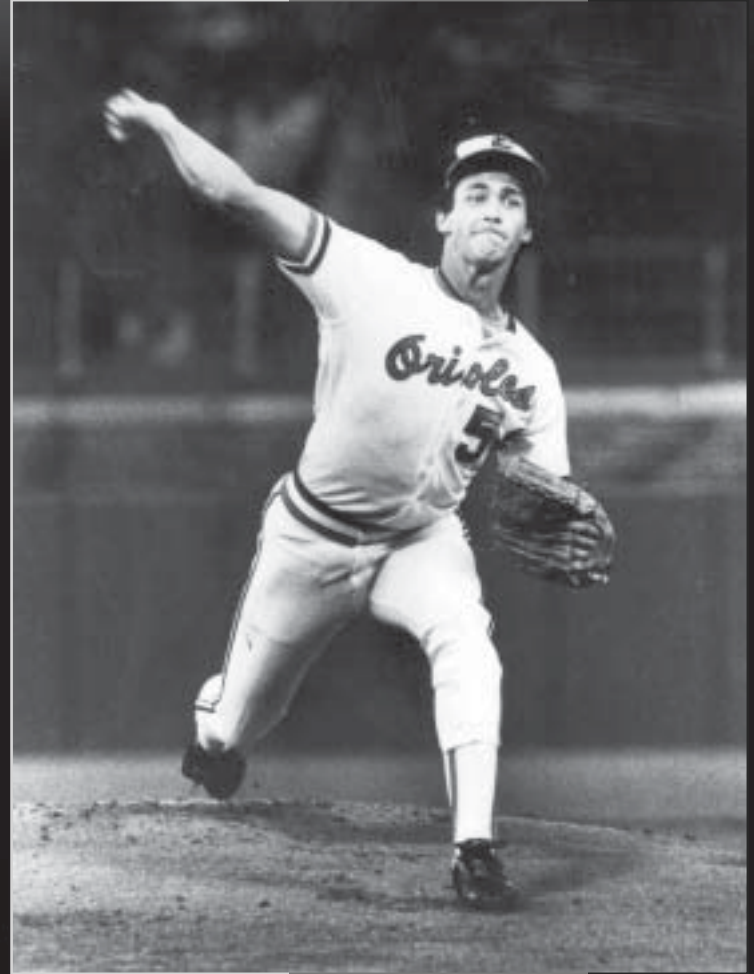

Former Iowa standout Mike Boddicker, and his family, have established the Mike Boddicker Scholarship. The scholarship goes each year to a member of the Iowa baseball team who is in good academic standing and displays outstanding character and personality.

Boddicker, a native of Norway, Iowa earned all-Big Ten honors as a pitcher and infielder during his campaign as a Hawkeye (1976-78). In 1983, he was named the American League "Rookie of the Year." After pitching in the major leagues for 11 years, Boddicker retired in 1993. He played for the Baltimore Orioles and Kansas City Royals.

The Mike Boddicker Scholarship was established in 1993. Pitcher Colin Mattiace was the first recipient and held the scholarship all four years of his Hawkeye career. Infielder Nate Frese received the scholarship in 1997 and 1998, Iowa City native Brian Mitchell won the scholarship in 1999, and the 2000 and 2001 scholarships were awarded to outfielder Andy Jansen, a Bancroft, Iowa native. Four-year starter Ian Mattiace received the scholarship in 2002 and former Louisville Slugger Freshman All-American Reed Pawelk has benefited from the scholarship in 2003 and 2004. Kris Welker is the 2005 recipient.

Donald W. and Marilyn Heineking Baseball Scholarship

Don Heineking established the Donald W. and Marilyn Heineking Baseball Scholarship in 2004, with the first recipient to be named for the 2005-06 season. Don is a long-time supporter of Iowa athletics, a member of the Johnson County I-Club Board of Directors and member of the Iowa Scholarship Fund Board of Directors. In 2002, Don and Marilyn established scholarships in football and women's basketball. Then, in 2003, they added a wrestling scholarship and men's basketball manager's scholarship. Most recently, they added baseball and softball scholarships.

Don lives in Iowa City and is a member of the President's Club of the UI Foundation. Marilyn passed away in February of 2004.

Cal Eldred has lit up Hawkeye baseball once again. But this time, instead of employing his expert pitching, the major-league star and his wife, Christi, made a gift to fund the installation of lights at Iowa's Duane Banks Field. The Cedar Rapids couple gave $245,000 for the installation of lights at the baseball field named after Cal Eldred's former coach.

The gift, the largest ever from a current professional athlete's family to Iowa athletics, allowed the project to be completed in September 2001. The Hawkeyes won the first night game played at Banks Field April 10, 2002, against Northern Illinois, 11-9. The University of Iowa officially dedicated the lights Saturday, April 13, 2002.

Iowa Athletic Director Bob Bowlsby hailed the Eldreds' generosity, saying, "Cal and Christi's gift shows that once a Hawkeye, always a Hawkeye. Cal has been representing Iowa well for years, first with the Milwaukee Brewers, then with the Chicago White Sox and now with the St. Louis Cardinals, all the while making us all proud. But the fact that he and Christi have remained true to their Iowa roots in this very generous way makes us even prouder."

Former Iowa Baseball Coach Scott Broghamer noted that the Eldred's gift is another chapter in their long association with baseball in the state. "I coached Cal when he played for Urbana High School in the mid-1980's, and he and Christi have been Hawkeye supporters for years," Broghamer said. "This gift will make Iowa's field one of the finest anywhere. We're very excited and grateful."

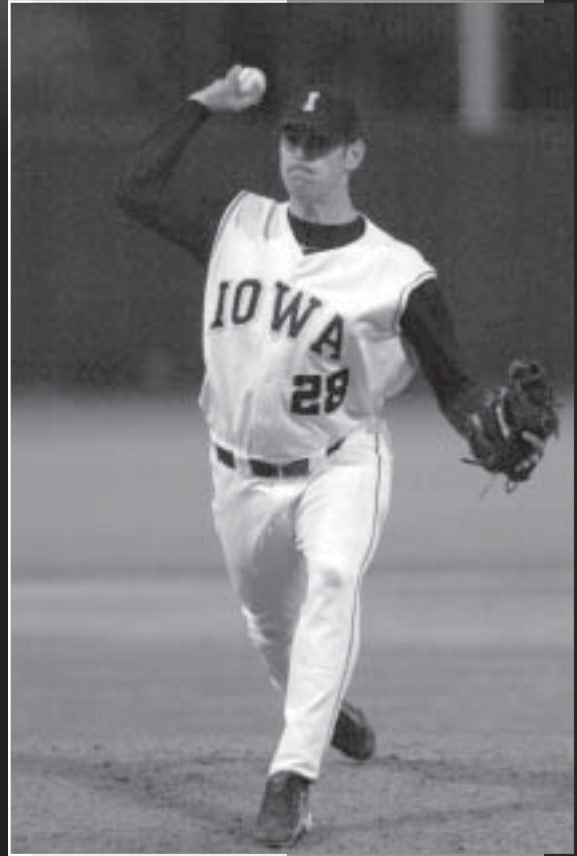

The Eldred's cited their desire to give back to Iowa and to honor former Hawkeye coaches Banks and Broghamer-who they said are their good friends and longtime mentors-as reasons for making the gift. The gift was commemorated by a plaque at the field.

Cal Eldred, who grew up in Urbana and attended Iowa for three years before being drafted by the Milwaukee Brewers in 1989, said, "My experience at Iowa helped shape me as a player and as a person. And Coach Banks has stayed involved in my life and has always been there for me. I couldn't be happier about making this gift for Hawkeye baseball. I hope others will consider helping out however they can."

"The main reason I chose Iowa was because I saw it was the best fit for me. Iowa has everything I feel I need to be successful both on the baseball field and out in the working world. I feel Iowa has prepared me for the things that I will encounter in my life. I not only feel I have matured as a baseball player, but as a person too.

"The Iowa Baseball program is on the rise. Since the addition of the new coaching staff, which brought in a whole new outlook on Iowa baseball to a program that had been mediocre in the last several seasons, we have been working hard and starting to get a lot more competition in the program. Everyday in practice it's a chance for you to try and earn a spot on the field. When you hear from the coaches that each practice is an evaluation it pushes you to bring out your best everyday otherwise someone else will take your spot. I believe this is only making us better and tougher. I feel we are starting a good foundation for a program that will soon be a contender year in and year out for the Big Ten Championship and the College World Series."

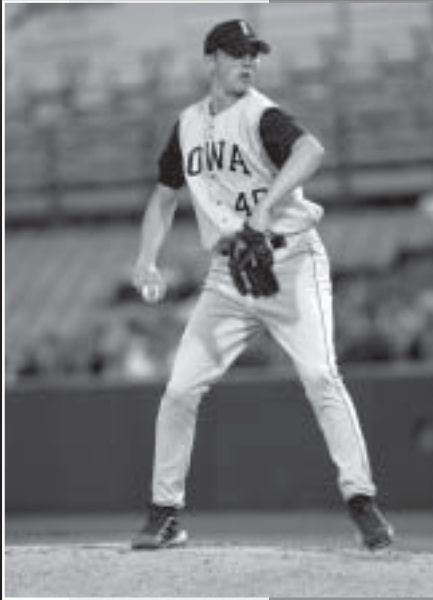

Scott Brune
Sophomore
Peosta, IA

"University of Iowa Baseball is headed toward great success in the future, because nothing in the program is taken for granted. The coaches and players come to work everyday focused on the task at hand. While there are high goals for the future of the program, these goals never serve as distractions from what needs to be accomplished that day.

"The coaching staff has created an atmosphere within the program that makes you feel as though you are apart of a family. There is a genuine feeling that everyone in the program cares for everyone else and would do anything for anyone affiliated with the team."

Luis Andrulonis
Senior
Miami Lakes, FL

"I don't believe there has ever been a better time to become part of the baseball program at the University of Iowa. The coaches have had success at the collegiate level both as players and coaches, and they understand what it takes to win. The players are continuing to improve on a daily basis and are beginning to understand what it takes to have success."

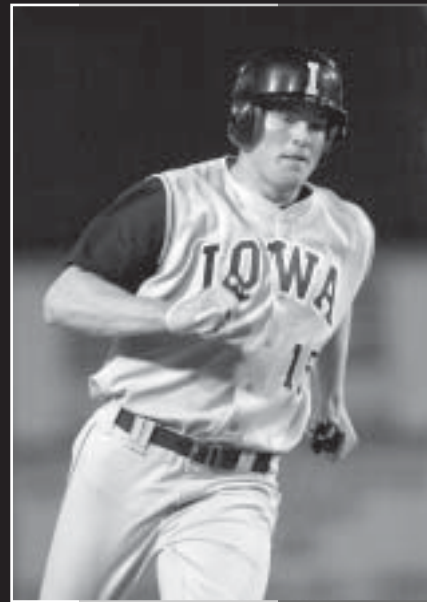

"Everything the entire program is doing is improving it and moving things forward. It will only be a matter of time before the baseball program earns a Big Ten Championship and is mentioned among the other elite schools in the Midwest on a yearly basis."

Ryan Dupic
Emmetsburg, IA

"I chose Iowa because the atmosphere in the athletic department as well as the community are all for Hawkeye support and advancement. The people around Iowa have always given the impression that they are proud and honored to be Hawkeyes, and care about being a part of the University."

L.J. Mims
Junior
Cedar Rapids, IA

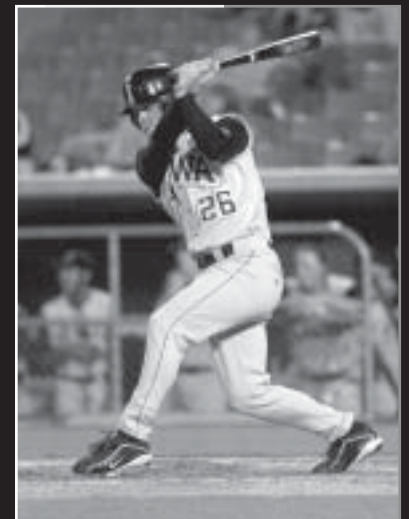

"Iowa City is a college town, and there are no professional sports so everyone around here loves the Hawkeyes. The University of Iowa has an attitude that is second to none in academics and athletics. This University is willing to do anything to help its students and athletes succeed."

Boomer Engel
Sophomore
Minnetonka, MN

"I choose Iowa because, being an Iowa City native, I knew what a great opportunity it was to be given a chance to attend the University of Iowa. The facilities are top of the line, and I wanted to surround myself in a winning environment."

"The atmosphere at Iowa is incredible for a student-athlete. If you show the people in this city that you are a competitive team, they will come out and support you."

Matt Wooldrik
Sophomore
Iowa City, IA

Hawkeyes Come From Around the Country

Players from all 12 states make up the 2005 Iowa Baseball Team

Iowa	22	Minnesota	1
Illinois	6	Missouri	1
Colorado	2	Nebraska	1
Florida	2	Washington	1
Montana	2	Wisconsin	1
Arizona	1	Wyoming	1

In the fall of 2001, the Iowa baseball field was re-named The Duane Banks Baseball Field in honor of the Hawkeyes' former head coach. Banks, the winningest coach in Iowa history, served as Iowa's head baseball coach from 1970-1997.

Banks Field was originally built in 1974. The 3,000-seat stadium has dimensions of 330 feet down the lines, 375 in the power alleys and 400 to centerfield. As a whole, the complex is one of the top facilities in the Big Ten and the Midwest.

In 2002, former Hawkeye and current Major Leaguer Cal Eldred donated $245,000 to fund the installation of lights at Banks Field. It is the largest donation by a current professional athlete to Iowa Athletics.

The infield was re-designed following the 1999 season with a new playing surface and ten-foot fences were added to the outfield. The field's drainage system was also improved. Both bullpens were restructured and the hitter's background was replaced. Located next to the Hawkeye bullpen are two Astro Turf batting cages.

The complex features locker rooms for both teams and umpires. In 1998, Iowa's clubhouse was expanded, giving the Hawkeyes one of the best college baseball environments in the nation.

Prior to the 1996 season a Daktronics state-of-the-art scoreboard system was installed. In addition to providing spectators with pertinent game information, the system also has a marquee that is capable of displaying player information.

A new press box was built in 1989 and renovated in 2002. It can accommodate several radio stations and up to 25 media members.

During inclement weather, the Hawkeyes can move to the Bubble, Iowa's indoor facility located right next to Banks Field. The Bubble is a 120-yard expanse of state-of-the-art "Prestige XT" artificial surface that includes four full-size batting cages and five raised pitching mounds. The bubble gives the Hawkeyes a top-notch facility to train in year-round.

Dedicated in 1998, the Pavillion at Banks Field is in memory of Diane Mitchell, mother of Hawkeye athletes David, Mark and Brian Mitchell, and wife of former football player Bob Mitchell. Diane died in an automobile accident en route to the 1996 Alamo Bowl. During her life, Diane never missed an inning or a down of her son's games and was always their biggest supporter. Her dedication to the Hawkeyes was surpassed only by her love for her family.

Since its inception in 1979, Athletics Student Services has evolved from a two-person, academic support service to a broad-based, nationally prominent student support services operation. Its purpose is to assist student athletes to become tomorrow's leaders by offering academic and personal support services to assist them in making timely and satisfactory progress toward their degrees.

Athletic Student Services focuses on four important areas — academic counseling and monitoring, educational and support programs, retention programs and compliance services — when working with student-athletes. Following are descriptions of some of the programs, services and opportunities available to student-athletes in those areas.

Athletics Learning Center

The $4.6 million Russell A. and Ann Gerdin Athletics Learning Center opened in August of 2003 and gives all Iowa student-athletes a state of the art facility to help them with their educations.

The Athletics Learning Center is a multi-level, 20,000 square foot facility which will provide a computer center, study areas, classes and meeting places for all Hawkeye student-athletes.

The Learning Center will feature an auditorium that converts into two classrooms, separate study rooms for under and upper-class student-athletes that feature 28 study carrels, a computer lab, five tutorial rooms, the book loan repository, office space for Iowa's Student Services staff and a display area to recognize the academic accomplishments of Iowa's student-athletes.

Academic Counseling and Monitoring

Athletics coordinators work closely with student-athletes and their university-assigned advisors from the time they arrive on campus until the time they leave the University. Along with focusing on academic planning matters such as goal-setting, plans of study, choosing majors and degree requirements, athletics coordinators also help student-athletes understand NCAA, Big Ten and University academic policies. They also solicit feedback from instructors on academic progress made by student-athletes.

Tutoring

Tutoring is available free of charge to all student-athletes. Tutors, who are post-graduates and teachers, help with course content as well as study strategies and are available in virtually all general education program subjects.

The Russell A. and Ann Gerdin Athletics Learning Center has a large computer center for use by all Hawkeye athletes.

"The Gerdin Learning Center is a great place to work on your academic goals. It is a quality learning environment with everything you need in order to make a smooth transition into being a student-athlete."

- Brian Burmester

"The Gerdin Learning Center is the ultimate academic tool for student-athletes. The academic assistance you receive is invaluable. The support staff, facilities and learning environment allows students great opportunities to reach and exceed their academic potential while competing as NCAA Division I athletes."

-Luis Andrulonis

Retention

A full-time staff member directs the retention program, which identifies student-athletes who may need tailored academic assistance and structure, and implements individualized learning plans to help them succeed. Such plans may include daily and weekly planning sessions with athletics coordinators and retention staff, tutoring, study groups, mainstreaming into on-campus services like the writing center, math labs and services for students with learning disabilities.

Transition Seminar

All new student-athletes attend an eight-week transition seminar during the fall semester that is geared toward helping them make the transition from high school to college successfully. Seminar topics include time management skills, learning and study strategies, the culture and rules of the university, and life skills concerning alcohol and other substances, relationships and intimacy, diversity, tolerance, values and character.

CHAMPS/Life Skills

Life skills programs are conducted throughout the year with and for student athletes on quality of life issues critical to personal growth, such as personal accountability, responsible use and nonuse of alcohol, diversity and gambling.

The Gerdin Athletic Learning Center has plenty of places for Hawkeyes to study.

Located near Hillcrest residence hall, the Russell A. and Ann Gerdin Athletics Learning Center is easily assessable to Hawkeye athletes.

Career Guidance and Development

Planning a meaningful career and a fulfilling life is an ongoing process of expanding and narrowing choices, beginning when student-athletes arrive on campus and continuing throughout their college career and lifetime. The professional staff works with other career development professionals on campus to offer individual consultation, career development seminars, workshops, referrals to other campus offices and special events like the Senior Recognition Banquet for graduating student-athletes.

Minority Enrichment Program

This program offers a culturally supportive environment in which minority student-athletes have the opportunity to develop friendships and a support network in the university. A core focus group of students and staff coordinate programs such as guest speakers, holiday celebrations, community service activities with the local neighborhood centers, events with Cultural Centers and networking with minority faculty, staff, professional and business leaders.

Compare the Numbers

Iowa's student-athletes have outperformed the University's entire student population each year since the NCAA started requiring a report of student-athlete graduation rates.

"The Gerdin Athletic Learning Center offers our student-athletes at The University of Iowa the most modern, state of the art academic facilities at their disposal. It is located in the heart of campus right across from the Hillcrest Dorm. When you combine our facilities with the outstanding leadership of our Academic Student Services Staff, our student-athletes are provided the direction and assistance needed to be very successful in their academic pursuits."

On April 21, 2004, the University of Iowa and the University of Northern Iowa ushered in a new era of Iowa collegiate baseball with the inaugural I-380 Corridor Classic. The game, played at Memorial Stadium - home of the Class A Cedar Rapids Kernels, will pit the two intrastate rivals against each other annually.

The game is a real event for eastern Iowa baseball fans, featuring spirit squads from both teams, fireworks and the "Kiss a pig/Ride a hog" contest where fans were able to see local celebrities lip-lock with a pig while getting a chance to win an Harley Davidson motorcycle. The "Kiss a pig/Ride a hog" promotion was sponsored by the American Diabetes Association.

The Panthers won the first Corridor Classic, 8-3, in front of 2,098 fans.

"The First Corridor Classic was very successful and we are looking forward to making it even bigger and better. I believe that the Corridor Classic will develop into one of the premier college baseball games in the country. This event would not have been possible without the cooperation and hard work of KCRG TV-9, the Cedar Rapids Kernels, the American Diabetes Association of Iowa and the marketing departments at Northern Iowa and Iowa."

The Hawkeyes battle the AAA Iowa Cubs at Principal Park on April 7, 2004

On April 7, 2004, the Hawkeyes ventured into the world of professional baseball when they took on the Chicago Cubs Class AAA affiliate Iowa Cubs in an exhibition game at Principal Park in Des Moines, IA.

In front of 4,173 fans, the Hawkeyes gave the I-Cubs all they could handle before falling 4-2.

The game was a rousing success and it gave Iowa fans in central Iowa a chance to see their Hawkeyes dig in against top professional talent.

The Hawkeyes hope to make events such as this a staple of their schedule.

The Hawkeye baseball program likes to kick off each season in style, and that's what they have done each of the past two years with the Lead-Off Dinner. It's a chance for fans to meet the year's team and get a sneak preview of the upcoming season.

The Lead-Off Dinner also features speakers such as Chicago Cubs General Manager Jim Hendry, former NBC News President and Pulitzer Prize winner Michael Gartner, and former Hawkeye and currently Milwaukee Brewers pitcher Wes Obermueller. There is also a chance for baseball fans to get their hands on great memorabilia in the live and silent auctions. Past items have included autographed items from Hall of Famers Robin Yount, Paul Molitor and Steve Carlton; current stars Mark Prior, Alex Rodriguez and Roger Clemens; and great baseball experiences like a luxury suite at an Iowa Cubs game, tickets to see the Chicago Cubs and Colorado Rockies "Dream Package" including tickets, accommodations and the opportunity to throw out the first pitch at the game.

Yano Manguameli throws out the first pitch at a Rockies game after winning the "Dream Package" at the 2004 Lead-Off Dinner.

The Lead-Off Dinner gives fans a chance to meet current and former Hawkeyes, get a sneak preview of the season and collect autographs from all their favorite Hawkeyes.

Fans look over the memorabilia available at the Lead-Off Dinner's silent auction.

If Hawkeye baseball fans can't make it out to Banks Field for a game, they are in luck because all Iowa home games and most road games, including all Big Ten contests, are broadcast on AM 800 KXIC in the Iowa City area. Brent Balbinot calls the play-by-play for the Hawkeyes.

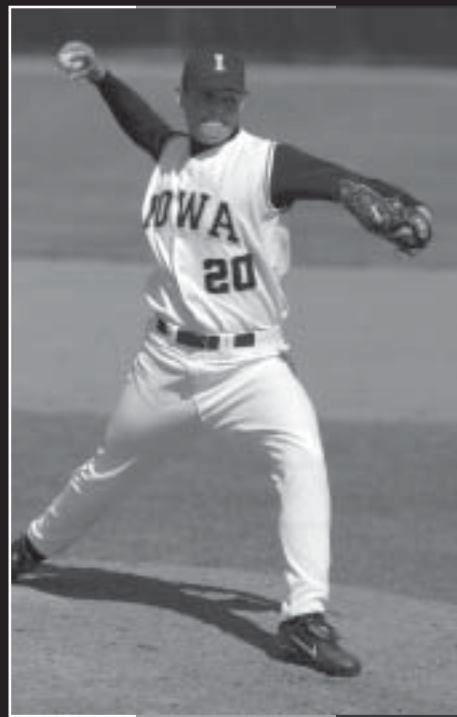

For Hawkeye baseball fans who can't get enough Black and Gold news, Head Coach Jack Dahm has a weekly call-in show hosted by the voice of Iowa baseball, Brent Balbinot. The show originates every Monday night from Flannigan's Bar and Grill in Coralville.

Training Philosophy

At the University of Iowa, we strive to create a positive training environment that will give each participant the very best opportunity to become better student-athletes. Individualized sport-specific training programs are designed to meet each student-athlete's needs. The true success of any training program is in the implementation. We believe that trust and adherence to a prescribed training program are established by educating student-athletes about their training throughout the process. Experience has shown that better educated student-athletes are more likely to train harder and smarter. Our training programs promote competition, accountability, team unity and discipline.

Our training programs encompass all aspects of speed, agility, conditioning, strength, flexibility and injury prevention with an emphasis on proper technique and safety. Our programs are centered around functional, free weight exercises such as the Olympic lifts (clean, jerk, snatch, etc.). These exercises are ideal for simulating the physiological rigors of athletic competition.

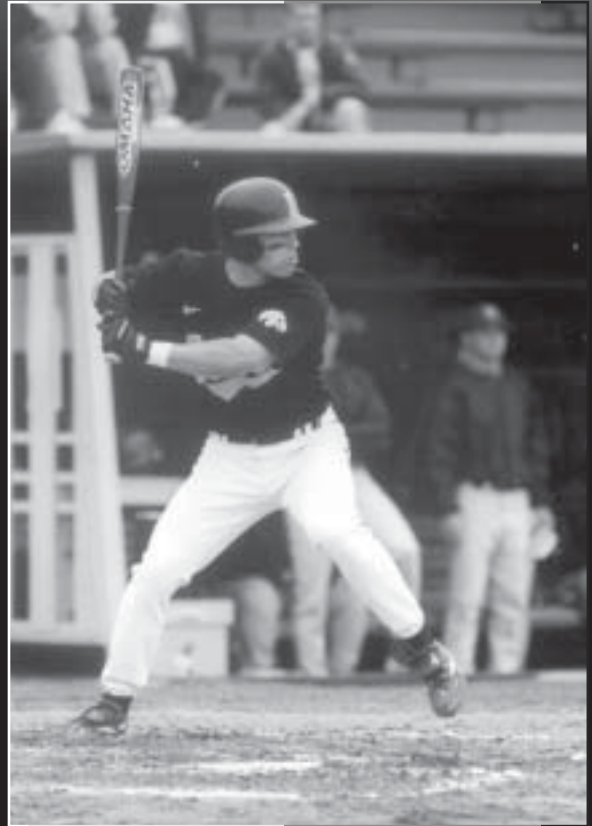

"Coach Marmon has introduced a program that can increase ability, but it also has creates confidence in the players. With the addition of a new found attitude, players, coaches, and staff throughout the program have seen the positive change in the baseball team."

- LJ Mims

Following the completion of the 2004 baseball season and my four years of eligibility, I felt that the baseball program at the University of Iowa is on pace to becoming the premier program in the Big Ten and among the elite in the country. The University of Iowa provided me with an abundance of facilities fostering an environment of success for both the team and me as a student athlete. I strongly believe the Iowa baseball program brings together the student and the athlete whether it is through the Gerdin Learning Center, Athletic Student Services, the Bubble, or Duane Banks Field. I can proudly attest that all of these fine facilities provide the setting for a person to reach their scholastic and athletic potential.

Jack Dahm and his coaching staff visibly create a positive environment for the Iowa Baseball program. I am confident that their dedication, commitment and knowledge of the game will guarantee the success of the student athlete and the baseball program for many years to come. The camaraderie and chemistry among the coaches and players was something special to be a part of and a chapter in my life I will always remember and treasure. The friendships I have made during my tenure at the University of Iowa will be with me for the rest of my life. I look forward to following the positive progress of the program. As a proud alumni of the University of Iowa and the Baseball Program, GO HAWKS!!

-Jim Reid, Class of 2004

Forever Iowa baseball will bring to my mind great memories of competition and camaraderie. Donning the Black and Gold was a tremendous experience. I will never forget running out onto Duane Banks field filled with the pride of being a Hawkeye. Knowing that both teammates and coaches were there with the common goal of winning in mind, made it a pleasure to play for the University of Iowa. I owe a great deal to the Iowa Baseball program, allowing me to follow my dreams toward a professional career in baseball. I am excited for the bright future in the years to come. Coach Dahm and his staff have brought a great enthusiasm about baseball to the University of Iowa. I have no doubt that in the very near future Iowa baseball will be the team to beat in the Big Ten Conference.

Iowa baseball is fortunate to have the pitching coach it does in Coach Zumsande. He is a great teacher of the mental and physical aspects of pitching. His leadership inspired the pitching staff to accept their role; reminding us daily that to be a successful team, the pitchers must do their part. Coach Zumsande would never let us back down. He urged us to push ourselves to be better competitors on the mound. During my year under his leadership, he helped me to develop into a more experienced pitcher. Coach Zumsande motivated me to become the player that he knew I could be, inspiring me to take the next step in the pursuit of my dreams. I cannot say enough good things about Coach Zumsande, or thank him enough, and feel privileged and blessed to have been a player under his watch.

-Nathan Johnson, Class of 2004

With the NCAA limiting the number of scholarships a team can give, a successful walk-on program is essential for any team hoping to compete at a high level. No where is this more evident than at the University of Iowa, where Head Coach Jack Dahm has a history of developing walk-on players.

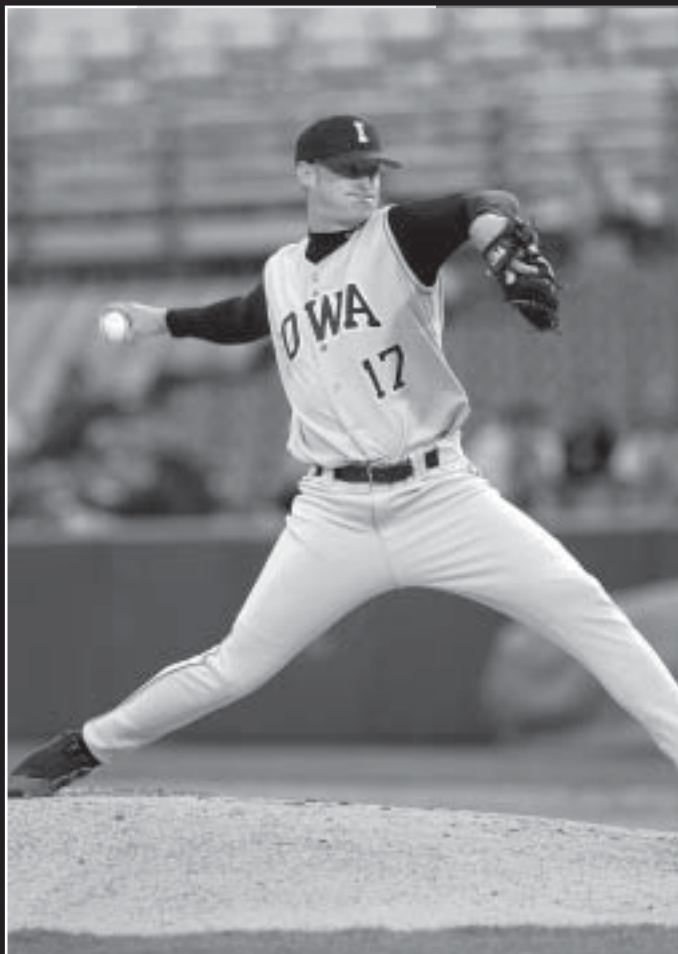

In his career, Coach Dahm has had eight players begin as walk-ons and end up playing professional baseball.

Two members of the current team, Austin Seward and Tim Gudex, began as walk-ons, became strong contributors and have now been put on scholarship.

“Joining the University of Iowa baseball team as a walk-on gives a young player the chance to grow and mature as an athlete, as well as an opportunity to get an outstanding education,” Dahm said. “The entire coaching staff is committed to the development of our walk-on program, because there is no question that in order to build a championship caliber program, you need a program that allows kids to develop and contribute to the success of the team.”

Tim Gudex

Austin Seward

“I originally chose the University of Iowa because of the top notch academics and the environment. But being around the coaching staff here has shown me how important it is to have coaches who can teach me the game of baseball and give me an opportunity to play.

“You can get a quality education at many places if you work hard, but it is the opportunities you take advantage of at your school that truly matters. If I was to choose a school all over again, my number one criteria would be the coaching staff, and I would once again come to Iowa.

“Everything is in place here to help a person become successful after they graduate in both life and athletics.”

Bo Porter

Student-athletes who have the talent and desire to excel in two sports have the opportunity to do so at the University of Iowa.

Bo Porter (left) was a standout on both the Hawkeye baseball and football teams. Porter signed with the Chicago Cubs and played in Chicago's minor league system prior to his senior year of football. After his final year as a defensive back for the Hawkeyes, he resumed his baseball career and played in the Major Leagues for the Colorado Rockies and Texas Rangers.

Danan Hughes (below) also played baseball and football for Iowa. Hughes played in the Milwaukee Brewers organization before beginning a lengthy professional football career with the Kansas City Chiefs.

Robert Bowsby

Director of Athletics

Director of Athletics Bob Bowsby is in his 14th year as the head of the University of Iowa intercollegiate athletics program.

As the chief administrator for Iowa's athletic department, Bowsby has earned a reputation as one of the most respected, energetic and ambitious athletic administrators in the nation. Over the past four years Bowsby has guided and supervised the merger of the women's and men's athletics departments. The combined entity encompasses 24 varsity sports and an annual budget in excess of $40 million.

As the head of Iowa athletics, Bowsby has been involved in the hiring of new head coaches in football, men's and women's basketball and wrestling, enabling Iowa to maintain its standing as one of the most visible, successful and progressive departments in college athletics.

The success of Iowa's athletic teams on the field is due, in part, to the behind the scenes work of Bowsby and his staff. A number of major building and fund raising projects over the past few years enable Iowa's student-athletes to train and compete in some of the finest facilities in Division I athletics.

A Waterloo native, Bowsby became Iowa's 10th Athletic Director in June, 1991 after serving in the same role at the University of Northern Iowa since 1984. He previously served as Assistant Athletic Director for Facilities at Northern Iowa.

Bowsby earned his bachelor's degree from Moorhead State University (Minnesota) in 1975 and his master's degree from the University of Iowa in 1978.

The National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) named Bowsby in 2001-02 as Central Region Athletic Director of the Year and Sports Business Journal selected him from the four regional award winners as the National Athletics Director of the Year. The award highlights the efforts of the athletic directors for their commitment and positive contributions to campuses and their surrounding communities. Bowsby was recently appointed to the 15 member commission on Opportunities in Athletics by US Secretary of Education, Rod Paige.

Bowsby served as chair of the NCAA Wrestling Committee and has served on NCAA committees on Financial Aid and Amateurism, the Special Committee to Review Amateurism Issues and the Special Committee to Review Financial Conditions in Athletics. Bowsby is in the midst of a five-year term on the NCAA Division I Basketball Tournament Committee, serving as committee chairman in 2003-04. The committee selects, seeds, brackets and manages all rounds of the NCAA Basketball Tournament, including the Final Four.

Bob has served as an Executive Committee member with both the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics and the Division I-A Athletic Directors Association and served in 2002-03 as President of the I-A Directors group.

Bowsby has also elected chair of the NCAA Olympic Sports Liaison Committee and represented the NCAA as one of two voting members on the United States Olympic Committee. Bowsby also was appointed by former United States Olympic Committee President LeRoy Walker to the NCAA/USOC Liaison Committee, chaired by George Steinbrenner and former NCAA President Cedric Dempsey. Bob has also served as a member of the Board of Governors for the National Wrestling Hall of Fame.

Bowsby is a charter member of the Iowa Olympics Committee and a current member of the Board of Directors of the Iowa Games. Bob is a board member of the Iowa Scholarship Fund, Inc. and a Board member on the Honda Awards program, which recognizes our nation's top female collegiate athletes each year.

He and his wife, Candice, have four children, Lisa, Matt, Rachel and Kyle. Bowsby was born Jan. 10, 1952.

The University of Iowa Athletic Department, under the direction of Athletic Director Bob Bowsby for the past 13 years, is regarded as one of the top intercollegiate programs in the nation.

The men's and women's departments, operating separately for over 25 years, merged in 2001 under Bowsby's direction. It combined nationally recognized programs for both genders into one successful and progressive athletic program.

Combining their successes on the playing fields with continued success and recognition in the classroom, UI student-athletes practice and perform in some of the best facilities in the nation, while knowing the support of their efforts and attendance by Hawkeye fans ranks among the best in the country.

While the Hawkeyes continue to compete with the best in the nation in a variety of sports, Iowa continues to boast some of the most impressive athletic facilities in the nation, operated by one of the most respected departments.

Several new projects are underway on the Iowa campus. The goal is to improve all areas of the collegiate experience for Hawkeye student-athletes. One of the latest additions to the UI campus is the Roy G. Karro Athletics Hall of Fame and Visitors Center.

Additional priorities for the Iowa program include the establishment and development of endowments for all sports programs, the continued enhancement of graduation rates, and the implementation of a long-range plan to ensure Iowa's financial, academic and competitive future. As an example, all of Iowa's 13 scholarships for men's basketball are fully endowed.

The graduation rate of Iowa's student-athletes has improved in each of the past 10 years and has consistently ranked above the graduation rate of all UI students. Hawkeye athletes have garnered more than 55 academic All-America honors since 1992. In 1998-99 Iowa led the Big Ten in academic all-Big Ten selections and Iowa ranked second in 1999-00. In 2002-03, over 140 male and female Iowa athletes earned academic all-Big Ten recognition. During the 2003 fall semester, Iowa's male and female athletes posted a combined grade point average of over 3.0.

Iowa athletes have been recognized as all-Americans in their sport on more than 185 occasions during the past 13 years.

Iowa's athletic teams during the 2003-04 athletic year continued their trend of success, on the playing fields and in their academic pursuits.

The Hawkeye football followed its 11-2 mark of 2002 with a 10-3 record in 2003, including a 37-17 win over Florida in the Outback Bowl in Tampa, FL. The Hawkeyes are one of 12 teams in the nation to win 21 games over the past two seasons. Iowa has played in January bowl games in each of the last two years and completed both the 2002 and 2003 seasons ranked eighth in the final national rankings.

Iowa's men's and women's basketball teams have advanced to post-season play in each of the last four seasons. The men's squad earned sole possession of fourth place in the Big Ten Conference, while the Hawkeye women tied for fourth and advanced to the NCAA Tournament.

The Iowa wrestling squad earned the Big Ten title and went on to place second in the nation at the NCAA Tournament. Coach Jim Zalesky was named Big Ten Coach of the Year. Iowa has won six of the last 10 NCAA wrestling titles and nine of the last 14 championships.

Iowa's men's and women's and gymnastics teams continue to rank among the best in the nation. The men's team again advanced to the NCAA Championships and the women's gymnastics squad advanced to the team competition at the NCAA championships for the second straight year.

Iowa's women's softball team advanced to NCAA regional action for the ninth time in 11 seasons. Iowa has advanced to the softball World Series on four occasions over the past 10 seasons as Coach Gayle Blevins is one of three coaches to reach 1,000 career victories.

From the rankings on the courts and playing fields, to the rankings in the classroom, to the rankings in fan and community support, to the ranking as a program that boasts some of the best athletic facilities in the nation, it's easy to understand why Iowa fans everywhere truly believe, "It's Great to be a Hawkeye."

Iowa hosts many post-season championships, including the 2005 Big Ten Wrestling Championships.

When student-athletes consider their future, they should consider prospects beyond athletics. A list of all University of Iowa alumni who have distinguished themselves professionally would be difficult to assemble and could never be complete. However, some are truly outstanding in their area of expertise.

THE HAWKEYE NICKNAME

The University of Iowa borrowed its athletic nickname from the state of Iowa many years ago.

The name Hawkeye was originally the name of the hero in the fictional novel, The Last of the Mohicans, written by James Fenimore Cooper. Cooper had the Delaware Indians bestow the name on a white scout who lived with them.

In 1838, 12 years after the book was published, people in the territory of Iowa acquired the nickname, chiefly through the efforts of Judge David Rorer of Burlington and James Edwards of Fort Madison.

Edwards, editor of the Fort Madison Patriot, moved his paper to Burlington in 1843 and renamed it the Burlington Hawkeye. The two men continued their campaign to popularize the name, and territorial officials eventually gave it their formal approval.

HERKY THE HAWKEYE

The Hawkeye nickname gained a tangible symbol in 1948 when a cartoon character, later to be named Herky the Hawkeye was hatched. The creator was Richard Spencer III, instructor of journalism at Iowa.

The impish Hawk was an immediate hit and acquired a name through a statewide contest staged by the athletic department. John Franklin, a Belle Plaine alumnus, was the man who suggested Herky.

Since his birth more than 45 years ago, Herky has symbolized Iowa athletics and epitomized University life. He even donned a military uniform during the Korean War and became the insignia of the 124th Fighter Squadron.

During the mid-1950s, Herky came to life at a football game as the Iowa mascot. Since that time, Herky has been a familiar figure at Iowa athletics events.

SCHOOL COLORS

For 40 years Iowa was without school colors, but in 1887 a group of 50 seniors met on the steps of the Old Capitol to decide what are now the school official colors. They chose Old Gold, the color of Iowa's vast corn fields and Black, the color of the rich soil.

SCHOOL FIGHT SONG

The Iowa Fight Song was written in 1950 by Mason City, Iowa, native Meredith Willson. Best known as the creator of Broadway's "The Music Man," Willson was awarded a 1963 University of Iowa Alumni Association Distinguished Service Award for "setting the spirit of Iowa to music." The lively cheer is sung hundreds of times during Iowa athletics events the year around.

*The word is Fight, Fight,
Fight for IOWA*

Let every loyal Iowan sing;

*The word is Fight, Fight
Fight for IOWA*

*Until the walls and rafters ring
(Go Hawks!)*

*Come on and cheer, cheer, cheer
for IOWA*

Come on and cheer until you hear the final gun.

*The word is Fight, Fight, Fight for IOWA
Until the game is won.*
