THE SPORTING NEWS HAS NAMED KINNICK STADIUM THE BEST STADIUM IN THE BIG TEN CONFERENCE

As a football student-athlete at the University of Iowa, you have the opportunity to enjoy some of the best and most modern facilities in the nation. Iowa is committed to being the best, and for the Hawkeye football program that means studying, eating, training, practicing and playing in the best facilities possible.

CONSIDER THESE FACTS ABOUT IOWA'S FACILITIES:

- Kinnick Stadium, the home of Iowa football for 80 years, has recently undergone a $90 million restoration and renovation project that was completed prior to the start of the 2006 season. The official capacity of Kinnick Stadium is 70,585. Iowa from 2002-08 had a string of 36 consecutive sold out home games.
- The project was the largest such undertaking ever for Iowa athletics and included an entire new south endzone, including all new lockerroom, training room and media facilities for the Hawkeye football team on game days.
- The completely new four-level press and hospitality facility extends the full length of the west side of the stadium and includes more than 40 private viewing suites and over 1,000 club seats.
- The renovation provides a new entry plaza to the south entrance, wider seats throughout the stadium, new and upgraded restroom facilities and concession areas, new scoreboards and a modernized sound system.
- The most recent addition to Kinnick Stadium took place this past summer with the installation of Field Turf, the same surface that covers one of Iowa's three practice fields and Iowa's indoor practice facility.
- Iowa's Kenyon Practice Facility was completed in August, 2002. The $1.8 million facility provides two full length natural grass practice fields and one 140-yard artificial surface field, all with state-of-the-art lighting provided by Musco Lighting. An on-site medical training facility is also included.

"Everyone associated with the football program is thrilled with the improvements that have been made with our facilities in recent years. It reflects a great commitment from our administration; our University and the people of our state, in making sure our players enjoy the best facilities possible."

These enhancements to our program have taken a major commitment from administration and major contributions from friends of our program to make these upgrades become a reality. Everybody involved with our football team is extremely appreciative. We have great facilities."

Since its opening in 2002, the Kenyon Practice Facility has given us a world-class practice facility to use at any time. With the artificial turf, and two beautiful grass practice fields, I don't think there is a better outdoor facility in the country."

The new turf in the bubble indoor practice facility allows us to prepare better for bowl games and benefits our out of season programs in the winter. The conclusion of that project really puts us in tremendous shape from a facility standpoint. With that same surface now in Kinnick Stadium, we are assured of a consistent playing field, no matter the conditions."

IOWA FACILITIES | GERDIN ATHLETIC LEARNING CENTER

- The Gerdin Academic Learning Center is a $5.1 million facility that opened in August 2003 for use by all UI student-athletes. The facility features large and small group study rooms, a computer center, an auditorium, and a book library and office space for Iowa's Academic Student Services and Compliance staff.
- The Hillcrest Market Place dining facility opened recently following a $500,000 renovation. Members of the Hawkeye football program are able to eat three meals a day at Hillcrest during the pre-season. During the regular season, dinner is served five times per week. The area provides seating for over 100 and overlooks the Iowa River and the main portion of the UI campus.

"The Gerdin Athletic Learning Center gives all of our student-athletes not only a great opportunity to study in a first class facility, but it's an ideal situation being located in the heart of campus."

The training table dining area at Hillcrest Market Place is an outstanding place for our guys to enjoy a meal together. It's a first class area that offers a great variety, and, more importantly, we know that our guys are eating right and getting the nutrition they need on a daily basis."

KIRK FERENTZ

Head Football Coach
University of Iowa

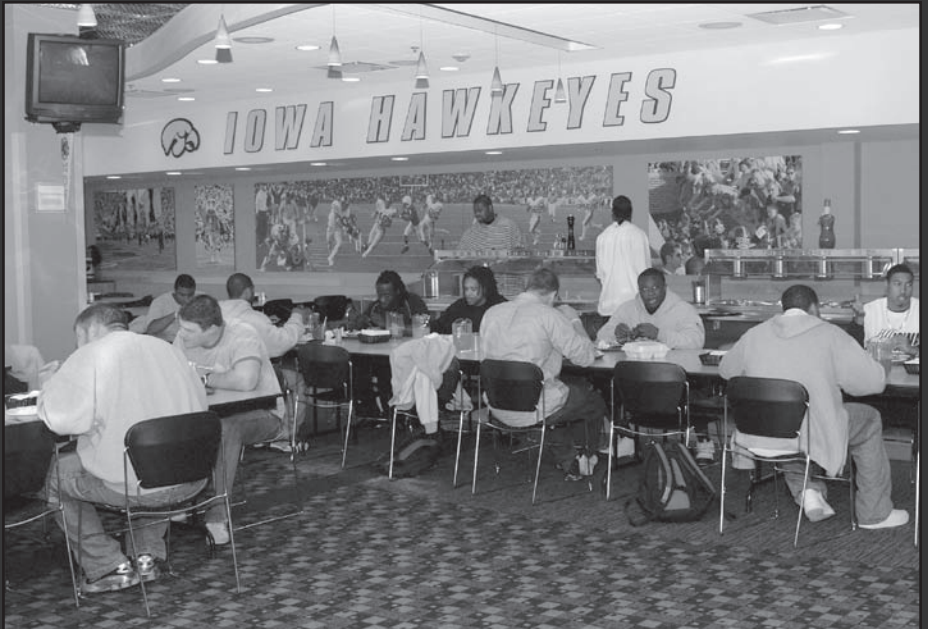

"Academics do come first, and that is something that is stressed from the very beginning. Our coaches, I think in every meeting, stay on us about keeping on track and making progress. They are like a parent, as far as keeping up with what you are doing and how you are doing in the classroom."

Having success in the classroom usually goes hand in hand with how you perform on the field as well. The Student Services staff is always ready to assist, but you have to be ready to ask for help. Everybody wants you to succeed, they are always positive and there to help. They are anxious to know what they can do to help improve your lifestyle on campus."

Everyone faces challenges when you first get on campus. But with the Student Services staff, and the Gerdin Academic Learning Center, it is easy to get on track. The support staff helps create the best possible schedule to help you be successful and meet your demands."

MARVIN MCNUTT

St. Louis, Missouri

"Having our training table meals at Hillcrest is a great benefit, and especially convenient for the younger players as it is located right next to the dormitories. It's a great place for everyone to meet after practice, to have time together away from the field, to be able to relax and have a conversation with your teammates."

We know that we are provided the best menu items to meet our nutritional needs and to help us develop the best eating and drinking habits to assist us in maintaining our strength and our health. Maintaining a proper diet is stressed as being very important, and that is easy to do with what Hillcrest dining has to offer."

THE IOWA HAWKEYES AND POST-SEASON BOWL GAMES

From 1979-98, the rise of the Iowa Hawkeyes from the ranks of also rans to a position of national prominence, was orchestrated by Hall of Fame Coach Hayden Fry.

And now, in the 10 years since Fry's retirement, the successful re-modeling and re-crowning of Iowa's championship program continues under the watchful eye of Kirk Ferentz.

Ferentz, a former Fry assistant at Iowa for nine seasons, has led the Hawkeyes to 59 wins over the last seven seasons, including 10 wins or more in three straight years, Big Ten championships in 2002 and 2004 and five January bowl invitations from 2002-08. Iowa concluded the 2008 season with a 31-10 win in the 2009 Outback Bowl and a 9-4 overall record, as the Hawkeyes were bowl eligible for the eighth straight season.

- Iowa was ranked 20th in the final polls a year ago after closing the season with six wins in its final seven games, including a 24-23 win over third-ranked Penn State in Kinnick Stadium. The Outback Bowl win over South Carolina gave the Hawkeyes their third January bowl victory under Ferentz. Iowa finished in the Big Ten's first division for the seventh time in the past eight seasons.
- With the Outback Bowl appearance, Iowa became one of just 10 college football programs to play in a January bowl game following five (2002, 2003, 2004, 2005, 2008) of the last seven seasons. Iowa has earned seven bowl invitations in the last eight years and was also bowl eligible in 2007.
- Iowa has seven first-division finishes in the Big Ten Conference in the past eight seasons, including championships in 2002 and 2004. Iowa also earned an invitation to the 2003 Orange Bowl, its first-ever BCS bowl invitation.
- Iowa is one of three football programs (joining Oklahoma and Texas) in the nation to have five different individual players earn national Player of the Year honors at their position since 2002.
- Iowa concluded the 2006 season with a narrow 26-24 loss to Texas, the defending national champion, in the Alamo Bowl as the Hawkeyes matched the longest streak in school history with their sixth straight bowl appearance.
- The Hawkeyes gained a spot in the 2006 Outback Bowl in Tampa, FL after a third place tie in the Big Ten standings during the 2005 campaign. The Hawkeyes closed the regular season with impressive wins over Wisconsin (on the road) and Minnesota.
- Iowa posted a 10-2 mark in 2004, earning the Big Ten title by winning its final seven league games. Iowa made it eight straight with a 30-25 win over defending national champion LSU in the 2005 Capital One bowl in Orlando, FL.

- For three consecutive years (2002-04), Iowa was ranked eighth in the final national rankings. Iowa was one of only four schools to be ranked in the top 10 each of those three years. Following the 2002-05 seasons, Iowa was one of four teams to play in four straight January bowl games. Iowa posted three consecutive seasons of 10 wins or more (2002, 2003, 2004) for the first time in school history, including a school-record 11 regular season wins in 2002. Iowa has posted wins in 43 of the last 52 home games in Kinnick Stadium, including a school-record 22 game win streak from 2002-05.
- Along with the success on the field, Iowa's total program has earned national recognition. Recently, Street & Smith named the Iowa program as the 36th best college football program of all time. The Sporting News has named Iowa City as the best college football city in the nation and, the Chicago Sun Times named Iowa's helmet as the second most recognizable helmet in the Big Ten Conference.
- Ferentz led his fourth Iowa team to the 2002 Big Ten title and a perfect 8-0 record in league play. Iowa was ranked as high as third in the nation for three straight weeks late in the season while earning its first-ever invitation to a BCS bowl game, the 2003 Orange Bowl.
- In 2004, the Hawkeyes rode the right arm of sophomore QB Drew Tate and another stellar defense to their second Big Ten title in three seasons. Iowa completed its seven-game league winning streak with a 30-7 win over Wisconsin on the final day of the season. Facing the defending national champion in the Capital One Bowl, Iowa made it eight straight wins with the last-second victory over LSU.
- An Alamo Bowl victory over Texas Tech in 2001 set the tone for Iowa's championship campaign of 2002. The Hawkeyes, in 2002, featured the Heisman Trophy runner-up in QB Brad Banks, the John Mackey Award winner in TE Dallas Clark and the Lou Groza Award winner in PK Nate Kaeding. Banks was also named Big Ten MVP and conference Offensive Player of the Year. OL Eric Steinbach was named Big Ten Offensive Lineman of the Year and, Ferentz gathered several national Coach of the Year honors.
- Ferentz was named the 2002 Associated Press and Walter Camp Foundation national Coach of the Year. Five Iowa players have been named Player of the Year at their position, including OL Robert Gallery (2003 Outland Trophy), TE Dallas Clark (2002 John Mackey Award), QB Brad Banks (2002 Davey O'Brien Award), PK Nate Kaeding (2002 Lou Groza Award) and RB Shonn Greene (2008 Doak Walker Award). In addition, Banks was the 2002 Associated Press Player of the Year and runner-up in the Heisman Trophy voting.
- Over the past eight seasons, Iowa players have earned first team all-Big Ten honors on 32 occasions, third best in the Big Ten Conference. Sally Mason became the 20th President of The University of Iowa on August 1, 2007. She holds a full professorship with tenure in the Department of Biology of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

In her first year at Iowa, President Mason initiated a sustainable university initiative, which makes sustainability a central priority of all aspects of the University enterprise—its operations, its academic mission, and its greater responsibilities to society. In addition to building a leadership team, one of President Mason's top priorities has been visiting and listening to the University's many constituencies, internal and external, through meetings, appearances with service organizations, discussions with newspaper editorial boards, and community visits. An unexpected priority of President Mason's first year was the historic flooding of the UI campus and the greater community, and her leadership helped bring the campus community together to preserve as much of the University's resources as possible and rebuild essential facilities in time to open the campus for a full complement of fall semester courses.

The daughter of an immigrant family and the first child to attend college, President Mason received her B.A. in zoology from The University of Kentucky in 1972, her M.S. from Purdue University in 1974, and her Ph.D. in cellular, molecular, and developmental biology from The University of Arizona in 1978. She subsequently spent two years at Indiana University in Bloomington doing postdoctoral research before joining The University of Kansas in 1981. A strong advocate of undergraduate education, she received awards for outstanding undergraduate advising and teaching, and she was awarded a prestigious Kemper Teaching Fellowship. During her 21 years at Kansas, President Mason served as a full professor in the Department of Molecular Biosciences, Acting Chair of the Department of Physiology and Cell Biology, and Associate Dean in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. In 1995, she was appointed Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, the largest academic unit on the University of Kansas campus.

President Mason served as Provost of Purdue University from 2001-2007, where she was responsible for planning, managing, and reviewing all academic programs at Purdue's West Lafayette campus and four affiliated branch campuses throughout Indiana. Her accomplishments as Provost included increasing diversity, recruiting top faculty, doubling the research program, advancing public engagement, and improving the learning environment for students. During President Mason's tenure as Provost, Purdue hired over 800 new faculty, 300 of which were new positions; 56% of those hires were women and/or minorities. She also formed a diversity leadership group while at Purdue. President Mason was instrumental in the development of Purdue's Discovery Park, an interdisciplinary research incubator focused on such topics as nanotechnology, entrepreneurship, and biosciences.

President Mason is the author of many scientific papers and has obtained a number of research grants from the National Science Foundation, the National Institutes of Health, the Wesley Research Foundation, and the Lilly Endowment. Her research interests have focused on the developmental biology, genetics, and biochemistry of pigment cells and pigments in the skin of vertebrates. She has served as President of both the PanAmerican Society for Pigment Cell Research and the Council of Colleges of Arts and Sciences, and has served as Chair of the Advisory Committee to the National Science Foundation Directorate for Education and Human Resources (EHR) and the Executive Committee of the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges (NASULGC) Chief Academic Officers Group. She also served on the Executive Committee of the Committee on Institutional Cooperation (CIC) from 2003-2007 and was appointed to the National Medal of Science Selection Committee from 2006-2008. President Mason currently co-chairs the Task Force on National Energy Policy and Midwestern Competitiveness of the Chicago Council on Global Affairs, a national task force exploring how likely upcoming energy and climate change legislation will impact Midwest economic competitiveness.

President Mason is married to Ken Mason, an educator and textbook author who teaches biological sciences at The University of Iowa.

THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

"Welcome to a new season of Iowa football! I am thrilled to experience my third year as a Hawkeye and to enjoy all our great gridiron traditions. I can't wait to cheer the Iowa black and gold on to victory again this year.

Hawkeye dedication and hard work in the classroom and in the stadium exemplify the UI spirit. In 2008, we had 16 players earn academic all-Big Ten recognition, the most of any Big Ten bowl team. In 2007, the Hawkeyes boasted two first-team academic all-American players. In 2006, Iowa was the only Division I football program in the nation with three academic all-Americans!

I thank Coach Kirk Ferentz and the entire coaching and athletic staff for their excellent work with our players. The coaches' leadership and teaching, combined with the dedication and talent of our team members, have led the Hawkeyes to some impressive signs of success: a 43-9 home record in the last 52 games, 36 straight sold-out games, Big Ten titles in 2002 and 2004, and seven bowl appearances in the last eight years, including our great win in the 2009 Outback Bowl. Iowa is one of only 10 college football programs with five January bowl appearances in the past seven seasons. By the end of the season, the Hawkeyes were ranked 20th in the nation with a 9-4 record, and Shonn Greene earned the Doak Walker Award as the top running back in the nation, the fifth Iowa Hawkeye to earn a national player-of-the-year award since 2002.

Hawkeye fans continue to enjoy games more than ever in the renovated Kinnick Stadium. I know that football Saturdays create a wonderful weekend atmosphere in Iowa City, and loyal season ticket holders from all 99 Iowa counties help create an excitement that all fans and visitors enjoy.

I am proud to be a Hawkeye, and I am pleased to welcome you to another year of great Iowa football action!"

Sally Mason | President
The University of Iowa

Gary Barta is in his fourth year as the director of intercollegiate athletics at the University of Iowa and his 23rd year in athletics administration, eager to build on the achievements and progress made in a challenging but rewarding 2008-09.

The Hawkeyes enjoyed a successful 2008-09 year competitively. Iowa finished the 2009 sports season ranked 45th nationally in the Learfield Sports Directors' Cup with a school-record 474.30 – an improvement fueled by Iowa's victory over South Carolina in the 2009 Outback Bowl, the Hawkeyes' second straight Big Ten Conference and NCAA titles in wrestling, a third straight Big Ten Tournament title and a berth in the national semi-finals by the field hockey team, and NCAA Tournament or national championship participation by Iowa's women's basketball, women's cross country and indoor track, men's golf, gymnastics and softball programs. Iowa's 45th place finish was a seven-position improvement from last year's placing of 50th (398 points) and the third consecutive year of improvement and the Hawkeyes placed 68th in 2006-07 with 284 points. The UI's previous best point total was 467.75 in 2004-05.

Under Barta's leadership, Iowa's long-standing commitment to the academic pursuits of the more than 700 student-athletes who annually represent the Hawkeye intercollegiate athletics competition continues. According to graduation statistics distributed each fall by the NCAA, the class of student-athletes who entered Iowa at the start of the 2001-02 academic year had a graduation rate of 68 percent, a mark that compared very favorably to the 66 percent rate compiled by the overall student population at the University.

The 2008 Iowa football team tied for first in NCAA Graduation Success Rate (75 percent) among the 10 programs that have played in five or more January bowl games since the 2002 season. Iowa's 75 percent graduation success rate ranked third among teams in the 2008 final top 25.

The Hawkeye men's cross country, women's golf, and softball teams were also singled out by the NCAA for ranking in the top 10 percent among their peers in the NCAA's 2008 Academic Progress Rate (APR), a real-time look at a team's academic success each semester or quarter, by tracking the academic progress of each student-athlete. All 24 of Iowa's teams exceed NCAA APR standards and compare favorably to their peers in the Big Ten Conference and nationally.

Construction of new and renovation of existing facilities also remain high priorities for Iowa. The UI is working hard to reach its goal of breaking ground on a $47 million revitalization of its 27-year-old Carver-Hawkeye Arena, a much-needed renovation that will greatly improve the practice, strength training and conditioning facilities for a myriad of Hawkeye sports programs, including, most notably, the men and women's basketball, volleyball and wrestling teams.

The project will also provide locker room updates, team meeting facilities, and much needed office and meeting room space for more than 200 full-time coaches and staff. The enhancement project will also expand and improve the experience for fans.

The University of Iowa will complete construction of the $7 million P. Sue Beckwith Boathouse in fall 2009. This addition to the physical plant will come fast on the heels of a $3 million renovation of the portion of the UI Recreation Building used by Iowa's baseball, track and field, and cross country squads; the replacement of the drainage system for the playing field inside Kinnick Stadium and the installation of FieldTurf; and the reconstruction of Bob Pearl Field, home of Iowa's nationally ranked softball team, and Francis X. Cretzmeyer Track, Iowa's track and field venue, two facilities severely damaged by the 2008 floods that ravaged the Midwest.

In fall 2010, Barta will join leaders across campus in celebrating the opening of the $69 million Campus Wellness and Recreation Center, the new home of Iowa's men's and women's swimming and diving program.

Last winter, the State of Iowa Board of Regents gave approval to hire architects to begin planning the renovation and expansion of administrative space and training facilities used by Iowa's nationally ranked football program. The project is to be funded entirely by private support. This important project is part of the next phase of the master plan for Hawkeye football facilities.

The construction of the Ron and Margaret Kenyon Outdoor Practice Facility – a facility envied by many collegiate programs and NFL franchises – and the renovation of Kinnick Stadium were phases 1 and 2 of the master plan, respectively.

Barta has hired four head coaches since becoming Iowa's 11th director of athletics on Aug. 2, 2006 and all four have quickly built solid foundations for their respective programs.

Todd Lickliter's 2008-09 UI men's basketball team battled through one of the nation's toughest schedules to claim 15 victories with a roster dominated by underclassmen. The 2009 season will be the second for volleyball coach Sharon Dingman, who guided the Hawkeyes to win totals of 14 overall and six against Big Ten opponents, marks that were the best for Iowa in eight seasons.

Kelly Crawford and Mark Hankins have raised the bar for both of Iowa's golf programs. Crawford's women's team finished fifth at the 2009 Big Ten Conference Championship – the program's best finish in 14 seasons. Hankins' men's squad finished sixth at the 2009 league championship – just five strokes out of third place. The finish was the Hawkeyes' best in eight years and earned Iowa a spot in NCAA regional competition. The Hawkeyes finished fifth at NCAA Regionals, which garnered the Black and Gold their first NCAA Championships appearance since 1994. At the championships, Iowa placed 17th in the country.

Barta's involvement in the UI campus community extends well beyond intercollegiate athletics. He is a member of the cabinet comprised of vice presidents and other campus leaders that provides counsel to President Sally Mason. That group was instrumental during the inspiring response to the record-setting flooding that besieged the campus and the Iowa City and Coralville communities in June, 2008.

An ability to create and cultivate mutually beneficial relationships has been a consistent theme in Barta's 22 years in athletic administration. As director of athletics at the University of Iowa, he assisted staff of the Big Ten Conference and the Big Ten Network in their negotiations with Mediacom Communications, Inc., the state's largest cable television provider. It resulted in distribution of the BTN to more than one million households across the state. Barta continues to develop relationships with alumni and contributors to the program in an effort to remain competitive. In recent years, the Athletics Department has received several significant financial commitments to assist in capital projects and scholarship support, including gifts of $5 million each from Dale and Marilyn Howard, Bruce Rastetter and Richard O. Jacobson.

As the director of athletics at the University of Wyoming for three years, seven different coaches were named Mountain West Conference Coach of the Year. He also spearheaded a fund-raising effort that netted the Cowboy athletics program $11 million in private support and $11 million in matching state funds. Among other things, these funds allowed for significant stadium renovations and construction of a new indoor practice facility.

As the senior associate athletics director at the University of Washington, he directed the "Campaign for the Student-Athlete," was a participant in the design, construction and/or renovation of several athletic facilities, including Bank of America Arena and the Dempsey Indoor Practice Facility. During his time in Seattle, the Husky Athletics program generated nearly $100 million in private support. In addition to almost doubling the amount of annual private contributions received by Washington, Barta also managed the department's external relations.

His responsibilities at Washington expanded over time to include hiring of coaching and administrative staff and coordinating the schedule for the Huskies' men's basketball program.

The roots of his development experience extend to his first two positions: director of athletics development and external relations at the University of Northern Iowa and director of development at his alma mater, North Dakota State University.

Barta earned a Bachelor of Science degree in mass communication and broadcast journalism from NDSU in 1987. He was an option quarterback for Bison football squads that won the NCAA Division II national championship in 1983, 1985 and 1986.

Barta, and his wife, Connie, have a son, Luke (11) and a daughter, Madison (9). He was born September 4, 1963, in Minneapolis, Minn.

The Barta family includes Gary, Luke, Madison and Connie.

Building on a rich tradition of excellence and innovation, the University of Iowa is educating more than 30,000 students annually, preparing them for success immediately following graduation, as well as continued achievements throughout their lives.

The University of Iowa offers more than 100 areas of undergraduate and graduate study, including seven professional degree programs, through its 11 colleges: the colleges of Liberal Arts and Sciences, Business, Dentistry, Education, Engineering, Law, Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy and Public Health, and the Graduate College. The University also provides on-campus and distance learning opportunities through its division of Continuing Education.

Long recognized as one of the nation's leading centers for the arts, creative writing, space physics, hydraulics, basic health and science research, and communication studies, the University of Iowa is also developing new strengths in informatics, nanoscience, simulation technology, and other fields.

The University of Iowa has maintained its tradition as an innovator with its pioneering work in speech pathology, science and medicine. It's also known internationally for being home of one of the nation's largest public university owned hospitals.

"The University of Iowa not only boasts a beautiful campus, it offers its students a broad range of academic programs, an abundance of social activities and a sense of belonging. With its combination of quality academics, mammoth resources, renowned specialty programs, and extensive research opportunities, this Midwest school is anything but featureless."

CULTURAL DIVERSITY AT THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

The University of Iowa has worked hard to assure that students of all races, creeds, and backgrounds are represented in the student body. In the past five years, Iowa has moved aggressively towards its goal of creating communities of African American, Hispanic/Latino (a), Asian American, and Native American students, and making the University a stimulating, welcoming place.

The Center for Diversity and Enrichment is a coordinated university-wide resource for creating and maintaining this campus diversity and providing opportunities for all University students interested in other cultures. Scholarships, fellowships, and support programs help to make this possible. International Programs brings together scholars from around the world and UI students looking to expand their perspectives by studying abroad or exploring global issues on campus.

- The University of Iowa has been recognized by Kaplan/Newsweek College Catalogue as one of the top schools in the country for supporting diversity.
- U.S. News & World Report, in its yearly rankings, has ranked the University of Iowa 24th among American public national universities for undergraduate education. Iowa ranks in the top 15% of some 161 public universities across the country.
- The University of Iowa is listed among "America's Best Value Colleges" by The Princeton Review. Iowa is cited for its "excellent academics, generous financial aid packages and low costs".
- In its 2010 rankings of America's Best Graduate Schools, released in April, U.S. News & World Report ranks five Iowa programs as best in the nation among public universities. Overall, UI has 21 graduate programs ranked in the top 10 nationally.

A CAMPUS ON THE MOVE

The University of Iowa campus caters to pedestrians and bicyclists; it's compact enough to cross in a 20-minute walk. A free ride on a campus bus can cut that time in half. Entertainment on campus and in Iowa City is geared toward student budgets, with many events offered at no charge.

Iowa City has more bookstores, coffee shops, restaurants, record shops, and movie theaters in its downtown area -- right next to campus -- than you'll find in cities many times its size.

Hancher Auditorium brings the world's finest musicians, dancers, actors, and entertainers to the University. It is part of the Iowa Center for the Arts, which includes the Museum of Art and cultural/educational programs in music, theatre, art and art history, dance, and literary arts. The Center for the Arts was hit hard by the record flooding of 2008 on the UI campus, forcing several buildings and/or programs to be shut down or relocated. The Center for the Arts will feature a number of new facilities in the near future as the recovery project continues.

Iowa City is alive with festivals and ethnic celebrations. Music, drama, and dance can be found on stage or on street corners. Sculptures adorn campus green spaces and plazas, and work by local artists and craftspeople entice visitors to outdoor markets.

The University of Iowa offers more than 400 student organizations, extensive recreation facilities, 50 fraternities and sororities, and a broad schedule of arts performances, lectures, cultural celebrations and club sports and intramural athletic contests to go along with the intercollegiate competition within the Big Ten Conference.

Five Iowa graduate programs rank number one in the nation, according to America's Best Graduate Schools, produced by U.S. News & World Report. In addition, the Iowa Writer's Workshop is ranked number one in the nation by U.S. News & World Report, Writer's Digest and Poets & Writers.

With over 30,000 students in a city of roughly 75,000, UI offers a different atmosphere than many other universities in the Big Ten or the Midwest.

"Move to Iowa City. Some of the happiest people in the world live in Iowa City."

CHRISTOPHER KEYES

Editor
Midwest Magazine
August, 2007

Some universities offer the large city atmosphere. Others offer the college town experience. The University of Iowa is uniquely situated to offer student-athletes the very best of both of these different worlds.

Once the state capital, Iowa City is considered one of the truly great college towns in America. The city swells with excitement on football Saturdays when more than 70,000 Hawkeye fans from across the Midwest converge on Kinnick Stadium to tailgate and cheer the Hawkeyes to another victory.

Carver-Hawkeye Arena, the home of Iowa basketball with a seating capacity of 15,500, is the site of performances and concerts by some of the more popular entertainers and musicians. Stars to pass through Iowa City in recent years include the following:

Red Hot Chili Peppers	Elton John
The Backstreet Boys	Kansas
Goo Goo Dolls	Billy Joel
Tina Turner	Foo Fighters
Bill Cosby	Metallica
Paul Simon	Whitney Houston
James Taylor	Garth Brooks
Bob Dylan	U2
Brooks & Dunn

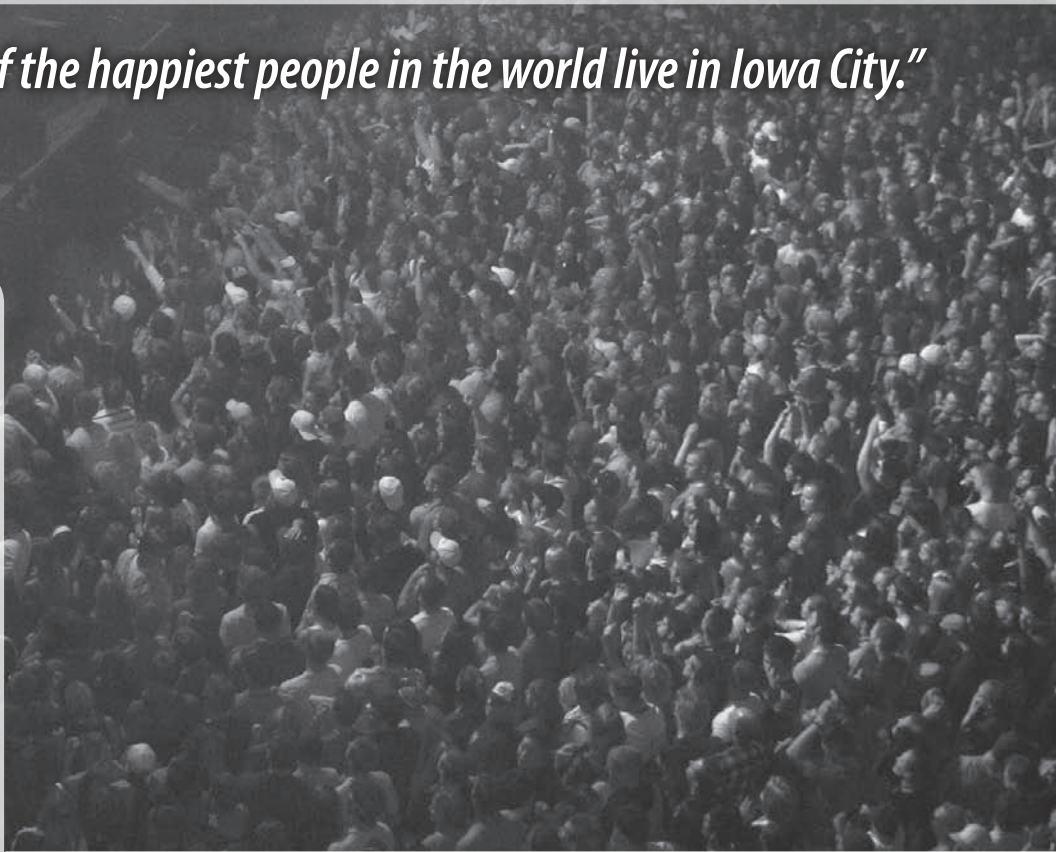

Iowa City's downtown area is alive and thriving. Restaurants, shops and sidewalk cafes face onto pedestrian malls full of people watchers, street entertainers and food vendors.

Attractive in size and friendliness, Iowa City is big in the sense that it offers all the advantages and conveniences of much larger metropolitan areas like summer and permanent employment opportunities, live entertainment and concerts, fine dining and shopping, industry and commerce.

Iowa City is known regionally for the excellence of small bands that originate here and its resident comedy troupes. The annual jazz festival and other events throughout the spring and summer bring nationally known entertainers to the area.

Iowa City is located in the heart of eastern Iowa, within easy driving distance of several major Midwestern cities including the state capital, Des Moines, as well as Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City and Minneapolis.

Iowa City ranks as the top town in the Midwest in Midwest magazine's annual list of the "30 Best Towns in America."

With a seating capacity of over 15,000, Iowa's Carver-Hawkeye Arena hosts some of the top concerts in the Midwest.

Homecoming activities on the University of Iowa campus include a Friday night concert on the Iowa Pentacrest.

"Iowa City is unlike any other place in the state, both because of its regional beauty and because of its independent, serendipitous spirit."

"There's nothing like feeling the crisp air as one tours the Big Ten campus, just as there's no other feeling like walking the shores along Lake McBride, north of town. This is an ideal location for a weekend trip filled with sights, sounds, shopping and plenty of activities on any given weekend."

"If there is a star in Iowa, Iowa City is it."

IOWA CITY: THE BEST IN COLLEGE FOOTBALL!

Iowa City, home of the Iowa Hawkeyes, annually ranks as one of the best sports cities in America, according to the annual ratings released each summer by The Sporting News.

In August, 2005, Sporting News ranked Iowa City as the best college football city in America. Iowa's football success, tradition, history, fans and the city's atmosphere on game days were all considered in naming Iowa City No. 1.

In its pre-season magazine for the 2007 and 2009 college football season, Sporting News ranks Iowa's Kinnick Stadium as the best stadium in the Big Ten Conference.

Iowa City ranks as the sixth healthiest, safest and sexiest place to live in America, according to Men's Journal, based on cities with a population between 50,000 and 500,000.

In addition, Outside Magazine rates the Iowa City community as the 10th "coolest college town."

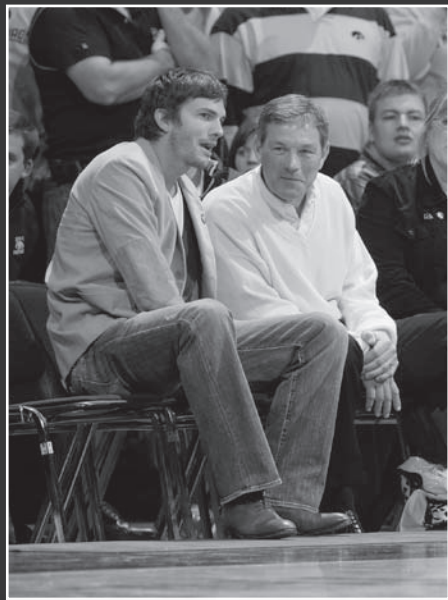

In a study release in May, 2009, the unemployment rate for the Iowa City area (3.2%) ranked as the lowest in the nation.

A PLACE FOR PEOPLE FROM ALL PLACES

Each year, the University of Iowa boasts a student population that includes young men and women from all 50 states and more than 110 foreign countries.

Diversity is also true among the student-athletes who come to Iowa City to play football for the Hawkeyes. At Iowa, high school all-Americans from some of the nation's largest metropolitan areas work side-by-side with all-state picks from states in "America's Heartland" and elsewhere to help keep the Hawkeyes among the nation's best.

The record shows that Hawkeyes don't grow up only in Iowa - they come from virtually all parts of the world.

CONSIDER THE COMMUNITY

According to a recent annual report conducted by Morgan Quitno Press, a publishing and research company located in Lawrence, KS, Iowa ranks as the second most livable state. The report is based on 43 factors which access a state's quality of life.

The state of Iowa ranks as the fifth best state to raise a family, according to a recent study released by the Children's Rights Council, a Washington, D.C. based organization.

According to the annual study by Forbes Magazine, Iowa City ranks third among small cities on a national list of best places to do business and advance careers and eighth among up and coming tech cities. Iowa City has ranked in the top three in the Forbes rankings in four of the past five years.

The Best Places list, released on Forbes' website, ranked 200 of the nation's largest metropolitan areas, based on government data for employment and wage growth over both one- and five-year periods. The study was based on salary and job growth and high-tech output and included cities that range in size from 24,000 to 83,000.

Outside Magazine named Iowa City its top town in the Midwest, and National Geographic Adventure ranked it among the "50 best places to live and play." Iowa City is listed by Sperling's Best Places as one of the 10 most affordable places to live and work.

Iowa City was selected as the best metropolitan area to live in, according to the Editor & Publisher Market Guide. The magazine cited the cost of living index, crime index and education levels as key factors to formulate the Better Living list, which rated 315 metropolitan areas around the nation.

IOWA CITY AND CEDAR RAPIDS OFFER EASTERN IOWANS VARIETY

Cedar Rapids, with a population over 175,000, is located just minutes to the north, as is the Eastern Iowa Municipal Airport, Iowa City's link to every major airport in the Midwest and nation.

The second largest city in Iowa, Cedar Rapids is the principal industrial and business city of Eastern Iowa. Known as the City of Five Seasons, Cedar Rapids joins with Iowa City in providing a high quality of life in both a rural and metropolitan setting.

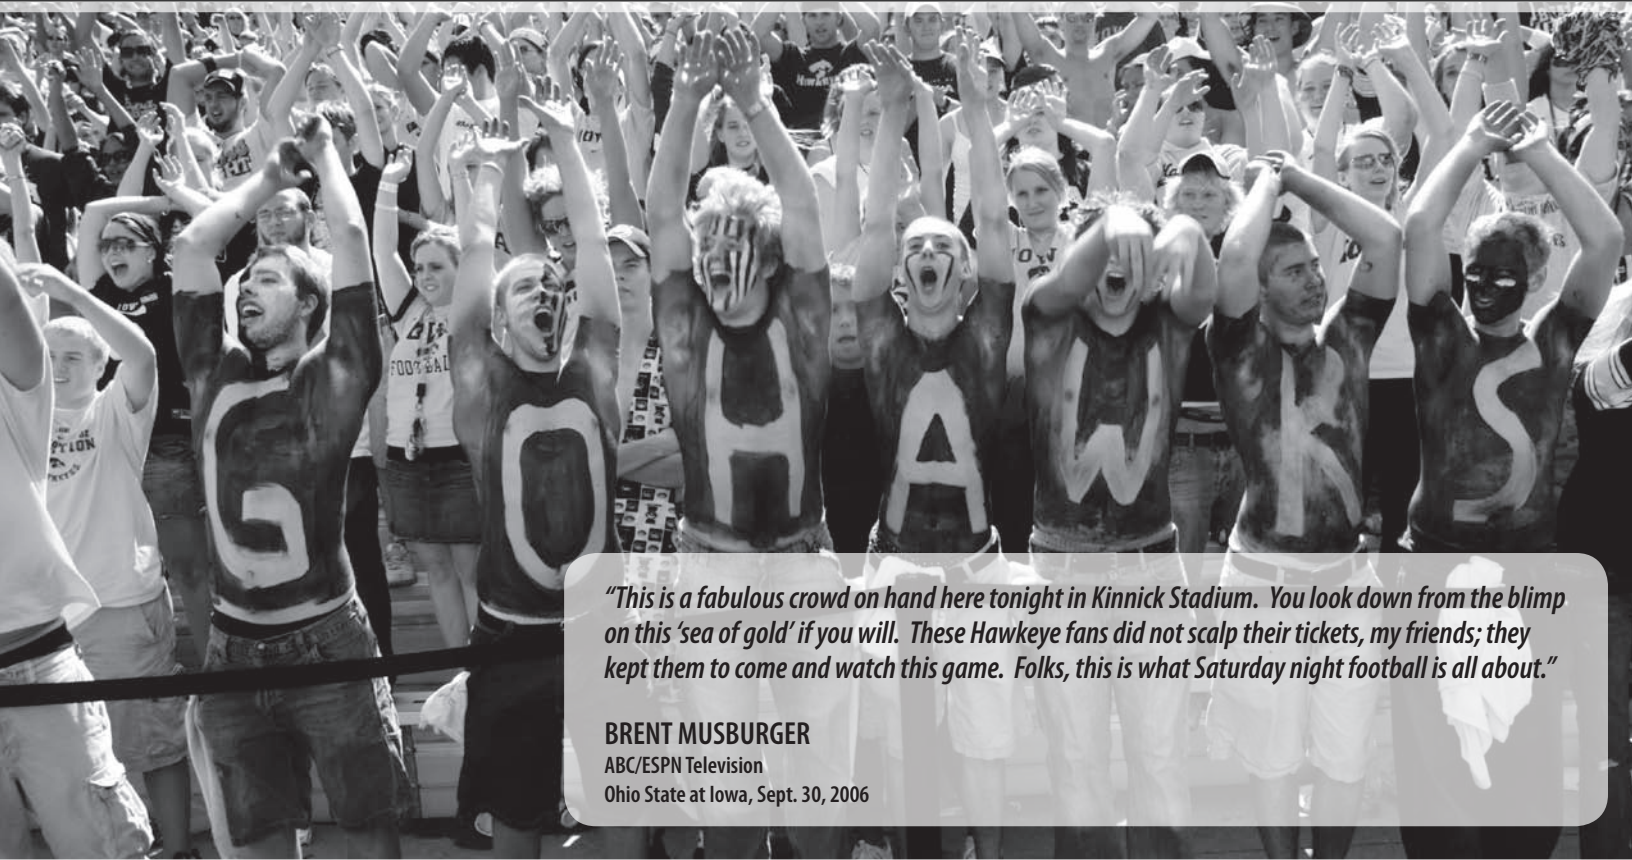

THE EASTERN IOWA AIRPORT: THE HAWKEYES' LINK TO THE NATION

When the Iowa Hawkeyes, University of Iowa faculty, staff and students, and eastern Iowans travel by air, they depart from the Eastern Iowa Airport, located just minutes north of Iowa City. The Eastern Iowa Airport is serviced by American Airlines, United Airlines, TWA, U.S. Air, Northwest and Allegiant Air and provides quick and easy access to all major cities across the nation including New York City, Minneapolis, Chicago, Kansas City, Denver, Dallas, Phoenix, Atlanta, Tampa and others.

With the UI campus and downtown Iowa City adjacent to each other, students are offered a wide variety of entertainment and activities.

"This is a fabulous crowd on hand here tonight in Kinnick Stadium. You look down from the blimp on this 'sea of gold' if you will. These Hawkeye fans did not scalp their tickets, my friends; they kept them to come and watch this game. Folks, this is what Saturday night football is all about."

GREAT FANS HELP PRODUCE GREAT PROGRAMS AND THAT'S TRUE AT IOWA. HAWKEYE FANS ARE LEGENDARY.

Sometimes you can look at attendance figures and determine whether a football program has the support of the community. And sometimes you have to experience the atmosphere, color and pageantry in person. Rest assured, there's no lack of support or interest in the football program at The University of Iowa.

Iowa football program annually ranks among the top 25 programs in the nation in home attendance. The Hawkeyes were 22nd nationally in home attendance in 2008, with an average of 70,169 fans per game. Iowa sold every ticket at a school-record 36 straight games over the past six seasons.

In its annual college football preview, The Sporting News recently ranked Iowa City as the No. 1 college football city in America, based on a Hawkeye home football game on a fall weekend.

In addition to the great fan support at all home games, Iowa fans are known for traveling to support the Hawkeye football team.

Iowa made its third appearance in the Outback Bowl in Tampa, FL last January, as an estimated 21,000 Iowa fans were on hand to cheer the Hawkeyes on to a 31-10 win over South Carolina. Over 156,000 Hawkeyes fans have traveled to Iowa's last six bowl appearances.

When Iowa opened the 2007 season with a win over Northern Illinois at Chicago's Soldier Field, more than 40,000 Iowa supporters were among the 61,500 fans that turned the game into a sellout well in advance.

Iowa closed the 2006 season by facing defending national champion Texas in the Alamo Bowl in San Antonio, TX. The attendance of 65,875 set an Alamo Bowl record. In addition, the game still ranks as the most watched college bowl game in ESPN history.

When the Hawkeyes participated in the 2003 Orange Bowl in Miami, FL, over 50,000 Iowa fans filled Pro Player Stadium. Along with having the quickest sellout in the history of the event, Orange Bowl officials agreed that no other team from outside the state of Florida had ever featured the support shown by Iowa's fans.

The Hawkeyes returned to Florida for the 2004 Outback Bowl in Tampa, and the Iowa fans returned as well. An estimated 25,000 Hawkeyes fans were on hand as Iowa scored a 37-17 win over Florida.

An estimated 30,000 Hawkeye fans visited the Orlando, FL area to see the Hawkeyes score a 30-25 win over LSU in the 2005 Capital One Bowl. The economic impact study found that an estimated $42.3 million of new economic activity was created by the event.

In 2001, Iowa sold its entire allotment of tickets for the Alamo Bowl in San Antonio, TX. The sold out crowd of 65,232 that watched Iowa defeat Texas Tech 19-16 marked the second largest crowd in the history of the bowl game at that time.

HAWKEYES FEEL AT HOME

When student-athletes come to Iowa City to play football for the University of Iowa, it becomes their home. Not just for the four or five years of their college career, but in many cases the student-athlete remains in the Iowa City area following graduation to pursue his professional career.

And when the athlete is competing for the Hawkeyes, he is treated by the Iowa City community and Hawkeye fans as more than just an athlete.

The University is an active member of the Iowa City community. Many students, including a large number of student-athletes in all sports, stay in Iowa City all year, taking part in the numerous arts, recreation, and cultural opportunities that are offered.

Students also play an important role in the life of the community. The University maintains a volunteer agency referral system to help students learn where they are needed and to help the community find that valuable resource, the volunteer.

"When I received my initial contact from Iowa, I remember thinking of the success the football program has had under Coach Ferentz in recent years. It stuck in my mind that Iowa was a program that had won championships recently and that I could be a part of that.

When I visited Iowa City, I was so impressed with the people; the coaching staff, the support staff and the fans I met. Everyone seemed to have an interest in me as a person; I could sense a genuine interest in my well being.

Along with the people, I was impressed with the facilities. I loved the atmosphere and the history of Kinnick Stadium; the fans are so intense and close to the field, it's just a great environment to be a part of on game day. Our everyday facilities, the weight room, the practice facility with three full practice fields, we have everything available that we need to be successful.

I was impressed with the Gerdin Academic Learning Center and I know that my parents really liked it, knowing that we have one facility for student-athletes, to help with everything we need academically. It stuck in my mind that Iowa had made academic success a priority for the student-athletes with the learning center and the support we receive from the Student Services staff.

More importantly, everything I was told would happen has happened, as far as opportunities in both football and academics. I've had every opportunity to get the results I wanted in both phases, while being able to have assistance when it has been needed. I was told I would have to earn everything, and that is the way it has been."

"One of the things that was discussed and promised during the recruiting process was the emphasis that is placed on an education and earning your degree. The value of your education was put first, then your football development.

With that emphasis, one of the factors that impressed me immediately was the Gerdin Academic Learning Center. It doesn't matter if it's for study table, or doing homework on your own, or just to read and have some quiet time, it is a great facility that we can take advantage of having for our use.

I spend a lot of time at the Gerdin Center. I can find a quiet space to study or visit with my advisor, Troy Wulf. As a staff the advisors provide great resources for us as student athletes. Having a great facility such as the Gerdin Center is definitely an advantage.

Our coaches have always stressed the importance of an education. If you have a class conflict, or you need to study for a test, that comes before practice. Getting a degree will take you further than a professional playing career. With injuries and things, you have to have an education to fall back on.

Our football facilities are impressive as well. Kinnick Stadium, with 70,000 fans every Saturday, it's a shock when you come down the tunnel and onto the field before every game. Our workout facilities are also among the best. Our weight room is one of the biggest in the Big Ten and we take pride in that and using it to our fullest advantage. The practice facility includes three fields, plus the indoor bubble. As far as facilities, we have what we need to grow and improve every day."

According to a survey by the Forbes/Milken Institute, Iowa City ranks third among Best Small Places in the nation in a national (for metro area of under 177,000 residents) list of best places to do business and advance a career. The rating was measured in part by wage and salary growth and earned income, job growth and high tech output that foster future growth, among other things.

FORBES MAGAZINE

"I was very comfortable with the entire football program in general; the people were friendly when I visited Iowa City and met everyone. From the start, I liked the way they practiced and prepared. I felt like Iowa was a program that I could fit into and be comfortable right away.

The program here feels like one big family, and I wanted to be a part of that. The players I met seemed like great guys, guys that would back each other up, like the players were all my big brothers. Being a part of the program is like a family and you immediately feel comfortable with the surroundings.

Kinnick Stadium was being renovated when I first visited Iowa City. Seeing that was awesome, I knew the commitment was there for Iowa football through the facilities. The fans are great, very supportive; you knew Kinnick Stadium would be full for every game with loyal Hawkeye fans. The facilities here are awesome in providing us every opportunity to be at our best every day.

It was tough to balance football and academics at first, but you catch on and adjust. It is made easier by the people you work with everyday. Coming from a large city to university community took some time for me to adjust. I feel like I have a good feel for the campus and I feel very comfortable as a student-athlete and part of the community."

ADRIAN CLAYBORN

Junior Defensive End
St. Louis, Missouri

"The first thing that caught my attention was the facilities. To see the weight room was a great eye opener for me, it really showed that they care about the strength and conditioning aspect of the game. Coming out of high school, I needed to add weight and strength to be able to play in the Big Ten. With Coach Doyle and Iowa's reputation as one of the top strength and conditioning programs, it was definitely a factor. It has helped me develop the proper way to play as an offensive lineman in the Big Ten.

From the start, I really had a great feeling of being home here, it's a great atmosphere. I attended a basketball game when I visited and you could just feel the passion of the fans. It was a great indication of how the fans really care about the teams here and how that multiplies for football games in Kinnick Stadium.

The medical staff here has also been great to work with. When I was injured and missed some games my first season the training staff was great. They were very cautious the entire time, making sure I was 100 percent ready to go. Having surgery after that first season went very well. We had complete trust in everyone involved from the medical staff, and the rehab was great as well. I was 100 percent and ready to go for the next season and that is due to the care and attention I received from our medical and athletic training staff.

Everything has gone perfect for me here; it has been a very positive experience, it's been more than I thought it could be. It's been great so far and I look forward to the future."

FORMER HAWKEYES KEEP TIES WITH FOOTBALL AND COMMUNITY

When Hawkeye football players complete their careers at Iowa, the ties to the University of Iowa and the football program remain. Hawkeye players come from across the nation to join one of the most successful football programs in the country, and often remain in Iowa City to live and raise a family in one of the most dynamic university communities in the midwest.

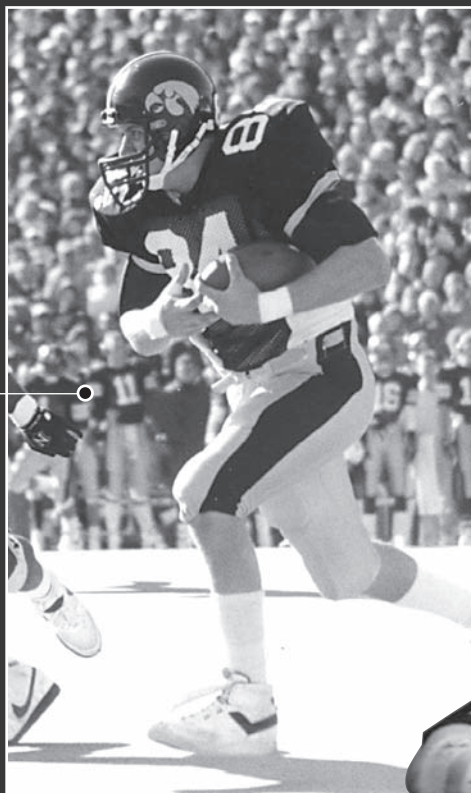

"Still to this day, when they come out of the tunnel, when I see the swarm, it still gets to me, brings tears of emotion. I almost try to get to games late, to miss the team coming on the field. Being a part of Iowa football, it's an emotional bond that stays with you."

The great support of the people of Iowa is another part of being an Iowa player that doesn't go away. This is a great program, with very good players that are fun to be around. It's a connection that, as a former player, I feel I will always have with the football program at Iowa."

"When I left home for college, I never thought it would be for a lifetime. But coming to the University of Iowa for my college career, and now raising a family here, is something I've never regretted. The people of Iowa City are the type of people you never want to leave."

I follow the football program, meeting the players each year; they're exactly like the guys I played with. You get to know the players; they almost seem like younger brothers. It's great to stay in touch and follow every game like a player."

career, I would return to Iowa City and the University of Iowa. Iowa City, Iowa football and the Iowa coaching staff brought me to where I am today. To me, this is the place to be in Iowa. There are so many things to do, and I can continue watching and keeping up with the Hawkeyes."

Being a part of Iowa football is something I was born with. Iowa football will never get out of my blood."

FORMER HAWKEYES KEEP TIES WITH FOOTBALL AND COMMUNITY

"When I left Iowa City to pursue my professional football career, I can't say it was my intention to eventually move back to Iowa City. But, the longer my wife and I were away, the more we saw the value of Iowa City and the community. We realized Iowa City is just a good midwest city to raise a family. We see a lot of other former Iowa athletes who live here and feel the same way, guys seem to work their way back here when they conclude their athletic careers."

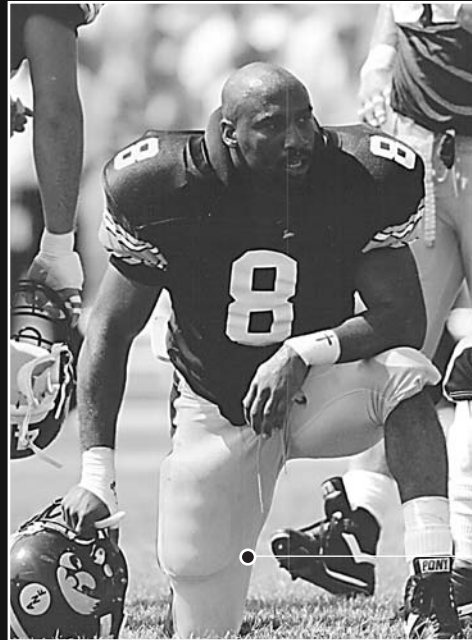

Coach Ferentz does a great job in his efforts to emphasize the tradition of Iowa football and provides the opportunity for former players to maintain our connection with the Iowa football program. Several former players have formed an Alumni Football Group of former Iowa players, and it has been a great way to open a line of communication among all former football players.

Being able to come back as an honorary captain was a great honor. To get back out there, to be with the current players and staff, provides a great connection between current and former players.

It was a great opportunity to talk to the current players, and I think it gives them a sense of responsibility to not only maintain the tradition, but to built their own tradition each year and realize there is a job to be done. That has been the case with the bowl games in the last six seasons, and I feel Kirk's teams will continue to do that in the years ahead."

MIKE SAUNDERS

1991 First Team All-Big Ten Running Back
Former NFL Player
Former Seven-year veteran, Canadian Football League

"I had a great experience during my career at The University of Iowa, academically, athletically and socially. At Iowa, I was provided all the necessary tools to have a great career, to play college football and to earn my degree, preparing myself for my career after college life."

Moving to Iowa City from New Jersey was a great experience, a very positive change in adapting to a culture that featured friendly, helpful and sincere people. The people of Iowa were willing to reach out and offer their assistance to student-athletes from all walks of life. The class offerings also provided much in the way of diversity, of gaining a complete education."

My years at Iowa taught me a great deal in preparing for my career. The experiences in dealing with people, including teammates, classmates, instructors and the media, all of this played a big role in preparing me for life after football."

LEROY SMITH

1991 Consensus All-American
Former NFL Player

"The University of Iowa and the football coaching staff, during my career, concentrated on football players as a whole person, not just as an athlete. They made sure we understood that college was meant for getting an education and earning your degree, not just going to bowl games. You have to be well-rounded in all aspects of your life."

Winners are not just on the football field, you have to develop those qualities as a person, and the staff at Iowa stressed that throughout my career. The best performers on the field are the players that are well-prepared and are excellent teammates that know to depend on each other."

That was the focus of Coach Fry and the entire football staff during my career, and I know that Coach Ferentz, a member of that staff for nine years, is now carrying on those same beliefs with his Iowa football team."

As a professional, I was much better prepared for my career because of my experiences with the Iowa football program. I felt that I had carried a 40 to 50 hour job during college with my football obligations, and that allowed me to be prepared for the business world."

CHUCK HARTLIEB

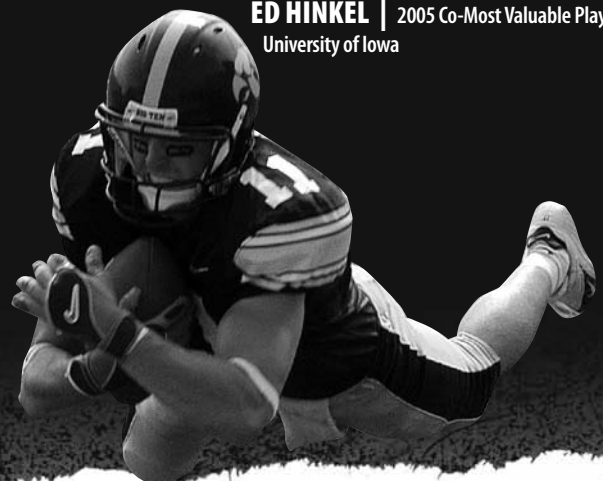

1987 Academic All-American
1987 and 1988 All-Big Ten Quarterback
Former NFL Player

"When Coach Ferentz first called and offered me a scholarship, I never thought I would want to go to college so far away from home. But after getting on campus and meeting the staff that Coach Ferentz has surrounded himself with, it made it an easy decision. Coach Ferentz talks about doing things the right way at Iowa and not cutting any corners to get the job done. He is a great ambassador for Iowa football and the state of Iowa."

When I left my home in Erie, Pennsylvania to come to the University of Iowa I didn't think I'd be here too long after my playing days had ended. However, after I graduated and my football career had ended, moving back never crossed my mind. I accepted a job as a sales rep for a top medical device company and I am also coaching high school football at Iowa City Regina HS. I've started a family here with my wife Keely and our new son Holton. We couldn't ask for a better place to raise our son than the Iowa City area. Now, Iowa is where I call home!"

Through my coaching experiences at Regina with former Hawkeyes Marv Cook, Jason Dumont, Mike Haight, and Alex Kanellis, I have gotten the chance to meet many of the families from the school and the community. They are all wonderful people and great examples of the kind of people in the Iowa City community."

ED HINKEL | 2005 Co-Most Valuable Player
University of Iowa

When student-athletes join the Iowa football program, they don't leave family members behind. The student-athlete, and his entire family, joins a bigger family that is the Hawkeye football family. Members of the Iowa football team become members of the large family that includes coaches and staff members and their families, the student-athletes, their parents and entire families.

"Eric Johnson was the recruiting coordinator and assistant coach that we first had contact with and Eric was very nice and represented the University of Iowa very well. When we were first able to visit the University of Iowa together as parents, one of the first things that caught our eye as we entered the football complex was the graduation rate of the football players that is so proudly posted inside the office.

We noticed right away that over 70% of the student-athletes in the football program were graduating from the University of Iowa, and that was very important.

Another key, as well, was Coach Kirk Ferentz and his entire staff. As parents we felt very comfortable knowing that our son is in good hands under Kirk and his staff, along with the academic reputation of the University of Iowa and the importance that is placed on academics.

I can't speak for my son, but it was his decision to select his college, and I think he's extremely happy with his selection of the University of Iowa and the time he has spent there. He is really enjoying his entire experience and we feel it is great to be a part of the Hawkeye family."

"We are very pleased with Coach Ferentz and the coaching staff at the University of Iowa. They have been open with us on what to expect from the University of Iowa and the football program. They have a family atmosphere and have taken our son in.

Coach Johnson was Marvin's recruiting coach, and continues to be a role model for Marvin, Jr. He values Coach Johnson and Coach Campbell's opinions. Marvin talks highly of the Hawkeye fans and their support for the players and the football program. We are very pleased Marvin, Jr. chose to attend the University of Iowa."

"When we first visited Iowa City and met Coach Ferentz and members of the coaching staff, we let Tony express his feelings before we added our input. From the start, Tony felt very comfortable with everyone he met and he really enjoyed the family atmosphere within the football program."

We know that Tony receives fantastic help from the members of the Student Services staff as far as academics. They help Tony stay on top of things with his studies.

We have supported Tony and his decision to attend Iowa. We know that he is happy and very much looking forward to his career there. He has fit in well socially and academically, and we know he is very happy to be a member of the Iowa football program."

"Brett was looking for an opportunity and he has been given every bit of that since joining the football program at the University of Iowa. From a parent's standpoint, the coaching staff has been great, we couldn't be happier. What attracted Brett was the coaching staff; and the arena you are able to play in, Kinnick Stadium and the Big Ten Conference. It's something Brett had always dreamed of, and he wanted to take his chance at Iowa other than something else."

Brett's always been very focused athletically, and what he thrives on is the intensity of the program and the high expectations for everyone involved. He feeds on that very well, so it is exactly the kind of program that he hoped it would be.

Brett is our youngest child. As parents, when he went to college, we didn't know how we would adjust, after spending the last 10 years attending sporting events. What makes it so easy is knowing he is having so much fun. Being that he loves what he is doing, it makes it easier as parents, and we are thrilled for him."

HONORARY CAPTAINS

The “family atmosphere” of the Iowa football program is a connection that student-athletes and staff members relate to, not only when they are a direct part of the Hawkeye program, but for years after their playing days or direct involvement as well.

That bond is solidified with the “Honorary Captain” program that was initiated in the 2000 season by Iowa Coach Kirk Ferentz. The program brings back a former Hawkeye each weekend to serve as an honorary captain when the Hawkeyes take the field for each home game during the season.

“We want our current players to better understand and appreciate the strong tradition of Iowa football that has been established. We want our players to feel the connection with former players who have played a role in the success of this program over the years. And, we want past Hawkeye players to always feel they are still an important part of our program and to feel welcome to be here to share their memories and experiences with our current student-athletes.”

The Honorary Captain program has been in place for eight seasons, and has included the return of former Coach Hayden Fry, former Coach Forest Evashevski, former Coach Jerry Burns, former assistant coach Bill Brashier, former assistant coach Carl Jackson, former player and assistant coach Bernie Wyatt and former athletic trainer Ed Crowley.

Also, former players, John Alt, Richard Bass, A.J. Blazek, Matt Bowen, Kerry Burt, Dallas Clark, Craig Clemons, Marv Cook, Anthony Dean, Randy Duncan, Quinn Early, Larry Ely, Pat Foster, Frank Gilliam, Norm Granger, Mike Haight, Merton Hanks, Bill Happel, Ronnie Harmon, Chuck Hartlieb, Jerry, Jim, Jay and Joel Hilgenberg, Ed Hinkel, Wilburn Hollis, Warren Holloway, Rob Houghtlin, Danan Hughes, Ray Jauch, Jim Jensen, Kevin Kasper, Aaron Kampman, Bruce Kittle, Jon Lazar, Joe Levelis, Andy Lightfoot, Silas McKinnie, John Niland, Kenny Ploen, Ed Podolak, Doug Reichardt, Mike Reilly, Reggie Roby, Tom Rusk, Fred Russell, Mark Sindlinger, Larry Station, Don Suchy, Mark Vlasic, Brad Webb, Casey Wiegmann and LeVar Woods.

The former players who have visited have included Hawkeyes who have gone on to productive careers in professional football and players who have become successful businessmen, community leaders and family role models.

The former coaches and athletes who return are invited to join the team on Friday, to attend practice and meetings and be a part of the entire weekend that is the Iowa football experience.

Fred Russell, who ranks fifth on Iowa's career rushing chart with 2,760 yards, served as Iowa's honorary captain as the Hawkeyes closed the 2008 home season with a win over Purdue. Russell earned first team all-Big Ten honors in 2002 and rushed for over 1,000 yards in both 2002 and 2003.

“We’ve had very positive feedback, from both the current athletes and the former players,” added Ferentz. “Being a part of the Iowa football program is something that stays with people long after they have finished their playing careers, and each of the honorary captains has offered some great insight to our guys. For our current players, the connection to the history of Iowa football is something we want them to carry with them in everything they do as a member of this program.”

RESPECT AMONG HIGH SCHOOL COACHES

IOWA FOOTBALL EARNS LOCAL AND NATIONAL RESPECT

As the Iowa football program has earned its reputation as one of the top football programs in the nation, it has earned respect from high school football coaches across the state and around the country. From athletes and parents, to high school coaches and administrators, members of the Hawkeye coaching staff are met with open arms while recruiting high school athletes from all over the United States. Following is a sampling of comments and thoughts provided by a selection of some of the most successful and highly-respected high school coaches.

"Coach Eric Johnson is the assistant I know the best on the Iowa staff, but Coach Ferentz, and I know Coach Reese Morgan, have been in our school as well. Each of the staff members at Iowa represents the school and the football program very well. From the top down, Iowa's program has been a very classy organization to deal with, at all times. A lot of visitors come through the building as part of the recruiting process. The Iowa staff members are always as realistic as anyone in the coaching profession can be. They don't overstate or over-promise things when visiting with the student-athletes. Iowa and its football program have a lot to offer. Coach Ferentz and his staff don't have to embellish, they just don't do that at all.

There are programs that have a tendency to promise the world, when they don't have the world to offer. We don't see that from the staff at Iowa. They present a realistic approach to playing and what they can do for the student-athletes; they are very realistic in what they project for the future.

I know that Rafael Eubanks and Broderick Binns have both had real good experiences during their careers at Iowa, having no regrets in terms of their decision to attend Iowa. We have a counselor here whose mother lives in Iowa City. When she took a fall and had to spend time in the hospital, I know Broderick and some of the players went to visit her in the hospital, gave her a poster and signed autographs. Stuff like that really sticks out, coming from kids that have a lot of demands on their time."

MIKE SCANLON

Head Football Coach | Cretin-Derham Hall HS | St. Paul, Minnesota

Junior DL Adrian Clayborn joined the Iowa program from Webster Groves HS.

"I've been coaching in the St. Louis area for 21 years, and the coaching staff at Iowa has always done a good job of building relationships with high school coaches. You feel comfortable with the coaching staff; they do a good job of establishing a great level of trust and dealing with high school coaches.

When recruiting our players, the Iowa coaches have always been honest and upfront. When Adrian Clayborn was being recruited, they talked with him about his future at Iowa, and the next level, as far as the expectations. And, if he came in and did that, he would have a chance to go to the next level.

Adrian has had great things to say about his time at Iowa. He likes what they are doing as a program, the level of excellence and the way he is treated. He likes the leadership role he is in and talks about being comfortable in the community and enjoying his experiences there."

A TRIBUTE TO COACH ED THOMAS

Members of the University of Iowa football program would like to offer their gratitude to Coach Ed Thomas, who served as an educator, administrator and coach at Aplington-Parkersburg High School from 1975-2008. Coach Thomas will be remembered for his dedication to his family, community and the students he taught and coached throughout his career.

"Coach Thomas was a highly respected educator, coach, and mentor, and a strong leader in the community, as well as the coaching community throughout Iowa. Ed loved his family and his work, and was an outstanding, selfless person who impacted countless lives in a very positive way."

KIRK FERENTZ | Head Football Coach
University of Iowa

"It's hard to talk about what Coach Thomas meant to me. Coach always stressed, good things happen to good people. You're not just learning football stuff from the man, you're learning about life. My values, the way I run my life and treat my family and take care of people, came from him."

CASEY WIEGMANN | Aplington-Parkersburg HS, 1991
University of Iowa, 1993-95

"Along with my parents, Coach Thomas is the most influential person in my life. As a person and as a football player, the things he taught meant the world to me. Now it's up to everyone to follow the path he set. As they said at the funeral, 'Coach would want us to be sad today, but it's time for us to get going tomorrow.' It's only a tragedy if we don't fulfill the things he has taught us. Coach was such a special person, not for just four NFL players, he treated everyone the same. He was a father figure to every player he came across."

JARED DEVRIES | Aplington-Parkersburg HS, 1994
University of Iowa, 1995-98

"Coach Thomas was very special to me and many other young men from the Aplington-Parkersburg communities. His legacy for many will be associated with his tremendous success as a football coach. However, I believe his greatest legacy comes not in how many football games he won or lost, but in the fact that he was a committed follower of Jesus Christ. He lived his life exemplifying through that faith."

AARON KAMPMAN | Aplington-Parkersburg HS, 1998
University of Iowa, 1998-2001

"In my opinion, Coach Ferentz is top shelf. He is a man that is down to earth. He's a guy who talks to a student-athlete in a way that needs to be addressed, about their education and the expectations in all areas. I like a guy that starts off a conversation in that way."

Coach Ferentz has a positive demeanor. Iowa currently has two great recruits from our program. They've stayed faithful to Dace Richardson and Tony Moeaki throughout their injuries. Dace has been out due to a major knee injury and hopes to be back this fall. I know they are working hard with Tony, to get him healed up from his nagging injuries. Throughout the injury process for both, Iowa has stayed committed to taking care of people and the investment they have with them."

Both Dace and Tony had a fantastic start, making an impact and great contributions in their first year. I'm not sure most high school kids are ready for that. Those two seemed to be treated well with their thought process as to how they were being used and being treated."

Iowa has proven that its commitment to the total package, to the recruiting, the education, the development, is important. The vision they have for education, in terms of expectations, is always a great thing in football."

We've been on campus, each spring for the last three years, for two full days with members of their staff, to get assistance with their schemes and what they do offensively and defensively. Kirk and members of the coaching staff have been very accommodating; we always enjoy our time in Iowa City."
