IOWA BASKETBALL

THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA: ONE OF THE NATION'S VERY BEST

All eyes are on the Hawkeyes when Iowa is in action in Carver-Hawkeye Arena. Iowa is 31-2 in Carver-Hawkeye Arena over the past two seasons, including a 17-0 mark in 2006. The Hawkeyes annually rank among the national leaders in home attendance.

THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA: ONE OF THE NATION'S VERY BEST

Iowa City, Iowa. It is the home for one of the nation's leading public universities, the University of Iowa.

It's also the home of one of the nation's most successful college basketball programs, the Iowa Hawkeyes.

Friends and fans of the University of Iowa basketball program support and associate with Hawkeye basketball because Iowa can boast of some of the most exciting, most successful, and most recognized teams in college basketball.

HERE IS A SAMPLING OF IOWA'S MOST RECENT SUCCESS:

Iowa basketball has posted seven straight winning seasons, including 25 victories in 2006, second most in school history. Along with winning the Big Ten Conference Tournament, Iowa placed second during the regular season, just one game from first place. The Hawkeyes tied for fourth place in the Big Ten standings a year ago.

The Hawkeyes won all 17 home games in 2006, posting the first-ever perfect record in Carver-Hawkeye Arena. Including the 14-2 home record a year ago, Iowa has posted a 31-2 record in Carver-Hawkeye Arena over the past two seasons, including a 15-1 Big Ten record.

Iowa has won 63 games over the past three seasons, advancing to the NCAA Tournament in both 2005 and 2006.

Iowa has appeared in the NCAA Tournament 19 times over the past 29 years. The Hawkeyes have made three appearances in the NCAA Final Four and have advanced to the Sweet 16 three times since 1987.

The six winningest seasons in Iowa basketball history, 30 wins in 1987, 25 wins in 2006, 24 wins in 1988 and 23 wins in 1989, 1993, 1996 and 2001, are an indication of the past successes of Iowa basketball. With 20 or more wins in eight of the past 12 seasons, Hawkeye fans are confident of bigger and better things to come.

Leading the Hawkeye program is Coach Todd Lickliter, who was named the national Coach of the Year by the National Association of Basketball Coaches last season. Now in his first year at Iowa, Lickliter last season led Butler to a 29-7 overall record, including an appearance in the NCAA Tournament Sweet 16.

IOWA BASKETBALL: GREAT SUCCESS AND GREAT TRADITION

During the 2001-02 season, the University of Iowa celebrated 100 Years of Basketball. Iowa's basketball history includes 73 winning seasons, including 23 years in which the Hawkeyes have won 20 or more games.

Iowa basketball teams have advanced to the NCAA Tournament 22 times, advancing to the NCAA Final Four in 1955, 1956 and 1980. In fact, Iowa is one of just 31 Division I programs to advance to the NCAA Tournament on more than 20 occasions. In addition, Iowa has made five appearances in the NIT post-season tournament.

The start of the Iowa basketball program can be traced back to January 18, 1896. On that date, Iowa City was the site of the first college basketball game played with five players on a side. The historic event took place in Close Hall on the University of Iowa campus. In that first game, the University of Chicago defeated Iowa 15-12, with neither team using any substitutes.

From that first game in 1896, the Iowa basketball program has been recognized as one of the best in the nation. In 2005, Street & Smith's magazine selected its "100 Greatest College Basketball Programs of All Time". In its special publication, the magazine recognized the Iowa program as No. 40 among over 300 Division I programs.

SALLY MASON

PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

"Welcome to a new season of Iowa basketball! I am thrilled to experience my first year as a Hawkeye and to enjoy all our great athletic traditions. I am an experienced Big Ten athletics fan, and I can't wait to cheer the Iowa black and gold on to victory.

We at Iowa are proud of our student-athletes, both on and off the field. Their dedication and hard work in the classroom and on the court exemplify the UI spirit. Last season, Adam Haluska was Academic All-American of the Year. Adam exemplifies the dedication and excellence of our entire team.

We are very excited to welcome Todd Lickliter to The University of Iowa this year. I know we will see great things from Todd, the 2007 National Coach of the Year. I also thank the entire coaching and athletic staff for their excellent work with our players. The coaches' leadership and teaching, combined with the dedication and talent of our team members, have led the Hawkeyes to some impressive signs of success. In 2006, we were 17-0 at home, and our home court record last season was 14-2. Over the past two years, the Hawkeyes have boasted an impressive 31-2 record in Carver Hawkeye Arena.

I can't wait to experience the legendary spirit of Hawkeye basketball in Carver Hawkeye. I know we have great fans—we're in the top 30 in national attendance. My husband Ken and I are looking forward to adding to those numbers by a couple this season.

I am proud to be a Hawkeye, and, once again, I am pleased to welcome you to another year of great Iowa basketball action!"

SALLY MASON
President
The University of Iowa

Sally Mason became the 20th President of The University of Iowa on August 1, 2007. She holds a full professorship with tenure in the Department of Biological Sciences of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

President Mason served as Provost of Purdue University from 2001-2007, where she was responsible for planning, managing, and reviewing all academic programs at Purdue's West Lafayette and four affiliated branch campuses throughout Indiana. Her accomplishments as Provost included increasing diversity, recruiting top faculty, doubling the research program, advancing public engagement, and improving the learning environment for students. During President Mason's tenure as Provost, Purdue hired over 800 new faculty, 300 of which were new positions; 56% of those hires were women and/or minorities. She also formed a diversity leadership group while at Purdue. President Mason was instrumental in the development of Purdue's Discovery Park, an interdisciplinary research incubator focused on such topics as nanotechnology, entrepreneurship, and biosciences.

The daughter of an immigrant family and the first child to attend college, President Mason received her B.S. in zoology from The University of Kentucky in 1972, her M.S. from Purdue University in 1974, and her Ph.D. in cellular, molecular, and developmental biology from The University of Arizona in 1978. She subsequently spent two years at Indiana University in Bloomington doing postdoctoral research before joining The University of Kansas in 1981. A strong advocate of undergraduate education, she received awards for outstanding undergraduate advising and teaching, and she was awarded a prestigious Kemper Teaching Fellowship. During her 21 years at Kansas, President Mason served as a full professor in the Department of Molecular Biosciences, Acting Chair of the Department of Physiology and Cell Biology, and Associate Dean in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. In 1995, she was appointed Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, the largest academic unit on the University of Kansas campus.

President Mason is the author of many scientific papers and has obtained a number of research grants from the National Science Foundation, the National Institutes of Health, the Wesley Research Foundation, and the Lilly Endowment. Her research interests have focused on the developmental biology, genetics, and biochemistry of pigment cells and pigments in the skin of vertebrates. She has served as President of both the PanAmerican Society for Pigment Cell Research and the Council of Colleges of Arts and Sciences, and has served as Chair of the Advisory Committee to the National Science Foundation Directorate for Education and Human Resources (EHR) and the Executive Committee of the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges (NASULGC) Chief Academic Officers Group. She also served on the Executive Committee of the Committee on Institutional Cooperation (CIC) from 2003-2007 and was appointed to the National Medal of Science Selection Committee from 2006-2008.

President Mason is married to Ken Mason, an educator and textbook author who teaches biological sciences at The University of Iowa.

GARY BARTA

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Gary Barta is in his second year as the Athletic Director at The University of Iowa. He became the University's 11th Director of Intercollegiate Athletics on August 1, 2006. He succeeded Robert Bowlsby, who left after 15 years at Iowa to take over the program at Stanford.

A native Midwesterner, Barta signed a five-year contract to lead one of the most successful athletic programs in the nation. His wife Connie is a native of Waterloo, Iowa. The two met while Barta was an assistant athletic director at Northern Iowa.

Barta has already put his stamp on Hawkeye Athletics during his first year in Iowa City. He oversaw the final stages of the $89 million renovation at Kinnick Stadium and the new Paul W. Brechler Press Box. He officially opened Iowa's new Hawkeye Tennis and Recreation Center. In the spring of 2007 he hired new head men's Basketball Coach Todd Lickliter from Butler University. Lickliter's hiring came on the heels of his team's Sweet 16 appearance and his being named the NABC Division I national Coach of the Year. Basketball experts from around the country are touting this as an outstanding hire.

Several other initiatives were set in motion during Barta's first year. An Athletic Department Strategic Plan has been launched, mapping out the vision and goals for the future. Plans are underway to build a new $6.1 million boathouse for the rowing program. Construction begins this fall on a new Campus Wellness and Recreation Center, which includes a first-class aquatic center. It will serve as the new home for the Hawkeye men and women's swimming teams. Carver-Hawkeye Arena is in the early planning stage of a $30-$40 million renovation that will add a practice facility, improve the fan experience, and renovate and add office space. In addition to facilities, the Strategic Plan lays out goals for academic achievement, championship success, fiscal growth, and overall student-athlete, coach, and staff performance.

Barta has over 20 years of university and athletic administration experience. Before taking over at Iowa he had been the Wyoming Athletic Director since October of 2003. From November 1996 to October 2003, he was Senior Associate Athletic Director for External Relations and Sports Programs at the University of Washington in Seattle. From 1990 to 1996, he was associated with the University of Northern Iowa in Cedar Falls, where he was the Director of Athletic Development and External Relations. He also served as Associate Director of Development at North Dakota State University in Fargo, from 1988-90, where he was involved in fund-raising for athletics, the colleges of business and engineering, and the University's annual fund.

Wyoming received the NCAA Division IA Program of Excellence Award in 2006 during Barta's tenure there, which honors athletic programs that are superior athletically, academically, and in student-athlete life skills preparation.

The Barta led program at Wyoming was credited with a number of significant accomplishments. The Cowboys played in the 2004 Las Vegas Bowl and posted a victory over UCLA.

The women's basketball team won 21 games during the 2005-06 season, a top 20 placing by the women's track team at the NCAA meet in 2005, and a top 25 finish in men's NCAA swimming in 2004. During his three-year tenure, seven Wyoming coaches earned Mountain West Conference Coach of the Year awards.

Barta has been a successful fund-raiser throughout his career, having helped secure more than $150 million in private contributions and corporate sponsorships over the past 10 years. In less than two years, he helped Wyoming raise more than $22 million, including $11 million in private contributions and $11 million in matching state funds. He was directly involved in major fund raising programs at Washington, including a $100 million plan for facility renovations.

Prior to taking over at Wyoming, he served as Washington's Senior Associate Athletic Director for External Relations and Sports Programs. He was responsible for generating revenue to fund Washington's $40 million annual intercollegiate athletics budget. While at Washington, Barta was directly involved in a variety of duties including: hiring of coaches and administrative staff, coordinating the schedule for men's basketball, initiating and managing sponsor relationships, and negotiating radio network contracts.

Upon his arrival at Washington, he directed its "Campaign for the Student-Athlete" which was highly successful. Barta was a central participant in the design and construction of many facilities at the Seattle campus, including the $44 million renovation of the Bank of America Arena and a $30 million renovation of the Dempsey Indoor Practice Facility. During his tenure, annual private support increased from $6.9 million per year to $15.8 million.

Barta earned his Bachelor of Science degree in Mass Communication and Broadcast Journalism from North Dakota State University in 1987. He was an option quarterback for Bison football squads that won the Division II NCAA national championship in 1983, 1985 and 1986. He returned to NDSU to begin his career in 1988 as an Associate Director of Development and later became the Director of Development.

Barta, and his wife, Connie, have a son, Luke (9) and a daughter, Madison (7). He was born September 4, 1963, in Minneapolis, MN.

While at his alma mater, Barta assisted in the completion of a $15 million capital campaign, and served on a task force that helped raise funds for the 20,000-seat Fargo Dome on campus. He remained there through 1990. During that same time he was a sportscaster for WDAY radio/television in Fargo, ND.

He served as Director of Athletic Development and External Relations at the University of Northern Iowa (1990-96). There he managed all fund raising, marketing and promotions and media relations activities for the school's 17-sport program.

Barta, and his wife, Connie, have a

TODD LICKLITER

IOWA BASKETBALL HEAD COACH

TODD LICKLITER
HEAD BASKETBALL COACH

Todd Lickliter is in his first season as The University of Iowa's head men's basketball coach after being named to the position on April 3, 2007. Lickliter, Iowa's 21st men's basketball coach, spent the last six seasons as the head coach at Butler University.

Lickliter posted a 131-61 (.682) record as Butler's head coach. He led Butler to four post-season tournament berths, including trips to the NCAA Sweet 16 in 2003 and 2007.

Lickliter was named the 2006-07 Division I Coach of the Year by the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC) and was recognized as the High-Major Coach of the Year by collegehoops.net. He was also named 2007 Horizon League Coach of the Year for the second consecutive year after guiding the Bulldogs to a school and league-record 29 victories.

He led Butler to the regular season championship in the Horizon League in 2007. The Bulldogs advanced to the Sweet 16 in the NCAA Tournament before falling to eventual national champion Florida (65-57).

In posting a 29-7 record in 2006-07 Butler led the nation in fewest turnovers per game (9.5), ranked fifth in scoring defense (57.1), seventh in free throw percentage (76%), 13th in won-loss percentage (.806), 17th in scoring margin (10.5) and 20th in three-point field goals per game (8.9).

Butler was ranked in the national top 25 for 16 consecutive weeks during the 2006-07 season and became the first team in the history of the Horizon League to be ranked in the top ten. The Bulldogs won three games over top 25 opponents (Tennessee, Gonzaga, Maryland) and recorded eight victories over teams that participated in the NCAA Tournament.

Butler averaged 22 wins over the last six years, winning league titles in 2002, 2003 and 2007. The Bulldogs won four in-season tournaments under Lickliter, including the 2006 NIT Season Tip-Off and the 2006 Wooden Classic.

Along with winning at least 20 games in four of the last six seasons, Lickliter's student-athletes have also excelled in the classroom. Butler's most recent graduation rate of 82% for men's basketball ranked best among all Sweet 16 teams in the NCAA Tournament and guard A.J. Graves joined Iowa's Adam Haluska on the academic all-America first team.

Butler also held the top graduation rate among NCAA Sweet 16 teams when the Bulldogs advanced past Mis-issippi State and Louisville in the 2003 NCAA Tournament.

Lickliter's squad opened the 2006-07 season with a 40-point win at Tulane and captured the Midwest Region title of the NIT Season Tip-Off with back-to-back victories over Notre Dame and Indiana. The Bulldogs continued their roll in New York, defeating 22nd-ranked Tennessee and 23rd-ranked Gonzaga to capture the pre-season NIT.

The Bulldogs began the year with 10 straight victories, including a triumph over Purdue in the Wooden Tradition. The 10 wins matched the second-fastest start in school history and the fifth-longest winning streak in school annals. Butler cracked the "Top 25" on November 27 and was nationally-ranked for a school and league record 16 consecutive weeks. Lickliter's club became the first team in Horizon League history to break into the nation's "Top 10" on Feb. 5.

At mid-season Lickliter was named the Jim Phelan National Coach of the Year, presented by Collegeinsider.com. He also earned the mid-season Hugh Durham Award, which at mid-season recognizes the top coach at the mid-major level.

The 2006-07 Bulldogs became the first team in league history to record 20 wins before February and the first Horizon League team to win 26 regular season games. Butler had three wins over teams that were ranked in the "Top 25" and eight victories over squads that advanced to the NCAA Tournament.

Lickliter became the first coach in Horizon League history to be honored by the NABC as Coach of the Year. He owns the top three single season win totals in Butler history, including 29 wins in 2007, 26 in 2002 and 27 in 2003. The Bulldogs also won 20 games in 2004.

Lickliter ranks fourth on Butler's all-time list for basketball coaching victories. He ranks second among Butler head coaches with at least three seasons in winning percentage (.682) and second in number of 20-win seasons (four). He became the first Butler coach to reach 50 career wins in just two seasons and the first to achieve 100 victories in five seasons. And, he's one of just four coaches in the history of the Horizon League to guide a team to the NCAA "Sweet 16".

Lickliter led the Bulldogs to an unbeaten home record (12-0) in 2002-03, and mentored Butler to a 70-12 (.854) home mark in his six seasons. Lickliter also directed Butler to 61 victories away from Hinkle Fieldhouse. His Bulldog teams were 6-5 against teams ranked in the "Top 25" and compiled four of the top 10 winning streaks in Butler history.

Along with the victories on the basketball court, Lickliter's teams have achieved off the court as well. A year ago, Butler's 82% graduation rate ranked best among the teams reaching the NCAA "Sweet 16". The Bulldogs edged Vanderbilt University for the top honor among those teams in the survey conducted by USA Today.

In 2005-06, Butler's men's basketball program earned the Horizon League Outreach Award, compiling the highest number of community service hours among all teams at Butler University. In his six seasons as the head coach at Butler, 19 of 20 seniors earned their degree.

In his first season as Butler's head coach, Lickliter guided the Bulldogs to a then school-record 26 victories and a third consecutive Horizon League regular season title. He led Butler to regular season tournament championships at the Top of the World Classic in Alaska and Indiana's Hoosier Classic. The win at the Top of the World Classic marked Butler's first regular season tournament title in 41 years. The victory at the Hoosier Classic ended Indiana's streak of 19 consecutive titles in the 20-year history of the event.

TODD LICKLITER

IOWA BASKETBALL HEAD COACH

Lickliter was the first basketball coach in Butler history to win his first 13 games, and he became the first coach to lead Butler to more than 20 regular season wins. He set school and conference records for most wins by a first-year coach, and he led the Bulldogs to the third-highest single season win total in league history. He had Butler ranked in the "Top 25" for the first time in 53 years, and he guided the Bulldogs to their first-ever unbeaten non-conference record.

Lickliter guided the 2003 Bulldogs to an even more impressive season in his second year as head coach. He led Butler to a 27-6 record, breaking the single-season mark for victories for a second consecutive year. His squad earned a second straight Horizon League regular season title and returned to post-season play for the second consecutive year. Butler earned its first "at-large" bid to the NCAA Tournament since 1962, and the Bulldogs went on to reach the "Sweet 16" with upset victories over fifth-seeded Mississippi State and fourth-seeded Louisville. The Bulldogs became the first team from the Horizon League to win two games in the NCAA Tournament in more than a decade.

Lickliter was named Butler's basketball coach in May, 2001, following a strong lobbying effort by Butler players (Horizon League "Player of the Year" Rylan Hainje called Lickliter "... a great coach." Mike Monserez said, "Coach Lickliter treats us with respect; he treats us like men." Guard Brandon Miller added that Lickliter "... is one of the smartest coaches I've ever been around.").

He replaced his former boss, Thad Matta, who left the Bulldogs after one season to become head coach at Xavier. Lickliter, who became Butler's third head coach in three seasons, had served as an assistant coach under the Bulldogs' previous two head coaches, Barry Collier and Matta. He was also an assistant coach (1988-89) for one season at Butler under Head Coach Joe Sexson. He became the third consecutive former Butler player to guide the Bulldogs.

A 1979 Butler graduate, Lickliter played a prominent role in refining Butler's basketball system ("The Butler Way") while serving as an assistant coach under Collier and Matta. During his three seasons on the staff of the two former head coaches, Lickliter helped the Bulldogs post three 20-win seasons, three conference regular season titles, three league tournament crowns and three trips to the NCAA Tournament. In his final two seasons as a Butler assistant coach, the Bulldogs compiled a 47-18 record, including "Top 25" wins over 10th-ranked Wisconsin and 23rd-ranked Wake Forest. The win over the Demon Deacons in the 2001 NCAA Tournament was Butler's first NCAA Tournament victory in 39 years.

Lickliter began his collegiate coaching career at Butler in 1988-89 under his former college coach, Joe Sexson. He left Butler after one year to accept a head coaching job at Danville, IN High School, where he remained for three seasons. He returned to the collegiate ranks in 1996 as an administrative assistant on Collier's Butler staff. Lickliter accepted an assistant coaching position at Eastern Michigan in 1997 and remained on the Eagles' staff for two seasons before returning to Butler in 1999. In six Division I seasons, he contributed to teams that won three conference regular season championships, four conference tournament titles, made four NCAA Tournament appearances, and compiled a 106-73 record.

In addition to his collegiate coaching experience, Lickliter had high school head coaching stints at Park Tudor High School in Indianapolis (1979-87) and Danville High School (1987-88, 1989-92). He also coached a partial season in Saudi Arabia with the Ah Ahli Sports Club-Jeddah.

Lickliter has had a presence in Indiana basketball dating back to his days as a three-year starting guard at North Central High School in Indianapolis, where he played for his father, Arlan. He began his college career at North Carolina-Wilmington before transferring to Central Florida Community College. He played one season at Central Florida, earning his associate degree in 1977, and then transferred to Butler, where he played his final two collegiate seasons, 1977-79. He earned a B.S degree in secondary education from Butler in 1979.

Lickliter was born April 17, 1955. He and his wife, Joz, have three sons, Ry, Garrett and John, and a daughter - in - law, Molly.

Butler University's 82% graduation rate ranked best among the teams reaching the 2007 NCAA "Sweet 16". The Bulldogs edged Vanderbilt University for the top honor among those 16 teams in the survey conducted by USA Today. Butler earned the same honor in 2003.

WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING ABOUT IOWA COACH TODD LICKLITER

"Todd is a proven winner. Just as importantly, he's committed to the values and approach shared by Iowans. I'm confident we will compete for championships, develop leaders, and always do things the right way under his leadership. We are so fortunate he and his wife Joez chose to become part of the Hawkeye family."

GARY BARTA | Director of Athletics
The University of Iowa

"Iowa is getting a great coach and, more importantly, a great man and a great person. He's a man of great character. When I was making my official visit, I immediately got a sense of family with his program. He's a competitor. He's going to go hard and do what he can to win. He wants a winning program wherever he is."

BRIAN LIGON | Senior Captain
Butler University, 2006-07

"It's a great hire. Todd Lickliter is one of the best coaches in the country and he's a great guy."

TOD KOWALCZYK | Head Basketball Coach
Wisconsin-Green Bay

"The hire is a home run, it makes perfect sense. Todd brings a winning attitude and he brings ability. Best of all, he's coming from a place at Butler, that has a winning culture. He will establish a winning culture at Iowa, in their recruiting, in relating to alumni, and his ability to coach. It's a slam dunk for the Hawkeyes."

SETH DAVIS | CBS Sports
Sports Illustrated College Basketball Expert

"Todd is a high quality, class individual, and a terrific coach. I just have great, great respect for him. He does a lot of good things in managing his kids, developing his players and how he coaches the game."

"I'm a big, big fan of Todd's. For what he represents between the lines, but even more importantly how he goes about trying to develop those young men as student athletes under his leadership."

CLARK KELLOGG | CBS Sports

"He's done such a great job for so long, and it's not a fluke either. He had kids who believe in the system. They are unselfish and play together. They do all the things that terrific coaches get their people to do."

"Everybody has been impressed with what he has been able to do. I think Iowa is very fortunate. Iowa fans will enjoy him, and his style. I think he will be able to attract kids who fit the way he wants to play. I think the future is bright."

BILL RAFFTERY
Television and Radio Basketball Analyst

"Todd's one of those guys, he's a coaches coach. He takes a team and he gets them to play above their level. When you look at what he did this year; in the Horizon League, they were picked to be down, and yet they come out and knock off teams from the Big Ten, the Big East, the ACC; they ran through the pre-season NIT, it was due to his coaching, and he's been that way for years there."

"When you talk to people and they ask about the best coaches, Todd Lickliter is going to be on the list. Maybe the general public doesn't know him, but everyone inside basketball definitely does."

JIM O'CONNELL
College Basketball Writer | Associated Press

"I did the second round game when Butler had the win over Maryland. I thought his team was well coached, very well organized. The substitution pattern was terrific, he knew exactly when to take a guy out and when to bring a guy in. Throughout his career, that has been his trademark, very well coached and well prepared teams. No program can ask for more than that."

KEVIN HARLAN | CBS Sports

"It's a great hire for The University of Iowa. Coach Lickliter has been very successful at the mid-major level, especially in the Midwest. He's obviously proven himself in the NCAA Tournament. I don't see why Iowa can't continue its great tradition of being a Big Ten contender under Todd Lickliter. The Butler track record certainly speaks for itself."

ANDY KATZ | ESPN College Basketball Analyst

"First and foremost, I think, everyone who has followed what Butler has done in the past; in his six years at Butler, he has taken two separate groups of players at Butler to the 'Sweet 16'. As good a coach as he is, I think he's a better person. He's a great family man."

"He's great to his players; players love to play for him. He treats people in general the right way. He's a very humble person, yet at the same time, ultra-competitive, which, I think, translates to his teams. He gets his players to buy into team basketball, to play together. With all that said, that combination has been a great success for the teams that he has coached."

BRANDON MILLER | Assistant Coach, Butler University
Former Butler Player under Todd Lickliter

"Number one, I'm excited for Todd. I think Iowa is getting a great person and a great basketball coach. I played for Todd; I coached with Todd; and Todd coached for me. The job Todd did at Butler University, for the time he was there, was incredible. I think that adding him into the league, we are adding a quality person and a quality coach."

THAD MATTA | Head Basketball Coach
Ohio State University

"He came in and was low key. He didn't make promises, he came with just facts. As a high school coach, I'm sitting there just trying to learn from him. I've never been more impressed with a coach the first time I met him."

MIKE JONES | Head Basketball Coach
DeMatha Catholic HS | Hyattsville, Maryland

JOEL CORNETTE

IOWA BASKETBALL ASSISTANT COACH

JOEL CORNETTE ASSISTANT BASKETBALL COACH

Joel Cornette, a former player at Butler University under Coach Todd Lickliter, joined the Iowa basketball program as an assistant coach in April, 2007.

Cornette joined the Iowa staff after serving as the coordinator of basketball operations at Butler during the 2006-07 season, where he helped the Bulldogs post a 29-7 overall record. Butler shared the 2007 Horizon League regular season title and advanced to the Sweet 16 in the NCAA Tournament before a loss to eventual national champion Florida.

The Bulldogs set a school record for wins a year ago after opening the season with 10 straight victories. Butler won the NIT Season Tip-Off Tournament with wins over Notre Dame, Indiana, Tennessee and Gonzaga.

Butler led the nation in fewest turnovers per game (9.5), ranked fifth in scoring defense (57.1), seventh in free throw percentage (76%), 13th in won-loss percentage (.806), 17th in scoring margin (10.5) and 20th in three-point field goals per game (8.9).

At Butler, Cornette handled administrative and operational duties, including team travel arrangements, and duties related to Butler's summer basketball camp program. He also worked closely with the Blue Team, Butler's men's basketball booster organization.

He played in every game of his Butler career, setting an all-time school record of 128 games played. He was in Butler's starting lineup in his final 97 games as a college player.

Cornette is one of just 30 Butler players to score 1,000 career points. He led Butler in rebounding for three straight years and topped the Bulldogs in blocked shots for four consecutive seasons. He finished his career in ninth place on Butler's all-time rebounding list.

Cornette was named to the Horizon League all-Defensive team for three straight years and he earned all-league honors once. He was picked to the league all-Tournament team in both 2001 and 2003 and was named to the NCAA East Region all-Tournament team in 2003. CHAD WALTHALL

CHAD WALTHALL ASSISTANT COACH

Chad Walthall, head basketball coach at Loras College from 2000-07, joined the Iowa basketball program as an assistant coach in April, 2007.

Walthall was the 2006-07 Iowa Conference Coach of the Year. He posted a 116-69 record in seven seasons at Loras, becoming the third winningest basketball coach in school history. Walthall also served as Director of Athletics from 2004-07.

In his final season at Loras, Walthall led the Duhawks to their first Iowa Conference title since 1950-51, their sixth overall, with a 15-1 conference record. Along with achieving regular season success, Walthall led Loras to its first IIAC tournament title and first NCAA Tournament berth in school history. He also coached the IIAC Player of the Year (Kyle White) as well as two other all-conference honorees. Loras returns all five starters for the 2007-08 season.

The 15 conference wins were Loras' most since re-joining the IIAC in 1986, and the 21 wins rank as the schools most since joining Division III that same year. The Duhawks held opponents under their season scoring average in all 16 conference games. In league games, Loras led the IIAC in scoring defense (61.1), scoring margin (+9.2), field goal percentage defense (40.6%) and rebounding margin (+5.4). In the three years preceding Walthall's arrival, Loras had won a total of 35% of its conference games and 40% overall, placing 10th in the Iowa Conference in 1999-00.

In Walthall's first season of rebuilding the program (2000-01), Loras dramatically improved to a fourth place finish. Since that time Walthall progressively built Loras into a perennial league contender and one of the top NCAA Division III West Region teams. Loras had not hosted a game in the Iowa Conference post-season tournament prior to 2001 and had not won a game in the event prior to 2002.

Walthall led Loras to winning seasons in the tough Iowa Conference in each of his seven seasons. In his last three seasons, Loras won 77% of its Iowa Conference games and 70% of all games, including 11-game winning streaks in 2005-06 and 2006-07.

Loras posted a 22-3 home record over the past two seasons and won the Iowa Conference regular season and tournament titles on its home floor in 2006-07. In addition to leading the Duhawks to success on the court, Walthall focused on helping his players make a difference off the court. Walthall implemented several community outreach programs in the Dubuque area during his tenure.

Walthall took over the Loras program after serving as an assistant coach at Eastern Michigan University (1998-00). He was a graduate assistant coach at Saint Cloud State University for two years (1991-93). During that time he also served as the head coach of a summer all-star team that toured in Germany.

He served as the head coach at Redwood Valley High School in Redwood Falls, MN for one season (1993-94) and was an assistant coach at Saint Olaf College four years (1994-98).

Walthall attended Concordia College in Moorhead, MN, earning a bachelor's degree in physical education in 1991. While at Saint Cloud State he earned his master's degree in athletics administration (1993).

As a collegian, Walthall led Concordia College to the Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (MIAC) football championship in 1990 as the starting quarterback, as well as earning all-conference honors in that sport as a junior and senior. He was a student assistant coach for the men's basketball team at Concordia for two years.

As a high school athlete, Walthall was team captain and a three-sport all-conference selection in football, basketball, and baseball. He was selected to play in the Minnesota All-Star basketball game as a senior.

Walthall was born Sept. 13, 1968 and is a native of Staples, MN. He and his wife, Jenni, have four children, a daughter Brooke (seven), twin sons Brady and Blake (five), and son Beau (one).
