

Together We Care. Together We Cure.

EDUCATION, COMMUNITY AND RESEARCH
FOR BLOOD CANCER PATIENTS

YOU ARE NOT ALONE

Each year, more than 192,000 Americans are diagnosed with blood cancers like leukemia, myeloma, lymphoma and MPNs. You're one of over two million people living with these diseases.

For many, the diagnosis marks the beginning of a confusing, frightening and deeply isolating journey filled with an overwhelming flood of new terminology, complex treatment options, financial pressures and life-altering decisions—often with little or no guidance.

WE ARE HERE TO HELP

INFORMATION IS EMPOWERING

HealthTree's educational resources are tailored to meet you wherever you are in your journey. We provide expertly guided webinars, online video courses, live events and personalized support tools to demystify complex medical information.

We believe when you understand your options you can become an advocate for yourself, make more confident treatment decisions and work more effectively with your care team.

COMMUNITY BRINGS COMFORT

HealthTree creates space for connection and mutual support at a time when you need it most.

Our vibrant community includes:

- Condition-specific discussion groups
- One-on-one peer coaching
- Volunteer groups
- Interactive programs allowing patients and caregivers to learn from—and lean on—one another

These relationships offer something that neither technology or treatment can replicate: the comfort of shared experience and the strength of solidarity.

TAKE CONTROL

HealthTree empowers you to retake control of your life and to navigate your care with clarity and confidence. With HealthTree, you can provide your doctors with your complete medical picture and access personalized resources that can improve your quality of life today—and even help save lives tomorrow, including your own.

Through an easy-to-use, personalized portal, you can:

Track your lab results

Discover solutions for managing side effects

Find treatment options tailored to your profile

Get matched with your cancer "Twins"

Explore clinical trial opportunities

Stay organized and informed through a personalized treatment dashboard

ADVANCING CURES TOGETHER

Cancer can alter your life, but it does not define you. With HealthTree, you can transcend your diagnosis, becoming a champion for a cure by helping accelerate breakthrough discoveries.

Today your health data is sitting idle in your hospital's online chart, not helping you, your doctor or the research community find a cure. Put your data to work in HealthTree by connecting your health records and participating in surveys, academic studies and treatment trials. At HealthTree, your data remains anonymized, secure and entirely under your control. Approved researchers can securely access this data from thousands of patients, turning your lived experience into insights that drive faster, more effective cures.

Your input will transform the daily lives of people living with blood cancer and accelerate the search for tomorrow's cures.

Join HealthTree - where patients, families and researchers unite to change not just the pace, but the future of blood cancer research. Together we're creating more time, more quality of life and more hope for the future.
