

HELIX TRIO

In 2024, the Helix Trio was named the 2025 Emerging Ensemble by Festclasica, securing their participation in some of Spain's most prestigious festivals throughout 2025. Furthermore, they were awarded Second Prize at the "Premi BBVA de Música de Cambra Montserrat Alavedra 2024," held in Catalonia, as well as the Filippo Nicosia Prize in Italy, a recognition that includes the opportunity to perform in several concerts in the country. This achievement adds to other important awards such as the ORPHEUS Swiss Chamber Music Competition 2022 in Switzerland and the "La Flama" Competition 2023 in Barcelona, consolidating the trio as one of the most promising ensembles of its generation.

Formed in 2022 at the Hochschule für Musik FHNW Basel, the Helix Trio is composed of Jaume Angelès Fité (violin), Iago Domínguez Eiras (cello), and Paula Belzunegui Moreno (piano). They are currently under the tutelage of renowned professors such as Anton Kernjak, Claudio Martínez-Mehner, Zoltán Fejérváry, Silvia Simionescu, and Anna Gebert, as part of the Ergänzungsstudium program. Additionally, their artistic development continues under the direction of Patrick Jüdt and Johannes Meissl.

Since 2023, the Helix Trio has been a member of the ECMA (European Chamber Music Academy) and is part of the Le Dimore del Quartetto network, allowing them to interact in a high-level international environment.

The trio has been invited to festivals such as the Piano Trio Fest (Bern), the Swiss Chamber Music Festival (Adelboden), and the Musikdorf Ernen Festival. In 2023, they made their debut at the prestigious Palau de la Música Catalana and at L'Auditori de Barcelona in 2024. In Spain, they have performed at festivals such as Música en Segura, Festival ClasClás, Festival ASISA de Villaviciosa de Odón, MUSEG, San Sebastián Musical Fortnight (Quincena Musical de San Sebastián), Quincena Andante, Musikaldia de Zarautz, Pollença Festival (Festival de Pollença), Música a les Masos, Santander International Festival (Festival Internacional de Santander), Soria Autumn Musical (Otoño Musical Soriano), Cádiz Spanish Music Festival (Festival de Música Española de Cádiz), and in venues such as the Teatre de Sabadell, the Teatre de Tarragona, and FRINGE Torroella de Montgrí, among others.

Throughout their career, the Helix Trio has worked with distinguished figures in chamber music, participating in masterclasses with musicians such as Steven Isserlis, Heime Müller (Artemis Quartet), Anthony Marwood, Patricia Kopatchinskaja, Johannes Meissl, Patrick Jüdt, Vera Martínez Mehner, Robert Levin, Eckart Runge, Oliver Wille (Kuss Quartet), Antonio Valentino, Simone Gramaglia, Miriam Fried, Günter Pichler, and Heinz Holliger. In 2023, they attended the IMS Prussia Cove Masterclasses with pianist Dénes Várjon and the Vic International Chamber Music Academy with violinist Abel Tomàs (Casals Quartet).

