

C# Developer

This permanent role allows you to get involved in something exciting while doing what you are passionate about. At Herron Todd White, we are building products that impact people's lives while getting to play with all the cool tech. Cloud, Big Data and NoSQL, Microservices, Analytics, Drones, Mobile computing, Google Maps and Geocoding. You name the buzzword; we're probably using it.

Some cool facts about us at Herron Todd White:

We are one of the largest early adopters of Google technology in Australia. Using our relationship with Google and their cloud technology stack, we are always looking for new ways to deliver innovations to the property market.

The development team plays every day while working together in a relaxed environment, with good humour and team events just part of the gig.

Our company is 50 years old but feels more like a startup. It has process and control in the right places and leaves the rest up to smart people to get their jobs done.

We're everywhere, holding the title of valuation firm with the greatest coverage across Australia. Across 64 offices, we have over 800 staff. The software you develop will be used in the field every day by Valuers all across our beautiful country.

To be considered for this role you should have the following experience and qualifications:

- Strong C# development experience
- Experience building sophisticated desktop applications as part of a team. You should have worked on the development of desktop client applications for Windows, preferably using WPF (Windows Presentation Foundation), from modifying data sources (in this case, JSON), talking to RESTful API services, to creating the GUI
- Subscription to software engineering principles that lead to building software that is maintainable and easily extensible
- Strong unit test experience
- A Bachelor of Information Technology or similar (ideal)

A bit about the ideal candidate (hopefully this is you):

- You are passionate about technology and play with technology in your own time.
- You are open to learning other languages and expanding your knowledge base.
- You are an excellent communicator
- You want to have fun at work. You enjoy social events at work and see this as a great way to build relationships with your team members.
- Current Australian/New Zealand citizen, permanent resident or current Visa holder with no restriction on working hours
- And the usual - you're smart, a quick learner, and hold yourself to high standards
