

Notice of Privacy Practices

Table of Contents

Introduction.....	3
What information do we collect?.....	3
How we use and share your personal and health information.....	4
Your rights.....	5
Disclosures of your personal information.....	5
Third-party links.....	6
How is your information protected?.....	6
How long do we keep your information?.....	6
Your choices to share your personal information.....	7
Marketing.....	7
Getting in touch.....	7

This privacy notice explains how we handle your personal data. Here's a quick FAQ first, with key info.
Please note that this FAQ is not a substitute for reading the full notice, along with our Terms of Use.

Your data.

When you use our app, Huma may collect personal information about you. Personal information includes any information, whatever its source or form, that allows us to identify you (directly or indirectly). It does not include information which cannot be used to identify you.

We collect personal data, including health data, about you when you use our App. The specific information that we collect about you will depend on the nature of your medical condition and the purpose for which you are using the app.

This could include data that is manually input by you into the app (including through data forms, surveys or questionnaires to be filled by you) or data which is collected via a connected device such as a wearable monitoring device.

We inform you about the specific categories of personal data we collect below.

Your choice.

You can exercise your rights in relation to your personal data at any time by contacting us at privacy@huma.com.

With your help, we can make advancements in research into your medical condition.

Your health data is extremely valuable for use in research to learn more about population health, early disease detection, and patterns in disease progression ("Research") about Myasthenia Gravis ('MG').

We would like to use your health data for this purpose because we believe that using digital technologies, we can help identify new insights into treatments to help clinicians make better informed choices for our collective health. Sometimes, we also work with carefully selected research partners.

We will ask for your consent to use data for this purpose, and if you choose to share your data with us, we will process your health data as described in the Notice of Privacy Practices and will always keep your data secure.

We do not sell your health data.

We do not sell your personal nor health information for monetary gain. Huma does not share your health data for marketing purposes.

You can freely talk to us

We are transparent. If you have any questions about your personal data or anything in this Notice, please contact us anytime at privacy@huma.com.

Securing your data

We are proud to be ISO/IEC 27001 certified. This is an international accreditation awarded to organizations that set high standards for handling information securely.

Introduction

Huma Therapeutics Limited (previously Medopad Limited) ("Huma", "we" or "us") is an experienced developer and provider of digital health software solutions such as the Huma App. The Huma App which is downloaded by you and used to collect information about you when you participate in a remote patient monitoring initiative, research study, trial or similar initiative. This Notice of Privacy Practices (henceforth, "Notice") explains how we, Huma, process your personal information when you register with the Huma app. If you have one, your healthcare provider may provide you with their own privacy notice.

This Notice as a whole describes our commitment to your privacy and protecting your information.

Important Information about HIPAA

Huma may collect certain information from you on behalf of our clients in the United States. Where applicable, Huma will handle information, specifically protected health information ("PHI") in accordance with this Notice, the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (henceforth, "HIPAA") to the extent applicable, and at the direction of your healthcare provider.

Medical Emergencies

The Huma app is not suitable for managing medical emergencies. If you think you have a medical emergency or need medical advice, you must contact your doctor or the emergency services immediately.

What information do we collect?

When you use our app, Huma may collect personal information about you. Personal information includes any information, whatever its source or form, that allows us to identify you (directly or indirectly). It does not include information which cannot be used to identify you.

Where you are a healthcare patient, information about your health is also collected via the app. The health information that is collected will depend on the nature of your condition and the purpose for which you are using the app. This could include data that is manually input by you into the app (including through data forms, surveys or questionnaires to be filled by you) or data which is collected via a connected device such as a wearable monitoring device. This individually identifiable information may include health information about you.

The information that we collect about you may include your:

Personal Information, including:

- Full Name;
- Email address;
- Age;
- Biological sex;
- Physician name;
- Physician number;
- Emergency contact details;
- Phone number;
- A copy of your in-app consent (such as your preferences, and signature);
- Reminders;
- Text-messages;
- Email messages;
- Push-Notifications and preferences in relation to push-notifications;
- User Feedback (including answers to surveys);
- Photo, audio and video information.
- User interaction data (with our App), such as duration of usage, frequency of usage, online and offline status, and how you communicate with us).

Health Information, including:

- Medical condition (Myasthenia gravis Or 'MG');
- Diagnosis related information (such as age of diagnosis, the type of MG you have, MGFA clinical classification, Seropositivity status, Thymectomy status);
- Medical history;
- Health Identifiers (a number or alphanumeric that allows healthcare staff and/or healthcare provider to identify you);
- Current health status;
- Information related to our 'Personal Documents' module (such as files you choose to upload to our app and metadata such as date of upload);
- Medications Information;
- Date of Birth;
- Infections;
- Mood;
- Pain;
- Resources;
- Information related to our 'Steps' module
- Heart rate;
- Oxygen saturation;
- Weight and height;
- BMI;
- Disabilities;
- Functional ability / scores;
- Symptoms (including age of your first MG symptom);
- Physical activity, including steps ((as synced with Apple or Google health apps);
- Respiratory rate;
- Sleep patterns;
- Responses to health questionnaires;
- Communications with your healthcare provider;
- Unique Identifiers such as your user ID.

How we use and share your personal and health information

We use your personal information for a variety of reasons, including:

- To provide the services including our app (such as to register you as a new user, in connection with the use of our app, to communicate with you, where you partake in voluntary surveys, etc.)
- To conduct our business.
- To run our organization.

- To help with public health and safety issues. This may involve sharing information to assist with preventing disease, product recalls, reporting adverse reactions, reporting suspected abuse, or preventing or reducing a serious threat to anyone's health or safety.
- For the purpose of research.
- To comply with federal, state or local law, as applicable.
- To work with a medical examiner.
- To address worker's compensation, law enforcement, and other government requests.
- To respond to lawsuits and legal actions.

Where Huma relies on your consent to process your personal data, you may withdraw or revoke your permission, which will be effective only after the date of your written withdrawal.

Your rights

You may have rights in relation to your personal information in the state where you are located.

Where HIPAA applies to the processing of your information, you may also have rights with respect to your PHI. Please note that Huma provides most of its services at the direction of your care provider and many of these rights should be exercised directly through your care provider.

Disclosures of your personal information

We may share your personal information with carefully selected third parties for the purposes as outlined below. We require all third parties to respect the security of your personal information and to treat it in accordance with applicable laws and regulations.

The personal data we share with third-parties may include the categories of personal data specified in the table above. Your personal information may be shared:

With other limited external third parties for the purposes of research.

Such disclosures will only be made for scientific research and the development and enhancement of pharmaceuticals, medical interventions, devices, treatment options that are relevant to the purposes for which the patient (or your patients, if you are a healthcare provider) use the App.

We share your personal information outside our organization with our suppliers and subcontractors. Your information may be shared for the purposes described in this notice. We do not allow our third-party services suppliers and subcontractors to use your personal information for their own purposes and only permit them to process your personal information for specified purposes and in accordance with our instructions. Our suppliers and contractors include:

- IT and communications service providers;
- payment processors;
- call centers;
- repair service providers;
- marketing agencies and partners; and
- our courier and delivery suppliers.

In addition, we may disclose information about you to other third parties in the rare instance where we have a legal obligation to do so.

Huma's use and transfer of information received from Google APIs to any other app will adhere to Google API Services User Data Policy, including the Limited Use requirements. This applies to categories of personal data as well as special categories of personal data.

Third-party links

The App may include links to third-party websites, plug-ins and applications. Clicking on those links or enabling those connections may allow third parties to collect or share data about you. We do not control these third-party solutions or websites and are not responsible for their privacy notices or practices.

How is your information protected?

Huma applies appropriate administrative, technical, and physical safeguards to protect the privacy of your personal information (including your health information and PHI), in any form and in accordance with the laws that apply to Huma. Huma has implemented robust operational and technical controls and internal policies to ensure that your data is not lost, accidentally destroyed, misused or disclosed, and is not accessed by unauthorized personnel.

In addition, we limit access to your personal information to those employees, agents, contractors and other third parties who have a business need to know. Any third party granted access will have gone through Huma's security assurance process to ensure they meet Huma's high standard for information security. All Huma employees must complete information security and data protection training to ensure employees have a comprehensive understanding of their roles and responsibilities in safeguarding sensitive information. They will only process your information under our instructions and they are subject to a duty of confidentiality.

We have put in place procedures to deal with any suspected incidents or breaches in relation to personal information, and will notify you and any applicable regulator of a breach where we are legally required to do so.

Huma may engage with suppliers, partners, or subcontractors to process personal information on our behalf. Where this is the case, there will always be a contract in place and a due diligence assessment undertaken to ensure that they have appropriate protection measures and controls in place.

How long do we keep your information?

The length of time for which Huma retains your personal information may vary, and will be:

- For the duration of your use of the Huma app;
- As required to meet a contractual obligation that applies to Huma;
- As required to meet a legal obligation that applies to Huma.

Your choices to share your personal information

You can direct who you share certain information with. For example, you can provide a caregiver or provider with access to your app for the purpose of assisting you in its use. You may also elect to make certain information accessible by other parties, for example, with a patient assistance group.

Getting in touch

Huma handles your personal information in accordance with applicable data protection legislation. If you have any queries about this notice, please contact the Privacy Team at Huma at privacy@huma.com.