FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

AIA Georgia is pleased to announce Crestron, a global leader in workplace technologies, engineering, and automations as an Elite Sponsor of the 2022 Christopher Kelley Leadership Development Program (CKLDP).

“Sponsorship from companies like Crestron make this program possible,” says Ryan Murphy AIA, 2022 CKLDP Chair. “Their support helps to offset the expenses of the entire CKLDP program incurred by AIA Georgia and the individual Scholars. Crestron’s investment in Georgia’s young and emerging architects is greatly appreciated.”

Crestron sponsorship primarily underwrites the CKLDP April session, which allowed the sixteen scholars to travel to and connect in Savannah, Georgia. This generous sponsorship enhanced the collaboration, communication and learning of scholars as they participated in a design charrette, and visioning exercise focused on the future development of the Canal District of Savannah.

About Crestron

For over 50 years, Crestron has defined and redefined the best in room automation, smart home systems, content distribution and videoconference technology to help people and communities connect. Crestron continues to remain at the forefront of cutting-edge technology, constantly offering faster, better solutions that address the needs of customers. Winners of multiple industry awards for innovative products, Crestron also stands out for giving back to the community with programs such as the Crestron’s Eagles program, dedicated to honoring our heroes and generous donations to Flying Eye Hospital, providing eye and services to developing countries.
