GEORGIA TECH BASKETBALL 2012-13

"They were part of a cultural change, and they have been the key components of that. They stuck with it when things weren't great, and they stuck with it when guys didn't want to be part of that. Those guys have both been tremendous. Their one of the reasons why we've been able to bounce back, and I give those guys a lot of credit." - Georgia Tech coach Brian Gregory on seniors Mfon Udofia and Pierre Jordan

Tech Set to Travel to the Ends of the ACC

Georgia Tech completes its regular-season basketball schedule this week with trips to the farthest points in the Atlantic Coast Conference, beginning with a trip to play 6th-ranked Miami at 9 p.m. Wednesday night in a regionally-televised game at the BankUnited Center in Coral Gables, Fla.

Tech (15-13, 5-11 ACC) dropped its final home game of the regular season Sunday night with a 70-57 decision to NC State. The Yellow Jackets, 5-6 over its last 11 games after an 0-5 start in conference play this year, have made measurable progress this season that has been reflected in its overall and conference records, and enter the final week in a four-way tie for eighth place in the conference standings.

Wednesday's game can be heard over the Georgia Tech IMG Sports Network (790 AM, 106.7 FM in Atlanta), as well as satellite radio (Sirius Ch. 91, XM Ch. 91). The game is being televised on the ACC Network (WATL-TV in Atlanta), and is also available online on ESPN3.

Miami (23-5, 14-2) began its conference season under second-year head coach Jim Larranaga by whipping Georgia Tech, 62-49, at McCamish Pavilion on Jan. 5 and stands poised to clinch the ACC regular-season title outright with a victory Wednesday night. The Hurricanes enter the week on the heels of a 79-76 loss at Duke Saturday evening and have lost two of their last three games, but Miami is undefeated at home this season (13-0) and have won their seven home ACC games by an average of 18.4 points.

Following Wednesday's game, the Yellow Jackets complete their regular season at Boston College on Saturday (12 noon).

Opening Tip

• Georgia Tech will travel 3,042 air miles this week - a round trip of 1,208 miles to Miami and 1,874 miles to Boston and back. The forecast high temperature in Miami Wednesday is 80 degrees, while the projected high Saturday in Boston is 41.

• Georgia Tech is tied with Boston College, Clemson and Wake Forest for eighth place in the ACC standings at 5-11, one game ahead of 12th-place Virginia Tech (4-12).

• Tech currently holds a tiebreaker over Wake Forest, while Clemson holds a tiebreaker over Tech, based on head-to-head record this season. Boston College plays both Clemson (away) and Georgia Tech a1-Orange Bowl Classic (Miami Arena); n1-ACC Tournament, Philips Arena, Atlanta, Ga.

this week.

• Tech is 1-4 all-time at the BankUnited Center. That victory occurred Feb. 26, 2005.

• After getting outrebounded in its first three ACC games this season by an average of 9.3, Tech has outrebounded nine of the last 13 teams it has played (one tie). In its last two games, Tech has outrebounded the No. 1 (Maryland) and No. 3 (NC State) teams in the ACC in rebound margin against league foes by an average of 4.0.

• Tech's 15 wins are its most since the 2009-10 season, when the Yellow Jackets went 23-13 (18-11 in the regular season, 7-9 in the ACC).

• With its win over Wake Forest, Georgia Tech accomplished its first season sweep of an ACC opponent since the 2010-11 season. The opponent then was Wake Forest.

• Tech is five games ahead of its 28-game mark from a year ago and has surpassed its conference win total (4) from 2011-12.

• When Tech captured its second ACC road win at Wake Forest, it was the most for the team in one season since 2007-08, when the Yellow Jackets went 4-4. Tech was 3-29 in the four seasons in between.

• Tech has improved its record in each month of this season over the corresponding month last season (see chart on page 6).

• Tech coach Brian Gregory is approaching 200 career victories as a head coach. He has 198, including 172 in eight seasons as the head coach at Dayton.

• Tech needs one more victory to secure a winning season (through the ACC Tournament) in year two under Gregory. No Tech coach since Dwight Keith in 1945 has had a winning record in his second year on the Flats.

• Tech has led at the half in eight of its 16 ACC games. Tech's biggest halftime lead has been 23 over Wake Forest (Jan. 26), and its largest deficit was 12 at Virginia (Feb. 24).

• Four of Tech's conference losses have come by five points or less - 56-53 to Clemson, 56-54 to Florida State, 63-60 at Clemson and 70-65 (in overtime) to Virginia Tech.

• Tech continues to be ranked high in the nation in scoring defense (47th) and field goal percentage defense (28th) as of March 3, and ranks fourth in the ACC in each of those categories.

• Tech finished its first season in McCamish Pavilion with an 11-6 record (3-6 ACC) and averaged 7,365 in attendance with four sellouts.

• Tech has led wire-to-wire in three games - Georgia, The Citadel and Wake Forest. Tech never led in two games this season, Feb. 14 against Clemson (there was one tie, 30-30 in the second half), and Jan. 23 at North Carolina (no lead, no tie).

• Six of Tech's losses this year have come against teams currently ranked in the top 50 of the CBSSports.com RPI rankings including ACC foes Miami (3), NC State (24), Duke (1) and North Carolina (20). The Yellow Jackets have lost only three times to teams outside the top 100.

• Tech's non-conference losses came to teams with a combined 40-18 record. Illinois is No. 35 in the current CBS RPI rankings, while California is No. 43, Saint Mary's (25-5, No. 37) has the best overall record and highest ranking among the opponents Tech has beaten.

Series Notes vs. Miami

• Miami has won three straight games over Georgia Tech to take a 10-6 lead in the all-time series.

• After winning the first two meetings with Miami after the Hurricanes became members of the ACC, Tech has dropped seven of the last nine. Miami won the only regular-season meeting between the two teams in 2011-12, as well as their ACC Tournament meeting, both games at Philips Arena.

• Tech is 1-4 all-time at the BankUnited Center. That victory occurred Feb. 26, 2005.

• Miami was the opponent for Tech in its last game at Alexander Memorial Coliseum, a game the Yellow Jackets won 66-57 to close out the 2010-11 regular season, and that remains Tech's last victory in the series. Tech won four of six games against the Hurricanes in the building.

• Ten of the 15 meetings have been decided by 10 points or less.

• The last meeting between the two schools prior to Miami's joining the ACC occurred in December of 1997 as part of the Orange Bowl Classic doubleheader at Miami Arena, the Hurricanes' home court until the team moved into the on-campus Convocation Center last year. The Yellow Jackets, led that year by senior forward Matt Harpring, won that game, 69-61.

• Tech played Miami twice under former head coach Whack Hyder, losing the first-ever meeting in the series by 22 points in 1953, then taking a six-point homecourt victory in 1967. That was the only pre-ACC visit by the Hurricanes to Alexander Memorial Coliseum, and the 90-84 Tech win has been the highest scoring game in the brief series.

Notable from Tech's Loss to NC State

• Tech outrebounded its ninth opponent in the last 13 games (42-36).

• Tech's bench outscored NC State's, 26-14, and has scored 55 points in its last two games after contributing just 10 points per game over the previous four.

• Tech shot a good percentage from the free throw line for the second straight game (75 pct.), but attempted just 12 free throws while NC State went 21-for-30. The Yellow Jackets are 29-for-39 (74.4 pct.) from the stripe in the last two games.

• For the second time this season, no Tech player reached double figures in points. That also happened against Florida State.

• Tech lost for the first time in five games with former Virginia star Cory Alexander calling the game on television. He is on the mic for the Yellow Jackets' games at Miami and Boston College, and will surpass Atlanta legend Bob Rathbun (six games) for most Tech games called this year. Both have qualified for varsity letters.

Measurable Improvement on Offense

Georgia Tech's shooting percentages are slightly off last year's totals, but the Yellow Jackets' offense has produced more shots from the floor, more three-point field goals, more free throws and more points.

• Tech has scored 3.6 more points per game in all games (63.8 vs. 60.2) than it did in Brian Gregory's first year, and 3.1 more points per game in conference play (61.7 vs. 58.6).

• Tech is attempting 4.6 more field goals per game (57.5 attempts) in ACC play than it did a year ago (52.9). In all games, the difference is 4.3 shots (57.2 per game vs. 52.9).

• Tech is attempting 17.3 three-point field goals per game in ACC play this year, as opposed to 17.0 a year ago.

• Tech has attempted 16.1 free throws per game in ACC play this year, as opposed to 14.4 a year ago.

• Tech's 82 points against Wake Forest on Jan. 26 matched a high in an ACC game under head coach Brian Gregory. The Yellow Jackets' 20-point margin of victory, 32 field goals made and 20 assists were all ACC bests under Gregory.

• Tech has scored 70 or more points nine times this season. The Yellow Jackets scored 70 or more in seven games total last season.

• Tech has tried 70 or more shots from the floor three times this year. The Yellow Jackets never hit that mark in any game a year ago.

• How's this for balanced scoring? Tech's top six players (five starters plus Kammeon Holsey) average between 7.5 and 10.1 points per game in ACC play.

Significant Improvement

A quick look at some areas where the 2012-13 Yellow Jackets have exhibited real improvement over their 2011-12 counterparts, using NCAA statistical rankings.

NCAA rank thru 2/28	2012-13	2011-12
Record through 27 games	15-13	10-18
Points per game	63.8 (263)	60.2 (313)

Turnovers per game	13.1 (159)	14.5 (243)
Turnover margin	-0.08 (203)	-3.2 (321)

The Bell Curve

Since it's 0-5 start in ACC play this season, Georgia Tech has made significant progress in nearly every area statistically over the last 11 games, winning five times and losing three games by a total of eight points.

	First 5	Last 11
Scoring average	60.8	62.1
Scoring defense	73.4	63.4

Turnovers per game	13.6	14.1
Turnovers forced	13.0	11.9
Turnover margin	-0.6	-2.2
Assist/turnover ratio	0.7	0.9

Handling the Rock Better

With the exception of a couple of short stretches this season, Georgia Tech has made significant progress in several areas during year two of the Brian Gregory Era, but none more stark than its ball handling and sharing.

• Tech ranks seventh in the Atlantic Coast Conference in turnover margin (-0.2) and eighth in assist/turnover ratio (0.98) after ranking last in those categories a year ago.

• Tech ranks ninth in the ACC in fewest turnovers committed (last a year ago), and the Jackets rank 159th in the nation in fewest turnovers per game after ranking 243rd in that category a year ago.

• Tech's 0.98 assist/turnover ratio is 157th na-

Media Guidelines

Georgia Tech's practices are generally closed to the public and the media, but coaches and players are available prior to practice on Mondays and Fridays each week prior to practices that occur on those days.

TV stations are allowed to shoot B-roll during the first 15 minutes of those practices during the course of the season.

Media are asked to notify Mike Stamus ahead of time to make specific player requests.

Interview requests with players that need to be conducted at other times must be made through the media relations office at least 24 hours in advance. These interviews will be conducted at a time and place convenient to the players' availability and class schedule.

Media are asked not to contact players directly either by phone or e-mail, they are instructed not to accept those. Every effort will be made to make players available.

Interviews with Coach Gregory

Media wishing to speak with Coach Gregory at times other than scheduled media sessions are asked to set up an appointment in advance through the media relations office. He also is available each week on the ACC Teleconference, and other teleconferences may be scheduled as demand warrants.

Post-Game Interviews

Coach Gregory and the visiting team's head coach will each hold a post-game press conference in the designated interview room in the back hallway of the arena.

Players requested by the media will be brought to the interview room following the coaches press conferences.

Brian Gregory Radio Show

Head coach Brian Gregory's weekly radio show airs each Monday live from 7-8 p.m. at STATS Restaurant and Bar, 300 Marietta Street. The show airs live on "790 The Zone" and "All News 106.7 FM", and it will be replayed on 106.7 FM, later that night.

ACC Coaches' Weekly Teleconference

The 12 ACC head basketball coaches will be featured on nine Monday teleconferences during the 2011-12 season. The season's first teleconference will take place on Monday, January 7, 2013, and continue through Monday, March 11, 2013. Each coach has 10 minutes to make an opening statement and answer questions. A replay of each teleconference is available on the Conference's internet site TheACC.com each Monday afternoon.

Seniors Udofia, Jordan Shepherd Jackets Forward

Point guards Mfon Udofia and Pierre Jordan, both Atlanta-area players who took divergent routes to arrive at this point, are coming to the end of career at Georgia Tech that are gratifying for more reasons than wins and losses. They have presided over a culture change that has begun to see tangible results.

Udofia, an all-state player in Georgia at state champion Miller Grove High School in Stone Mountain, was part of a stellar recruiting class of six players who enter Tech for the 2009-10 season and helped the Yellow Jackets reach the finals of the ACC Tournament and the second round of the NCAA Tournament. After struggling through his first two years, the 6-2 guard has developed into a solid point guard and leader with career-best numbers this year.

Jordan, who graduated from Dunwoody High School in 2008, played two seasons at Florida State and graduated in three years, leaving him with two years of eligiblity to complete while enrolled in the Building Construction and Facility Management graduate program at Tech. He has been Udofia's primary backup for most of the past two seasons and will complete his master's in the spring.

"They were part of a cultural change, and they have been the key components of that," said head coach Brian Gregory following Tech's Senior Night game Sunday. "They stuck with it when things weren't great, and they stuck with it when guys didn't want to be part of that. Those guys have both been tremendous. Their one of the reasons why we've been able to bounce back, and I give those guys a lot of credit."

Tech Recruiting Trivia

Mfon Udofia, the only four-year senior on Georgia Tech's current roster, was part of a 2009 recruiting class that included Derrick Favors (now with Utah Jazz), Kammeon Holsey (sat out 2009-10 with knee injury), Daniel Miller (red-shirted in 2009-10), Brian Oliver (now at Seton Hall) and Glen Rice, Jr. (now with the Rio Grande Valley Vipers of the D-League).

Five of the six attended high school in the state of Georgia.

plish that at Tech. Only five teams in ACC history (two from Tech) have had freshmen rank 1-2 on their teams in scoring (see chart on page 5).

Georges-Hunt (10.5 ppg) and Robert Carter, Jr. (10.0) are the Yellow Jackets' only players in double figures for the season, and Georges-Hunt is the only ACC freshman to lead his team in scoring.

Javaris Crittenton and Thaddeus Young, who each averaged 14.4 points during the 2006-07 season, were the last freshmen to finish 1-2 on the Tech scoring chart. Mark Price, who led the ACC in scoring at 20.3 points per game, and John Salley (11.5) also turned the trick in 1982-83.

Tech has had a freshman lead its team in scoring five times previously, first with Jim Wood (11.1) in 1973-74. That average is the lowest figure to lead a Yellow Jacket team in the modern era (since 1949-50).

Arts and Letters

Georgia Tech enjoyed a fine fall semester in the classroom, posting its highest grade-point average in a semester under head coach Brian Gregory, and the highest in several years.

Five members of the team made the Dean's List, all freshmen, including Chris Bolden, Brooks Doyle, Marcus Georges-Hunt, walk-on Colin Gurry and Corey Heyward. Tech's freshmen earned a collective grade-point average of 3.2.

Not only has Tech improved on the court since Gregory arrived, but has made big strides in the classroom as well. Beginning with Moe Miller and Lance Storrs in the summer after Gregory took the head coaching position at Tech, every senior in the program has graduated, including Derek Craig and Nick Foreman last spring.

This year's senior class includes Mfon Udofia, who is on schedule to finish his Business Administration degree work in the summer, and Pierre Jordan, who will complete his Masters degree requirements in Building Construction in the spring.

Tech's men's basketball scored a perfect 2010-11 team single year Academic Progress Report score of 1000 in the latest APR report last June, a first for the program.

Stability in the Lineup

Head coach Brian Gregory utilized seven different starting lineups last season. Two players - Kammeon Holsey and Daniel Miller - started every game. This year he has gone with essentially two different lineups, and three players - Carter, Jr., Miller and Udofia - have started every game.

Tech's lineup for 15 of the first 16 games had been Mfon Udofia and Brandon Reed at the guards, Marcus Georges-Hunt and Robert Carter, Jr., at the forwards and Daniel Miller at center. Jason Morris made one start in place of Georges-Hunt (vs. California). Chris Bolden replaced Reed in game 16 at Duke and has started the 12 of the last 13 games (Pierre Jordan started for him on Senior Night).

Buzz Bytes

• If Daniel Miller finishes the season as the ACC's leader in blocked shots, he will join John Salley (1983-84), Alvin Jones (three times) and Chris Bosh (2002-03) as ACC leaders in that category.

• Marcus Georges-Hunt's scoring average of 10.5 points per game would be the lowest figure to lead a Tech team in the modern era (1949-50 to the present) if the season ended today. In that period of time, the lowest team-leading scoring averages were posted by Melvin Dold (11.1 in 1949-50), Pete Silas (11.7 in 1950-51) and Jim Wood (11.1 in 1973-74).

• Tech is 10-2 this season when Robert Carter, Jr., scores in double figures, and 11-5 when Georges-Hunt scores in double figures. The Yellow Jackets are 6-1 this season when both Georges-Hunt and Carter, Jr., score in double figures.

• Seven different players have led Tech in scoring this season, and eight different players have scored in double digits.

• Freshman Chris Bolden, in his first start of the season at Duke in game 16 for Tech, became the first Tech player to score 20 points in a game this season. Robert Carter, Jr., became the second Jan. 26 against Wake Forest.

• No Tech player ranks among the ACC's top 25 in scoring, and no Tech player ranks higher than 11th in rebounding.

• Tech has shot 50 percent or better from the floor five times this season: Tulane (56.1 percent, a high for the Yellow Jackets under Brian Gregory, UNC Wilmington (52.9), Fordham (50.0), Wake Forest (54.2 on Jan. 26) and Maryland (51.0). Tech is 12-1 under Brian Gregory when shooting 50 percent.

• The Yellow Jackets are 16-7 overall under

Brian Gregory when they record more assists than turnovers.

• With Daniel Miller jumping center, Tech has controlled the opening tip in 43 of 59 games since the beginning of the 2011-12 season, and 17 of 25 times this season.

• Tech is 5-4 this season in games decided by fewer than 10 points. The Jackets were 3-11 in such games last year.

• Tech defeated UNC Wilmington, Virginia and Wake Forest (Feb. 16, on the road) this season despite trailing at the 5-minute mark of the second half. The Yellow Jackets had lost its first 21 such games under Brian Gregory.

• Tech is 11-1 this season and 22-1 under Brian Gregory when leading at the 5-minute mark, losing to Virginia Tech on Jan. 12 after holding a 53-50 lead at that point.

• Tech's 11-point lead against Virginia Tech on Jan. 12 was the biggest it has held in a game the Yellow Jackets lost under Gregory.

• Tech's nine-point deficit against Virginia on Feb. 3 was the largest it has overcome to win an ACC game under Gregory. Tech had erased a 13-point deficit to beat VCU in a non-conference game last year.

• Tech's 34-point margin of victory against Alabama State was its biggest in 46 games under Brian Gregory.

Point Taken

An argument can be made that no player on the Georgia Tech team has benefitted more under head coach Brian Gregory's tutelage than Mfon Udofia. After all, it's a point guard learning from a point guard, and Udofia has made a full commitment.

The 6-2 senior was recruited out of Miller Grove High School as part of a class that included teammates Daniel Miller and Kammeon Holsey, and the since-departed Derrick Favors, Brian Oliver and Glen Rice, Jr. After scuffling through his first two seasons and moving in and out of Tech's starting lineup, Udofia's transformation from score-first to pass-first point guard has taken hold.

Gregory relied on Udofia last year to the tune of 31.8 minutes a game. In the pre-conference schedule, Udofia averaged 10.2 points a game but his assist-turnover ratio was just 33/42 in 14 games. Once conference play began, he averaged 9.6 points and his assist/turnover ratio improved to 56/42 over 17 games.

This year has brought even more improvement in his floor game, as well as remarkable progress in shot selection. See the chart below.

Miller Time

Coach Brian Gregory has relied on center Daniel Miller this year for more than just his high basketball IQ and passing skills. The second-year Tech coach has asked his pivotman for more scoring, rebounding and aggressiveness, and the 6-11 1/2 junior has responded.

At Clemson, in the 19th game of the season, Miller surpassed his freshman season 31-game totals for field goals made and attempted, and surpassed his sophomore assist total at Virginia Tech in game 22. The Loganville, Ga., native has tried 6.4 field goals per game this season, compared to 5.5 per game during his first two seasons combined.

Miller is averaging career bests in rebounding (6.8 per game, 7.6 vs. the ACC), offensive rebounds (2.39 per game), blocked shots (2.18 per game) and assists (2.14 per game, 1.40/1 assist/turnover ratio). He has cut down his fouls from 2.42 per game as a freshman to 1.68 as a sophomore to 1.64 this season. His field goal percentage has improved from 49.7 for his first two years to 51.1 this season.

Miller has developed steadily during his three seasons on the court in nearly every area, most dramatically in his ball-handling and defense. See the chart below.

The Sixth Man Award

They don't give a Sixth Man Award in the Atlantic Coast Conference, but Georgia Tech's Kammeon Holsey would be a prime candidate.

After starting all 31 games for Tech last season, the 6-8 1/2 forward gave way to freshman Robert Carter, Jr., at the beginning of this season and has come off the bench in every game. But the junior from Sparta, Ga., has been among the Yellow Jackets' top four in scoring average all season, currently third at 9.1 points a game while playing under 20 minutes a game.

Holsey's role has been to give the Jackets a burst of energy in the frontcourt off the bench, and he has done so from the very first game, scoring a season-high 18 points on 7-of-8 shooting in just 18 minutes in Tech's season-opening win over Tulane. He matched that with 18 on 8-of-13 shooting with a season-high nine rebounds at North Carolina on Jan. 23.

He has reached double digits on 10 other occasions, has led Tech in scoring five times, and he has converted on 55.7 percent of his shots from the floor this season. He has not played more than 25 minutes (three times), and has been Tech's first sub off the bench in every game but one.

Holsey's numbers are consistent in conference play when compared to all games as well (8.8 ppg, 4.6 rpg, 53.6 pct. FG in ACC games).

More on This Year's Freshman Class

Georgia Tech's incoming freshman class was expected to be a big part of the Yellow Jackets plans this season, and the group has become even more prominent since ACC play began.

Guard Chris Bolden and forwards Marcus Georges-Hunt and Robert Carter, Jr., from the high school class of 2012, have played significant minutes since game one. Georges-Hunt and Carter, Jr., have been in the starting lineup from the first game, and Bolden made his first career start Jan. 17 at Duke.

They have combined to score 42.8 percent of Tech's points overall this season and 46.0 percent in ACC games. They rank 1-2-5 in scoring against the ACC.

They also handle the ball well, Bolden, Carter, Jr., and Georges-Hunt have combined for just 116 turnovers (that's a combined 4.1 per game) and occupy the top three spots on the team for fewest turnovers per 40 minutes.

Class of 2013 guard Solomon Poole also has taken on a greater role. He took over the backup point guard role against Virginia Tech and has averaged more than 10 minutes in Tech's last six games while Bolden has averaged more than 30.

Bolden's insertion into the starting lineup (replacing Brandon Reed) was the first significant lineup change of the season. It was the first time since Dec. 20 (Florida State) and 22 (Kennesaw State) of 2009 that three freshmen had started a game for the Yellow Jackets (Derrick Favors, Brian Oliver, Mfon Udofia).

Tech has played significant stretches of the last four games with four freshmen on the floor when Poole has subbed in for Mfon Udofia.

Following the Trends

• After scoring in double figures for five straight games prior to Maryland (12.0 ppg, 48.1 pct. FG, 7-of-15 threes), Marcus Georges-Hunt has scored a total of 14 points in Tech's last two games (six assists, 4-for-14 FG, 2-for-6 on 3s).

• Georges-Hunt has reached double digits in scoring in 17 of 28 games and has been Tech's leading scorer all season. He ranks fourth among ACC freshmen in scoring average and in double-digit games.

• Daniel Miller leads the ACC and ranks 43rd nationally in blocked shots (2.18 per game). Against Maryland, he became 26th ACC player to reach 200 blocked shots for his career and surpassed Malcolm Mackey for third place on the all-time Tech list.

• Miller went 12-for-12 from the free throw line against Maryland, the most free throws made by a Tech player since 2008 and the fourth-most without a miss in Tech history.

• In his last five games, Miller has averaged 10.4 points, 8.2 rebounds, hit 19-of-37 shots from the floor, had nine assists and 12 blocked shots.

• Kammeon Holsey has hit 11 of 15 shots from the floor in Tech's last three games. He is shooting 55.7 percent from the floor this season but has taken 10 or more shots in a game only four times.

• Brandon Reed has hit 13-of-27 threes in 10 games coming off the bench, and is shooting a 40 percent from three-point range in ACC games and 37.9 percent in all games, both career bests.

• Reed has just two turnovers in the last six games, and is the only player among Tech's top seven scorers with fewer turnovers than games played this season.

• Mfon Udofia has 28 assists and 10 turnovers in his last eight games.

• Robert Carter, Jr., has nine blocked shots in his last four games. He has averaged 7.4 rebounds in his last seven games.

• Carter, Jr., hit a three in three consecutive games before NC State (0-for-2).

• Julian Royal has scored 15 points while averaging 7.3 minutes in Tech's last four games (6-for-12 FG) as Tech has tried to boost its bench production.

• Jason Morris scored five points and grabbed four rebounds Sunday against NC State. They were his first points in four games since returning from a left foot injury (missed 10 games) and first points since Jan. 2 vs. Chattanooga.

Making History

Georgia Tech has made a little bit of history during its first two seasons under head coach Brian Gregory.

The first came quickly, a 68-56 win over Georgia in Athens last Dec. 7, the team's first victory in Athens in 35 years. The second came Feb. 9 with the Yellow Jackets' 64-54 win over Virginia Tech at Cassell Coliseum, the program's first-ever victory in Blacksburg after seven losses.

Tech had its first back-to-back ACC road wins since the 2007-08 season (Virginia Tech, Wake Forest), after winning just three of its last 36 ACC road games dating back to the 2008-09 season,

Like his two predecessors, Brian Gregory captured his first career ACC victory on the road (82-71 over NC State on Jan. 11). Bobby Cremins defeated Maryland for his first, 45-43 on Dec. 23, 1981, while Paul Hewitt won at Virginia, 73-68, on Jan. 9, 2000.

Unlike his two predecessors, however, Gregory has won in his first two tries against state-rival Georgia.

Boardwork Empire

One of the cornerstones of head coach Brian Gregory's philosophy is that everybody rebounds and Tech wins the rebounding battle every game.

• After getting outrebounded in its first three ACC games this season by an average of 9.3, Tech has outrebounded nine of the last 13 teams it has played (one tie). In its last two games, Tech has outrebounded the No. 1 (Maryland) and No. 3 (NC State) teams in the ACC in rebound margin against league foes by an average of 4.0.

• Tech currently ranks third in the ACC and 97th in the nation in rebound margin (+2.9), including double-digit margins in seven games. Last season, Tech ranked third in the ACC and 60th nationally in rebound margin (+3.5).

• Tech has outrebounded 33 of its 59 opponents under Gregory, with three ties, and 18 of its 33 ACC opponents.

• Tech has had a double-figure rebound game 10 times - Robert Carter, Jr. (five times), Daniel Miller (five) and Marcus Georges-Hunt (once).

• Tech has averaged 11.6 offensive rebounds this season, third-best in the ACC.

• Tech has won the rebounding battle in 19 of its 26 wins under Gregory, and is 4-17 when it has lost the rebounding battle.

Case for Tech's Defense

• Tech ranks 22nd in the nation in adjusted defensive efficiency as calculated by Ken Pomeroy, allowing 89.0 points per 100 possessions. Only Miami, which is No. 11 at 87.0, and Virginia, No. 19 at 88.6, rank ahead of Tech among ACC teams.

won 20 games by end of regular season*

• Only six opponents have shot 50 percent from the floor against Tech since Brian Gregory became head coach. NC State, Florida State and Virginia (Feb. 24) have done so this season.

• Tech has held 25 teams (eight ACC teams) under 60 points since Brian Gregory arrived and allowed only 12 to score as many as 70.

• The Yellow Jackets have held 27 of 57 foes under 40 percent from the floor under Gregory, seven under 30 percent. This season, 12 opponents have failed to shoot 40 percent, and five of those were under 30 percent.

• NC State and Virginia (Feb. 24) are the only teams to reach 80 points against Tech this season.

• Defense without fouling - As of March 3, Tech ranks 47th nationally in scoring defense and 28th in field goal percentage defense, yet is also No. 97 in fewest fouls committed per game (16.7).

• Defending the three - Only three teams in the ACC have surrendered fewer three-point field goals this season than has Tech. Tech ranks third in the ACC and 46th nationally in three-point percentage defense.

• Tech gave up 62.6 points per game last year, which was the program's fifth lowest yield going back to the 1955-56 season, the first year statistics are available. This season's yield is 60.9 ppg, which would rank fourth if the season ended today.

• Only one other Tech team (1984-85, 59.4 ppg) surrendered fewer points per game vs. the ACC than did Brian Gregory's first Tech team (65.5). This year's yield of 66.5 ppg ranks fourth-lowest since the Jackets joined the ACC.

• Only three Tech teams since 1960 limited ACC teams to a lower field goal percentage than last year's team (40.3 pct.). Only four Tech teams in the ACC era have posted a better field goal percentage yield against the conference (43.2 pct. last year). Tech has allowed ACC teams 41.6 percent this season, which would be the third-best figure if the season ended today.

• Last year, Tech ranked fourth in the conference in scoring defense (59th nationally) and fourth in field goal percentage defense (35th nationally). That was a team that went 11-20. This year's team has improved upon those rankings.

Streaks of Note

• Daniel Miller has started 90 consecutive games, the team's longest streak. He is the only returning player to start every game the last two-plus seasons. He has not missed a game in his Tech career.

• Miller has made his last 15 straight free throws, 12-for-12 against Maryland plus his last three attempts at Virginia. He did not try one against NC State.

• Tech has made at least one 3-point field goal in 256 straight games, dating back to an 0-for-5 effort against Duke on Feb. 23, 2005. The Jackets came close to breaking that streak twice last season - Saint Joseph's (1-for-12) and Virginia (1-for-15).

Notable Career Milestones

• Head coach Brian Gregory needs two victories to reach 200 in his head coaching career.

• Mfon Udofia surpassed 900 points for his career against Virginia and currently has 955.

• Kammeon Holsey surpassed 600 career points at Virginia Tech (has 648).

• Daniel Miller surpassed 600 career points against Maryland (now has 616).

• Miller surpassed 500 career rebounds Feb. 14 against Clemson (he has 548).

• Miller has reached third place in career blocked shots at Tech (203), surpassing Malcolm Mackey (1990-93) and has become the 26th ACC player to accumulate 200 career blocks.

• Udofia has reached 18th place on Tech's career assist list with 277. He needs eight to catch Dennis Scott (285) for 17th place.

• Jason Morris needs 10 points for 500 in his career.

• Udofia went over the 3,000-minute mark for his career against Clemson on Feb. 14.

• Brandon Reed surpassed the 800-point plateau for his career against Florida State. He now has 840, including 469 as a freshman at Arkansas State.

Price Honored as ACC Tourney Legend

All-America point guard Mark Price (Enid, Okla.), who was the focal point of the resurgence of the Bobby Cremins-coached Georgia Tech teams of the mid-1980's, is among 13 individuals to be honored as part of the Atlantic Coast Conference's 2013 Men's Basketball Legends Class.

Price (1982-86), the point guard leader of Georgia Tech's basketball resurgence under head coach Bobby Cremins, is one of only four players in ACC history to earn first- or second-team All-ACC honors in each of his four varsity seasons. Price earned 2nd-team All-ACC honors in 1983, leading the conference in scoring as a freshman and earning ACC Rookie of the Year honors. He then was named 1st-team All-ACC in 1984, 1985 and 1986 joining on North Carolina's Tyler Hansborough, Virginia's Jeff Lamp and Duke's Johnny Dawkins as four-year All-ACC honorees.

A three-time All-America, he was a first-team selection in 1985. Price helped Tech post a four-year record of 85-41 for a program which was 14-40 in the two years before he arrived in Atlanta. Price also led the Jackets to earn a bid to the NIT in 1984 and NCAA appearances in 1985 and 1986, as Tech reach the NCAA East Regional finals in 1985 and the Southeast Regional semifinals in 1986. Price was named the winner of the Everett Case Award as the Most Outstanding Player in the 1985 ACC Tournament in Atlanta as he led Tech to its first ACC Basketball Championship.

A finalist for the Wooden and Naismith National Player of the Year Awards in 1986, he was the first pick of the second round of the 1986 NBA Draft by Dallas, which promptly traded him to Cleveland. He went on to a 12-year career in the NBA, the first nine with Cleveland. A four-time NBA All-Star and named to the 1993 All-NBA first-team, Price played a total of 722 NBA games, scoring 10,989 points and averaging 15.2 points and 6.7 assists per game. His career free throw percentage of 90.4 is the best in NBA history, and he compiled a field goal percentage of 47.2 percent and 40.2 percent from three-point range.

After retiring from the NBA at the end of the 1998 season, he began a career in coaching, including spending one season as an assistant to Cr-

More evidence of Brian Gregory's nod to Georgia Tech's past can be found in Georgia Tech's new uniforms this year.

This year's jerseys feature the name "TECH" in block lettering on the front, with the team name and the numerals on the front and back outlined and shadowed, reminiscent of the Yellow Jackets' uniforms of the late 1960s and early 1970s, when Rich Yunkus was the star.

Tech has white, gold and blue versions of the new uniforms.

emins at Georgia Tech. Originally a native of Enid, Okla., he now resides in Orlando, Fla.

Tech Storylines

• Georgia Tech's primary goals are always to play solid team and one-on-one defense, win the rebounding battle and be efficient on offense. Brian Gregory prefers to fuel the Yellow Jackets' transition game with superior defensive rebounding rather than by playing the passing lanes and gambling for steals.

• Tech has defeated its in-state rival, Georgia, in consecutive years for the first time since winning three straight from 1992-94.

• The Yellow Jackets' third-place finish in the DirecTV Classic was their best finish in a holiday tournament since finishing third in the 2007 Paradise Jam.

• The entire starting lineup for Tech's final five regular-season games of 2011-12 returned intact for this season - 6-2 guard Mfon Udofia, 6-3 1/2 guard Brandon Reed, 6-5 1/2 forward Jason Morris, 6-8 forward Kammeon Holsey and 6-11 1/2 center Daniel Miller.

• The seven players that are back represented 92 percent of the Yellow Jackets' starts, 82 percent of their scoring and 78 percent of their rebounding from 2011-12.

• Tech brought in five new players from the class of 2012, four freshmen and a transfer, a class ranked as high as 14th nationally. Three of them are making an immediate impact - 6-8 forward Robert Carter, Jr., 6-5 forward Marcus Georges-Hunt and 6-3 guard Chris Bolden.

• The other two: 6-4 1/2 guard/forward Stacey Poole, Jr., who transferred from Kentucky last January, became eligible to play following the completion of the fall semester; 6-0 guard Corey Heyward, who attended Hargrave Military Academy last year, is out for the season with a knee injury suffered in the summer.

• Robert Carter, Jr., and Marcus Georges-Hunt became the first pair of freshmen to start a season opener for Tech since Derrick Favors and Mfon Udofia did so against Florida A&M on Nov. 14, 2009.

• Marcus Georges-Hunt has been named ACC Rookie of the Week twice (Nov. 26, Dec. 10), the first Tech freshmen to earn that honor since the 2009-10 season, when Derrick Favors won it four times.

• Heyward is sitting out this season after tearing the ACL in his left knee in late June and undergoing surgery in August. His rehab progress had gone extremely well when he re-injured the same knee in an unsupervised activity in December and had to have surgery again on Dec. 13. He is still expected to play in 2013-14, but will miss much of the off-season work required of Tech players.

• Tech signed two players from the class of 2013 during the November signing period - 6-0 guard Solomon Poole of Jacksonville, Fla., and 6-8 forward Quinton Stephens from Atlanta. Poole graduated from high school early, however, and became eligible to play Dec. 14.

• Tech's 2012-13 team features 13 of 15 players from the state of Georgia, unprecedented in the history of Yellow Jacket basketball. Stacey Poole, Jr., and his brother Solomon, from Jacksonville, Fla., are Tech's only players from outside the state.

• Four current Tech players were on the last Yellow Jacket team to play in Alexander Memorial Coliseum - senior Mfon Udofia, juniors Kammeon Holsey, Daniel Miller and Jason Morris.

• Tech was picked to finish ninth in the ACC in pre-season polls of both the conference coaches and the media.

• Tech's current players for 2012-13 have combined for seven ACC Tournament starts.

Tech's "Poole" of Talent Expands Mid-Season

The end of the fall semester at Georgia Tech marked the beginning of Yellow Jacket careers of brothers Stacey, Jr., and Solomon Poole of Jacksonville, Fla.

Stacey, Jr., the elder brother, transferred from Kentucky and enrolled at Tech last January. The 6-4 wing player has practiced with the Yellow Jackets since last January, became eligible after the fall semester and made his debut Dec. 22 with 21 minutes against The Citadel.

His younger brother, Solomon, was one of the nation's more highly-sought players, a 6-foot guard who was rated a five-star player and as high as No. 14 among all players in the class of 2013. An all-state player at Terry Parker High School in 2011-12, Solomon finished his high school courses and graduated from North Florida Educational Institute and was admitted to Tech in early December. He began to practice with the Yellow Jackets on Dec. 15, and made his debut Dec. 17 against Alabama State.

Poole Trivia

Stacey Poole. Jr., wears No. 12 for Georgia Tech, a number worn most notably by Kenny Anderson, member of the Yellow Jackets' famed "Lethal Weapon 3" combo, and center Luke Schenscher. Both players played in NCAA Final Fours. The last Tech player to wear No. 12 was walk-on D.J. Spain, who played in two games last season.

Solomon Poole is wearing No. 45 for the Yellow Jackets. The last player to wear that number for Tech was walk-on Bert Culbreth during the 1997-98 season. Bruce Dalrymple, the 1984 ACC Rookie of the Year and a key component of Tech's first ACC Championship team in 1985, is Tech's most notable player to wear No. 45.

Jackets Finish Third at DirecTV Classic

Forcing 21 turnovers and hitting seven three-point shots, Georgia Tech overcame a four-point halftime deficit and defeated Saint Mary's, 65-56, to capture third place in the DirecTV Classic in Anaheim, Calif.

Junior guard Brandon Reed notched a career-high 19 points on 6-of-8 shooting with four threes to lead the victory, combining with three other Yellow Jackets to limit the Gaels' star Matthew Dellavedova to five points (1-8 FG) and force five turnovers from him.

Senior guard Mfon Udofia (12.0 ppg) and freshman Marcus Georges-Hunt (11.0 ppg) led the Yellow Jackets offensively in the tournament, while Tech limited its three foes to 34.6-percent shooting from the floor and 28.1 percent from three-point range.

Pete Silas	1953	17.0	13.7

• The 36 points by Rice on Thanksgiving night were the fewest scored by a Tech opponent in the modern era (1949-50 season to the present). The previous low as 37 by Alabama State in 2004 and Wofford in 1977.

• The 22.9 percent shot by Rice from the floor was the second-lowest ever by a Tech opponent and the lowest since Kentucky hit just 16.3 percent (13-for-80) against the Yellow Jackets on Jan. 2, 1960. Howard (in 1957) and Alabama (in 1962) each shot 23.0 percent (17-for-74).

Past Meets Present

Carrying on coach Brian Gregory's ongoing efforts to reach out to Georgia Tech's storied past while building for the future, Georgia Tech welcomed back more than 150 former players, coaches and staff for its season opener Nov. 9 against Tulane.

The effort was led by legendary Tech coach Bobby Cremins, who formed a committee to reach out to former members of the program from every decade possible. They had a reception before the game and were all recognized at halftime, one-by-one, as they surrounded the court.

Many of Tech's former stars were at the game, including its first All-American, Roger Kaiser, all-time leading scorer Rich Yunkus, the 1985 Thin Gold Line of John Salley, Yvon Joseph and Bruce Dalrymple, and 1993 ACC Championship team stars Drew Barry, Travis Best and James Forrest, and 1996 ACC regular-season champion members Matt Harpring and Michael Maddox.

Tech's entire starting lineup from the 1990 Final Four and ACC Championship team attended, including the Lethal Weapon 3 trio of Kenny Anderson, Brian Oliver and Dennis Scott, and post players Malcolm Mackey and Johnny McNeil.

Hello to The Hank

Georgia Tech is now playing its home games in a building that is, for all intents and purposes, brand new. The only physical elements of McCamish Pavilion that remain from the venerable Alexander Memorial Coliseum are the roof, which has been re-covered, and the 32 steel ribs that support it.

The capacity of McCamish Pavilion is 8,600, including 1,665 seats in the new balcony level and 6,935 seats in the lower seating bowl. There are no suites, but there is a premium club area that seats 500. Alexander Memorial Coliseum seated 9,191 spectators in its final configuration.

The most striking features of McCamish Pavilion are its grand entrance, which fronts 10th and Fowler Streets, the ability for patrons to view the court from the main concourse nearly all the way around, and the theatrical lighting system, which bathes the court in bright light while leaving the seating areas dark, modeled after the Staples Center in Los Angeles and Madison Square Garden in New York.

Miami was the last team to play Tech in Alexander Memorial Coliseum, a game Tech won, and was the first ACC team to play in McCamish Pavilion on Jan. 5, which Miami won.

Other facts about the first game in McCamish Pavilion:
Head coaches: Brian Gregory of Georgia Tech, Ed Conroy of Tulane
Officiating crew: Karl Hess, Gary Maxwell, Raymond Styons
TV announce crew: Tom Werme, Cory Alexander (ACC Network)
First Tech points: Marcus Georges-Hunt (2 FT, 18:13, 1st half)
First basket: Tulane's Josh Davis (18:44, 1st half)
Attendance: 8,600

Farewell to the Thrillerdome

Georgia Tech played 55 seasons of basketball in Alexander Memorial Coliseum. Over the last year and a half, the venerable building was replaced by a new facility called the McCamish Pavilion, which was built on the same site and opened in September, 2012. The only parts of the AMC that remain are the roof and its 32 steel support ribs.

Tech compiled a record of 556-194 (.741) in the AMC, which opened Nov. 30, 1956 with a 71-61 Tech loss to Duke, and closed March 6, 2011 with a 66-57 Tech win over Miami. Known as the "Thrillerdome," the Coliseum closed as the second-oldest arena in use in the ACC, behind Cameron Indoor Stadium at Duke.

Some facts about the final game in the Thrillerdome:
Head coaches: Paul Hewitt of Georgia Tech (now at George Mason), Frank Haith of Miami (now at Missouri)
Officiating crew: Roger Ayers, Brian Dorsey, Sean Corbin
TV announce crew: Steve Martin, Eddie Fogler (ACC Network)
Last Tech basket: Moe Miller
Last basket: Miami's Adrian Thomas
Attendance: 8,025

Campus Interruptus

While construction progressed on McCamish Pavilion, Georgia Tech played all of its ACC games, as well as non-conference games against Northwestern and Alabama, in Philips Arena, which is located downtown and is the home arena of the NBA's Atlanta Hawks. Tech has an all-time record of 7-11 in the building (3-8 last season), which also hosted the 2012 ACC Tournament.

The Yellow Jackets' other five non-conference games, all in November and December, were played at the Arena at Gwinnett Center, located up I-85 North in Duluth, Ga. Tech's men's team had never played a game in the building before last season and compiled a 4-1 record there.

Tech Signs Two in Class of 2013

Head coach Brian Gregory and his staff signed two high school basketball players during the early signing period, 6-0 guard Solomon Poole of Jacksonville, Fla., and 6-8 forward Quinton Stephens of Atlanta.

Poole, an all-state guard in 2011-12 at Terry Parker High School in Jacksonville, where he averaged 21 points a game, has already joined his older brother, sophomore Stacey, Jr., on the Yellow Jackets' team by graduating from high school early and enrolling at Tech in December. He was rated a five-star prospect by Rivals and as high as

Miami 62, Georgia Tech 49

Jan. 5, 2013 • McCamish Pavilion

Rion Brown came off the bench to score a career-high 22 points, and Miami's overall size gave Georgia Tech fits Saturday as the Hurricanes whipped the Yellow Jackets 62-49 in the Atlantic Coast Conference opener for both teams.

Georgia Tech (10-3) had won six straight and had not faced height like the Hurricanes (10-3) offered.

The Jackets were outscored 26-19 in the paint while losing for the first time in nine games in their new arena, McCamish Pavilion.

Miami outrebounded Georgia Tech 40-29, with Hurricanes forward Kenny Kadji grabbing a season-high 14 to go with 11 points.

Brown, son of former Georgia Tech player Tico Brown, scored 11 points to lead Miami to a 33-23 lead at halftime.

Mfon Udofia and Kammeon Holsey led the Yellow Jackets with 10 points each. Georgia Tech, however, made just 17 of 52 shots.

14th among all prep players. Poole attended the North Florida Educational Institute in the fall and played on the AAU circuit for the Atlanta Celtics. His father, Stacey, played college ball at Florida.

Stephens, an all-state selection from The Marist School in Atlanta, is a 3-star prospect in all three major recruiting rankings and ranked as high as No. 78 nationally, No. 18 among the nation's small forwards. He averaged 18.9 points, six rebounds and three assists for the War Eagles last year. He becomes the first scholarship player for the Yellow Jackets from Marist since Matt Harpring, who played 11 years in the NBA and is the No. 2 all-time leading scorer at Tech. Stephens played AAU ball for the Atlanta Express. His father, Bob, played at Drexel collegiately and overseas for more than 10 years.

They Said it...

• "No, and that's no offense to Maryland. We beat Georgia twice. We can have great wins, but this is still Georgia Tech now," - Tech head coach Brian Gregory when asked if the Maryland victory was his best as a Tech head coach

• [Robert] Carter was tremendous. He was good. We couldn't guard him. We had no one who could guard Robert Carter," - Maryland head coach Mark Turgeon

• "I thought Georgia Tech was great. They made shots. Their bench was great. They played smarter than we played. They got to the foul line a lot more than we did. They were good. Georgia Tech was really good." - Maryland head coach Mark Turgeon

• "I think their size inside is a difficult matchup problem for a lot of people, and I think their younger players on the perimeter, Bolden and Marcus Georges-Hunt are good players." - Clemson head coach Brad Brownell

• "I think Coach Gregory has done a tremendous job. In fact, I told our players coming into this game I thought they were executing a lot better than we were. I thought the fact that they had been doing such a good job motivated our guys and got our attention." - Florida State head coach Leonard Hamilton

• "They came out really hot – they came out the aggressor. They threw a punch and we kind of hit back with a run of ours, but they sustained and they were the tougher team." - Virginia freshman Justin Anderson

• "They've really gotten better, and it's just they've had a tough, tough opening part of the conference play. They'd had by far the most difficult schedule in the league. They are going to be a load for anybody as the second part of the season starts." - North Carolina coach Roy Williams

• "That's something Tech's guys do very well – they normally get inside position and can score. They're very big, they're very physical, but so are we and so are all the ACC teams. This is a league that prides itself on being very big." - Miami coach Jim Larranaga

• "Brian Gregory has done a great job. Wow, has he done a great job. He's got young kids. They defend, they rebound, they kicked our tail on the glass, and we're usually pretty good on the glass. They won the game on the glass. They weren't real sharp, and they still won. That's a compliment to him and having his guys ready to come out in the second half and just whip our tail on the glass." - Chattanooga coach John Shulman

• "I think [Gregory has] done a wonderful job. I think you build with defense, and they are a much better defensive team than they were last year. I'm very impressed watching tape of them. They are playing within themselves, and they understand what their jobs are out there." - Fordham coach Tom Pecora

• "After the game, I congratulated Daniel Miller. He's becoming a really good player. He understands what he can and can't do. He's very disciplined around the basket. He's a big son-of-a-gun, so he takes up some great space. I think he's got a bright future. I think Georgia Tech is moving in the right direction." - Fordham coach Tom Pecora

• "They're both good ball clubs. Florida is one of the top 10 in the country. They move the ball well and crash the boards well. So does Tech. They both have really great teams and they're very well-coached. That's about all I can say about them because they are both very good ball clubs." - Alabama State coach Lewis Jackson when asked to compare his team's opponents Florida and Tech

• "This place has a chance to become a special home court. The crowd is on top of you, it's really loud and the students are tremendous." - Tech coach Brian Gregory on McCamish Pavilion

• "I think he's really the difference maker for them. I think he's a much better player than he was a year ago, and in previous years." - Georgia coach Mark Fox on Mfon Udofia

• "They're notorious, as are the coaches in that family, for rebounding, and their niche (is) in the area of rebounding; they're terrific on the glass, and they're physical," - Illinois head coach John Groce

• "You're still talking about a good ACC team that had the 14th-best recruiting class, so for us it's a nice win." - California coach Mike Montgomery

• "Their size is impressive, they stayed really patient, they really make you guard them inside. They're looking for inside presence. They're constantly looking for their post guys, they're taking advantage of you helping, and when you help inside, they had some looks. But inside they battle you and they test you. Because they're big and strong inside - they kind of know their identity." - Rice coach Ben Braun

• "We wanted this kind of challenge. I have tremendous respect for Coach [Gregory], the Georgia Tech program and Coach [Bobby] Cremins. I was excited about the opportunity to come here and I wanted that for our program. I'd do it all over again. I know it's a tough assignment on the road the fi rst game of the year, but I thought our guys handled that part of it well." - Tulane coach Ed Conroy on the challenge coming in and opening Tech's new arena

• "They have more bodies and are stronger. At least tonight, they were a lot more physical and I think that showed in their emphasis on the boards. I thought they really moved the ball well side-to-side off ensively. They didn't take really any bad shots." - Conroy on the difference between this Tech team and the one Tulane defeated in 2011-12

• "I really like Coach (Brian) Gregory and his staff. They're going to be fine. He's a great coach. I spent a lot of time over at Tech working out and watching the team this past summer. They're going to be good. It's his first year, so he's got to get everything like he wants to get it. Seven Jackets on NBA Rosters

Seven former Georgia Tech players were on opening night rosters in the NBA when the league opened its 2012-13 season.

Two players changed teams during the off-season - Jarrett Jack, a seven-year NBA veteran drafted in the first round in 2005, was traded from New Orleans to Golden State, and Anthony Morrow, a four-year NBA vet, was traded from New Jersey to Atlanta in the off-season, then again to Dallas at the NBA trade deadline on Feb. 21.

Chris Bosh, a first-round draft choice of the Toronto Raptors in 2003, is now in his second season with the Miami Heat after helping that team to the NBA Championship in 2012.

The list includes second-year guard Iman Shumpert, who enjoyed a fine rookie season last year with the New York Knicks, which drafted him 17th overall in 2012, before he injured his knee.

Derrick Favors, the third overall pick in the 2011 NBA Draft by the New Jersey Nets, is now in his first full season with the Utah Jazz.

Forward Thaddeus Young, the 12th overall pick in 2007, is in his sixth season with the Philadelphia 76ers. Will Bynum, a member of Tech's 2004 Final Four squad, is in his fifth season with the Detroit Pistons.

BRIAN GREGORY

Head Coach - 2nd Season at Tech

Brian Gregory, who led the University of Dayton to 97 victories over his last four years there and worked under Tom Izzo at Michigan State when the Spartans won the 2000 NCAA championship, was named Georgia Tech's head basketball coach on March 28, 2011.

Gregory is the 13th head coach in Yellow Jacket history. Gregory coached eight seasons at Dayton where he compiled a record of 172-94 and participated in the NCAA Tournament or NIT five times. His 2003-04 and 2008-09 teams earned NCAA Tournament berths, and the Flyers captured the 2010 NIT crown after beating North Carolina in the championship game.

The 1990 Oakland (Mich.) University graduate won 150 games faster (seven seasons) than any coach in Dayton history. Over the last four seasons combined, his teams went 13-4 against BCS-level teams.

Gregory clearly put an emphasis on academics during his tenure at Dayton. Entering the 2010-11 season, every senior who played for Gregory graduated (23-of-23). All seven seniors who played on the 2010 NIT title team graduated that spring.

Prior to becoming the head coach at Dayton, Gregory spent the second of two highly-successful stints at Michigan State, where he was an assistant coach for two years before being promoted to associate head coach under Izzo for the 2001-02 and 2002-03 seasons. During those four years, the Spartans won one NCAA championship (2000), made three Elite Eight appearances, two Final Fours and claimed two Big Ten Conference championships.

A native of Mount Prospect, Ill., Gregory's first coaching job came during his first association with Michigan State in 1990 as a graduate assistant to head coach Jud Heathcote. He became a full-time assistant in 1992 and remained there when Izzo replaced Heathcote as head coach. Gregory left to work one season under Stan Joplin at Toledo in 1996, then returned to the Big Ten where he worked as an assistant coach under Kevin O'Neill at Northwestern for two seasons.

In all, Gregory arrived at Dayton with 15 years of coaching experience, including 12 seasons in the Big Ten Conference.
