GEORGIA TECH (15-10, 6-6 ACC) vs. MIAMI (16-8, 6-6 ACC)

GAME 26 • February 15, 2017 • 8 p.m. ET • Watsco Center • Coral Gables, Fla.

Tech Back on the Road to Visit Miami

Georgia Tech continues the back half of its Atlantic Coast Conference schedule Wednesday night when it visits Miami for an 8 p.m. regionally-televised game at the Watsco Center in Coral Gables, Fla.

Tech (15-10, 6-6 ACC), which has defied pre-season projections in its first season under head coach Josh Pastner, resumed its ACC schedule Saturday with a 65-54 win over Boston College at home. The Yellow Jackets, 2-7 on the road this season, including a win at NC State on Jan. 15, enter this week's games tied for eighth place in the ACC standings with the Hurricanes and Virginia Tech.

Miami (16-8, 6-6 ACC) has won four of its last six games to climb back toward the middle of the ACC standings, but dropped a 71-66 decision Saturday at No. 4 Louisville. The Hurricanes are 11-2 at home this season, including losses to Notre Dame and Florida State.

Wednesday's game will be regionally televised on the ACC Network (Peachtree TV in Atlanta) and will be streamed live online on the ACC Network Extra. Radio coverage is provided by Tech's flagship station, 680 the Fan (680 AM/93.7 FM), and is available via satellite radio (Sirius ch. 135, XM ch. 382).

The Starting Lineup

- Georgia Tech is at .500 after 12 games in the ACC (6-6) for the first time since the 2009-10 season. A win against Miami would put the Yellow Jackets above .500 after 13 games in the ACC for the first time since the 2000-01 season (also 7-6).
- Tech ranks No. 1 in the ACC in field goal percentage defense (39.9 pct.) vs. ACC teams, and ranks third in scoring defense (68.8 ppg). Nationally, Tech ranks 17th in field goal percentage defense and 57th in scoring defense against all opponents.

#CBSSports.com (at time of the game)

+First place in its conference

• Ben Lammers' +11.1 per game scoring average increase over the 2015-16 season is the best in the ACC, No. 7 nationally. But Tadic Jackson (+6.5) and Quinton Stephens (+5.2) and also have posted significant increases over last season. Josh Heath (+2.9) has more than doubled his 2015-16 average.

• Three keys for Tech - The Jackets are 14-1 this season when they shoot a better percentage from the floor than their opponent, are 11-0 when scoring 70 points and 13-1 when attempting more free throws than the opponent.

• Georgia Tech is 4-6 against teams in the top 50 of CBSSports.com's RPI rankings as of Thursday (2-3 vs. 1-25, 2-3 vs. 26-50).

• In the first half of its ACC schedule, Georgia Tech faced, in order, teams ranked No. 9, 8, 9, 16, 6 and 14. The Jackets have one remaining opponent currently ranked in the top 25 (Notre Dame again).

• Georgia Tech has defeated three top-25 teams this season (No. 9 North Carolina, No. 6 Clemson, No. 14 Notre Dame), the most in one season for the program since the Yellow Jackets went 4-3 vs. top-25 teams in 2003-04. Tech has beaten as many as three top-25 teams in one season six times prior to this season.

• Tech has beaten two top-10 teams this season - No. 9 North Carolina and No. 6 Florida State - the first time the Yellow Jackets have beaten multiple top-10 teams in the same season since 2004-05 (No. 5 Wake Forest in the regular season and No. 2 North Carolina in the ACC Tournament). It is the first time since 2003-04 that the Jackets have beaten multiple top-10 teams in the regular season (No. 1 Connecticut, No. 10 Wake Forest, No. 3 Duke). It is the 18th time in program history that Tech has defeated multiple top-10 teams in the same season.

Series Notes vs. Miami

• After winning the first two meetings with Miami after the Hurricanes became members of the ACC, Georgia Tech has dropped nine of the last 13, including a 75-68 defeat last season in Atlanta.

• Miami has an 12-8 lead in the all-time series which dates back to 1953, and is 12-6 against the Yellow Jackets since joining the ACC.

• Tech has won its last two games against Miami in Coral Gables, including a 71-69 victory over 6th-ranked Miami on March 6, 2013. It was Tech's first win at the Watsco Center since Feb. 26, 2005. Tech also captured a 70-50 victory over the Hurricanes in Coral Gables on Jan. 28, 2015.

• Miami has won the last five meetings in Atlanta and is 3-0 at McCamish Pavilion. Miami also won the only regular-season meeting between the two teams in 2011-12, as well as their ACC Tournament meeting, both games at Philips Arena.

• Miami was the opponent for Tech in its last game at Alexander Memorial Coliseum, a game the Yellow Jackets won 66-57 to close out the 2010-11 regular season. Tech won four of six games against the Hurricanes in the building.

• Tech is 2-5 against Miami teams coaches by Jim Larranaga, while Josh Pastner went 2-0 against Miami while the head coach at Memphis.

• Twelve of the 20 meetings have been decided by 10 points or less.

• The last meeting between the two schools prior to Miami's joining the ACC occurred in December of 1997 as part of the Orange Bowl Classic doubleheader at Miami Arena, the Hurricanes' home court until the team moved into the on-campus Convocation Center last year. The Yellow Jackets, led that year by senior forward Matt Harpring, won that game, 69-61.

• Tech played Miami twice under former head coach Whack Hyder, losing the first-ever meeting in the series by 22 points in 1953, then taking a six-point homecourt victory in 1967. That was the only pre-ACC visit by the Hurricanes to Alexander Memorial Coliseum, and the 90-84 Tech win has been the highest scoring game in the brief series.

Last Meeting vs. Miami

Sheldon McClellan scored 22 points, but Ja'Quon Newton's 3-pointer while falling out of bounds was the shot that carried the 17th-ranked Hurricanes to a 75-68 victory over hard-luck Georgia Tech on Sunday.

In a game that was tight all the way, the Hurricanes (18-4, 7-3 Atlantic Coast Conference) needed a shot like that to hold on for their fifth win in six games. Newton's basket made it 66-60, and Georgia Tech didn't get closer than four points the rest of the game.

Georgia Tech (12-11, 2-8) lost another tight one in the ACC, with all eight of its conference defeats being by less than 10 points.

Marcus Georges-Hunt scored 19 points, but it wasn't enough to lift Georgia Tech over Miami. Adam Smith added 14 points and five assists for Georgia Tech.

Miami made nine straight free throws in the final minute to seal their second ACC road win.

The margin was never more than seven points, but Miami tenaciously led throughout the second half after being up 33-32 at the break.

The Yellow Jackets came in as one of the nation's top rebounding teams, but Miami held its own in the lane. Georgia Tech managed just a 31-30 edge on the boards and got little production out of its big men, tumbling to its sixth loss in seven games. Nick Jacobs and Charles Mitchell were held to eight points apiece.

Last Game - Jackets Rally Past BC

Tadic Jackson scored a career-high 29 points, Ben Lammers and Josh Okogie each had a double-double and Georgia Tech recovered from a horrible first half to beat Boston College 65-54 on Saturday night at McCamish Pavilion.

The Yellow Jackets (15-10, 6-6 Atlantic Coast Conference) missed 22 of their first 24 shots and had 10 turnovers before Lammers' turnaround jumper cut the lead to 22-10 late in the first. Lammers and Okogie, the team's two leading scorers, went a combined 1 for 12 before intermission.

Georgia Tech, which snapped a two-game ACC losing streak, never trailed after Justin Moore's straightaway 3-pointer made it 34-32 with 12:28 remaining. The Jackets used a 35-18 run over the next 8 minutes to take their first double-digit lead when Jackson hit a pair of free throws.

Jerome Robinson scored 17 points for Boston College (9-17, 2-11).

Tech coach Josh Pastner played the same five players in the second half - Lammers, Okogie, Moore, Heath and Jackson - until the game's final minute. Quinton Stephens, the team's third-leading scorer, played just 5 minutes because of a sprained ankle. Corey Heyward started the game, but was replaced by Moore. The Jackets' 15 first-half points were their fewest before intermission since they had 12 in a 57-28 home loss to Virginia two years ago. After the poor start, Georgia Tech hit 22 of its next 35 shots from the field.

Pastner on Winning Without Stephens

"To be able to win the game without Quinton [Stephens], we rely on him so much, and for him to go down early shows you that this group of guys has become a good basketball team. Their fight and their resolve and their grit, anytime they've been knocked down they've always found a way to keep coming back and not let it avalanche. That's a great credit to our young men."

Team Trends

- Georgia Tech stands at .500 (6-6) for the season through 12 games for the first time since the 2009-10 team (also 6-6). That team finished 7-9.

- Tech improved to 13-3 at home this season, becoming the 14th Yellow Jacket team to win 13 or more home games in one season. Only five of those teams won 14 or more (14-0 in 1962-63, 14-2 in 1994-95, 16-1 in 2006-07, 14-2 in

Matt Harpring - ACC Legend

Matt Harpring, the No. 2 all-time scoring leader in Georgia Tech history, is among fourteen former standout players and an inspirational national championship coach named to this year's class of Atlantic Coast Conference Basketball Legends presented by New York Life.

This year's ACC Legends class includes two individual that were integral parts of NCAA Championship teams, two National Players of the Year, one National Defensive Player of the Year, four conference Players of the Year and two ACC Tournament MVPs.

Harpring joins Mark Price as the only two Georgia Tech players to be named to the All-ACC first team three times during his career from 1994-98. He was named to All-America teams by seven different organizations as a senior, as well as a finalist for both the Naismith and Wooden Awards. His number "15" was retired by the school during the final home game of his senior year. Harpring finished his career as the second leading scorer (2,225 points) and third leading rebounder (997) in Georgia Tech annals, and he is widely considered one of the hardest working players in college basketball history. He remains the Yellow Jackets' all-time leader in free throws made and attempted. Harpring was named Academic All-America twice and earned NCAA and ACC postgraduate scholarships. Harpring was selected by the Orlando Magic in the first round (15th pick) of the 1998 NBA draft. Named to the 1998-99 NBA All-Rookie first team, Harpring went on to play 11 years in the NBA and scored more than 12,000 career points.

Today, Harpring and his family live in Atlanta, and he works as a color analyst for the Utah Jazz television broadcasts. He is being inducted into the Georgia State Sports Hall of Fame in February.

2009-10 and 14-5 in 2015-16). The Jackets have three more home games left.

- Tech started Josh Heath, Corey Heyward, Ben Lammers, Josh Okogie and Quinton Stephens for the sixth game in a row and for the seventh time this season. Three Yellow Jackets - Lammers, Okogie and Stephens - have started every game this season.

- Tech played its third straight game without backup forward Abdoulaye Gueye (fractured wrist). Backup point guard Justin Moore returned after a two-game absence (abdominal injury). Quinton Stephens played only five minutes after re-injuring his left ankle (first suffered against Notre Dame).

- Tech missed its first 10 shots from the floor, and 2 for its first 24, and went 22-for-35 the rest of the game. The Yellow Jackets finished the first half at 5-of-30 (16.7 percent). The Jackets flipped that around by connecting on 65.5 percent (19-of-29) in the second half and finished at 40.7 percent.

- Tech trailed at the half (22-15), with its fewest points of the season (Jackets scored 18 vs. Louisville and Georgia). It was Tech's fewest points in a half since scoring 12 in the second half at Virginia during the 2014-15 season. The Yellow Jackets flipped that around by scoring 50 points after intermission, Tech's highest-scoring half of the season other than the 58-point first half against Tusculum.

- Tech overcame its largest deficit of the season to win. The Jackets trailed Notre Dame by 10 in the first half and came back to win. It was the largest deficit Tech has erased to win a game since Clemson in last year's ACC Tournament (won 88-85 in overtime after trailing by 18).

- Ben Lammers (14 points, 17 rebounds) and Josh Okogie (12 points, 12 rebounds) both had double-doubles against Boston College, the fifth time this season two Tech players have notched double-doubles in the same game. One of those was a points-assists double-double by Josh Heath at NC State.

- Tech had a 40-30 advantage on points in the paint, the first time in three ACC games the Jackets have come out on top in that category.

- Tech did not reach its magic number for points (70), but improved to 3-10 this season when it scores fewer than 70.

- Tech outshot Boston College 40.7 percent to 32.8 percent and improved to 15-1 when shooting a higher percentage from the floor than its opponent this season.

- Tech held its fifth ACC opponent and its 11th opponent overall this season under 40 percent from the floor. The Yellow Jackets lead the ACC in field goal percentage defense against conference teams (39.9 percent) and rank third in that category against all opponents (39.2 percent).

- Tech held its ninth ACC opponent in 12 games significantly below its season scoring average and offensive field goal percentage. Boston College scored 54 points after averaging 73.5 in its first 12 conference games, and shot 32.8 percent after coming into the game at 46.0 percent for the season.

- Pastner meter 1 (assists to made field goals): Tech had 18 assists on 24 made field goals (75 pct.) vs. Boston College (15 on 19 in the second half) - 60 percent goal accomplished. Tech is at 63.4 percent for the season, which ranks 13th in the nation, and 67.1 percent in ACC games.

- Pastner meter 2 (free throws made to opponents' attempts): Tech made 14 of 21 free throws to Boston College's 6-of-12 (goal of making more than opponent tries accomplished). The Yellow Jackets maintain a 72.1-percent clip from the foul line in ACC games, 68.9 percent in all games.

- Pastner meter 3 (guard rebounding): Tech's guards combined for 22 of Tech's 41 defensive rebounds, 20 by Josh Okogie and Justin Moore alone.

Player Trends

- Ben Lammers notched his 12th double-double this season (14 points, 17 rebounds) against Boston College, reaching double figures in points with a bucket at the 2:18 mark of the season half. He had 14 of his 17 rebounds by halftime. Lammers has had a double-double in each of Tech's six ACC victories.

- Lammers reached double digits in rebounds for the first time in four games (10 vs. Notre Dame) with a career-high 17. It was his 12th double-digit rebound this season. His previous best was 15 vs. Southern in the second game of this season. The 17 rebounds was the third-most by a Tech player in an ACC game.

- Lammers didn't get his first points until the 2:50 mark of the first half. He had 13 rebounds by that time.

- Tadic Jackson scored a career-high 29 points to post his fourth double-digit game in Tech's last five games, and set a new career best for the second time in five games (25 vs. Notre Dame). It was his fourth game of more than 20 points this season (20 vs. Southern, 24 at VCU, 25 vs. Notre Dame). He is averaging 15.6 points and 2.6 assists over that stretch and has hit 31 of 62 shots from the floor, 6 of 12 from three.

- Jackson's 29 points was the most by a Tech player coming off the bench since Matt Causey went off for 30 in a

Rand Rowland Named to Allstate NABC Good Works Team®

Senior forward Rand Rowland was named to the 2017 Allstate NABC Good Works Team® by the Allstate Insurance Company® and the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC), the organizations announced on Feb. 7.

Of the 181 nominees from colleges and universities across the country, Rowland is among 10 remarkable student-athletes named to the team for the positive impact he's had on the community and the lives of others. In addition to dedicating countless hours to their studies and athletics, the members of this year's team have spent their limited free time bettering communities all over the world and demonstrating a strong commitment to improving the lives of others.

Since 2013, members of the Allstate NABC Good Works Team® have given back to the host cities of the NCAA® Final Fours® through a community service initiative and monetary donation. This year, members of the Allstate NABC Good Works Team® will be invited by Allstate to be recognized at the 2017 NABC Convention and 2017 NCAA Men's Final Four® and will participate in a community service project to benefit Phoenix.

Rowland is a 6-7 senior forward from Cleveland, Ga., who joined the Yellow Jacket program as a non-scholarship player in the fall of 2014 and was put on scholarship this season. During his time at Tech, he has added value not only to his team, but to the bigger student-athlete population at Georgia Tech through his volunteer efforts.

game against Virginia Tech on Jan. 19, 2008. It was also the second-most points scored by an ACC player off the bench this season.

- Justin Moore played for the first time in three games. He grabbed a season and career-high eight rebounds, surpassing his previous best of six against North Carolina. He also hit one three-point field goal, which gave Tech its first lead of the game at 34-32 with 12:28 left in the second half. It was just his second three-pointer of the season. He also has six assists with just one turnover.

- Josh Okogie scored 12 points, his 20th double-digit game out of 25 games overall. He grabbed 12 rebounds for his third double-digit rebound game this season and his second double-double.

- Lammers and Okogie each played 39 minutes, and Josh Heath played 38. Lammers is averaging 35.7 minutes in ACC games, 34.3 overall. Jackson and Moore combined for 61 minutes off the bench.

- Josh Heath dished seven more assists and is averaging 4.9 in ACC games.

- Lammers blocked three shots and Tech swatted seven, both figures near their respective season averages. Lammers ranks second in the nation at 3.24 per game and has 132 for his career, No. 7 on Tech's all-time list.

• Corey Heyward, who started his seventh straight game, played 10 minutes with one turnover. In his six starts, he has committed just two turnovers in 134 minutes.

Pastner on Where Tech Stands

"This is still year one of a rebuild job, we've still got a long way to go. You don't take it for granted, we're still far from being out of the woods, but it's pretty miraculous for us to be sitting where we're sitting right now in February. It's a real credit to those young men to have an understanding about a team. It's a great lesson, or example of what a team can do. We've become a good team. We're very limited, tons of deficiencies, but a team usually prevails in the long run."

Pastner on Where Tech Stands

"Josh Pastner and his staff have done an amazing job. The players have really embraced the schemes, both offensively and defensively. Ben Lammers has got to be seriously considered for most improved player in the league. Josh Heath has done a tremendous job of orchestrating what they are doing at both ends of the floor. Josh Okogie is really something, reminds me of Josh Hart from Villanova the way he plays." – Miami head coach Jim Larranaga

StraitJackets

Georgia Tech has held all but three of its Atlantic Coast Conference opponents below, significantly below in several cases, their scoring averages and field goal shooting percentages in conference play.

Tech ranks third in scoring defense and No. 1 in field goal percentage defense in ACC games only, fourth in scoring defense and third in field goal defense against all opponents. The Jackets also ranks No. 2 in the ACC in defensive rebounds per game, No. 1 against ACC opponents only.

• The Yellow Jackets rank No. 9 nationally in adjusted defensive efficiency according to KenPom.com (90.9 points allowed per 100 possessions), having faced seven of the nation's top 30 most efficient offensive teams in ACC play.

• Tech has not ranked this high in KenPom's adjusted defensive efficiency since 2005 (5th). The Yellow Jackets' 2004 NCAA runner-up team ranked No. 4.

• Tech also ranks 18th nationally according to KenPom.com in effective defensive field goal percentage, and 32nd in fewest free throw attempts as a percentage of field goals attempted. The Jackets also rank 13th nationally in lowest two-point field goal percentage yield (43.4 pct.).

• Tech has been able to do this while ranking among the nation's top 50 (currently 40th) in fewest personal fouls per game.

ACC Coaches on Tech's Defense

"They do some things out of their man-to-man and zones that make it challenging to make adjustments. Your players don't want to overreact every time they make a change. You need to have an overall plan for how you're going to play them." – Miami head coach Jim Larranaga

"They change defenses really well, so you don't get into a really good rhythm. They take away the rim so effectively, it puts some pressure on those guys outside to make shots. He makes up for a lot of mistakes." – Boston College head coach Jim Christian

"Their defensive scheme seemed to cause us to be extremely tentative. We're the highest field-goal shooting percentage team in the ACC and we look up and we're shooting 17 percent in the first half. I know we had some point-blank layups and some open looks that we normally make, [but] I think that their mixing defenses made our kids tentative. Give them a lot of praise for coming up with a great game plan. We got beat by a team that outplayed us in every phase today." - FSU's Leonard Hamilton

"It was hard for us to get into an offensive rhythm because you couldn't get anything around the basket because of [Ben] Lammers and [Quinton] Stephens. Their shot-blocking really changes the game. The guards that he plays can all play defense, and then you've got the shot-blockers in the back. We worked like heck to get 60 points today." - Notre Dame's Mike Brey

Assisted Living

Georgia Tech coach Josh Pastner has preached and prodded his Yellow Jackets on ball and player movement from the first time he got his team on the practice court in April. His primary measuring stick on how well the Jackets perform is their ratio of assists to made field goals.

The results this season have been remarkable. The Yellow Jackets rank 10th nationally, according to KenPom.com, in highest percentage of assists to made field goals at 63.4 percent, the team's highest rate since the 1992-93 season. Tech's number is 67.1 percent in ACC games.

The national average for that statistic is 52.8 percent. Only against VCU (11 assists/29 FGM), Georgia (8/18) and Duke (10/22) has Tech not met or exceeded that figure this season.

Since assist statistics have been kept at Georgia Tech (dating back to 1964-65), only five Tech teams have posted a better season rate.

- 1987-88 – 68.3
- 1988-89 – 65.9
- 1986-87 – 65.8
- 1992-93 – 65.0
- 1985-86 – 64.8

The 2000-01 and 1999-00 teams were close to Tech's current rate

- 2000-01 – 62.886
- 1999-00 – 62.896

Extended Mileage

Pre-season research at ESPN judged that Georgia Tech was the least experienced team in the nation. You don't need to look much further for evidence of that than the Yellow Jackets' minutes-played column on the stat sheet.

Playing time for these five returning letterwinners has drastically escalated to fill the void created by the loss of five seniors from last year's team.

Some of those numbers figure have risen in ACC play. Ben Lammers and Quinton Stephens have averaged 36-plus minutes in ACC games. Tech has played its reserves an average of just 46 minutes in conference games.

Player	Career MPG	This Season
Abdoulaye Gueye	4.3	10.1
Josh Heath	18.5	28.8
Corey Heyward	13.1	17.8
Tadric Jackson	14.3	22.0
Ben Lammers	11.7	34.3
Quinton Stephens	17.3	31.9

Tech's Block Party

Ben Lammers, with 81 blocked shots in 25 games (No. 2 in the nation), has not been alone in his ability to defend the rim for Georgia Tech. The Yellow Jackets have swatted away 150 shots, a 6.28 average which ranks No. 1 the ACC and ranks No. 3 in the nation.

Quinton Stephens has blocked 25 shots, freshman Josh Okogie has 15 and Abdoulaye Gueye has 12, and five other players have at least three.

It may signal a trend for the Yellow Jackets. Only one of Josh Pastner's Memphis teams ranked lower than 21st nationally in blocked shots in seven years, and two of them ranked fourth (6.4 per game each).

Tech blocked a program-record 16 shots against Southern, and blocked 10 each against NC State and Virginia Tech for its high in an ACC game.

The Final Countdown

In its Atlantic Coast Conference wins, Georgia Tech has proven adept maintaining control of the game once the Yellow Jackets have gained the upper hand.

- In its upset of No. 9 North Carolina on Dec. 31, Tech moved ahead at the 11:59 mark on a pair of Josh Okogie free throws and never again surrendered the lead in a 75-63 victory.

- Against Clemson on Jan. 12, the Yellow Jackets took the lead for good on a Tadic Jackson three-pointer at the 12:52 mark and methodically built the lead to a final 75-63 score.

- At NC State, Jackson broke a tie with a jumper at the 16:11 mark, hit another after NC State closed to two at 10:55, and Tech built a 14-point lead before eventually winning 86-76.

- Against No. 6 Florida State, Tech raced out to a 38-11 lead with a 19-0 run in the first half and never let up, leading 41-15 at the half and maintaining most of that margin through the 78-56 final. When the Seminoles crept within 18 at the 8:36 mark, Tech responded with a 7-2 burst and the lead was at least 20 the rest of the way.

- Against Notre Dame, Tech gained the lead with 12:57 left and led by five with 5:15 left. Notre Dame rallied to tie, but never regained the lead and missed three shots in its final three possessions.

- Against Boston College, Tech trailed by as many as 15 points in the first half, seven at intermission and by eight early in the second half. But the Yellow Jackets went on a 14-4 run and took the lead at 12:28 on a Justin Moore three-pointer. Tech expanded its lead to as many as 15 before finishing with a 65-54 victory.

In the second half of its ACC wins, Tech has outscored its opponents 41.2 to 33.5, outshot them from the floor 51.3 to 38.2 percent, outshot them from three-point range 36.6 to 27.9 percent, outshot them from the free throw line 79.1 to 66.7 percent (72 FTM to opponents 48 FTA), and out-rebounded them 20.2 to 15.5. Tech also has compiled a 38/18 assist/turnover ratio in the second half of its ACC wins.

The Laminator is Everywhere

Ben Lammers has come a long way from being a dependable reserve post player for Georgia Tech, his role last season as a sophomore.

After playing all 36 games last season in relief of seniors Charles Mitchell and Nick Jacobs, the 6-10 junior center has flourished in the Yellow Jackets' four-out, one-in system, stringing together 12 double-doubles and 22 double-digit scoring efforts this season. He came up short just three times this season (9 points at Duke, 7 at Virginia, 7 at Wake Forest).

He has posted a double-double in each of Tech's ACC wins (11 points, 11 rebounds vs. North Carolina; 23 points, 10 rebounds vs. Clemson; 10 points, 11 rebounds at NC State; 18 points, 11 rebounds vs. Florida State; 15 points, 10 rebounds vs. Notre Dame; 14 points, 17 rebounds vs. Wake Forest).

Lammers is currently the nation's No. 2 shot blocker, averaging 3.24 per game. He also is the ACC's second-leading rebounder (9.7 per game), ranks 21st in the ACC in scoring average (14.7 points per game) and No. 3 in field goal percentage (52.9 pct.).

His jump of 11.1 points per game in his scoring average over last season is the second-best in the ACC and ranks No. 8 nationally.

The player who averaged less than 15 minutes per game last year has averaged 34.3 overall this season, 35.7 minutes in ACC games, including a 40-minute game against Notre Dame. He ranks No. 7 in the ACC in that category.

Assistant coach Eric Reveno on Lammers - "He's a deceiving athlete: long, moves well, runs the floor well. From a coaching perspective, the thing that you see right away from Ben is that he's got a very good feel for the game. You see it in his passes, finding open guys ... and he's got a very good shooting touch. Those two things might be the hardest to teach. He's good at those things. From a coaching perspective, you get excited right away."

What Other Coaches Say About Ben Lammers

"In my opinion, I don't know if there's another player in this league that can dictate the terms of the game on both sides of the floor, because he takes away everything at the front of the rim. They run stuff through him on offense but it's not the offense [that makes him so good]. There's a lot of guys who score, but

Tech played 55 seasons in Alexander Memorial Coliseum, compiling a record of 556-194 (.741). Miami was the last team to play Tech there, a game Tech won, and was the first ACC team to play in McCamish Pavilion, which Miami won. For the 2011-12 season, Tech played its home games at Philips Arena and the Arena at Gwinnett.

he really does an unbelievable job taking away the rim, and he makes up for all of the mistakes around the basket. You have to be able to finish that. That's why they're winning." - Boston College coach Jim Christian

"A guy like Ben Lammers, just a phenomenal player. I said it after the game in Atlanta, that the guy's a pro. He has an unbelievable soft shot. He was making some tough shots, guarded shots... They're mixing their defenses and playing zone, but they play a lot of man-to-man now, and Ben Lammers on the ball screen is about as good as anybody in our league." - Clemson's Brad Brownell following the Tigers' Feb. 1 win over Tech

"He's really a gifted, gifted young man. What did he have? Three blocks? It felt like he had 10 blocks. He changed another 10 [shots]. He's a gifted player. He's good with the ball on the perimeter, he's a good passer, he defends, [and] he offensive rebounds." - Notre Dame's Mike Brey

"I've known Ben since he was young. I know his high school coach really well. I know his family. He shows zero emotion, but he has an incredibly blue-collar work ethic, and his skillset, you kind of want something to be flashy. It's not flashy, but it's very productive. There's a lot of pros in our league. He will be a longtime pro because of all the things I just rattled off. He's doing it in the best league in the country and he's very effective." - Virginia Tech's Buzz Williams

"Ben Lammers is a real good player. I mean he is really, really good. He makes it hard at the rim on offense. You can't score over him. Offensively, he's talented in that he can score at the rim with his jump hook. He's making 17-foot jump shots. He's a very good high-post passer. He's an elite-level player in this league." - Brownell after Tech's Jan. 12 win over the Tigers

"I just think he's one of the most improved players not only in the conference, but the country. He has an outstanding mid-range shot, he's a terrific shot blocker, has a good low-post game, gets off his feet, he's athletic. He does it all that you'd want from a big man. He's a triple threat." - Louisville coach Rick Pitino

"I think he's improved as much as anyone in the league. You look at where he was the last two years... he's scoring better than ever, rebounding at a higher level. He's expanded his game to where he's able to consistently hit from 15 to 17 feet." - Duke acting head coach Jeff Capel

Josh 1.0

Freshman Josh Okogie is putting together the kind of season that rivals some of the best freshmen in Georgia Tech history (see list on page 7).

The 6-4 guard rang up his second 30-point effort of the season Jan. 25 with 35 points (and 14 rebounds) against Florida State.

In the last 20 years, only two Georgia Tech players have tossed up a 35-point game (B.J. Elder 36 vs. Clemson in 2004, Will Bynum 35 vs. North Carolina in 2005).

He has posted three other games over 20 points in ACC action, scoring 26 points in Tech's upset of No. 9 North Carolina on Dec. 31, 27 at NC State on Jan. 15 and 23 at Wake Forest on Feb. 4.

Okogie won ACC Rookie of the Week honors after each of those games (four times total), as well as after his 38-point outburst Nov. 26 against Tulane, which was a record for a Tech freshman.

In his 20-plus-point games this season, Okogie has also averaged 6.0 rebounds and 3.2 assists, an indication of his focus, according to head coach Josh Pastner. Further, he is 53-of-67 (79.1 pct.) from the free throw line in those five games.

Okogie has averaged 17.3 points in ACC games, which ranks 11th in the conference, and he has connected on 45.0 percent of his shots from the floor and 77.1 percent from the foul line in conference play. He has averaged 5.9 rebounds in ACC games.

Overall, Okogie has averaged a team-high 15.3 points, third among ACC freshmen, while hitting 43.1 percent from the floor, 33.3 percent on threes and 76.2 percent on free throws.

He's gotten to the free throw line a team-high 168 times, twice as many as the next highest Jacket (Ben Lammers), mostly due to his ability to attack the basket and run the floor in transition. He ranks third in the ACC in free throw attempts per game at 6.7, and has gotten to the line an average of 8.0 times in ACC games.

What They Say About Josh Okogie

"Josh Okogie is going to keep getting better and better and better. He's barely tapped his potential. He's got to continue being sound and continue to improve. His future is extremely, extremely bright." - Georgia Tech's Josh Pastner

"Josh Pastner has a real building block in freshman guard Josh Okogie. The 6-4 guard had 26 points and five rebounds in Saturday's upset of North Carolina and is averaging 14.2 points this season. This will be a critical piece as Pastner attempts to rebuild the Yellow Jackets' program." - CBB analyst Jon Rothstein

"He had an unbelievable day. He was as focused as anybody I've ever seen. He had another game this year where he had 38 points, so this is not a fluke. He's the real deal. He's a very good player. He maintains his poise, he doesn't get rattled, he's extremely confident and athletic. He's a guy that you're going to enjoy watching for a long time." - Florida State's Leonard Hamilton

More on Okogie's FSU Game

• Okogie's 35 points were two shy of Tech's record of 37 in an ACC game by Dennis Scott vs. North Carolina in 1990. It was the most points for a Tech player in an ACC game since Will Bynum racked up 35 against the same Tar Heels in a 2005 ACC Tournament game.

Media Guidelines

Georgia Tech's practices are generally closed to the public and the media, but coaches and players are available during the half-hour prior to practices most non-game days. Notices will be distributed weekly to confirm the schedule.

TV stations are allowed to shoot B-roll during the first 15 minutes of those practices.

Media are asked to notify Mike Stamus the day before of their need to attend and to make specific player requests.

Interview requests with players that need to be conducted at other times must be made through the Georgia Tech communications office at least 24 hours in advance. These interviews will be conducted at a time and place convenient to the players' availability and class schedule.

Media are asked not to contact players directly either by phone, e-mail, text or social media. They are instructed not to respond. Every effort will be made to make players available.

Interviewing Coach Pastner

Media wishing to speak with Coach Pastner either before a practice or at other times must notify Mike Stamus in the communications office in advance to make or confirm arrangements. He also is available each Monday on the ACC Teleconference (10:40 a.m.) beginning January 9.

Post-Game Protocol

Both head coaches will hold a post-game press conference in the designated interview room (Shah Media Room at McCamish Pavilion).

Players requested by the media will be brought to the interview room following the coaches press conferences, when the team is at home, outside the team's locker room when the team is on the road.

Josh Pastner Radio Show

Head coach Josh Pastner's weekly radio show airs each Monday from 7-8 p.m. live on "680 the Fan" and 93.7 FM, beginning Dec. 5.

ACC Coaches Weekly Teleconference

The 15 ACC head basketball coaches will be featured on nine Monday teleconferences during the 2016-17 season, beginning on Monday, January 9, 2017, and continuing through February 27. Each coach will have 10 minutes to make an opening statement and answer questions. There will be an instant replay of each teleconference on the Conference's internet site TheACC.com each Monday afternoon.

Georgia Tech head coach Josh Pastner will be on the teleconference at 10:40 a.m. each week.

Coaches that play on Monday in January and February are not required to participate in that day's call. The teleconference schedule for each Monday will adjust somewhat for the head coaches whose teams do not play that Monday night.

Contact the ACC media relations office at 336-851-6062 for the call-in number and for questions on the schedule.

- Okogie scored 20-plus for the third time in an ACC victory. He previously scored 26 in Tech's win over No. 9 North Carolina on Dec. 31 and 27 at NC State on Jan. 15. It was his second 30-plus game this season (scored 38 vs. Tulane on Nov. 26).

- Okogie became the third Georgia Tech freshman to score 30 or more points in multiple games. Mark Price did it twice in 1982-83, and Kenny Anderson did it four times in 1989-90.

- Okogie became the first ACC player with 30 points, 10 rebounds and five assists in a game since A.D. Vassallo (Virginia Tech - March, 2009)

- Okogie was the first player to deliver 35 points and 14 rebounds in a game vs. Division I competition this season. He is only the second ACC player to do it since the start of 2010-11 (Brice Johnson 39 and 23 at FSU on 1/4/2016).

Higher Q

Quinton Stephens has spent three years working to become a more consistent outside shooter, but as a senior in Georgia Tech's new system under head coach Josh Pastner, the 6-9 forward has expanded his game and does whatever needs to be done to help the Yellow Jackets.

Stephens, playing a stretch-4 position rather than his wing forward of the past, fills up most every column on the stat sheet in a nightly basis. He has doubled his career scoring (10.2 ppg) and rebounding averages (7.8), scoring in double figures 15 times and rebounding in double digits eight times.

He put together the best stretch of his career over Tech's last eight ACC games before Boston College (injured his ankle early in the game and played just five minutes), averaging 13.1 points and 9.4 rebounds while re-discovering his three-point stroke (22-for-55, 40 percent).

In that stretch, he recorded two of his five double-doubles this season (18/13 at Virginia Tech, 14/11 at Wake Forest), matched his career scoring high with 22 at NC State, and three times hit his career high in rebounds (13).

Tech is 17-5 when he scores in double figures since the beginning of the 2015-16 season.

He is third on the team in assists (1.9 per game) and, in keeping with Pastner's attack-on-offense mandate, has gotten to the free throw line more frequently. He has connected on 69.4 percent of 75 attempts this season, 74.1 percent in ACC games. He attempted only 28 free throws last year, and has tried 27 in ACC games alone this season.

Stephens ranks No. 6 in the ACC in rebounder average in all games (7.8) and seventh in ACC games only (7.8).

With six games to go in the regular season, Stephens already has set career highs for a season in every column of the stat sheet.

Pastner on Stephens - "Quinton has totally changed his game. You see Quinton on the glass, the way he's flying all over the place. He's doing things he has never done. He has totally changed his game for the better."

Action Jackson

When Tadic Jackson is healthy and playing well, he makes a difference for the Georgia Tech with his ability to penetrate, handle the ball and score in traffic. The Josh Pastner system seems to suit his skill set.

The junior from Tifton, Ga., has connected on 46.3 percent of his shots from the floor, and 38.8 percent from three-point range, both well above his career norms of 32.2 percent overall and 21.9 percent from distance. He is Tech's top scorer off the bench at 11.2 points per game.

Jackson can be a game-changer. He has set a career high in points in each of Tech's last two ACC victories, 25 against Notre Dame on Jan. 28 and 29 against Boston College on Feb. 11.

Against Notre Dame, seven of his points came in a 15-2 first-half run that brought the Yellow Jackets back from a 10-point deficit. He grabbed two rebounds and three assists, including the rebound of Notre Dame's last-possession miss and the throw-ahead to Josh Okogie for his game-winning layup.

Against Boston College, he finished off a 7-0 run to end the first half with a pair of layups, then scored 20 of his 29 in the second half as the Yellow Jackets erased an eight-point deficit to win by 11.

He remained in the game for most of the second half against in Tech's first meeting with Clemson, made two key threes, grabbed four rebounds and scored 10 points as Tech pulled away in the second half. He was on the floor for the final 17 minutes at NC State, scoring eight points in a run that broke a 47-all tie and put the Jackets ahead by 11 with under nine minutes remaining.

The 6-2 junior scored 16 of his 24 points in the second half at VCU and buried a big three-pointer in overtime. He finished 9-of-18 from the floor, hit a pair of threes and did not turn the ball over in 31 minutes.

In Tech's final non-conference game against North Carolina A&T, he scored 11 of his 12 points in the second half, including seven of the nine straight points Tech scored to erase a 45-41 deficit in the final 4:44.

Pastner on Jackson - "I've been hard on him, but I've been hard on him knowing his upside and his potential. I've pushed him hard, and I've held him accountable, but Tadic is a fine, young man and he's got a chance to be a really good player. He just has to stay aggressive, he's got to stay in attack mentality. His offense has to come through his defense and rebounding. That's where you get your energy. He's got to continue to take great pride in that."

Boston College coach Jim Christian - "He's a very strong guard. We knew he was going to drive it. Towards the end of the first half, he really started driving the ball. That's what we talked about at halftime. He's going to drive the ball, he's going to get the ball on the wing and he's going to power drive it to the middle of the floor. And he started the second half doing that, I think two or three times. Got him going. He's a good post-up guard, so in that area he's a little bit of a matchup problem for us, a big guard like that. But he played really well."

Heath Becomes Key to Victory

In Georgia Tech's short playing rotation, every player's performance is critical, but senior point guard Josh Heath has made himself more indispensable as the ACC season has moved on and provided the Yellow Jackets with a steady hand.

In Tech's ACC victories this season, Heath has averaged 7.3 points and 6.8 assists per game, compared to 4.3 and 3.0 in the Jackets' losses. Even those numbers exceed his career averages of 3.3 points and 2.9 assists entering this season.

Always a sure-handed player, Heath has carried a 41-to-17 (2.41-1) assist/turnover ratio on those ACC wins. He has shot 51.3 percent from the floor, 3-of-8 on threes and 75 percent from the foul line, and has a team-high 11 steals while averaging 34.8 minutes.

ACC Coaches on Tech

"They were more aggressive, they got the ball where they wanted to get it more than we did. As the game went along, they got more confidence and more confidence. And we got tighter. I didn't expect that and didn't see that coming. But again, their coach did a much better job of getting their guys ready to play than I did." - North Carolina's Roy Williams

"I said after the first time we played them that they were better than people realized, and it's proven to be true. They're good. I said that this team was more talented than people realized. Ben Lammers is one of the best centers in our league. Defensively he's a problem around the rim, blocking shots, altering shots. Josh Okogie's one of the best freshmen in our league, and he's continued to get better. Josh Heath just runs their team, doesn't make mistakes, doesn't turn the ball over. Quinton Stephens is a senior who's been through the wars of this league, and is quietly averaging 12 and 8. Tadic Jackson is one of those big, strong guards that's a problem. They don't have as much depth as some of the teams in our league, but they're starting five or six is very good. Josh and his staff have done a great job of creating a system that they can be successful in." - Clemson's Brad Brownell

"He's doing a phenomenal job. He hired a really good staff. Ben Lammers is going to be the most improved player in the league. [Josh Okogie] may be one of the freshman of the year if you take out the one-and-dones. Josh has gone a tremendous job of getting them to play together. I don't think they were picked last because of their talent, but Josh and his staff have done a tremendous job of maxing out that talent. Georgia Tech is constantly changing defenses. They play every kind of zone there is, and they do a good job of keeping teams from getting into a flow." - Virginia Tech's Buzz Williams

"Josh [Pastner] has done a nice job with that group with their Princeton kind of offense and mixing up the defenses." -

Virginia's Tony Bennett

"I think Josh Pastner is doing a great job for that team. They started out with a bang, and he has them playing at a very high level." - Wake Forest's Danny Manning

Okogie Goes for 38 vs. Tulane

Josh Okogie set a Georgia Tech freshman record for points in a game with his 38 on Nov. 26 against Tulane. He hit 12 of 20 shots from the floor and 13 of 18 from the free throw line (more than Tulane's entire team, 12-of-17). It is the most points scored by an ACC player in a game this season.

- He eclipsed the previous Tech freshman mark of 33 by Mark Price against Virginia on March 12, 1983 (ACC Tournament) and Dion Glover against Seton Hall on March 11, 1998 (NIT).

- It was the fourth-most points scored by a freshman in ACC history and the most since the 2013 ACC Tournament, when Boston College's Olivier Hanlan scored 41 (the ACC freshman record) against Georgia Tech. There have been two other 40-point games by freshmen in ACC history - Harrison Barnes of North Carolina in 2011 and Tyler Hansbrough of North Carolina in 2006.

- Okogie's 38 points were the most by any Tech player since Kenny Anderson scored 42 vs. Howard on Jan. 2, 1991, and tied for the seventh-highest single-game scoring total in program history.

- Okogie became the fifth different Tech freshman to score 30 points in a game (Kenny Anderson did it four times, Mark Price did it twice, Dion Glover and Thaddeus Young did it once each).

- Okogie scored 14 straight points for Tech bridging intermission, including the last six points of the first half and the first eight of the second half. His spree helped Tech extend its lead from 31-30 to 45-32.

Pastner on Okogie's 38-point night - "He didn't take plays off. Beforehand, he was having the tendency to take plays off. Now I say that, you look at his numbers as a freshman has been pretty darn good. He's just going to continue to get better. The reason he scored offensively was because he was at his best defensively as he's been all year long. It translated to him being really locked in offensively. When he is not locked in defensively, he is not as effective offensively. Tonight he was his best defensively and it triggered and translated into him being great offensively."

Jackets Excel in Classroom in the Fall

Ten Yellow Jackets earned a grade-point average of 3.0 or better during the fall semester, and Tech's cumulative fall GPA of 2.85 is the highest on record for the team. All four seniors are among the group with 3.0+ GPAs, including Josh Heath, Corey Heyward (fifth-year because of an injury red-shirt in 2012-13), Rand Rowland and Quinton Stephens. Rowland graduated last Saturday, and the other three are scheduled to graduate in May.

New Era Beginning for Tech Basketball

Georgia Tech begins its 102nd season of basketball in 2016-17 under new head coach Josh Pastner, the 14th head coach in program history.

Pastner, 39, compiled a 167-73 record over seven seasons as the head coach at Memphis, where the Tigers earned bids to the NCAA Tournament four times. He is tied for the 10th most wins for a head coach in his first seven seasons in Division I basketball history, and is the second winningest active coach under the age of 40 in NCAA Division I.

Despite his young age, Pastner has been involved in basketball at the Division I level for 20 years, as a player and an assistant coach at Arizona, and as an assistant coach and the head coach at Memphis. He has been a part of teams that have won 490 games, played in 17 NCAA Tournaments and 18 total post-season events. Teams he has been involved with have won 12 conference tournament or regular-season championships, advanced to seven Sweet Sixteens, five Elite Eights, two Final Fours and two NCAA championship games.

Jackets At-A-Glance

The Yellow Jackets returned seven letterwinners from a team that won 21 games and advanced to the third round of the National Invitation Tournament last spring, including senior forward Quinton Stephens (6-9, Atlanta, Ga.), senior guards Josh Heath (6-2, Tampa, Fla.) and Corey Heyward (6-1, Duluth, Ga.) and junior guard Tadic Jackson (6-2, Tifton, Ga.), who have started 76 games between them in their careers, and junior center Ben Lammers (6-10, San Antonio, Texas).

Tech lost its top four players in scoring, starts and minutes played from a year ago, including Marcus Georges-Hunt, now in the NBA D-League after averaging 16.7 points per game last year, and Adam Smith, a 41-percent three-point shooter now playing in Europe.

But Pastner's first Tech team has some veteran presence. Stephens, who started the last 11 games of the 2015-16 season, had 26 career starts in the last three years and had missed only one game in his career. Heath started 21 games last season and had 29 starts overall in his career. Heyward started 15 games as a freshman and has 18 career starts. Jackson had seven career starts and missed only one game in two seasons. Graduate transfers Kellen McCormick (Western Michigan) and Jodan Price (Eastern Michigan) had 12 starts and 166 games played between them.

Stephens was Tech's top returning scorer at 5.0 points per game, while Jackson was sixth on the scoring chart at 4.7 points per game.

Tech does not have the size it enjoyed with post-players Charles Mitchell and Nick Jacobs last year, and none of Tech's returning frontcourt players had started a game in college. But Lammers played in all 36 games last season, averaging 14.5 minutes per game and leading the team in blocked shots (47). That group includes 6-9 sophomore Abdoulaye Gueye (Dakar, Senegal) and 6-10 freshman Sylvester Ogbonda (Port Harcourt, Nigeria), both of whom redshirted last season.

Tech Adds Solid Freshman Class

Tech's freshman class includes a trio of three-star perimeter players in 6-5 Christian Matthews from Clinton, Md., 6-4 Justin Moore from San Diego, Calif., and 6-4 Josh Okogie from Snellville, Ga. Matthews, a high-scoring wing from National Christian Academy, and Okogie, a first-team all-state choice from Shiloh High School, signed in the early period last November, while Moore, an all-state point guard in California, came on board in June after initially signing with Tulane.

Two Grad Transfers Complete Roster

Kellen McCormick, a sharp-shooting forward from Western Michigan, and Jodan Price, a solid wing from Eastern Michigan, enrolled at Georgia Tech during the summer term to give the Yellow Jackets additional veteran presence on the roster. McCormick, the son of former Michigan center and current ESPN basketball analyst Tim McCormick, made 42 percent of his three-point tries over three seasons at Western Michigan. Price, from Indianapolis, Ind., initially enrolled at DePaul and played two years at Eastern Michigan (28 percent on his threes) before landing at Tech.

Transition Points

- According to ESPN.com's John Gasaway, Tech began the 2016-17 season as the least experienced team in Division I, returning only 25 percent of its possession-minutes from 2015-16. Gasaway measures experience by calculating a team's "returning possession minutes," the percentage of minutes that a player recorded last season, multiplied by the percentage of the team's possessions that he used (as listed at kenpom.com).

- Georgia Tech is playing a program-record 31 regular-season games this season, assisted by participating in an exempt four-game, multi-team event to begin the season. Tech also filled its bye spot in the ACC schedule on Feb. 7 with Tusculum.

- Tech also is playing a program-record 19 regular-season home games in 2016-17, nine in the ACC and 10 non-conference. The previous high was 18 last season.

- Georgia Tech lost 78 percent of its scoring and 67 percent of its minutes from last year's team, which went 21-15 and reached the quarterfinals of the National Invitation Tournament.

- Georgia Tech's roster includes 12 scholarship players and three walk-ons. Of the 12 scholarship players, five are seniors.

- Pastner had two returning players who made more than 10 starts last season - Quinton Stephens (14) and Josh Heath (11).

- Career collegiate starts by current players before this season - Corey Heyward (18), Tadic Jackson (7), Kellen McCormick (2), Jodan Price (10), Quinton Stephens (26).

- Sophomore forward Abdoulaye Gueye and freshman center Sylvester Ogbonda sat out the season as redshirts.

- Tech's top four scorers from a year ago, all seniors, accounted for 71.4 percent of the Yellow Jackets' points, 68.7 percent of the shots taken and 55.2 percent of the minutes.

Pastner's Winning Staff

- Head coach Josh Pastner and all three assistant coaches played major conference Division I basketball - Eric Reveno at Stanford (1985-89), Tavaras Hardy at Northwestern (1998-2002), Darryl LaBarrie at Georgia Tech and Pastner at Arizona (1993-97).

- Tech's coaching staff has participated in 32 NCAA Tournaments collectively - Reveno has been involved in eight NCAA Tournaments as a coach and one as a player; Hardy in three as a coach; LaBarrie in two as a coach and one as a player; and Pastner in 13 as a coach and four as a player.

- Pastner hired two former Georgia Tech players to his staff - assistant coach LaBarrie, who played three years under Bobby Cremins and Paul Hewitt (1998-2001) and was an assistant coach for two years under Hewitt (2009-11), and director of player personnel Mario West, a non-scholarship player under Hewitt (2003-07) who played two seasons in the NBA.

- Only two members of Pastner's staff at Memphis, director of operations Julian Swartz and video coordinator Tyler Benson, followed him to Georgia Tech. All three assistant coaches are new to Pastner's staff.

Pastner on How Tech Should Play

"I just still feel that we could be a lot faster with our pace and our cuts. It's going to take just time and film and work. I don't want to call a play every time down. I don't want to, I don't like doing that. I want our guys to be able to play with freedom within structure and be able to be a basketball player and make plays. With that comes a lot of responsibility, they've got to understand how to play the right way, how to play with freedom, how to play in attack mode and how to play with pace. Part of this year is going to be ups and downs and growing pains to be able to understand that is what we've got to do." - following Tech's season-opening win over Tennessee Tech

Jackets Sign NY Guard Alvarado

Successfully recruiting the New York area for the first time since the late 1990s, Georgia Tech signed Brooklyn, N.Y., point guard Jose Alvarado during the November signing period.

The reigning New York City Catholic League player of the year, the 6-foot point guard led Christ the King High School in Middle Village, N.Y., the No. 19 team in the nation entering the 2016-17 season, to the New York City title twice and his AAU team, the New York Rens, to the Peach Jam quarterfinals last summer. He follows a pair of legendary New York point guards into the Tech program - Kenny Anderson (1989-91) and Stephon Marbury (1995-96).

Alvarado, a three-star prospect described as a tough, gritty, pass-first point guard, is ranked the No. 9 player in the state of New York and No. 33 in the nation at his position by ESPN. He averaged 17 points and 6.5 assists per game as a junior for Christ the King, which fell in the Catholic League semifinals last season, and 11 points and five assists in his first season with the Rens.

Tech to Open 2017-18 Season in China

Georgia Tech has been invited to play UCLA in the 2017 Pac-12 China Game presented by the Alibaba Group, the Pac-12 Conference announced Friday. Longtime Pac-12 partner Federation of University Sports of China (FUSC), which operates under China's Ministry of Education, will serve as the co-host for the game.

The 2017 Pac-12 China Game between UCLA and Georgia Tech will tip off the 2017-18 basketball season with specific U.S. and China broadcast information to be finalized at a later date. The game is part of Pac-12 Global, an unprecedented effort to promote goodwill for the Conference and its member institutions through sport, and to provide student-athletes with a transformative cultural exchange experience.

The UCLA game in China will be the second time in program history that Georgia Tech will travel to East Asia for a regular-season men's basketball game. The Yellow Jackets played Boston College and SMU in the 1986 Suntory Ball event in Tokyo, Japan, winning both games.

Other regular-season trips outside the 50 states for Tech in its basketball history include the 1997 Puerto Rico Shootout (Bayamon, P.R.), the 2007 Paradise Jam (St. Thomas, U.S. Virgin Islands) and the 2010 Puerto Rico Tip-Off (San Juan, P.R.). Tech also played four regular-season games in Cuba during the 1925-26 season.

Tech and UCLA will be meeting for the fifth time. The Bruins have won three of the previous four contests, most recently in the championship game of the 2006 Maui Invitational.

Four Tech Alumni on NBA Rosters

Four former Georgia Tech basketball stars were on NBA rosters when the season began.

Iman Shumpert, a five-year NBA veteran, begins his second full season in Cleveland after helping the Cavaliers win the NBA championship a year ago.

Thaddeus Young, in his 10th season, was traded to the Indiana Pacers during the off-season after two years in Brooklyn.

Derrick Favors has emerged as a key figure in his sixth season in Utah.

Anthony Morrow, a nine-year NBA veteran after catching on with Golden State as a free agent in 2009, is now in his third season in Oklahoma City.

Jarrett Jack, a 12-year NBA veteran who suffered a knee injury last January while with Brooklyn, was signed by the Atlanta Hawks during the off-season but then was cut by the team in the last week of training camp while continuing his recovery.

TECH NOTEBOOK

Chris Bosh, who spent the first seven years of his NBA career in Toronto, played his sixth season in Miami but saw his season cut short by a heart condition for the second year in a row. He remains under contract to the Heat but has not played.

Arts and Letters

Beginning with Moe Miller and Lance Storrs in the summer of 2011, every four-year senior in the Georgia Tech program has graduated.

Derek Craig and Nick Foreman received their Tech degrees in 2012, as did the 2013 senior class of Mfon Udofia, who finished his business administration degree work in the summer, and Pierre Jordan, who completed his Masters degree requirements in building construction in the spring. Brandon Reed graduated in the summer with his management degree before transferring back to Arkansas State to play his final year of basketball.

All three of Tech's four-year seniors in 2013-14 - Kammeon Holsey, Daniel Miller and Jason Morris - graduated that spring. Robert Sampson, the Jackets' only undergraduate scholarship senior in 2014-15, graduated in the spring.

From the 2015-16 squad, Marcus Georges-Hunt walked the stage at commencement in May, accomplishing the rare feat of graduating in four years. Point guard Travis Jorgenson, who elected not to use his final year of eligibility, will receive his degree in December.

This year's roster includes seniors Josh Heath, Corey Heyward (fifth-year because of an injury red-shirt in 2012-13), Rand Rowland and Quinton Stephens. Rowland graduate in December, and the other three are scheduled to graduate in May.

Georges-Hunt and current junior Tadic Jackson have made the Academic All-ACC team twice, and the Yellow Jackets have had at least one player named to that team since it was instituted for the 2010-11 season.

Tech's men's basketball team has recored the highest Academic Progress Report scores the last four years since the NCAA began tracking academic performance in 2004-05. The Jackets scored a perfect team single year APR score of 1000 three straight years from 2011-13.

ACC Schedule Rotation Set

Every other team in the Atlantic Coast Conference will visit McCamish Pavilion at least once this season and next. Clemson and Notre Dame, Tech's permanent home-and-away partners, as well as NC State and Syracuse, will come to Atlanta during both seasons.

Tech's home schedule for the 2017-18 season, Duke, Miami, Virginia, Virginia Tech and Wake Forest come to Atlanta. Along with the Tigers and the Fighting Irish, the Yellow Jackets will face Virginia and Wake Forest twice in 2017-18.

Georgia Tech 2017-18

Home/Road: Clemson, Notre Dame, Wake Forest, Virginia
Home: Miami, Duke, NC State, Virginia Tech, Syracuse
Road: Florida State, North Carolina, Louisville, Pitt, Boston College

Welcome to The Hank

Georgia Tech has played four seasons in McCamish Pavilion, which was for all intents and purposes, brand new when it opened for the 2012-13 season. The only physical elements of McCamish Pavilion that remain from the venerable Alexander Memorial Coliseum are the roof, which was re-covered, and the 32 steel ribs that support it.

The capacity of McCamish Pavilion is 8,600, including 1,665 seats in the new balcony level and 6,935 seats in the lower seating bowl. There are no suites, but there is a premium club area that seats 500. Alexander Memorial Coliseum seated 9,191 spectators in its final configuration.

The most striking features of McCamish Pavilion are its grand entrance, which fronts 10th and Fowler Streets, the ability for patrons to view the court from the main concourse nearly all the way around, and the theatrical lighting system, which concentrates light on the court while leaving the seating areas dark, modeled after the Staples Center in Los Angeles and Madison Square Garden in New York.

Tech played 55 seasons in Alexander Memorial Coliseum, compiling a record of 556-194 (.741). Miami was the last team to play Tech in Alexander Memorial Coliseum, a game Tech won, and was the first ACC team to play in McCamish Pavilion on Jan. 5, which Miami won. For the 2011-12 season, Tech played its home games at Philips Arena and the Arena at Gwinnett.

Tech's NCAA Tournament History

Georgia Tech played in the NCAA Tournament five times in 11 seasons under head coach Paul Hewitt and has played in the event 16 times in its history. Fifteen of those appearances have occurred from 1985 to the present.

Tech has a record of 23-16 in NCAA Tournament play, highlighted by its 2004 trip to the NCAA title game as well as a Final Four berth in 1990. The Yellow Jackets have reached the NCAA Sweet 16 seven times (1960, 1985, 1986, 1990, 1992, 1996, 2004).

The 2004 and 2005 appearances were the Yellow Jackets' first back-to-back appearances since Bobby Cremins led the Institute to the Big Dance nine straight years from 1985-93.

Georgia Tech has won at least one game in 11 of its 16 NCAA Tournament appearances.

Tech's NIT History

Georgia Tech has a 10-8 record all-time in eight appearances in the National Invitation Tournament, reaching the finals once (1971) and the quarterfinals four other times. The Yellow Jackets are 4-1 in post-season NIT games played at home, 1-5 on the road.

- Tech's last appearance in the NIT before this season occurred in 2003, when current NBA stars Chris Bosh and Jarrett Jack were freshmen on a team that also included B.J. Elder, Tech's 12th all-time leading scorer and Marvin Lewis, No. 21 on the all-time scoring list. That team defeated Ohio State at home and Iowa on the road before falling a game short of going to New York in an 80-72 loss to a Bob Knight-coached Texas Tech team.

- Tech also made the quarterfinals in 1998 with a team led by No. 2 all-time leading scorer Matt Harpring, defeating Seton Hall and Georgetown before losing to Penn State, 75-70. All three games were played at home.

- Tech reached the finals in 1971 behind its all-time leading scorer, Rich Yunkus, defeating LaSalle, Michigan and St. Bonaventure before losing to North Carolina in the championship game. The entire tournament was played at Madison Square Garden in those days.

Tech's ACC Tournament History

Georgia Tech has played in 37 ACC Tournaments, and has a 26-34 all-time record in the event. The Yellow Jackets have won three championships, in 1985 (Atlanta), 1990 (Charlotte) and 1993 (Charlotte).

Tech has been a runner-up four times (1986, 1996, 2005, 2010). The 1986, 1996 and 2010 runs to the finals occurred in Greensboro. Tech also made the finals in 2005 at the Verizon Center in Washington, D.C.

Tech was 0-2 in the ACC Tournament under coach Dwane Morrison, 15-16 under Bobby Cremins (including all three titles), 9-11 under Paul Hewitt (runner-up in 2005 and 2010) and 2-5 under Brian Gregory.

Head Coach Josh Pastner

Josh Pastner, who guided Memphis to five post-season berths in seven seasons as the Tigers' head coach, was introduced as Georgia Tech's 14th head basketball coach on April 8, 2016.

Pastner, 39, compiled a 167-73 record over seven seasons as the head coach at Memphis, where the Tigers earned bids to the NCAA Tournament four times. He is tied for the 10th most wins for a head coach in his first seven seasons in Division I basketball history, and is the second winningest active coach under the age of 40 in NCAA Division I.

Despite his young age, Pastner has been involved in basketball at the Division I level for 20 years, as a player and an assistant coach at Arizona, and as an assistant coach and the head coach at Memphis. He has been a part of teams that have won 490 games, played in 17 NCAA Tournaments and 18 total post-season events. Teams he has been involved with have won 12 conference tournament or regular-season championships, advanced to seven Sweet Sixteens, five Elite Eights, two Final Fours and two NCAA championship games.

As an NCAA head or assistant coach and an AAU head coach, he has coached nearly 25 NBA draft selections.

Pastner's Memphis teams averaged 23.9 wins per season and compiled a conference regular-season record of 82-36, including a conference winning streak of 28 games. The Tigers went 11-4 in Conference USA and American Athletic Conference tournaments, including three championships.

He guided Memphis to five post-season berths, the NIT in 2010 and the NCAA Tournament in 2011, 2012, 2013 and 2014. He became one of three head coaches in Tigers history to earn postseason berths in five of his first seven seasons (Larry Finch, John Calipari are the others), one of two to lead the program to four NCAA Tournaments in his first seven seasons (Dana Kirk is the other) and one of three head coaches in program history to lead the Tigers to four straight NCAA Tournament appearances (2011-14; joins Dana Kirk 1982-85, John Calipari 2006-09).

Pastner twice won Conference USA Coach of the Year honors (2010, 2013) by various organizations and news media. Known as a tireless recruiter, he was named the country's No. 7 high-major recruiter by FoxSports.com following the 2007-08 season, and has signed five straight nationally-ranked recruiting classes, including the nation's No. 1 class in 2010 and No. 2 class in 2013.

A native of Kingwood, Texas, Pastner was born in Glen Dale, W.Va. He earned his bachelor's degree in family studies in December of 1998, in just two and a half years, from Arizona and his master's degree in teaching and teacher education from Arizona in December of 1999, all while lettering four years in basketball for the Wildcats under head coach Lute Olson.

He married the former Kerri Lamas of Sierra Vista, Ariz., in 2009. He has a stepson (Ethan) and three daughters, Payten, Kamryn and Harper.
