WHAT THEY ARE SAYING ABOUT LARRANAGA

Miami hit a grand slam in getting Jim Larranaga from George Mason. He is a fierce competitor and has loads of contacts. Great hire!

Jim is going to bring a certain spark. He's got a personality. You'll see them playing exciting basketball and, more importantly, with Jim, they'll play winning basketball. You have to get people excited about basketball and, in Miami, they have not been excited about college basketball.

- Dick Vitale

Coach Larranaga is the real deal. He's a winner, an inspirational leader, and he cares deeply about his players and staff. We're delighted to welcome him and his wife as the newest members of the Miami Hurricane family.

-University of Miami President Donna E. Shalala

Jim is a man of great character who will be a first-class ambassador for the University of Miami, for this athletics department and our basketball program. His players will follow his philosophy and play fundamentally sound basketball.

-University of Miami Director of Athletics Shawn Eichorst

COACH LARRANAGA ON TWITTER

Follow Coach Larranaga @CanesCoachL on Twitter as he provides news from inside the program walls, insights on his life away from the court and regular updates about his appearances at camps with Dwyane Wade, Erik Spoelstra and many others.

Jim Larranaga was named the 12th head coach of the University of Miami men's basketball program on April 22, 2011.

Larranaga comes to Miami after serving as the head coach at George Mason for 14 seasons. He guided the program to five NCAA Tournament appearances (2011, 2008, 2006, 2001, 1999) – including an unprecedented run to the 2006 Final Four that captured the nation's attention, defeating Michigan State, North Carolina, Wichita State and Connecticut along the way. Following that run, he was selected the 2006 Clair Bee Coach of the Year.

Larranaga built the Patriots' program into a perennial contender in the highly-regarded Colonial Athletic Association, winning more games than any other coach in program and conference history (273) en route to three conference titles (2008, 2001, 1999).

A two-time CAA Coach of the Year honoree, Larranaga earned the accolade in 2011, leading the Patriots to a 27-7 overall record and 16-2 conference mark en route to the CAA regular-season title and their fifth NCAA Tournament appearance under his leadership. Seeded a program-best eighth in the NCAA Tournament, George Mason rallied from a double-digit deficit to defeat ninth-seeded Villanova, 61-57, before falling to overall No. 1 seed Ohio State in the third round.

Larranaga's teams are known for their offensive efficiency and a frenetic defense dubbed the "Scramble." Last season, his Patriots – who were ranked 24th in the final RPI – finished the season 11th in the nation in three-point field goal percentage (39.5), 18th in scoring margin (10.3), 22nd in turnovers (11.1), 26th in assist-to-turnover ratio (1.28) and 37th in scoring defense (62.5). During its 16-game win streak – which catapulted Mason to No. 25 in the ESPN/USA Today Coaches Poll on Feb. 28 – all but four victories came by a double-digit margin. That streak included the 71-51 win at VCU on Feb. 15, with Mason holding the Rams to a season-low offensive output.

He became Mason's all-time leader in men's basketball victories with his 131st win on January 22, 2005, with a 77-58 decision at James Madison. He became the CAA's all-time leader in wins on February 4, 2006, when the Patriots defeated UNC Wilmington. His Mason teams went 182-89 in CAA play.

In 2006, Larranaga became the first coach at a mid-major school to take his team to the Final Four in 27 years and earned an at-large berth for a CAA team for the first time in 20 years. Along the way, he led Mason to a school record in wins, the school's first-ever national ranking, George Mason's first-ever appearance in the Top 10 and the school's first wins over Top 10 teams.

The Patriots finished the year with a 27-8 record and a No. 8 ranking in the final USA Today/ESPN Coaches Poll. Earlier that season, Mason cracked the polls at No. 25, but NCAA tournament wins over Michigan State, No. 10 North Carolina, Wichita State and No. 2 Connecticut vaulted Mason up the poll, into the national conscience and made Larranaga a household name.

The remarkable run at George Mason began just two years into Larranaga's tenure. After going 9-18 in his first year with the Patriots in 1997-98, Larranaga guided the 1999 Patriots' victories for the first time in school history, and in the process, earned his first postseason.

Under Larranaga, the Patriots won three CAA titles, including the 2008 championship when Mason went 23-11. The Patriots have appeared in the postseason each of the past four seasons for the first time in Mason history, advancing to the NCAA Tournament in 2008, the NIT in 2009, the CollegeInsider.com Postseason Tournament in 2010 and back to the NCAA Tournament in 2011.

With 28 years of head coaching experience, the native of Bronx, N.Y., previously served as the head coach at Bowling Green for 11 seasons (1986-1997) and at Division II American International for two seasons (1977-79).

At Bowling Green, he made an immediate impact in his first season. In 1986-87, the Falcons were the nation's most improved team under a first-year head coach that took over a program with a losing record, posting a 15-14 record for an eight-game improvement over the previous season. Larranaga went on to record a 170-144 mark in 11 years at Bowling Green, earning the 1997 Mid-American Conference Coach of the Year honors after leading Bowling Green to a 22-10 record, a conference regular season co-championship and a berth in the National Invitation Tournament. The 22 victories were the most by a Bowling Green team in 47 years and the 13 conference wins were the second-highest total in Falcon history.

Larranaga's 170 victories at Bowling Green ranked second all-time on the Falcons' coaching list and he was only the second coach to record consecutive postseason appearances. Larranaga led his squad to NIT berths in 1990 (18-11) and again in 1991 (17-13), the first time the Falcons enjoyed back-to-back postseason appearances since the early '60s. Bowling Green won better than 61 percent of its games in Larranaga's last four years, recording a 70-44 mark during that stretch. The Falcons finished fourth or better in the MAC in five of Larranaga's 11 seasons and he is among the winningest coaches in MAC history.

Larranaga received his first head coaching position in 1977 when he was named to the post at American International, a Division II program in Springfield, Mass. Taking over a team that had suffered through five consecutive losing seasons prior to his arrival, Larranaga turned AIC into a winning program in his first year and compiled a 28-25 mark in two seasons.

A 1971 graduate of Providence College with a degree in economics, Larranaga was a four-year letterman for the Friars. As the team captain in his senior season, he led Providence to a 20-8 record and an NIT appearance. He graduated as the school's fifth all-time leading scorer with 1,258 points and was selected in the sixth round of the draft by the Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association. He was the team's top scorer as a sophomore and junior and was named New England's Division I Sophomore of the Year in 1969. He was inducted into the Providence College Hall of Fame in 1991.

His first coaching opportunity came at Davidson College, where he served as an assistant coach to Terry Holland. Davidson captured three Southern Conference regular-season championships and an NIT berth in his five years there, and he compiled a 47-12 record doubling as the freshman team coach. In 1976, he left Davidson and spent one season as player-coach for the Geronemo Basketball Club in Belgium.

After his two-year stint at American International, Larranaga was reunited with Holland at the University of Virginia in April 1979. An assistant coach under Holland for seven seasons from 1979-86, he helped the Cavaliers reach the NCAA Final Four on two occasions (1981, 1984), finish in the top five of the AP and UPI polls and average more than 24 victories per season. The Cavaliers were 169-62, won three regular-season Atlantic Coast Conference championships and made four NCAA Tournament appearances. Virginia also made a pair of NIT appearances, winning the NIT Championship in 1980. Larranaga was on the staff during the careers of three-time National Player of the Year Ralph Sampson and NBA first-round draft choice Olden Polynice.

Larranaga, 62, and his wife, Liz, have two sons – Jay, who played for his father at Bowling Green and is the head coach of the NBDL's Erie Bayhawks, and Jon, who was a member of his father's George Mason teams from 1999-2003 – and four grandchildren.

squad to a 19-11 overall record and a 13-3 CAA mark. That season, he earned his first Coach of the Year accolades in the CAA and NABC District 4 after making a 10-game improvement and leading the program to its first-ever conference regular season championship, its second CAA Tournament title and first NCAA Tournament appearance since 1989.

The Patriots followed that with another 19-11 overall mark in 1999-2000, tying for first place in the CAA at 12-4 and earning the top seed in the conference tournament. In 2000-01, the Patriots finished 18-12 overall and 11-5 in the CAA, good for a tie for second place, and they won the CAA Tournament title and advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the second time in three years. The Patriots produced another solid campaign with a 19-10 overall record (13-5 in the CAA) and a NIT berth in 2001-02. Mason's 2002-03 roster was hampered by injuries, but managed to pull together a 16-12 record (11-7 in the CAA), and a fourth-place CAA finish.

In 2003-04, Larranaga led the Patriots to a 7-2 non-conference record and to a school-record 23-win season, as Mason finished 23-10 on the year, its first 20-or-more win campaign in 14 years. Gaining an NIT berth (the Patriots fourth postseason appearance in six years), Larranaga led Mason to two consecutive postseason

They are stories of perseverance. Stories about growing up, becoming men and being a part of a family. One-by-one, we hear from them. These are the Miami Hurricanes...

I was raised in Raleigh, NC. I was born and raised there. I was the only child and I had a lot of family to support me. When I was growing up I played basketball and soccer. Soccer was actually my first love. I played soccer until I was 13 or 14. It got way too hot in North Carolina, it's like a dry heat, so I just stuck with an indoor sport.

I started playing basketball when I was five or six. Probably because that's when those Fisher Price goals started coming out and I was dunking and all of your friends were talking about how high you could dunk on your Fisher Price goal.

I secretly wish I was five inches taller. I wish I was 7 feet. I feel like everything in basketball would be so much better if I was 7 feet.

I'm a Miami Hurricane because of my teammates, because of how they treated me so well on my visit. Also because I have a grandmother here and she always wanted me to visit more and it was awkward because I did not know I would be going here. Since I was an only child and really close to my family I thought I would stay in the state of North Carolina. But after taking a visit, I met my grandmother and just seeing her again here, I knew I would have another time here outside of school. She comes to games and tries to be the loudest one in the stands.

When I played basketball as a kid, I pretended to be Kobe Bryant, that was my favorite player. He still is, hands down. There was nobody else I imitated. I always watched Michael Jordan but Kobe was more of my time and he was doing all of the dunks and he was athletic and I stuck with him.

Playing basketball has given me something to do to keep me occupied and it is what I've been doing since I was a little kid. It's one of the best things I know how to do. It's kept me out of a lot of trouble.

My family is mostly from the East Coast. I probably have a family member in every state on the East Coast which is good because I always have support. My family is really strong and really close so my family is really big to me.

Competition is hard work and fun. Being born and raised in North Carolina, the ACC is everything. Competition is the most fun I've had, just being in this conference every night in and out.

The U is very family orientated and a really nice community. It's pretty much a small community and city and I really like it. I've been here for three years now. I haven't had any problems.

When I was introduced to Coach L I was very nervous and excited. I was excited to see what he had to say. When we first met him it was right when he had his conference and his excitement to me was just incredible. It was something you just had to be there to see it and you could tell he took his job very seriously from the first day. Ever since then we've had a good time.

The hardest part about being away from home probably family, especially when I have five little nephews and to not see them grow up and they're growing up with all women. I don't really like that too much. I always wanted to be that male figure since I never had one. I had my father but I never had a brother. You miss a lot of events and stuff like that.

One thing everybody should know about Miami Basketball is it's a different team this year. Coach L is really doing a good job of setting down a great foundation of fundamentals. He's doing a really great job of just building character around the whole program and I think by the end of this year you'll definitely see the change and when you watch us play it's a big change.

I'm closest on the team with Durand and Reggie. Durand and I are in the same year. We're the only two left of our class. Because we're in the same year we're usually in the same housing. For example last year Durand and I were neighbors and we were the only two who were always together and had a lot of time together. Reggie and I are both from North Carolina. I knew him before I came here so we go home, we plan trips together to go home. I go stay with him and he stays with me so we're always together.

I'll never forget my visit to the University of Miami when I was in high school. I took a lot of visits before I committed here. The thing I won't forget is the family atmosphere. I felt coming down here, especially with my team, is kind of like I just fit in which is exactly what I was looking for. In basketball you're always getting better but sometimes with people it doesn't always work or it's just different from you. With this group here, we all fit together and I just felt at home.

They are stories of perseverance. Stories about growing up, becoming men and being a part of a family. One-by-one, we hear from them. These are the Miami Hurricanes...

Playing basketball has given me the chance to travel to a lot of countries and meet a lot of people. Just have fun in general and get an education. Be in Miami, make a lot of friends.

I was recruited when I was in high school in Kansas by a bunch of different schools. Miami was a good place, I liked the coaches and the school. I liked that it was a small school. It's generally a nice place and they play in the ACC so that's really what drew me closer. I get to play against a pro every night and a good team or a good Hall of Fame coach or Hall of Fame coach in the making.

When I was introduced to Coach L he was a different breed I would say. He's just like my dad, a very straightforward person, a guy who looks you in the eye and tells you how it is. He's not going to be rude to you, but he's going to tell you. He is more fun than his age tells. He's 61 and he sounds like he's really old but he's like a 30 year old.

When I played basketball as a kid I pretended to be Shaq because I was the biggest person on the court and at that time and Shaq was winning all the rings with the Lakers. So I pretended to be Shaq for a while, then I pretended to be Tim Duncan. After that, I pretended to be LeBron James.

Lagos is full of too many people and traffic. That's the first thing that comes to my mind. You wake up in the morning and say you want to go from here to a distance of like South Beach, it would take you like two hours to get there because of the traffic. First thing that comes to mind is the traffic and the second thing is there are a lot of crazy people out there and a lot of fun people. I was back for a while to visit before I came back here for high school. My family still lives in Nigeria, all of them.

I just wanted something new. I had a scholarship to go to high school and I was good at basketball so I figured I would go [to the United States] and experience another world. It wasn't really tough, it was more fun and more of an adventure until I dislocated my ankle. That was really tough. That was in 2008 when I first got here. I couldn't play basketball for a whole year. I was basically useless to a lot of people, but some people were still kind to me until I got back to playing.

I'll never forget what my father told me when I was going to school in Nigeria and he was dropping me off. He told me "never cheat anyone and never allow myself to be cheated by anyone," so that's something I will never forget.

I secretly wish I played football. I see Calvin Johnson and Jimmy Graham and sometimes I think I could do that. On Sundays, everyone is wearing your jersey and you see old people going crazy. I think I can put on a tight end's jersey or a wide receiver's jersey.

My personal goals are to graduate with a mechanical engineering degree, to play in the NBA for a long time, to raise a family, and maybe be a lawyer some day.

When I was growing up I had a lot of fun with my sister. She was like my first best friend. We were together for a long time. Now she's grown and she's about to get married and it's just weird.

In mechanical engineering you just think about everything that works. Every single thing from the design of your spoons that you eat with, your house, your cars, your bridges and everything. Just anything that works. There's a process that makes it work. There's someone who designs it. There's a calculation.

To be an engineer you have to be perfect. Every little thing is in detail. The end of the bottle cap of a bottle is in detail. So in basketball, every little screen set, every angle of the screen, every turn, the way you stand to get a rebound, everything is in detail. There's a place you have to be for that to work. The spin behind the ball, the arc, when you shoot the ball, the form. So that's how mechanical engineering transitions to the court on every play. Everything is in detail.

My dad got married twice. We have six kids in my family and growing up was very fun because there was never a dull moment and there was always something going on. There's always a fight, and after a fight there's always laughter so it was fun. We went to church like three times a day so we grew up being Christians and tried to live life the best way we could and be nice to other people, hoping that people would be nice to us.

At the U I've learned so much from my professors, especially Dr. Rahm. He's a pain in the rear but he's a good guy. He really knows what he's saying. He's someone who is really good at what he does. I also learned a lot from Coach Haith when he was here. He was a nice person and he always took interest in what you did, how your life was. Also from Coach Larranaga. He has a winner's mentality. He knows how to do things the right way from the smallest things to the hardest things. He tells you to try to have class and attitude and be a good person overall.

My favorite thing about being a part of the U family is that everyone knows everyone. I know all the football players, they all know who we are. I know all the swimmers, names and last names. All the rowers, all the athletes. It's like a little family. The U is like a little cult where you go outside and you represent and someone throws the U up and you go hyper.

I am a competitive person. I hate losing. I learned to suck it up when you lose. Sometimes you play really well and you still lose, but being a competitive person gives you an edge to keep going and you know that you can win more than you lose. Everything I do, I do it hard and I try to do it well to the best of my abilities. Competition at the U is good. We have teammates who don't like to lose either so it makes it more fierce while you're competing against each other.

They are stories of perseverance. Stories about growing up, becoming men and being a part of a family. One-by-one, we hear from them. These are the Miami Hurricanes...

The U means great tradition and pride, lots of pride.

My family means the world to me. Everything I do is for them.

Playing basketball has given me great opportunities and a chance to see places I never thought I'd ever see like Arkansas and Vegas, I had never been to Vegas. I went my senior year in high school to an AE tournament. So just basketball has allowed me to see amazing places that I never thought I would ever see in my life. It also allowed me to come to college to get a free education, travel the world. It's just a great experience.

I like to swim. That's the first thing that came to my head. My dad taught me how to swim when I was two years old. So I have always loved water. I love going to the pool and swimming, diving, actually, if I wasn't playing basketball that's probably what I'd be doing. I didn't swim in high school, we didn't have a team in high school, but in middle school I did. My best race was just a regular freestyle.

When I was introduced to Coach L we all met him in the conference room. He came in with a big smile, shook everybody's hand. The look in his eyes was just funny, I could just tell that he was like, 'Okay, this is going to be good.'

I started playing basketball when I was in sixth grade, it was rec basketball, my first time playing organized basketball. The most I remember was, I actually shot one in the wrong goal my very first game. I'll never forget that.

The hardest part of being away from home is not being able to see my son. I have a four-month-old son. So that's probably the hardest part about not being home. I'm always thinking about what he's doing, he might be doing something new today. So that's probably the hardest part.

I've learned from Coach L, that patience is a virtue on the court. Slowing everything down, that's the best thing that I've learned. I was always in a hurry, everything I did. Basically, if I have the ball in a pass or a shot situation, I see it, I look at everybody around me and think 'Okay, is this the right thing to do right now', instead of just rushing into it. It's like "is this the best shot or is this the best pass, is there somebody else open?" So just slowing everything down in my head and just knowing that I don't have to do everything right away. I can take my time and make the right play.

I was raised in Savannah, Ga., for about four or five years then I moved to Hinesville, Ga., and played high school basketball there, and then here at Miami. We had the southern hospitality down there so everything was real respectful with 'Yes ma'am, No ma'am'. You never talked back. Everything that they said that's what happened.

When I was growing up I would actually say that I had a great childhood. My parents were always there. I was their only child, and my parents were always there. My dad was basically like a brother to me, also. We did everything together; football, basketball, everything. We had a real great family and they were always there for me. They did everything for me. They are still there, every step of the way.

When I played basketball as a kid, I pretended to be Tracy McGrady. That was always my favorite player. I just liked his style, just everything about him. He always looked so sleepy, like he wasn't going to do anything and then he has the ball and he's going at you, so it kind of throws you off. And a lot of people say I played like him when I was younger because my face never changed. I had no emotion, so that's probably who I looked up to the most.

I'll never forget when I got chased by a dog and I had to jump on top of a car and my knee went through the windshield. My whole body ended up inside the car. My knee just broke and shattered the windshield. I had to get nine staples in my right knee. That's probably why the reason I have tendinitis in both my knees too. I'm sure that didn't help.

I am a Hurricane because I wanted to play in the ACC. I grew up watching my dad play at Georgia Tech and all the ACC teams. I just felt like this would be a great place to live. They had a great coaching staff before and they have a great coaching staff now, so it felt like this is where I belong.

Some of my personal goals include just being successful in life whether that be playing basketball or doing other things. I want to own my own restaurant, so just doing that and just being successful and able to take care of my family. I want to have an Italian restaurant. I just always had it in my mind because the way my name is spelled everybody would call me 'Rion' (Ree-on). And I just thought it sounded Italian. So I could have a restaurant called Rion. I just always had that in my head. But it might not work out like that. My favorite Italian meal is just regular pasta. I like chicken Alfredo and pasta with the meat marinara sauce, basically spaghetti. Those are my two favorites.

At the U, I've learned so much from Reggie Johnson. He was one of those people that when I first got here he was always in my head. I got tired of him, he got on my nerves, but when I really think about it, he was always trying to help me and guide me through the little things. Even off the court stuff that I was going through, like problems with school or personal stuff from home I was letting get to me. He would always talk to me, and tell me 'Hey, you've got to leave that outside for right now, you've got other work to do. If you do this, everything else will take care of itself.' I learned a lot from him.

My favorite thing about the U family is that we are very close knit. We do everything together. We go out to eat, everybody goes. We go hang out and play video games, everybody is there. It is just a great family atmosphere. Everyone is laughing and joking, I love these dudes, it's just funny.

In high school I tried to score 40 on this one kid I didn't like. He was just one of those kids that ever since we were little, playing rec ball together, we just always grew up going at each other. So in high school we met one time, and I really wanted to score 40 on him, and I actually scored 42, it was my career high in high school.

I didn't think I would be playing college basketball at around ninth or 10th grade. It got a little frustrating for me. Things weren't working out. In my mind I wasn't the player that I needed to be to get to college. But, of course my dad stayed on me, we worked hard, I worked hard from the 10th to 11th grade - it basically felt like I was in college already. Waking up at six in the morning, I woke up shooting in the gym at the YMCA before I would even go to school, and after school I had to meet my dad over there. He stayed on me, so that's what I have to say about that.

We have great competition in the ACC. The games we play every day. Everything is in the margin of two to three points, so the plays you make at the end determine whether you lose by two or three or win by two or three. And with Pitt and Syracuse coming into it, it's about to be even better.

I secretly wish that I was about 7'2". I just always had it in my head that I was going to be seven feet tall since I was little. My dad is 6'6 and I'm 6'6, too, so it's just my imagination, but I thought was going to be seven feet.

Georgia is home. That's where my family is. That's my love. That's what I do it for, Georgia.

They are stories of perseverance. Stories about growing up, becoming men and being a part of a family. One-by-one, we hear from them. These are the Miami Hurricanes...

Playing basketball has given me the opportunity to do many things that my family has never done before. I'm the first in my family to actually go to college and do something better with my life, rather than being on the streets or something like that.

When I was introduced to Coach L, I was at my house. I didn't know too much about him. He came down to try and convince me to stay with my commitment to Miami. I didn't know too much about his background, but he explained a lot, about what he's been through, who he knows, all of that. It made me realize that he's a good man all-around and coaching-wise.

When I played basketball as a kid, I never really pretended to be anybody else. As I was growing up, mostly I was into Michael Jordan. Everybody will say he's the best, if you watched his games and saw what he was doing, so I tried to be like him but I want to be one of the greatest.

The hardest part of being away from home is the food. Being so far away, the food is just not the same down here. I'm not used to eating fast food or any of that. I'm used to home-cooked meals, which I don't have here.

The U is about legacy. The swagger about it, the toughness, the simple fact that it intimidates people when they step on the field or the court, that's what the U is about.

At the U, I've learned so much from everybody. I've learned the same amount from every individual I've encountered. I don't think I've been here long enough to say one person more than another.

Some of my personal goals are to graduate from college and make it past just college basketball. Maybe become a professional, either overseas or in the NBA.

Dunking is in my genes. When he was younger, my dad could do basically the same things I can do and probably even more. Athleticism is in my genes. The reason why it stands out is because it's entertainment. More people like to see a dunk than a jump-shot or lay-up. The more you dunk, the more entertaining it is, and that's just how the hype comes.

I don't think people realize how fast I am until they actually see me on the court or see me play themselves. When Coach L came to me he told me he was looking for a running team, and that's the type of system he liked. To get as many basket attempts as possible, I think it should help a lot, getting up and down the floor as fast as we can.

My pull-up jumper and decision-making are two of the stronger assets of my game. If you've never seen me play and only seen highlights, you wouldn't know that.

Everybody on the team is equally close. We all hang out, go out together, whether it's to the movies or going out to eat, we're all equal. There are no cliques or anything, we're just one big group.

Word of God was a great experience. I was there for three years, and was there for John Wall's senior year. It was me and Dez Wells (Xavier) carrying on the legacy. There were ups and downs. We were tired from traveling and all that, but at the same time, we got to experience a lot of things kids don't experience. The things we got to do, and the people we played with, are remarkable. There's nothing better than to do something at your best, and that's what we did.

We went hard every day at Word of God, even with each other, just fouling hard and playing physical. We did whatever it took for us to get better. Going out there and doing it on the court, it was a great experience for all of us.

I have everything I want. I'm satisfied with what God gave me. He gave me what He gave me for a reason, so I can't say I wish I had something else. If anything, I wish that, even though I work hard, that I work even harder. There are no physical attributes I wish I could have or anything like that, it happened for a reason.

Family is first. Whatever I do, I always have in my mind that I'm doing it for my family. I haven't always had the best of anything, so I do it for my family back home, my friends, my circle. I don't have a big circle, but I do it for them. I'm just trying to make it like everyone else.

I was raised to never quit. That's one thing my mom and dad instilled in me growing up. Through tough times, when certain situations didn't go my way, they told me to never quit. No matter what it was either. It could be to the point where I'm in the worst situation possible, but they never wanted me to quit. I always take situations like that, put the blame on myself, and see what I can do to make it better.

They are stories of perseverance. Stories about growing up, becoming men and being a part of a family. One-by-one, we hear from them. These are the Miami Hurricanes...

I was raised in many different places. I moved around a lot as a child and met a lot of different people so that makes me very social, very easy to get along with and very outgoing. It helps me very easily adapt to different situations.

I started playing basketball when I was young. I grew up in North Carolina. It's a basketball state. I grew up around the ACC. I grew up watching North Carolina play. The Tar Heels were my favorite team, obviously not anymore since we play them, but where I grew up definitely influenced me to play basketball. I started young, probably around five.

My favorite holiday is Christmas, not necessarily because of getting gifts and giving gifts but because of the theme of the holiday and being with family and being able to give people gifts. Not necessarily things they can see, like material things, but things they'll remember for a long time and things that will change people's lives.

Nobody knows that I can cook. I've never even cooked for anybody but I can cook for myself. I have to eat, I eat a lot. I learned how to cook at a young age because my mom would travel a lot. I'm really good at making French toast. I lived one week straight off of just French toast.

To be a Miami Hurricane means a lot. I take a lot of pride in it. When I go home that's how people identify me as I'm the guy who went to Miami. Especially where I'm from, not a lot of people made it out. It's definitely a pride thing and I represent it everywhere I go with that in the back of my mind I know that I have to carry myself in the correct manner at all times.

Right now I'm listening to J. Cole. He's from North Carolina so it's like a sense of pride thing and when I listen to music I like lyricists and people who talk about different things in a song. Not something you can just listen to once and get it or just a catchy beat. I like a lot of music with content in it so it's definitely on repeat right now.

If I wasn't playing basketball I would be coaching somewhere or broadcasting or doing something with video. I'm very articulate and it's easy for me to talk to people. I don't get nervous in front of large crowds. I like teaching and I love basketball so all of that helps me to do some stuff now, especially since I started doing it at such a young age.

When I was younger I wanted to be a professional basketball player. I never thought I would make it to this level or have the opportunity to be able to play pro after college. Just to be here is a dream come true but I know I still have a long way to go.

My family is probably the most important thing in my life. My family is my motivation. I do everything for my family. I talk to my mom all the time. I have my mother, my sister and my grandmother's names all tattooed on my arm, I see it every day. Family is definitely a very important part of my life.

Legacy it is what you make it. I think some people put more of a premium on it than others, but I really feel like when it comes to legacy, most of your legacy is made off the court than on the court within your career here. Of course you can make great moments on the court and people will remember that, but I think people remember more so who you were than how you played.

My favorite UM athlete is Jacory just because of the type of person he is. I know him and he's very humble, he's very intelligent and with the type of scrutiny he's under every game, one mistake people turn on him and he's still the same person, he doesn't change. I definitely look up to him in a sense of adversity and I hope our team can do the same.

The U is a special place. I committed to come here before I even saw the campus. I just had a good feeling about the coaching staff and the people here. Once I met the team, it's a real family atmosphere and everyone is so close-knit you can walk around and all of the athletes know each other and speak to each other when we see each other and it's just a very unique place. It's definitely one of a kind.

At The U, I've learned so much from Adrian Thomas. He just left and it's crazy because I'm in a similar situation. He was here for six years because he had two season-ending injuries and now that I have a season-ending injury. I kind of get to go down that same path and I just hope I can be half the person he was because he definitely dealt with adversity and still kept his head high and came out on top.

Before every game I try not to think about the game as much as I try to stay focused on the team and my teammates and go out and do anything possible to help them win. Not go out and score 20 points but if I need to get a block to win the game or a couple rebounds, I'm fine scoring no points and getting two rebounds and a block to win the game. I don't really care about stats.

My favorite movie is I'd have to say Friday After Next. I watch so many movies I don't have one favorite but that's just the one I'm watching the most on Netflix all the time.

They are stories of perseverance. Stories about growing up, becoming men and being a part of a family. One-by-one, we hear from them. These are the Miami Hurricanes...

I started playing basketball at the age of four. When I was young and my parents wanted me to stop crying they would put on Michael Jordan "Come Fly with Me" and I would sit on the end of the couch and watch the whole tape.

My family is my whole life. I love them. They've been with me through thick and thin and I don't know where I would be without them.

The U is a family-oriented place. I'm so glad I came here and I'm always going to be a part of the U.

Playing basketball has given me so many experiences. It has shown me that I have truly been blessed and I'm just thankful every day that I'm able to play the game. I've been able to travel around the world. I've been to France because of basketball. I've played in the world's most famous arena in Madison Square Garden, so the game means everything to me. Basketball has given me so much joy. When I'm having problems off the court, those problems go away when I step on the court because it's something I love doing. It's my life. Hopefully, one day when I have kids, I can pass it on to them.

I like to play video games, watch movies, and sing in the house, stuff like that. I play NBA2k the latest one, Uncharted, things like that. When I get my vocals warmed up, I think I can compete at a high level.

When I was introduced to Coach L I started smiling. I was happy to see him. I remember playing against him when I was at Villanova. So I wanted to see if he would remember me and surely he did. He said "I hope you're going to hit as many threes for us as you did against us."

The hardest part of being away from home is missing my family every day, especially my niece and my nephews. I love them so much and I don't get a chance to see them a lot, so when I go home I try to make sure I'm around them and show them how much I miss them.

I can't lie I'm addicted to my phone. Everybody always gets on me. I'm always texting. Always on the phone. I'm just talking to family members and friends or sometimes I'm just on Google looking up stuff. My best Google search is looking at Beyonce's photos.

I've learned how to be a respectful young man, how to carry myself with class and treat others with respect. My family, my mother and my father taught me those things.

I was raised in Brooklyn, N.Y. I love Brooklyn. It's everything that I am because I was born there. It's just fun to be there and I miss all my friends and just the environment.

In my house growing up on Saturdays, early in the morning, like eight o'clock I was bouncing the ball, throwing the ball on the walls. My brothers and my mother would be yelling saying "Sit down, stop dribbling!" But my father would be like "Hey, this is your dream, keep doing it." So that was my house every day, especially on the weekends.

When I was growing up I thought I was a Power Ranger, especially the green one, Tommy. When the show came on and Tommy wasn't on there I was mad because that's who I wanted to see. I used to mimic him in class and at home sometimes.

When I played basketball as a kid, I pretended to be Michael Jordan. I was at the house with my Fisher Price rim dunking with my tongue out, trying all kinds of dunks, breaking plants in the house. I was doing all types of stuff. Then I also thought I was Kenny Anderson. I thought I was my brother Lavar Grant. Every other day I was somebody different. I had everything that Mike had, including the shoes.

I'll never forget the first time I met Michael Jordan. It was after his game, we all took a picture and I was just staring at him because I couldn't believe the man I looked up to for so long was right in front of me. I took a picture with him then I spoke with him and asked him how he used to make those unbelievable shots. He told me he used to practice them all the time, and that's one thing I remembered.

I'm a Hurricane because I wouldn't have it any other way in the world. I bleed the green, the white and the orange so that's where I want to be for life. Some of my personal goals especially this year, I want to be Player of the Year, I want to be first team All-ACC. Hopefully, God-willing, I'll be able to make it to the NBA and take care of my family and my neighborhood. I want to be able to come back and give tournaments and show my face and show that just because I made it, I haven't changed. I'm still the same person everyone knew when I was growing up and I appreciate what they all have done for me. The whole neighborhood knew me because they knew my father. Everyone knew my father. Every time I walk around they said "that's pops", they called my father pops. Just growing up, whatever park I went to, everyone knew me and made sure I stayed in line and didn't get in trouble. If I make it, I'll let those people know I remember that.

At the U I've learned so much from my teammates and my peers. Just interacting with them and they're always with me when I'm going through things. Lance Hurdle really took me under his wing. He's a former player on the basketball team. That's my brother and my right hand man. When I got here he definitely took me under his wing and to this day we're still close.

My favorite thing about the U family is how loving it is. When we're playing, you see other sports in the arena cheering us on and vice versa. When those guys are playing football or women's basketball, we're in the stands cheering for them. So I like that and appreciate that.

One thing people need to know about UM hoops is that we're going to be really good this year and we're going to get to the tournament. From this year on, we're going to be an elite basketball team.

I didn't think I would make it this far in basketball. You know I was just playing the game and you never know what happens in life. It just shows that if you work hard and believe in God and just let him take care of it, then anything is possible.

Competition is everything to me. If you ask Durand or Reggie, when I'm in the room playing a game and I'm losing, I've broken plenty of things, punch walls. I can't lose. I can't control it so sometimes I get beside myself and I have to control myself a little bit.

I like to compete against North Carolina and Duke. Everybody looks at them as the standard of success and they're the best team. So anytime I get a chance to compete against them I always want to come out on top.

I'm looking forward to playing against every player. Whoever steps in front of me, I want to make sure they remember that name.

I secretly wish I could fly. I don't know why but sometimes I find myself in the room and I just wish I could get up and fly to this place or that place. I guess it's because I watched Superman when I was younger.

New York is a place where dreams come true. (big smile) The Big Apple. If you can make it there, you can make it anywhere.

They are stories of perseverance. Stories about growing up, becoming men and being a part of a family. One-by-one, we hear from them. These are the Miami Hurricanes...

I was raised in Boca Raton by my mom and dad. I was always brought up to set goals that I wanted to achieve and to try my hardest in everything I do.

Oldest nickname I've ever had is J. Bird from Taurean Green, who was someone I looked up to as a kid and he went on to win two championships at the University of Florida.

Right now I'm listening to J. Cole's first album The Sideline Story because in his music he talks a lot about overcoming obstacles and things that I can relate to.

After college I want to get a law degree to use in the business world.

One thing everyone should know about Miami Basketball is that inside the locker room there are some of the craziest guys you've ever met but outside you wouldn't know it.

At The U, I've learned so much from Malcolm who, as a junior last year when I was a freshman, really taught me a lot about life and always made sure I was okay.

Before every game I'm usually with Durand and we go to the mall or something.

Coach Larranaga is a really old school guy. He knows a lot about basketball and his main thing is he likes to do things the right way and he's a great guy for the program.

They are stories of perseverance. Stories about growing up, becoming men and being a part of a family. One-by-one, we hear from them. These are the Miami Hurricanes...

I was raised in Winston-Salem, N.C.

I started playing basketball my sophomore year of high school.

My favorite holiday is Christmas because I think it's time to be with your family and give. I love giving.

Nobody knows that I can sing. Nobody besides my roommates. I sing in the shower.

To be a Miami Hurricane means is a great honor because of the legacy here so I am very proud to be a Hurricane.

The oddest nickname I've ever had is Big Johnson. That's what my teammates made up.

If I wasn't playing basketball I would be I would be in the World-wide Federation of Wrestling. I would be wrestling right now. I'm like The Rock a little bit mixed with a little bit of Rock Legend.

When I was younger I wanted to be a firefighter. I had a thing for being a firefighter and saving lives.

My family is crazy! They're my biggest fans. They always support me no matter what. They're always going to help me out in my tough times, Winning a game is everything. That's why I play the game of basketball. It means a lot to me.

I secretly wish that Jay-Z didn't have Beyonce and I could marry her.

Legacy something that is important to you as far as what do you want to be known as when you leave. When I leave Miami I want to be known as a guy who worked hard, played hard and brought excitement to the fans.

My favorite current UM athlete is Mike James on the football team. I love the way he plays. He plays with a passion. Mike James is a good dude overall so I'm pulling for him.

Blocking is what I do! I block shots. I swat them. When you go in that lane, expect to go into the stands because I'm blocking that shot!

Becoming a man is something I had to do coming to college. I could have gone to Wake Forest which is a closer school to where I'm from, but I felt like I needed to go away and veer off a little bit. In high school my mother still washed my clothes and cooked for me so I had to learn how to do things in school and now I feel like I'm more prepared for life.

The U is one of the best colleges in America, if not the best. There's a lot of history in the program and it's a well-known institution.

I'm afraid of two things: snakes and spiders. You can put snakes and spiders around me and I'll tell you any type of secret.

After college I want to play in the NBA. Career-wise, I want to do something with kids. I want a Big Brother type of program with kids and get them going in the right direction and get them on the right path to do good things in life.

One thing everybody should know about Miami Basketball is this year the team will be on the rise. Everyone is returning and I really can't wait to get out there and start competing.

At The U I've learned so much from my former coach, Coach Haith, who obviously is not here now. He taught me a lot about on and off the court things. That's the guy I really learned a lot from coming down here and first being away from home.

The most influential person in my life is my mother and grandmother. They're the two I always turn to when I need advice for most things. They always work hard for everything, they were never given anything. My mother supported me and my little sister by herself and sometimes she didn't eat and that right there showed me what type of hunger you need just to survive in life.

In March I want to be dancing. I want to be out of class, dancing. I want to be in the tournament, just making the Hurricane family see excitement for the basketball tournament in March.

I never thought that I could be gone from my mother this long. I've been gone for four years and I'm always calling every day, but I'm adjusting.

Before every game I pray, always to the man above. I go through the same ritual doing the same thing over and over. I get the team going. My favorite quote is "he who works the hardest reaps the greatest rewards." That's from my high school coach. He always used to say that.

They are stories of perseverance. Stories about growing up, becoming men and being a part of a family. One-by-one, we hear from them. These are the Miami Hurricanes...

I was raised on the east side of Atlanta, Stone Mountain to be particular. I grew up very involved in sports.

I started playing basketball when I was a kid, like six or seven years old. I always liked the sport but I didn't get serious about basketball until I was 15.

My favorite holiday is Halloween, because you get free candy.

Nobody knows that I can cook. I'm very skilled in the culinary arts. I can make a number of things, like baked chicken, spaghetti, just the usual. Then I can go into steak, depending on how you want it cooked. I just recently learned how to sauté and marinate steak. For Memorial Day, I marinated steak for like three days and baked it, then put it on the grill to give it that smokey taste.

To be a Miami Hurricane means it's always you against the world.

The oddest nickname I've ever had is G-Money. My uncle gave me that nickname.

Right now I'm listening to old Southern blues. I'm a big fan of Sam Cook, Otis Redding, Johnny Taylor. Old school stuff.

If I wasn't playing basketball I would be an entrepreneur. I would be in the beginning stages of starting my own business.

When I was younger I wanted to be either a Power Ranger or an NBA player, so it was pretty cut and dry for me.

My favorite UM athlete is Sean Spence. The kid is phenomenal. He's a beast.

The U is very family-oriented. It's a close-knit community. Everyone is in-tune and close with each other.

I'm afraid of the little lizards you see running around when you're walking to class.

After college I want to start my own business. I'm not really sure in what field or what my expertise would be, but I want to start my own business.

One thing everyone should know about Miami basketball is we work extremely hard and we're extremely dedicated to bringing positive results to the school.

In March I want to still be playing.

I never thought college would be this hard. When I was a kid, I always watched A Different World. I always thought college would be like two or three hours of class and the rest was casual or leisure time.

My favorite quote is "the harder you work during peace, the less you bleed during war." My high school coach used to always tell us that, but he was known for always taking other people's words, so I don't really know where it originated from.

Before every game I like to relax and unwind. Usually I'll go to a movie or do something relaxing to get my mind and my focus off of the game.

My favorite midnight snack is eating cereal. I feel like cereal is the perfect balance of food and hydration (laughs).

Coach Larranaga is probably one of the most upbeat and energetic coaches I've ever played for. He knows exactly how to get the best out of all of his players.

My favorite movie is Antwone Fisher, because it moves you on so many different levels. It really taught me how that you never really know what type of person you are dealing with or other people's experiences until you know what type of obstacles they've overcome to get to where they are now.

The actor I would want to play me in a movie is Soulja Boy (laughs). Just kidding. I would say Denzel Washington probably because he's the greatest actor of my lifetime.

They are stories of perseverance. Stories about growing up, becoming men and being a part of a family. One-by-one, we hear from them. These are the Miami Hurricanes...

My family is my number one fan. They always come to the games. They always talk to me when I'm down or if I need advice or something like that. So yeah, number one fans. They live pretty much everywhere: Cameroon, France, Tampa and now West Palm Beach. My mom is here staying in West Palm, and my dad comes back and forth.

Playing basketball has given me an opportunity to travel everywhere. I've been to France, Russia, L.A, and all over America. I feel like I've been on vacation my whole life just traveling everywhere.

I came to the United States from Cameroon after stopping in France first. We came here for a vacation and we actually met Alonzo Mourning on the street in Coconut Grove. I was about 13 years old when I met Alonzo. I was so scared. He was so tall and big. It was funny. He was like "This kid has got to play basketball". So my parents started thinking about it and when we went back home, they put me in a camp in France and I guess the coach liked me. So they were like "All right you have to stay". I went to school there for a year. I went to Russia for a tournament and I did pretty good. There were high school and college scouts and they said I should come to America and play.

The U is a family too. A family away from home. The students, everyone. Everywhere you go you hear about the U. Everybody wants to be a part of this and I'm happy that I am.

I like to play video games and people don't know but I like to read books. I like science fiction, action, Sherlock Holmes books. Intriguing stuff. I like NBA2K12 right now. Still trying to figure it out.

When I was introduced to Coach L I was surprised. He has a lot of energy. I didn't know what to expect when he came here. The guy knows what he is talking about, and he really wants everyone to get better every single day.

The hardest part of being away from home is home food. Especially coming from overseas, the culture is different. I miss my mom's food even though I get it once a week. It's just different. We eat like frog legs. They don't have it here, or I haven't found it yet. I like pasta, chicken carbonara, stuff like that.

I was raised in Africa for half my life, France for another half, and then here. I was raised to be the best kid, the most polite. I have three brothers, all here in Miami. One goes to school here. My littlest brother is going to school in Broward, playing basketball. He's pretty good too.

When I played basketball growing up I pretended to be Magic Johnson. Even though I'm pretty tall, I always liked to handle the ball and give nice passes. I like Magic.

I'll never forget the first time I met Alonzo Mourning. That's really what pushed me to play basketball. He came to me, shook my hand, and said "This kid has to play basketball. He's going to be pretty good". After that, I never stopped watching him. He's just a great player. I'll never forget that. What did he see in me? I think it was my hands. I had the biggest hands for a 13-year-old. So it was like "he has to play basketball. He's going to be tall." And he was right. I don't even know if he remembers it. We were just walking around. It was here at the Grove. I got a picture and an autograph. I still have those in a little book in West Palm.

As soon as I came to Florida, I knew I was coming to Miami. Just knowing that the Heat were here, a city with basketball players. I knew I was coming here.

I'm a Hurricane because the family, the atmosphere, just the city of Miami. The students here take a lot of pride in the school and the basketball team. Even though sometimes we have bad seasons and good seasons, they're always here. So that's something I like about the students, they really take pride in the U.

Some of my personal goals are to play professional and just help this team and play well this year for the team.

At the University I've learned so much from Coach L. Everything from being a basketball player to taking care of business off the court and how to approach stuff. Just growing up as a man.

Once thing everyone should know about UM hoops is we are going to be tough minded. We're going to play hard. It's going to be different on defense. We're going to run, it's going to be fun for people. They're going to see a lot of running, layups, dunks, it's going to be fun.

I never thought I would be here. Like I said, basketball took me a lot of places and I would have never thought I would be here

Competition is great. I love it. You have to be competitive in life. From video games to who finishes a meal first, I love competition with anybody.

If I could play against any team, it would be Kentucky because they have a great team and great hype. You always want to play the best. I would have said North Carolina but we're playing them.

I secretly wish that I could dance. I can't. I tried to many times. I got the video and I think I can dance, but I can't. Sometimes, I try to have Malcolm help me, but he moves too fast for me. I tried to Dougie, I tried moonwalking, it's too hard. I'm good with the two steps, but after that I don't really do anything.

Cameroon is a great country. It's my home country, I love it. When I was there, there were really no worries. You know everybody because the country and city is so small. I just love it. The whole city knew me. I was one of the tallest kids. We were always outside with our friends, too, so everyone knew. My parents are from Cameroon. My mom grew up in France. My dad was born in France but raised in Cameroon. I was born in France too, but we're all Cameroonian.

They are stories of perseverance. Stories about growing up, becoming men and being a part of a family. One-by-one, we hear from them. These are the Miami Hurricanes...

My family is supportive. They've always been behind me with everything that I have done. Even though my dad wasn't always there due to baseball, my mom was always there for me, taking me to all of my games. My dad would talk to me after every game to see how I did and provide information on how I can improve. I have two sisters. My little sister is a young diva. She likes to sing and she's trying to do well in that so I support her with everything she does. My older sister played lacrosse in high school. Now she's at a cosmetology school doing make-up. I have a little brother. He's not my blood brother but he lives with us because he wasn't in such a good situation at home. We became friends my junior year of high school and he just moved in, his senior year and my freshman year of college. We just became best friends. We talk about everything, he's just like my little brother.

I like to joke around and have fun. I like playing video games and listening to music. I like having fun, playing around and having fun with everyone. My favorite videogame is 2k12. Everyone on the team is playing it but I would say I'm the best. I haven't played anybody but they're scared to play me.

I was raised to be humble. My dad played Major League Baseball and always told me people were going to criticize me because of who he was and say "you're spoiled, you're a rich kid" and he told me not to listen to it. I was really good at playing football and one time I scored a touchdown and there was no one within 20 yards of me so I started show-boating and doing my best Deion Sanders impersonation. After the game he pulled me to the side and I thought he was going to be excited but he just yelled at me. He said "don't ever do that again. Be humble. Don't show-boat. Do your best and let that do the talking." In basketball, you'll see me get hyped with the team for a little bit but if I hit a three, you won't see me running down the court with my hand up. I try to stay humble. You can enjoy what you're doing without doing it in a boasting way.

I started playing basketball at five years old. I got a Fisher Price hoop as a kid and I was pretty athletic so I would dunk on it. I started playing basketball at the YMCA. I've never really been a big scorer, always a passer. I was a rebounder and passer, really athletic just like Shawn Marion.

The hardest part about being away from home is being away from my mom simply because my dad wasn't there because he was playing baseball. My mom was there for me. She's been down here to see me a couple of times. We're really close so it's a good thing I'm close to home.

I can't lie I watch Jersey Shore and X-Factor. Those are my two favorite shows. The girl from down here, Melanie Amoro, she can sing. On Jersey Shore, I could see myself hanging out with Pauly D and Vinny because they're crazy.

I've learned how to be more responsible and how to assess a situation before I need to jump into something. I'm living on my own, in my own apartment right now so I can't wake up and ask my mom to wash something for me before school. It's not like when I was at home and can ask her to do something for me. I'm down here on my own, living on my own so there are a lot of responsibilities on me. I have to go to practice, keep my house clean, get groceries when I need them, and not to mention school work.

When I was younger I pretended to be Allen Iverson as best as I could. He was my favorite player, number 3 all the way. I just tried to be A.I. with all of the tricks. I had everything A.I. I had the wrist bands, the headbands, even with the curly hair I tried to braid my hair.

I'll never forget at the Championship game in Lakeland we were down two with 6.7 seconds left and they had the ball. We called a timeout and the coach was looking around trying to figure out who he was going to put in the game. I was already in the game and he said "Shane you need to get a steal". I was young so there was a lot of pressure on me already being in a national championship game so I was nervous and said I would try. The team tried to throw it over the top and I caught it at half court. Coach calls timeout and we went back to the huddle. I'm not a shooter at all, I'm just a driver who gets to the basket and he says "Shane we need you shoot this three". Coach stressed it was win or go home right now. There were four seconds left, I did my little A.I. move, took a step back and shot a three from three steps behind the line. I hit it and the fans went crazy. My Uncle Joe ran on the court and picked me up. My mom and cousins came out too.

I'm a Miami Hurricane because I love the city of Miami and I think this team can do something special. Coach L is a great coach with a lot of experience but coming from a mid-major school he hasn't had a lot of talent like he can get at this level. I think with him coming here and with his coaching abilities, we'll do great things.

Playing basketball has made me take advantage of plenty of opportunities that have been presented to me. I've been able to travel to different states. It's made me into the person I am. Everyone wanted me to play baseball because of my dad but I never really found baseball exciting. The reason why basketball has been my sport is because it motivates me to succeed in this sport. My dad played baseball and made it in baseball so they say I should have done the same. With me playing basketball I have to work for everything I get and I'm not going to be given anything, so it is my motivation to do better as an athlete.

I've visited about 30 of the 50 states and Hawaii was my favorite. We went to a holiday tournament in Hawaii my senior year of high school. We lost to Oak Hill in the semi-finals but it was a great experience.

The U is very family oriented. All of the athletes know each other. No matter where you are on campus, everyone knows who you are. Everyone is very supportive of the teams and it's just a great environment and in the city of Miami so you can't go wrong.

When I was first introduced to Coach Larranaga this was while he was at George Mason and he told me he really liked my game. He had a lot of energy and passion for the game of basketball. He's very experienced and you could tell he knows his stuff. It's been great playing for him, because I've always wanted to. With the situation going on with my family, he was very supportive. He's been with the same staff for a while now so they're like a family so he told me if I came to Miami it would have been the same for me and they would welcome me and treat me like their son. It's been everything he has said it would be so far.

At The U I've learned so much from Coach L and the rest of the coaching staff. They all have kids and they're always there for me and I love being able to grow up around them. When I first got here I was very structured but once I got comfortable I showed my true colors. They showed me it's time to grow up and this is more than just a game. In practice the other day I got a steal up front and I thought the play was over, so I took the ball to the other end and tossed up a silly shot. Coach got on me about never stopping the play and finishing the shot. I've learned a lot.

One thing everyone should know about UM hoops is we're really athletic and we're going to be a very good defensive team this year. Everyone who plays us should know we're going to be high in defensive stats and we'll make you earn every bucket.

I secretly wish I could sing better. I sing in the car and around my teammates. I'm always dancing but Malcolm, Durand, Bishop, and Julian are the biggest dancers on the team.

They are stories of perseverance. Stories about growing up, becoming men and being a part of a family. One-by-one, we hear from them. These are the Miami Hurricanes...

I was raised in Milwaukee, Wis.

I started playing basketball in the third grade.

My favorite holiday is Christmas because I get to see my family, all of my family.

Nobody knows that I can cut hair. I cut or line up a few guys on the team when they need it. I cut my own hair.

To be a Miami Hurricane means that you need to put it all on the table for The U.

Oddest nickname I've ever had is Virge, because of what my name was when I was born.

Right now I'm listening to the J. Cole album.

If I wasn't playing basketball I would be I would be playing football somewhere.

When I was younger I wanted to be a professional basketball player, just like my uncle.

I secretly wish I didn't have to take classes and could just be an athlete.

Legacy is the road to the top or the climax of your career.

My favorite current UM athlete is Julian Gamble because I'm probably the closest with him. He's my roommate and after my visit he was the main one who texted me and called me to make sure everything was all right.

Becoming a man is necessary in order to become a college basketball player.

The U is different than any other school.

I'm afraid of sharks. My family came to visit this summer and we rented a boat and we're out in the middle of the ocean and I jumped in. That was probably the scariest thing I've ever done.

After college I want to play professional basketball.

One thing everyone should know about Miami Basketball is that we're all brothers and we like to have fun.

At The U, I've learned so much from my teammates as a whole. I couldn't pick just one person because you learn different things from everyone.

In March I want to still be playing basketball in the tournament.

I never thought I would actually be going here. Growing up I always liked Miami because of the jerseys, I'm not going to lie, but I never thought I would actually be here right now when I was really young.

Before every game I need to pray.

My favorite song lyric is ... I honestly have a problem remembering song lyrics so I can't come up with one on the top of my head. I get that from my mom. She's the same way (laughs.)

My favorite midnight snack is Cheez-Itz

Coach Larranaga is a great coach who I believe is going to take us to that next level.

My favorite movie is The Dark Knight.

The actor I would want to play me in a movie is someone who semi-looks like me to play me. I would have to pick someone who's light-skinned so either Terrence Howard or Will Smith. Maybe Terrence Howard since he has light eyes.

They are stories of perseverance. Stories about growing up, becoming men and being a part of a family. One-by-one, we hear from them. These are the Miami Hurricanes...

I was raised in Seattle, Wash., particularly in Skyway, Wash. It's a smaller city right outside of the city.

I started playing basketball when I was five years old. I started out rec league and just playing in the backyard with my cousin Josh. We would always watch Michael Jordan in the playoffs and go right outside and try to imitate what he did in the games.

My favorite holiday is Christmas. It's right after my birthday and I just like the feeling of everybody giving presents and getting presents. It's good to see everyone smiling.

Nobody knows that I can barbeque. It's something that I've been working on. I'm learning from my dad, he's a great cook and I just love barbeque, too.

To be a Miami Hurricane means to walk around with pride knowing that The U has so much tradition; so many great players have come through this university, not only players but individuals in society as well.

The oddest nickname I've ever had is Ry Guy 3000. It was made up in seventh grade. I don't remember how it came to be but it stuck for the rest of the school year.

Right now I'm listening to Kendrick Lamar. He's a new up-and-coming artist out of LA and he's trying to bring West Coast music back and I'm from the West Coast so I'm excited about that.

If I wasn't playing basketball I would be still at the University of Miami. I was a walk-on but I would be trying to do more as far as with my degree since I had more time on my hands. Probably different internships.

When I was younger I wanted to be a congressman. My grandpa always used to ask me that and I always gave him the same answer. Now I'm nowhere near interested in being one.

My family is really close, from immediate family even to extended family my aunts and uncles on both sides have big families. I always talk to my aunts and uncles all the time and they really support me with everything I do.

My favorite current UM athlete is Jacory Harris because he's been under a lot of scrutiny but he still does what he's supposed to do on and off the field. He's very resilient and carries himself like a young man.

After college I want to hopefully get a good paying job but ultimately I want to open up a youth community center back home and help out all of the youth.

One thing everyone should know about Miami basketball is that we're here to stay. Coach L has created a strong foundation so far and I believe that it will carry on into the future and we'll be a great basketball program as well.

My favorite midnight snack is peanut butter and jelly, strawberry jelly to be exact. I don't just make a regular sandwich, I have to make it double decker because I always end up making two sandwiches in one at the same.

My favorite movie is Apocolyto. It's a great movie its about the Mayans back before pre-Columbus. It's just really captivating to me.

The actor I would want to play me in a movie is Al Pacino. I've grown to like Al Pacino and I've been watching a lot of his movies and I think he's one of the greatest actors ever so I think that would be great.

They are stories of perseverance. Stories about growing up, becoming men and being a part of a family. One-by-one, we hear from them. These are the Miami Hurricanes...

I was raised in the borough of the Bronx with my mother and father and two brothers and two sisters until they got older and left me alone to be the baby.

I started playing basketball when I was nine years old. I was the worst basketball player ever and the only reason I got picked to be on the team was because I was pretty tall.

To be a Miami Hurricane means a lot because it stands for family unity and all of the right things that I've been preached since I was growing up so it was a perfect fit for me.

Nobody knows that I can dance. I dance a lot, all the time.

If I wasn't playing basketball I would be playing football because that was my first sport but then I hurt somebody so my mom believed the same thing could happen to me so I had to pick a new sport.

My favorite holiday is Christmas because you get presents from everybody other than family, family friends, whoever.

Right now I'm listening to a lot of Meek Mills

When I was younger I wanted to be like my father. He meant a lot to me and he paved the road for the man I am today.

My family is the most important thing to me in the world because they're always there for me and supporting me.

Winning a game is very important because I hate to lose. Even though I may not show it as much, I'm a great competitor and I've never lost a lot throughout my life.

My favorite current UM athlete is Sean Spence on the football team because he's always hyped on the football field and I know him personally.

Becoming a man was an easy step for me because of the help I got from my father.

The U is a great school which I don't regret attending and I enjoy my stay here. I believe it was a perfect fit for me.

After college I want to finish my education and hopefully continue my basketball. Hopefully the NBA, if not, wherever it takes me.

One thing everybody should know about Miami Basketball is we're a great group of guys to be around and we try our hardest every day to do what we have to do.

At The U, I've learned so much from my old coach, Coach Fernandez. He took me under his wing and he's the one who recruited me. He showed me a lot and taught me the focus I need to have during the game, practice and off the court.

In March I want to be playing, which I know I will be playing because I'm going to make sure we'll still be playing.

I never thought I would have a new coach but it's a great experience but he's a great guy and a great coach. I think he's going to do great things for us this year.

Before every game I listen to music and go shoot and buy a new pair of sneakers.

My favorite movie is 'Crybaby' with Johnny Depp, which is a musical, and 'Friday After Next' starring Ice Cube.

My favorite quote is it's not my favorite, but one that just popped into my mind is 'Go Hard or Go Home' because once I step on the court I know I have to leave everything on the court because if not, I'll be disappointed.

My favorite midnight snack is cereal, Cinnamon Toast Crunch and Crunch Berries.

My teammate that would win Dancing With the Stars is me (laughs). I danced when I was younger and still do now to the hip stuff that these little kids call the Dougie and stuff like that. I'm pretty good at that.

They are stories of perseverance. Stories about growing up, becoming men and being a part of a family. One-by-one, we hear from them. These are the Miami Hurricanes...

I started playing basketball when I was about two years old. I first started playing soccer and kind of mixed the two, but I found my love in about middle school.

My favorite holiday is Christmas, especially because nowadays I don't get to see my family a lot. It's nice because I know everyone that's when everyone takes vacation.

Nobody knows that I can play the guitar. I just started about two months ago, so that's my new hidden talent.

When I was younger I wanted to be a professor. I also wanted to play professional soccer.

I secretly wish I could have a school year abroad.

Legacy represents your family name. I've always had that philosophy, which I think is old school. Everywhere you go you're representing you're family, which is why hopefully this year we have our names on the back of our jerseys.

The U is internationally known. It's something that, no matter where you are, people will respect you or ask about you or how you're affiliated. Either they have an interest, have heard of us or want to be a part of The U.

I'm afraid of spiders (laughs).

After college I want to play professionally. My two other dreams would be to do marketing for Nike or be a doctor.

My favorite quote is from my favorite movie Idlewild, "God don't make no mistakes." I know it's a double negative, but I still like it.

My favorite midnight snack is probably oatmeal raisin cookies.

Coach Larranaga is really influential in my life so far. His new philosophy towards how to approach the game in general is just a new twist compared to last year. His whole general outlook and philosophy that the whole coaching staff follows, I'm buying into it faster and just can't wait for the season to start.

The actor I would want to play me in a movie is Dave Chappelle. Since he just recently got buff I think he could do it (laughs).

BARRY	33

BankUnited Center-Coral Gables, Fla.

DeQuan Jones and Rion Brown combined for 32 points, nearly outscoring Barry in the University of Miami's 102-33 blowout exhibition win over the Buccaneers.

Miami jumped to a quick 28-8 lead eight minutes into the game and the rest was history. Ten different Canes scored by halftime as UM led 52-18 at the break, and continued strong into the second half, with UM's lead expanding to as much as 70 late in the game.

In his first game as a Canes, Brown scored 16 including 11 in the first half. Jones also poured in 16, with seven rebounds to help UM to the victory. DeQuwan Kirk added a double-double of 11 points (4-of-4 FG, 2-of-2 FT) and 10 rebounds, while Reggie Johnson (13 points, 6 rebounds) and Malcolm Grant (15 points, 3 assists) also reached double-figure scoring.

As a team, Miami shot 55.4 percent from the field, including 50 percent (15-of-30) from behind the line. The Hurricanes out-rebounded Barry, 52-20, including a strong showing on the offensive glass that led to 24 second-chance points. True freshmen Raphael Algejori (6 points, 5 rebounds) and Erik Sweeps (6 points, 4 rebounds) joined Brown with impressive collegiate debuts on the court.

Miami continued to build its lead in the second half, leading by as many as 27 points late in the contest.

Twelve Hurricanes played in the game, including 10 that played at least 14 minutes. Scott led UM with 14 points, five assists and four steals, hitting on 6-of-10 from the field. Grant added 13 points and knocked down three three-pointers, while Thomas connected on four attempts from long range.

GAME 20 Jan. 26, 2011

NORTH CAROLINA	74
MIAMI	71

BankUnited Center—Coral Gables, Fla.

(AP) Harrison Barnes sank a 3-pointer with 6.6 seconds left, and North Carolina overcame an early 14-point deficit to beat Miami, 74-71.

The Hurricanes have lost their past three games by a total of seven points. The latest defeat came despite the Hurricanes' scoring 16 consecutive points in the first half.

Barnes sank a 15-footer for the Tar Heels (14-5, 4-1 ACC) with 1:09 left to tie the score for the 10th time, at 71, and when the Hurricanes' Reggie Johnson missed an inside shot, the Tar Heels got the ball back.

Following a timeout, Barnes took a pass from Kendall Marshall and snatched a shot from the right side. Miami's Malcolm Grant missed a 3-point try with one second left that would have forced overtime.

Barnes was held scoreless for the first 18 minutes but finished with 13 points. Dexter Strickland missed only one shot and scored 12 for UNC.

Deraud Scott had 18 and Grant 17 for the Hurricanes, who lost despite a season-high tying 13 3-pointers.

The Tar Heels started slowly, as if they were still rattled by a boozy, cozy descent when their plane landed Tuesday night in a Miami thunderstorm. The team endured a turbulent first half. The Cavs sank four shots in a row — all 3-pointers — during a spurt that put them up 19-4 after less than 7 minutes. Johnson capped the run with a dunk — his third basket. Miami had six 3-pointers before North Carolina made one.

But the Tar Heels scored on 10 of 22 possessions to get back in the game. They made six shots in a row during a 13-2 run that cut Miami's lead to 31-29, and finally pulled even at 39 on Barnes' 3-pointer, a buzzer-beater to end the half.

While the first half was a roller coaster, the second half was a seesaw, with 13 lead changes. Scott sank both ends of a one-and-one with two minutes remaining to make the score 63-48, and Grant's two free throws put Miami ahead 71-69. But the Hurricanes went without a basket over the final 4:14.

VIRGINIA TECH	72
MIAMI	68

Cassell Coliseum—Blacksburg, Va.

(AP) Jeff Allen had 18 points and 11 rebounds, including three straight baskets for Virginia Tech in the second half, and the Hokies beat Miami 72-68.

Erick Green added 15 points and Malcolm Delaney had 14 for the Hokies (14-5, 4-3 ACC), who had to hold on at the finish to win for the 10th time in 12 games.

The Hurricanes (12-9, 1-6) lost their fourth in a row, but their combined margins of defeat in those games total only 11 points.

Deraud Scott scored 21 points and Malcolm Grant 14 for Miami. Garles Adams added 11 points for the Hurricanes, all in the second half.

The Hurricanes closed to within a point with 2:54 left, setting off a wild finish, but Green hit three key free throws in the last three minutes and the Hokies held on.

Miami used a 12-5 run to close a 57-48 deficit to 62-61 on Adams' second consecutive 3-pointer with 2:54 to play, but Green scored inside and was fouled. He made the free throw, setting up a wild finish.

Scott drew and scored, and Delaney answered with a 3-pointer, his first points of the second half. To make it 68-63, Scott drew a foul at the other end and made both again, and then Green did the same for the Hokies, keeping them ahead by five with 1:37 remaining.

Adams' third 3-pointer 10 seconds later made it 70-68, and after Delaney missed a 3-pointer for the Hokies, Miami had two clean looks from behind the arc, and neither went down.

Delaney, the Hokies' best free-throw shooter, was fouled with a chance to make it a two-possession game, but he missed the first and made the second, giving the Hokies a 71-68 lead.

When Miami missed another three, Terrill Bell rebounded for the Hokies, converted the last free throw and it was over.

MIAMI	59
GEORGIA TECH	57

BankUnited Center—Coral Gables, Fla.

(AP) Miami overcame a season-high 28 turnovers and snapped a four-game losing streak by taking advantage of Georgia Tech's poor shooting to win 59-57. Miami built a 21-point lead with 13 1/2 minutes left, then held on despite making only two baskets the rest of the way.

Glen Rice Jr. scored a career-high 28 points for the Yellow Jackets, who shot an season-worst 27 percent. Miami foiled GT's bid to force overtime when Iman Shumpert was called for charging with 9 seconds left.

The Hurricanes (12-9, 2-6 ACC) outdrew a loose finish after losing four consecutive games by a total of 11 points. The Yellow Jackets (20-11, 3-5) overcame injuries in seven road games this season.

Reggie Johnson's dunk with 13:37 left gave the Hurricanes their biggest advantage, 48-27. But Tech went to a full-court press that compounded the Hurricanes' turnover trouble, and they made only one basket over the next 12 minutes.

Rice Brown's breakaway dunk after the Hurricanes beat the press put them up 58-51 with 1:33 left. They committed two turnovers and missed two shots and a free throw the rest of the way.

But Tech shot five air balls in the frantic final seconds, and Miami held an even after Wes Udofia scored to make it 58-57 with 20 seconds to go. While Rice shot 9 for 22, his team shot just 8 for 40 — 20 percent.

Malcolm Grant led the Hurricanes with 15 points, and Garles Adams had 11, while Johnson grabbed 11 rebounds for his fourth-straight game with double-figure boards.

The Hurricanes sank a pair of 3-pointers during a 9-4 run that put them ahead 20-9. The Yellow Jackets missed their first nine 3-point tries before Shumpert sank one to cut Miami's lead to 22-20.

From there, the Hurricanes went on a 16-3 run that spanned halftime. They went the length of the court in the final 2.2 seconds of the first half for a buzzer-beater by Adams, and Deraud Scott sank his only basket 3 1/2 minutes into the second half for a 38-23 lead.

MIAMI	78
NC GREENSBORO	58

Greensboro Coliseum—Greensboro, N.C.

(AP) Adrian Thomas scored 18 points and matched a career high with six 3-pointers to help Miami rout North Carolina Greensboro 78-58. Malcolm Grant and Barclay Adams added 16 points apiece for the Hurricanes (16-10) who have won five of their last five games.

Miami finished with 12 3s — one shy of matching a season best — and shot nearly 44 percent on 25-of-57 shooting. Kyle Randall scored 13 points to lead UNC Greensboro (5-20), however the Spartans finished 3 of 20 from 3-point range and have lost five of seven.

Darand Scott had his first career double-double with 12 points and a career-high 12 rebounds for the Hurricanes, who were looking to get comfortable at the Greensboro Coliseum — the site of next month's ACC Tournament. Before a 10-point home loss to No. 9 Duke on Sunday night, the Hurricanes were involved in eight consecutive games that each were decided by four or fewer points — including a 74-72 win at Wake Forest on Feb. 9. This one didn't wind up anywhere near that close. Not after the Hurricanes took both the lead and total control with impressive runs at the end of the first half and the start of the second.

Miami went up to stay while closing the first half with a 20-10 run that gave it a 35-20 lead at the break. Then, the Hurricanes took their first double figure lead during a 23-9 burst shortly after halftime. Scott's steal and layup made it 43-33 with 17 1/2 minutes left, and Barclay Adams capped the run with a dunk that stretched the lead to 58-39 with just over 10 minutes remaining. Thomas later put Miami up 20 with — what else? — a 3 from the corner, making it 87-47 with 6 minutes left.

Perhaps more significantly, Miami did it largely without Reggie Johnson — a 6-foot-10, 303-pound relative of nearby Winston-Salem who entered having scored in double figures in four straight games. Plagued by early foul trouble and the clear focus of UNC Greensboro's defense, Johnson didn't score until he hit two free throws in the final minutes for his only points.

Alexis Henry finished with 12 points for the Spartans.

CLEMSON	63

BankUnited Center—Coral Gables, Fla.

(AP) Andre Young scored 18 points, Demonte Stitt added 17 and Clemson snapped a two-game slide by holding off Miami 63-59.

Miami had three defensive possessions where it forced Clemson into either a shot-clock violation or missing a jumper just before the 35-second clock would expire in the first 9 minutes alone.

The Hurricanes managed only one field goal over a 4 1/2-minute stretch late in the half, and the Tigers opened a 28-21 lead with a 10-7 sprint. Riley Brown ended the Miami drought with a 12-footer from the right baseline, and the Hurricanes wound up scoring the final six points before intermission with Clemson leading 28-27.

A pair of free throws by Reggie Johnson with 9:18 left put the Hurricanes up 44-39, their largest cushion to that point. It was gone in less than 90 seconds; Stitt made two free throws with 7:34 left for a 48-45 Tigers lead — the start of a back-and-forth all the way to the end.

Malcolm Grant the Hurricanes' leading scorer at 15.3 points per game coming into the Clemson game — had been scoreless until hitting a 3-pointer with 5:49 left to put Miami up 50-48. And 59 seconds later, he showed a flare for the dramatic — making a 3-pointer from the right corner while getting fouled by Stitt, added the free throw and the Hurricanes were up 54-50.

Clemson elected to foul Adrian Thomas with a three-point lead with 3.4 seconds left. Thomas made one, Stitt got the rebound and was fouled with 1.7 seconds remaining, hit two free throws and Clemson escaped.

Darand Scott scored 16 for Miami and Thomas added 12. It was Miami's ninth ACC game to be decided in the final seconds — the Hurricanes dropped to 4-5 in those contests.

BOSTON COLLEGE	64

Corte Forum—Chestrut Hill, Mass.

(AP) Reggie Johnson scored 12 of his 15 points in the second half to help Miami hold off a Boston College charge in a 73-64 win, sweeping the season series.

The Hurricanes (17-13, 5-8 ACC) led by as many as 22 points in the first half. They were up by 18 before Reggie Jackson and Joe Trapani led a pair of Eagles comebacks to get within six points on three occasions, the last time with 22.7 seconds left.

Johnson converted back-to-back three-point plays when BC (16-11, 6-7), which got as close as five points, at 51-56 with 3:38 left, made its first run. He hit two more buckets and two free throws later in the half. Malcolm Grant added 15 points for Miami, including a bomb with 3 minutes left.

For the Eagles, Trapani scored 13 of his 16 points in the second half, and Jackson had 13 of his 15 after the break. Trapani also had 11 rebounds.

The loss dealt a serious blow to BC's chances for an NCAA Tournament bid. Considered to be firmly on the bubble coming in, the Eagles took almost five minutes to hit their first field goal but trailed only 12-10 before Miami went on a 22-2 run to blow the game open.

BC shot 30 percent from the floor in the half, and were a woeful 3-for-9 from 3-point range. The Eagles turned the ball over eight times and were outrebounded, 21-10.

The first time the teams played, a 72-71 Miami win on Jan. 15, the Hurricanes also outscored the Eagles, but only by a 37-32 margin.

(AP) Dikar White and Deloris Delays scored 17 points apiece and Florida State held off a furious Miami finish to escape with a 65-59 victory for its 20th win of the season.

White, a freshman starting in place of injured Chris Singleton, knocked down a 10-foot jumper with 31 seconds remaining that gave Florida State a 64-59 lead after Malcolm Grant's 3-point shot 25 seconds earlier moved the Hurricanes to within 62-59.

#8 VIRGINIA	62

Greensboro Coliseum—Greensboro, N.C. | OVERTIME
ACC Tournament First Round

(AP) Malcolm Grant scored 18 points as Miami rallied from 10 down in the final minute of regulation to force overtime and beat Virginia 69-62 in Thursday's first round of the ACC Tournament. Garland Adams added 13 points for the Hurricanes (19-13), who spent most of the second half struggling to make a shot before their frantic comeback forced the extra period. Once there, Grant hit three free throws while Adams had a crucial 3-pointer and Reggie Johnson added a pair of baskets to put Miami in control.

Mostapha Farkhoun had 14 points to lead the eighth-seeded Cavaliers (18-15), whose 20-2 run gave them a 50-38 lead with 2:12 left. But Miami staged a rally as improbable as it was wild, particularly considering how poorly the Hurricanes had shot the ball through the second half.

Trailing 53-43 with 42.5 seconds left, Durand Scott hit a 3-pointer. Then Sammy Zeglinski missed a pair of free throws and Miami came back with another 3, this time from Grant to cut the deficit to 53-49 with 33.1 seconds left.

The Cavaliers turned it over in the backcourt and Jellian Gamble (11 points) dunked home a basket on the inbound play to cut it to 53-51. Then Scott stole Jostel Evans' inbound pass under the basket and scored on a layup while being fouled to tie it with 13.9 seconds left. He missed the free throw, but Zeglinski couldn't control the rebound as it bounced off his foot and out of bounds with 11.6 seconds left. Grant lost the ball when it slipped out of his hands on a shot attempt, giving it back to Virginia with 1.3 seconds left. But again, the Hurricanes stole the inbound when Gamble jumped in front of Will Sherill's pass over midcourt before missing a desperate heave at the horn.

Once in the overtime, the Hurricanes played confidently to steal a win that looked certain for the Cavaliers just moments earlier. Miami missed 17 of its first 19 shots in the second half and had just 12 points through the first 19 minutes before scoring the final 10 points in regulation. The Hurricanes then hit all five of their shots in the overtime.

#1 (No. 6/7) NORTH CAROLINA	61
#9 MIAMI	59

Greensboro Coliseum—Greensboro, N.C. | ACC Tournament Quarterfinals

(AP) Kendall Marshall fouled Tyler Zeller for a buzzer-beating layup as No. 6 North Carolina rallied from 19 down in the second half to beat Miami 61-59 in the ACC Tournament.

Zeller finished with 13 points for the top-seeded Tar Heels (25-6), who escaped the upset with a frantic comeback in the final 9 minutes. North Carolina struggled with turnovers all day against Miami's zone defense and didn't get much going inside. The team rallied with a flurry of 3-point shots before Zeller gave UNC its only lead on the final play.

The ninth-seeded Hurricanes (19-14) staged their own comeback to beat Virginia, but officials immediately ruled Zeller's basket beat the horn, denying Miami another late-second victory. It was North Carolina's biggest comeback in a game in five years, dating to when the Tar Heels rallied from 20 down in the first half to beat Georgia Tech in 2006.

Harrison Barnes had 19 points and hit four of the Tar Heels' 10 3-pointers, seven coming in the second half. Leslie McDonald added 11 points and hit three 3s as part of a smaller lineup that finally got the Tar Heels going after a sluggish first 30 minutes. North Carolina shot 56 percent and had just five turnovers following the break after committing 15 in the first half. The Hurricanes capitalized on these misses all day, but the Tar Heels finally built some momentum with a series of four 3s in a 2-minute span to cut a 16-point deficit to 55-51 with 5:13 left.

Zeller tied the game on a hook shot in the lane with 45.3 seconds left. Then Miami gave it back to the Tar Heels when Adrian Thomas couldn't handle a pass from Malcolm Grant and fumbled the ball out of bounds with 18.6 seconds remaining. The Hurricanes had committed just four team fouls to that point, so they fouled twice to take North Carolina out of rhythm in the waning seconds. Finally, Marshall took an inbound pass with 5.6 seconds left and drove by Jellian Gamble in the lane before sending a short pass over to Zeller on the other side of the block. Zeller quickly put it in, sending the home-state crowd filled with plenty of light blue into a loud roar of delight.

BankUnited Center—Coral Gables, Fla. | NIT First Round

FAU did all it could to hang around with Miami but in the end, the Hurricanes were just too much for the Owls to handle. The second-seeded 'Canes (20-14) pulled away from seventh-seeded FAU (21-11) for a 65-62 win in the opening round of the 2011 NIT.

Outside a few quick spurts by the Owls, Miami had complete control of this one throughout, thanks to a season-best shooting performance and a dominant performance in the paint by center Reggie Johnson, who pulled down a career-high 20 rebounds — the most for a 'Canes since the return of Miami basketball in 1995-96.

The 'Canes connected on 60-percent of its shots, topping their previous best this season of 54.9-percent set against Maryland on March 2. All-ACC third-leader Malcolm Grant led all scorers with 23 points — his eighth 20-point outing this season, while Johnson recorded his 17th double-double of the season with 14 points to go with his 20 boards. Durand Scott, who hit on 4-of-6 from the field and a perfect 10-of-10 from the line, finished with 19 points and four assists.

FAU opened things up by jumping out to a 6-2 lead but Miami responded with a 15-7 run to go up eight midway through the first half. FAU made a few small runs the rest of the period but the 'Canes were able to maintain their comfortable lead to take a 30-29 advantage into the half.

The Owls cut into Miami's lead in the second half, getting to within six with 11:24 to play, but that would be as close as they would get. Feeling their lead starting to slip away, the 'Canes rallied for a 15-1 run to go up 66-46 with 4:22 to play. From there, they never looked back.

The 23-point win was Miami's largest margin of victory since beating Pepperdine, 64-50, on Dec. 30, 2010, and its fifth 20-plus point win of the season. Miami out-rebounded FAU, 36-to-28, and held a 42-to-28 edge in points in the paint, thanks mostly to Johnson's big night inside.

The victory earned Miami's third 20-win season in the last four seasons under head coach Frank Haith.

Miami Men's Basketball History

It lay silent for 14 years. Collecting dust and going unnoticed, the Miami basketball program was the Rip van Winkle of college basketball from 1971 to 1985. But Hurricane Basketball returned, and in a big way.

Since 1985, the Miami program has undergone such dramatic and frequent changes, it seemed that the Hurricanes were continually entering "a new era." First came the "Era of Miami Basketball," itself.

Then came the "Bill Foster Era," followed by the "Tito Horford Era," "The Leonard Hamilton Era," "The BIG EAST Era," "The Frank Haith/ACC Era" and now "The Jim Larranaga Era."

With the entry into the Atlantic Coast Conference in 2004, the University of Miami entered the ranks of the most competitive and successful basketball conference in the nation.

The road to conference affiliation in the ACC was not an easy one for those who thirsted for basketball in this continually prospering part of the country. Moreover, the previous path traveled by Miami basketball players, coaches and fans was dotted by flashes of brilliance, color and sometimes disappointment.

Here is a capsule summary of the 83 years of Miami basketball that has played a part in the history of the athletic program at the University and its neighboring community.

The 1920s: Miami's First Time

- The Hurricanes fielded a freshman team in 1926-27, finishing 7-1 under Head Coach Art Webb.
- In 1927-28, the first official varsity basketball team at the University of Miami posted an 8-4 mark, knocking off Rollins, 51-15, in the opener.

The 1930s: A Missing Link

- Miami records list no official results from 1932 through 1938. During that period of time, representatives from the school played local AAU and church-sponsored teams under Coach Tom McCann.
- The Hurricanes returned to intercollegiate competition in the 1938-39 season, posting a 4-6 record under Head Coach Hart Morris.

The 1940s: World War II Stops Play

- Like many other institutions across the nation, Miami dropped intercollegiate basketball during the war years of 1942-1945.
- Morris returned as head coach along with the program in 1946 and was the UM mentor until 1952 when Dave Wike took over for a two-year stint as the UM coach.

The 1950s: UM's Glory Years

- In 1954, the University named Bruce Hale as its head basketball coach. The retired Air Force captain and former professional basketball star held the UM head coaching post for 13 seasons, leading the Hurricane program through its glory years of intercollegiate basketball. Before the end of Hale's tenure in 1967, the Hurricanes won 220 games and lost 112 for a .663 winning percentage. Hale's first Miami team turned in a 9-11 record, but there were no other losing campaigns in the next 12 years. The streak of non-losing seasons extended through the 1968-69 season — marking 14 consecutive campaigns of .500 basketball or better for UM.
- Hale's 1959-60 club was the first UM men's basketball team to advance to the NCAA Tournament and finish the season ranked in the Associated Press Top 10. That 1959-60 edition ran its record to 23-3 before bowing to Western Kentucky, 107-84, in the first round of the tournament.

- During that historic '59-60 NCAA Tournament year, junior guard Dick Hickox became the first UM basketball player to earn All-America recognition. Hickox averaged 22.1 points per game during that season en route to becoming a second-team AP and UPI All-American.

The 1960s: Rick Barry's All-American Years

- The Dick Hickox-led Hurricanes of 1960-61 returned to postseason play — falling in the first round of the NIT to St. Louis, 58-56. The 1960-61 squad compiled a 20-7 record.
- In 1962-63, Miami advanced to the second round of the NIT before falling to Providence, 106-96. An opening round NIT victory over St. Francis (N.Y.), 71-70, marked the first Miami victory in postseason play.
- From 1962 through 1965, Miami recorded three consecutive 20-win seasons, rolling up a composite record of 65-16. The star of these Hurricane glory teams was a brilliant scorer named Rick Barry.
- In 1964-65, Barry became the Hurricanes' only consensus All-America selection. The 6-7, 200-pound native of Roselle Park, New Jersey led the nation in scoring with a 37.4 average in his senior season. He went on to become the only player in basketball history to win single-season scoring titles in the NCAA, ABA and NBA. He was inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass., in 1986.
- The 1964-65 Miami squad, led by Barry's scoring brilliance, established a new NCAA scoring record by averaging 98.4 points per game. The 'Canes, however, were not allowed to participate in the NCAA Tournament that year — after posting a 22-4 record — because of recruiting violations.
- Bruce Hale resigned after 1966-67 and assistant Ron Godfrey assumed the head coaching responsibilities.

The 1970s: First Era Ends

- Don Curnutt closed out his Miami basketball career in 1970 as the Hurricanes' third player to receive All-American recognition.
- February 27, 1971 — The last victory by a University of Miami men's basketball team for 14 years came in the second-to-last game of the season, a 100-94 triumph against Florida State at home in the Dinner Key Auditorium. The 'Canes shot a season-high 62.5 percent from the floor and all five Miami starters scored in double figures.
- March 1, 1971 — After posting a four-year record of 47-56 at Miami, Ron Godfrey resigned his post as head basketball coach, effective following UM's final game of the season against nationally-ranked Jacksonville.
- March 2, 1971 — The last game played by a University of Miami men's team until 1985 took place at the Dinner Key Auditorium where one of the largest UM home crowds in years turned out to see the Hurricanes host nationally-ranked Jacksonville. The Dolphins handed Miami a 94-75 loss that remained as UM's last contest for the next 14 years.

1983: UM Commits To Rebuild

- July 15, 1983 — Sam Jankovich was named athletic director at the University of Miami. Coming to UM after a successful stint as the athletic director at Washington State, Jankovich immediately announced that the resurrection of men's basketball at Miami would be his primary priority in the early months of his tenure, enabling UM to have "one of the nation's most complete and visible overall programs in the country."
- October 12, 1983 — The University of Miami Board of Trustees unanimously voted to reinstate men's basketball at the University of Miami. The Board made the decision after reviewing a report submitted by newly hired Athletic Director Sam Jankovich, which stated that men's basketball can be a revenue-producing venture. Moreover, nearly $500,000 had already been raised in support of bringing basketball back to the University. It was also announced that the Hurricanes would be ready to compete on the Division I level in the 1985-86 season, and the downtown James L. Knight Center was home for the reborn program.

"This is an exciting day for the University and for the athletic program," UM President Edward T. Foote II said. "And we are keeping in mind the priorities of academics first and athletics second ... we are pleased that the changes in the economics of intercollegiate basketball allow the University to resurrect one of the country's most popular sports. We look forward to welcoming these Hurricanes home again."

1984: Foster Hired As Coach

- March 21, 1984 — Bill Foster, a 47-year-old native of Hemingway, S.C., was named the seventh men's basketball coach at the University of Miami. Foster came to Miami after 19 years as a head coach at Shorter College, Charlotte and Clemson. Foster also announced that Clint Bryant, a long-time assistant at Clemson, would also join the Miami staff.
- April 9, 1984 — Foster announced the hiring of a second assistant coach, Seth Greenberg, who was serving as an assistant coach to Terry Holland at Virginia.
- April 16, 1984 — Tim Harvey, a 6-10, 240-pound center, became the first basketball player to commit to the University of Miami in over 14 years. The Plainfield, N.J., native announced that he would transfer to Miami after spending two seasons in the Georgia Tech program.
- July 1, 1984 — A third assistant coach was hired to complete the basketball staff. Miami native Cesar Odio returned home after serving as an assistant coach at his alma mater, Florida Southern.
- October 11, 1984 — Nearly one full year after the announcement that basketball would return to the University, Athletic Director Sam Jankovich announced that a million dollar-plus practice facility would be constructed on the Coral Gables campus. The new all-purpose structure — located between the Hecht Athletic Center and the Greentree Track would be funded through a gift from the James L. Knight Charitable Trust.
- The first phase of the 1985-86 basketball schedule was also announced on this day, and the line-up included such perennial powers as North Carolina, Georgia, Notre Dame, Marquette and Dayton.
- October 15, 1984 — The first men's basketball practice session in more than 12 years was held on the patio in the center of campus. More than 200 members of the student body participated.

1985: With Everything In Place, Miami Tips Off Again

- April 25, 1985 — Foster announced that UM's 1985-86 basketball roster would include nine freshmen, one sophomore and one junior as the spring signing period ends for NCAA basketball.
- August 16, 1985 — Athletic Director Sam Jankovich announced that the 1985-86 basketball schedule had been completed and that network television coverage of the Hurricane program would include two games on CBS (Arizona) and ESPN (Notre Dame).
- Jankovich also announced the completion of a local television schedule (on WBFS-Channel 33) that would bring all nine UM road games back to Miami by way of live local broadcasts. Channel 33 would also carry select home games in the Knight Center.
- WIOD Radio, the radio voice of UM football and baseball, would also carry all Hurricane basketball games with veteran Hurricane announcer Sonny Hirsch at the microphone.

Miami Men's Basketball History

- October 15, 1985 — Basketball practice officially begins at the University of Miami in the Knight Sports Complex.
- November 12, 1985 — The Knight Sports Complex was dedicated at a gala banquet that was held on the basketball courts of the new structure. CBS basketball analyst Billy Packer served as the evening's guest speaker for an event which welcomed more than 500 guests to the on-campus home of Hurricane basketball. The facility served as the practice home to the men's and women's basketball programs, while also housing the men's basketball coaching staff offices. In addition, the Knight Sports Complex enabled the athletic program to more than double the size of the existing strength room, while also providing meeting rooms and lecture rooms for all of Miami's student-athletes.
- November 22, 1985 — The brand new era of Hurricane basketball was ushered in by a young UM squad which defeated The Citadel, 85-77, in front of a sellout crowd of 4,984 at the Knight Center. Dennis Burns (24 points), Kevin Presto (22) and Eric Brown (21) combined to lead the Miami offense, while Bryan Hughes enjoyed the distinction of scoring Miami's first point in 14 years (a free throw with 18:34 remaining in the first half).
- November 30, 1985 — Miami stuns 1985 NCAA Tourney participant Georgia with a thrilling 81-78 victory to capture the first AMI Classic Championship at the James L. Knight Center.

End of the 1980s: UM Moves Forward, Upsets Top 20 Teams

- March 5, 1986 — An 84-62 loss to Marquette in Milwaukee closed the Hurricanes' first season since 1970-71. Miami finished the year with a 14-14 record, giving Bill Foster his 19th non-losing record in 20 years as a collegiate head coach.
- The 1986-87 season — Though still considered "America's Youngest Team," Miami compiled a 15-16 slate — recording upset victories against Marquette, Stanford and Florida State, while losing by only four points to future BIG EAST foe Providence — a team that advanced to the NCAA Final Four.
- The 1987-88 season — Thrilling victories against Providence and Virginia Commonwealth propelled the 'Canes to continued improvement with a 17-14 record. Following the season, center Tito Horford announced his intention to enter the NBA Draft without completing his final two seasons of eligibility. Miami was left with anything but a depleted roster as 10 lettermen, including eight seniors, returned for UM's fourth season.
- April 12, 1988 — Athletic Director Sam Jankovich announces plans to move Hurricane Basketball to the new $56 million Miami Arena. Also home to the NBA's Miami Heat, the state-of-the-art basketball facility signified a new era in the rise of basketball in South Florida.
- December 10, 1988 — A crowd of 6,654 watch the Hurricanes run neck-and-neck for 40 minutes with ACC powerhouse Duke. Blue Devil Danny Ferry needs a super-human performance to stop the 'Canes as he connects on 23-of-26 shots en route to 58 points. Ferry later calls Miami "a definite Top 40 team."
- January 12, 1989 — Joel Warren's free throw, his only point of the evening, with two seconds remaining clinches Miami's first victory over a Top 20 team as the 'Canes upset defending national champion and No. 16-ranked Kansas, 87-86, at the Miami Arena.
- March 6, 1989 — The Hurricanes post an 89-82 win against FIU in the first annual Carnival Miami Cup. The win leaves Miami with a 19-12 slate, good enough for the best record in 24 years and 10 seasons at Miami. Eric Brown ends his brilliant Miami career with 2,270 career points, just 28 behind All-American Rick Barry's Hurricane record of 2,298.

- December 6, 1989 — Miami hands an 87-82 loss to eventual NCAA tournament participant Dayton as a Hurricane squad that includes six freshmen and no seniors jumps out with three consecutive wins to start the season.

1990: Hamilton Hired, UM Joins The BIG EAST

- January 18, 1990 — Nearly 5,000 fans turn out to watch one of the most exciting Hurricane games ever as Miami edges Florida State in double overtime, 101-97.
- February 19, 1990 — Miami storms back to post a 62-59 victory against Florida, ending the Gators 11-game win streak against the 'Canes that began during the 1964-65 season.
- March 6, 1990 — The Hurricanes send Head Coach Bill Foster out on a winning note as one of the most successful and respected collegiate coaches in the nation leaves Miami following an 83-55 win against FIU. Foster's six-year rebuilding record at Miami stands at 78-71 (.523), while his overall career mark stood at 431-247 (.636) in 24 seasons.
- April 2, 1990 — UM Athletic Director Sam Jankovich ends a national search for a new coach that spanned an entire season with the hiring of Leonard Hamilton from Oklahoma State. "After meeting with Leonard Hamilton for just five minutes," said Jankovich, "with that smile and that enthusiasm, there was no question who I wanted as coach of the University of Miami."
- October 10, 1990 — On the combined recommendation of President Edward T. Foote and Athletic Director Sam Jankovich, the University's Board of Trustees unanimously votes to accept an invitation to become the 10th member of the BIG EAST Conference. The Hurricane Basketball program will begin BIG EAST play in the 1991-92 season.
- December 28, 1990 — The Hurricanes rebound from back-to-back double overtime defeats to upset No. 28 Mississippi State, 74-67, in the consolation contest of the Eastern Airlines Palm Beach Classic. Joe Wylie is voted to the all-tournament squad after breaking seven tourney records including total points with 60 in the two games.
- January 3, 1991 — Joe Wylie becomes the 17th player in UM basketball history to score 1,000 career points. Wylie would later go on to finish his UM career ranked No. 8 for both scoring and rebounding in the UM record books.
- March 6, 1991 — Leonard Hamilton's inaugural season ends with a 9-19 record. However, there were large doses of success throughout the year as the 'Canes were victorious in six of their final nine contests and finished ranked No. 128 in the USA Today computer rankings — Miami's highest finish since the rebirth of the program (including 1988-89 when the 'Canes produced a 19-12 record).
- April 10, 1991 — Leonard Hamilton's first recruiting class is completed with the signing of Ochiel Swaby of Miami, the nation's leading high school scorer with 47.1 points per game. Along with Hamilton's three signees in the Fall of 1990 — Michael Gardner of Fredericksburg, Va., Pat Lawrence of St. Petersburg and 7'3" Constantin Popa of Bucharest, Romania — the freshmen class for the 1991-92 season was ranked in the Top 25.
- January 2, 1992 — Miami tips off in its inaugural BIG EAST contest at UConn's Gampel Pavilion. It is a baptism by fire for the young Hurricanes as the game at UConn is the first of four consecutive conference games in 10 days for Miami.
- January 14, 1992 — In the first home conference game in UM history, the Hurricanes shock the nation with a stunning 45-42 upset of perennial BIG EAST power St. John's. The UM victory would ultimately cost the Redmen the outright conference championship as they completed the regular season in a tie with Georgetown and Seton Hall.

- March 12, 1992 — Miami turns the Big Apple upside down with a convincing 83-71 victory against Pittsburgh in the BIG EAST Tournament at Madison Square Garden. The Panthers had beaten Miami in the two regular-season contests by a total of 52 points, but Jerome Scott (30 points) and Trevor Burton (25 points) led a spirited Miami squad past Pitt and into the second round of the conference showcase. Earning the respect of the league and nation, Miami led Georgetown, 34-33, at the half of their quarterfinal contest before dropping a 77-64 decision to the Hoyas.
