SEMINOLES CLOSE OUT THREE-GAME ROAD SWING AT MIAMI

Florida State, which is included in the national top-25 for the ninth consecutive week and 10th week this season, travels to play at Miami on Wednesday, February 1, 2017 at 8:00 p.m. The Seminoles have been ranked among the nation's top 25 teams since coming in at No. 25 in the sixth week of the season (December 12) and have been in the top 10 each of the last three weeks. Florida State was ranked No. 6 last week – tying the second highest national ranking in school history. The Seminoles meet Miami on Wednesday night for the first of two regular season games between the Seminoles and the Hurricanes with the second meeting coming on Senior Day in Tallahassee on March 4 at the Donald L. Tucker Center. Florida State enters Wednesday's game against Miami with 18 wins – matching the number of wins it earned during the regular season in 2015-16 and more wins than it earned (17) during the 2014-15 season. Following Florida State's game against Miami, the Seminoles return home for two consecutive games against Clemson (February 5, 12:30 p.m.) and NC State (February 8, 7:00 p.m.).

SEMINOLES IN NATIONAL RANKINGS FOR NINTH WEEK

Florida State enters this week of games against Miami (February 1) and Clemson (February 5) ranked No. 15 in the Associated Press poll and No. 16 in the USA Today Coaches poll. It marks the eighth consecutive week and ninth week overall that the Seminoles are nationally ranked. The Seminoles' string of eight consecutive weeks in the polls is their longest since an eight week stay in the poll from January 25-March 15 during the 1992-93 season. Florida State was ranked in the AP poll for each of the 18 weeks (including the preseason poll) of the 1988-89 season. The Seminoles are ranked 16th in the USA Today Coaches Poll – the eighth consecutive week they have been included in the coaches poll. Florida State spent 17 consecutive weeks in the coaches poll during the 1992-93 season.

BACON LOOKS TO PUSH DOUBLE FIGURE STREAK TO 32 GAMES

All-American candidate Dwayne Bacon scored 19 points against Syracuse and enters Wednesday's game against Miami having scored in double figures in 31 consecutive games. He has scored at least 10 points in each of Florida State's games since scoring 10 against Georgia Tech on Feb. 17, 2016. Bacon's streak is the 14th longest in school history and is the longest double figure scoring streak by a Seminole since Toney Douglas earned a streak of 33 consecutive games scored in double figures in the final two games of the 2006-07 season and the first 31 games of the 2007-08 season. The school record for consecutive games scored in double figures is 72 by Dave Fedor during the 1960, 1961 and 1962 seasons. He scored in double figures in every game during his three-year Seminole career.

BACON NAMED TO WOODEN AWARD MIDSEASON TOP 25

FLORIDA STATE VS. MIAMI - THE LAST MEETING

Sheldon McClellan scored 20 points and No. 12 Miami fought off a second-half rally from Florida State to win 67-65 on February 14, 2016 at the Donald L. Tucker Center in Tallahassee. The Hurricanes led by four with less than a minute remaining when Dwayne Bacon's 3-pointer brought the Seminoles to 66-65. After Davon Reed missed a 3, Florida State had a chance to go ahead but Devon Bookert was short on a 3-pointer from the corner. Ja'Quan Newton hit one of two free throws for Miami, leaving Florida State one last chance, but Malik Beasley missed a 30-footer that would have won it. Reed had 14 points and Angel Rodriguez scored 11 for the Hurricanes, who secured their fourth 20-win season in Jim Larranaga's five years as coach. Bookert led Florida State with 14 points, and Xavier Rathan-Mayes had 12. Miami jumped out to an 11-2 lead and was up by seven before Florida State scored eight straight points - consecutive 3-pointers by Benji Bell and Terance Mann's jumper - to take a 15-14 advantage with 10:13 remaining. After the score was tied at 17, the Hurricanes regained control with a 17-5 run and built their largest lead of the half (34-22) with 1:49 remaining.

Why I Wear My Number

Phil Cofer – "I was very close to the members of my recruiting class at Tennessee. When we left Tennessee because of the coaching change, we all decided that we would all wear No. 0 wherever we decided to go to school. Larry Austin wore No. 0 at Xavier (before transferring to Vanderbilt) and CJ Turman wore No. 0 when he played at Florida Atlantic. Jordan Cornish was supposed to get No. 0 at UNLV (before transferring to Cal.) but another player already had the number."

Jonathan Isaac – "There is no specific reason I wear No. 1. I wore No. 11 when I played for USA Basketball as a senior in high school, I wore No. 1 when I played AAU ball with Each 1 Teach 1, I wore No. 42 when I played in the NIKE Hoop Summit and I wore No. 1 as a senior at IMG Academy."

CJ Walker – "I wear No. 2 at Florida State because my favorite player, Kyrie Irving, wears No. 2. I have been a fan of his for a long time; he has certainly influenced my game and how I play my game. I am looking forward to meeting him sometime during my career.

Trent Forrest – "I wear No. 3 to honor two of my teammates who have recently passed away. Two of my former AAU teammates (Rod Scott) wore No. 3 and another (Herman Williams) wore No. 13. So with the No. 3 in common in both of their numbers I decided to change to that number at Florida State when it became available. Rod passed away after he was involved in a car crash in 2016 and Herman collapsed while playing in a pick-up game at his church just before his freshman year began at University of Louisiana Monroe."

Dwayne Bacon - "I wear the No. 4 because that's my favorite basketball number. There is no significance – it's just the number I am most comfortable wearing."

PJ Savoy – "I wear No. 5 at Florida State because it represents the number of people in my family – my mom, my dad, my two sisters and me. My father wore No. 5 when he played overseas in Belgium in 1998 and 1999."

Braian Angola-Rodas – "I wear No. 11 because that's the number my dad wore when he played basketball. He loved wearing that number when we played against each other. He passed away in 2014; I have made him a promise that I will always wear No. 11 in his honor."

Terance Mann – "I wear No. 14 because that's the number my mom wore when she played at Georgetown. It's also the date of my grandmother's birthday – December 14."

Xavier Rathan-Mayes – "I wear No. 22 because that's the number my father, Tharon, wore when he played at Florida State. I have always wanted to follow in his footsteps; I always wanted to break the records he set wearing the same number he wore as a Seminole."

Game 3 -- Florida State 100, Winthrop 86

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. - Michael Ojo recorded the first doubledouble of his career -- 13 points and 10 rebounds (both career highs) -- and Christ Koumadje had a career high 14 points as Florida State defeated Winthrop 100-86. Ojo, a 7-foot-1 senior center, missed last season due to a knee injury. Nine of his points came from the line, where he has struggled in the past. Ojo made only 40.2 percent of his foul shots his first three years but was 9 of 12 and is making 75 percent (12 of 16) for the season. Koumadje, a 7-foot-4 sophomore who is the tallest player in Seminoles' history, got the first double-digit scoring game of his career as he was 7 of 8 from the field. During a 10-0 run in the first half that allowed FSU to take a 31-19 lead, he had a pair of alley-oop dunks off assists by Rathan-Mayes and Dwayne Bacon. Dwayne Bacon led the Seminoles with 15 points while Jonathan Isaac added 14 and Braian Angola-Rodas 11. The combination of Ojo and Koumadje allowed the Seminoles to have a 50-32 points-inthe-paint advantage. Winthrop steadily whittled down the lead and got within 58-54 five minutes into the second half on a Fisher free throw before FSU went on a 9-0 run.

Game 4 -- Florida State 100, Detroit Mercy 71

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. - Florida State accomplished something on Sunday that hasn't happened in Leonard Hamilton's 29 seasons and 879 games as a college coach -- hit triple digits in consecutive games. The Seminoles rolled to a 100-71 victory over Detroit Mercy as they were 40 of 70 from the field and had five players in double figures. It is the first time since December of 1996 -- against Jacksonville and Tennessee State -- that FSU has scored 100 or more in back-to-back games. It is the 15th time -- and seventh in 15 seasons at Florida State -- that a Hamilton team has reached the century mark. He accomplished it six times in four seasons at Oklahoma State and twice in 10 years at Miami. Dwayne Bacon led the Seminoles (4-0) with 22 points and freshman Jonathan Isaac got his first double-double with 14 points and 10 rebounds. Terrance Mann (11), Xavier Rathan-Mayes (10) and Trent Forrest also scored in double figures. FSU scored 100 points despite making just 1 of 14 3-pointers. They were 39 of 56 inside the perimeter and had a huge 78-26 advantage on points in the paint. A lot of the Seminoles' paint points came in the transition game as they had 20 fast-break points. Florida State led 48-35 at halftime before Detroit Mercy closed within eight (64-56) with 13:13 remaining on a Chris Jenkins jumper. The Seminoles then put it out of reach with a 32-4 run over an eight-minute span. At one point it was a 22-2 run as they hit 11 straight from the field

Game 5 -- Temple 89, Florida State 86

BROOKLYN N.Y. - Quinton Rose scored 26 points, including two free throws with two seconds left and Temple rallied to defeat Florida State, 89-86, in the semifinals of the NIT Season Tio-Off. Shizz Alston Jr. added 22 points and Obi Enechionyia had 16 points and eight rebounds for the Owls. Dwayne Bacon had 22 points for the Seminoles. Jonathan Issac added 19 points. Xavier Rathan-Mayes had 11, and Terance Mann 10. Trailing by 12 with 9:26 left, Temple went on a 15-2 run to take a 73-72 lead. The stretch began when Alston made a 3. That was followed by Rose's putback, Enechionyia's lay-in, two made free throws by Alston, and consecutive three's from Alston and Damion Moore. The Owls were able to extend their advantage to 85-80 after Enechionvia's made 3 with 3:18 left. But Trent Forrest's lav-in with 77 seconds cut the deficit to one, 87-86. Florida State had a chance to win, but Isaac air-balled a layup attempt with four seconds left. Rose's two free throws sealed the win.

Game 12 -- Florida State 83, Manhattan 67

SUNRISE, Fla. -- Dwayne Bacon scored 12 of his 16 points in the second half to help No. 23 Florida State pull away for its seventh consecutive victory, beating Manhattan 83-67 in the opening game at the Orange Bowl Classic. Bacon took only one shot in the first half but embraced coach Leonard Hamilton's advice to help the Seminoles pull away after halftime. The taller Seminoles dominated inside, scoring 46 points in the paint, drawing 31 fouls and building a 36-23 edge in rebounds. They switched to a zone after the Jaspers shot 57 percent to trail 46-41 at halftime. The Seminoles (11-1) are off to their best start in school history, and the winning streak is their longest since 2012. Xavier Rathan-Mayes had 10 points and five assists for Florida State. Zavier Turner had 18 points and five assists for Manhattan (3-8), which hasn't beaten a ranked team since 1995. Three Jaspers had three or more fouls by halftime, and four finished with four fouls each, but Manhattan's outside shooting kept the score from being even more lopsided. The Jaspers went 9 for 24 on 3-pointers, and the Seminoles went 2 for 6.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. -- The 21st-ranked Seminoles got a career-high 19 points from Terance Mann as they took control in the second half for a 76-68 victory over Samford. Florida State has won eight straight and is 12-1 for only the third time, matching the 1988-89 and 2008-09 squads. The 6-foot-6 sophomore guard is averaging 14.7 points and 6.7 rebounds in his past three games along with going 17 of 23 from the field. Samford led for most of the final five minutes of the first half before Florida State scored the final five points to go up 31-27. Xavier Rathan-Mayes, who scored 15 points, had the key shot with a 3-pointer at the buzzer that bounced in off the rim. The Seminoles scored the first six points to start the second half, pushing the lead to double figures. Florida State led by 17 with 6:12 remaining after a 12-2 run. Game 15 -- Florida State 60, Virginia 58

handed the 12th-ranked Cavaliers just their second loss in their last 37 ACC home games, 60-58. His game-winner, giving him 26 of his career-high 29 points after halftime, was a step-back with Virginia defender Isaiah Wilkins in his face. Bacon scored the last seven points during a 9-0 run for the Seminoles (14-1, 2-0 Atlantic Coast Conference) that turned a 51-49 deficit into a 56-51 lead, and then was the obvious choice to try and answer after Guy got free in the right corner, giving Virginia a 58-57 lead. "We went to him repeatedly and he pulled us out," Seminoles coach Leonard Hamilton said. Guy scored 14 points and three others had 10 for Virginia. Xavier Rathan-Mayes added 10 points for the Seminoles. The Seminoles won their 10th straight as they began a stretch of six consecutive games against teams in the Top 25, or likely to be there. Virginia's London Perrantes tried a half-court heave at the buzzer, and it was on line, but came up well short.

Game 16 -- Florida State 93, Virginia Tech 78

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. -- The 12th-ranked Seminoles defeated No. 21 Virginia Tech 93-78 for their school-record tying 11th straight win. It marks the first time since joining the ACC in 1991 that they have won their first three conference game. Starters Terance Mann (22 points) and Dwayne Bacon (17 points) led the Seminoles in scoring, it was the bench that came up big. The Seminoles' bench outscored the Hokies' reserves 35-6 with six players seeing seven minutes or more of action. Jarquez Smith led the way 12 points and PJ Savoy added 11, including three 3-pointers. The Seminoles also wore the Hokies down with 33 points off their transition game. Virginia Tech coach Buzz Williams called three timeouts during the first half to try and give his team, which doesn't have much depth to begin with, a chance to stay in the game but to no avail. Chris Clarke led the Hokies (12-3, 1-2) with 22 points while Zach LeDay and Ahmed Hill added 19 apiece.

Game 17 -- Florida State 88, Duke 72

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. -- Xavier Rathan-Mayes scored 18 of his 21 points in the second half, helping the No. 9 ranked Seminoles pull away from the No. 7 Blue Devils for an 88-72 win. Playing its first regular-season game as a top-10 team since 1993, Florida State rolled to its school-record 12th straight victory, breaking a mark that had stood since 1970. The Seminoles also improved to 4-0 in the Atlantic Coast Conference for the first time. Florida State's reserves outscored their counterparts 21-4, but the biggest difference was points in the paint. With Blue Devils forward Amile Jefferson sidelined by a bone bruise in his right foot, the Seminoles enjoyed a 56-28 scoring advantage inside. When Duke started putting more pressure on Dwayne Bacon (13 points) and Terance Mann (13 points) in the second half, it created more space for Rathan-Mayes, who was 7-for-13 from the floor for the game. The Blue Devils took a 50-48 lead on a Luke Kennard jumper before the Seminoles grabbed control with a 16-4 run over a five-minute span of the second half. All but two of the points came in the paint.

Game 18 -- North Carolina 96 Florida State 83

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. — Joel Berry II scored 26 points and No. 11 UNC snapped No. 9 Florida State's school-record win streak with a 96-83 victory Saturday. Justin Jackson and Isaiah Hicks each added 22 points for the Tar Heels who led just 82-78 with 5:25 left before putting together a 14-2 run. The Tar Heels finished with a 56-34 rebounding advantage with 21 offensive boards, helping them to 25 second-chance points in a rebounding effort FSU coach Leonard Hamilton described as "relentless." That fit right into an attacking mindset that got the Tar Heels to the line 37 times. Jonathan Isaac had 17 points and 12 rebounds for the Seminoles who had won 12 in a row and stood at 4-0 in the ACC for the first time in their history.

Game 20 -- Florida State 73, Louisville 68

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. -- In the final game of a run against six straight ranked teams, four of No. 10 Florida State's starting five scored in double figures as it was able to hold off No. 12 Louisville 73-68. The win keeps Florida State tied atop the conference and gave it five wins during this ranked gantlet. Florida State coach Leonard Hamilton went with his usual plan of having 12 players see action, but this was the first time he has had four starters log 28 or more minutes. Hamilton said he went with his starters more because they had more experience playing against Louisville's matchup zone. Jonathan Isaac had 16 points and 10 rebounds, becoming the FSU freshman to have three consecutive double-doubles since Corey Lewis in 1994-95. Terance Mann added 15 points and Michael Ojo 10. Florida State started the game by scoring the first 14 points but Louisville slowly worked its way back. It got within one point twice in the second half, including 69-68 with 2:04 remaining before the Seminoles scored the final four points, all at the line. Tony Hicks led Louisville with 16 points while Mangok Mathiang added 13 and Deng Adel 12.

Game 21 -- Syracuse 82, Florida State 72

SYRACUSE, N.Y. -- Andrew White scored 24 points, John Gillon had 21 points and matched his career high with 11 assists, and Syracuse upset No. 6 Florida State 82-72. Syracuse won its second straight close game and gained its first victory over a ranked team. After Dwayne Bacon's third 3-pointer cut Syracuse's lead to 72-70 with 1:48 left, the speedy Gillon got more aggressive, repeatedly driving the lane. He hit a layup to extend the lead to four and then made eight straight free throws in the final minute to help the Orange hold on. Jonathan Isaac also had 19 points for the Seminoles, and Xavier Rathan-Mayes scored 16. Rathan-Mayes' 3 got Florida State within four with 4:08 left in the game, but Syracuse held on from there.

Leonard Hamilton Might have His Best Team – But Don't Tell Him Just Yet

By John Feinstein Washington Post January 28, 2017

It wasn't as if Florida State Coach Leonard Hamilton didn't warn his players.

After his team had beaten Louisville eight days ago to finish a remarkable six-game run in which the Seminoles went 5-1 against ranked teams, he warned his players not to get carried away with all the oohing and aahing they were receiving nationally.

"'Noles now a number one seed!" screamed the bracketologists, who change their predictions on an almost hourly basis

"FSU looks like a Final Four team," was another Internet headline — as if early April somehow came in late January.

"I told them that what they did against those teams was impressive, but they better not let down with three straight road games coming up," Hamilton said on Tuesday afternoon, just before he and his team flew to Atlanta to play Georgia Tech the next night. "They let up on the road in this league and they'll pay for it. I hope they understand that."

Apparently, they didn't. At least not on Wednesday when Georgia Tech — the only team to beat North Carolina in ACC play so far this winter — hammered the Seminoles, 78-56, having led by 26 at halftime.

"They outplayed us, they out prepared us," Hamilton said afterward. "Their players played better and they probably outcoached us. They were connected mentally and emotionally a lot better than we were.

"Inevitably, it seems to happen to every team every year. I hope it's the only one we're going to have."

Then, on Saturday, the sixth-ranked Seminoles fell again, 82-72, at Syracuse.

The truth in Hamilton's last comment can be found in the fact that no college basketball team has gone undefeated since 1976. The night before his sixth-ranked team got burned in Atlanta, top-ranked Villanova, second-ranked Kansas and fourth-ranked Kentucky all lost on the road.

Still, there is plenty of reason to believe the losses won't start a prolonged slump for the Seminoles, who are 1804 overall and 6-3 in the ACC. Hamilton has been at Florida State for 15 years. His 2011 team reached the Sweet 16 before losing by one to VCU's Final Four team. His 2012 team won the ACC tournament. He believes this could be his best team.

"Potentially," he said. "We'll have to see how much we improve between now and March. I keep telling them if we want to get where we want to go in March, we have to improve every day in January and in February. It's a good group. Most of the time, they listen."

The Seminoles are talented and fascinating all at once. They have two seven-footers who are role players: 7-1 senior Michael Ojo and 7-4 sophomore Christ Koumadje combine to play about 24 minutes a game, averaging about nine points and five rebounds between them. But each is an intimidating defense presence on the floor and helps give Hamilton the ability to play big, small or both.

There isn't a senior among the team's three stars: junior forward Xavier Rathan-Mayes; sophomore guard Dwayne Bacon; and freshman center Jonathan Isaac.

At 6-7, Bacon can get his shot almost anytime he wants — he hit the winning three-pointer at Virginia to culminate a 29-point afternoon — but also passes the ball well. Isaac is a possible one-and-done, averaging more than 13 points and almost eight rebounds a game. Rathan-Mayes is the glue guy: he doesn't score that much (10.1 points per game) but averages nearly five assists. All could come back next year. Or all could be gone.

"I don't worry about that," Hamilton said. "Now is certainly not the time to do that anyway. But I think we've recruited well and we're in a place now if we lose some kids early, we'll continue to be good. It's a different time. You have to be prepared for that."

Hamilton is 68 and has seen many different times and many different places in his coaching career. He was with Joe. B Hall at Kentucky when it won the 1978 national title and reached two other Final Fours. His first head coaching shot came at Oklahoma State, where he went from eight wins in season one to 17 in season four. He then took over a Miami program that was about to go into the Big East and promptly went 1-17 in conference play in 1991, the Hurricanes' first season.

Nine years later, Miami tied for first in the regular season and reached the Sweet 16.

And then came Michael Jordan.

Jordan had taken over the Washington Wizards' front office during the 1999-2000 season and was looking for a new coach after a 29-53 disaster. He landed on Hamilton. One year later, after going 19-63, Jordan went looking for a new coach again.

"I've never regretted it," Hamilton insisted about his lost season in Washington. "We faced some challenges, but I thought the team was well-coached. When Michael told me he wanted to come back and play and bring back a coach he'd played for before [Doug Collins], I respected that."

The following season, for the first time in 30 years, Hamilton wasn't coaching. "I could have had a job," he said. "I had college teams contacting me during the season in Washington. But I decided to wait — I'd never had a vacation. By January, when I was constantly watching two games at once in two different rooms, my wife said to me, 'You need to go back to work.'"

So he did, at Florida State. Fifteen years later, only Mike Krzyzewski has been coaching in the ACC longer. What's more, Hamilton says he isn't going anyplace anytime soon.

"I don't play golf, I don't fish and I don't like to travel very much," he said, laughing. "I feel great and, even with all the changes, I still love doing this. I wake up every morning excited about practice, excited about the games.

"I love the relationships I have with the players — the ones here now — and the ones who I've coached in the past. The best thing to me isn't winning, it's being invited to weddings or christenings or the phone calls from guys who are about to get married or have a baby. To me, that's winning."

Sometime soon, Hamilton will win his 500th game as a college coach. He's at 496 and hopes he'll keep adding to that number for years to come. He's the only person to win coach-of-the-year honors in both the Big East and the ACC. He's been to the Sweet 16. He'd like to go farther than that this spring.

"We've got a chance," he said. "But right now, I don't even want to think about that. If I think about that, if the kids think about that, then we won't be good enough in March. I know we need to get better on defense and be more consistent on offense. Believe me, I can find plenty of things to work on every day in practice. We've got a long way to go. I need to make sure they understand that."

Saturday's loss at Syracuse proved again why Hamilton was concerned about this three-game road swing. There is clearly much more to learn. Selection Sunday is six weeks away.

Hard Work Paying Off For Florida State's Michael Ojo

By Wayne E. McGahee III Tallahassee Democrat January 24, 2017

It's a smile that never leaves the 7-foot-1, 304-pound center's face, but he does have good reason for it to be there. Ojo, a redshirt senior, has come a long way from his freshman year.

He's from Lagos, Nigeria, a town that had just one basketball goal, and he didn't start playing organized basketball until his late teens. He was more project than player at the time he stepped on campus.

"Basketball is a game of muscle memory and it takes a lot of repetitions to gain confidence so it grows instinctive for you," FSU assistant head coach Stan Jones said.

"When you grow up in a village where they had one goal, and you couldn't dunk on it. If you broke the goal then nobody could shoot on it. Michael didn't get those repetitions like most kids in America do in the little leagues in second, third, and fourth grade doing all the drills and working on the mechanics.

"So it's taken some time. All of a sudden you see him with the production he has now and realize that he's just starting to catch up."

The biggest adjustment for Ojo didn't come on the basketball court, but in the classroom.

"Being able to socialize with people was the biggest challenge," Ojo said.

"How to relate to people on campus and my teachers in classrooms. Because when I first got here my accent was really deep and they were talking too fast.

"My professors did a good job of adjusting in class just for me to get used to the language and everything like that."

On the basketball court, Ojo had many challenges ahead of him.

Most notably was that he had to learn how to play the game as a big man. He had to learn how to dunk, and it's something that he's still working on five years later.

"I'm still practicing how to dunk," Ojo said.

"I still miss some of my dunks. The rim we had back home was a little shaky. It wasn't that good. If you break the rim you have to fix it, and I didn't have the money to fix it.

"So I would have to go up and just drop the ball in. You're not allowed to dunk the basketball. It took me a little while, maybe my whole freshman year, to get used to going up hard and shaking the rim hard.

"Now I don't want to break the rim, but the rim is going to end up breaking. It took me a little while to get used to it because I started playing basketball late."

He averaged less than a point (0.7) and one rebound per game as a freshman, and averaged just over two points and two rebounds per game as both a sophomore and as a junior.

He missed most of his redshirt junior year with a torn meniscus in his left knee, but that also gave him the opportunity to learn about the game.

"One of the things we did last year, and it's really opened the game up for him, was having him shadow coach Christ Koumadje as a freshman," Jones said.

"It's like the game slowed down to him, and gave him some reference points on how coaches view things."

This season, Ojo is averaging 5.3 points and 3.9 rebounds per game, and is coming off a 10 point, six rebound game against No. 14 Louisville. He's turned into a much better player, and has made an impact for the Seminoles in some big games this year.

One of the big reasons for his success this season is his improvement at the free throw line.

Ojo has made 38 of his 45 free throw attempts this season, and has the second highest free throw percentage on the team (0.771) behind freshman Jonathan Isaac (0.824).

His first three years he made just 41 of his 102 attempts (0.401).

"You have to get everything aligned," Jones said.

"You have to get your grip. You have to know your alignment. You have to know your pace. You have to know your finish point and follow throw. You have to go through those things.

"That was the initial part when he was a freshman was getting those fundamental, structural things in place. Then it just becomes a thing of volume reps to get the muscle memory."

It wasn't just the structural issues that plagued Ojo early, but it was also the mental aspect of being in front of so many people.

"The next thing is you have to eventually be in that situation," Jones said.

"When you're playing in front of 20,000 in Carolina or 12,000 in our arena and the game's on the line with Dick Vitale on the sideline, everyone thinks it's so easy to just make a shot. You have to get out there and manage your emotions.

"There was a time in Michael's career where his mistakes were more from anxiety than what he was doing."

It's something that bothered him from the beginning, and it gave him something to prove.

"It's been a learning curve in a couple areas for him," Jones said.

"He didn't want to be labeled as the big guy who couldn't shoot free throws. That's something that he wanted to prove throughout his career. That he wasn't a typical guy they could play hack-a-Shaq on."

So coach Jones and Ojo went to work. He's spent a lot of time in the gym over the last five years working on the issue.

"Maybe a million shots," Ojo said.

"I've shot a pretty good amount of free throws over the course of my career. From my freshman year to yesterday. I was in the gym yesterday shooting free throws. There's always room for improvement unless you're 100 percent.

"Even when I got injured last year I would come by the gym and shoot free throws because I couldn't practice with them. I've shot a good number now. I take so much pride in it because it's something that I struggled with early in my career.

"Now it's satisfying that I'm shooting a much better percentage than before. It's not where I need it to be, but that's why I still practice and keep shooting. It's much better than before."

Ojo has been a big part of the Seminoles success this season. FSU is eighth in the country with an 18-2 record and is 6-1 in the ACC with a 6-1 record against ranked teams.
