Yellow Jackets Back on the Road to Face No. 23 Miami

On the heels of another close loss in the Atlantic Coast Conference, Georgia Tech returns to the scene of one of its greatest triumphs Wednesday night when it faces 23rd-ranked Miami at 9 p.m. at the BankUnited Center in Coral Gables, Fla.

Tech, in its fourth season under head coach Brian Gregory, is 9-10, 0-7 in the ACC, after sustaining a 64-62 loss at home to Boston College Sunday. Six of Tech's ACC losses have come by seven or fewer points, one of those in double-overtime. The Jackets have lost their first seven ACC games for the first time since the 2001-02 season.

Miami (14-5, 4-2 ACC), in its fourth season under head coach Jim Larranaga, was ranked among the nation's top 25 teams early in the season and have re-appeared this week after a five-week absence. The Hurricanes opened their ACC schedule with a double-overtime loss to Virginia and are coming off a 66-62 win at Syracuse Saturday.

Wednesday's game will be televised regionally on the ACC's Regional Sports Network (Fox Sports South in Georgia) and will be streamed live on ESPN3. The Georgia Tech IMG Radio Network, with flagship station WCNN (680 AM/93.7 FM) will also carry the game. Miami's radio coverage can be heard on satellite radio nationally (Sirius Ch. 136).

Tech follows up Wednesday's game with a Saturday date at 12 noon against NC State at McCamish Pavilion.

Starting Five for Wednesday's Game

- Georgia Tech is playing its first game at the BankUnited Center since pulling of a major upset of the Hurricanes on March 6, 2013, when Marcus Georges-Hunt tipped in his own miss at the buzzer to lift the Yellow Jackets over No. 6 Miami, 71-69.

- The Hurricanes re-appeared in the AP and coaches polls this week at No. 23, making them the fourth top-25 opponent for Tech this month. The Yellow Jackets still have No. 4 Duke, No. 10 Louisville and No. 13 North Carolina (twice) remaining on their schedule.

- This is the only meeting between Tech and Miami during the 2014-15 regular season.

- Tech remains one of the nation's top teams in rebound margin (10th) and offensive rebounds per game (9th).

- In 2001-02 when Tech last began 0-7 in the ACC, the Yellow Jackets won their next three (by an average of 22 points) and seven of their last nine conference games.

Series Notes vs. Miami

• After winning the first two meetings with Miami after the Hurricanes became members of the ACC, Georgia Tech has dropped eight of the last 11, including a 56-42 victory in the teams' only regular-season meeting of 2013-14 in Atlanta on Jan. 18.

• Miami has an 11-7 lead in the all-time series which dates back to 1953, and is 11-5 against the Yellow Jackets since joining the ACC.

• Tech's only win in the last five meetings was a 71-69 victory over 6th-ranked Miami in Coral Gables on March 6, 2013. It was only the second win for Tech at the BankUnited Center and first since Feb. 26, 2005. It also was Tech's first win over a top-10 team on the road since the 2003-04 season.

• Miami has won the last four meetings in Atlanta and is 2-0 at McCamish Pavilion. Miami won the only regular-season meeting between the two teams in 2011-12, as well as their ACC Tournament meeting, both games at Philips Arena.

• Miami was the opponent for Tech in its last game at Alexander Memorial Coliseum, a game the Yellow Jackets won 66-57 to close out the 2010-11 regular season, and that remains Tech's last victory in the series. Tech won four of six games against the Hurricanes in the building.

• Eleven of the 18 meetings have been decided by 10 points or less.

• The last meeting between the two schools prior to Miami's joining the ACC occurred in December of 1997 as part of the Orange Bowl Classic doubleheader at Miami Arena, the Hurricanes' home court until the team moved into the on-campus Convocation Center last year. The Yellow Jackets, led that year by senior forward Matt Harpring, won that game, 69-61.

• Tech played Miami twice under former head coach Whack Hyder, losing the first-ever meeting in the series by 22 points in 1953, then taking a six-point homecourt victory in 1967. That was the only pre-ACC visit by the Hurricanes to Alexander Memorial Coliseum, and the 90-84 Tech win has been the highest scoring game in the brief series.

Another Close Loss for Tech

Marcus Georges-Hunt scored 20 points, but Boston College held off Georgia Tech 64-62 on Sunday at McCamish Pavilion.

Olivier Hanlan scored 25 points, including a go-ahead basket with 1:10 remaining for Boston College (9-9, 1-5 Atlantic Coast Conference). Patrick Heckmann added 12 points.

The loss left Georgia Tech (9-10, 0-7) winless in the ACC. Of the Yellow Jackets' seven straight conference losses, six have been by no more than seven points.

Georges-Hunt hit two free throws with 1:26 remaining to give Georgia Tech its first tie of the second half. Hanlan quickly answered with a basket to give Boston College the lead. Heckmann pushed the lead to four points with two free throws with 27 seconds remaining.

Boston College became the second ACC team to have its only conference win come against Georgia Tech. Wake Forest beat the Yellow Jackets on Jan. 10 and hasn't won another league game.

Quinton Stephens, who had 17 points for Georgia Tech, sank a 3-pointer with 4.5 seconds remaining cut the lead to one point.

Aaron Brown, who had 11 points, made one of two free throws with 3.8 seconds remaining. Georgia Tech couldn't get off another shot before the final buzzer.

The Yellow Jackets led 14-7 before BC had back-to-back 3-pointers from Hanlan and Brown to launch a 12-0 run. Chris Bolden answered with two straight 3s and eight consecutive points for Georgia Tech.

Boston College led 26-24 at the break and, bolstered by Hanlan's drives, stretched the lead to seven points in the first five minutes of the second half.

Quick Hits after BC Game

• Tech utilized its fifth lineup of the season Sunday vs. Boston College - Chris Bolden and Travis Jorgenson at the guards, Demarco Cox at center, Marcus Georges-Hunt and Robert Sampson at the forwards. Charles Mitchell did not start for the first time this year. Only Georges-Hunt has started all 19 games for Tech this season.

• Tech trailed 26-24 at halftime, the sixth time this season the Jackets have trailed at the half. Tech is 1-5 when trailing at the half, 12-40 under Brian Gregory.

• Tech's eight three-point field goals vs. BC established a season high, surpassing the seven the Jackets made each against Georgia and Marquette.

• Tech went 8-for-23 from behind the three-point line one game after it went 0-for-12 at Virginia. The Jackets had been 16-for-38 from that distance in the three games prior to Virginia.

• Tech shot under 40 percent overall from the floor for the third straight game, and has shot 34.4 percent over that span (54-for-157).

• Tech utilized 11 players against Boston College, eight of them scored. Brian Gregory has used at least nine players in every game this season, at least 10 in nine games.

• Tech out-rebounded Boston College, 35-27, and has out-rebounded 16 of its 19 opponents this season. The Jackets have been out-rebounded by Virginia and Wake Forest, and tied Northwestern on the boards. The Jackets entered this game 10th in the nation in rebound margin (now +8.6 per game, +5.0 per game in conference play).

• Tech blocked seven shots against BC, a season-high.

• Tech is 0-7 in the ACC for the first time since the 2001-02 season, and for the third time in its conference history.

• Virginia defeated Tech by 29 points, but the Yellow Jackets' other six conference defeats have come by a total of 25 points (4.2 points per game). Tech has lost its first five ACC games by seven, one, seven, three and five points, and suffered a two-point loss to Boston College. The seven-point loss at Notre Dame was a double-overtime defeat.

• Only two Tech losses this season has come by more than seven points. In fact, only two of Tech's nine wins have come by more than nine points.

• Tech had 10 offensive rebounds but scored only four points off them. The Jackets rank eighth in the nation in offensive rebounds (14.67 per game, in all games and vs. ACC teams).

• Tech's three primary bigs (Cox, Mitchell, Sampson) scored only eight of Tech's 62 points (3-of-8 FG). The trio scored only 10 points at Virginia and was 4-for-13 from the floor.

• Tech went 12-for-18 from the free throw line against Boston College and is hitting 71.7 percent in ACC games, 106-for-145 (73.1 pct.) in its last 10 games. The Jackets have attempted just 14.5 free throws per game over that span, compared to 23 per game over its first nine games.

• Tech has yielded 36 threes in 164 attempts (22 pct.) in its wins this season, 67 threes in 170 attempts (39.4 pct.) in its losses. Tech entered the Boston College game 34th nationally and fifth in the ACC in three-point percentage defense.

Individual Notes from the BC Game

• Josh Heath hit his second three of the season and first since Nov. 18 vs. Alabama A&M. His seven points were his most since scoring 12 Dec. 3 at Northwestern. Heath also had three assists and just one turnover.

• Quinton Stephens had his fifth double-figure game this season, third in the last 5, with four 3s today. His 17 points and four threes were his most since the season opener against Georgia.

• Stephens' 17 points matched the most by a Tech player off the bench this season. Tadic Jackson scored 17 against Marquette in the Orlando Classic.

• Marcus Georges-Hunt led Tech in scoring with 20 points, his 13th double-digit game this season, 53rd of his career and 22nd in an ACC game. It also was his third game of 20 points or more this season, and sixth of his career.

• Robert Sampson grabbed nine rebounds, tying his season high, and the 14th time this season he has taken six or more. He ranks in the ACC's top 20 in rebound average.

Second Helpings

Georgia Tech ranks ninth nationally and is No. 2 in the ACC in offensive rebounds per game (14.57) this season. The Yellow Jackets are No. 2 in the ACC in percentage of available rebounds on the offensive glass (38.9 percent).

The Jackets have had varying degrees of success cashing in on those second chances in some games, but have averaged 12.7 points per game on second chances. It has helped mitigate Tech's struggles in connecting from the floor (40.8 percent) this season.

Tech has averaged exactly one point per offensive rebound in its nine wins (130/130), but only 0.79 points per offensive rebound (109 points on 138 offensive rebounds) in its losses.

Case in point - Tech had 20 offensive rebounds (7 by Mitchell, 6 by Cox) and 16 second-chance points against Vanderbilt, which negated the Jackets' 38.8-to-46.7-percent shooting disadvantage from the floor. Against Syracuse, however, Tech scored only nine points on 19 offensive boards and was not able to overcome a 26.3-to-34.6-percent shooting deficit.

Tech Helping Itself at the FT Line

With the increased scoring capabilities of Georgia Tech's primary bigs - Demarco Cox, Charles Mitchell and Robert Sampson and their ability to draw fouls, the Yellow Jackets have utilized the free throw to help their offense to a much greater extent the last two seasons.

Through Tech's first nine games, Tech averaged 23.1 attempts per game and 14.3 points per game from those attempts, making 61.9 percent from the stripe.

More recently, in the last 10 games, the Yellow Jackets have gone to the line far fewer times (14.5 per game), but have shot a remarkably greater percentage (73.1 pct.) to score 10.6 points per game on charity tosses.

Marcus Georges-Hunt is on his way to career bests in free throws made (79), attempted (103) and percentage (76.7 pct.).

Post players Demarco Cox and Charles Mitchell have been huge success stories for Tech at the line after the coaching staff changed their mechanics. Mitchell, a 41.7-percent shooter in two seasons at Maryland, has made 70.2 percent of his charity tosses this season, 84.6 percent in ACC games. Cox made 52.9 percent of his foul shots at Ole Miss, and though his season rate at Tech is 50 percent, he has made 73.3 percent in ACC games.

Mr. Consistency

As Georgia Tech's leading scorer as a freshman and No. 2 as a sophomore, Marcus Georges-Hunt has been nothing if not consistent.

The 6-5 junior from College Park, Ga., is again averaging in double figures with a team-leading 12.9 points per game and has 13 double-digit efforts this year. He currently holds career-high averages in scoring average, rebound average (5.5 per game) and free throw percentage (76.7 pct.).

Georges-Hunt scored in double digits in six of seven games before being held without a field goal Jan. 14 against Notre Dame, including back-to-back 20+ games against Charlotte and Notre Dame. In those seven games, Georges-Hunt went 35-for-34 from the free throw line, and 36-for-94 from the floor, while averaging 6.3 rebounds.

He notched his third 20+ game of the year (sixth of his career) last time out against Boston College, hitting 7-of-13 shots from the floor and 5-of-7 from the line.

- He had a streak of 20 straight free throws made before missing against Syracuse, and was a perfect 9-for-9 at Pittsburgh.

- Georges-Hunt averaged a team-best 13.3 points in the Orlando Classic, hitting double figures in each game including a season-high 16 against Rhode Island. He hit 44.1 percent from the floor and 9-of-11 from the free throw line.

- He reached double figures in 21 games last season after doing so in 19 games as a freshman. He has 53 double-digit efforts in 83 career games.

- Georges-Hunt has delivered some of his best basketball in key moments, most recently on scoring the game-winning basket on a drive to the lane with 1.9 seconds left Dec. 30 against Charlotte. He scored 16 of his 25 points in the second half and eight of those in the final 5:06. Last season in Tech's Feb. 13 win over Boston College, he scored Tech's last eight points and hit the game-winning three-point basket while being fouled. He converted the four-point play and finished with 15 points.

- At Notre Dame on Jan. 3, he scored 12 of his 20 points after halftime, including a basket on a drive to give Tech its last lead at 59-58 with 38 seconds left.

- He has continued a trend to be more aggressive attacking the basket this season, getting to the free throw line 103 times and making 79, both team highs. He began his attack effort in the latter half of last season, getting to the free throw line 59 times and making 42 (71.2 pct.) over Tech's last 11 games.

- He has improved statistically each season in most categories, from scoring (10.8 > 11.7 ppg > 12.9 ppg) to free throw percentage (62.9 > 67.4 > 76.7) to rebounds (4.9 > 4.3 > 5.5) to steals (0.77 > 0.82 > 1.32).

- Georges-Hunt recorded multiple assists in 21 of 33 games last year (seven of 19 this year), two or fewer turnovers in 28 games last year (14 of 19 this year), and four or more rebounds in 23 games last year (18 of 19 games this year).

The Postmen Cometh

Georgia Tech's starting post combo of Demarco Cox and Charles Mitchell have produced as expected with their size and physicality, both scoring in double figures frequently and establishing themselves as forces on the boards.

Mitchell and Cox, the two starters, have averaged 18.4 points per game combined, nearly one-third of Tech's total points this season. With Robert Sampson included off the bench, that number is 24.3 points per game.

All three rank among the ACC's top 20 in rebound average - Mitchell 11th, Sampson 18th, Cox 19th (Tech is the only team with three in the top 20) - while Tech is No. 4 in rebound average and No. 3 in rebound margin (ninth nationally).

- Mitchell is 11th in the ACC in rebounding at 7.5 per game, and is No. 3 in the conference in offensive rebounding at 3.79. The 6-8 junior has posted five double-doubles this season and has scored in double figures eight times, including a career-high 20 points in his Tech debut against Georgia with nine rebounds and 19 vs. Vanderbilt. He has made 53.5 percent of shots from the floor and 70.2 percent from the free throw line.

- Cox, who had just five double-digit scoring games in 102 at Ole Miss, has reached double figures in eight games so far, including 14 at Wake Forest and a career-best 17 against Notre Dame consecutive games recently. He has hit 53.1 percent of his shots from the floor this season, and has averaged 5.9 rebounds and blocked a team-high 21 shots.

- Sampson has asserted himself more and more each game. He has three double-digit scoring games, including a high of 16 in a Georgia Tech uniform at Pittsburgh. He is tied for 18th in the ACC in rebounds despite playing four fewer minutes on average, and has grabbed six or more rebounds in 14 games.

Making a Point

Georgia Tech has received steady production from its point guard tandem of red-shirt freshman Travis Jorgenson and sophomore transfer Josh

Heath, despite their relative inexperience (combined 21 collegiate games before this season).

They have been efficient with a combined 2.00 assist-turnover ratio and a combined 56 turnovers in 18 games.

Jorgenson, a red-shirt freshman coming off ACL surgery a year ago, has started 15 games (Heath the other four) and has 55 assists and 25 turnovers (2.2-to-1 ratio ranked 6th in the ACC), including 20 assists and 11 turnovers in ACC games.

Heath, who has 57 assists and 31 turnovers in 19 games, ranks 11th in the ACC in assist/turnover ratio (1.84-1).

The duo represents a change from the past when the Jackets have relied on their point guard to also be a primary scoring threat. Heath and Jorgenson have combined to average 7.3 points.

When the situation calls for it, however, they have come through. Heath went 6-for-6 from the field at Northwestern, including a pair of key baskets in the final 2:30 when the Wildcats rallied to within a single point. Jorgenson scored eight (3-4 FG) in a tight game against IPFW, made two big threes in Tech's win over Vanderbilt, and made one late three in Tech's win over Charlotte.

Boardwork Empire

One of the cornerstones of head coach Brian Gregory's philosophy is that everybody rebounds and Tech wins the rebounding battle every game in order to fuel transition offense and earn second chances in the half-court.

The Yellow Jackets have out-rebounded every opponent but three (Wake Forest, Virginia and a tie at Northwestern) this season and has out-rebounded their opponents by 8.6 per game (+5.0 vs. the ACC). They rank third in the ACC in rebound margin (10th nationally), second in offensive rebounds (9th nationally), third in defensive rebound percentage (74.7 pct.) and second in offensive rebound percentage (40.1 pct.).

• Tech's highest national ranking in rebound margin since the NCAA has tracked the statistic in 2002-03 is 21st in 2006-07, when the Jackets set their current all-time best mark of +5.8 per game.

• Tech has ranked in the top 100 each of the last three years, and has never done so for four straight years. Under Brian Gregory, The Yellow Jackets have ranked 60th, 96th and 97th, respectively, the last three years, each team ranking among the top 11 in Tech history.

• Tech has outrebounded 77 of its 114 opponents under Gregory, with four ties, and 35 of its 62 ACC opponents.

• Tech is 44-33 when it has won the rebounding battle under Gregory, and is 7-29 when it has lost the rebounding battle.

Tech Basketball Storylines for 2014-15

• Georgia Tech finished out its pre-conference schedule with its second-best record under Brian Gregory (9-3) against its toughest slate of opponents in four seasons. The Yellow Jackets' best pre-conference record under Brian Gregory was a 10-2 mark in 2012-13.

• Tech's strength of schedule is ranked No. 20 in CBS' RPI rankings. Six opponents in Tech's non-conference schedule were ranked in the top 100 in at least one of the four RPI rankings (CBS Sports, ESPN, KenPom, RealTime) at the time Tech faced them.

• Georgia Tech is celebrating its 100th season of men's basketball and playing its 36th season of competition in the Atlantic Coast Conference. Tech was a member of the Southern Conference for 11 years (1921-32), the Southeastern Conference for 32 years (1932-64), independent for 11 years (1964-75), a member of the Metro Conference for three years (1975-78), and independent for one more year (1978-79) before joining the ACC. Tech's first season was 1905-06, but the Yellow Jackets had no teams between 1910-12 and 1915-19.

• Georgia Tech returned two starters for the 2014-15 season, including junior forward Marcus Georges-Hunt and red-shirt sophomore point guard Corey Heyward. Other returning letterwinners of significance include junior guard Chris Bolden (14 starts), red-shirt freshman guard Travis Jorgenson, who played four games last year before being sidelined with a knee injury, and sophomore forward Quinton Stephens (12.8 mpg).

• The players in Brian Gregory's first recruiting class are now juniors (Chris Bolden and Marcus Georges-Hunt; Corey Heyward is a red-shirt sophomore). This is the first year that all players on the roster were brought in by Gregory's staff.

• Tech signed three high school players in the 2014 class - 6-9 forward Abdoulaye Gueye from Dakar, Senegal by way of Birmingham, Ala., 6-2 guard Tadrir Jackson from Tifton, Ga., and 6-10 center Ben Lammers from San Antonio, Texas. Jackson and Lammers earned all-state honors, and Jackson led his Tift County High School team to the state championship in Georgia's highest classification.

• Robert Sampson, a 6-8 forward from Atlanta who sat out last season after transferring from East Carolina, became eligible for 2014-15 and is a senior. Sampson averaged 9.1 points and 9.2 rebounds per game for the Pirates in 2012-13.

• Tech brought in four transfers from other Division I schools, three of them frontcourt players, and three of them immediately eligible to play this season. Demarco Cox, a 6-8 forward/center from Yazoo City, Miss., was eligible immediately as a fifth-year graduate transfer after playing three seasons and graduating from Ole Miss. Josh Heath, a 6-0 guard from Tampa, Fla., came to Tech from South Florida where he played 17 games as a freshman, and Charles Mitchell, a 6-8 forward from Marietta who started 17 games over two seasons at Maryland, were both granted immediate eligibility by the NCAA. Nick Jacobs, a 6-8 forward from Atlanta, is sitting out the 2014-15 season after playing three years at Alabama.

• Tech was picked to finish 13th in the ACC this season by media attending the recent Operation Basketball media day in Charlotte and by Blue Ribbon Basketball Yearbook.

• Georgia Tech made a five-win improvement from year 1 to year 2, then essentially maintained as injuries forced five different players to miss a total of 84 games and Tech to play with as few as seven scholarship players at times during the ACC schedule.

• Tech's current roster is expected to remain mostly intact through the 2015-16 season. Only Demarco Cox and Robert Sampson will run out of eligibility.

Summer Makeover

Georgia Tech's staff responded well to the graduation of Daniel Miller and Kammeon Holsey, and the unexpected departure of Robert Carter, Jr., by signing three transfer big men in Demarco Cox, Nick Jacobs and Charles Mitchell, who have combined to play eight seasons of college basketball at high-major programs, and has Robert Sampson, who sat out last season after playing three seasons at East Carolina. These four players have combined to start 127 games.

The addition of these players makes Tech's post presence bigger and more physical than at any time in Gregory's tenure.

Gregory also responded well to filling two vacancies on his staff, bringing in Mamadou N'Diaye to coach the big men, and Tom Herrion to coach the point guards. Both are regarded as excellent teachers and recruiters. In 11 seasons as an assistant coach at Providence, Virginia and Pittsburgh, Herrion helped those teams to nine post-season appearances (five NCAA) and an average of 20 wins. N'Diaye, in just his fourth season as a college coach, helped Coastal Carolina to 54 wins and two post-season bids in three seasons.

Depth and Versatility Everywhere

Head coach Brian Gregory has utilized at least nine of his 12 scholarship players in every game this season, and as many as 11 in eight games.

In the post: Tech has five players to rotate through its two post positions, thanks to the addition of Demarco Cox and Charles Mitchell as transfers this summer and the eligibility of Robert Sampson, who sat out last season after transferring from East Carolina. Those three players have played 268 college games and made 98 collegiate starts. Tech also has two freshmen big men in Abdoulaye Gueye and Ben Lammers, and has signed a 6-10 post player in the early signing period, meaning the front court will remain deep for the next two years.

On the wings: Tech has four players to rotate through the two wing positions, including returning letterwinners Marcus Georges-Hunt,

Chris Bolden and Quinton Stephens, who had 157 games and 92 starts under their belts before this season, and added the Georgia state class 6A player of the year in freshman Tadic Jackson.

At the point: Two letterwinners returned here - Corey Heyward, who started 14 of Tech's last 15 games a year ago, and red-shirt freshman Travis Jorgenson, who injured his knee four games into last season and missed the rest of the season. Sophomore Josh Heath, who played 17 games as a freshman at South Florida, transferred to Tech over the summer. The point guard group has three years to play in the Tech program.

Homegrown Jackets

Head coach Brian Gregory and his staff have made recruiting Georgia a priority since his arrival in 2010, and 12 of the Yellow Jackets' 18 players this season hail from the Peach State.

Tech's 2013-14 team featured 14 players from the state of Georgia, unprecedented in the history of Yellow Jacket basketball. Tech had more players from its home state on its roster than any team on Division I college basketball, followed by Charlotte (13), Wisconsin-Milwaukee (13) and Purdue (12).

Notable Milestones and Streaks

- Tech had made at least one 3-point field goal in 310 straight games before going 0-for-12 Thursday night against Virginia. That streak dated back to an 0-for-5 night at Duke on Feb. 23, 2005.

- Marcus Georges-Hunt surpassed 900 career points against Syracuse, and now has 966. He is bidding to reach the 1,000-point plateau sometime this season, and would be the 43rd Tech player to reach that milestone.

- Chris Bolden needs one points (has 499) to reach 500 for his career.

- Charles Mitchell surpassed 600 points for his career at Virginia. He now has 605 for his career (418 in 70 games at Maryland).

- Mitchell surpassed 500 rebounds for his career at Notre Dame. He grabbed 407 in 70 games at Maryland, and now has 549.

- Demarco Cox scored 301 points in 102 games at Ole Miss. He has scored more than half that total (162) in 19 games this season to go over 400 for his career.

TECH NOTEBOOK

MEDIA GUIDELINES

Georgia Tech's practices are generally closed to the public and the media, but coaches and players are available prior to practice, typically twice a week and generally on Mondays and Thursdays prior to practices that occur on those days. Notices will be announced weekly to confirm the schedule for the week.

TV stations are allowed to shoot B-roll during the first 15 minutes of those practices during the course of the season.

Media are asked to notify Mike Stamus ahead of time to make specific player requests.

Interview requests with players that need to be conducted at other times must be made through the Georgia Tech communications office at least 24 hours in advance. These interviews will be conducted at a time and place convenient to the players' availability and class schedule.

Media are asked not to contact players directly either by phone, e-mail or text. They are instructed not to accept those. Every effort will be made to make players available.

INTERVIEWS WITH COACH GREGORY

Media wishing to speak with Coach Gregory at times other than scheduled media sessions are asked to set up an appointment in advance through the communications office. He also is available each Monday on the ACC Teleconference (10:40 a.m.), and other teleconferences may be scheduled as demand warrants.

POST-GAME INTERVIEWS

Coach Gregory and the visiting team's head coach will each hold a post-game press conference in the designated interview room (Shah Media Room at McCamish Pavilion).

Players requested by the media will be brought to the interview room following the coaches press conferences, outside the team's locker room when the team is on the road.

BRIAN GREGORY RADIO SHOW

Head coach Brian Gregory's weekly radio show airs each Monday from 7-8 p.m. live on "680 the Fan" and 93.7 FM and will be replayed later in the evening on "All News 106.7 FM."

ACC COACHES' WEEKLY TELECONFERENCE

The 15 ACC head basketball coaches will be featured on nine Monday teleconferences during the 2014-15 season, beginning on Monday, January 5, 2014, and continuing through March 2. Each coach will have 10 minutes to make an opening statement and answer questions. There will be an instant replay of each teleconference on the Conference's internet site TheACC.com each Monday afternoon.

Georgia Tech head coach Brian Gregory will be on the teleconference either at 11:50 a.m. or 12:10 p.m. each week with the exception of the following dates when Tech has a Monday game (Feb. 9, 16 and 23). Coaches whose teams play on Monday evening will not participate in that day's teleconference.

Contact the ACC media relations office at 336-851-6062 for the call-in number and for questions on the schedule.

The Jackets have five non-scholarship players on the roster who form the scout team in practice and is dubbed the "Iron Five" by Coach Gregory. That unit includes forwards Brooks Doyle, a junior, and Aaron Peek, a senior, both 6-4 players from Atlanta who each saw action for Tech the last two years, a pair of freshman guards in Patrick Lamar (Atlanta) and Bernard Woodside (Tampa, Fla.), and 6-7 sophomore forward Rand Rowland (Cleveland, Ga.).

Making History

Georgia Tech made a little bit of history during its first three seasons under head coach Brian Gregory.

- The first came quickly, a 68-56 win over Georgia in Athens on Dec. 7, 2011, the team's first victory in Athens in 35 years.

- With its 80-73 win at Georgia Nov. 14, Tech has now defeated its in-state rival four consecutive games for the first time since winning four straight during its final two seasons in the Southeastern Conference (1962-63, 1963-64). The Jackets have also won back-to-back games in Athens for the first time since winning three straight from 1959-61.

- For the first time since Roy McArthur in 1946-47 and 1947-48, Gregory has won in his first four tries against state-rival Georgia.

- Tech has won three ACC road games each of the last two seasons and went 5-7 overall on the road in 2013-14, the team's best road record since 2007-08. Tech has won six of its last 14 ACC road games after winning three of the previous 36 dating back to the beginning of the 2008-09 season.

- One of those road wins was Tech's first-ever victory over Virginia Tech in Blacksburg, a 64-54 win last Feb. 9. That came after seven losses in Cassell Coliseum.

- Like his two predecessors, Brian Gregory captured his first career ACC victory on the road (82-71 over NC State on Jan. 11). Bobby Cremins defeated Maryland for his first, 45-43 on Dec. 23, 1981, while Paul Hewitt won at Virginia, 73-68, on Jan. 9, 2000.

- Tech has beaten a top 10 team on the road each of the past two seasons, including a 67-62 win at No. 7 Syracuse on March 4, 2014. Tech defeated Miami, ranked No. 6 and eventual ACC Champion, 71-69 on March 6, 2013. The Jackets had not defeated a top 10 team on the road since the 2003-04 season.

Schedule Notes

- Tech will make its first appearance on ESPN's Big Monday platform, hosting Louisville on Feb. 23 at McCamish Pavilion. The Yellow Jackets also visit Virginia Tech (Feb. 9) and host Clemson (Feb. 16) in Monday night games on ESPNU.

- Tech will play a minimum of 13 games against teams that played in last year's NCAA Tournament or NIT.

- Six ACC teams are ranked among the top 25 in the AP and USA Today coaches polls, and four (Virginia, Duke, Notre Dame, Louisville) are in the top 10. Tech will play Duke, Louisville, Virginia and Miami once each, and the other two (Notre Dame, North Carolina) twice each.

- Unlike last year's slate, Tech's ACC schedule features consecutive road games only once (Pittsburgh and Virginia in January) and consecutive home games only once (Florida State and Clemson in February).

- Tech has a bye the final weekend of the regular season (March 7-8).

- Tech is 9-7 in road games at non-Power 5 conference venues since the 2001-02 season.

Arts and Letters

Not only has Georgia Tech improved on the court since Gregory arrived, but has made big strides in the classroom as well. Beginning with Moe Miller and Lance Storrs in the summer after Gregory took over the reins at Tech, every four-year senior in the program has graduated.

Derek Craig and Nick Foreman received their Tech degrees in 2012, as did the 2013 senior class of Mfon Udofia, who finished his business administration degree work in the summer, and Pierre Jordan, who completed his Masters degree requirements in building construction in the spring. Brandon Reed graduated in the summer with his management degree before transferring back to Arkansas State to play his final year of basketball.

All three of Tech's four-year seniors in 2013-14 - Kammeon Holsey, Daniel Miller and Jason Morris - graduated in the spring.

Trae Golden and Marcus Georges-Hunt made the Academic All-ACC team in 2013-14, Georges-Hunt for the second time, and the Yellow Jackets have had at least one player named to that team since it was instituted for the 2010-11 season.

Tech's men's basketball scored a perfect team single year Academic Progress Report score of 1000 in the 2010-11 APR Report, a first for the program, and posted a four-year average of 972, an all-time high, last spring.

Degrees of Separation

Two former notable Georgia Tech players from the last decade - guards Jarrett Jack and Matt Causey - walked across the stage on the McCamish Pavilion floor Dec. 13 to receive academic degrees.

Jack, fulfilling a promise to his mother, received his bachelor's degree in management nearly 10 years after he played his final Tech game. Jack, a nine-year NBA veteran now playing for the Brooklyn Nets, starred at point guard for the Yellow Jackets from 2002-05, leading Tech to a pair of NCAA Tournaments, including a run to the national championship game in 2004, and an NIT berth.

Causey, who played for the Jackets in 2007-08, completed his masters degree in business administration. After beginning his college career at Georgetown and playing at North Georgia College, Causey sank Notre Dame on a last-second three-pointer in the Paradise Jam and scored 30 in a win over Virginia Tech later that season.

Checking the Lineup Card

Head coach Brian Gregory utilized seven different starting lineups in 2011-12, many of those forced by significant injuries. Two players - Kammeon Holsey and Daniel Miller - started every

Tech played 55 seasons in Alexander Memorial Coliseum, compiling a record of 556-194 (.741). Miami was the last team to play Tech there, a game Tech won, and was the first ACC team to play in McCamish Pavilion, which Miami won. For the 2011-12 season, Tech played its home games at Philips Arena and the Arena at Gwinnett.

In 2012-13, he went with essentially two different lineups, and three players - Carter, Jr., Miller and Mfon Udofia - started every game. Tech's lineup for 14 of the first 15 games was Mfon Udofia and Brandon Reed at the guards, Marcus Georges-Hunt and Robert Carter, Jr., at the forwards and Daniel Miller at center. Chris Bolden replaced Reed in game 16 at Duke and started 15 of the last 16 games.

In 2013-14, injuries forced several lineup changes, and only Georges-Hunt and Miller started every game. Nine players started at least four games for Tech, and Gregory used nine different starting lineups.

This season, Tech has changed the lineup four times, with nine players starting at least one game. Marcus Georges-Hunt and Charles Mitchell have started every game.

Tech Signs 6-10 Post Player

Sylvester Ogbonda, a 6-10 post player from Fort Washington, Md., signed a national letter-of-intent with Georgia Tech during the November signing period.

Ogbonda, originally from Nigeria, attends the National Christian Academy in Fort Washington. He is rated a three-star prospect by ESPN, Rivals and Scout, and is ranked as high as 26th nationally at the center position. DMVElite.com ranks Ogbonda No. 6 in the class of 2015 (all positions) in the Washington, D.C./Maryland/Virginia footprint.

Ogbonda helped National Christian to a 14-8 record in 2013-14, averaging 12 points and 10 rebounds per game, and 22-7 in 2012-13, averaging six points and six rebounds. He was named first-team All-Capital Beltway Athletic Association in 2013-14, and was named the league's defensive player of the year.

Six Tech Alumni on NBA Rosters

Seven former Georgia Tech basketball stars were on NBA team rosters when the 2013-14 season opened, more than any team in the ACC except Duke (15) and North Carolina (14).

Three players began the 2014-15 season with new teams. Jarrett Jack, an 11-year NBA veteran who played in Cleveland last year, was traded to Brooklyn in the off-season. Anthony Morrow began his ninth season in the league as a member of the Oklahoma City Thunder. Thaddeus Young, who has spent his entire seven-year NBA career in Philadelphia, was traded to Minnesota.

Chris Bosh, who spent the first seven years of his NBA career in Toronto, is in his fifth season in Miami looking for his third NBA title with the Heat, but without LeBron James.

Iman Shumpert was being looked upon to fill a leadership role in his fourth season with the New York Knicks, then was traded to Cleveland in early January, and Derrick Favors is emerging as a star in his fifth NBA season with Utah.

Will Bynum, a member of Tech's 2004 Final Four team who spent the last six years in Detroit, was traded to and then waived by Boston the night before the season began.

The newcomer in the Tech group this year was Glen Rice, Jr., who starred last season in the NBA's developmental league. He was selected by Philadelphia in the second round of the NBA draft and traded to Washington, where he played last season. He was on the Wizards roster early this season before being re-assigned to the team's D-League affiliate and subsequently being released.

Two other former Jackets - Mfon Udofia and Kammeon Holsey, were selected in the recent NBA D-League draft.

Welcome to The Hank

Georgia Tech is playing its third season in McCamish Pavilion, which was for all intents and purposes, brand new when it opened for the 2012-13 season. The only physical elements of McCamish Pavilion that remain from the venerable Alexander Memorial Coliseum are the roof, which has been re-covered, and the 32 steel ribs that support it.

The capacity of McCamish Pavilion is 8,600, including 1,665 seats in the new balcony level and 6,935 seats in the lower seating bowl. There are no suites, but there is a premium club area that seats 500. Alexander Memorial Coliseum seated 9,191 spectators in its final configuration.

The most striking features of McCamish Pavilion are its grand entrance, which fronts 10th and Fowler Streets, the ability for patrons to view the court from the main concourse nearly all the way around, and the theatrical lighting system, which concentrates light on the court while leaving the seating areas dark, modeled after the Staples Center in Los Angeles and Madison Square Garden in New York.

Tech played 55 seasons in Alexander Memorial Coliseum, compiling a record of 556-194 (.741). Miami was the last team to play Tech in Alexander Memorial Coliseum, a game Tech won, and was the first ACC team to play in McCamish Pavilion on Jan. 5, which Miami won. For the 2011-12 season, Tech played its home games at Philips Arena and the Arena at Gwinnett.

Tech's NCAA Tournament History

Georgia Tech played in the NCAA Tournament five times in 11 seasons under head coach Paul Hewitt and has played in the event 16 times in its history. Fifteen of those appearances have occurred from 1985 to the present.

Tech has a record of 23-16 in NCAA Tournament play, highlighted by its 2004 trip to the NCAA title game as well as a Final Four berth in 1990. The Yellow Jackets have reached the NCAA Sweet 16 seven times (1960, 1985, 1986, 1990, 1992, 1996, 2004).

The 2004 and 2005 appearances were the Yellow Jackets' first back-to-back appearances since Bobby Cremins led the Institute to the Big Dance nine straight years from 1985-93.

Georgia Tech has won at least one game in 11 of its 16 NCAA Tournament appearances.

Tech's ACC Tournament History

Georgia Tech has played in 35 ACC Tournaments, and has a 25-32 all-time record in the event. The Yellow Jackets have won three championships, in 1985 (Atlanta), 1990 (Charlotte) and

LAST YEAR VS. MIAMI

GAME 18

Miami 56, Georgia Tech 42

Jan. 18, 2014 • McCamish Pavilion

Freshman Manu Lecomte scored a career-high 16 points, Donnavan Kirk added 14 points and Miami used its tight zone defense to beat Georgia Tech.

The Hurricanes (10-7, 2-3 Atlantic Coast Conference) showed why they ranked ninth in average points allowed, causing Georgia Tech to miss 27 of its first 35 shots from the field.

Trae Golden finished with 12 points for the Yellow Jackets (10-8, 1-4), who used an eight-man rotation following injuries or sickness suffered by Robert Carter Jr., Jason Morris and Solomon Poole.

The Hurricanes never trailed after Lecomte's layup made it 7-5 early in the first, taking their first double-digit lead on a pair of free throws by Lecomte with 3 seconds left before intermission.

Rion Brown, a native of Hinesville, Ga., had 12 points for Miami, which finished with just four assists, but most of its baskets came off the dribble.

Georgia Tech, which began the game with the nation's 11th-worst shooting on 3-point attempts, finished 4 for 20 beyond the arc and had little hope against a Miami defense that ranked ninth nationally in scoring.

BRIAN GREGORY

Head Coach - 4th season at Tech

Brian Gregory, who led the University of Dayton to 97 victories over his last four seasons there and worked under Tom Izzo at Michigan State when the Spartans won the 2000 NCAA Championship, was named Georgia Tech's head basketball coach on March 28, 2011.

Gregory is the 13th head coach in Yellow Jacket history.

Gregory coached eight seasons at Dayton where he compiled a record of 172-94 and participated in the NCAA Tournament or NIT five times. His 2003-04 and 2008-09 teams earned NCAA Tournament berths and last season the Flyers captured the NIT crown after beating North Carolina in the championship game.

Gregory has gone about laying the foundation for similar success in the Yellow Jackets' program. Gregory's first season saw Tech score victories over a pair of NCAA Tournament teams in VCU and NC State, both away from home, and defeat Georgia in Athens for the program's first victory there in 35 years.

Tech has won 16 games each of the past two seasons, something the Yellow Jackets have not accomplished in back-to-back years since 2003-04 and only once since the mid-1990s. Tech also has beaten a top-10 team on the road each of the past two seasons (No. 6 Miami in 2013, No. 7 Syracuse in 2014) and won three ACC road games each of the past two years after winning a total of three in the four years before that. If not for a series of significant injuries to five contributing players during the 2013-14 season, the Yellow Jackets could have exhibited significant improvement in the win column as well.

The Yellow Jackets have defeated rival Georgia for four straight years, something Tech hasn't done since the early 1960s, and beaten the Bulldogs twice in a row in Athens for the first time since 1961.

They developed their first All-ACC player in 2014 in center Daniel Miller, who made the all-conference third team in 2014 as well as the ACC All-Defensive team two years in a row.

Three players - Chris Bolden, Marcus Georges-Hunt and Trae Golden - have made the ACC All-Academic team, while Georges-Hunt has been selected twice. All nine of the four-year seniors in the Tech program since Gregory arrived have graduated.
