2001-02 SEASON PREVIEW

The University of Miami men's basketball team enters the 2001-02 season with an experienced group of players who are looking to return to the NCAA Tournament for the fourth time in five seasons.

Last season was struggle for Miami as the Hurricanes tried to overcome the loss of four starters, the hiring of a new coach and the institution of a new system. This season the Hurricanes return nine lettermen, including four starters, from last season's 16-13 team that advanced to the NIT.

Included in Miami's group of returning players are its top three scorers and rebounders (Darius Rice, John Salmons, James Jones). The trio also ranked among the team's top outside shooters and helped Miami set a school single-season record for three point field goals (206) and three-point field goal attempts (595). Both marks shattered the old records of 186 three-point field goals and 521 attempts set in 1992-93.

Overall Miami brings back 76 percent (1541 of 2039) of its scoring and 75 percent (763 of 1024) of its rebounding.

Miami's NIT berth in 2001 marked the Hurricanes fifth straight post-season appearance and sixth in the last seven seasons. In addition, Miami has posted a league best 36-14 conference mark over the last three seasons.

The Backcourt

Miami's starting backcourt returns intact led by senior All-America candidate John Salmons. The smooth 6-7, 200 pound guard was a third-team All-Conference selection last season aand ranked second on the team in scoring (13.3 ppg) and was the team's top rebounder (6.0 rpg) and assist man (4.0 apg).

Salmons is arguably one of the most versatile players in the BIG EAST having played every position at Miami except center. Last season he was the only BIG EAST player to rank among the league leaders (conference games only) in scoring (17th - 14.0 ppg), rebounding (17th - 6.3 rpg), assists (9th - 4.38 apg), steals (9th - 1.94 spg), free throw percentage (9th - .824) and assist-to-turnover ratio (11th - 1.43 ratio).

Junior Michael Simmons returns at the point after starting all 29 games last season. The 6-0, 185 pound native of Los Angeles ranked second on the team in assists (2.5 apg) and had a team-best 1.45 assist to turnover ratio. Simmons was also one of the Hurricanes top free throw shooters connecting on 80 percent of his attempts.

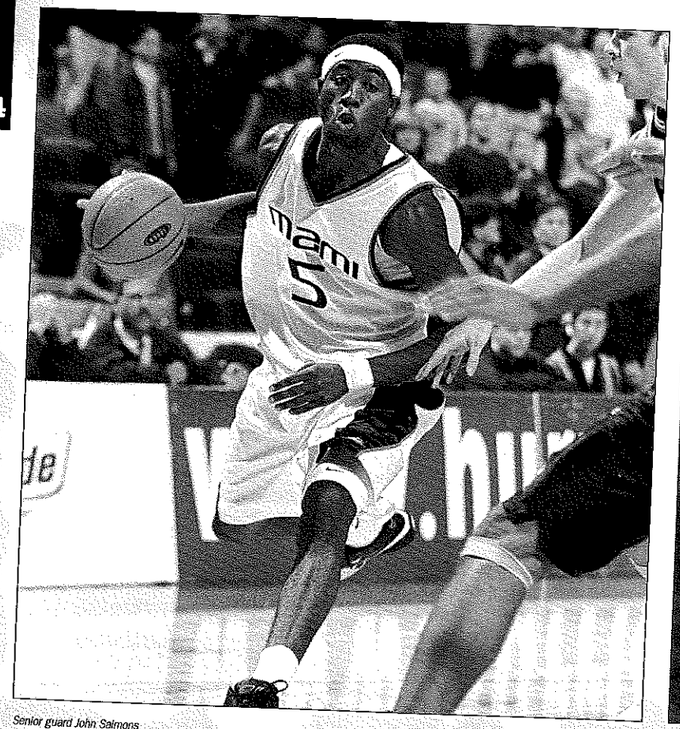
Sophomore Marcus Barnes will also push for playing time at both the point guard and shooting guard positions. The 6-2, 200 pounder played in all 29 games as a freshman and was the Hurricanes' top scorer off the bench (7.2 ppg). Barnes showed his explosiveness offensively scoring in double-figures nine times including three 20-point scoring games. He scored a season-high 24 points in Miami's 77-74 win over Connecticut helping him earn BIG EAST Rookie of the Week honors (week ending Jan. 22).

Adding depth will be junior combo-guard Paulo Coelho as well as freshman Kahleaf Watson. Coelho (6-2, 185) returns after missing all of last season while recovering for surgery to repair a torn ACL in his right knee. He brings experience to the UM bench having played in 51 career games including four starts.

Watson (6-2, 185) averaged 18.1 points, 4.5 assists, 3.5 rebounds and 3.0 steals per game last season in leading Blue Ridge High School to a 25-7 record and its second consecutive Virginia Independent School State title. Watson was named first team All-State last season in both basketball and football by the Virginia Independent School Association.

The Frontcourt

Miami will boast one of the top starting frontcourts in the BIG EAST if not the nation this season. Junior power forward James Jones and sophomore Darius Rice both return after recording strong seasons a year ago.



Senior guard John Salmons

2001-02 SEASON PREVIEW

Rice (6-10, 205), a McDonald's All-American as a high school senior, was named to the BIG EAST All-Rookie team last season after averaging a team-best 14.1 points per game. Rice recorded 20 double-figure scoring games including four 20-point scoring games and two 30-point outbursts. His 35 points against Central Florida on December 9 established a UM freshman record while his seven three-point baskets versus Virginia Tech on January 10 was also a UM freshman record.

Rice recorded a team-high 62 three-point baskets in 2000-01 and ranked third on the team in rebounding averaging 4.9 per game. He also registered 31 steals and 14 blocks.

Jones (6-8, 211) started all 29 games last season and averaged 11.9 points, 5.9 rebounds and 1.6 blocks per game. He ranked third on the team in scoring, second in rebounding and second in blocks while connecting on a team-high 47.1 percent (41-87) three-point field goals.

At center Miami will look to senior Elton Tyler (6-9, 235). Tyler, who redshirted last season, started all 34 games in 1999-00 averaging 10.1 points and 5.5 rebounds per game. Over his career Tyler has shot connected on 54.4 percent (222-408) of his field goal attempts.

Adding depth will be sophomore Rodrigue Djahue. The 6-7, 255 pound forward from the Ivory Coast played in 27 games last season averaging 4.1 points and 2.7 rebounds per game. Djahue, who is still learning the game of basketball, showed signs of his potential scoring in double figures five times.

The Hurricanes added to its depth down low with the additions of junior college transfers Rafael Berumen and Wil Frisby this season. Berumen (6-9, 255) attended Los Angeles City College last season and averaged 18 points, nine rebounds and three assists per game in leading the Cubs to a 32-4 record and an eighth consecutive South Coast Conference title. Los Angeles City College ended the season ranked No. 1 in the state.

A first-team All-Conference selection, Berumen stepped up his play in conference games averaging 26 points and 10 rebounds per contest. Los Angeles City College finished its conference season with a perfect 8-0 record.

Frisby attended Fresno City College last season and averaged 18.5 points, 10.8 rebounds and 1.6 blocks per game earning first-team All-Central Valley Conference honors. He shot 57.8 percent from the field and 79.4 percent from the line in leading FCC to a 15-12 record.

On the Schedule

The schedule includes 13 games against teams that participated in post-season play a year ago including eight against teams that advanced to the 2001 NCAA Basketball Championship.

Miami's schedule features 15 games at Miami Arena including eight BIG EAST battles — against Pittsburgh (Jan. 15), Providence (Jan. 19), Villanova (Jan. 24), Boston College (Jan. 29), Connecticut (Feb. 2), St. John's (Feb. 13), Notre Dame (Feb. 23) and Virginia Tech (Mar. 2).

Miami opens its schedule on the road at the Virgin Islands Invitational (Nov. 16-21). The tournament boasts a strong field including Alabama-Birmingham, Clemson, Eastern Michigan, La Salle and Morris Brown.

The Hurricanes open their home schedule on Nov. 24 versus Lafayette at the Miami Arena. The Hurricanes open their BIG EAST Conference schedule at Georgetown on Jan. 2. Miami's BIG EAST home opener will be on Jan. 15 versus Pittsburgh.

On Dec. 15 the Hurricanes will face Big 10 power Indiana in the HIP Health Plan Orange Bowl Basketball Classic at the American Airlines Arena in Miami, FL. The Hurricanes will also travel to New Orleans to face SEC standout LSU at the Sugar Bowl Basketball Classic.

Hurricane NEWS & NOTES

MIAMI REACHES POST-SEASON, AGAIN:

The Hurricanes have advanced to the post-season in five straight seasons and six times in the last seven years. Miami has gone to the NCAA Tournament in three of the last four season including a Sweet Sixteen appearance in 2000.

WINNING WAYS:

Last season Miami posted its seventh consecutive winning season. The last time Miami recorded at least seven straight winning seasons was the 1968-69 campaign when the 'Canes registered their 10th straight winning season.

JACK OF ALL TRADES:

Senior John Salmons (6-7, 200) is arguably the most versatile player in the BIG EAST. Salmons has played every position at Miami except center and was the only BIG EAST player to rank among the conference leaders (conference games only) in scoring (17th - 14.0 ppg), rebounding (17th - 6.3 rpg), assists (9th - 4.38 apg), steals (9th - 1.94 spg), free throw percentage (9th - .824) and assist-to-turnover ratio (11th - 1.43 ratio) last season.

SELECT COMPANY:

The Hurricanes are one of just three BIG EAST schools to post a winning overall record each of the past six seasons. Syracuse and Connecticut are the others.

HURRICANES TIE WINS RECORD:

Over the last four seasons UM has registered a 80-41 (.661) overall record. The 80 wins ties the school-record for wins over a four-year period matching the 1959-63 teams (80-28) and later equalled by the 1996-00 teams (80-41).

MIAMI vs. NON-CONFERENCE OPPONENTS:

Since becoming the 10th member of The BIG EAST Conference beginning with the 1991-92 season, the Hurricanes have compiled a 63-35 (.643) record against non-conference opponents, including a 45-13 mark (.776) at the Miami Arena.

WORKING OVERTIME:

Miami has played at least one overtime contest in each of the last three seasons. UM has amassed a 6-4 record (including tournament games) in BIG EAST overtime contests (4-3 at home). The 'Canes, who have never had more than three overtime games in any season (3-0 in 1986-87 and 0-3 in 1990-91), own a 22-21 overall record in overtime contests during their history (4-4 in double-overtime games and a 18-17 mark in single-overtime contests). Miami is 6-4 in overtime games since 1995. Below is a list of UM's overtime games since 1990:

MIAMI DOMINATES IN THE ARENA:

In 11 seasons at the Miami Arena the Hurricanes have compiled a 127-65 (.661) overall record, including a 12-3 mark this season. One of Miami's home losses this season was at the National Car Rental Center in Sunrise, FL. UM has posted a 69-19 (.784) home record since 1994. UM is 38-14 (.731) in its last 52 BIG EAST home games dating back to the 1995-96 season.

ADMINISTRATION

President

Donna E. Shalala became the fifth President of the University of Miami on June 1, 2001. President Shalala is an accomplished scholar, teacher, and administrator whose career has been marked by a variety of leadership positions reflecting her interest in young people. She also is a big sports fan!

Growing up in Cleveland, Ohio, Shalala was influenced by her mother, Edna, a former nationally ranked tennis player. While attending college, she played tennis and still plays a competitive game of doubles. She also enjoys golf, skiing and other outdoor activities.

In 1987 President Shalala, a distinguished political scientist, became the first woman chancellor of a Big Ten university, the University of Wisconsin-Madison. She led what was then the nation's largest public research university, raising more than $400 million for the endowment, and spearheaded a $225 million state-private partnership program to renovate and add to the university's research facilities. In 1992 Business Week magazine named her one of the top five managers in higher education.

President Shalala's success at Wisconsin was reflected in athletics as well. She hired a new football coach, recruiting Barry Alvarez from Notre Dame. Four years later, Wisconsin won the Big Ten football championship and represented its conference in the Rose Bowl for the first time in 30 years. President Shalala served on the first Knight Commission, a committee to review college athletics, and has served on the board of the National Collegiate Athletic Association Foundation.

In 1992 Shalala was named U.S. Secretary for Health and Human Services (HHS) and served for eight years, becoming the nation's longest-serving HHS Secretary. She was an active member of the Washington, D.C., community, participating in events to benefit the arts including serving as a member of the Kennedy Center Board of Trustees. In 1999 she spearheaded the United Way campaign for federal employees that raised a record $44 million for local and national charities. Last year she led the official U.S. delegation to the 2000 Olympics in Sydney, Australia. At the end of her tenure as HHS Secretary, The Washington Post described her as "one of the most successful government managers of modern times."

As president of the University of Miami, President Shalala presides over one of the most successful college athletic programs in the country. The Hurricanes football program consistently ranks in the top of the polls. Last spring the baseball team won its fourth College World Series. And, in 2002 the men and women's basketball team will play in a new, on-campus facility, the Ryder Center. Other Hurricane sports—from golf to tennis—have also earned national recognition. For a sports fan like President Shalala, there is no better place to call home than the University of Miami.

Head Coach PERRY CLARK

When the University of Miami was looking for someone to take over the reigns of the up-and-coming Hurricanes men's basketball program there was one name that continued to rise to the top of the list: Perry Clark.

In more than 22 years of collegiate coaching, the last 12 as a head coach, Clark has done one thing consistently - win. As a head coach, Clark has a 201-158 (.560) record including 10 winning seasons, six 20-win seasons and eight postseason appearances.

He has been a part of building some of the nation's top programs including his remarkable rebuilding job as head coach of Tulane. He has learned from some of the greatest basketball coaches the sport has known including Bobby Cremins at Georgia Tech and legendary prep coach Morgan Wooten at DeMatha Catholic High School. And he is a proven cultivator of talent having coached 13 players who have gone on to play in the National Basketball Association.

So it was no surprise on July 6, 2000 when Miami Athletic Director Paul Dee announced that Clark would be the Hurricanes' ninth head basketball coach.

THE CLARK ERA BEGINS

Clark entered his first season at the University of Miami with more questions than answers. He inherited a team with high expectations but not a lot of experience. Miami was coming off a 23-11 season and its first appearance Sweet Sixteen appearance in the NCAA Tournament.

The only problem was four starters were missing from that team, including four its top five scorers and three of its top five rebounders. The team was also very young with just one senior (Dwayne Wimbley) on the roster.

The Hurricanes struggled early dropping its first four BIG EAST Conference games. A lesser team might have folded under such adversity, but not Clark's Hurricanes. Clark rallied Miami to eight wins in its next 12 games and by the end of the regular season he had molded the young squad into one of the most dangerous teams in the BIG EAST.

Included in Miami's late season run were wins over three ranked opponents including home wins over No. 15 Connecticut and No. 22 Seton Hall, and an impressive road win at No. 10 Syracuse.

Overall Clark led UM to a 16-13 record and a trip to the National Invitation Tournament. The postseason berth marked the fifth straight for Miami and the eighth in Clark's 12 seasons as a head coach.

A PROGRAM BUILDER

Prior to taking over at Miami, Clark produced one of the most remarkable turnarounds in college basketball history.

Clark was hired by Tulane on July 16, 1988 and immediately set forth on rebuilding a program that had been dismantled following NCAA sanctions. But Clark did more than just rebuild the Tulane program, he brought it into the national spotlight.

In 11 seasons at Tulane, Clark compiled a 185-145 (.561) record, had six 20-win seasons, seven postseason appearances (3 NCAA, 4 NIT) and won the Metro Conference championship in 1992. He was the 1992 National Coach of the Year and a two-time Metro Conference Coach of the Year (1991, 1992).

After going 4-24 in the 1989-90 season, Tulane was 15-13 the next year and Clark was named the Metro Conference coach of the year. In 1991-92, Tulane would remain ranked for 11 consecutive weeks en route to a 22-9 season, its first Metro title, a trip to the NCAA Tournament and a first-round win over St. John's.

Clark and staff followed up the next season signing one of the nation's top recruiting classes. In 1993-94, despite half the team's scoring and rebounding production coming from freshmen, Clark and the Green Wave were in postseason play again, reaching the second round of the NIT.

In 1995, Tulane was back in the NCAA Tournament, winning another first-round game and posting the second-most victories in school history (23). The next season, the Wave made its deepest run ever in postseason, reaching the NIT Final Four and finishing 22-10. The postseason and 20-win streaks continued in 1996-97.

THE POSSE

While at Tulane Clark developed what has become known as "The Posse." It started in the 1990-91 season, and when Tulane exploded on the national scene in 1992, it became one of the hottest items in college basketball.

To describe briefly, Clark would send in mass substitutions about five minutes into the game. "The Posse" would then increase the tempo of the game, usually to its advantage. Part of Clark's hometown of Washington, D.C., inspired the moniker. "I'm a Redskins fan, and their wide receivers are called 'The Posse,' " he said. "It (nicknaming the bench) just kind of happened one day."

Clark's Tulane teams have become known for their fast-paced, energetic, all-out style, particularly "The Posse," which helped Tulane force more than 20 turnovers a game for a span of four straight seasons.

Clark has also had the chance to achieve on another level as part of USA Basketball competitions. His South team won the gold medal at U.S. Olympic Festival-'94 in St. Louis. In the summer of 1995, he was an assistant coach for the USA team in the Junior World Championships in Athens, Greece.

Head Coach PERRY CLARK

LEARNING FROM THE BEST

Clark has had the chance to learn the coaching game from some of the best in the business having spent six years at Georgia Tech under Bobby Cremins, the last two as associate head coach.

Prior to his stint at Georgia Tech, Clark was an assistant to Dick Harter at Penn State for four years, and before that, he assisted legendary prep coach Morgan Wootten at DeMatha Catholic High School for three seasons.

Clark credits Cremins and Wootten for helping prepare him to deal with the potential distractions that can arise during a season.

"I think I've had the chance to be around great teachers like Bobby Cremins and Morgan Wootten, two people - especially Bobby - who stayed focused. Bobby is great at focusing on the task at hand.

"Morgan's organization helped me understand to organize and prioritize, and that's helped me avoid distractions. The biggest thing is not taking myself too seriously. The most important thing is the players and team. As long as that's the No. 1 priority, I don't get too wrapped up in the other stuff."

Clark has gotten wrapped up in is success, something that has followed him wherever he has been as a coach. His success began at DeMatha (107-8 record in Clark's three years) and continued to Penn State (three winning seasons, one National Invitational Tournament bid) and Georgia Tech (123-64 record, four NCAA Tournaments and one NIT berth).

SUCCESS BREEDS SUCCESS

Success has also followed Clark's players, particularly in the early stages of their careers. In his stints at Georgia Tech and Tulane, Clark went a phenomenal eight for nine, from 1983 to 1992, in helping produce the conference's top rookie, including a Metro record three in a row at Tulane.

At Tech, it was Mark Price (1983), Bruce Dalrymple (1984), Duane Ferrell (1985), Tom Hammonds (1986) and Dennis Scott (1988). At Tulane, Anthony Reed (1990), Kim Lewis (1991) and Pointer Williams (1992) claimed consecutive Metro Conference Freshman of the Year honors.

Clark also has coached 16 players who have gone to what he calls "the next level," the NBA. Additionally, 10 of those 16 have been selected in either the first or second round of the NBA draft. The list includes Anthony Reed and Jerald Honeycutt at Tulane, Frank Brickowski from Penn State, and Dalrymple, Ferrell, Hammonds, Yvon Joseph, Craig Neal, Brian Oliver, Price, John Salley, Scott and Brook Steppe from Tech.

Clark was born Dec. 4, 1951 in Washington, D.C. He attended DeMatha Catholic High School and went on to Gettysburg (PA) College, where he graduated in 1974 with a degree in communications. He started at guard each of his three seasons and had career averages of 11.5 points and 4.7 rebounds per game. Clark has two daughters, Nicole (22) and Pamela (18).

Miami set a school record for conference victories, ending the season 15-3 in the BIG EAST and went on to receive its second NCAA Tournament bid.

During his tenure the Hurricanes have developed into on of the nation's top defensive teams. Miami has ranked nationally in field goal percentage defense in four of the last five seasons including a No. 1 national ranking in 1997-98.

Known as a strong recruiter Freeman's 1996-recruiting class was ranked as high as seventh nationally while the 1999 class was rated as high as 26th nationally. The 2000 class, which included McDonald's All-American Darius Rice, ranked among the top-10 classes nationally.

A PROVEN VETERAN

Freeman brings a wealth of experience with him to Coral Gables. The Washington, D.C. native is beginning his 18th season in the collegiate coaching ranks. In addition to 14 seasons as an assistant, Freeman served as the head coach at Marshall University from 1990-94 where his teams recorded a 46-65 overall record. Freeman was Marshall's youngest head coach and the youngest head coach in the Southern Conference when he was appointed to the position at the age of 31.

He posted one winning season (16-11 in 1992-93) and one .500 season (14-14 in 1990-91) while guiding the Thundering Herd. In his first season at the helm, he led Marshall to an upset victory over 13th-ranked East Tennessee State and an emotional triumph over state rival West Virginia. Two years later he guided the Thundering Herd to a 16-11 record, the school's best finish in five years.

CLIMBING THE LADDER

Freeman began his coaching career as an assistant coach at Moberly Junior College in Missouri during the 1983-84 season. He followed that with stints at Hutchinson Junior College in Kansas (1984-85), Delaware State University (1985-88), Colgate University (1988-89) and one year as an assistant to Dana Altman at Marshall (1989-90) before replacing him as head coach when Altman left to take the head coaching job at Kansas State.

As a student-athlete, Freeman played one season at Southeast Community College in Nebraska, two seasons at Southern Methodist University in Dallas and concluded his career with one season at Western State College in Colorado. Prior to college, Freeman was a three-year letterwinner in basketball and played baseball at Anacostia High School in Washington, D.C.

He received his bachelor's degree in marketing and management from Western State College in 1982. Freeman and his wife, Angela, have a 12-year old son, Darrian, and an 10-year old daughter, Morgan.

During his tenure Kantrow guided Loyola to many milestones. His teams recorded four consecutive winning seasons including back-to-back 20-win seasons. Both accomplishments marked the first of their kind in Loyola history.

Kantrow's teams also set school records for wins in a season and best single season winning percentage. Three times his teams earned rankings in the Louisiana Sports Writers Association Top-10 poll.

A PROVEN TEACHER

During his time at Loyola, Kantrow proved to be a great developer of talent. In just four seasons, Kantrow sent four players to Division I programs including Billy Thomas (Kansas), Skylard Owens (Notre Dame), Nick Sinville (Minnesota) and Reggie Cooksey (Centenary).

Kantrow played high school basketball at Loyola College Prep where he set the school's career record for assists. He was born on September 24, 1969 and is married to the former Jennifer Waits. The two have a two-year old son Henry.

U miami™

The University

Founded in 1925 as a "Pan-American University," the University of Miami is the largest independent teaching and research university in the Southeast. The Coral Gables campus, located 10 miles from Miami in Miami-Dade County, is the site of most of the University's undergraduate and graduate programs. The University also operates a medical center in downtown Miami, a world-renowned marine and atmospheric science school on Virginia Key in Biscayne Bay, and a biomedical research and development center on its south campus.

Meanwhile, the University's proximity to Latin America and the Caribbean make the institution an ideal educational option for university-age students from those regions.

Enrollment: Total enrollment for the 2000-2001 academic year was 13,963 students. Of that number, 8,955 were undergraduate students, 3,246 were graduate students, and 1,762 were professional students. In addition, international freshman applications reached an all-time high of 1,110 that year. Of that total, 580 students or 53 percent were admitted. During the 1999-2000 academic year, the University awarded 1,740 bachelor degrees, 1,082 master degrees, 392 J.D.'s, 156 M.D.'s, 126 Ph.D.'s, and 50 other doctorates.

New Freshman Rankings: More than two-thirds of the new freshmen graduated in the top fifth of their high school class. Approximately half graduated in the top 10 percent of their high school class.

Racial/Ethnic Distribution: Approximately 29 percent of the total student population at the University are of Hispanic descent.

International Students: The University continues to attract able students from South Florida, as well as from other parts of the nation and around the world. It was one of the country's first universities to have an organized international recruitment program. The University of Miami sends representatives worldwide to seek qualified students. These students represent 110 foreign countries, the 50 states, three territories, and the District of Columbia.

Honors: Approximately 1,483 students participate in the Honors Program. The University has 54 academic honor societies, including Phi Beta Kappa.

Research

For fiscal year 2000, the University of Miami's research and sponsored program expenditures totaled $193.9 million, while grant and contract revenues totaled $265.4 million. According to the National Science Foundation, the University of Miami was ranked 44th of all universities and 21st among private universities in expenditures of federal funds for research and development.

The budget for 2000-2001 was $971 million, with $553.7 million projected for the medical campus. At the end of the fiscal year 2000 the endowment was $465.2 million. Philanthropic dollars to the University were also up at $100.6 million.

Development: During fiscal year 2000 contributions reached a record-breaking $100.6 million in gifts, ranking the University 21st among private research universities.

Women accounted for approximately 55 percent of the new freshman class that year, about 55 percent of all undergraduates, and 50 percent of the graduate and professional students.

Education outside the traditional classroom is an important part of student life at the University of Miami. The University has 40 programs offered in 21 countries on a full academic year, semester, or summer basis.

The University of Miami Campuses

Coral Gables Campus: The Coral Gables campus, with its two colleges and 10 schools, is located on a 260-acre tract in suburban Coral Gables, Florida.

Important Information From the University of Miami Compliance Office

Dear Prospective Student-Athlete:

As a prospective student-athlete, you may have the athletic potential to play college football at the Division I-A level. If so, you probably will be exposed to an enormous amount of recruitment activities from universities across the country. Throughout the recruitment process, coaches will reference various NCAA rules and regulations. The rules are designed for various reasons. The most important of which are to ease the pressures on prospective student-athletes and to level the playing field so that all universities operate within the same guidelines.

During the recruiting process you may have the following questions:

- When and how often can I visit an institutions campus?
- When, where and how often can a coach telephone me?
- How many times can a coach observe me in practice and/or competition?
- What academic criteria must I meet to be eligible to play Division I-A college football?

The answers to these questions and more can be obtained from the University of Miami compliance office or the NCAA by requesting the NCAA Guide for the College-Bound Student-Athlete. The guide may be provided to a prospective student-athlete at any time. The guide addresses issues related to Divisions I, II and III academic eligibility, financial aid, recruitment and more. To receive a copy of the guide call the NCAA Hotline at 1-800-638-3731, access the NCAA website at NCAA.org, or request it from the University of Miami coach who is recruiting you.

Please remember that since violations of NCAA rules during your recruitment could jeopardize your athletic eligibility, it is important for you and your parents to be informed and to ask questions throughout the recruiting process.

Best of luck and GO CANES!
Sincerely,

Penni Key
Associate Athletic Director for Compliance

A Division I institution may provide you with the following printed materials:

F.A.Q.'s

Who is a Prospective Student-Athlete (Prospect)?

You are a prospect if you have started classes for the ninth grade. Before the ninth grade, you may become a prospect if a university provides you (or your family or friends) any financial aid or other benefit that is not usually provided to prospective student-athletes.

How do I know if I'm being recruited?

A coach is recruiting you if they try to convince you directly, or through your family, to attend their school and participate in intercollegiate athletics. There are several ways to be recruited: (1) a coach may provide you with an official paid visit to view the campus, (2) a coach may arrange an in-person, off-campus encounter with you (or your family), or (3) a coach or staff member may call you (or your family) on more than one occasion for the purpose of recruitment.

Coaches and authorized institutional staff members are the only individuals who may recruit you. Representatives of athletic interests (boosters) may not call, write or make in-person contact with you for the purpose of recruiting you to a university and participating in athletics.

When can a coach contact me?

Off Campus Contact: A coach can arrange a face-to-face meeting, off the University's campus, with you beginning July 1st following the completion of your junior year in high school.

Telephone Calls: In the sport of football, a coach may call a prospect once during your junior year of high school after May 1st. After that one phone contact, a coach may not call you again until September 1st following the completion of your junior year. For all other sports, coaches may initiate telephone contact with prospects after July 1st following completion of your junior year. You may call a coach at your own expense at any time. However, unless it is after July 1st following your junior year, the coach may not return your call. Generally, a coach may only call you (or your parents or legal guardians) once a week, however unlimited phone calls are permitted under the following circumstances: (1) during the five days before your official visit, (2) on the initial date for signing the National Letter of Intent and the two days following, (3) on the day of a coach's off-campus contact with you, and (4) in the sport of football only, unlimited phone calls may be made during permissible off-campus contact periods and during the two days before and after the initial signing date for the National Letter of Intent.

Letters: Letters and recruiting information may be sent to you starting September 1st at the beginning of your junior year in high school.

What is a Contact?

A contact is any face-to-face encounter between a prospect or the prospect's parent(s) or legal guardian and an institutional staff member or athletic representative during which any dialogue occurs in excess of an exchange of a greeting. NOTE: At the Division I level, athletic representatives (boosters) may not contact you for the purpose of recruiting.

What can a school offer me to attend their University?

You (or your family) may not receive any benefit, inducement or arrangements such as cash, clothing, cars, gifts or loans to encourage you to sign a National Letter of Intent or to attend a NCAA school.

A University may offer you a one-year scholarship that covers room and board, tuition and fees, and required course-related books, or any part of these. The institution can recommend that this aid is renewed each year, as is the general practice at the University of Miami. In addition, they can offer you quality academic and medical support, as well as the opportunity to compete for one of the nation's top programs.

What can I do during this process?

Enjoy your high school years—work hard both in the classroom and in your sport. At the beginning of your junior year, sign up for the NCAA Clearinghouse. Your high school guidance office can provide you with the information.

Who can I contact with questions?

Call the NCAA at (317) 917-6222 with questions regarding eligibility requirements and recruiting.

The University has assembled one of the finest medical staffs in the country. Team physician and orthopaedic surgeon Dr. John Uribe heads a team which includes 15 medical doctors who serve as consultants, five full-time trainers and 10 student-trainers.

Uribe, regarded as one of the finest physicians in the southeast, is the assistant physician for the Miami Dolphins and the Florida Marlins. Strength Training with the Best

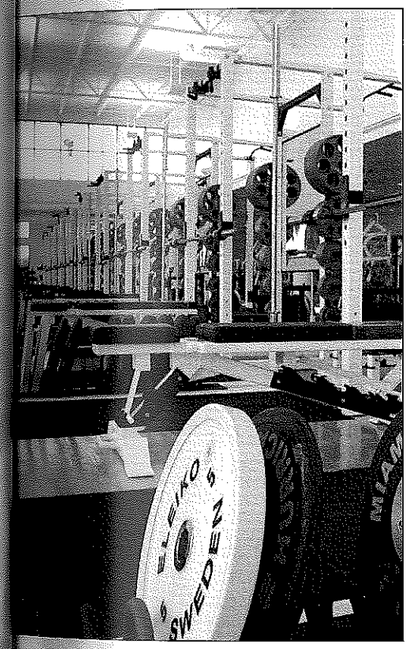
At the University of Miami winners are made on and off the court. Just as important as the final numbers that read on the scoreboard, are the results achieved in the Hurricanes' weight room. It is this firm belief that has made Miami one of the nation's up and coming programs.

The Hurricane Strength and Conditioning program operates under the guidance of head strength coach Andrew Swasey.

Swasey returned to Miami after spending the 1999 season as the defensive backs coach at the University of Houston. Before going to Houston, Swasey served as Assistant Strength and Conditioning coach for two years at Miami.

Swasey is noted for his enthusiastic approach to weight training and for developing year-round sports specific programs for each student-athlete. Together with assistant strength coaches Dave Richardson, Victor Ishmael, Mark Dziadek, and Lance Sewell, Hurricane student athletes are given the personalized instruction and tools to reach their full physical potential.



The goal of the Hurricane Strength and Conditioning program is to minimize risk and enhance all physical parameters, including strength, speed, power, flexibility and cardiovascular endurance.

To help achieve this goal the University recently completed the construction of a new $4.9 million weight room. The 12,000 square foot state-of-the-art facility houses 20 custom designed weight lifting stations, 17 cardio-vascular machines, a stetching area, a dumbbell and rehab area, and nearly 44,000 pounds of weights.

UM student-athletes also have the use of the state-of-the-art track at the Cobb Stadium for Soccer, Track & Field. Known as one of the nation's top training tracks, Hurricane student-athletes have the opportunity to work on all facets of speed training.

Working directly with the Hurricane men's basketball program is assistant strength coach Dave Richardson. Richardson comes to Miami after serving six seasons as the head strength and conditioning coach at the University of Louisiana at Monroe. Prior to his stint at Louisiana-Monroe, Richardson served five years as head strength and conditioning coach at Nichols State University. Two of his seasons at Nichols State he served as the head track and field coach. The Monroe native also worked as the strength and conditioning coach for Central America's Davis Cup tennis team in 1991.

Richardson, who earned a Bachelor's degree in Health and Human Performance in 1989 and a Master's degree in Exercise Science in 1990 from Louisiana-Monroe, has a strong background in power lifting. In 1984 he won the Alaska powerlifting state championship, and was crowned the Louisiana state powerlifting champion in 1986 and 1987. In 1985 and 1986 he was the ArkLaMiss champion and was listed among the Powerlifting USA Top 100. In addition, Richardson served five years in the Army and made the All-Army powerlifting team.

Committed to the health and development of his players, Perry Clark is one of the most progressive basketball coaches in the country with regards to strength and conditioning. It his his belief that strength and conditioning is every bit as important as scrimmaging and watching film. Along with Richardson, Clark will evaluate the strength and conditioning program by how the Hurricanes are doing in March because just as basketball skills must improve as the BIG EAST and NCAA Tournaments come around, so must the conditioning of their players.

Hurricane Warnings

The Hurricanes

It began in controversy. Some reports say the 1927 football team held a team meeting to select Hurricanes, hoping they would sweep away opponents just as the devastating storm did on September 16, 1926. Another version holds that Miami News columnist Jack Bell asked end Porter Norris of the 1926 team what the team should be called. Told that the local dignitaries and University officials wanted to name the team for a local flora or fauna, Norris said the players wouldn't stand for it and suggested "Hurricanes" since the opening game had been postponed by such a storm. From time to time, opposition has arisen to the name that would "reinforce Miami's negative reputation as a weather-beaten community living constantly under the threat of destruction." But as one UM official rationalized in the 60's, "Does anyone think Chicago is overrun by bears just because the town has a football team by that name?"

Orange, Green & White

UM's school colors were selected in 1926. The colors of the Florida orange tree represent UM. Orange symbolizes the fruit of the tree, green represents the leaves and white, the blossoms.

The U

In 1973, UM's Athletic Federation, the fund raising arm of the athletic department at the time, commissioned a local public relations expert to develop a distinctive logo. The University had gone several years with a variety of helmet and uniform changes and the Federation noted that a number of major colleges have the initials UM. Miami designer Bill Bodenhamer suggested the "U" idea, which lent itself to distinctive logos for each sport as well as slogans like "U gotta believe" and "U is great."

Sebastian the Ibis

Folklore maintains that the Ibis, a symbol of knowledge found in the Everglades and Egypt, is the last sign of wildlife to take shelter before a hurricane and the first to reappear after the storm. The local marsh bird was considered UM's first unofficial mascot when the school yearbook adopted the name "Ibis" in 1926. Its popularity grew among the students during the 50's. In 1957 San Sebastian Hall, a residence hall on campus, sponsored an Ibis entry in the homecoming celebration. The next year, student John Stormont performed at games in an Ibis costume that was glued, sewn and pinned together and was the forerunner of today's bird. Through the years, the Ibis has become one of the most recognizable college mascots in the United States.

Cheerleaders

The University of Miami cheerleaders are the catalyst for school spirit at the University. Along with cheering at both home and away athletic contests, the squad is a strong public relations arm for the University. Active in community service and charitable projects, the cheerleaders are a great source of pride for the University and the City of Miami. Under the direction of coach Dan Reynolds, captain Beverly Perez and Lia Vakoutis, the co-ed cheerleaders are consistently rated among the nation's top squads. The Hurricanes' all-girls cheerleading squad, which cheers at football and women's basketball games, is coached by Heather Almaguer and Cristina Ball. The team is captained by Heather Miller and Claudia de la Noval.

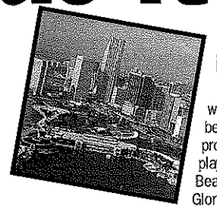
Sunsations

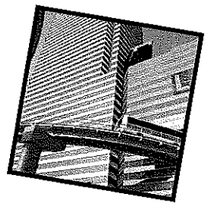
Now in their 15th year of entertaining fans, the University of Miami Sunsations dance team is a squad of enthusiastic and talented performers. Their reputation for excellence has grown both locally and nationally. The Sunsations, coached by former member Janine Thompson, and captained by Janell Johnson, perform at many charitable and community service events in addition to Hurricane football and basketball games.

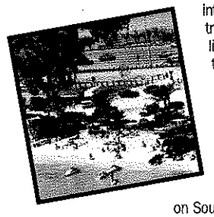
U HURRICANES

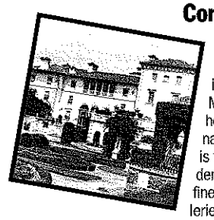
Miami has it All

Shorts in the wintertime? You bet! Located in the subtropics, Miami boasts an average daily temperature of 84 degrees. With three hundred sunshine filled days a year, there is never a shortage of time to absorb this beautiful city's natural treasures. Eighty-four miles of Atlantic coastline, wonderfully pristine beaches and more than 670 parks are here to enjoy almost every day of the year. There's no need for winter coats here!









Perfect Weather for Sports

South Florida's mild climate year- round makes it possible to enjoy outdoor recreational activities every month, and what a choice there is. Everything from golfing on some of the PGA's finest courses to scuba diving on some of the most beautiful reefs in the Atlantic is available in South Florida.

South Florida is one of only eight metropolitan areas in the U.S. with a pro franchise in each of the four major sports. The NFL's Miami Dolphins thrill fans every season at Pro Player Stadium. This sports complex hosted the 1995 and 1999 Super Bowls and is also home to Major League Baseball's, Florida Marlins. For basketball fans, downtown Miami is the place to be with the Hurricanes at the Miami Arena and the National Basketball Association's Miami Heat in the American Airlines Arena on Biscayne Bay. The National Hockey League's Florida Panthers play up the road in Broward County in the National Car Rental. Another popular sporting event is the Miami Grand Prix in which many racing enthusiasts from all over the country flock to Miami every year to watch.

Cultural Events All Year

Miami's tranquility is most visible at its frequent outdoor celebrations and festivals.

Not a month passes that the people of this wonderful city are not celebrating their cultural and ethnic diversity. Whether it's a reggae fest, Little Havana's Calle Ocho, the Sunstreet Festival or a film and book festival, it all happens here.

Shopping Extravaganza

Now if shopping is your thing, bring your wallet and a good pair of walking shoes because the weather is the only thing better than the shopping in Miami.

There are neighborhood shopping areas stretched along causeways, tucked around unexpected corners and plunked on city blocks just a few hundred feet shy of major thoroughfares. It's a shopper's Eden.

Coconut Grove has Fun Nearby

Just a short ten minute drive from the University campus, lies one of Miami's original pioneer settlements, Coconut Grove, which has evolved from a beatnik community into an upscale night life and shopping destination. Transplanted intellectuals, jet setters, artists, craftsmen and professionals converge to create an electric atmosphere that is the essence of the Grove. Located in the center of this carefree neighborhood is Coco Walk, the Grove's open-air retail and entertainment complex with shops, outdoor cafes, trendy nightclubs and a multi-screen theater, all in a European village setting.

South Beach is the New Riviera

Travel a few more minutes north and you hit world famous Miami Beach and your chance to be discovered. Fashion models, writers, movie producers and famous entertainers are the new players in Miami Beach's renaissance. Miami Beach is a community on the move with stars like Gloria Estefan, and many more calling it home.

Renovated Art Deco buildings and hotels host international restaurants, open-air cafes and trendy nightclubs. Throughout this Atlantic coastline community, the restaurants feature a traditional South Florida favorite, stone crabs.

In the past few years, images of "SoBe"(the SoHo of the south as South Beach is often called) have filled fashion magazines, films, and television shows from all over the world. International crews can be found filming throughout Greater Miami from dawn until dusk. You just never know who you'll run into on South Beach.

Coral Gables is the "City Beautiful"

The University of Miami campus is located in beautiful Coral Gables. Founded by George Merrick over 75 years ago, this "City Beautiful" hosts hemispheric headquarters for many multinational corporations. The city's central boulevard is the famed Miracle Mile. It is here where residents and students enjoy some of the region's finest boutiques, gourmet restaurants and art galleries. In addition to its urban amenities, Coral Gables is distinguished by its natural terrain. Gracing 83 acres of the area's prime land is Fairchild Tropic Gardens, one of the largest tropical gardens in the continental United States. To the north lies the Venetian Pool. Often called the world's most beautiful swimming lagoon, it is surrounded by caves, cascading waterfalls and natural arched bridges.

Key Biscayne Offers Natural Fun

Once a coconut plantation, Key Biscayne maintains a natural beauty rare for an area in such close proximity to an urban center. The allure of this subtropical island lies in its beaches, distinctive accommodations and recreational diversions. The sweeping curve of Rickenbacker Causeway, the Key's link to the mainland, cradles Hobie Beach, a popular public playground for windsurfers.

Over Bear Cut Bridge lies Key Biscayne itself, a haven for sports enthusiasts and sun worshippers. Three miles of sandy beaches, one of the country's finest public 18-hole golf courses and courts holding world-class tennis tournaments like the Ericsson, symbols of the island's first-class resort status, are located in the 500-acre Crandon Park area.

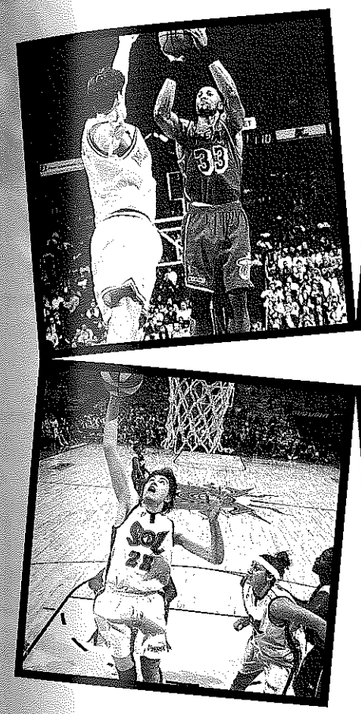
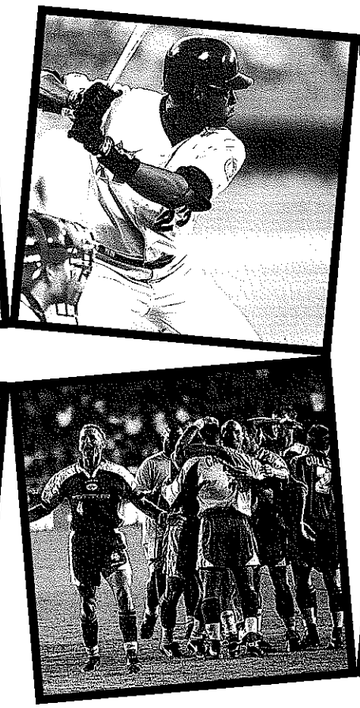
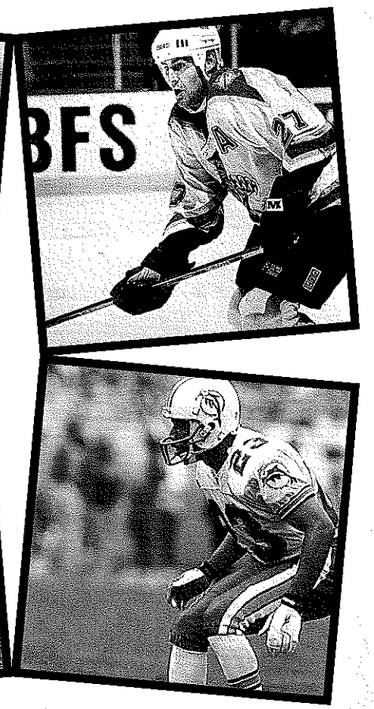
South Florida is Sports Crazy







Miami may be best known for its lovely climate and beautiful beaches, but in recent years the city has taken its place as one of the world's greatest sports destinations. No matter what the sport, no matter what the time of year, there is never a dull moment. Miami has something for everyone. It is truly a sports fan's paradise.

Hurricanes Began the Trend

Leading the charge is the University of Miami which has set a high standard of excellence beginning with its inaugural football season in 1926. Since 1937 UM has played its home football games at the world famous Orange Bowl. This historic site has played host to 61 New Year's Day Bowl games and countless national championship games, including three of the University of Miami's four titles in 1983, 1987, and 1991. In 1996 the Orange Bowl added the Olympics to its impressive resume as it was one of the soccer venues for the Centennial Olympic Games.

College athletics have set the standard and professional sports are keeping up the tradition. Miami is one of only eight U.S. cities that can boast a professional franchise from each of the four major sports leagues.

A Mecca for Pro Sports

The NFL Miami Dolphins thrill fans every season at Pro Player Stadium. This sports complex has played host to two Super Bowls. Pro Player Stadium is also the home of the 1997 World Series Champion Florida Marlins.

The NBA Miami Heat, led by head coach Pat Riley and all-star center Alonzo Mourning offer basketball fans fast-paced action during the winter at the American Airlines Arena. The Heat and Hurricanes spend most of the summer working out together.

American Airlines Arena is also the home of the new WNBA franchise, the Miami Sol.

The NHL Florida Panthers, who advanced to the Stanley Cup finals in just their third year of existence moved into the National Car Rental Center to start the 1998-99 season.

In March of 1994 the University of Miami hosted the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament East Regional at the Miami Arena. Other events such as professional wrestling and professional world figure skating are often scheduled there.

International Sporting Events

Downtown Miami isn't the only place to catch great sports action. Miami's beaches host an impressive array of sports venues. The Homestead Sports Complex is the host site of the national Olympic baseball trials and on Key Biscayne the International Tennis Center is home to the Ericsson Championships. Greater Miami and the beaches are also the sight of the Doral Open and the Royal Caribbean Classic, two of professional golf's top tournaments, as well as the Miami Grand Prix, one of the premier events on the International Motor Sports Association's circuit.

Greater Miami and the beaches have become a hot bed of sports. Fast-paced Big League action, thrilling championship tournaments and motor sports all combined with spectacular year-round weather make Miami a world-class sports mecca. Even the most demanding sports enthusiasts will find Miami a perfect place.

On April 4, 2001 the University of Miami ushered in a new era, when it broke ground on the Ryder Center, the future on-campus home of men's and women's basketball and the University's first large-capacity venue for other educational, cultural and community events.

The $48 million facility, totally funded through private donations, is scheduled for completion for the 2002-03 season. With seating for 7,000, the Ryder Center will provide the University and the Coral Gables community with a facility designed for a wide array of uses.

The three-story, 200,000 square foot facility will include 25 executive suites, carpeted locker rooms, men's and women's basketball player lounge areas, training room facilities, weight room, convention space and banquet facilities.

The Ryder Center

The road to the Ryder Center began on March 6, 1995 when it was announced the Ryder System Inc. had committed approximately $9 million to the development of the multipurpose facility.

The commitment from Ryder System, Inc. was one of the top 10 gifts in the history of the University and enabled Miami to move forward and begin planning for additional fundraising, and design and construction for the facility.

On August 5, 1998 the University of Miami received another generous gift as Dr. Edward and Joanne Dauer, Mrs. Reva Dauer and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Dauer donated $2 million towards the construction of the Ryder Center.

Two weeks later the University of Miami entered into a 10-year partnership with First Union Corp. in which the corporation became the official bank sponsor of the University of Miami Athletic Department. The partnership included a $1.2 million commitment toward the construction of the University's on-campus facility.

In September of 1999, the Ryder Center came one step closer to fruition as the University began demolition of the student apartments located on the corner of Dickinson Drive (West) and Walsh Avenue.

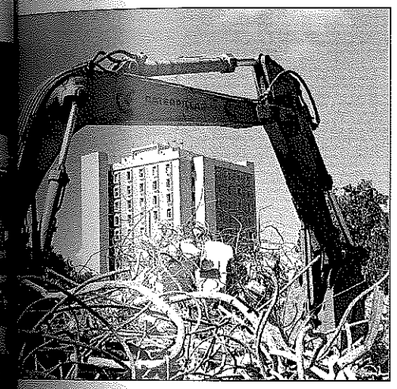
The Hurricanes are currently one of the few major Division I athletic programs in the nation that plays both basketball and football games off campus. The Ryder Center is being built on the commercial side of campus, convenient to the Metro Rail, UM's new parking garage, student residences and current athletic facilities.

Many University events are currently held outdoors or off campus. The Ryder Center will provide the University of Miami and the South Florida Community with new opportunities to present major indoor events while upgrading the current facilities to improve the quality of education for students.

Heading up the major design effort are two outstanding national firms with Ellerbe Becket, Inc. of Kansas City, MO handling design, and Spillis Candela & Partners, Inc. of Coral Gables handling architecture. The Ryder Center design was completed in January 2000.

When completed, The Ryder Center will become the focal point of the UM athletic department and the surrounding community providing an abundance of opportunities, ranging from academic and athletic to campus and community.

The list of possible events includes: NCAA Division I men's and women's basketball games, area high school basketball championships, commencement, orientation, convocation, lectures, conferences, theatrical productions, student government activities, alumni social events, class reunions, employment fairs and career days, cultural events and town meetings.



In September 1999, the University of Miami began demolition of the old student apartments on the corner of Walsh Avenue and Dickinson Drive, the future site of the Ryder Center.

Miami Arena

For the 13th consecutive year the Miami Hurricanes will call the Miami Arena home. This beautiful $56 million facility, which was the site of the 1994 NCAA Tournament East Regional, contains 15,508 fully upholstered seats for college basketball and 16 luxury boxes. The Miami Arena hosts approximately 150 events annually and has welcomed more than 10 million spectators since opening in 1988.

Hurricanes Enjoy Home Advantage

During their previous twelve seasons in the Miami Arena, the Hurricanes have compiled a 115-62 record. Included among the 115 wins are victories over defending national champion and No. 16-ranked Kansas in January of 1989, an 11-point victory over 10th-ranked Georgetown in January of 1993, a win over 13th-ranked Georgetown in February of 1995, a victory over 11th-ranked Syracuse, the eventual NCAA Tournament runner-up, in January of 1996 and a 76-67 win over 8th-ranked Connecticut in 1998. The resounding victory over the Huskies in 1998 marked the highest-ranked opponent the 'Canes have defeated at the Miami Arena since the rebirth of the program.

The Hurricanes have defeated at least one ranked team at the Miami Arena in each of the last six seasons.

Miami's 39-14 record in the Arena against BIG EAST foes since 1994 ranks third in the conference behind Connecticut and Villanova.

The Miami Arena is truly a community center which genuinely reflects the cultural, economic and civic diversity of South Florida. In addition to collegiate sports, the Arena frequently hosts major concerts and family shows from Gloria Estefan to Disney On Ice.

The BIG EAST Conference

Michael Tranghese
Commissioner

Winning on the athletic fields, in the arenas and in the classroom, The BIG EAST Conference continues its mission to be successful at the highest levels.

In 2000-01, the league again was well represented on the national scene by its student-athletes for accomplishments in academics and in athletic competition.

Two national championships were added to the BIG EAST's list last year. The Connecticut men's soccer team won the 2000 College Cup to give the league its second men's soccer title in the last five years. In women's basketball, the BIG EAST became the first conference to have two different teams win the national crown in back-to-back seasons when Notre Dame hoisted the trophy at the 2001 Final Four. Connecticut had won in 2000.

Additionally, three student-athletes won individual titles in NCAA competition. Providence's Keith Kelly became the league's first NCAA men's cross country champion. Boston College runner Shannon Smith took the 3,000-meter title at the 2001 NCAA Indoor Track & Field Championship and Notre Dame's Ryan Shay was the 10,000-meter champion at the outdoor meet.

The BIG EAST has always been able to boast that some of its best students are also some of its best athletes. Ruth Riley, the 2000-01 BIG EAST Female Scholar-Athlete of the Year, was named the women's basketball national player of the year. She was also honored as the Verizon/CoSIDA Academic All-American Team Member of the Year. Boston College soccer player Chris Hamblin, the 2000-01 BIG EAST Male Scholar-Athlete of the Year, also earned first team All-America honors. Last year, 18 student-athletes earned academic All-America honors, including eight who were awarded first team accolades.

For three of the last seven years a BIG EAST student-athlete has won the Honda-Broderick Cup as Collegiate Woman of the Year. Notre Dame soccer player Cindy Daws won in 1997-98. She followed Connecticut basketball players Rebecca Lobo (1994-95) and Jennifer Rizzotti (1995-96).

BIG EAST student-athletes have continued their success after leaving the classrooms and playing fields. Former Connecticut women's basketball standout Dr. Leigh Curl was inducted into the Verizon Academic All-America Hall of Fame in 1999. Former Georgetown men's basketball star Dikembe Mutumbo was named a winner of the President's Service Award, the highest honor in the U.S. for volunteer service.

Whether it's the student-athletes or the league as an entity, moving forward successfully and exploring new horizons have been the norm rather than the exception for the conference that opened its doors in 1979.

The BIG EAST plays its annual conference tournament at New York City's Madison Square Garden, "The World's Most Famous Arena."

The conference welcomed Virginia Tech as its 14th full member in 2000-01. In the spring of 2001, the BIG EAST added women's lacrosse to its growing list of sports.

When the 1990s began, The BIG EAST Conference had just completed its eighth season with nine members. The league was arguably as healthy as a conference could be. The BIG EAST was a headline-grabber immediately, especially in men's basketball, its signature sport. The BIG EAST Football Conference did not exist.

The >90s was a decade of enormous change in college athletics with conferences adding new members and new leagues beginning. The BIG EAST was no different than most groups. The league has had four separate expansions in the past 10 years. The BIG EAST Football Conference, with eight members, became a major player in college football immediately after its inception in 1991.

The BIG EAST became a reality on May 31, 1979, following a meeting of athletic directors from Providence College, St. John's, Georgetown and Syracuse Universities. Seton Hall, Connecticut and Boston College completed the original seven-school alliance.

After one season, Villanova was added and began play in 1980-81. Two seasons later, Pittsburgh joined the group and started competition in 1982-83.

Miami was admitted in 1990 and began BIG EAST competition in 1991-92. Rutgers, West Virginia and Notre Dame joined in 1994 in two separate expansions and began play in 1995-96.

While the membership has increased, the focus of the BIG EAST remains unchanged. It is a group that reflects a tradition of broad-based programs, led by administrators and coaches who place a constant emphasis on academic integrity. The BIG EAST Conference has enjoyed a leadership role nationally. Its student-athletes own significantly high graduation rates and their record of scholastic achievement notably reflect a balance between intercollegiate athletics and academics.

Any successful consortium enjoys outstanding leadership. Michael Tranghese, the league's first full-time employee, and for 11 years the associate of Dave Gavitt, took over the Commissioner's reins in June, 1990. The expansion in membership is only a portion of Tranghese's achievements. In his first year at the helm, he administered the formation of The BIG EAST Football Conference in addition to coordinating the four expansions.

BIG EAST sports attract the interest of followers in the nation's largest media markets including New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, Washington, D.C., Miami, Pittsburgh and Hartford. The league has long been considered a leader in innovative concepts in promotion and publicity, particularly regarding television. Those efforts have resulted in unparalleled visibility for BIG EAST student-athletes. Exclusive long-range television contracts with CBS, ESPN, Inc. and ABC provide BIG EAST basketball and football with more television exposure.

While BIG EAST basketball games are regular sellouts at campus and major public arenas, including the annual BIG EAST Championship in Madison Square Garden, attendance figures also are significant at BIG EAST soccer, women's basketball and baseball games.

More than 450 BIG EAST athletes have earned All-America recognition and dozens have won individual NCAA national championships. The BIG EAST has been well-represented in U.S. or foreign national and Olympic teams, with several athletes earning gold medals in the summer Olympiads in Sydney in 2000, Atlanta in 1996, Barcelona in 1992, Seoul in 1988 and Los Angeles in 1984.

The BIG EAST has its headquarters in Providence where the conference administers to more than 5,000 athletes in 21 sports.

The BIG EAST Conference

BIG EAST Television—Television Has The BIG EAST Covered

The BIG EAST Conference has enjoyed extensive exposure since the league's inaugural season in 1979-80. In 2001-02, the exposure will include appearances on CBS, ESPN, ESPN2, ABC, ESPN Regional, Fox Sports Net and Turner Sports.

Fourteen regular season games will be shown on national networks. At least 46 games will be telecast on national cable. The BIG EAST maintains a weekend syndicated Game of the Week package that will be carried in the BIG EAST television markets and beyond. Almost all other league games and numerous non-league contests will be televised to local markets.

CBS, a contracted television partner with the BIG EAST since 1985, will carry four league games and eight intersectional contests.

ESPN will telecast at least 27 regular season games, including 14 BIG EAST matchups. The BIG EAST on Big Monday has been a college basketball tradition since ESPN was launched in 1980. ESPN2 will show 10 league games and three non-conference matchups, mostly on Tuesdays. Additional appearances by conference teams in regular season tournaments are possible. For the seventh straight year, the entire BIG EAST Championship will be on ESPN (nine games) and ESPN2 (two games).

ABC Sports will televise two league games. Fox Sports Net will carry five contests involving BIG EAST teams against non-league opponents. Turner Sports is carrying one intersectional game.

In 1994, the BIG EAST assigned its non-network television rights to ESPN, Inc. ESPN Regional again will produce a BIG EAST Game of the Week on Saturdays at noon for stations throughout BIG EAST markets. It will also produce other games for local markets.

The BIG EAST has long been at the forefront of positioning itself for extensive television exposure. In 1985, it formed the BIG EAST Television Network which became a benchmark for regional television networks. It was the largest regional college basketball network in the country.

The BIG EAST and ESPN Regional Television

When BIG EAST teams are not on national television, they can be found on stations and cable outlets in each school's region via ESPN Regional Television. A subsidiary of ESPN, Inc., ERT produces and distributes a BIG EAST Game of the Week on Saturday afternoons throughout BIG EAST markets.

The Game of the Week will reach almost 30 percent of the nation's homes and have a total household reach of over 27 million.

BIG EAST institutions are located in seven of the top 20 markets in the United States.

In addition to the Game of the Week, ERT will produce other conference and non-conference games for local markets. Almost every conference game will be televised.

Most games offered by ESPN Regional Television will also be available nationally as part of ESPN Fullcourt, the pay subscription college basketball outer-market service.

BIG EAST play-by-play talent will include Dave Sims, Don Criqui, John Sanders, Bob Picozzi and Mike Crispino. Analysts will include Jim Spanarkel, Bob Wenzel, Ron Perry, Doris Burke and Mark Plansky.

ESPN Regional BIG EAST Weekend Syndication (BES)

The BIG EAST and ESPN Regional Television will present a weekend afternoon game of the week which will be shown throughout BIG EAST markets and beyond for a sixth straight season. On some weekends, more than one game will be televised.

The BIG EAST Game of the Week will reach over 27 million households or 30 percent of the nation. That is the largest reach of any conference syndicated package.

2000-01 SEASON REVIEW

Head coach Perry Clark entered his first season at the University of Miami with more questions than answers. He inherited a team with high expectations but not a lot of experience. Miami was coming off a 23-11 season and the first NCAA Tournament Sweet Sixteen appearance in school history.

The only problem was four starters were missing from that team, including four its top five scorers and three of its top five rebounders. The team was also very young with just one senior (Dwayne Wimbley) on the roster.

The Hurricanes struggled early, but by the end of the regular season Coach Clark had molded the young and talented squad into one of the most dangerous teams in the BIG EAST.

UM opened the season at Florida Atlantic with an impressive 76-59 win. The game was a coming out of sorts for 6-10 freshman forward Darius Rice. Rice, a McDonald's All-American, came to Miami as one of the most highly sought after recruits in the nation. He lived up to the billing pouring in 26 points on 5-of-9 shooting from three-point range. The 26 points were the most ever by a UM freshman in a season opener.

Rice went on to earn BIG EAST All-Rookie team honors after leading UM in scoring (14.1 ppg) and ranking third in rebounding (4.9 rpg). Rice established two Miami single-game freshman records during the season including a 35-point explosion at home against Central Florida, and a seven three-point field goal performance on the road versus Virginia Tech.

Miami concluded its non-conference schedule with an 8-3 record and felt good heading into the conference season. But the Hurricanes soon learned life in the BIG EAST is not easy. UM opened the BIG EAST schedule 0-4 including two last minute defeats to eventual BIG EAST Champion Boston College.

Following the loss at Boston College, UM began to turn the corner behind the play of another UM freshman, Marcus Barnes. The 6-2 guard poured in 20 points in Miami's 78-64 upset win over Providence on the road, and then connected on six three-pointers en route to 24 points to lead Miami to a 77-74 win over 15th-ranked Connecticut at Miami Arena. The win marked the seventh consecutive season in which Miami had defeated a ranked opponent at Miami Arena.

The Hurricanes went on to knock off two other ranked teams during the remainder of the season including a 72-66 win over No. 22 Seton Hall in Miami and a 68-57 win on the road over No. 10 Syracuse.

With two games to go in the regular season the Hurricanes stood at 14-11 and wondered if their streak of four consecutive postseason appearances was in jeopardy. Junior guard John Salmons then took the team on his shoulders and led UM to impressive wins over West Virginia and Villanova.

In Miami's win over the Mountaineers, Salmons poured in a career-high 30 points to go with 11 rebounds. Three days later against the Wildcats he nearly recorded the first triple-double in Miami history with 23 points, nine rebounds and eight assists.

Following the season Salmons earned third-team All-BIG EAST honors and was the only BIG EAST player to rank among the league leaders (conference games only) in scoring (17th - 14.0 ppg), rebounding (17th - 6.3 rpg), assists (9th - 4.38 apg), steals (9th - 1.94 spg), free throw percentage (9th - .824) and assist-to-turnover ratio (11th - 1.43 ratio).

Despite the 0-4 start in BIG EAST play, Miami ended the regular season winning eight of its last 12 to finish 16-11 overall and 8-8 in the BIG EAST East Division.

Miami entered the BIG EAST Tournament on the NCAA Tournament bubble and looked to play its way into the "Big Dance." But it was not to be as UM fell to Pittsburgh, 78-69, in the opening round.

UM did continue its streak of consecutive postseason appearances to five when it was extended an invitation to the National Invitation Tournament. A heartbreaking 60-58 loss at Auburn would end Miami's season.

The 2000-01 team established school single-season records for three-point baskets (206) and three-point field goal attempts (595), and led the BIG EAST conference in free throw percentage (.726).

December 9, 2000

Miami Arena, Miami, FL

Freshman Forward Darius Rice set a Miami freshman record with 35 points to lead the Hurricanes to an 83-72 win over the University of Central Florida at the Miami Arena in Miami, FL.

Rice finished the contest 11-19 from the field, including 6 of 9 from three-point range, and 7 of 8 from the free throw line. His six three-point field goals tied the UM single-game freshman record.

Miami outrebounded Central Florida 41-31 including an 18-9 advantage on the offensive glass.

The Hurricanes shot 17-32 (.531) from the field in the first half in openning a 40-34 lead at the break.

UCF, which trailed by as many as 11 early in the second half, battled back and cut the lead to three (60-57) following a three-point basket by Jason Thornton with 7:35 remaining. But that would be as close as the Golden Knights would get as Rice hit back-to-back three-pointers to halt the UCF run.

Miami answered with an 18-0 run, led by seven points from Salmons, to pull within one, 53-52, with 8:48 to play. The run, which was a season-high for the Hurricanes, held the Eagles scoreless for 6:42.

University of Miami Hurricanes

It lay silent for 14 years. Collecting dust and going unnoticed, the Miami basketball program was the Rip VanWinkle of college basketball from 1971 to 1985. Now, Hurricane Basketball is back. In a big way.

Since 1985 the Miami program has undergone such dramatic and frequent changes, it seemed that the Hurricanes were continually entering "a new era." First came the "Era of Miami Basketball" itself. Then came the "Bill Foster Era," followed by the "Tito Horford Era," "The Leonard Hamilton Era," "The BIG EAST Era," and now the "Perry Clark Era."

With the entry into the BIG EAST Conference in 1991, the University of Miami not only shed its previous life-long status as an independent, it entered the ranks of the most competitive and successful basketball conference in the nation.

The road to conference affiliation in the BIG EAST was not an easy one for those who thirsted for basketball in this continually prospering section of the country. Moreover, the previous path traveled by Miami basketball players, coaches and fans was dotted by flashes of brilliance, color and sometimes disappointment.

Here is a capsule summary of the 75 years of Miami basketball that have intermittently played a part in the history of the athletic program at the University and its neighboring community.

The 1920s: Miami's First Time

- The Hurricanes fielded a freshman team in 1926-27, finishing 7-1 under Head Coach Art Webb.
- In 1927-28, the first official varsity basketball team at the University of Miami posted an 8-4 mark, knocking off Rollins, 51-15, in the opener.

The 1930s: A Missing Link

- Miami records list no official results from 1932 through 1938. During that period of time, representatives from the school played local AAU and church sponsored teams under Coach Tom McCann.
- The Hurricanes returned to intercollegiate competition in the 1938-39 season, posting a 4-6 record under Head Coach Hart Morris.

The 1940s: World War II Stops Play

- Like many other institutions across the nation, Miami dropped intercollegiate basketball during the war years of 1942-1945.

Coach Hart Morris

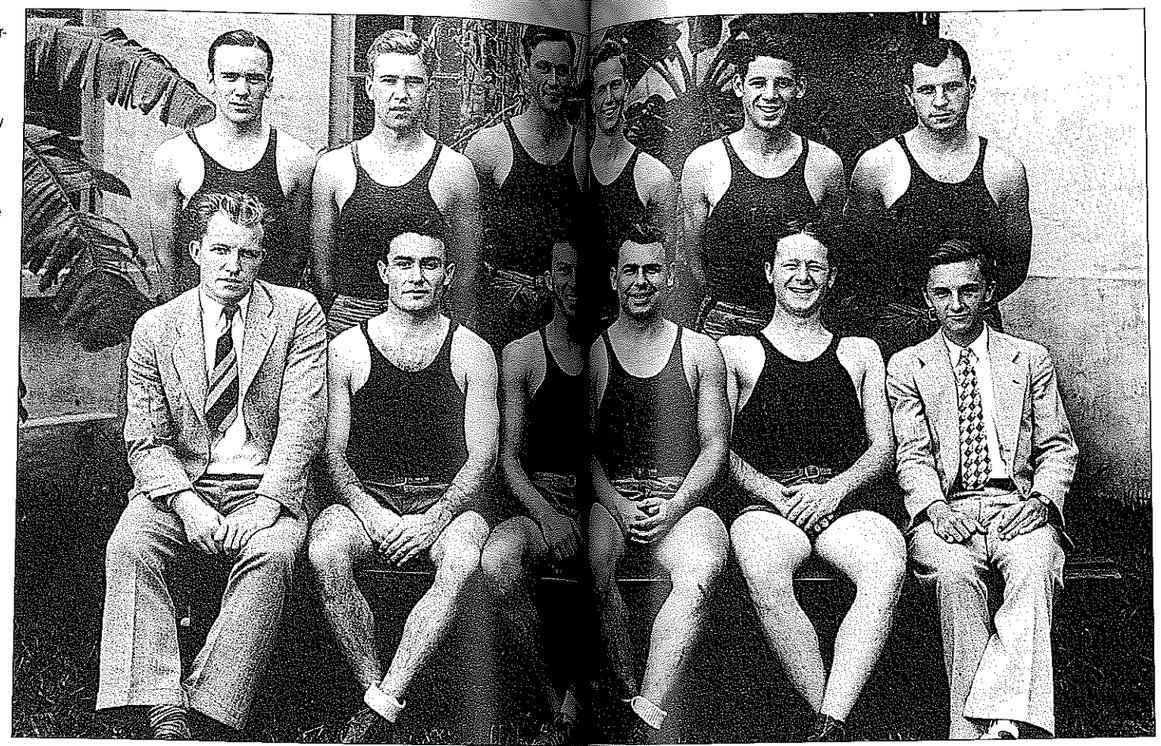
- Morris returned as head coach along with the program in 1946 and was the UM mentor until 1952 when Dave Wike took over for a two-year stint as the UM coach.

The 1950s: UM's Glory Years

- In 1954, the University named Bruce Hale as its head basketball coach. The retired Air Force captain and former professional basketball star held the UM head coaching post for 13 seasons, leading the Hurricane program through its glory years of intercollegiate basketball. Before the end of Hale's tenure in 1967, the Hurricanes won 220 games and lost 112 for a .663 winning percentage. Hale's first Miami team turned in a 9-11 record, but there were no other losing campaigns in the next 12 years. The streak of non-losing seasons extended through the 1968-69 season – marking 14 consecutive campaigns of .500 basketball or better for UM.
- Hale's 1959-60 club was the first UM men's basketball team to advance to the NCAA Tournament and finish the season ranked in the Associated Press Top 10. That 1959-60 edition ran its record to 23-3 before bowing to Western Kentucky, 107-84, in the first round of the tournament.
- During that historic '59-60 NCAA Tournament year, junior guard Dick Hickox became the first UM basketball player to earn All-America recognition. Hickox averaged 22.1 points per game during that season en route to becoming a second-team AP and UPI All-American.

The 1960s: Rick Barry's All-American Years

- The Dick Hickox-led Hurricanes of 1960-61 returned to post-season play — falling in the first round of the NIT to St. Louis, 58-56. The 1960-61 squad compiled a 20-7 record.
- In 1962-63, Miami advanced to the second round of the NIT before falling to Providence, 106-96. An opening round NIT victory over St. Francis (NY), 71-70, marks the only Miami victory to date in post-season play.



The 1928-29 Miami Hurricanes recorded a 13-6 overall record.

- From 1962 through 1965, Miami recorded three consecutive 20-win seasons, rolling up a composite record of 65-16. The star of these Hurricane glory teams was a brilliant scorer named Rick Barry.
- In 1964-65, Barry became the Hurricanes' only consensus All-America selection. The 6-7, 200-pound native of Roselle Park, New Jersey led the nation in scoring with a 37.4 average in his senior season. He went on to become the only player in basketball history to win single-season scoring titles in the NCAA, ABA and NBA. He was inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, MA, in 1986.
- The 1964-65 Miami squad, led by Barry's scoring brilliance, established a new NCAA scoring record by averaging 98.4 points per game. The 'Canes, however, were not allowed to participate in the NCAA Tournament that year — after posting a 22-4 record — because of recruiting violations.
- Bruce Hale resigned after 1966-67 and assistant Ron Godfrey assumed the head coaching responsibilities.

The 1970s: First Era Ends

- Don Curnutt closed out his Miami basketball career in 1970 as the Hurricanes' third and last player to receive All-America recognition.
- February 27, 1971 — The last victory by a University of Miami men's basketball team for 14 years came in the second to the last game of the season, a 100-94 triumph over Florida State at home in the Dinner Key Auditorium. The 'Canes shot a season-high 62.5 percent from the floor as all five Miami starters scored in double figures.

University of Miami Hurricanes

"This is an exciting day for the University and for the athletic program," UM President Edward T. Foote II said. "And we are keeping in mind the priorities of academics first and athletics second ... we are pleased that the changes in the economics of intercollegiate basketball allow the University to resurrect one of the country's most popular sports. We look forward to welcoming these Hurricanes home again."

- April 22, 1971 — The University of Miami Board of Trustees voted to drop the sport "temporarily until such time as a permanent field house can be constructed on the main campus." Sagging attendance figures and serious financial losses were also believed to contribute to the discontinuation of basketball at UM.

In 1983: UM Commits To Rebuild

- July 15, 1983 — Sam Jankovich was named athletic director at the University of Miami. Coming to UM after a successful stint as the athletic director at Washington State, Jankovich immediately announced that the resurrection of men's basketball at Miami would be his primary priority in the early months of his tenure, enabling UM to have "one of the nation's most complete and visible overall programs in the country.
- October 12, 1983 — The University of Miami Board of Trustees unanimously voted to reinstate men's basketball at the University of Miami. The Board made the decision after reviewing a report submitted by newly hired Athletic Director Sam Jankovich which stated that men's basketball can be a revenue-producing venture. Moreover, nearly $500,000 had already been raised in support of bringing basketball back to the University. It was also announced that the Hurricanes would be ready to compete on the Division I level in the 1985-86 season, and the downtown James L. Knight Center was home for the reborn program.

The facility now serves as the practice home to the men's and women's basketball programs while also housing the men's basketball coaching staff offices. In addition, the Knight Sports Complex enabled the athletic program to more than double the size of the existing strength room, while also providing meeting rooms and lecture rooms for all of Miami's student athletes. The structure is located between the Hecht Athletic Center and the Greentree Track.
- November 22, 1985 – The brand new era of Hurricane basketball was ushered in by a young UM squad which defeated The Citadel, 85-77, in front of a sellout crowd of 4,984 at the Knight Center. Dennis Burns (24 points), Kevin Presto (22) and Eric Brown (21) combined to lead the Miami offense, while Bryan Hughes enjoyed the distinction of scoring Miami's first point in 14 years (a free throw with 18:34 remaining in the first half).

- March 5, 1986 – An 84-62 loss to Marquette in Milwaukee closed the Hurricanes' first season since 1970-71. Miami finished the year with a 14-14 record, giving Bill Foster his 19th non-losing record in 20 years as a collegiate head coach.

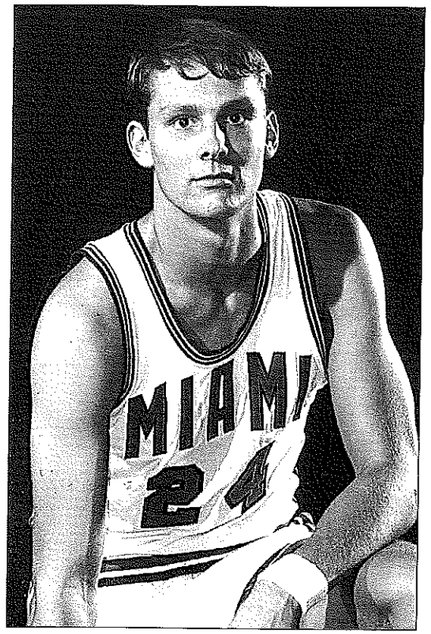
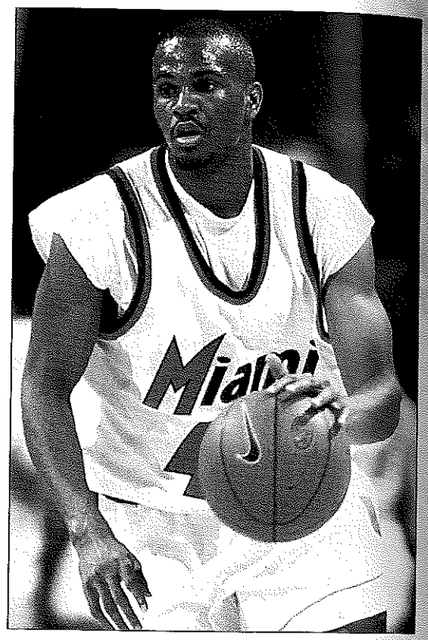
Retired Jerseys





#24 Rick Barry

The first basketball jersey to be retired at the University of Miami was number 24 in honor of Rick Barry, the Hurricanes' all-time leading scorer. Barry, UM's lone consensus first team All-American, led the Hurricanes to a 65-16 record and a pair of post-season berths in this three years. Barry, who finished his UM career with 2,298 points and 1,274 rebounds, is the only Hurricane to top both the 2,000-point and the 1,000-rebound barrier. He still owns five UM career records and numerous single-season records. Barry was inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, MA in 1986. He is the only player in basketball history to win single-season scoring titles in the NCAA, NBA and ABA.

Tim James had his jersey retired in a ceremony prior to the Hurricanes regular-season finale versus Rutgers on February 27, 1999.

#40 Tim James

On Feb. 27, 1999 Tim James became just the second Hurricane to have his number retired. During his four seasons at UM, James was a positive influence both on and off the court. A Miami native, James was very active in the community working with the "Join a Team, Not a Gang" program and speaking to local youth groups on the importance of staying in school and saying no to drugs

James, the only player to record over 1,500 career points, 800 career rebounds and 200 career blocked shots, helped lead the Hurricanes into the national spotlight. During his four seasons Miami registered a 68-41 (.624) record, four consecutive winning seasons and three consecutive post season appearances including the school's first NCAA Tournament bid since 1960. Miami's win total and winning percentage during his four seasons were the highest since UM registered a 69-37 (.651) record from 1964-68. The 6-7 forward ranks fourth on Miami's career scoring list (1,713 points), fifth on the career rebounding list (856 rebounds) and second on the career blocked shots list (224 blocks).

James, a two-time first-team All-BIG EAST selection, was named third-team All-America by both the Associated Press and National Association of Basketball Coaches as a senior, as well BIG EAST Co-Player of the Year.

Interview Policy

All interviews with UM players and coaches should be scheduled through the Sports Information Office. The best time to reach Coach Clark is between 10-11 a.m. on weekdays. Players and coaches are available for interviews post-practice. Pre-practice interviews will be available on a limited basis. THERE WILL BE NO PLAYER INTERVIEWS ON GAME DAYS.

Post-Game Interviews

Miami players and Head Coach Perry Clark will retire to the locker room immediately following each game for a 10-minute cooling off period. Following the meeting, Coach Clark will be interviewed by WQAM Radio prior to addressing the media in the media interview room. Once Coach Clark exits the locker room it will open to the media. Following his post-game radio show, Coach Clark and select Hurricane players will address the media in the interview room. Once Clark has concluded his post-game press conference he will return to the UM locker room to address the team. At that time the locker room will be closed. Members of the media requiring specific players are instructed to inform a UM SID representative of their request.

Hurricane Radio Network

The University of Miami has granted rights for the Hurricane Radio Network to Beasly-Reed Aquisition Partnership.

In Miami, Sports Talk Radio, WQAM (560 AM), a Beasly-Reed owned station, will carry Hurricane football, men's basketball and baseball.

Vandermeer is entering his third season as the voice of the Hurricanes. Prior to coming to Miami he was the voice of University of Massachusetts football, basketball and baseball.

Zagacki returned in 1999 for his second stint as a member of the Hurricanes' broadcast team having served as analyst for Hurricane football, basketball and baseball in the late 80's and early 90's.

Hurricane Hotline

WQAM will also serve as the home for Hurricane Hotline, a one-hour call-in radio show broadcast every week during the season featuring Coach Perry Clark and his guests. Marc Vandermeer will serve as the host of the program which will air from 6-7 p.m.

Fox Sports Net Florida

Fox Sports Net Florida will serve as the primary television home for UM basketball. The regional cable outlet will broadcast 11 University of Miami games, including 10 BIG EAST Conference clashes.

Fox Sports Net will also air a half-hour season preview on the Hurricanes, hosted by Frank Forte, in the month of November and a post-season special in April.

WBFS-CHANNEL 33

WBFS-Chanel 33 (UPN) will broadcast the Hurricanes' home game against Providence on January 19. The game, which will be produced and distributed by ESPN Regional, Inc. will be part of the BIG EAST Game-of-the-Week syndicated package.

The Perry Clark Show

WPLG-Channel 10 and FoxSportsNet Florida will carry a half-hour show every Saturday beginning in January. The show will be hosted by WPLG sportscaster Frank Forte.

The program will feature Coach Perry Clark, highlights of the previous week, a preview of the upcoming week, player interviews and features.

ABC

The Hurricanes will make one appearance on ABC this season. Miami's game versus Boston College on Feb. 10 will be carried by the network.
