BIG EAST CONFERENCE

1998-99 UNIVERSITY OF MIAMI MEN'S BASKETBALL

All-America and National Player
of the Year Candidate
Tim James

Building Tradition

Miami is one of just four BIG EAST Conference teams (Georgetown, Syracuse and Connecticut) to record an overall winning record in each of the last four seasons.

Since the start of the 1994-95 season Miami has won 37 BIG EAST regular season games. Only Connecticut, Villanova, Syracuse and Georgetown have more conference wins over that period.

Miami has made post-season appearances in three of the last four seasons including a berth in the 1998 NCAA Tournament.

Miami has been ranked in the top six nationally in field goal percentage defense the last two seasons including a No. 1 national ranking in 1997-98.

Miami has registered a 46-14 (.766) home record over the last four seasons including a 26-10 (.722) home record in BIG EAST contests. Miami's BIG EAST home winning percentage (.722) ranks as the fourth highest among conference teams.

The Hurricanes have defeated at least one ranked opponent in Miami Arena in each of the last four seasons.

In 1998, Tim James was a first-team All-BIG EAST selection marking the seventh Hurricane over the last six seasons to be named to an All-Conference team.

In 1995, Head Coach Leonard Hamilton was named the BIG EAST Coach of the Year and UPI National Coach of the Year.

Miami is the only Division I men's basketball program in the state of Florida to register a winning record in each of the last four seasons. The Hurricanes' 64 wins and .561 winning percentage over the last four seasons are the highest among Florida's 11 Division I programs.

In 1998-99 the Hurricanes will play a minimum of six games on national television including four on ESPN and espn2, and two on CBS.

1998-99 Season Outlook

The 1998-99 University of Miami men's basketball team enters the season with confidence and high expectations. Miami, coming off one of its best seasons since the rebirth of the program, returns 10 letterwinners, including four starters, from last season's 18-10 squad that made the school's first NCAA Tournament appearance since 1960.

James Leads Strong Nucleus

Miami's returning nucleus is led by senior forward Tim James, a first team All-BIG EAST selection last year. James, an electrifying talent who often makes the incredible look routine, led Miami in scoring (16.8 ppg), rebounding (9.4 rpg) and blocked shots (1.6 bpg) during the 1997-98 campaign.

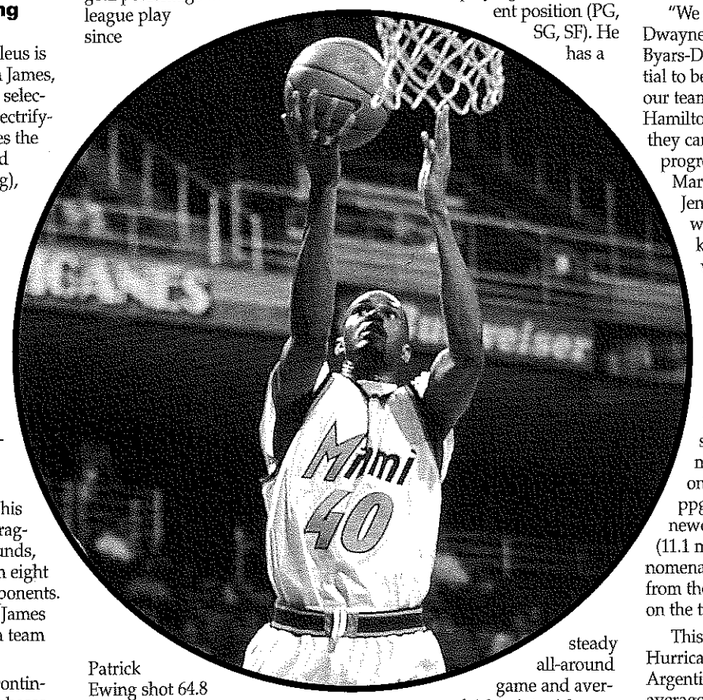

After impressive freshman and sophomore years, James stepped up the level of his game last season. Last season he recorded 13 double-doubles to rank second in the conference behind Zendon Hamilton (14).

James seemed to play his best in the big games averaging 19.6 points, 10.5 rebounds, 1.9 blocks and 1.6 steals in eight games against ranked opponents. Although not very vocal, James will be counted on to be a team leader this season.

"Every year Tim has continued to develop different phases of his game becoming more and more of a complete player," said Hamilton. "Being one of the better players in the league he expects a lot more of himself and we understand that its very important for him to have a good year for us if we want to continue moving forward. But we don't want to put him in a situation where he feels he has to carry us. We believe that in order to be successful we need to have nine or 10 guys contribute."

Coach Hamilton will also count on juniors Mario Bland, Johnny Hemsley and Vernon Jennings. Bland, an undersized center at 6-6, uses his 265 pound frame and quick feet to outmaneuver opponents.

Last season Bland set a UM single-season field goal percentage record connecting on 61 percent of his attempts. His 62.1 percent shooting from the floor in conference games led the BIG EAST and was the highest field goal percentage in league play since Patrick Ewing shot 64.8 percent in 1983-84.

"Mario may play center but he is also one of the best ball handlers on our team," said Hamilton. "He's a nice perimeter shooter who can drive to the basket and use either hand. His size and ball handling skills help make up for his lack of height."

Bland also anchors the Hurricanes' interior defense which allowed just seven centers to score in double figures and only four to record double figure rebound totals. Overall opposing centers averaged just 7.4 points and 5.1 rebounds.

Hemsley, the projected starter at shooting guard, returns as one of Miami's most explosive scorers. He ranked second on the team in scoring at 14.1 points per contest. Hemsley recorded 20 double figure scoring games including five 20 point outbursts. Both totals ranked second on the team behind James.

Jennings was one of Miami's most versatile performers last season playing three different position (PG, SG, SF). He has a steady all-around game and averaged 4.0 points, 4.0 rebounds and 3.9 assists a year ago while his 1.8-to-1 assist to turnover ratio was tops on the squad.

The Hurricanes also welcome the return of senior center Nick Donovan. The 7-0 center from Coventry, England struggle with injuries all season before missing the final 11 games after tearing the anterior cruciate ligament in his left knee against Villanova on Jan. 22. Donovan brings a wealth of international experience to the Hurricanes having competed 12 times in international competition for his native England.

Last year's freshman class of 6-9 forward Elton Tyler, 6-9 center Dwayne Wimbley and 5-10 guard Mike Byars-Dawson all gained valuable experience. The three played in a combined 82 games with Tyler joining James and Kevin Norris as the only players to see action in all 28 games.

"We think that Elton Tyler, Dwayne Wimbley and Mike Byars-Dawson all have the potential to be major contributors to our team this year," said Hamilton. "We are hopeful that they can make the same type of progress that Johnny Hemsley, Mario Bland and Vernon Jennings made last year. If we are going to have the kind of success that we want to have, those guys will figure heavily."

Tyler, a great athlete who emerged as one of coach Hamilton's first options off the bench, runs the floor extremely well for a big man. Last season he led the freshmen trio and ranked sixth on the team in scoring (4.1 ppg). He also led all UM newcomers in minutes played (11.1 mpg). Tyler shot a phenomenal 61.3 percent (46-of-75) from the floor and tied for second on the team with 15 blocks.

This summer during the Hurricanes' four-game tour of Argentina and Uruguay, Tyler averaged 10.0 points and a team-best 9.3 rebounds per game while shooting an astounding 70.8 percent (17-24) from the floor. Tyler's development should allow Hamilton to utilize Tim James at small forward during the course of the season.

Wimbley, voted the team's Most Improved Player last season, played in 27 games and averaged 1.1 points and 2.3 rebounds in 8.9 minutes per game. Wimbley recorded 63 rebounds in 239 minutes for an average of 10.5 rebounds per 40 minutes. He also recorded 15 blocked shots to tie Tyler for second on the team. Miami will look to him this season to provide rebounding and defense as a back-up to Mario Bland in the middle.

Mike Byars-Dawson played a total of 27 games at both point guard and shooting guard. His 46.7 percent shooting (7-of-15) from three-point range led the team. The Hurricanes will look for him to provide instant offense off the bench.

Strong Recruiting Class

Once again Coach Hamilton has put together a strong recruiting class signing three guards and one forward. Heading the class is 6-7 forward John Salmons (Plymouth Meeting, PA). The 1998 Philadelphia Inquirer Player of the Year at Plymouth Whitemarsh High School averaged 18.4 points, 9.0 rebounds and 5.0 assists per game at point-forward. Salmons led Plymouth Whitemarsh to a 30-3 record and a trip to the state championship semi-finals as a senior. Salmons, who is expected to see minutes at both shooting guard and small forward, is rated as the No. 51 incoming freshman by Athlon Sports College Basketball.

"Salmons is a very good athlete who gives us a lot of versatility with his ability to play either the guard or forward," commented Hamilton. "We think he will fit into our system very well. He continues to improve every day and we believe he has a tremendous upside."

With the loss of point guard Kevin Norris and shooting guard Steve Frazier to graduation, Hamilton brought in two point guards and one swing player to help fill the void. The two point guards are 6-2 freshman João Paulo Coelho of Portugal and 6-0 high school standout Michael Simmons. Coelho comes to Miami with an abundance of international experience. The 1997 MVP of the Portuguese Amateur League and current member of the Portuguese Under-22 National Team, was the starting point guard for the World Team that defeated the United States at the Nike Hoop Summit in San Antonio last April.

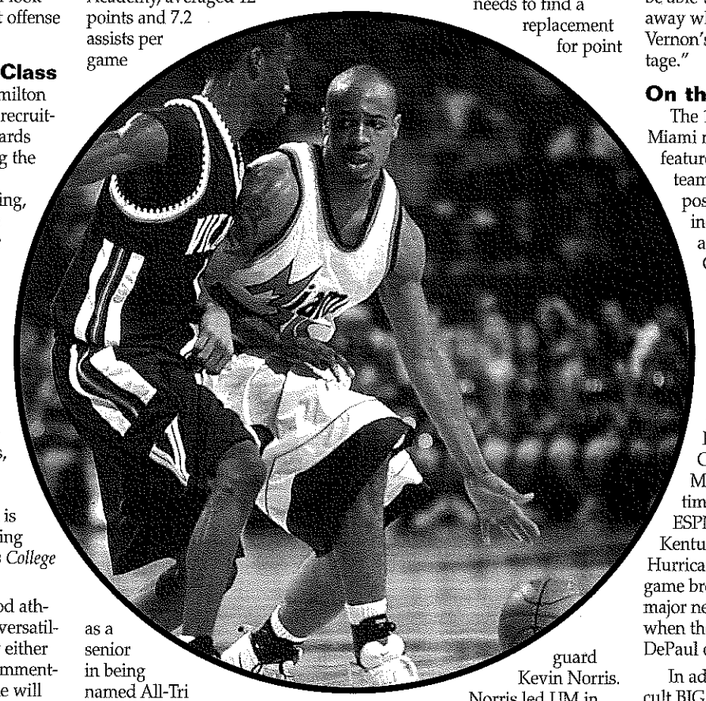

Simmons (Rialto, CA), rated by Dick Vitale as the third best point guard prospect prior to his senior year at Mercersburg (PA) Academy, averaged 12 points and 7.2 assists per game as a senior in being named All-Tri State (Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Maryland) for the third consecutive year.

Rounding out the class is 6-4 guard/forward Kevin Houston. The first-team junior college All-American averaged 23.5 points and 10.2 rebounds per game in leading Seward County (KS) Community College to a 35-3 record and a trip to the National Junior College Athletic Association Final Four. Houston will contend for minutes at both shooting guard and small forward.

"It is obvious Kevin has good basketball skills but what we are most impressed with is his competitive spirit," said Hamilton. "He is what coaches like to call a consummate warrior and that type of personality and spirit is what we here at the University of Miami."

Replacing the Point

Despite the additions, Miami needs to find a replacement for point guard Kevin Norris.

Norris led UM in assists and steals last season and was the inspirational leader of the team. He started a school record 108 consecutive games and left as Miami's career leader in assists and steals. He was also the teams top three-point threat connecting on 46-of-135 (.341) attempts.

The battle for the starting point guard spot should be furious during the preseason as Jennings, Coelho and Simmons fight for the position. Coach Hamilton would like to start either Simmons or Coelho at the point in order to utilize Jennings' versatility at other positions on the floor. But Jennings, who backed up Norris as a freshman and sophomore, is ready to step in if needed.

"From a point guard stand point we might be a double edged sword with Paulo Coelho and Michael Simmons," commented Hamilton. "We hope that one or both of our freshmen will be able to step in and play right away which will allow us to use Vernon's versatility to our advantage."

On the Schedule

The 1998-99 University of Miami men's basketball schedule features 12 games against teams that were selected for post-season play last season including a Dec. 5 contest against defending NCAA Champion Kentucky at Rupp Arena.

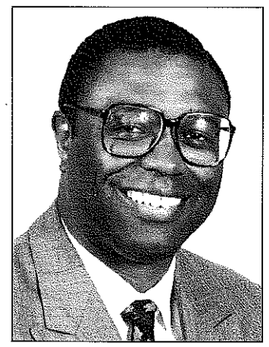

Miami will have a total of six regular season games nationally televised this season. The Hurricanes will play on CBS twice against Kentucky (Dec. 5) and at Connecticut (Feb. 20). Miami will also play three times on ESPN and once on ESPN2. Miami's contest with Kentucky will be the Hurricanes' first regular season game broadcast nationally by a major network since Feb. 27, 1988 when the Hurricanes faced DePaul on NBC.

In addition to its always difficult BIG EAST schedule, Miami will face several highly successful programs in its non-conference schedule including Kentucky, UNC Charlotte and Memphis.

Hurricane News & Notes

- Miami's selection to the 1998 NCAA Championship marked only the second time in school history that the Hurricanes had received a bid to the "Big Dance," and its first in 38 years.
- In 1997-98 Miami ranked No. 1 in the nation in field goal percentage defense holding opponents to 37.9 percent shooting from the floor. Miami held 20 of 28 opponents to under 40 percent shooting.
- Senior Tim James has been selected as one of the preseason candidates for the John R. Wooden Award presented annually to college basketball's most outstanding player. The preseason candidates are determined through a national poll conducted by the John R. Wooden Award Committee of basketball writers and sportscasters. James is the first Hurricane to be selected a Wooden Award Preseason Top 25 Candidate since the award's inception in 1976.
- Miami's nine straight wins to open up the 1997-98 season tied the 'Canes best start in school-history equaling the 9-0 start by the 1962-63 squad which finished 23-5 and advanced to the second-round of the National Invitation Tournament.
- Miami's 18-10 record last season marked its fourth consecutive winning season. The last time Miami recorded at least four straight winning seasons was the 1968-69 campaign when the 'Canes registered their 10th straight winning season.
- The 'Canes have compiled a 94-55 (.628) overall record in 10 seasons at the Arena, including a 11-3 mark last year. UM is 26-10 (.722) in its last 36 BIG EAST games in the Miami Arena dating back to the 1994-95. Miami's home winning percentage in conference games over the last four seasons (.722) ranks as the fourth highest among BIG EAST schools trailing Connecticut (.805), Villanova (.778) and Georgetown (.750).
- With its win over Notre Dame (2-22-98) Miami concluded its regular season road record at 7-5 marking the most road wins by a Hurricane team since 1964-65 when Miami finished the season with an 8-3 record away from home.
- Entering the 1998-99 season the Hurricanes are the only team in the state of Florida to register a winning record in each of the last four seasons. Miami's 64-50 (.561) mark since the 1994-95 season is the top winning percentage among the state's 11 Division I programs and their 64 wins over that period are the most by any of the state's Division I teams.
- Miami has beaten at least one ranked opponent in Miami Arena in each of the last four seasons. Last season Miami defeated 8th-ranked Connecticut, 76-67, marking the highest ranked opponent the Hurricanes have defeated at the Miami Arena. Miami's 89-72 win over UNC Charlotte (#17 ESPN/USA Today; #17 Associated Press) earlier in the season marked the highest ranked non-conference opponent the Hurricanes had defeated since 1989.
- Since becoming the 10th member of The BIG EAST Conference beginning with the 1991-92 season, the Hurricanes have compiled a 40-21 record (.656) against non-conference opponents, including a 29-10 mark (.744) at the Miami Arena. Miami's 7-2 record versus non-conference opponents last season marked it's best single-season non-conference record since the 1993-94 season.
- Miami's 11-7 league record last season marked the first time the Hurricanes have recorded 10 or more conference wins since joining the BIG EAST in 1991.
- In Miami's 18 league games center Mario Bland shot an astounding 62.1 percent (90-145) from the floor to lead the league. Overall the 6-6 center connected on 61 percent (122-200) of his shots from the floor shattering the Miami record for single season field goal percentage of 58.4 percent (255-437) set by Eric Brown in 1988-89. Bland did not have enough field goals to qualify for the NCAA statistical rankings. Bland's 62.1 percent field goal percentage was the highest in league play since Patrick Ewing connected on 107-of-165 (.648) field goal attempts in 1983-84.
- Last season Tim James led the Hurricanes in scoring with a 16.8 points per game average. James, who also led Miami in scoring as a sophomore (14.0 ppg), will attempt this season to become just the fifth Hurricane to lead the team in scoring for three consecutive seasons joining John Tobin (1939-42), Dick Hickox (1958-61), Don Curnutt (1967-70) and Eric Brown (1985-89).
- Offensively speaking the University of Miami had one of its best seasons in recent memory. The Hurricanes shot 44 percent (735-1669) from the floor and 66.1 percent (378-572) from the line last season marking the best percentages in each category since the 1990-91 campaign. The Hurricanes also averaged 70.1 points per game marking the highest points per game average since the 1992-93 season.
- The Hurricanes enter the 1998-99 season having hit at least one three-point field goal in each of the past 191 games, setting a school-record. Overall, the 'Canes have hit at least one trey in 345 of its 346 games since the NCAA adopted the three-point shot in 1986. The only game Miami has failed to hit a three-point field goal was against Howard University on Dec. 6, 1991 when the 'Canes were 0-15 behind the three-point arc.
- Twice last season Miami shot over 70 percent in the second half marking only the 12th and 13th times since the rebirth of the program that Miami has hit for 70% or better from the field in a half. In their 73-61 win over Southern Illinois, the Hurricanes shot 16-22 (.727). Later versus Pittsburgh, Miami shot 20-of-28 (.714) from the field in the second half of its 73-65 win.
- UM's interior defense was outstanding last season. In only seven games did the 'Canes allow an opposing center to post double figures in scoring and only four centers last season grabbed double-figure rebounds. Overall, opposing centers averaged 7.4 points and 5.1 rebounds against the 'Canes.
- University of Miami junior forward Tim James was named first team All-BIG EAST by a vote of the league's coaches. James, a 1996-97 second-team All-BIG EAST selection, is the first Hurricane to be named first-team All-Conference. James led Miami in scoring (16.8) and the conference in rebounding (9.4). His 13 double-doubles ranked second in the BIG EAST behind St. John's Zendon Hamilton (14).
- Since the start of the 1994-95 season UM has compiled a 37-35 record in BIG EAST regular season games. Only Connecticut (55), Villanova (48), Syracuse (46) and Georgetown (42) have more conference wins over that period.
- The Hurricanes are one of just four BIG EAST schools to post a winning overall record each of the past four seasons. Joining the Hurricanes are Georgetown, Syracuse and Connecticut.

Head Coach Leonard Hamilton

Head Coach Leonard Hamilton
1995 UPI National Coach of the Year

Stepping up to the Challenge

When Leonard Hamilton was appointed the University of Miami's ninth men's basketball coach on April 2, 1990, he knew it was a huge challenge to build a program. But that is exactly what he has done taking a program from relative obscurity into the national spotlight.

Entering his 28th season as a collegiate head coach Hamilton understands that there are no shortcuts to success. He enters the 1998-99 season having turned Miami into one of the nation's up-and-coming programs posting four straight winning seasons while qualifying for post-season competition three times.

Last season Hamilton guided Miami to one of its most successful campaigns. The Hurricanes finished 18-10, including an 11-7 conference record, and received a bid to the NCAA Tournament. Miami's 18 wins were the most since 1988-89 while its 11 BIG EAST victories where the most in school history. Miami's trip to the NCAA Tournament was only the second in school history, the other coming in 1960.

Under Hamilton's leadership Miami is truly a program on the rise. In the near future Hamilton will reap the rewards of a new on-campus arena and with 10 lettermen returning, including four starters from last season's squad, and another strong recruiting class the growth of the program will undoubtedly continue. Just as he did at Oklahoma State, Hamilton has taken a struggling program and brought it to national prominence.

Building a Winner

Entering his ninth season at Miami, Hamilton has turned the Hurricanes into one of the BIG EAST's most consistent programs. Miami in one of four BIG EAST schools to register an overall winning record in each of the last four seasons joining Connecticut, Georgetown and Syracuse. The Hurricanes' 37 conference victories since 1994 ranks fifth in the BIG EAST trailing only Connecticut (55), Villanova (48), Syracuse (46) and Georgetown (42).

Hamilton has already recorded 10 wins over teams ranked in the nation's Top 25 and has defeated every league team at least once. His 80-69 victory over 10th-ranked Georgetown during the 1992-93 season was Miami's first over a team ranked in the Top 10 since the rebirth of the Hurricanes' basketball program in 1985.

In 1997 Hamilton's Hurricanes traveled to Villanova and knocked off the eighth ranked Wildcats 61-59 marking the highest ranked opponent the Hurricanes have defeated since the program's rebirth. Last season Miami played spoiler again defeating No. 8 Connecticut 76-67 in the Miami Arena. The win marked the highest ranked opponent Miami has defeated in the Miami Arena.

Along with the rise of the Hurricanes' program Hamilton's players have also continued to develop. Last season forward Tim James was named first-team All-BIG EAST giving the Hurricanes seven All-Conference selections in the last six seasons.

National Honors

Miami's rise began four years ago when Hamilton led the Hurricanes to the greatest single season turnaround in BIG EAST history. Picked to finish at the bottom of the extremely grueling BIG EAST Conference, Hamilton guided the 'Canes to a fifth-place finish and a berth in the National Invitational Tournament - UM's first post-season appearance in 31 years

Miami set a BIG EAST record in 1995 for the greatest single-season improvement in league history. The Hurricanes' nine win conference increase tied Louisiana Tech for the best in the nation. UM's eight-win overall improvement tied for the third best single season increase in school history.

At the conclusion of the season, Hamilton was named the United Press International National Coach of the Year. Hamilton was also recognized by his peers as the league coaches tabbed him BIG EAST Conference Coach of the Year.

A Player's Coach

Despite being the head coach in one of the nation's top conferences, Hamilton has not lost sight of his number one priority: Miami's student athletes. His number one goal is to help prepare his players for the challenges that they will encounter in society.

"Coach Hamilton is a real player's coach," stated former Hurricane guard and 1992 graduate Trevor Burton. "He's concerned about you both as a player and human being. He will push to get the best out of you both on and off the court. I've never seen anyone as dedicated as Coach Hamilton. I was really impressed with his commitment."

Hamilton displays that commitment to his program both on and off the court. In Hamilton's eight years at Miami, every senior has earned his degree or is currently playing professional basketball.

In Hamilton's eight years at Miami, every senior has earned his degree or is currently playing professional basketball.

"The thing that separates coach Hamilton from other coaches is the way he treats you," said Jake Morton, a former Hurricane guard and 1993 graduate. "He stays on top of you to get your degree and helps mold you for life. He feels it's his job to help get you ready to play in the game of life, because he understands there is life beyond basketball."

Getting Defensive

Coach Hamilton understands that defense wins championships and under his tutelage the Hurricanes have become one the nation's top defensive teams. The 1997-98 Hurricanes ranked No. 1 in the nation in field goal percentage defense holding opponents to 37.9 percent shooting from the floor. Miami held every team to under 50 percent shooting and 20 of its 28 opponents to under 40 percent shooting. The 1996-97 Hurricanes ranked No. 6 in the nation in field goal percentage defense holding opponents to just 38.0 percent shooting.

Home Sweet Home

Competing in one of the nation's most competitive conferences, Hamilton knew that building a strong home court advantage would be a key to success. Over the last several seasons opponents have discovered that traveling to Miami to take on the Hurricanes is no day at the beach.

Over the last four seasons Miami has the fifth best home winning percentage (.766) in the BIG EAST trailing only Connecticut (.877), Georgetown (.845), Villanova (.821), and Syracuse (.769). Last season the Hurricanes went 11-3 in the Miami Arena which included wins over 17th-ranked UNC Charlotte, 8th-ranked Connecticut and 19th-ranked West Virginia. Miami has defeated at least one ranked opponent in Miami Arena in each of the last four seasons.

Bringing in the Best

When he arrived at Miami, Hamilton knew that in order to compete with the best, you must play the best. No one could have predicted how swiftly and emphatically the best competition would appear on the Miami schedule. After just six months at Miami, Hamilton was presented with one of the most difficult challenges a collegiate coach has ever faced – to compete in the BIG EAST Conference.

Challenges are nothing new to Hamilton though, after spending time at both Kentucky and Oklahoma State and facing some of the top teams in the nation. He has spent most of his career competing and succeeding against that nation's elite.

Despite competing in the BIG EAST, which boasts eight teams ranked among the nation's top 40 winningest programs, Hamilton has continued to schedule some of the nation's top teams.

In Hamilton's eight seasons at Miami the Hurricanes non-conference schedule has included such nationally renowned programs as Arizona State, Clemson, DePaul, George Washington, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Kansas, Memphis, Mississippi State, North Carolina Charlotte, Southern California, Tennessee, UNLV, Virginia Commonwealth, and Wake Forest.

This season the Hurricanes will take on North Carolina Charlotte, Memphis, Ohio State and defending national champion on Kentucky. Next season's schedule includes games against Kentucky and North Carolina, the two winningest basketball programs in NCAA history.

In order to raise the Hurricanes' level of competition, it was obvious that Hamilton was required to raise the level of talent flowing into the Miami program. Tremendous strides have been realized in this area during Hamilton's tenure at UM.

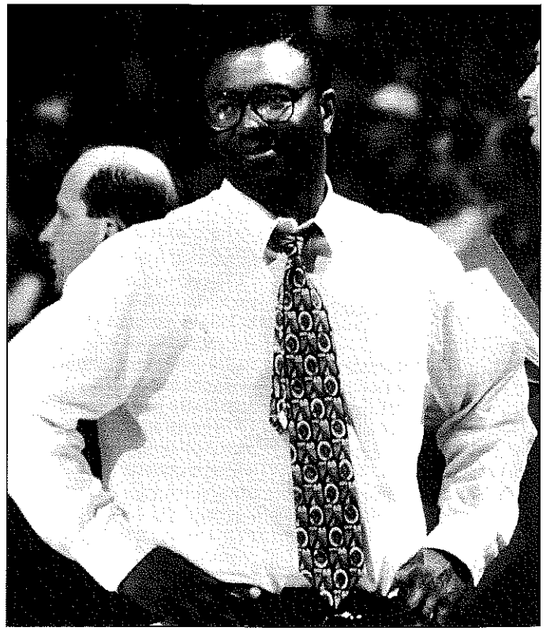

Having long been recognized as one of the nation's finest evaluators and recruiters of high school talent, Hamilton continued to build his legacy by producing what many consider to be the finest classes in Miami history. Four of Hamilton's recruiting classes have been have been ranked in the Top 20 nationally by recruiting expert Bob Gibbons including the fourth ranked recruiting class in 1992-93. His 1996 class, which included Mario Bland and Vernon Jennings, was rated 17th in the nation.

Breaking Records at Oklahoma State

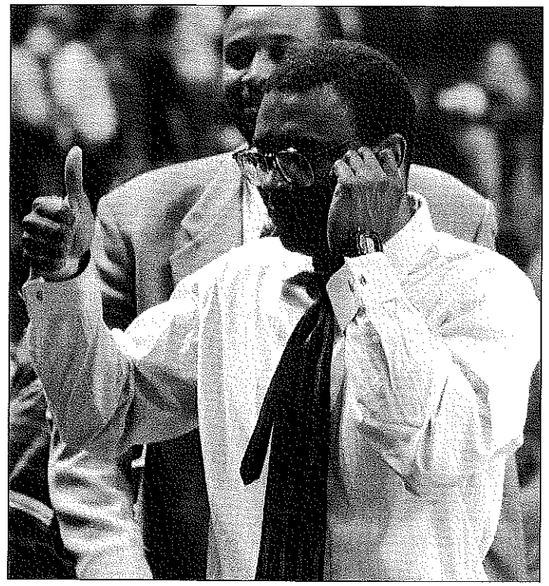

Hamilton arrived at UM from Oklahoma State where he rebuilt the Cowboys and led them to consecutive appearances in the National Invitational Tournament. The back-to-back post-season appearances were the first for OSU since 1953-54.

The 1989-90 OSU squad earned a No. 49 national ranking by USA Today, finished the year with a 17-14 record and advanced to the second round of the NIT before dropping a decision to tournament semifinalist New Mexico. Offensive firepower and the transition game were the signature of Hamilton's program which averaged more than 80 points for the second consecutive season and just the third time in team history. The Cowboys also established school records for most points and most three-point field goals.

Hamilton's last two Oklahoma State teams both won 17 games, marking only the fourth and fifth OSU squads to reach the 17-win plateau in the last 32 years. And of the 14 losses suffered during the 1989-90 campaign, seven came against teams ranked in the nation's Top 10 at the time of the game (UNLV, Oklahoma, Missouri and Kansas). The overall schedule was rated one of the toughest in the nation and included a total of 17 games against teams that went on to post-season play. The season was highlighted with wins over post-season participants Ohio State, Memphis State, New Orleans and a 2-1 record versus Kansas State (with one win coming in the Big 8 Tournament).

1995 UPI National and BIG EAST Conference Coach of the Year.

A Rising Star

Prior to his stint at OSU, Hamilton served at the University of Kentucky where he spent 12 seasons with one of the top programs in the country. From 1974-80, he served as an assistant coach, and in 1980 he was honored by being named the first associate head coach in Kentucky basketball history, a post he held until moving to OSU. While at Kentucky, Hamilton developed the reputation as one of the brightest young coaches in the nation and helped guide the Wildcats to the 1978 NCAA championship. In his 12-year tenure at Kentucky, seven recruiting classes were ranked among the nation's elite and 23 former Wildcat players were drafted by the NBA. Additionally, 83% of the seniors (30 of 36) earned their degrees.

His proficiency in the recruiting game carried over to Oklahoma State where his first two classes were rated 12th in the country by different services. He signed four of five Oklahoma High School Players of the Year and was involved with the recruitment of 30 high school All-Americans.

Building a Legacy

Hamilton's legacy extends across the nation as four of his former assistant coaches have moved on to become head coaches at Division I institutions.

The most recent Hamilton disciple to move on was Mike Jaskulski who departed this spring, after four seasons at Miami, to take over the head coaching duties at Towson University. Other Hamilton assistants now heading Division I programs include Tim Carter (Texas San Antonio), Dickey Nutt (Arkansas State) and Bill Self (Tulsa).

A Decorated College Player

Hamilton played basketball at Gaston (N.C.) Community College, where he set a school record by scoring 54 points in a game, and at the University of Tennessee-Martin where he is a charter member of the school's Hall of Fame. At each school he served as a team captain. Additionally, while at Tennessee-Martin, Hamilton received both the team Most Valuable Player Award and the Best Defensive Player Award.

His coaching career began as a graduate assistant (1971-72) and a full-time assistant (1972-74) at Austin Peay State University. He received his Master's degree from Austin Peay.

Hamilton, who is married to the former Claudette Hale, has a 28-year old son, Lenny, and a 14-year old daughter, Allison.

SOUTH AMERICA

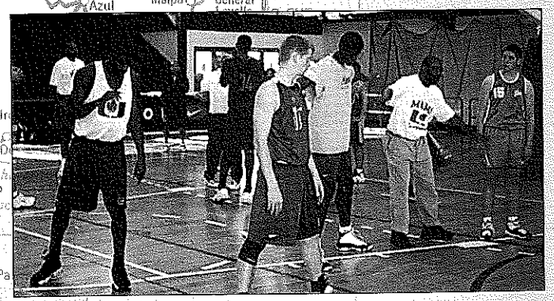

UM SOUTH AMERICA TOUR

The University of Miami men's basketball team spent this past summer experiencing and learning about other cultures when it traveled to South America for a 13 day, four game tour of Argentina and Uruguay. The trip was a memorable one as the Hurricanes took in the two countries' warm hospitality while playing some of the best competition on the continent.

Miami, which had only seven scholarship players available to play, dropped an 81-79 to Boca Juniors, the second-place finisher in the premier division of the Argentine Professional Basketball League. Defeated Andino Sports Club, a fifth-place finisher last season, 84-81. Lost 87-65 to the Argentine National Team and finished the tour with an 85-79 loss to Welcome Athletic Club, the defending Uruguayan champions.

All-America and National Player of the Year candidate Tim James averaged 25.0 points and 8.5 rebounds while shooting 57.1 percent (40-70) from the floor to lead Miami. Sophomore forward Elton Tyler nearly averaged a double-double with 10.0 points and team-best 9.3 rebounds per game. Tyler was also lights out from the field connecting on 70.8 percent (17-24) of his shots.

Another sophomore, Dwayne Wimbley, was also impressive averaging 7.0 points and 4.8 rebounds while hitting on 57.9 percent from the field as a backup to Mario Bland at center.

The Hurricane backcourt of Johnny Hemsley and Vernon Jennings was also steady. Hemsley averaged 14.0 points per game at shooting guard while Jennings averaged 8.5 points, 4.0 rebounds, 5.5 assists and 2.0 steals per game at the point.

Miami used the tour to specifically work on its offense and it showed. Miami averaged 76.8 points per game and shot 51.1 percent (119-233) from the floor as a team. The Hurricanes' opponents shot 47.0 percent (117-249) from the field.

The trip, however, was more than just basketball. While abroad the Hurricanes were able to visit and partake in the best that Argentina and Uruguay had to offer.

Miami began its tour in Buenos Aires, Argentina where it played its first two games against Boca Juniors and Andino Sports Club. While in the city the Hurricanes visited the grave site of former Argentine President Avita Perron, took in the world famous Tango Show at La Ventana and went to see a soccer match between Boca Juniors and Gimnasia (J) in front of a standing room only crowd of 50,000 at La Bombonera Stadium.

In the tour opener, Paulo Dyarzin hit a running jumper with 2.3 seconds remaining to lift Boca Juniors to an 81-79 win over the Hurricanes. Tim James led the way for Miami recording a double-double with 25 points and 12 rebounds. Boca Juniors, the second-place finisher in last season's Argentine Professional Basketball League, was led by Manuel Tarabezlo who hit six three pointers en route to a game-high 28 points.

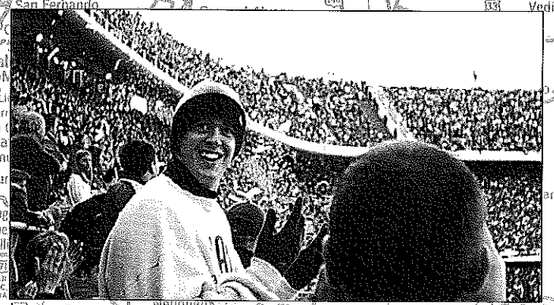

The bounced back two days later with a thrilling 84-81 come from behind victory over Andino Sports Club. Tim James scored 26 points while Elton Tyler recorded a double-double with 13 points and 11 rebounds to lead Miami. Andino, which finished fifth in the Argentine professional league, led by as many as 14 points in the second half before the Hurricanes took command. Miami dominated the fourth quarter outscoring Andino 29-17 and holding their Argentine opponents to just five field goals. Johnny Hemsley, 18 points, capped a decisive 13-3 run with back-to-back three pointers which put Miami ahead for good with just under five minutes to play.

In addition to the site seeing and basketball games in Buenos Aries, Miami provided a clinic for approximately 50 children, 13 years old and younger, at the CeNard National Training Center. The Hurricane coaching staff and players provided instruction on the finer points of the game including defense, shooting, rebounding and ball handling.

Miami then traveled to the ski resort town Bariloche in southern Argentina to take on the Argentine National team. The Hurricanes may have lost the game but they certainly won over the capacity crowd who wanted to shake hands, take pictures and get autographs from every Hurricane player.

The Argentine National Team played inspired basketball in front of the standing room only crowd of 4,000 at Bariloche Stadium. Temple point guard Pepe Sanchez was masterful in Argentina's 87-65 win recording 23 points, nine assists, seven steals and just one turnover. Tim James was once again Miami's high scorer with 20 points. The game was televised by ESPN International to over 70 countries world wide.

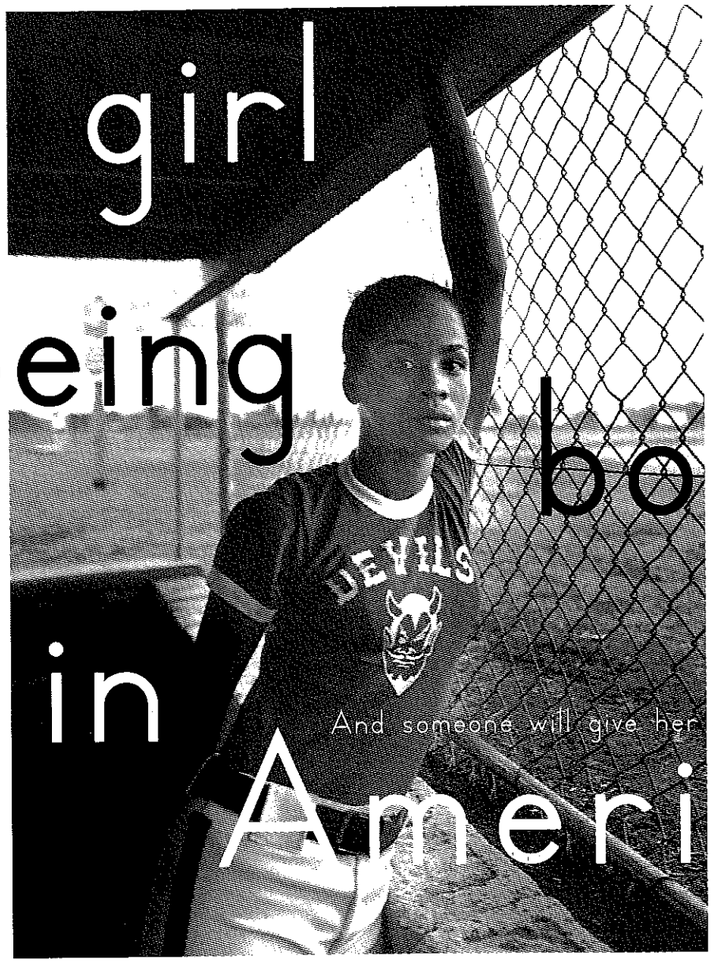

The day after the game Miami took a bus ride through the Lopez Mountains and visited the ski resort of Llao Llao where many of the Miami players took part in a something most people from Miami never do...a snowball fight. The Hurricanes next traveled to Montevideo, Uruguay where they took on Welcome Athletic Club, the Uruguayan professional champions, and provided a basketball clinic for local youths.

The game, an 85-79 Welcome victory, was the final game of the four game tour for Miami. Once again the Hurricanes faced a standing room only crowd as 3,000 fans packed Welcome Stadium. Former Wake Forest standout TreLonnie Owens scored a team-high 21 points to lead the defending Uruguayan champions. Tim James poured in a game-high 29 points to lead Miami while Johnny Hemsley added 22 points for the Hurricanes.

The University of Miami
Someting for Everyone

The University of Miami is the largest independent teaching and research university in the Southeast and, opened in 1926, is among the nation's youngest.

In The Heart Of Coral Gables

The Coral Gables campus, 10 miles from Miami, is the site of most of the University's undergraduate and graduate programs. The University also operates a medical center in downtown Miami, a world renowned marine and atmospheric science school on Virginia Key in Biscayne Bay and a bio-medical research and development center on its South Campus.

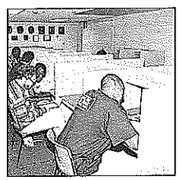

Following goals established in its nationally acclaimed strategic plan, the University of Miami recently completed a five-year fund raising campaign that raised $517.5 million for endowment, facilities and equipment. In 1996, the fundraising program set a new standard, raising a record-breaking $70.9 million in gifts. The University is now ranked 20th among all private universities in the country in private support.

A Diverse Student Body

Enrollment at the University of Miami has grown from a few hundred when classes were held in a remodeled Coral Gables Hotel to 13,842 credit-seeking students including 8,377 undergraduate, 3,206 graduate, 1,502 law and 592 medical students. Representing all U.S. states and 141 foreign countries, the student body is composed of 57 percent Florida residents, 33 percent from other states, and 9 percent foreign nationals.

Something For Everyone

The University offers more than 100 undergraduate and 142 graduate degree programs through schools of Architecture, Business Administration, Communication, Continuing Studies, Education, International Studies, Law, Marine and Atmospheric Sciences, Medicine, Music, Nursing, the Graduate School, and colleges of Arts and Sciences and Engineering.

Offering The Best

The Rosenstiel School of Marine and Atmospheric Science is recognized as one of the top three marine science schools in the country. The University offers graduate as well as undergraduate degree programs in marine affairs and marine sciences.

Top-Notch Medical School

Established in 1952 as Florida's first medical school, the University of Miami School of Medicine is the hub of the UM/Jackson Memorial Medical Center, the second largest such complex in the country and one of the hemisphere's major centers for teaching, research, diagnosis and patient care. The hospital was recently ranked the best in medicine based on peer review by 300 physicians across the country.

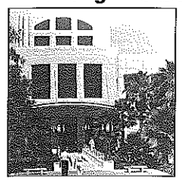

Where tomorrow's leaders come to learn and grow.

Innovative Research Facilities

In addition to schools and colleges, many institutes, centers and interdisciplinary units attract national recognition for research and other programs. Among them are: Bascom Palmer Eye Institute, Innovation and Entrepreneurship Institute, Institute for Molecular and Cellular Evolution, Institute of Soviet and East European Studies, Law and Economics Center, Miami Project to Cure Paralysis, Mailman Center for Child Development, and the North-South Center.

Among The Best in Research

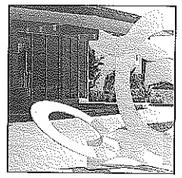

As it has for more than a decade, the University ranks among the top three percent of 2,600 universities and colleges receiving federal research and development grants. During the 1996-97 academic year, the faculty were awarded more than $214.1 million in separately budgeted grants and contracts from federal, state, local and private sources.

In addition to basic research in science, medicine, engineering and social sciences, current projects cover a wide spectrum of global concerns including climatology, oceanography, population and resource studies, spinal cord injuries, diabetes, AIDS, cancer, productivity, technology transfer and international relations.

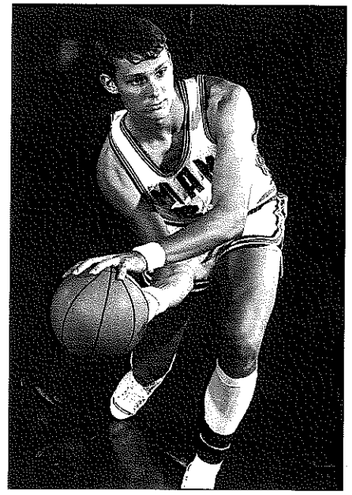

The Best Of All Worlds

A crossroads where cultures and commerce of Latin America, the Caribbean, Europe, Asia and North America merge, the greater Miami area is one of the most dynamic regions of the country. Coral Gables hosts hemispheric headquarters for many multi-national corporations but maintains the Mediterranean charm envisioned by George Merrick, the city and University founder, 72 years ago.

Edward T. Foote II
President

Edward T. "Tad" Foote II became the fourth president of the University of Miami in 1981.

After graduating from Yale in 1959, President Foote served three years in the U.S. Marine Corps. In the early 1960s, he was a journalist for the Washington Star and, while in law school, he worked for the Washington Daily News and later was assistant to the chairman of the Pennsylvania Avenue Commission in Washington, D.C.

Following graduation from Georgetown University Law Center in 1966, President Foote practiced trial, appellate, and labor law at the firm of Bryan, Cave, McPheeters & McRoberts in St. Louis, Missouri.

In 1970 President Foote became vice-chancellor, general counsel, and secretary to the Board of Trustees for Washington University in St. Louis. He then served from 1973-1980 as dean of the Washington University School of Law, where he taught constitutional law and legal ethics. In 1980-1981, President Foote was special advisor to the chancellor and Board of Trustees for Washington University, during which time he also chaired two federal court-appointed citizens' committees which helped design and implement desegregation plans for schools in greater St. Louis.

Upon his arrival at the University of Miami in 1981, President Foote introduced corporate-style strategic planning, leading to reducing the number of students while increasing the number of faculty.

Approximately three-quarters of the current faculty have been hired during President Foote's tenure. High quality teaching is a top priority, and the University's research productivity has expanded dramatically.

President Foote serves on the Board of Directors of Ryder System, Inc. He has served on the Board of Directors and Executive Committee of the American Council on Education in Washington, D.C., and is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations.

Paul Dee
Athletic Director

Paul Dee was named the University of Miami Director of Athletics on June 25, 1993. Dee had served as general counsel for the University since 1981, building a reputation among his peers for his strong leadership, integrity, fairness and ability to get along with people.

Dee is committed to gender equity issues, and the need for an on-campus convocation center for Hurricane basketball.

In his first four years as athletic director, Dee was active in the NCAA and the BIG EAST Conference. Presently, he is a member of the Executive Committee of the Conference and serves as chair of the BIG EAST Conference.

Dee believes intensifying fund raising efforts and developing stronger interest in women's sports are vital to ensuring the future success of the Hurricane program.

Before joining the University, Dee was with the Miami law firm of Mershon, Sawyer, Johnston, Dunwoody & Cole and was a law clerk for Chief U.S. District Judge Charles Fulton in Miami. He received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of Florida in 1970 and his master's of education and juris doctor degrees with honors from the University of Miami in 1973 and 1977, respectively.

U MIAMI

Best Academic Support Available

The University of Miami, one of the nation's finest institutions of higher education, shows an unparalleled dedication to academics. While Miami's athletic successes are well documented, the University's commitment to academics is second to none. Hurricane athletes have a wealth of resources and programs available to them as they work toward their degrees.

In striving to meet the challenges facing the student-athletes in today's complex society, the University of Miami Athletic Department along with UM's Developmental Services Center has established a unique academic support program that serves to enhance the life of the student-athlete. This cooperative effort reflects the commitment of the entire university to the complete development of the student-athlete.

Linda Saumell, assistant athletic director for academic/student services, administers the academic support and student services programs, which are designed to prepare students for a career after athletics.

"We want to facilitate the true personal development of the student-athlete by establishing a strong fundamental background," said Saumell. "We provide support in helping them develop the balance between academics and athletics as well as proper time management and mental attitude."

The recent results have been very impressive. The overall graduation rate exceeds 60% and the success rate of the Hurricane basketball program has been at or near 100% since its rebirth in 1985.

In order to prepare athletes for life after graduation the University of Miami has instituted a Life Skills Program which helps student-athletes conquer the challenges of life after athletics. The program originally instituted by the NCAA in 1994, focuses on five commitments viewed as critical to personal growth: academic excellence; athletic excellence; personal development; service; and career development.

Few universities can match the success in both academics and athletics that Miami has achieved and through this commitment to excellence, UM student-athletes are properly prepared for life after athletics.

Top-Notch Medical Staff

Carlton Anderson
Asst. Athletic Trainer

The number one priority of the athletic department at the University of Miami is a commitment to its student-athletes both on and off the court. This commitment is constantly reinforced with the medical attention that is available to Hurricane student-athletes. UM's newly renovated and expanded training room, located in the Hecht Athletic Center, contains the most modern equipment available.

Computerized testing and a wide range of aerobic conditioning equipment is available to help design individual rehabilitation programs and help reduce the risk of re-injury. The training room also contains a state-of-the-art Biodex machine to aid athletes in their rehabilitation.

The University has assembled one of the finest medical staffs in the country. Team physician and orthopaedic surgeon Dr. John Uribe heads a team which includes 15 medical doctors who serve as consultants, five full-time trainers and 10 student-trainers.

Uribe, regarded as one of the finest physicians in the southeast, is the assistant physician for the Miami Dolphins and the Florida Marlins. Additionally, he and Dr. Keith Hechtman, another member of UM's medical team, serve as team physicians for both Florida International University and St. Thomas University. Hechtman, who specializes in orthopaedics, accompanied the Hurricanes on their exhibition tour of Israel in August of 1995.

Hurricane athletes enjoy the luxury of having one of the nation's finest sports medicine facilities located right on campus. HealthSouth Doctors' Hospital features a full service health-care center specializing in sports medicine. The clinic provides preventative care, physicals, injury evaluations, special testing and referral to specialists. HealthSouth Doctors' Hospital possesses some of the most high-tech equipment in the nation and is available to treat Hurricane athletes.

The hospital includes a health and fitness center where they provide a wide range of services including nutrition counseling and cardiac rehabilitation all done with the exercise physiology department led by Dr. Jack Young, a member of UM's medical team.

Uribe and his colleagues at the sports medicine center are recognized as some of the finest in the field of sports medicine. Patients are often flown in throughout the east coast to be treated at HealthSouth Doctors' Hospital. Many doctors also fly in to learn sports medicine procedures and techniques from the hospital staff.

With all this medical expertise and equipment available to them, Hurricane athletes are among the best cared for in the nation.

Assistant trainer Carlton Anderson, in his second year with the Hurricane medical staff, works and travels with the Miami men's basketball team on a daily basis. Anderson, who received his Master's degree from UNC Charlotte in 1996, arrived at Miami with extensive experience working as a trainer in collegiate and professional athletics.

Most recently, Anderson served as an athletic trainer with the Daytona Cubs, the Class A affiliate of the Chicago Cubs baseball team. He also was a trainer at Davidson University where he worked closely with the football and baseball squads. Additionally, Anderson served an athletic training internship with the Washington Redskins of the NFL during their 1996 training camp.

Anderson earned his bachelor's degree from the University of North Carolina in 1993.

Carrying Their Weight
Strength Training With the Best

Kevin Tolbert
Assistant Strength Coach

At the University of Miami winners are made on and off the court. Just as important as the final numbers that read on the scoreboard, are the results achieved in the Hurricanes' weight room. It is this firm belief that has made Miami one of the nation's up and coming programs.

The Strength and Conditioning program operates under the guidance of head strength coach Tommy Moffitt. Moffitt enters his first season at the Miami, coming to Coral Gables after spending four years as the top assistant at the University of Tennessee. Prior to his stint at Tennessee, Moffitt was a former national Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year while serving seven seasons at Curtis High School in River Ridge, LA.

Moffit is noted for his enthusiastic approach to weight training and for developing year-round sports specific programs for each student-athlete. Together with his staff of full time assistants: Ray Riedinger, Andrew Swasey and Kevin Tolbert. Hurricane student athletes are given personalized instruction and tools to reach their full physical potential.

The goal of the Hurricane Strength and Conditioning program is to minimize risk and enhance all physical parameters, including strength, speed, power, flexibility and cardiovascular endurance.

The results of the strength program are obvious as the Hurricanes enter the 1998-99 season stronger and healthier than ever before. Conditioning will be crucial as the Hurricanes face some of the nations best athletes in the always grueling BIG EAST Conference.

The 5,500 square foot Hurricane weight room is adjacent to the Hurricanes' practice facility and is located within the Hecht Athletic Center. Totally refurbished in 1995 with a complete line of weights and muscle-specific machines, the Hurricane weight room is complete with a rubberized floor surface, stereo sound system, cooled water fountains and full-length mirrored walls.

Entering the 1999-2000 season, UM student-athletes will have the use of the newly-constructed state-of-the-art track on the Cobb Stadium for Soccer, Track & Field on which to work on all facets of speed training.

Working directly with the Hurricane men's basketball program is assistant strength coach Kevin Tolbert. Tolbert, entering his first season with the Hurricanes, comes to Miami after spending the last 10 years as a general manager and personal trainer at Mainline Health & Fitness. Prior to that Tolbert worked as the Head Trainer/Conditioning Specialist at Ken Leistner's Training. While their Tolbert directed the overall strength and conditioning of numerous athletes including Detroit Lions linebacker Stephen Boyd, New York Jets running back Lou D'Agoustino and 1996 Olympic Gold Medalist in the 400-hurdles Derrick Adkins. Additionally, Tolbert spent the last two seasons as a volunteer strength and conditioning for the Philadelphia Eagles.

Committed to the health and development of his players, Leonard Hamilton has long been one of the most progressive basketball coaches in the country with regards to strength and conditioning. It his his belief that strength and conditioning is every bit as important as scrimmaging and watching film. Along with Tolbert, Hamilton will evaluate the strength and conditioning program by how the Hurricanes are doing in March because just as basketball skills must improve as the BIG EAST and NCAA Tournament come around, so must the conditioning of their players.

UM Athletes are Active in the Community

Rodger Bell
Asst. A.D./Community Service

Recognizing their positions as role models and community leaders, University of Miami student-athletes are extremely active in assisting with the development of the South Florida community.

During the 1998-99 school year, Hurricane basketball players will make personal appearances at numerous functions and will volunteer their time and efforts to many special projects including the "Join a Team, Not a Gang" campaign which is co-sponsored by the Metro-Dade Police and Florida Power and Light. Athletes and the children they reach are both touched by these experiences.

"It was a wonderful experience for the children to have positive role models to look up to when the athletes visited," said teacher Joyce Castro of Fairchild Elementary, after some student-athletes visited her classroom. "They are able to reach out to these children and make a difference."

"I enjoy spending time with the children and giving them a positive male role model," said Tim James, who is very active in the Miami community. James believes in making a difference for the area youth and giving them someone to look up to.

"Student-athlete appearances are good for the community, the University and the athletes themselves. It's a win-win situation for eveyone involved," said Roger Bell, UM's assistant athletic director for community relations.

Bell coordinates the appearances, which include visits to schools, hospitals and special projects. Last season the UM men's basketball team and coaching staff ran a free clinic for children from Charles Drew Elementary School as part of their "I Have A Dream" program. In addition to drills and tips the Hurricanes spoke to the youngsters about the power of positive choices.

"You never know what type of effect you have on youngsters," stated UM head coach Leonard Hamilton. "Every little bit helps though and hopefully you will make a differance in a young person's life. We don't do this because we want recognition, we contribute to the community because it's the right thing to do."

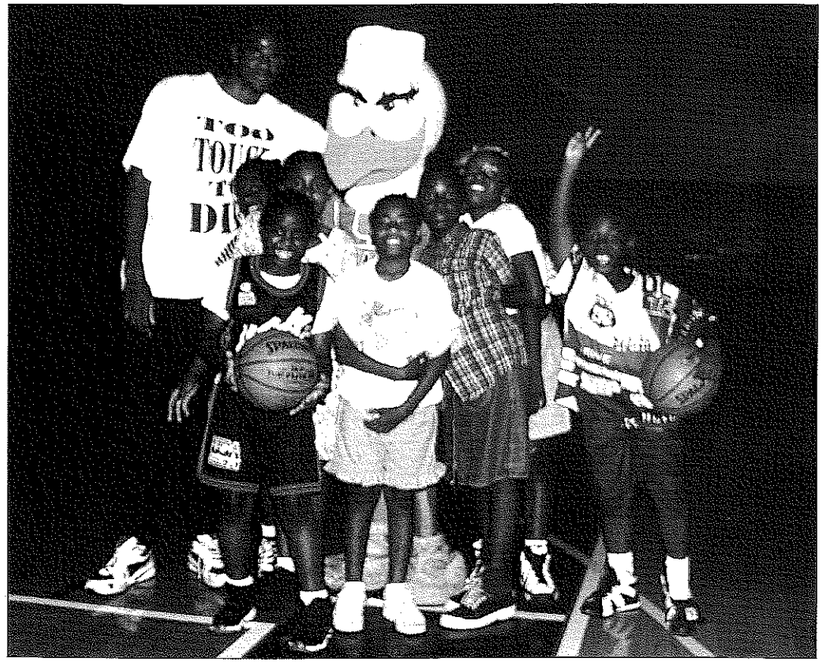

Miami players also speak to children on such topics as self-esteem, motivation, goal setting, staying in school, saying no to drugs, anti-smoking and crime prevention.

"The kids loved interacting with the student-athletes, and it was a good experience for my students to provide instruction in that type of atmosphere," said Dr. Robert Gropper, who teaches a class at Miami that gets the athletes to interact with students at local elementary schools.

Bell also oversees programs designed to prepare Miami's student-athletes for their futures through events like "Career Day". On this day, Bell and the academic staff arrange for many prominent business leaders, in the areas of interest to the students to speak about their businesses and the skills needed to embark in their particular fields.

All these programs are designed to meet the special needs and experiences available to allow Miami's student-athletes to give back to the community.

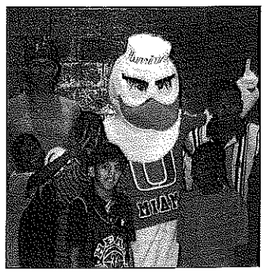

The program has been such a success, that anyone interested in scheduling appearances should contact Roger Bell at (305) 284-4609.

Important Information for Prospective Student-Athletes

Who is a Prospective Student-Athlete (Prostpect)?

You are a prospect if you have started classes for the ninth grade. Before the ninth grade, you may become a prospect if a university provides you (or your family or friends) any financial aid or other benefit that is not usually provided to prospects.

How do I know if I'm being recruited?

A coach is recruiting you if they try to convince you directly, or through your family, to attend their school and participate in intercollegiate athletics. There are several ways to be recruited: (1) a coach may provide you with an official paid visit to view the campus, (2) a coach may arrange an in-person, off-campus encounter with you (or your family), or (3) a coach or staff member may call you (or your family) on more than one occasion for the purpose of recruitment.

Coaches and authorized institutional staff members are the only individuals who may recruit you. Representatives of athletic interests (boosters) may not call, write or make in-person contact with you for the purpose of recruiting you to a University and participating in athletics.

When can a coach contact me?

Off Campus Contact: A coach can arrange a face-to-face meeting, off the University's campus, with you beginning July 1st following the completion of your junior year in high school.

Telephone Calls: In the sport of football, a coach may call a prospect once during your junior year of high school after May 1st. After that one phone contact, a coach may not call you again until August 15th following the completion of your junior year. For all other sports, coaches may initiate telephone contact with prospects after July 1st following completion of your junior year. You may call a coach at your own expense at any time. However, unless it is after July 1st following your junior year, the coach may not return your call. Generally, a coach may only call you (or your parents or legal guardians) once a week, however unlimited phone calls are permitted under the following circumstances: (1) during the five days before your official visit, (2) on the initial date for signing the National Letter of Intent and the two days following, (3) on the day of a coach's off-campus contact with you, and (4) in the sport of football only, unlimited phone calls may be made during permissible off-campus contact periods and during the two days before and after the initial signing date for the Nation Letter of Intent.

Letters: Letters and recruiting information may be sent to you starting September 1st at the beginning of your junior year in high school.

What can a school offer me to attend their University?

You (or your family) may not receive any benefit, inducement or arrangements such as cash, clothing, cars, gifts or loans to encourage you to sign a National Letter of Intent or to attend a NCAA school.

A University may offer you a one-year scholarship that covers room and board, tuition and fees, and required course-related books, or any part of these. The institution can recommend that this aid is renewed each year, as is the general practice at the University of Miami. In addition, they can offer you quality academic and medical support, as well as the opportunity to compete for one of the nation's top programs.

What can I do during this process?

Enjoy your high school years—work hard both in the classroom and in your sport. At the beginning of your junior year, sign up for the NCAA Clearinghouse. Your high school guidance office can provide you with the information.

Who can I contact with question?

Call the NCAA at (913) 339-1906 with questions regarding eligibility requirements and recruiting.

Hurricane Warnings
Traditions are Part of the Fun at Miami

The Hurricanes

It began in controversy. Some reports say that the '27 football team held a meeting to select the nickname Hurricanes, hoping they would sweep away opponents just as the devastating storm did on September 16, 1926. Another version holds that the Miami News columnist Jack Bell asked end Porter Norris in 1926 what the team should be called. Told that local University dignitaries and officials wanted to name the team for a local flora or fauna, Norris said the players wouldn't stand for it and suggested "Hurricanes" since the opening game had been postponed by such a storm. From time to time, opposition has arisen to the name that would "reinforce Miami's negative reputation as a weather-beaten community living constantly under the threat of destruction. "But as one UM official rationalized in the 60's, "Does anyone think Chicago is overrun by bears just because the town has a football team by that name?"

The U

In 1973, the UM Athletic Federation commissioned a local public relations expert to develop a distinctive logo.

School Colors

The school colors were selected in 1926 by a committee of Ruth Bryan Owens (daughter of famed attorney William Jennings Bryan), Harry Provin and Bertha Foster. Owens was a member of the board of regents and taught speech at the University. From her suggestion, the colors of the Florida orange tree were to represent UM – orange for the fruit itself, green for the leaves and white for the blossom.

Sebastian the Ibis

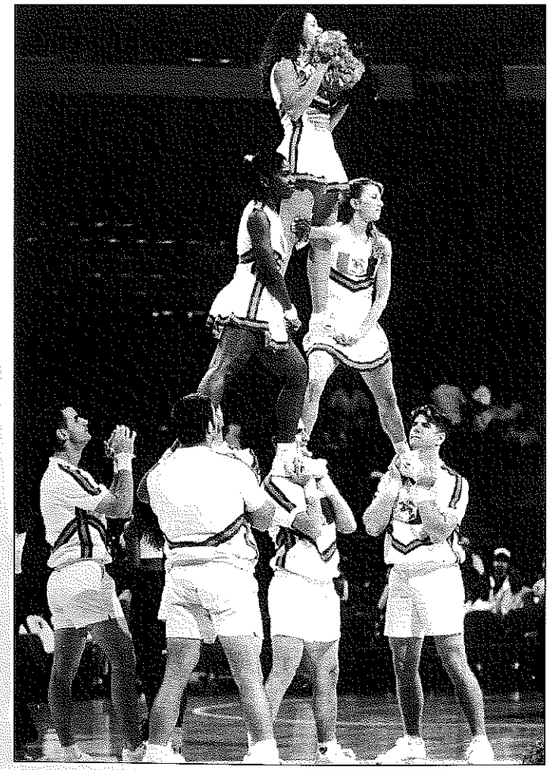

UM's yearbook adopted the name "Ibis" with its inception in 1926, and the local marsh bird was considered UM's first unofficial mascot. In 1958, student John Stormont performed at games in a glued, sewn and pinned together costume that was the forerunner of today's bird. Folklore has it that the Ibis, a symbol of knowledge found in the Everglades and Egypt, is the last sign of wildlife to take shelter before a hurricane and the first to reappear.

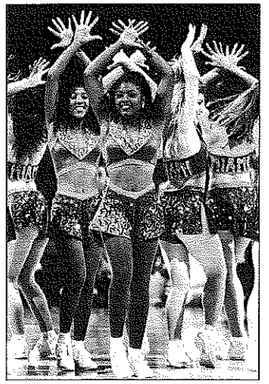

Cheerleaders

The cheerleaders perform at all home contests and The BIG EAST Tournament as well as all home and away football games. The squad also provides a valuable public relations function for the University by promoting season ticket sales, participating in recruiting events and appearing at many charity functions. The squad, which has travelled to both Japan and Europe, is under the direction of Coach Dan Reynolds and has been nationally ranked on a consistent basis.

Sunsations

Now in their tenth year of entertaining Hurricane fans, the Sunsations dance group is a squad of enthusiastic and talented performers developed specifically for basketball events. They perform at all home basketball and football games. The squad is coached by former member Janine Thompson and has received national recognition.

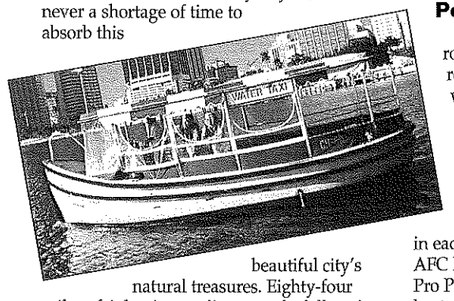

MIAMI

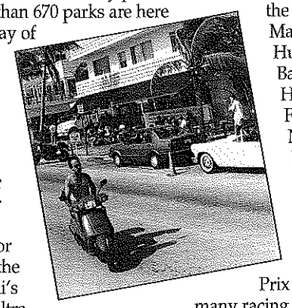

Miami's a Winter Wonderland

No Snow & Ice Here, Just Sunny Skies & Warm Weather

Shorts in the wintertime? You bet! Located in the tropics, Miami boasts an average daily temperature of 84 degrees. With three hundred sunshine filled days a year, there is never a shortage of time to absorb this beautiful city's natural treasures. Eighty-four miles of Atlantic coastline, wonderfully pristine beaches and more than 670 parks are here to enjoy almost every day of the year. There's no need for winter coats here!

Something for Everyone

If the warm weather and nature are not your scene, don't worry. Miami has something for everyone. Often called the city of the future, Miami's dramatic skyscrapers, ultra-modern hotels and international financial district reflect the developing dynamics of Miami's core. Known as one of America's premier international destinations, its dramatic cultural diversity, thriving economy and cosmopolitan flair are apparent throughout its distinctive neighborhoods, which offer a diversity of entertainment.

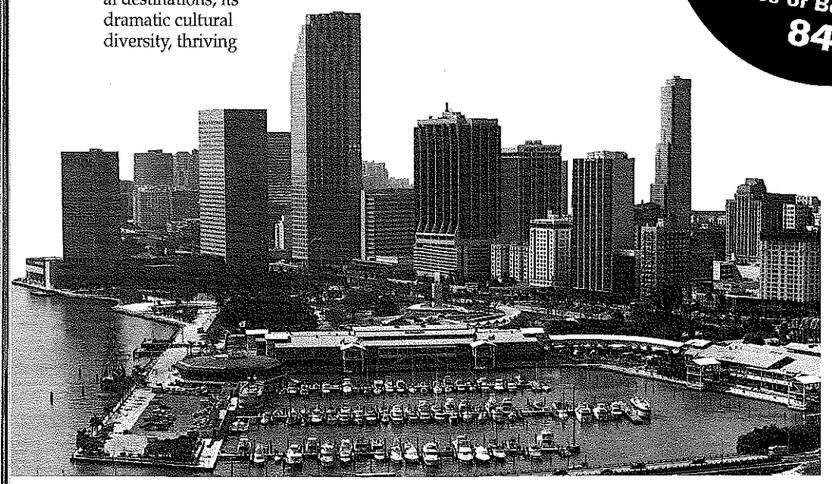

Perfect Weather for Sports

South Florida's mild climate year round makes it possible to enjoy outdoor recreational activities every month, and what a choice there is. Everything from golfing on some of the PGA's finest courses to scuba diving on some of the most beautiful reefs in the Atlantic is available in South Florida.

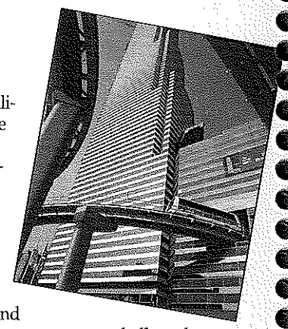

South Florida is one of only eight cities in the U.S. with a pro franchise in each of the four major sports. The NFL's AFC East Dolphins thrill fans every season at Pro Player Stadium. This sports complex hosted the 1995 Super Bowl and is home to the National League's Florida Marlins. At the Miami Arena, the Hurricanes and the National Basketball Association's Miami Heat offer fast-paced action. South Florida is also home to the National Hockey League's Florida Panthers.

Another popular sporting event is the Miami Grand Prix in which many racing enthusiasts from all over the country flock to Miami every year to watch.

Cultural Events All Year

Finally, Miami's tranquility is most visible at its frequent outdoor celebrations and festivals. Conch fritters, arroz con pollo, soul food and bagels. Salsa, polka, jazz, jig and rumba. Bagpipes, castanets, cowbells and steel drums play the melodies of distinct cultures.

Not a month passes that the people of this wonderful city are not celebrating their cultural and ethnic diversity. Whether it's a reggae fest, Little Havana's Calle Ocho, the Sunstreet Festival or a film and book festival, it all happens here.

Shopping Extravaganza

Now if shopping is your thing, bring your wallet and a good pair of walking shoes because the weather is the only thing better than the shopping in Miami.

From flamboyant to the hip to the tailored, Greater Miami and the Beaches deserves an Oscar for best drama. From Aventura Mall with its more than 200 stores in the northeast corner of the county all the way to Dadeland Mall with more than 175 speciality shops, there are neighborhood shopping areas stretched along causeways, tucked around unexpected corners and plunked on city blocks just few hundred feet shy of major thoroughfares. It's a shopper's Eden.

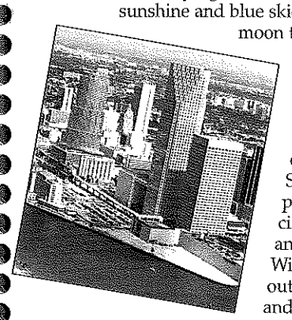

Miami's Got It

So, whether it's shorts or a bathing suit, Miami's got the perfect weather all year long for you to enjoy your favorite past times!

Living in a Tropical Paradise

Miami Has It All

Miami is suntans in December and warm breezes in March. The ocean. Palm trees swaying. The beaches. Bright sunshine and blue skies. A late-night moon that glows brighter than ever. It's a way of life in the tropical heart of the United States. It's a pride in the city, it's sunsets and salty air. With limitless outdoor activities and international flavor, Miami welcomes all to its shores. You'll find a special place in the sun with a lifestyle as vibrant and endless as the neighboring ocean.

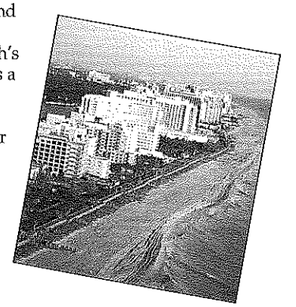

Coconut Grove has Fun Nearby

Just a short ten minute drive from the University campus, lies one of Miami's original pioneer settlements, Coconut Grove, which has evolved from a beatnik community into an upscale night life and shopping destination. Transplanted intellectuals, jet setters, artists, craftsmen and professionals converge to create an electric atmosphere that is the essence of the Grove. Located in the center of this carefree neighborhood is Coco Walk, the Grove's open-air retail and entertainment complex with shops, outdoor cafes, trendy nightclubs and a multi-screen theater, all in a European village setting.

South Beach is the New Riviera

Travel a few more minutes north and you hit world famous Miami Beach and your chance to be discovered. Fashion models, writers, movie producers and famous entertainers are the new players in Miami Beach's renaissance. Miami Beach is a community on the move with stars like Gloria Estefan, Madonna, Sylvester Stallone and many more calling it home.

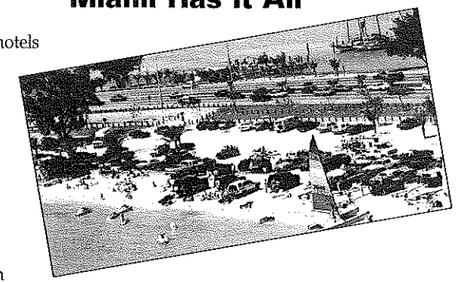

Renovated Art Deco buildings and hotels host international restaurants, open-air cafes and trendy nightclubs. Throughout this Atlantic coastline community, the restaurants feature a traditional South Florida favorite, stone crabs, and also turn out succulent rack of lamb, spicy international favorites and richly sauced pasta dishes.

In the past few years, images of "SoBe"(the SoHo of the south as South Beach is often called) have filled fashion magazines, films, and television shows from all over the world. International crews can be found filming throughout Greater Miami from dawn until dusk. Such films as "True Lies", "Ace Ventura, Pet Detective", "The Specialist", "Drop Zone" and "The Perez Family" were filmed here, in addition to "Fair Game", "Two Much", "The Substitute", "Striptease", "Up Close and Personal", "Blood and Wine" and "Birds of a Feather". You just never know who you'll run into on South Beach.

Coral Gables is the "City Beautiful"

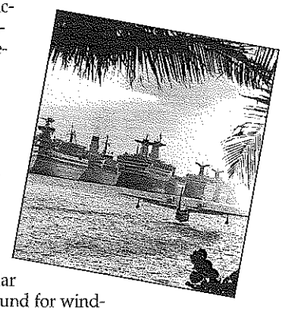

The campus itself is located in quite beautiful Coral Gables. Founded by George Merrick 68 years ago, this "City Beautiful" hosts hemispheric headquarters for many multinational corporations. The city's central boulevard is the famed Miracle Mile. It is here where residents and students enjoy some of the region's finest boutiques, gourmet restaurants and art galleries. In addition to its urban amenities, Coral Gables is distinguished by its natural terrain. Gracing 83 acres of the area's prime land is Fairchild Tropic

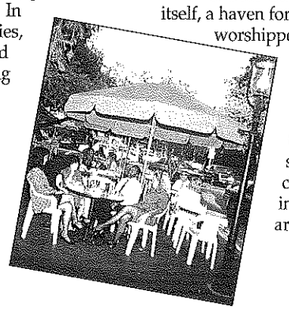

Gardens, one of the largest tropical gardens in the continental United States. To the north lies the Venetian Pool. Often called the world's most beautiful swimming lagoon, it is surrounded by caves, cascading waterfalls and natural arched bridges.

Key Biscayne Offers Natural Fun

Once a coconut plantation, Key Biscayne maintains a natural beauty rare for an area in such close proximity to an urban center. The allure of this subtropical island lies in its beaches, distinctive accomodations and recreational diversions. The sweeping curve of Rickenbacker Causeway, the Key's link to the mainland, cradles Hobie Beach, a popular public playground for windsurfers.

Over Bear Cut Bridge lies Key Biscayne itself, a haven for sports enthusiasts and sun worshippers. Three miles of sandy beaches, one of the country's finest public 18-hole golf courses and courts holding world-class tennis tournaments like the Lipton, symbols of the island's first-class resort status, are located in the 500-acre Crandon Park area.

South Florida is Sports Crazy

Miami may be best known for its lovely climate and beautiful beaches, but in recent years the city has taken its place as one of the world's greatest sports destinations. No matter what the sport, no matter what the time of year, there is never a dull moment. Miami has something for everyone. It is truly a sports fan's paradise.

Hurricanes Began the Trend

Leading the charge is the University of Miami which has set a high standard of excellence beginning with its inaugural football season in 1926. Since 1937 UM has played its home football games at the world famous Orange Bowl. This historic site has played host to 61 New Year's Day Bowl games and eight of the last 13 national championship games, including three of the University of Miami's four titles in 1983, 1987, and 1991. This past summer the Orange Bowl added the Olympics to its impressive resume as it was one of the soccer venues for the Centennial Olympic Games.

College athletics have set the standard and professional sports are keeping up the tradition. Miami is one of only eight U.S. cities that can boast a professional franchise from each of the four major sports leagues.

A Mecca for Pro Sports

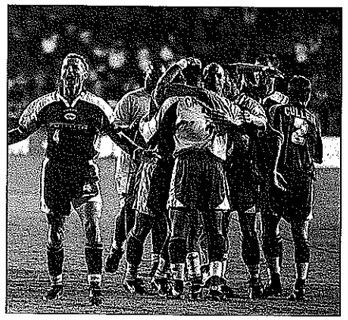

The NFL Miami Dolphins, led by head coach Jimmy Johnson, thrill fans every season at Pro Player Stadium. This sports complex has played host to two Super Bowls. Pro Player Stadium is also the home of the 1997 World Series Champion Florida Marlins.

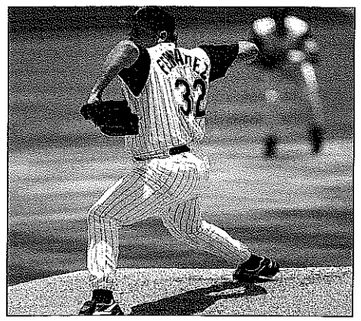

The NBA Miami Heat, led by head coach Pat Riley and all-star center Alonzo Mourning, and the Miami Hurricanes offer basketball fans fast-paced action during the winter at the Miami Arena. The Heat and Hurricanes spend most of the summer working out together. South Florida is also home to the NHL Florida Panthere. In March of 1994 the University of Miami hosted the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament East Regional at the Miami Arena. Other events such as professional wrestling and professional world figure skating are often scheduled there.

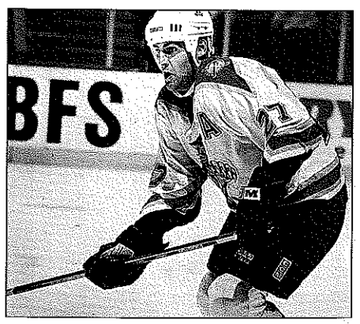

International Sporting Events

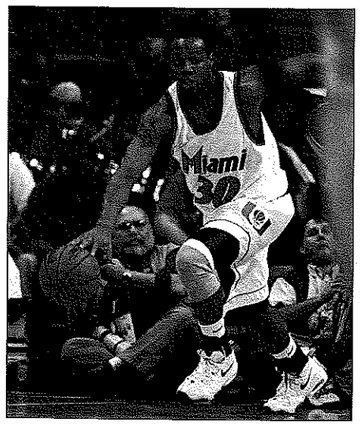

Downtown Miami isn't the only place to catch great sports action. Miami's beaches host an impressive array of sports venues. The Homestead Sports Complex is the host site of the national Olympic baseball trials and on Key Biscayne the International Tennis Center is home to the Lipton Players Championships. Greater Miami and the beaches are also the sight of the Doral-Ryder Open and the Royal Caribbean Classic, two of the PGA's top tournaments, as well as the Miami Grand Prix, one of the premier events on the International Motor Sports Association's circuit.

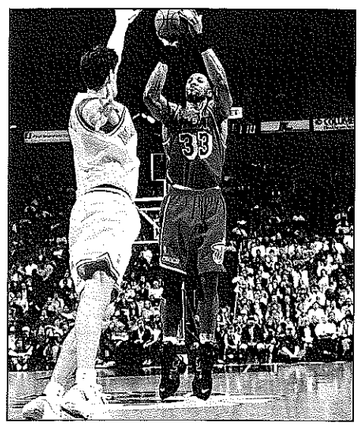

Greater Miami and the beaches have become a sports hot bed. Fast-paced Big League action, thrilling championship tournaments and motor sports all combined with spectacular year-round weather make Miami a world-class sports mecca. Even the most demanding sports enthusiasts will find Miami a perfect place.

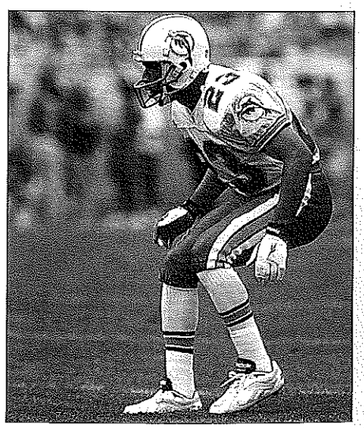

There's No Place Like Home
'Canes Play in NBA Arena

For the eleventh consecutive year the Miami Hurricanes will call the Miami Arena home. This beautiful $56 million facility, which was the site of the 1994 NCAA Tournament East Regional, contains 15,508 fully upholstered seats for college basketball and 16 luxury boxes. The Miami Arena hosts approximately 150 events annually and has welcomed more than 10 million spectators since opening in 1988.

Where the Stars Take Center Court

In addition to serving as host for UM men's basketball games, the Miami Arena is also host to the NBA's Miami Heat.

Hurricanes Enjoy Home Advantage

During their previous nine seasons in the Miami Arena, the Hurricanes have compiled a 96-56 record. Included among the 96 wins are victories over defending national champion and No. 16-ranked Kansas in January of 1989, an 11-point victory over 10th-ranked Georgetown in January of 1993, a win over 13th-ranked Georgetown in February of 1995, a victory over 11th-ranked Syracuse, the eventual NCAA Tournament runner-up, in January of 1996 and a 76-67 win over 8th-ranked Connecticut in 1998. The resounding victory over the Huskies in 1998 marked the highest-ranked opponent the 'Canes have defeated since the rebirth of the program.

Miami's 26-10 record in the Arena against BIG EAST foes since 1994 ranks fourth in the conference behind Connecticut, Georgetown and Villanova.

The Miami Arena is truly a community center which genuinely reflects the cultural, economic and civic diversity of South Florida. In addition to professional and collegiate sports, the Arena frequently hosts major concerts and family shows from Gloria Estefan to Disney On Ice.

March 6, 1995. That date will go down as one of the biggest days in University of Miami basketball history and the Hurricanes didn't play a game. That was the day University of Miami President Edward T. Foote II and M. Anthony Burns, Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of Ryder System, Inc. announced that Ryder System, Inc. had committed approximately $9 million to the development of The RYDER Center, an on campus, multipurpose facility that will become the home of University of Miami basketball.

The commitment from Ryder System, Inc. was one of the top 10 gifts in the history of the University and enabled Miami to move forward and begin planning for additional fundraising, and design and construction for the facility.

Many basketball experts feel a new on-campus facility is all Miami needs to turn the rising Hurricane program into one of the finest in the nation. The RYDER Center will accommodate 9,200 fans giving Miami the fifth largest on-campus facility in the BIG EAST behind only Syracuse-33,000; West Virginia-14,000; Notre Dame-11,418; and Connecticut-10,027.

On Aug. 5 The RYDER Center came one step closer to fruition as Dr. Edward and Joanne Dauer, Mrs. Reva Dauer and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Dauer donated $2 million towards the construction of The RYDER Center. Two weeks later the University of Miami entered into a 10-year partnership with First Union Corp. in which the corporation became the official bank sponsor of the University of Miami Athletic Department. The partnership included a $1.2 million commitment toward the construction of the University's on-campus facility.

The Hurricanes are currently one of the few major Division I athletic programs in the nation that plays both basketball and football games off campus. The state-of-the-art RYDER Center will be built on the commercial side of campus, convenient to the Metro Rail, UM's new parking garage, student residences and current athletic facilities.

Many University events are currently held outdoors or off campus. The RYDER Center will provide the University of Miami and the South Florida Community with new opportunities to present major indoor events while upgrading the current facilities to improve the quality of education for students.

Heading up the major design effort are two outstanding national firms with Ellerbe Becket, Inc. of Kansas City, MO handling design, and Spillis Candela & Partners, Inc. of Coral Gables handling architecture. The RYDER Center design is scheduled to be completed by May 1999.

"Having a company like Ryder make such a wonderful commitment to our University and program shows the amount of support there is for the University and its athletic department," said head men's basketball coach Leonard Hamilton. "The RYDER Center will be a tremendous boost and guarantee us continued success. We are happy to have a home on campus and appreciate the support of Ryder and everyone who will make this possible."

When completed, The RYDER Center will become the focal point of the UM athletic department and the surrounding community providing an abundance of opportunities, ranging from academic and athletic to campus and community. The list of possible events includes: NCAA Division I men's and women's basketball games, area high school basketball championships, commencement, orientation, convocation, lectures, conferences, theatrical productions, student government activities, alumni social events, class reunions, employment fairs and career days, cultural events and town meetings.

"The close relationship between Ryder and the University of Miami goes back many years. As we look ahead, the RYDER Center will be a reminder of the relationship between out two organizations, but Ryder's support represents much more," said Burns. "The RYDER Center will be the largest such facility in South Dade. Beyond its obvious contribution to the University's athletic program, the Center will be used for a variety of campus activities and conferences, and will also provide the community with a much-needed facility for a variety of other purposes."

Thanks in part to the tremendous efforts of campaign chair R. Ray Goode, committee chair Ed Williamson, along with Edward Dauer and the rest of the Ryder Center Committee, the Hurricanes have raised over 70 percent of the campaign's goal of $34 million. As of Oct. 1, 1998 the University has received pledges and cash contributions of $24 million.

With fund raising on target and the facility design scheduled to be completed in May 1999, construction is presently expected to begin in the late summer of 1999.

What they are saying about The RYDER Center

"We are greatful for this splendid gift. A campus convocation center has been a dream here for a long time. Ryder's generosity brings that dream much closer to reality. On behalf of the University, I express my deep appreciation to Tony Burns, one of our Trustees, and our other friends at Ryder."

—Edward T. Foote II, University of Miami President

"Ryder has given the University and its athletic department a tremendous boost with this generous gift, and we are extremely grateful. It enables us to begin development of The RYDER Center. As we go forward, we are going to need the help and support of our fans, alumni and boosters."

—Paul Dee, University of Miami Athletic Director

"I think it is terrific that Ryder is supporting Miami basketball. Leonard Hamilton and the Miami administration have done a great job of raising the level of the basketball program. Obviously, this announcement will help the Hurricanes reach even greater heights."

—Michael Tranghese, Commissioner of The BIG EAST Conference

"Having a company like Ryder make such a wonderful commitment to our University and program shows the amount of support there is for the University and its athletic department. The RYDER Center will be a tremendous boost and guarantee us continued success. We are happy to have a home on campus and appreciate the support of Ryder and everyone who will make this possible."

—Leonard Hamilton, Head Men's Basketball Coach at the University of Miami

"The RYDER Center is the last piece of the puzzle we need to make Miami basketball among the best in the nation. We thank Ryder because it is with their generous support combined with the unending efforts of President Foote, the UM administration and Paul Dee that our dream of a state-of-the-art, on-campus facility has come true."

—Ferne Labati, Head Women's Basketball Coach at the University of Miami

"I am delighted and excited to be involved with the Campaign for Ryder Center. It seems that everyone we speak with about the project is energized and ready to assist us in building this Center. We will be working with many wonderful friends of the University family who are focused on making this a reality."

—Ed Williamson, Vice Chairmen for the Campaign for Ryder Center

"The Ryder Center will have a great impact on the future of the University of Miami. Its completion will provide a facility to be used by both campus and community groups, and will contribute to the future success of the athletic program."

—Dr. Edward Dauer, University of Miami Board of Trustees

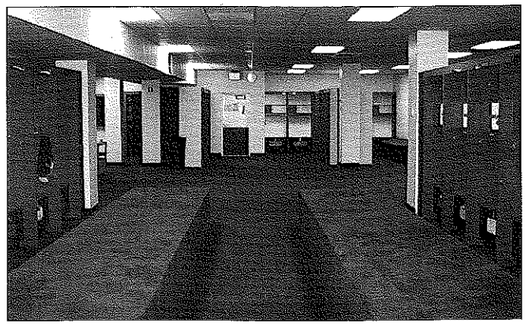

"We at First Union are happy to extend our involvement with the University of Miami's nationally renowned athletic program for another 10 years. We have had a long-standing relationship with the program that goes back many years, and it is our honor to continue that support. We hope that this commitment to the University and our community will help further the achievements of many five student athletes who participate in UM athletics."

—Carlos Migoya, First Union Bank Dade/Monroe President

Athletic Facilities

The photo showcases the University of Miami intercollegiate athletic facilities. The Hecht Athletic Center, home of Hurricane athletics, is located on San Amaro Drive in Coral Gables, Florida.

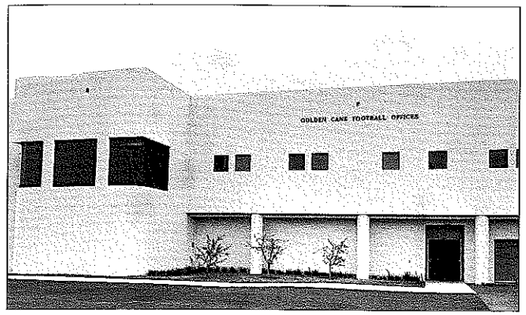

In 1994, a $1 million renovation was completed on the Hecht Athletic Center that increased office space, and improved the football locker room, training room and equipment room.

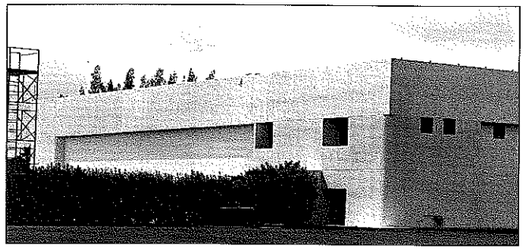

Groundbreaking for Cobb Stadium for Soccer, Track and Field was held April 21, 1998 at the site. Left: Athletic Director Paul Dee, President Edward T. Foote II, Ambassador and Mrs. Charles E. 2. RON FRASER BUILDING - completed in 1987 and located at Mark Light Stadium, this structure is named for the "Wizard of College Baseball," former Miami head coach Ron Fraser. The plush state-of-the-art facility houses the Hurricane baseball offices, clubhouse and VIP sky box.
3. COBB STADIUM FOR SOCCER, TRACK AND FIELD - through a major gift from Ambassador and Mrs. Charles E. Cobb and the Cobb family construction began mid-spring on Cobb Stadium for Soccer, Track and Field. The project includes reconstruction and expansion of the University track and the construction of a new soccer field to accommodate the University's new soccer program. The facility will initially include seating for five hundred persons and is scheduled to open in 1998.
4. KNIGHT SPORTS COMPLEX - completed in 1985, this building houses practice courts, locker rooms and coaching offices for the Miami basketball programs. One of the nation's most complete basketball practice facilities, the KSC was refurbished with a new permanent playing surface in the spring of 1994.
5. HECHT ATHLETIC CENTER - dedicated in 1979, the Hecht Center houses all the administrative offices within the University of Miami athletic program.
6. GREENTREE PRACTICE FIELDS - the practice home of the 1983, '87, '89 and '91 national football champions under went a $2 million renovation during the summer and includes three full length prescription athletic turf fields. Lights were also installed to allow for evening practices.

8. TOM KEARNS SPORTS HALL OF FAME - dedicated in 1989, this structure serves as a home to the history and honor of former Hurricane athletes and teams who have distinguished themselves in their sports.
9. GOLDEN 'CANES FOOTBALL OFFICES - dedicated in 1989, this state-of-the-art complex houses the meeting rooms and offices of the University of Miami football coaches.

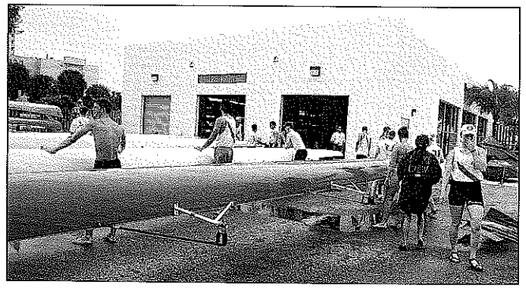

RONALD W. SHANE WATERSPORTS CENTER - on Indian Creek, a three-mile sheltered body of water that is wide enough for six boats in the heart of Miami Beach. The Watersports Center, which is used exclusively for rowing-related activities, was dedicated in October of 1993 and has 4,200 square feet of storage space for shells.

THE HURRICANE FOOTBALL OFFICES were made possible through the support of the Golden 'Canes. The addition creates expanded locker rooms, new meeting rooms, offices, and a reception area. The former football offices were transformed into an enlarged academic support area.

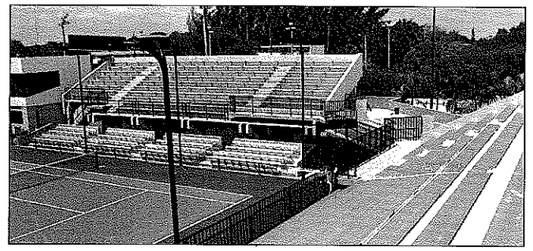

THE KNIGHT SPORTS COMPLEX borders the Cobb Stadium for Soccer, Track and Field and the Greentree Practice Fields. Opened in 1985 when basketball was brought back to UM, the structure houses the UM basketball offices and practice gymnasium, and doubled the size of the weight training facilities.

RONALD W. SHANE WATERSPORTS CENTER is located in Miami Beach and is the home to the UM Crew teams.

Located in the heart of UM's campus, the NORMAN WHITTEN STUDENT UNION POOL has been home to 34 National Title Winners and 28 Olympians, including three-time National Champion and five-time World Champion diver Greg Louganis.

The BIG EAST Conference

Michael Tranghese
Commissioner

While the BIG EAST Conference will proudly celebrate an anniversary in 1998-99, it may be surprising that the anniversary is only the league's 20th. A conference that has enjoyed tremendous success in the classroom and in the athletic arena has built its long list of accomplishments in just the previous 19 years.

The BIG EAST became a reality on May 31, 1979, following a meeting of athletic directors from Providence College, St. John's, Georgetown and Syracuse Universities. Seton Hall, Connecticut and Boston College completed the original seven-school alliance. Further expansion included Villanova (1980-81), Pittsburgh (1982-83) and Miami (1991-92). Rutgers, West Virginia and Notre Dame began play in 1995-96.

Since its birth, The BIG EAST Conference has always pledged to be a proactive - rather than reactive - group. That credo may never have been more in evidence than in 1994 when the world of college athletics was undergoing an unprecedented period of realignment and the BIG EAST was facing critical membership issues.

The BIG EAST added Rutgers, West Virginia and Notre Dame as full conference members in two separate expansions. In March of '94, the BIG EAST admitted Rutgers and West Virginia as full-time members.

BIG EAST teams are led by some of the best coaches in the nation. Here UM's Leonard Hamilton and Georgetown's John Thompson talk before their teams tip off.

Both schools, which boast wide-ranging, successful athletic programs, had been members of The BIG EAST Football Conference. In July, the BIG EAST, then a group of 12, added Notre Dame, one of the nation's most prestigious private institutions.

During the 1997-98 season, the league again was well represented by its membership and student-athletes on the national scene. In January, Notre Dame soccer player Cindy Daws was named the winner of the Honda-Broderick Cup as Collegiate Woman of the Year. For the third consecutive season, the prestigious honor was awarded to a BIG EAST student-athlete as Daws followed Connecticut basketball players Rebecca Lobo (94-95) and Jennifer Rizzotti (95-96).

Villanova's Carrie Tollefson won the individual 1997 NCAA cross country title in November. It was the seventh female individual national crown for the conference. Just two weeks later, Connecticut and Notre Dame met in the NCAA Women's Soccer Championship semifinals. The Huskies went on to play for the national title while the Irish made their fourth consecutive trip to the final weekend. The accomplishments continued into the winter as Miami's Rio Ramirez was named the NCAA Diver of the Year at the national swimming and diving meet.

Traditionally, the BIG EAST can boast that some of its best students are also some of its best athletes. Notre Dame's Pat Garrity, the BIG EAST Player of the Year in 96-97 and the league's men's basketball scholar-athlete in 97-98, earned GTE/CoSIDA First Team Academic All-America honors as a junior and senior. BIG EAST student-athletes have continued their success after leaving the classrooms and playing fields. Former Connecticut women's basketball standout Dr. Leigh Curl was recently inducted into the GTE Academic All-America Hall of Fame.

While the membership has increased, the focus of the BIG EAST remains unchanged. It is a group that reflects a tradition of broad-based programs, led by administrators and coaches who place a constant emphasis on academic integrity. The BIG EAST Conference has enjoyed a leadership role nationally. Its student-athletes own significantly high graduation rates and their record of scholastic achievement notably reflects a balance between intercollegiate athletics and academics.

Any successful consortium enjoys outstanding leadership. Michael Tranghese, the league's first full-time employee, and for 11 years the associate of Dave Gavitt, took over the Commissioner's reins in June, 1990, after Gavitt left to take a position with the Boston Celtics. The expansion in membership is only a portion of Tranghese's achievements. In his first year at the helm, he administered the formation of The BIG EAST Football Conference. The University of Miami, the largest private institution in the Southeast, became the league's 10th full member on October 10, 1990. Tranghese coordinated the expansions in 1994 that included Rutgers, West Virginia and Notre Dame.

BIG EAST sports attract the interest of followers in the nation's largest media markets including New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston,Washington, D.C., Miami, Pittsburgh and Hartford. The league has long been considered a leader in innovative concepts in promotion and publicity, particularly regarding television. Those efforts have resulted in unparalleled visibility for BIG EAST student-athletes. Exclusive long-range television contracts with CBS and ESPN, Inc. provide BIG EAST basketball with more television exposure than any other conference.

While BIG EAST basketball games are regular sellouts at campus and major public arenas, including the annual BIG EAST Tournament Championship in Madison Square Garden, attendance figures also are significant at BIG EAST soccer, women's basketball and baseball games.

More than 350 BIG EAST athletes have earned All-America recognition and dozens have won individual NCAA national championships. The BIG EAST has been well-represented in U.S. or foreign national and Olympic teams, with several athletes earning gold medals in the summer Olympiads in Atlanta in '96, Barcelona in '92, Seoul in '88 and Los Angeles in '84.

The BIG EAST has its headquarters in Providence where the conference administers to over 5,000 athletes in 19 championship events.

The BIG EAST Conference

On Television, The BIG EAST Is Still On Top

BIG EAST teams appear on television more than teams from any other conference. The league has contractual agreements with CBS, ESPN and ESPN Regional Television. This season BIG EAST teams also will be seen on ABC.

CBS will show five conference games and five intersectional contests in 1998-99. ESPN will carry the BIG EAST in its regular Big Monday format and on other nights, primarily Wednesdays and Saturdays. espn2 will televise nine conference games and two non-league matchups. For the fourth straight year, the entire AT&T BIG EAST Championship will be on ESPN (eight games) and espn2 (four games).

In 1994, the BIG EAST assigned its non-network telecast rights to ESPN, Inc., and its subsidiary, Creative Sports. In 1997, Creative Sports changed its name to ESPN Regional Television. ESPN Regional again will produce a BIG EAST Game of the Week on Saturdays at noon for stations throughout BIG EAST markets in addition to producing other games to local markets.

The BIG EAST has always been revered for its innovative approach to negotiating packages for the league's member schools. In 1985, it formed the BIG EAST Television Network which became a benchmark for regional television networks. It was the largest regional college basketball network in the country.

The conference was the first to sign an exclusive agreement with a major network, CBS in 1985, and a national cable network, ESPN, also in 85.

The formative years of the BIG EAST coincided with the early times at ESPN. In 1979-80, the first season of play in the BIG EAST, ESPN began the Monday Night Game of the Week concept.

The BIG EAST and ESPN Regional Television

When BIG EAST conference games are not televised on a national outlet, it's a good bet that the game can be found on stations and cable outlets in each school's region. ESPN Regional Television, a subsidiary of ESPN, Inc., will produce and distribute a BIG EAST Game of the Week on Saturday afternoons throughout BIG EAST markets.

The Game of the Week will reach almost 30 percent of the nation's television homes and have a total household reach of over 27 million.

BIG EAST institutions are located in seven of the top 19 markets in the United States. In addition to the Game of the Week, ESPN Regional will produce other conference and non-conference games for local markets. Nearly all of the 117 conference games will be televised.

Every game offered by ESPN Regional Television will be distributed nationally by ESPN Full Court, the pay subscription college basketball outer market service, distributed by DIRECTV.

1997-98 Season Review

The 1997-98 season was one of growth and accomplishment for a young Hurricane squad looking to move into the college basketball spotlight. Along the way Miami experienced tremendous highs and devastating lows, but in the end they persevered and accomplished something that hadn't been done at UM since 1960, Competing in the NCAA Tournament.

Hurricanes Start Fast

Miami opened the 1997-98 season with nine straight victories tying a school record. The season opener took place in Carbondale, Illinois against the Salukis of Southern Illinois. Miami's 73-61 win was its first non-conference road win since Nov. 25, 1995 and snapped the Salukis' 33-game winning streak in home openers.

Following a 69-47 win over Florida Atlantic, Miami faced 17th-ranked North Carolina Charlotte in the Miami Arena. Tim James put on a masterful performance recording 23 points, six rebounds, six blocks and five steals as the Hurricanes stunned the 49ers, 89-72, marking the first non-conference victory over a ranked opponent since 1989. For his performance James would be named the BIG EAST Player of the Week (Nov. 24).

All-BIG-EAST selection Tim James

The Hurricanes continued to knock off the competition improving to 8-0 with wins over Eastern Kentucky (86-64), Jacksonville (74-70), Rutgers (63-55), Georgetown (66-56), and Georgia State (80-64). Miami's wins over Rutgers and Georgetown marked the first 2-0 conference start in school history.

Miami then traveled to Memphis looking to tie the 1962-63 school record for consecutive wins to open the season. James once again put on show hitting his first 11 shots from the floor on his way to 27 points and 11 rebounds and a 65-57 victory. The game marked the return of Vernon Jennings who missed the first eight games of the season with a broken foot. Jennings played 20 minutes off the bench and recorded a team-high eight assists.

Streak Ends but Hurricanes Press On

The Hurricanes' winning streak would end the next game as 23rd-ranked Georgia Tech defeated Miami, 69-61, at the HIP Health Plan Orange Bowl Basketball Classic in Miami Arena. Georgia Tech was led by MVP Matt Harpring who recorded 24 points and 12 rebounds. The Yellow Jackets outrebounded the Hurricanes 53-40 while holding Miami to a season low 23-71 (.324) shooting from the field. One positive note for Miami was senior guard Kevin Norris who recorded six assists to become the Hurricanes career assists leader.

Miami bounced back with two conference road wins against Seton Hall (78-65) and Pittsburgh (73-65) before returning to Miami to face 8th-ranked Connecticut. Miami registered a resounding 76-67 win in front of 8,247 fans, the sixth largest crowd in UM history. The victory was the highest ranked opponent Miami had ever defeated in Miami Arena.

UM Stumbles on Road Trip

Following the Connecticut game the Hurricanes stood at 12-1 and found themselves on the verge of recorded their first national ranking since Feb. 23, 1965. Miami registered 95 points in the Associated Press poll and 41 points in the ESPN/USA Today Coaches poll to rank 26th in the nation.

The Hurricanes magical ride came to an abrupt halt with one of the toughest three-game road swings in league history. Miami had to traveled to West Virginia, St. John's and Syracuse and face teams with a combined record of 44-11 (.800). In each game Miami faced either a sell out crowd or season-high attendance at that time of the season. Miami dropped all three games and suddenly found themselves struggling to find the chemistry that gave them their early success.

Hurricanes Rebound from Adversity

Things became even more difficult as Coach Hamilton lost three players, including two starters, over the next two games. Sophomore starting forward Lucas Barnes was disciplined for violating team policy before the Hurricanes game with Villanova on Jan. 22 and would later leave school for personal reasons. Also against Villanova the Hurricanes lost reserve center Nick Donovan for the season after tearing the anterior cruciate ligament in his left knee while going for a rebound. Two games later Coach Hamilton was forced to discipline starting guard Johnny Hemsley for four games for a violation of team policy.

Through it all the Hurricanes managed to finish the regular season with six wins over the final 10 games. In that stretch Tim James became the 21st player in UM history to surpass 1,000 career points with an alley-oop dunk at Boston College on Jan. 28 and Kevin Norris moved ahead of Jerome Scott on UM's career steals list with one swipe versus Providence on Feb. 4.

Miami concluded the regular season with a dramatic 70-66 win over 19th-ranked West Virginia on Senior Night in the Miami Arena. In story book fashion, senior guard Kevin Norris scored the Hurricanes' last seven points over the final 69 seconds of the game to lead Miami to the win.

The win locked up the forth seed for Miami who would face Georgetown in the first round of the BIG EAST Tournament. Prior to the BIG EAST Tournament it was announced that Tim James was named to the All-BIG EAST first team becoming the first Hurricane to named first-team All-Conference.

Hurricanes Wait on Selection Sunday

A 62-56 loss to Georgetown in the opening round of the BIG EAST Tournament made NCAA Selection Sunday an anxious one for the Hurricanes. The players and coaches watched in the basketball conference room as each bracket was announced. Nervousness would change to adulation, however, as it was announced in the final half of the final bracket that Miami would make its second NCAA appearance in school history. The Hurricanes were placed in the South Region and would take on UCLA at the Georgia Dome.

Miami Battles to the End

Against one of the most storied programs in NCAA college basketball history, no one gave the Hurricanes much of chance for the upset. Miami showed they were ready to play jumping to a 10 point lead midway through the first half. UCLA would go a run late in the half and the teams found themselves tied 32-32 at the half.

UCLA looked to have the game in hand after jumping to a 10 point lead of their own with 10:52 to play in the game. Miami fought back and actually led 62-59 after two free throws from Mario Bland with 1:55 to play. But UCLA would score the games final six points for the 65-62 win.

1997-98 Season Recap and Boxscores

Game 5 - MIAMI 74, JACKSONVILLE 70
November 29, 1997
Jacksonville Coliseum, Jacksonville, FL

Tim James scored 21 points and Johnny Hemsley added a career-high 20 points to lift Miami to its fifth straight win, a 74-70 victory over Jacksonville at Jacksonville Coliseum.

James poured in 16 points in the first half, enabling Miami to take a 42-35 lead at halftime. The Hurricanes came out in the second half with a burst, out scoring the Dolphins 12-4 in the first 5 1/2 minutes to take a 54-39 lead. A jumper by Johnny Hemsley three minutes later gave Miami its biggest lead of 17 points at 58-41. Then Jacksonville's John Knox pumped in 11 points in the next two minutes, as the Dolphins cut the Miami lead to eight points, 62-54.

Knox hit another three-pointer moments later to bring Jacksonville to within five at 64-59. That was as close as the Dolphins would come, however, until Knox's final three-pointer connected with less than three seconds left in the game.

Game 26 - MIAMI 70, WEST VIRGINIA 66
February 28, 1998
Miami Arena, Miami, FL

Kevin Norris' seven points in the final 69 seconds snapped a 63-63 tie and propelled Miami to a 70-66 victory over 19th-ranked West Virginia at the Miami Arena. Norris drained a three-pointer off an inbounds pass from Vernon Jennings as the shot clock expired to give Miami a 66-63 lead with 69 seconds to play. He then converted four free throws down the stretch to seal the win.

Tim James had 19 points and 17 rebounds and Johnny Hemsley added 17 points for the Hurricanes, who avenged a 98-84 loss in Morgantown on January 10th. Damian Owens scored 17 points and Lewin added 16 and 10 rebounds for West Virginia.

Miami led 59-50 with 8:01 to play, but West Virginia went on a 12-3 burst to knot the game at 63-63 on a pair of free throws by Brian Lewin with 1:47 to play, setting up Norris' heroics. Lewin and Damian Owens each netted four points during the run.

1997-98 Season Recap and Boxscores

Game 28 - UCLA 65, MIAMI 62
March 13, 1998
1998 NCAA Men's Basketball Championship
South Region - Opening Round
Georgia Dome, Atlanta, GA

J.R. Henderson scored 26 points, including two free throws with 25 seconds remaining to put UCLA ahead, and the sixth-seeded Bruins outlasted Miami, 65-62, in the first round of the South Region at Atlanta.

Toby Bailey added 21 points for the Bruins, who went on to defeat third seed Michigan in the second round. UCLA blew a 10-point lead in the second half but recovered by scoring the game's final six points.

Mario Bland scored 18 points and Kevin Norris added 14 for the Hurricanes, who were denied their first NCAA Tournament win in school history in just their second NCAA appearance. The other came in 1960.

Henderson, the lone option in the post for UCLA, banked a 12-footer with 84 seconds to go, pulling the Bruins within 62-61. After a stop on defense, Henderson was fouled by Bland as he drove into the lane.

A 65 percent foul shooter, Henderson made both to put UCLA ahead 63-62. Miami called timeout to set up a play, but Johnny Hemsley's 18-footer from the left baseline bounced off the rim. Bailey grabbed the rebound and was fouled with 7.4 seconds left.

The senior made both and UCLA called timeout to set its defense for a final play. However, the Hurricanes were still able to get a clean look at the basket, but Charles Wiseman's jumper from 20 feet hit the rim and bounced away.

After the teams played to a 32-32 tie at the half, Baron Davis had two layups to trigger a 17-7 UCLA run as the Bruins took a 49-39 lead with 10:52 to play

The Bruins still led 52-43 with 8:56 to play after Earl Watson made one of three free throws. Miami countered with five straight points as Norris hit a three-pointer and Johnny Hemsley hit a jumper around Henderson's miss of the front end of a 1-and-1.

A three-pointer by Bailey pushed the lead back to 55-48, but jumpers by Hemsley and Bland closed the deficit to three with 5:15 to play. Bailey and Bland traded baskets, and a free throw by Watson left the Bruins ahead 58-54 at the 4:31 mark.

Bland had a tip-in 13 seconds later, and Hemsley buried a three-pointer to give Miami a 59-58 lead with 3:08 to go. Vernon Jennings and Henderson traded free throws, but Bland added two of his own to give the Hurricanes a 62-59 lead with 1:55 remaining.

Davis was the only other UCLA player in double figures, scoring 13. The Bruins shot 46 percent (24-of-52) from the field and overcame 12 missed free throws by scoring 24 points off 24 Miami turnovers.

Hemsley, who was 5-of-17 from the field, finished with 13 points and Tim James added 12 for Miami, which shot 38 percent (23-of-61) but held a 44-32 rebounding advantage, including 22-8 on the offensive end.

University of Miami Hurricanes

It lay silent for 14 years. Collecting dust and going unnoticed, the Miami basketball program was the Rip VanWinkle of college basketball from 1971 to 1985. Now, Hurricane Basketball is back. In a big way.

Since 1985 the Miami program has undergone such dramatic and frequent changes, it seemed that the Hurricanes were continually entering "a new era." First came the "Era of Miami Basketball" itself. Then came the "Bill Foster Era," followed by the "Tito Horford Era," "The Leonard Hamilton Era," and finally "The BIG EAST Era."

The latest step taken by the blossoming Hurricane program serves as the most dramatic in the 46 seasons and 70 years since the team's formation. With the entry into the BIG EAST Conference, the University of Miami not only shed its previous life-long status as an independent, it entered the ranks of the most competitive and successful basketball conference in the nation.

The road to conference affiliation in the BIG EAST has not been an easy one for those who have thirsted for basketball in this continually prospering section of the country. Moreover, the previous path traveled by Miami basketball players, coaches and fans was dotted by flashes of brilliance, color and sometimes disappointment.

Here is a capsule summary of the 70 years of Miami basketball that have intermittently played a part in the history of the athletic program at the University and its neighboring community.

The 1920s: Miami's First Time

- The Hurricanes fielded a freshman team in 1926-27, finishing 7-1 under Head Coach Art Webb.
- In 1927-28, the first official varsity basketball team at the University of Miami posted an 8-4 mark, knocking off Rollins, 51-15, in the opener.

Coach Hart Morris

The 1930s: A Missing Link

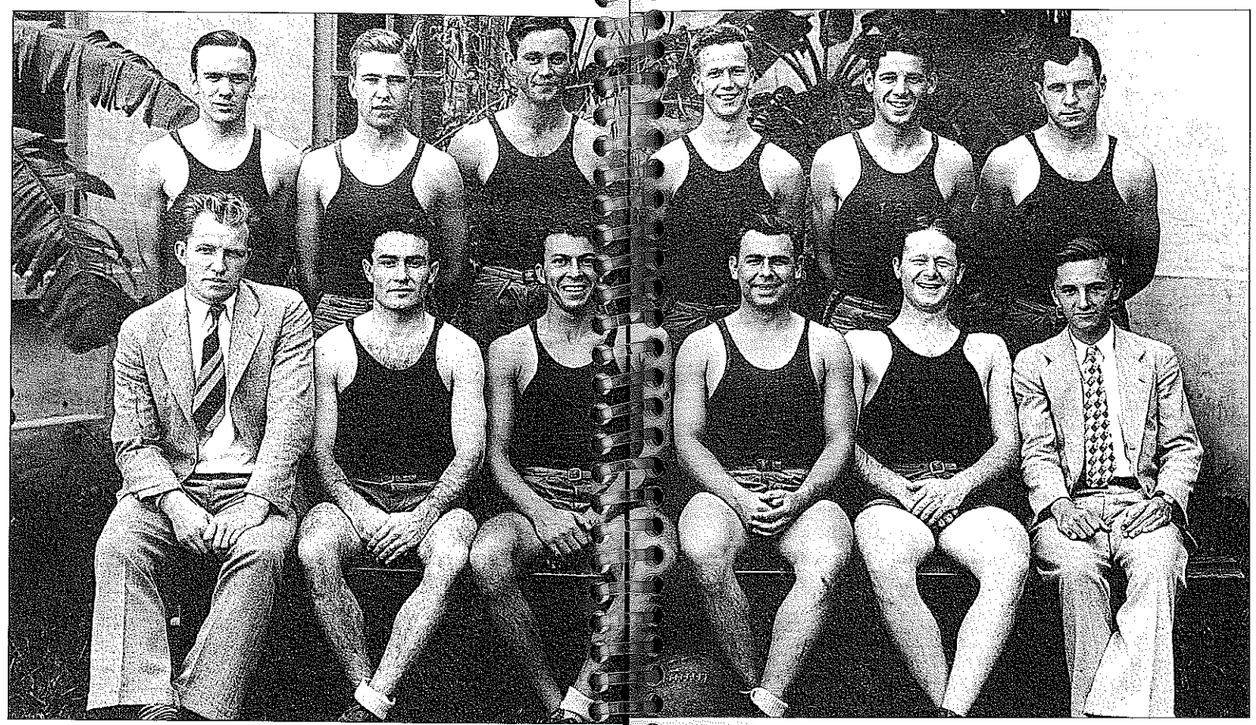

- Miami records list no official results from 1932 through 1938. During that period of time, rep resentatives from the school played local AAU and church sponsored teams under Coach Tom McCann.
- The Hurricanes returned to intercollegiate competition in the 1938-39 season, posting a 4-6 record under Head Coach Hart Morris.

The 1940s: World War II Stops Play

- Like many other institutions across the nation, Miami dropped intercollegiate basketball during the war years of 1942-1945.
- Morris returned as head coach along with the program in 1946 and was the UM mentor until 1952 when Dave Wike took over for a two-year stint as the UM coach.

The 1950s: UM's Glory Years

- In 1954, the University named Bruce Hale as its head basketball coach. The retired Air Force captain and former professional basketball star held the UM head coaching post for 13 seasons, leading the Hurricane program through its glory years of intercollegiate basketball. Before the end of Hale's tenure in 1967, the Hurricanes won 220 games and lost 112 for a .663 winning percentage. Hale's first Miami team turned in a 9-11 record, but there were no other losing campaigns in the next 12 years. The streak of non-losing seasons extended through the 1968-69 season – marking 14 consecutive campaigns of .500 basketball or better for UM.
- Hale's 1959-60 club was the first UM men's basketball team to advance to the NCAA Tournament and finish the season ranked in the Associated Press Top 10. That 1959-60 edition ran its record to 23-3 before bowing to Western Kentucky, 107-84, in the first round of the tournament.
- During that historic '59-60 NCAA Tournament year, junior guard Dick Hickox became the first UM basketball player to earn All-America recognition. Hickox averaged 22.1 points per game during that season en route to becoming a second-team AP and UPI All-American.

The 1928-29 Miami Hurricanes recorded a 13-6 overall record.

The 1960s: Rick Barry's All-American Years

- The Dick Hickox-led Hurricanes of 1960-61 returned to post-season play — falling in the first round of the NIT to St. Louis, 58-56. The 1960-61 squad compiled a 20-7 record.
- In 1962-63, Miami advanced to the second round of the NIT before falling to Providence, 106-96. An opening round NIT victory over St. Francis (NY), 71-70, marks the only Miami victory to date in post-season play.
- From 1962 through 1965, Miami recorded three consecutive 20-win seasons, rolling up a composite record of 65-16. The star of these Hurricane glory teams was a brilliant scorer named Rick Barry.
- In 1964-65, Barry became the Hurricanes' only consensus All-America selection. The 6-7, 200-pound native of Roselle Park, New Jersey led the nation in scoring with a 37.4 average in his senior season. He went on to become the only player in basketball history to win single-season scoring titles in the NCAA, ABA and NBA. He was inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, MA, in 1986.

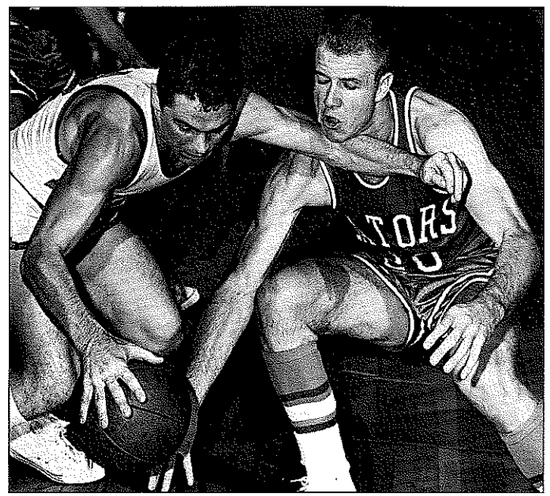

Rick Barry
UM's 1st Consensus All-American (1962-65)

- The 1964-65 Miami squad, led by Barry's scoring brilliance, established a new NCAA scoring record by averaging 98.4 points per game. The 'Canes, however, were not allowed to participate in the NCAA Tournament that year — after posting a 22-4 record — because of recruiting violations.
- Bruce Hale resigned after 1966-67 and assistant Ron Godfrey assumed the head coaching responsibilities.

The 1970s: First Era Ends

- Don Curnutt closed out his Miami basketball career in 1970 as the Hurricanes' third and last player to receive All-America recognition.
- February 27, 1971 — The last victory by a University of Miami men's basketball team came in the second to the last game of the season, a 100-94 triumph over Florida State at home in the Dinner Key Auditorium. The 'Canes shot a season-high 62.5 percent from the floor as all five Miami starters scored in double figures.
- March 1, 1971 — After posting a four-year record of 47-56 at Miami, Ron Godfrey resigned his post as head basketball coach, effective following Miami's final game of the season against nationally ranked Jacksonville.
- March 2, 1971 — The last game played by a University of Miami men's team until 1985 took place at the Dinner Key Auditorium where one of the largest UM home crowds in years turned out to see the Hurricanes host nationally ranked Jacksonville. The Dolphins handed Miami a 94-75 loss that remained as UM's last contest for the next 14 years.
- April 22, 1971 — The University of Miami Board of Trustees voted to drop the sport "temporarily until such time as a permanent field house can be constructed on the main campus." Sagging attendance figures and serious financial losses were also believed to contribute to the discontinuation of basketball at UM.

Basketball History - 1926-1997

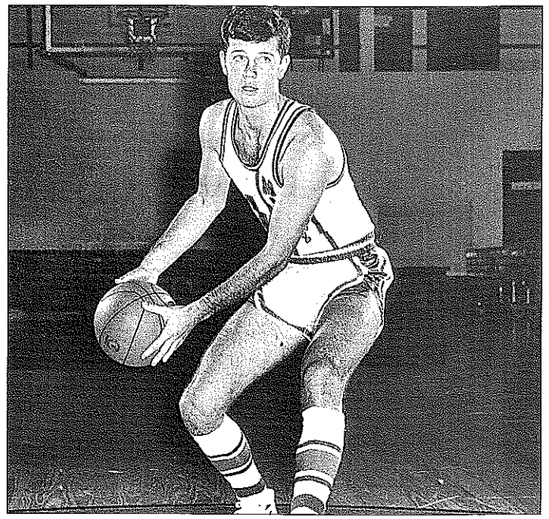

Dick Hickox was named UM's first All-American in 1960. He led UM to a 23-3 record, the Hurricanes' first NCAA tournament and the school's only final regular-season Associated Press Top 10 ranking.

In 1983: UM Commits To Rebuild

- July 15, 1983 — Sam Jankovich was named athletic director at the University of Miami. Coming to UM after a successful stint as the athletic director at Washington State, Jankovich immediately announced that the resurrection of men's basketball at Miami would be his primary priority in the early months of his tenure, enabling UM to have "one of the nation's most complete and visible overall programs in the country.
- October 12, 1983 — The University of Miami Board of Trustees unanimously voted to reinstate men's basketball at the University of Miami. The Board made the decision after reviewing a report submitted by newly hired Athletic Director Sam Jankovich which stated that men's basketball can be a revenue-producing venture. Moreover, nearly $500,000 had already been raised in support of bringing basketball back to the University. It was also announced that the Hurricanes would be ready to compete on the Division I level in the 1985-86 season, and the downtown James L. Knight Center was home for the reborn program.

"This is an exciting day for the University and for the athletic program," UM President Edward T. Foote II said. "And we are keeping in mind the priorities of academics first and athletics second ... we are pleased that the changes in the economics of intercollegiate basketball allow the University to resurrect one of the country's most popular sports. We look forward to welcoming these Hurricanes home again."

As a second-team All-American, Don Curnutt's career came to an end in the 1970s, so did Miami's first era of basketball.

In 1984: Foster Hired As Coach

- March 21, 1984 — Bill Foster, a 47-year-old native of Hemingway, South Carolina was named the seventh men's basketball coach at the University of Miami. Foster came to Miami after 19 years as a head coach at three different institutions: Shorter College, North Carolina-Charlotte and Clemson. Foster also announced on this day that Clint Bryant, a long-time assistant at Clemson, would also join the Miami staff in a similar capacity.
- April 9, 1984 – Bill Foster announced the hiring of a second assistant coach, Seth Greenberg, who was serving as an assistant coach to Terry Holland at the University of Virginia.
- April 16, 1984 – Tim Harvey, a 6-10, 240-pound center, became the first basketball player to commit to the University of Miami in over 14 years. The Plainfield, New Jersey native announced that he would transfer to Miami after spending two seasons in the Georgia Tech program.
- July 1, 1984 – A third assistant coach was hired to complete the basketball staff as Miami native Cesar Odio returned home after serving as an assistant coach at his alma mater, Florida Southern College.
- October 11, 1984 – Nearly one full year after the announcement that basketball would return to the University, Athletic Director Sam Jankovich announced that a million dollar-plus practice facility would be constructed on the Coral Gables campus. The new all purpose structure – located between the Hecht Athletic Center and the Greentree Track would be funded through a gift from the James L. Knight Charitable Trust.
- The first phase of the 1985-86 basketball schedule was also announced on this day, and the line-up included such perennial powers as North Carolina, Georgia, Notre Dame, Marquette and Dayton.
- October 15, 1984 – The first men's basketball practice session in over twelve years was held on the patio in the center of campus. More than 200 members of the student body participated as Foster and his assistants searched for prospects under the warm Florida sun.

In 1985: With Everything In Place, Miami Tips Off Again

- Jankovich also announced the completion of a local television schedule (on WBFS-Channel 33) that would bring all nine UM road games back to Miami by way of live local broadcasts. Channel 33 would also carry selected home games in the Knight Center.
- WIOD Radio, the radio voice of UM football and baseball would also carry all Hurricane basketball games with veteran Hurricane announcer Sonny Hirsch at the microphone.

- November 12, 1985 – The Knight Sports Complex was dedicated at a gala banquet that was held on the basketball courts of the new structure. CBS basketball analyst Billy Packer served as the evening's guest speaker for an event which welcomed over 500 guests to the on-campus home of Hurricane basketball. The facility now serves as the practice home to the men's and women's basketball programs while also housing the men's basketball coaching staff offices. In addition, the Knight Sports Complex enabled the athletic program to more than double the size of the existing strength room, while also providing meeting rooms and lecture rooms for all of Miami's student athletes. The structure is located between the Hecht Athletic Center and the Greentree Track.
- November 22, 1985 – The brand new era of Hurricane basketball was ushered in by a young UM squad which defeated The Citadel, 85-77, in front of a sellout crowd of 4,984 at the Knight Center. Dennis Burns (24 points), Kevin Presto (22) and Eric Brown (21) combined to lead the Miami offense, while Bryan Hughes enjoyed the distinction of scoring Miami's first point in 14 years (a free throw with 18:34 remaining in the first half).

End of the 1980s: UM Moves Forward, Upsets Top 20 Teams

- March 5, 1986 – An 84-62 loss to Marquette in Milwaukee closed the Hurricanes' first season since 1970-71. Miami finished the year with a 14-14 record, giving Bill Foster his 19th non-losing record in 20 years as a collegiate head coach.
- The 1986-87 season – Though still considered "America's Youngest Team," Miami compiled a 15-16 slate – recording upset victories over Marquette, Stanford and Florida State, while losing by only four points to future BIG EAST foe Providence – a team that advanced to the NCAA Final Four.
- The 1987-88 season – Thrilling victories over both Providence and Virginia Commonwealth propelled the 'Canes to continued improvement with a 17-14 record. Following the season, center Tito Horford announced his intention to enter the NBA Draft without completing his final two seasons of eligibility. Miami was left with anything but a depleted roster as ten lettermen, including eight seniors, returned for UM's fourth season.
- April 12, 1988 – Athletic Director Sam Jankovich announces plans to move Hurricane Basketball to the new $56 million Miami Arena. Also home to the NBA's Miami Heat, the state-of-the-art basketball facility signifies a new era in the rise of South Florida basketball.
- December 10, 1988 – A crowd of 6,654 watches the Hurricanes run neck-and-neck for 40 minutes with ACC powerhouse Duke. Blue Devil Danny Ferry needs a superhuman performance to stop the 'Canes as he connects on 23 of 26 shots en route to 58 points. Ferry later calls Miami "a definite Top 40 team."
- January 12, 1989 – Joel Warren's free throw, his only point of the evening, with two seconds remaining clinches Miami's first victory over a Top 20 team as the 'Canes upset defending national champion and No. 16-ranked Kansas, 87-86, at the Miami Arena.
- March 6, 1989 – The Hurricanes post an 89-82 win over Florida International University in the first annual Carnival Miami Cup. The win leaves Miami with a 19-12 slate, good enough for the best record in 24 years and ten seasons at Miami. Eric Brown ends his brilliant Miami career with 2,270 career points, just 28 back of All-America Rick Barry's Hurricane record of 2,298.
- December 6, 1989 – Miami hands an 87-82 loss to eventual NCAA tournament participant University of Dayton as a Hurricane squad that includes six freshmen and no seniors jumps out with three consecutive wins to start the season.

- December 28, 1990 – The Hurricanes rebound from back-to-back double overtime defeats to upset No. 28-ranked Mississippi State, 74-67, in the consolation contest of the Eastern Airlines Palm Beach Classic. Joe Wylie is voted to the all-tournament squad after breaking seven tourney records including total points with 60 in the two games.
- January 3, 1991 – Joe Wylie becomes the 17th player in the history of UM basketball to score 1,000 career points. Wylie would later go on to finish his UM career ranked No. 8 for both scoring and rebounding in the UM record books.

layden throughout the year as the 'Canes were victorious in six of their final nine contests and finished ranked No. 128 in the USA Today computer rankings – Miami's highest finish since the rebirth of the program (including 1988-89 when the 'Canes produced a 19-12 record).

- April 10, 1991 – Leonard Hamilton's first recruiting class is completed with the signing of Ochiel Swaby of Miami, the nation's leading HS scorer with 47.1 points per game. - January 2, 1992 – Miami tips off in its inaugural BIG EAST contest at the University of Connecticut's Gampel Pavilion. It is a baptism by fire for the young Hurricanes as the game at UConn is the first of four consecutive conference games in 10 days for Miami.
- January 14, 1992 – In the first home conference game in UM history, the Hurricanes shock the nation with a stunning 45-42 upset of perennial BIG EAST power St. John's. The UM victory would ultimately cost the Redmen the outright conference championship as they completed the regular season in a tie with Georgetown and Seton Hall.
- March 12, 1992 – Miami turns the Big Apple upside down with a convincing 83-71 victory over Pittsburgh in the BIG EAST Tournament at Madison Square Garden. The Panthers had beaten Miami in the two regular-season contests by a total of 52 points, but Jerome Scott (30 points) and Trevor Burton (25 points) led a spirited Miami squad past Pitt and into the second round of the conference showcase. Earning the respect of the league and nation, Miami led Georgetown, 34-33, at the half of their quarterfinal contest before dropping a 77-64 decision to the Hoyas. - April 28, 1992 – Head Coach Leonard Hamilton takes another giant step in the development of Miami basketball with the completion of his second recruiting class. Six prep standouts, including Steven Edwards of Miami Senior High School, make up the new Hurricane class which is ranked No. 4 in the nation.
- January 2, 1993 – For the second consecutive season, Miami opens its home BIG EAST schedule with a victory as the Hurricanes upset No. 10-ranked Georgetown, 80-69. The resounding victory marks the highest-ranked team the 'Canes have defeated since the rebirth of the program.

The 76-68 win over Pittsburgh is the Hurricanes' ninth league victory of the season and assures them of their first .500 league season and puts UM over the .500 mark (9-8) for the first time in BIG EAST play. The win also assures Miami of at least a .500 overall season for the first time since the 1988-89 campaign.
- March 4, 1995 – A record UM crowd of 11,263 pours into the Miami Arena to watch the Hurricanes take on fourth-ranked Connecticut in the regular-season finale. Miami, which lost a tough 75-67 decision, finished the season with a 9-9 record in BIG EAST play establishing a new conference record for single-season improvement. Miami's nine-win conference increase tied Louisiana Tech for the best conference improvement in the nation. Miami made a habit out of winning close games in 1995. In The Mid Nineties: UM Moves Forward

- January 3, 1996 – The Hurricanes opened the New Year in style cruising to a 75-66 victory in the Miami Arena over 11th-ranked Syracuse, the eventual NCAA Tournament runner-up. The 'Canes set a school BIG EAST record by connecting on 71.4 percent (20-28) of their field goal attempts in the second half. UM also set a school BIG EAST record for points in a half with 50 second-half points.
- January 8, 1996 – The Hurricanes' game at Seton Hall was postponed due to the Blizzard of '96. The postponement was the first since the rebirth of the program in 1985. Four BIG EAST games were postponed due to the blizzard. Prior to those four contests only two games in the 17-year history of The BIG EAST had been postponed and all were due to inclement weather.
- February 10, 1996 – Steven Edwards became The BIG EAST Conference all-time leader in three-point field goals made in league play (167) when he connected on a trey with 5:39 left in UM's 62-58 loss to 21st-ranked Boston College. Retired Jerseys

The only basketball jersey that has been retired at the University of Miami is number 24 in honor of Rick Barry, the Hurricanes' all-time leading scorer. Barry, who is UM's lone consensus first team All-American, led the Hurricanes to a 65-16 record and a pair of post-season berths in this three years. Barry, who finished his UM career with 2,298 points and 1,274 rebounds, is the only Hurricane to top both the 2,000-point and the 1,000-rebound barrier. He still owns five UM career records and numerous single-season records. Barry was inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, MA in 1986. He is the only player in basketball history to win single-season scoring titles in the NCAA, NBA and ABA.

Once Coach Hamilton has concluded his post-game press conference, two or three Hurricane players will be brought to the interview room to address the media. Members of the media requiring specific players are instructed to inform a UM SID representative of their request. THE UM LOCKER ROOM WILL NOT BE OPEN FOR POST-GAME INTERVIEWS.
