PRESIDENT

President Edward T. Foote II

Foote has shown solid support and an unwavering commitment to UM's athletic program.

UM'S FOURTH PRESIDENT

Edward T. "Tad" Foote II became the fourth president of the University of Miami in 1981. During more than a decade of Foote's leadership, the University has experienced tremendous success.

After graduating from Yale University in 1959, Foote served three years in the U.S. Marine Corps. In the early 1960s, he worked as a journalist for the Washington Star. While in law school, he worked for the Washington Daily News and later was assistant to the chairman of the Pennsylvania Avenue Commission in Washington, D.C.

A QUICK ASCENT

Following graduation from Georgetown University Law Center in 1966, Foote practiced trial, appellate, and labor law with Bryan, Cave, McPheeters & McRoberts in St. Louis, Mo.

In 1970, he became vice chancellor, general counsel, and secretary to the Board of Trustees for Washington University in St. Louis, then served from 1973-80 as dean of the Washington University School of Law where he taught constitutional law and legal ethics. Foote was special advisor to the chancellor and Board of Trustees for Washington University, while he chaired two federal court-appointed citizen's committees that designed desegregation plans for St. Louis in 1980 and 1981.

A SOLID LEADER

Upon his arrival at the University of Miami in 1981, Foote introduced corporate-style strategic planning. Among his top priorities were reducing the number of students while increasing the number of faculty. Currently there are 8,370 undergraduates, 5,364 graduate and professional students, and 1,853 full-time faculty. Approximately three-quarters of the current faculty were hired by Foote and the University's research productivity has expanded dramatically under his leadership. The 2,301 faculty attracted $143 million in research and sponsored programs for 1994-95. Ranked 38th nationally in federally funded research and development spending, the university is the largest, most comprehensive, private research university in the Southeast.

TREMENDOUS GROWTH

During the past decade under President Foote's leadership, Miami added the schools of Architecture and Communication as well as the Graduate School of International Studies, bringing the total to 14. He also launched an ambitious $400 million five-year fund-raising campaign that was the second largest capital campaign in the history of higher education. It ended in 1990 with $517.5 million in commitments, including endowments for 45 chairs in various areas. In 1991, UM launched a $15 million Cornerstone Campaign to raise funds for the library and college of arts and sciences.

BUILDING UM'S FUTURE

Foote also introduced the residential college concept at the University of Miami to enhance the undergraduate experience. Following a tradition established at universities in England, each is directed by a Master and Faculty Fellows, tenured senior faculty members who live at the college and are actively involved in planning a series of academic, social and recreational programs for resident students.

INTERNATIONAL HONORS

Active in a number of civic and educational organizations in the community, he is a director of Ryder System, Inc. and a member of the Council on Foreign Relations. He is founding chairman of The Miami Coalition for a Drug-Free Community, a nationally recognized community organization committed to reducing the drug problem. It has served as a model for community based anti-drug groups in more than 193 cities and 41 countries, including Colombia. Foote is on the President's Drug Advisory Council Steering Committee for a National Organization of Community Coalitions.

Among other awards, he received honorary degrees from Washington ('81), Tokai ('84), and Barry ('91). In 1982 the president of Peru presented him with that country's highest honor, the Order of the Sun.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Athletic Director Paul Dee

Dee is a strong leader with a vision and commitment to making Miami the best.

Paul Dee was named UM's Director of Athletics on June 25, 1993. Dee had served as general counsel for the University since 1981, building a reputation among his peers for his strong leadership, integrity, fairness and ability to get along with people.

Dee, 48, is no stranger to intercollegiate athletics, having twice served as Miami's interim athletic director and working closely with the athletic department during his tenure as University general counsel. He has served on committees that brought former athletic directors Sam Jankovich and Dave Maggard to UM, negotiated radio and TV contracts and is nationally renowned as a speaker on educational, ethical and legal issues concerning intercollegiate athletics.

A SUCCESSFUL SEARCH

Dee has presided successfully over Hurricane athletics during his first two years, making many key decisions that will shape the future of the program. After only 18 months on the job, he faced his toughest challenge: The hiring of a new head football coach.

On January 24, 1995, Dee took great pleasure in introducing the highly-sought after Dallas Cowboys' defensive coordinator Butch Davis as his choice. Davis, who had been an assistant at Miami from 1984-88, was a candidate for NFL head coaching jobs. But he chose the Hurricanes.

"Paul Dee has tremendous character and I have tremendous respect for him," said Davis. "I think he's one of the most highly respected individuals in college athletics. He is one of the main reasons I decided to take the job."

UPGRADING FACILITIES: NOW- AND FOR THE FUTURE

Dee has always been committed to facility improvements, including resurfacing the Greentree Track and the Neil Schiff Tennis Center Courts in 1993, the conversion of Mark Light Stadium from artificial turf to natural grass for the 1994 season, a new basketball floor and newly refurbished men's and women's locker rooms in the Knight Sports Complex for the 1994-95 season.

Last fall Dee also implemented the expansion and improvements to the football locker room and athletic training facilities where medical care is provided to student athletes. The state-of-the-art facility was completed in late November.

UPCOMING: THE RYDER CENTER

But the best is yet to come. On March 6, University President Edward T. Foote and Ryder System, Inc. President and Chief Executive Officer Tony Burns announced that Ryder had committed approximately $9 million dollars to the development of the RYDER Center, Miami's new on-campus, multipurpose facility that will seat approximately 9,000 for basketball. Dee sees the challenge ahead in making today's dream into tomorrow's reality, and he already knows what that will take.

"This gift enables us to begin the development of the RYDER Center," Dee said. "As we go forward, we are going to need the help and support of our fans, alumni and boosters."

COMMITMENT TO EQUALITY

Dee believes intensifying fund raising efforts and developing stronger interest in women's sports are vital to ensuring the future success of the Hurricane program. Dee proved his commitment during his five-week stint in 1993 as interim athletic director when Maggard resigned to become Director of Sports for the 1996 Summer Olympics in Atlanta, signing women's basketball coach Ferne Labati to a multi-year contract. Labati has graduated all 21 of her players and won three conference championships in her seven years on the job.

RAPID ACHIEVEMENTS

Looking back at his first two years, it is clear that Paul Dee can overcome any challenge the job provides with integrity. The accomplishments speak for themselves: His appointment of Jim Morris as head baseball coach during his first year on the job was a phenomenal success. Morris was recognized as Coach of the Year by Baseball America in 1994 as he led his team to Miami's 13th College World Series appearance. Morris continued his winning ways in 1995 with the 'Canes' 14th straight CWS appearance and a third-place finish in the nation.

Dee saw two more coaches gain national honors over the past year: Men's basketball coach Leonard Hamilton was named UPI's 1994-95 National Coach of the Year as well as the BIG EAST's Coach of the Year as Miami gained its first postseason bid in 31 years. Diving Coach Randy Abelman, whose three freshmen divers swept 1-2-3 in the 10-meter platform event at the NCAA Championships, was also named National Coach of the Year by his peers.

Dee has also made his mark in the national athletic community, becoming active in the NCAA as well as serving as a member of the BIG EAST Conference executive committee and the television committee of the BIG EAST Football Conference.

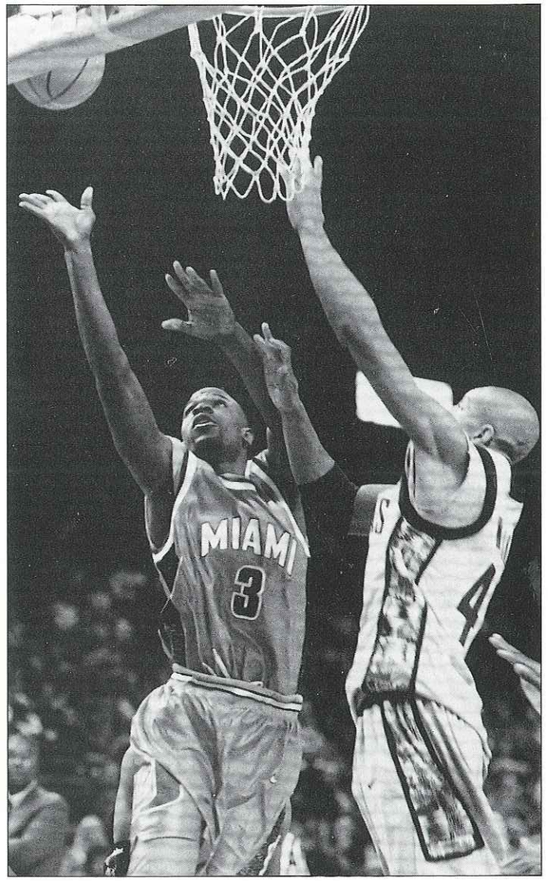

SUCCESS BREEDS SUCCESS

Before joining the University, Dee was with the Miami law firm of Mershon, Sawyer, Johnston, Dunwoody & Cole and was a law clerk for Chief U.S. District Judge Charles Fulton in Miami. He received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of Florida in 1970 and his master's of education and juris doctor degrees with honors from the University of Miami in 1973 and 1977, respectively. He's a candidate for a doctor of education.

While in law school, he served as an editor of the UM Law Review. He is active in the National Association of College and University Attorneys and served on its Board of Directors from 1986-89. He is also active in local and state bar associations and recently chaired the Judicial Nominating Commission for Florida's 3rd District Court of Appeal. Dee was Athletic Director at Glades Central High School in Belle Glade, Florida from 1971-74.

Dee was raised in West Palm Beach. Married to the former Elizabeth Hall, he and his wife have a son, Terrance, who is a senior at Harvard.

1995-96 BASKETBALL PREVIEW

Junior co-captain Alex Fraser is Miami's leading returning rebounder.

What a difference a year makes. Last year at this time the Hurricanes were trying to overcome a mountain of obstacles. This year Miami is beaming with confidence after recording one of the best seasons in school history, culminated with a post-season berth, to the National Invitation Tournament, for the first time in 31 years. Head Coach Leonard Hamilton, who was rewarded by winning the 1995 United Press International National Coach of the Year Award and the BIG EAST Conference Coach of the Year Award, has the Hurricanes on the rise in the BIG EAST Conference which is ranked the best in the nation this year by The Sporting News.

There is cause for excitement in Coral Gables as the Hurricanes return 12 letterwinners, including three starters from last season's NIT team, which tied Louisiana Tech for the greatest conference improvement in the nation. In just their fourth season in the BIG EAST the Hurricanes recorded an upper division finish and created a winning atmosphere that fuels this year's optimism.

Miami returns 71 percent of its scoring, 74 percent of its rebounding and 77 percent of its assists from last year's squad. The Hurricanes also added another solid recruiting class and are buoyed by the return of Will Davis (7'0"), last year's projected starter at center, and Brad Timpf (6'10") who each missed the 1994-95 season due to knee injuries. Add to that the maturity and poise this team gained by winning tight conference games and things are starting to look up for the 'Canes.

DEVELOPING A WINNING ATTITUDE

The injury-riddled Hurricanes defied the odds last season by recording a 9-1 record in BIG EAST games decided by six points or less or in overtime. Time after time, Hamilton's troops made big plays in crucial situations. They started believing in themselves and in one another. The results were remarkable and basketball enthusiasm in Miami has never been higher.

Last season, Miami finished as one of the toughest and most aggressive defensive teams. UM led the conference in both scoring defense, allowing just 67.4 points per game, and field goal percentage defense, holding opponents to just 40.2 percent shooting from the floor.

This year the 'Canes appear to be even stronger defensively. The return of Davis and the additions of junior college transfer Clifton Clark (6'4") and freshmen Tim James (6'7") and Nick Donovan (6'11") provide the Hurricanes with depth and athletic prowess. Miami will look to turn solid defensive stands into transition baskets.

Offensively, despite the lack of a proven "go-to" guy the Hurricanes appear stronger. Hamilton has assembled a balanced offensive attack with numerous weapons and a team that will look to take advantage of its added quickness and run more.

For the first time since he took over the coaching reigns at Miami, Hamilton has the necessary depth to dictate the tempo in which a game will be played. He now has the versatility to put many different combinations on the floor. He can play a big team or a quick pressing team, whatever the situation dictates.

TALENT UP FRONT

Despite the loss of Constantin Popa, UM's all-time leading shot blocker and second-round NBA draft pick, the Hurricanes are loaded with talent in the frontcourt. In addition to welcoming back a healthy Davis and Timpf, the Hurricanes return seniors Steve Rich (6'9") and Lorenzo Pearson (6'8"), junior captain Alex Fraser (6'7") and freshmen James and Donovan.

Davis could hold the biggest key of the season for the 'Canes. Two years ago he appeared in 20 games and captured the team's "Most Improved Player" Award. He finished the season strong and followed it with a promising showing during the 'Canes 1994 summer tour of Israel. Hamilton had him penciled into the 'Canes starting lineup before disaster struck. Playing in a pickup game last September, Davis tore the anterior cruciate ligament in his right knee and was forced to miss the entire season. After a grueling off-season of rehabilitation and conditioning, Davis appears ready to realize the promise the Hurricanes see in him. Despite the off-season surgery Davis is still one of the Hurricanes most athletic frontcourt players. He can still run the floor with ease and finish a play around the basket with his outstanding leaping ability.

Perhaps no one has been bothered more my nagging injuries than Steve Rich. A powerful force on the glass and in the paint, Rich provides the 'Canes with a legitimate offensive force underneath the basket and a toughness on the boards. When healthy he has shown flashes of brilliance, Hamilton's problem has been keeping him healthy. Last year he started the first three games of the season before being sidelined and hampered by a stress fracture in his right leg. Despite playing with the stress fracture the rest of the season he made key contributions, including an 18-point effort in the 'Canes upset win at St. John's. In the final 11 contests last season, Rich shot 65.2 percent from the floor and capped the campaign with a team-high 12 rebounds in the 'Canes NIT battle at Penn State.

Pearson, who played sparingly his first two years, showed vast improvement last season and made seven starts. The Chicago native provided the 'Canes with solid play in the middle, including a 13-point, 10-rebound effort against BIG EAST Tournament champion Villanova. He enters the 1995-96 campaign as one of the Hurricanes most improved players and will be a valuable member of the frontcourt rotation.

Fraser, who moved into the starting lineup midway through his freshman season, continued to make impressive strides. He is the 'Canes top defensive forward and their leading returning rebounder. He is a force on the offensive boards and provides the 'Canes with needed leadership. On nine occasions last season Fraser led the 'Canes in rebounds including a career day against Florida A&M when he scored 19 points and grabbed 16 rebounds.

Timpf returns to the Miami lineup this season after missing the entire 1994-95 campaign due to a knee injury suffered during UM's Midnight Madness practice last October. He worked hard over the summer rehabilitating the knee and gives the Hurricanes additional depth up front. The rugged 6'10" junior provides Hamilton with another solid defender and rebounder.

In Tim James, the Hurricanes might possess the best overall athlete in the BIG EAST. The 6'7" freshman runs the floor extremely well and has excellent leaping ability. As a junior at Miami Northwestern High School he set a state record in the high jump with a jump of 7'2". A third-team Parade Magazine All-America selection last season, James finished his prep career as the all-time leading scorer, rebounder and shot blocker in Miami Northwestern history. He has the ability to play either of the frontcourt positions and should be a key member of Miami's frontcourt rotation.

Donovan comes to the Hurricanes from Coventry, England and follows in the Hurricane tradition of securing foreign big men. At 6'11", he provides the 'Canes with another shot blocking threat and will battle for time in the crowded UM frontline. Last season, he averaged 24.3 points and 15 rebounds per game for the Birmingham Bullets club team and was named the Birmingham Young Player of the Year.

MANY OPTIONS IN THE BACK

Competition for playing time on the wing and in the backcourt will be fierce. Hamilton has eight players to rotate along the perimeter led by senior captain Steven Edwards.

Edwards, the 'Canes leading scorer in two of his first three seasons, is finally fully recovered from knee injuries that hampered him the past two years. He is the 'Canes all-time leader in three-point field goals made and enters the season just 33 treys shy of becoming the BIG EAST Conference all-time leader. Last season, Edwards led the 'Canes in scoring, three-point field goals made, free throws made and free throw percentage. Despite battling injuries he has played all 82 games during his career and has scored in double figures 57 times and hit at least one three-point field goal in 78 games. His ability to connect from downtown will be crucial to the Miami frontline as he attempts to stretch opposing defenses and open things up underneath for UM's forwards.

In just his second season, Kevin Norris has firmly established himself as the Hurricanes' leader on the floor and a fan favorite with his flashy style. The fiery point-guard brought stability to the UM backcourt and made the impossible play look routine. Norris earned BIG EAST All-Rookie honors after leading the 'Canes in both assists and steals. He ranked second on the team in free throw percentage and had a knack for rising to the occasion in big games. A prime example is when he scored a career-high 21 points and grabbed eight rebounds in the Hurricanes nationally televised upset win at St. John's to earn BIG EAST Rookie of the Week honors.

Newcomer Clifton Clark, a junior college transfer from Atlanta Metropolitan Junior College, will see a lot of playing time at the shooting guard or small forward positions. He arrives at Miami after averaging 25.3 points, 6.2 rebounds, 3.5 assists and 2.8 steals last season to earn National Junior College Athletic Association All-America honorable mention honors. Clark, who has three-point range, is a solid defender. He also has the ability to penetrate a defense and finish plays.

Steve Frazier, who was crippled by tendinitis in both knees last season, is starting to return to the form that made him one of the most sought after recruits nationally coming out of high school. Frazier's ability to return to form will help determine how good this Hurricane team will be. Last season in just under 20 minutes per game he finished fourth on the team in three-point field goals made and assists and his assist-to-turnover ratio was the best on the squad.

Junior Torey McCormick returned to Coral Gables this fall in the best shape of his life, determined to make a major impact this season and the result could be increased playing time. Two years ago, as a freshman, McCormick led the 'Canes in minutes played, assists and steals. Last season however, he was used sparingly. McCormick, who shot 43.8 percent from three-point range in 1995, is one of the 'Canes top perimeter threats and should see more action this season.

Junior Anthony Rosa has been a key member of the UM backcourt the past two years. Rosa, who is a career 41.7 percent shooter from three-point range, has made 11 starts the past two campaigns and his hardnosed scrappy style has provided the 'Canes with a needed spark on numerous occasions. Despite his size (5'10") he is a tough defender.

Sophomores Chuck Barker and Jaime Waggoner each saw limited action last season but provide the Hurricanes with needed depth off the bench and both are legitimate perimeter shooters.

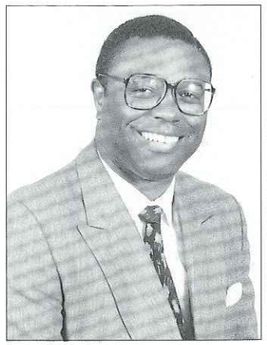

HEADED IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION

So in a season in which three teams were added to the always grueling BIG EAST to increase competition, Coach Hamilton appears to have added his own depth and is ready to handle the challenge. Miami's basketball fortunes are as promising as they have ever been and excitement is at an all-time high. The Hurricanes appear poised to take the next step in the long process of developing a winning program in one of the nation's toughest conferences. With an unwavering focus and a commitment to succeed the Hurricanes are once again making noise on a national level.

The BIG EAST Conference will be broken into two divisions this season. The divisions with the coaches pre-season predicted order of finish are as follows:

BIG EAST 7	BIG EAST 6
Georgetown	Villanova
Syracuse	Connecticut
MIAMI	St. John's
Seton Hall	West Virginia
Pittsburgh	Notre Dame
Providence	Boston College
Rutgers

HEAD COACH LEONARD HAMILTON

Head Coach, Leonard Hamilton
1995 UPI National Coach of the Year

In his five years at Miami, Hamilton has watched every senior who has completed his eligibility go on to receive his degree.

STEPPING UP TO THE CHALLENGE

When Leonard Hamilton was appointed the University of Miami's ninth men's head basketball coach on April 2, 1990, he knew it was a huge challenge to build a program. But everyday, step by step, Hamilton inches closer to his goal of having the finest college team in the land.

The road to the top has been a constant battle for the Hurricanes, who have had more than their fair share of injuries and setbacks. Through it all though, Hamilton has remained a focused, driving force and once again has the program on the rise.

NATIONAL HONORS

Last year Hamilton guided the Hurricanes to one of the best seasons in school history. Picked to finish at the bottom of the extremely grueling BIG EAST Conference, Hamilton led the Hurricanes to a fifth-place finish and a berth in the National Invitation Tournament--UM's first post-season appearance in 31 years.

Miami set a BIG EAST record in 1995 for the greatest single-season improvement in the history of the league. The 'Canes' nine-win conference increase tied Louisiana Tech for the best in the nation. UM's eight-win overall improvement tied the third best single-season increase in school history.

At the conclusion of the season, Hamilton was rewarded for his patience and hard work as United Press International named him its National Coach of the Year. Hamilton was also recognized by his peers as the BIG EAST coaches tabbed him the BIG EAST Conference Coach of the Year.

Under Hamilton's leadership Miami is a program on the rise. He has 12 returning letterwinners back from last year's NIT team and has once again produced a solid recruiting class. In the near future he will reap the benefits of a new on-campus arena. Just as he did at Oklahoma State, Hamilton has taken a struggling program and brought it to national prominence.

A PLAYER'S COACH

Despite being the head coach of a Division I school in one of the country's top conferences, Hamilton has not lost sight of his number one priority: Miami's student-athletes. His number one goal is to help prepare his players for the challenges that they will encounter in society.

"Coach Hamilton is a real player's coach," stated former Hurricane guard and 1992 graduate Trevor Burton. "He's concerned about you both as a player and human being. He will push to get the best out of you both on and off the court. I've never seen anyone as dedicated as Coach Hamilton. I was really impressed with his commitment."

Hamilton displays that commitment to his program both on and off the court. In his five years at Miami, Hamilton has watched every senior who has completed his eligibility go on to receive his degree.

"The thing that separates Coach Hamilton from other coaches is the way he treats you," said Jake Morton, a former Hurricane guard and 1993 graduate who is now playing professionally in Israel. "He stays on top of you to get your degree and helps mold you for life. He feels it's his job to help get you ready to play in the game of life, because he understands there is life beyond basketball."

BRINGING IN THE BEST

Hamilton knew when he arrived that in order to compete with the best, you must play the best. No one could have predicted how swiftly or emphatically the best competition would appear on the Miami schedule. After just six months at Miami, Hamilton was presented with one of the most difficult challenges a collegiate coach has ever faced—to compete in the BIG EAST Conference.

Challenges are nothing new to Hamilton though, after spending time at both Kentucky and Oklahoma State facing some of top teams in the nation. He has spent most of his career competing and succeeding against the nation's elite.

In order to raise the Hurricanes' level of competition, it was obvious that Hamilton was required to raise the level of talent flowing into the Miami program. Tremendous strides have been realized in this area during Hamilton's tenure at UM. Having long been recognized as one of the nation's finest evaluators and recruiters of high school talent, Hamilton continued to build his legacy by producing what many consider to be the finest classes in Miami history. Three of his UM recruiting classes have been ranked in the Top 20 nationally by recruiting expert Bob Gibbons and this year's class yielded a pair of talented forwards and an athletic guard that will help shape the 'Canes future.

The rookie class of 1992-93 contained the most promise and was ranked No. 4 in the country. However, injuries have taken their toll and slowed the development of what could be UM's finest class ever.

The two rookies who were healthy, Steven Edwards and Lorenzo Pearson, made their presence known right away by helping the Hurricanes jump from one conference win in 1991-92 to seven wins in 1992-93 (the fifth-largest increase in wins in BIG EAST history). All of Miami's wins came at home in the Miami Arena as the 'Canes' 7-2 home BIG EAST record was the third best among all league teams.

SUCCESS IN BIG EAST

In his first four BIG EAST seasons, Hamilton has already recorded five victories over teams ranked in the nation's Top 25 and has defeated every league team at least once. His 80-69 victory over 10th-ranked Georgetown during the 1992-93 campaign was Miami's first over a team ranked in the nation's Top 10 since the rebirth of the Hurricanes' basketball program in 1985.

During the 1991-92 campaign, Hamilton continued his lofty expectations in the academic realm as all four Hurricane seniors earned their degrees by June of 1992. On the court, Leonard Hamilton silenced the critics who claimed he would not even come close to a victory in his inaugural BIG EAST campaign as the Hurricanes defeated St. John's in their conference home opener—a victory that would prove to cost the Redmen the outright BIG EAST championship.

Along the way, the Hurricanes surprised their opponents, fans and media as they battled every opponent with the intensity and perseverance which their head coach both demands and instills. Miami proved to be especially tough toward the end of its first BIG EAST campaign, losing its final five conference games by an average of seven points, including an exciting 90-82 overtime loss to eventual No. 1 BIG EAST Tournament seed Seton Hall.

Hamilton's Hurricanes earned the respect of the collegiate world in their first BIG EAST Tournament appearance at Madison Square Garden when they upset Pittsburgh, 83-71, in the opening round at "The World's Most Famous Arena". Miami threatened to repeat the upset in the second round of action as they led co-BIG EAST champion Georgetown, 34-33, at the half before dropping a hard-fought 77-64 decision to Alonzo Mouring and the Hoyas.

Hamilton was granted one year of coaching at UM before entering BIG EAST competition. Determined to make the most of the Hurricanes' final season as an independent, Hamilton quickly laid the groundwork for the future of the Hurricanes. Off the court, Hamilton saw to it that both seniors on his 1990-91 squad would graduate by spring. On the court, he directed the development of Joe Wylie, who was selected in the second round of the 1991 NBA Draft, and inspired his Hurricane squad to produce their absolute best at all times. The efforts paid off as Miami finished the season with what was then the highest final ranking by USA Today since the rebirth of the Hurricanes' program.

BREAKING RECORDS AT OKLAHOMA STATE

Hamilton arrived at UM from Oklahoma State where he rebuilt the Cowboys and led them to consecutive appearances in the National Invitational Tournament. The back-to-back post-season appearances were the first for OSU since 1953-54.

The 1989-90 OSU squad earned a No. 49 national ranking by USA Today, finished the year with a 17-14 record and advanced to the second round of the NIT before dropping a decision to tournament semifinalist New Mexico. Offensive firepower and the transition game were the signature of Hamilton's program which averaged more than 80 points for the second consecutive season and just the third time in team history. The Cowboys also established school records for most points and most three-point field goals.

Hamilton's last two Oklahoma State teams both won 17 games, marking only the fourth and fifth OSU squads to reach the 17-win plateau in the last 32 years. And of the 14 losses suffered during the 1989-90 campaign, seven came against teams ranked in the nation's Top 10 at the time of the game (UNLV, Oklahoma, Missouri and Kansas). The overall schedule was rated one of the toughest in the nation and included a total of 17 games against teams that went on to post-season play. The season was highlighted with wins over post-season participants Ohio State, Memphis State, New Orleans and a 2-1 record versus Kansas State (one of win came in the Big 8 Tournament).

A RISING STAR

Prior to his stint at OSU, Hamilton served at the University of Kentucky where he spent 12 seasons with one of the top programs in the country. From 1974-80, he served as an assistant coach, and in 1980 he was honored by being named the first associate head coach in Kentucky basketball history, a post he held until moving to OSU. While at Kentucky, Hamilton developed the reputation as one of the brightest young coaches in the nation and helped guide the Wildcats to the 1978 NCAA championship. In his 12-year tenure at Kentucky, seven recruiting classes were ranked among the nation's elite and 23 former Wildcat players were drafted by the NBA. Additionally, 83% of the seniors (30 of 36) earned their degrees.

His proficiency in the recruiting game carried over to Oklahoma State where his first two classes were rated 12th in the country by different services. He signed four of five Oklahoma High School Players of the Year and was involved with the recruitment of 30 high school All-Americans.

"The thing that separates Coach Hamilton from others is the way he treats you. He stays on top of you to get your degree and helps mold your life. "He feels it's his job to help get you ready to play in the game of life, because he understands there is life beyond basketball."

— Jake Morton
(1993 UM graduate)

Community College, where he set a school record by scoring 54 points in a game, and at the University of Tennessee-Martin where he is a charter member of the school's Hall of Fame. At each school he served as a team captain. Additionally, while at Tennessee-Martin, Hamilton received both the team Most Valuable Player Award and the Best Defensive Player Award.

His coaching career began as a graduate assistant (1971-72) and a full-time assistant (1972-74) at Austin Peay State University. He received his Master's degree from Austin Peay.

Hamilton, who is married to the former Claudette Hale, has a 24-year old son, Lenny, and a 10-year old daughter, Allison.

STRONG TIES TO THE NBA

Additionally, McKinnie played an instrumental role in the development of former NBA players Walter Bond (Utah Jazz), Willie Burton (Miami Heat and Philadelphia 76ers) and Bob Martin (Los Angeles Clippers) and the recruitment of Derrick McKey (Indiana Pacers) and Voshon Lenard (Milwaukee Bucks).

A Detroit native, McKinnie attended Iowa on a football scholarship in 1964 after earning all-state honors in both football and basketball at Robichaud High School. As a Hawkeye, he was an All-Big 10 running back and graduated in '68 with a B.A. in speech and dramatic arts.

Something for Everyone

Few schools in the country can match the total experience in which a student at the University of Miami will experience. The University of Miami offers something for everyone, both academically and socially. Its vibrant setting provides students with an ideal place to learn and help mold tomorrow's future.

The University of Miami is the largest independent teaching and research university in the Southeast and, opened in 1926, is among the nation's youngest. The Coral Gables campus, 10 miles from Miami, is the site of most of the University's undergraduate and graduate programs. The University also operates a medical center in downtown Miami, a world-renowned marine and atmospheric science school on Virginia Key in Biscayne Bay and a bio-medical research and development center on its South campus.

ACHIEVING GOALS

Following goals established in its nationally acclaimed strategic plan, the University of Miami recently completed a five-year fund raising campaign that raised $517.5 million for endowment, facilities and equipment.

Enrollment at the University of Miami has grown steadily from a few hundred when classes were held in the remodeled Coral Gables Hotel to over 13,000 credit-seeking students between the undergraduate, graduate, law and medical programs. Representing all U.S. states and 110 foreign countries, the student body is composed of 50 percent Florida residents, 40 percent from other states, and 10 percent foreign nationals.

AN ARRAY OF ACADEMIC CHOICES

The University offers 130 undergraduate and 175 graduate degree programs through schools of Architecture, Business Administration, Communication, Continuing Studies, Education, International Studies, Law, Marine and Atmospheric Sciences, Medicine, Music, Nursing, the Graduate School, and colleges of Arts and Sciences and Engineering.

SUCCESSFUL ALUMNI

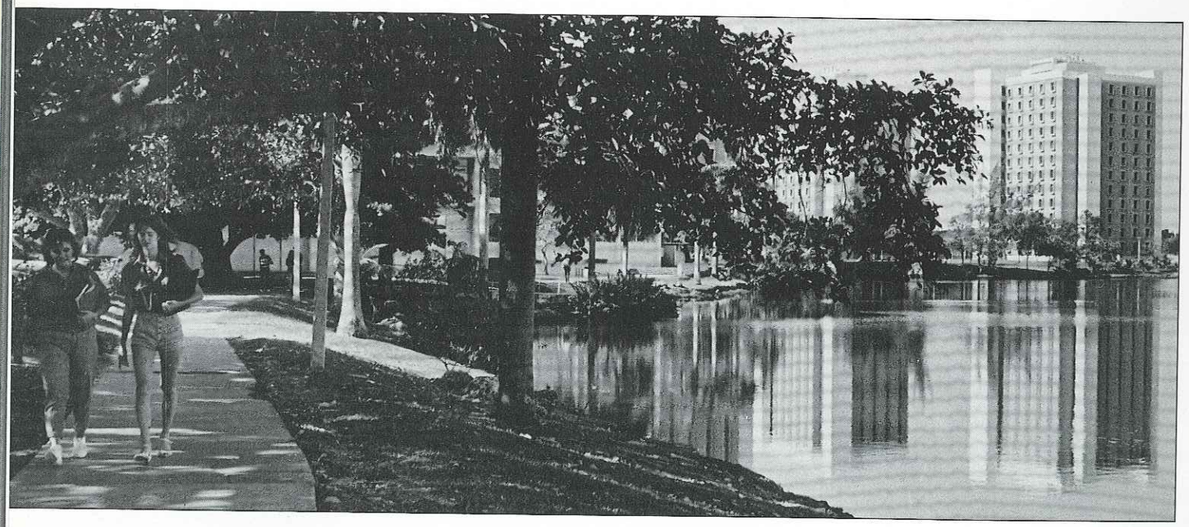

The University's alumni base is a strong and successful one, despite the fact that Miami is one of the youngest Universities in the nation. Alumni have gone on to national fame in business, law, medicine, entertainment and many other areas. UM is proud to have supplied the education that catapulted them to national and international success.

The list of successful graduates is very long and includes national stars like Roy Firestone, Jon Secada, Gloria Estefan and many, many more.

NATIONALLY RECOGNIZED

The Rosenstiel School of Marine and Atmospheric Science is recognized as one of the top three marine science schools in the country. Established in 1952 as Florida's first medical school, the University of Miami School of Medicine is the hub of the UM/Jackson Memorial Medical Center, the second largest such complex in the country and one of the hemisphere's major centers for teaching, research,diagnosis and patient care. The hospital was recently ranked one of the best in medicine based on peer review by 300 physicians across the country.

In addition to schools and colleges, many institutes, centers and interdisciplinary units attract national recognition for research and other programs, including Miami's reknown Bascom Palmer Eye Institute, Miami Project to Cure Paralysis and the international North-South Center.

INNOVATIVE RESEARCH

As it has for more than a decade, the University ranks among the top three percent of 2,600 universities and colleges receiving federal research and development grants. During the 1989-90 academic year, the faculty were awarded more than $133.7 million in separately budgeted grants and contracts from federal, state, local and private sources.

In addition to basic research in science, medicine, engineering and social sciences, current projects cover a wide spectrum of global concerns including climatology, oceanography, population and resource studies, spinal cord injuries, diabetes, AIDS, cancer, productivity, technology transfer and international relations.

A CROSSROAD OF CULTURES

A crossroads where culture and commerce of Latin America, the Caribbean, Europe, Asia and North America merge, the Greater Miami area is one of the most dynamic regions of the country. The surrounding area is known for its beaches, outdoor cafes, nightclubs and is home to successful professional sports franchises in all the major sports. Coral Gables hosts hemispheric headquarters for many multi-national corporations but maintains the Mediterranean charm envisioned by George Merrick, the city and University founder, 66 years ago.

PREPARING FOR SUCCESS

Best Academic Support Available

The University of Miami, one of the nation's finest institutions of higher education, shows an unparalleled dedication to academics. While Miami's athletic successes are well documented, the University's commitment to academics is second to none. Hurricane athletes have a wealth of resources and programs available to them as they work toward their degrees.

In striving to meet the challenges facing the student-athletes in today's complex society, the University of Miami Athletic Department along with UM's Developmental Services Center has established a unique academic support program that serves to enhance the life of the student-athlete. This cooperative effort reflects the commitment of the entire university to the complete development of the student-athlete.

Dr. Anna Price, assistant athletic director for academic/student services, administers the academic support and student services programs, which are designed to prepare students for a career after athletics.

"We want to facilitate the true personal development of the student-athlete by establishing a strong fundamental background," said Price. "We provide support in helping them develop the balance between academics and athletics as well as proper time management and mental attitude in order to realize and build on their strengths."

Dr. Anna Price, Asst. Athletic Director for Academic/Student Services/Vice Provost

The recent results have been very impressive. The overall graduation rate exceeds 60% and the success rate of the Hurricane basketball program has been at or near 100% since its rebirth in 1985.

In order to prepare athletes for life after graduation the University of Miami has instituted a Life Skills Program which helps student-athletes conquer the challenges of life after athletics. The program originally instituted by the NCAA in 1994, focuses on five commitments viewed as critical to personal growth: academic excellence; athletic excellence; personal development; service; and career development.

Few universities can match the success in both academics and athletics that Miami has achieved and through this commitment to excellence, UM student-athletes are properly prepared for life after athletics.

Brad Timpf and Steve Frazier spend time concentrating on academics.

TRAINING TO BE THE BEST

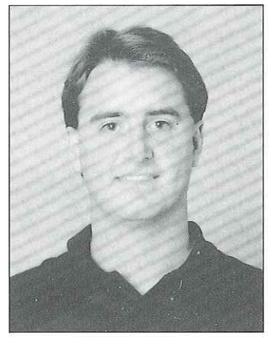

Top-Notch Medical Staff

The number one priority of the athletic department at the University of Miami is a commitment to its student-athletes both on and off the court. This commitment is constantly reinforced with the medical attention that is available to Hurricane student-athletes. UM's newly renovated and expanded training room, located in the Hecht Athletic Center, contains the most modern equipment available.

Computerized testing and a wide range of aerobic conditioning equipment is available to help design individual rehabilitation programs and help reduce the risk of re-injury. The training room also contains a state-of-the-art Biodex machine to aid athletes in their rehabilitation.

The University has assembled one of the finest medical staffs in the country. Team physician and orthopaedic surgeon Dr. John Uribe heads a team which includes 15 medical doctors who serve as consultants, five full-time trainers and 10 student-trainers.

Uribe, regarded as one of the finest physicians in the southeast, is the assistant physician for the Miami Dolphins and the Florida Marlins. Additionally, he and Dr. Keith Hechtman, another member of UM's medical team, serve as team physicians for both Florida International University and St. Thomas University. Hechtman, who specializes in orthopaedics, accompanied the Hurricanes on their exhibition tour of Israel in August of 1995.

Jim Whalen, Asst. Athletic Trainer

Hurricane athletes enjoy the luxury of having one of the nation's finest sports medicine facilities located right on campus. HealthSouth Doctors' Hospital features a full service health-care center specializing in sports medicine. The clinic provides preventative care, physicals, injury evaluations, special testing and referral to specialists. HealthSouth Doctors' Hospital possesses some of the most high-tech equipment in the nation and is available to treat Hurricane athletes.

The hospital includes a health and fitness center where they provide a wide range of services including nutrition counseling and cardiac rehabilitation all done with the exercise physiology department led by Dr. Jack Young, a member of UM's medical team.

Uribe and his colleagues at the sports medicine center are recognized as some of the finest in the field of sports medicine. Patients are often flown in throughout the east coast to be treated at HealthSouth Doctors' Hospital. Many doctors also fly in to learn sports medicine procedures and techniques from the hospital staff.

With all this medical expertise and equipment available to them, Hurricane athletes are among the best cared for in the nation.

Assistant trainer Jim Whalen, who joined the UM staff in January of 1991, after a two-year stint with the New England Patriots of the National Football League, works and travels with the men's basketball team on a daily basis. He monitors the medical progress of Hurricane basketball players and works closely with team physicians in designing rehabilitation programs for the athletes. Whalen earned his bachelors degree in training from Bridgewater State College in 1991 and is certified by the National Athletic Trainers Association.

CARRYING THEIR WEIGHT

Strength Training With The Best

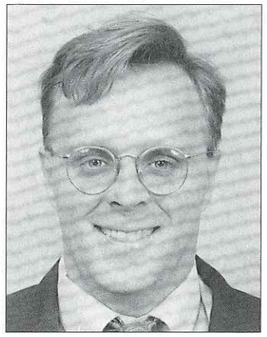

A key element of the Miami basketball program is the strength and conditioning program which is designed for the specific needs of the athlete.

Michael Bradley, who joined the UM staff in September, has a bachelor's degree in chemistry from San Diego State University and a master's degree in chemistry from the University of California, Santa Barbara. He is also a member of the National Strength and Conditioning Association.

Prior to his arrival at UM, Bradley had served as an assistant strength coach at Southern Methodist University for two years, the University of South Carolina for one year and most recently he spent the previous 16 months at the United States Military Academy where he was directly responsible for training the men's basketball squad.

Under Bradley's direction, the program identifies six elements of fitness: strength training, cardiovascular conditioning, flexibility, nutrition, skill development and rest. Each element is addressed separately to insure complete development of all players.

"Getting a player stronger is not that difficult anymore," said Bradley. "The challenge and satisfaction are in the administration of the program. I believe that supervision and motivation determine the results of the conditioning program. Our system is different than others in that we do not give our players a workout to do. We put them through a workout. Consequently, we individually train our entire team. One coach instructs one player. Proper supervision ensures that the athlete is using correct technique, training at the proper intensity, and making progression in weight and repetition. Everything an athlete does is documented by the coach and stored in a computer."

The results are obvious as the Hurricanes enter the 1995-96 season stronger and healthier than ever before. Conditioning will be crucial as the Hurricanes compete in the always grueling BIG EAST Conference with some of the best athletes in the country.

"We draw a distinction between weight lifting and strength training," stated Bradley. "We are a basketball team, not a weight lifting team. The purpose of the strength and conditioning program is to prevent injuries and push back fatigue. The purpose of the conditioning program is not necessarily to develop 400-pound bench pressers. If a player has been blessed with the potential to do that, great, but we are just as concerned with the strength of his hamstrings, shoulder capsule and cardiovascular condition."

The Hurricane basketball squad receives additional assistance from Athletic Director Paul Dee who is committed to ensuring that the Hurricanes have the best equipment and facilities in their quest to excel. Head Strength Coach Dale Hulett also provides tremendous leadership and direction to the Hurricane strength and conditioning program.

No one cares more about conditioning than Leonard Hamilton who is one of the most progressive basketball coaches in the country with regards to strength training. It is his belief that strength training and conditioning is every bit as important as scrimmaging and watching film. Hamilton is committed to the health and development of his players. Along with Bradley, Hamilton will evaluate the strength and conditioning program by how the Hurricanes are doing in March. They realize that just as basketball skills must improve as the BIG EAST and NCAA Tournaments come around, so must the conditioning of their players.

"I determine the success of our conditioning program by our players attitude toward training," Bradley said. "They are a very motivated and intelligent group of young men. They take a great deal of pride in their conditioning. I look at the weight room as a part of a university education. Our players can apply fundamentals of conditioning and understand the subtleties of training. They can discuss both sides of controversial training issues and ask intelligent questions. I like to think of this as the only University of Miami class that you can take four years in a row. The things our athletes learn here will be applicable to life beyond Hurricane Basketball."

Torey McCormick works out under the guidance of Michael Bradley.

HURRICANES BRING SUNSHINE

Athletes Work With Children

Recognizing their positions as role models and community leaders, University of Miami student-athletes are extremely active in assisting with the development of the South Florida community.

During the 1995-96 school year, Hurricane basketball players will make personal appearances at numerous functions and will volunteer their time and efforts to many special projects including the "Join a Team, Not a Gang" campaign which is co-sponsored by the Metro-Dade Police and Florida Power and Light. Athletes and the children they reach are both touched by these experiences.

"It was a wonderful experience for the children to have positive role models to look up to when the athletes visited," said teacher Joyce Castro of Fairchild Elementary, after some student athletes visited her classroom. "They are able to reach out to these children and make a difference."

"I enjoy spending time with the children. You really feel like you've made a difference," said Alex Fraser, who is very active in the Miami community. Fraser believes in making a difference for the area youth and giving them someone to look up to. In addition to his role in the "Join a Team, Not a Gang" program, Fraser has volunteered to serve as a surrogate father to Daniel Morris, a three-year old boy from his church. Alex spends several hours each week with Daniel acting as a positive role model. His efforts have not gone unnoticed.

"Alex is having a really good impact on Daniel's life and I thank God for that" said Carmen Morris, Daniel's mother.

"Student-athlete appearances are good for the community, the University and the athletes themselves. It's a win-win situation for eveyone involved," said Roger Bell, UM's assistant director of academic support & student services.

Bell coordinates the appearances, which include visits to middle schools, high schools and special projects. Miami's student athletes appreciate his efforts and enjoy getting involved.

Recently, the 'Canes men's basketball ran a basketball clinic for children in conjunction with Metro-Dade Police and the North Dade Chamber of Commerce as part of the Community Day Celebration in the Cloverleaf area. The team has also visited a children's hospital and spent time at a day camp for youth.

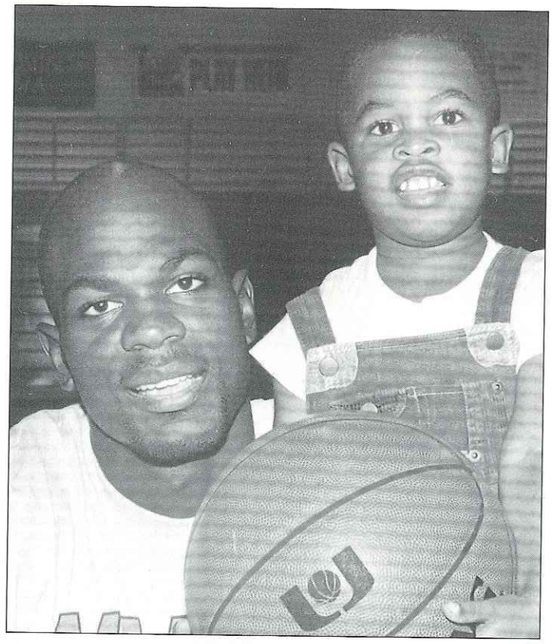

Miami players also speak to children on such topics as self-esteem, motivation, goal setting, staying in school, saying no to drugs, anti-smoking and crime prevention. These talks do make a difference.

"The kids loved interacting with the student-athletes, and it was a good experience for my students to provide instruction in that type of atmosphere," said Dr. Robert Gropper, who teaches a class at Miami that gets the athletes to interact with students at local elementary schools.

Bell also oversees programs designed to prepare Miami's student athletes for their futures through events like "Career Day". On this day, Bell and the academic staff arrange for many prominent business leaders, in the areas of interest to the students to speak about their businesses and the skills needed to embark in their particular fields.

All these programs are designed to meet the special needs and experiences available to allow Miami's student athletes to give back to the community.

The program has been such a success, that anyone interested in scheduling appearances should contact Bell at (305) 284-3243.

Alex Fraser, the true definition of a student-athlete, has volunteered to serve as a surrogate father to Daniel Morris, a three-year old boy from his church.

Hurricane players frequently visit and speak at local schools. Above, Steven Edwards spends time at Bent Tree Elementary School.

HURRICANE WARNINGS

Traditions Are Part of the Fun At Miami

THE HURRICANES

It began in controversy. Some reports say that the '27 football team held a meeting to select the nickname Hurricanes, hoping they would sweep away opponents just as the devastating storm did on September 16, 1926. Another version holds that the Miami News columnist Jack Bell asked end Porter Norris in 1926 what the team should be called. Told that local University dignitaries and officials wanted to name the team for a local flora or fauna, Norris said the players wouldn't stand for it and suggested "Hurricanes" since the opening game had been postponed by such a storm. From time to time, opposition has arisen to the name that would "reinforce Miami's negative reputation as a weather-beaten community living constantly under the threat of destruction." "But as one UM official rationalized in the 60's, "Does anyone think Chicago is overrun by bears just because the town has a football team by that name?"

THE U

In 1973, the UM Athletic Federation commissioned a local public relations expert to develop a distinctive logo.

SCHOOL COLORS

The school colors were selected in 1926 by a committee of Ruth Bryan Owens (daughter of famed attorney William Jennings Bryan), Harry Provin and Bertha Foster. Owens was a member of the board of regents and taught speech at the University. From her suggestion, the colors of the Florida orange tree were to represent UM – orange for the fruit itself, green for the leaves and white for the blossom.

SEBASTIAN THE IBIS

UM's yearbook adopted the name "Ibis" with its inception in 1926, and the local marsh bird was considered UM's first unofficial mascot. In 1958, student John Stormont performed at games in a glued, sewn and pinned together costume that was the forerunner of today's bird. Folklore has it that the Ibis, a symbol of knowledge found in the Everglades and Egypt, is the last sign of wildlife to take shelter before a hurricane and the first to reappear.

CHEERLEADERS

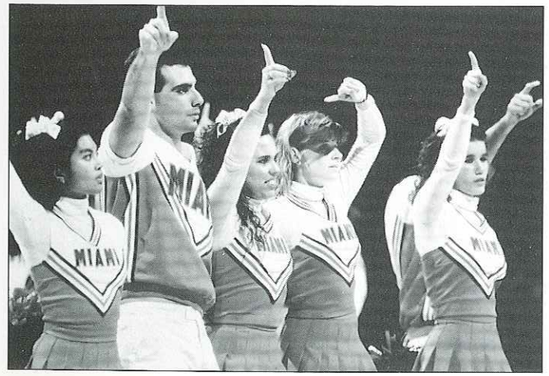

The cheerleaders perform at all home contests and The BIG EAST Tournament as well as all home and away football games.

The squad also provides a valuable public relations function for the University by promoting season ticket sales, participating in recruiting events and appearing at many charity functions. The squad, which has travelled to both Japan and Europe, is under the direction of Coach Dan Reynolds and has been nationally ranked on a consistent basis.

SUNSATIONS

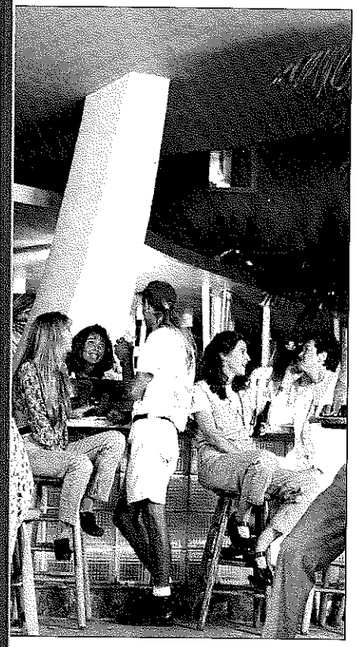

Now in their eighth year of entertaining Hurricane fans, the Sunsations dance group is a squad of enthusiastic and talented performers developed specifically for basketball events. They perform at all home basketball and football games. The squad is coached by former member Natalie Latronico and has received national recognition.

CORAL GABLES IS THE "CITY BEAUTIFUL"

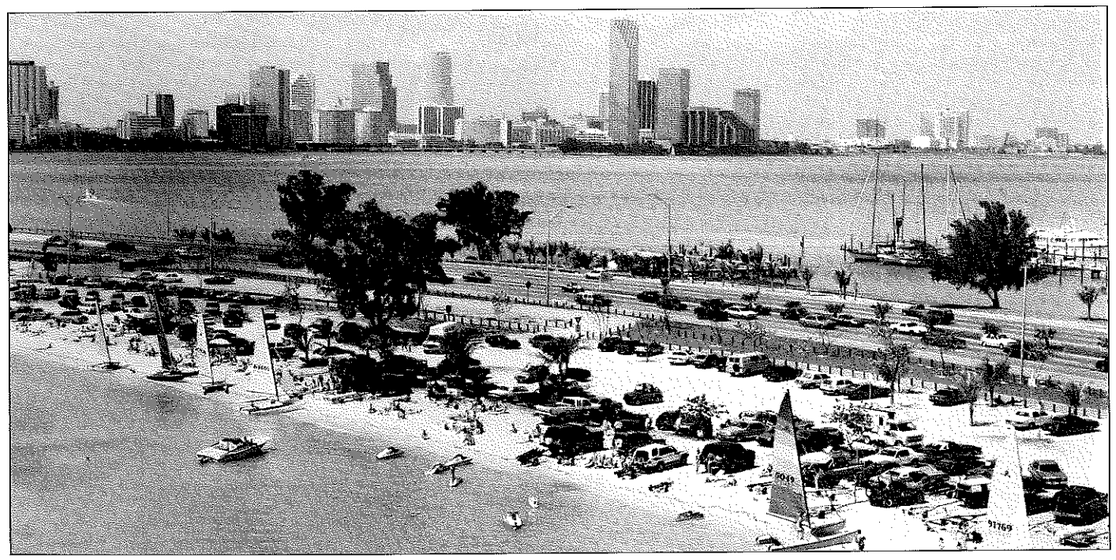

The campus itself is located in quite beautiful Coral Gables. Founded by George Merrick 67 years ago, this "City Beautiful" hosts hemispheric headquarters for many multi-national corporations. The city's central boulevard is the famed Miracle Mile. It is here where residents and students enjoy some of the region's finest boutiques, gourmet restaurants and art galleries. In addition to its urban amenities, Coral Gables is distinguished by its natural terrain. Gracing 83 acres of the area's prime land is Fairchild Tropic Gardens, one of the largest tropical gardens in the continental United States. To the north lies the Venetian Pool. Often called the world's most beautiful swimming lagoon, it is surrounded by caves, cascading waterfalls and natural arched bridges.

KEY BISCAYNE OFFERS NATURAL FUN

Once a coconut plantation, Key Biscayne maintains a natural beauty rare for an area in such close proximity to an urban center. The allure of this subtropical island lies in its beaches, distinctive accomodations and recreational diversions. The sweeping curve of Rickenbacker Causeway, the Key's link to the mainland, cradles Hobie Beach, a popular public playground for windsurfers.

Over Bear Cut Bridge lies Key Biscayne itself, a haven for sports enthusiasts and sun worshippers. Three miles of sandy beaches, one of the country's finest public 18-hole golf courses and courts holding world-class tennis tournaments like the Lipton, symbols of the island's first-class resort status, are located in the 500-acre Crandon Park area.

SOUTH FLORIDA IS SPORTS CRAZY

'Canes Are Part of the Fun

Miami may be best known for its lovely climate and beautiful beaches, but in recent years the city has taken its place as one of the world's greatest sports destinations. No matter what the sport, no matter what the time of year, there is never a dull moment. Miami has something for everyone. It is truly a sports fan's paradise.

HURRICANES BEGAN THE TREND

Leading the charge is the University of Miami which has set a high standard of excellence beginning with its inaugural football season in 1926. Since 1937 UM has played its home football games at the world famous Orange Bowl. This historic site has played host to 60 New Year's Day Bowl games and eight of the last twelve national championship games, including three of the University of Miami's four titles in 1983, 1987, and 1991.

College athletics have set the standard and professional sports are keeping up the tradition. Miami is one of only eight U.S. cities that can boast a professional franchise from every major sports organization.

A MECCA FOR PRO SPORTS

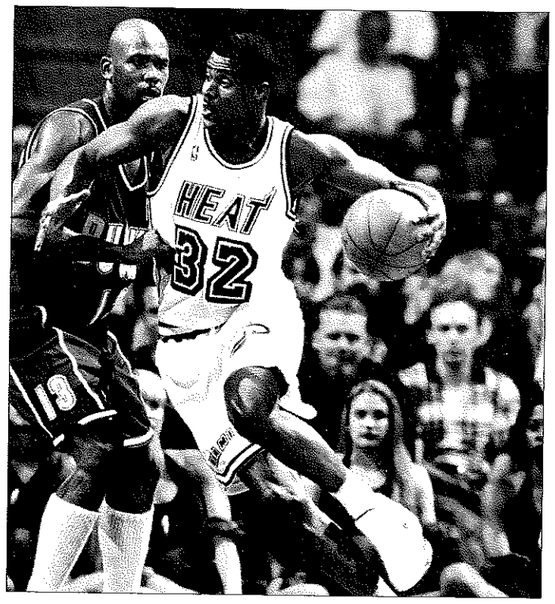

The NFL Miami Dolphins thrill fans every season at Joe Robbie Stadium. This sports complex hosted its second Super Bowl in 1995. Joe Robbie Stadium is also the home of Major League Baseball's Florida Marlins.

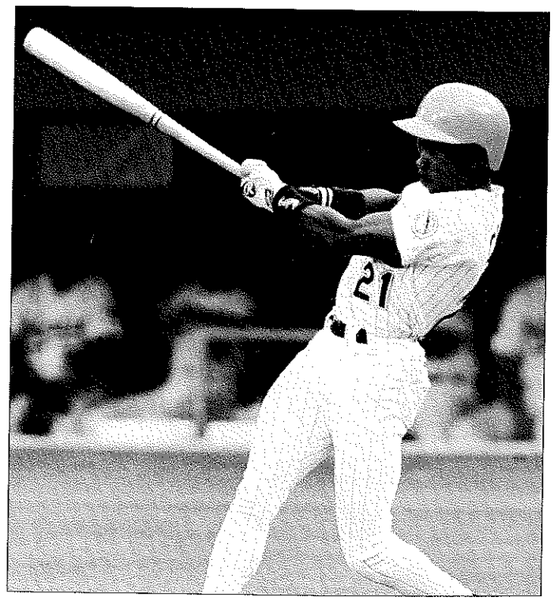

The NBA Miami Heat and the Miami Hurricanes offer basketball fans fast-paced action during the winter at the Miami Arena. The two teams also spend most of the summer working out together. The Arena is also home to the NHL Florida Panthers as well as the Miami Hooters of the Arena Football League. In March of 1994 the University of Miami hosted the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament East Regional at the Miami Arena. Other events such as professional wrestling and professional world figure skating are often scheduled there.

INTERNATIONAL SPORTING EVENTS

Downtown Miami isn't the only place to catch great sports action. Miami's beaches host an impressive array of sports venues. The Homestead Sports Complex is the host site of the national Olympic baseball trials and on Key Biscayne the International Tennis Center is home to the Lipton Players Championships. Greater Miami and the beaches are also the sight of the Doral-Ryder Open and the Royal Caribbean Classic, two of the PGA's top tournaments, as well as the Miami Grand Prix, one of the premier events on the International Motor Sports Association's circuit.

Greater Miami and the beaches have become a hot bed of sports. Fast-paced Big League action, thrilling championship tournaments and motor sports all combined with spectacular year-round weather make Miami a world-class sports mecca. Even the most demanding sports enthusiasts will find Miami a perfect place.

THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE HOME

'Canes Play In NBA Arena

For the eighth consecutive year the Miami Hurricanes will call the Miami Arena home. This beautiful $56 million state-of-the-art facility, which was the site of the 1994 NCAA Tournament East Regional, contains 15,388 fully upholstered seats for basketball and 16 luxury boxes. The Miami Arena hosts approximately 150 events annually and has welcomed more than seven million spectators since opening in 1988.

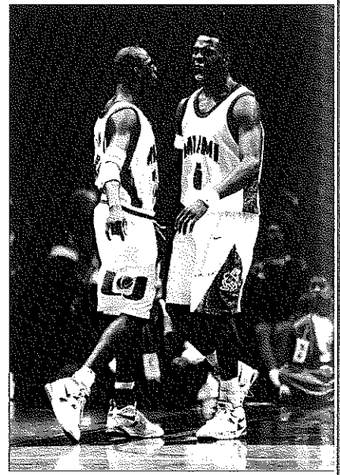

WHERE THE STARS TAKE CENTER COURT

In addition to serving as host for UM men's basketball games, the Miami Arena is one of only 11 arenas in the United States to be home to franchises from both the National Basketball Association and the National Hockey League. Miami Arena is the only arena to boast the NBA, NHL and the Arena Football League among its tenants.

HURRICANES ENJOY HOME ADVANTAGE

During their previous seven seasons in the Miami Arena, the Hurricanes have compiled a 61-46 record. Included among the 61 wins are victories over defending national champion and No. 16-ranked Kansas in January of 1989, an 11-point victory over 10th-ranked Georgetown in January of 1993 and a win over 13th-ranked Georgetown in February of 1995. The resounding victory over the Hoyas in 1993 marks the highest-ranked opponent the 'Canes have defeated since the rebirth of the program.

The Miami Arena is truly a community center which genuinely reflects the cultural, economic and civic diversity of South Florida. In addition to professional and collegiate sports, the Arena frequently hosts major concerts and family shows from Janet Jackson to Disney On Ice.

THE RYDER CENTER

March 6, 1995. That date will go down as one of the biggest days in University of Miami basketball history and the Hurricanes did not even play a game. That was the day University of Miami President Edward T. Foote II and M. Anthony Burns, Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of Ryder Systems, Inc. announced that Ryder Systems, Inc. had committed approximately $9 million to the development of The RYDER Center, an on-campus, multipurpose facility that will become the home of University of Miami basketball.

The commitment from Ryder Systems, Inc. is one of the top 10 gifts in the history of the University and enabled Miami to move forward and begin planning for additional fundraising, and design and construction for the facility.

Many basketball experts feel a new on-campus facility is all UM coach Leonard Hamilton needs to turn the rising Hurricane program into one of the finest in the nation. Only three of the 13 schools in the BIG EAST Conference (Syracuse-33,000; West Virginia-14,000; Notre Dame-11,418) will have an on-campus arena which will seat more than the 9,000 fans that The RYDER Center will accommodate.

The Hurricanes are currently one of the few major Division I athletic programs in the nation that plays both basketball and football games off campus. The state-of-the-art RYDER Center will be built on the commercial side of campus, convenient to the Metro Rail, UM's new parking garage, student residences and current athletic facilities.

Many University events are currently held outdoors or off campus. The RYDER Center will provide the University of Miami and the South Florida community with new opportunities to present major indoor events while upgrading the current facilities to improve the quality of education for students.

"Having a company like Ryder make such a wonderful commitment to our University and program shows the amount of support there is for the University and its athletic department," said Hamilton. "The RYDER Center will be a tremendous boost and guarantee us continued success. We are happy to have a home on campus and appreciate the support of Ryder and everyone who will make this possible."

When completed, The RYDER Center will provide an abundance of opportunities, ranging from academic and athletic to campus and community. The list of possible events includes: NCAA Division I men's and women's basketball games, area high school basketball championships, commencement, orientation, convocation, lectures, conferences, theatrical productions, student government activities, alumni social events, class reunions, employment fairs and career days, cultural events and town meetings.

The RYDER Center will become the focal point of the UM athletic department and the entire University.

"The close relationship between Ryder and the University of Miami goes back many years. As we look ahead, the RYDER Center will be a reminder of the relationship between our two organizations, but Ryder's support represents much more," said Mr. Burns. "The RYDER Center will be the largest such facility in South Dade. Beyond its obvious contribution to the University's athletic program, the Center will be used for a variety of campus activities and conferences, and will also provide the community with a much-needed facility for a variety of other purposes."

The University of Miami was founded in 1926 and Ryder Systems, Inc. was established in Miami in 1933. Over the years, the two institutions have developed a close relationship and grown together for the betterment of the South Florida community.

What they are saying about The RYDER Center

"We are greatful for this splendid gift. A campus convocation center has been a dream here for a long time. Ryder's generosity brings that dream much closer to reality. On behalf of the University, I express my deep appreciation to Tony Burns, one of our Trustees, and our other friends at Ryder."

—Edward T. Foote II, University of Miami President

"Ryder has given the University and its athletic department a tremendous boost with this generous gift, and we are extremely grateful. It enables us to begin development of The RYDER Center. As we go forward, we are going to need the help and support of our fans, alumni and boosters."

—Paul Dee, University of Miami Athletic Director

"I think it is terrific that Ryder is supporting Miami basketball. Leonard Hamilton and the Miami administration have done a great job of raising the level of the basketball program. Obviously, this announcement will help the Hurricanes reach even greater heights."

—Michael Tranghese, Commissioner of the BIG EAST Conference

"Having a company like Ryder make such a wonderful commitment to our University and program shows the amount of support there is for the University and its athletic department. The RYDER Center will be a tremendous boost and guarantee us continued success. We are happy to have a home on campus and appreciate the support of Ryder and everyone who will make this possible."

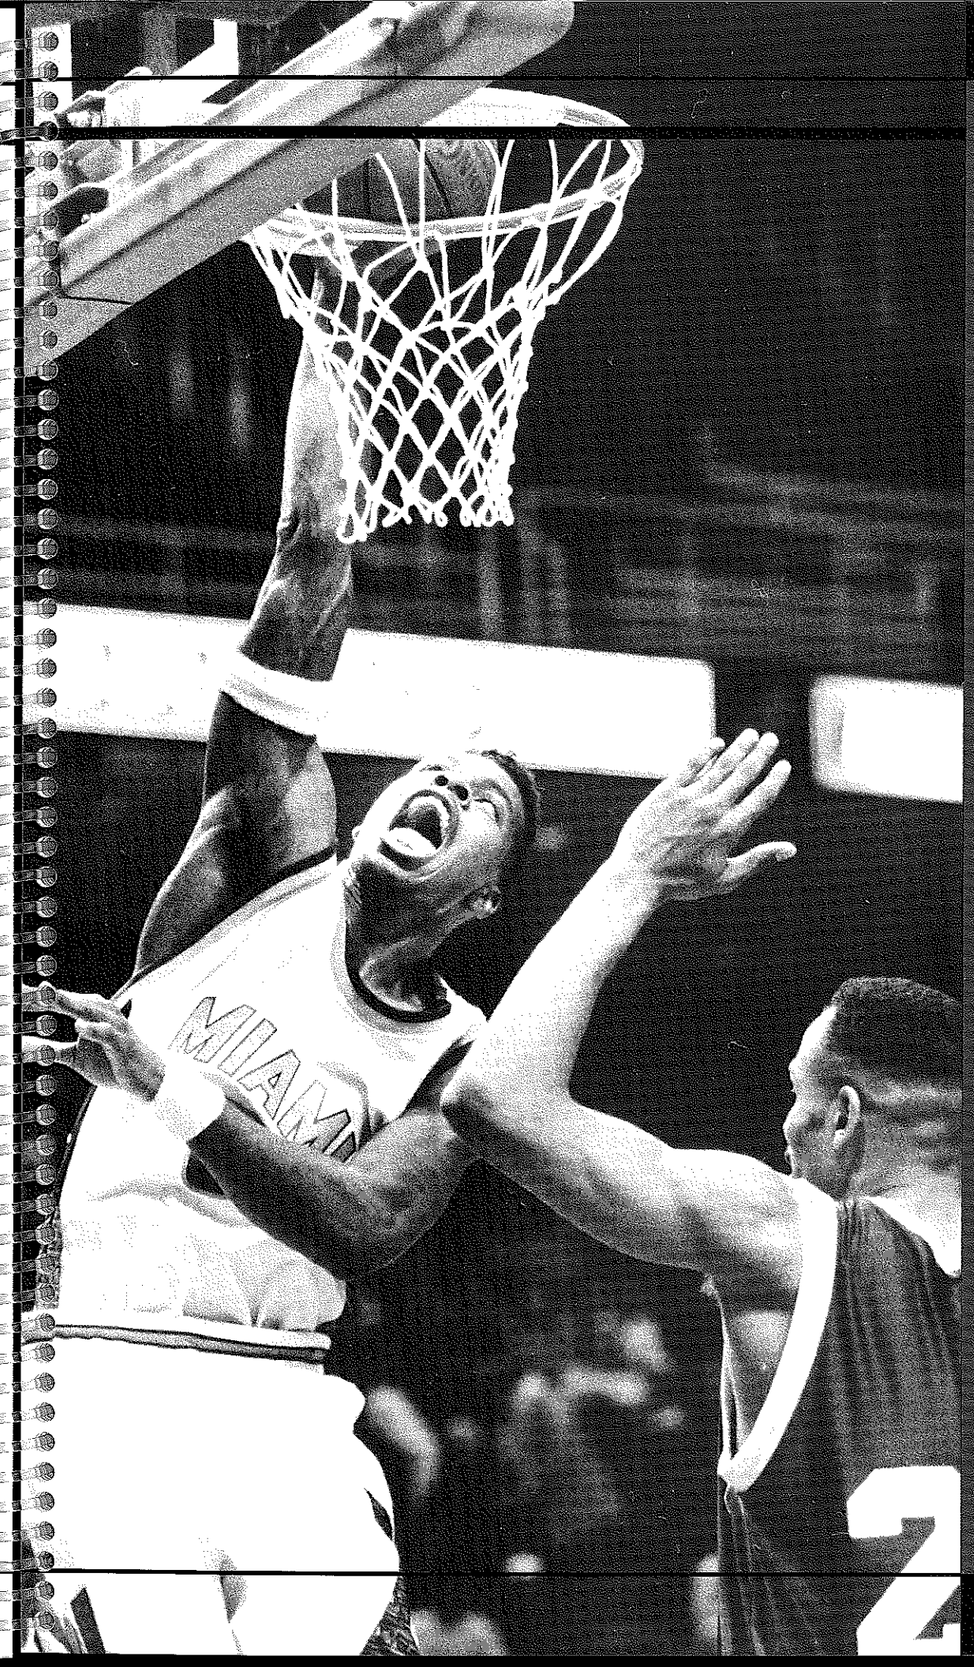

—Leonard Hamilton, Head Men's Basketball Coach at the University of Miami

"The RYDER Center is the last piece of the puzzle we need to make Miami basketball among the best in the nation. We thank Ryder because it is with their generous support combined with the unending efforts of President Foote, the UM administration and Paul Dee that our dream of a state-of-the-art, on-campus facility has come true."

—Ferne Labati, Head Women's Basketball Coach at the University of Miami

"In 27 years of association with the University of Miami, first as a student and now as a member of the Board of Trustees, I have never been more excited about any announcement than I am about this gift from Ryder. It enables the University to move toward the long needed creation of a multipurpose facility where all the University's family and friends of the community can come together as one on campus."

—Ron Stone, University of Miami Board of Trustee Member Chairman, Athletic Advisory Committee

THE BIG EAST CONFERENCE

Michael Tranghese
Commissioner

The BIG EAST Conference will be 13 members strong in the 1995-96 season with the addition of the University of Notre Dame, Rutgers University and West Virginia University. The league is confident that, with these three outstanding institutions, bigger will, in fact, be even better.

Since the date of its birth, May 31, 1979, The BIG EAST Conference has always pledged to be a proactive - rather than reactive - group. That credo may never have been more in evidence than in 1994 when the league added the three new institutions as full conference members in two separate expansions.

In March of '94, the BIG EAST added Rutgers and West Virginia as full-time members. Both schools, which boast wide-ranging, successful athletic programs, had been members of the BIG EAST Football Conference. In July, the BIG EAST, then a group of 12, added Notre Dame, one of the nation's most prestigious private institutions.

During a period of tremendous volatility in collegiate conference realignment, the BIG EAST has been lauded for its additions and the maintaining of its role as a major player in collegiate athletics.

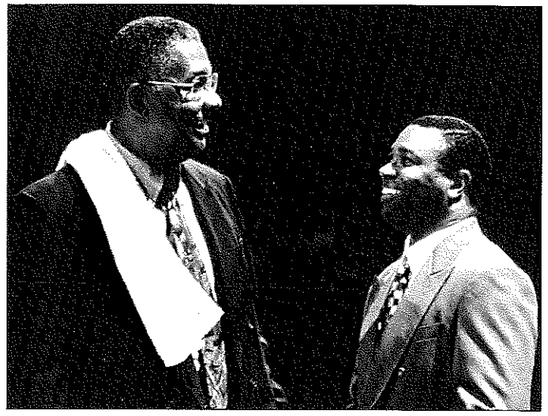

While the membership has increased, the focus of the BIG EAST remains unchanged. It is a group that reflects a tradition of broad-based programs, led by administrators and coaches who place a constant emphasis an academic integrity.

BIG EAST teams are led by some of the best coaches in the nation. Here UM's Leonard Hamilton and Georgetown's John Thompson talk before their teams tip off.

Today, The BIG EAST Conference enjoys a leadership role nationally. Its student-athletes boast significantly high graduation rates and their record of scholastic achievement notably reflects a balance between intercollegiate athletics and academics.

A prime example of the BIG EAST student-athlete is Connecticut's Rebecca Lobo, who helped the Huskies win the women's national crown in 1994-95. Not only did she capture virtually every national award possible, she was a two-time winner of the BIG EAST/Soft & Dri Women's Basketball Scholar-Athlete of the Year award. In addition, she earned Kodak All-America first-team status, while also being named the GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-American of the Year.

While the BIG EAST certainly made its splash with men's basketball as its signature program, the conference also has enjoyed a steady, wide-ranging growth. It now sponsors 19 championships.

Any successful consortium enjoys outstanding leadership. Michael Tranghese, the league's first full-time employee, and for 11 years the associate of Dave Gavitt, took over as Commissioner in June, 1990, after Gavitt left to take a position with the Boston Celtics.

The addition of Rutgers, West Virginia and Notre Dame are only the latest of Tranghese's achievements. In his first year at the helm, he administered the addition of the University of Miami and the formation of The BIG EAST Football Conference.

The University of Miami became the league's 10th full member on October 10, 1990. The largest private institution in the Southeast, Miami is a prized addition to a conference already noted for a successful co-existence of academics and athletics.

BIG EAST sports attract the interest of followers in the nation's largest media markets within New England, the New York metropolitan area, Washington D.C., Pennsylvania and Florida. Innovative concepts in promotion and publicity, particularly regarding television, have resulted in unparalleled visibility for BIG EAST student-athletes. Exclusive long-range television contracts with CBS and ESPN, Inc. provide BIG EAST basketball with more television exposure than any other conference.

The addition of Rutgers and West Virginia will strengthen the BIG EAST's geographic hold on the Northeast. Notre Dame will open doors in the Midwest.

Also, other BIG EAST championship events in track, men's soccer, women's basketball and baseball have been seen on various cable networks across the country.

While BIG EAST basketball games are regular sellouts at campus and major public arenas, including the annual BIG EAST Tournament Championship in Madison Square Garden, attendance figures also are significant at BIG EAST soccer, women's basketball and baseball games.

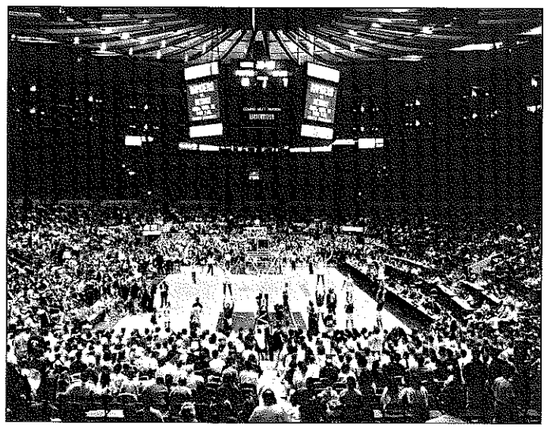

Some feats of note since the inauguration of the league in 1979-80:

- NCAA women's basketball title by Connecticut in 1995.
- Eight Final Four appearances and NCAA men's titles by Georgetown in 1984 and Villanova in 1985.
- An NCAA Women of the Year Award (Nnenna Lynch, Villanova, 1993).
- An NCAA record six straight national women's cross country titles by Villanova (1989-1995).
- All-Americas in men's soccer (21), baseball (18), softball (8), men's swimming and diving (9), women's swimming and diving (10).
- 20 NCAA individual champions in women's track and field and 19 in men's track and field.

More than 230 BIG EAST athletes have earned All-America recognition, and dozens have won individual NCAA national championships. The BIG EAST has been well-represented in U.S. or foreign national and Olympic teams, with several athletes earning gold medals in the summer Olympiads in Barcelona in 1992, Seoul in 1988 and Los Angeles in 1984.

The BIG EAST became a reality on May 31, 1979, following a meeting of athletic directors from Providence College, St. John's, Georgetown, and Syracuse Universities. Seton Hall, Connecticut, and Boston College completed the original seven school alliance. Further expansion included Villanova (1980-81), Pittsburgh (1982-83), and Miami (1991-92). Rutgers, West Virginia, and Notre Dame were added in 1994 and begin participation in the '95-96 academic year.

Only two men have served as BIG EAST Commissioner. Dave Gavitt, former basketball coach and athletic director at Providence, was succeeded by longtime associate Michael Tranghese on June 21, 1990. Tranghese supervises operations from the Providence league headquarters, where the conference staff administers to 5,000 athletes in 19 championship events.

Since 1983, the BIG EAST Conference Tournament has been a fixture at Madison Square Garden and is sold out annually.

The Nation's Most Televised Conference

The BIG EAST will again be the most televised basketball conference in the nation. BIG EAST teams will receive more national exposure than any other league, and Creative Sports will produce primetime and weekend afternoon games for syndication on a regional and local market basis.

The BIG EAST has long been an innovative leader in its approach to negotiating and approving television packages for the league's member schools. BIG EAST schools are located in seven of the top 17 markets and eight of the top 26. BIG EAST television markets include one-third of the nation's television homes.

The league was the first to sign an exclusive contract with a major network (CBS) and a national cable network (ESPN). In 1985, the BIG EAST became the first league to act as its own syndicator by forming the BIG EAST Conference Television Network. Under the supervision of Commissioner Mike Tranghese and Associate Commissioner Tom McElroy, the BIG EAST Network produced games for telecast in each school's local market from 1985 through 1995.

Currently, the BIG EAST is in the first year of a new multi-year agreement with CBS. The BIG EAST and CBS have been television partners for the past 12 years, the last nine on an exclusive basis. The initial agreement was made in 1985. The current contract provides for a minimum of 15 appearances per season, including five conference games and at least five intersectional contests.

The BIG EAST and ESPN have grown together. In 1979-80, ESPN began the "Monday Night Game of the Week" concept which was also the first year of existence for the BIG EAST. ESPN and the BIG EAST are in the first year of a new agreement which will run for six seasons. ESPN will provide at least 46 basketball appearances per year and ESPN2 will have at least 28 per season. BIG EAST games will once again be featured in ESPN's Big Monday and Wednesday night formats. ESPN and ESPN2 will also carry the entire BIG EAST Tournament this year, with the semifinals and championship game televised in primetime on ESPN.

1994-95 SEASON GAME-BY-GAME RECAPS:

NOV. 25—MIAMI 66, NORTHEASTERN ILLINOIS 48

The Hurricanes opened the season with a solid 66-48 non-conference victory over Northeastern Illinois. Steven Edwards scored 20 points and Steve Rich recorded his third career double-double with 16 points and a game-high 11 rebounds to pace the Hurricanes. Junior Mitchell Dunn, making his UM debut, scored 12 points and led the team in both assists (four) and steals (three).

Defense was the real key though for the 'Canes who broke open a close game with a 16-0 run in the second half. Leading 43-40 with 16:37 remaining, UM scored 16 unanswered points over the next 10:25 to take a commanding 59-40 lead. During the decisive run the Golden Eagles missed 20 consecutive field goal attempts.

Miami's defense limited the Golden Eagles to 21.7 percent (15-69) shooting from the floor, including just 13.3 percent (4-30) from three-point range. The Golden Eagles struggled in the second half, scoring just 16 points, as they connected on 6-40 field goal attempts (.150), including 1-16 (.063) from three-point range.

NOV. 28—MIAMI 76, FLORIDA ATLANTIC 59

The Hurricanes used a 12-0 run in the first half and a 21-0 run in the second half to roll to a 76-59 victory over Florida Atlantic in the Miami Arena. Junior Mitchell Dunn scored a team-high 19 points on 8-16 shooting and grabbed seven rebounds and Steve Frazier came off the bench to contribute 13 points and three assists.

Defensively, Miami held the Owls to 35.7 percent (20-56) shooting from the floor and forced FAU to commit 29 turnovers. The 29 turnovers were the most by a UM opponent since the 'Canes forced Barry to commit 29 turnovers on Nov. 23, 1991 in the season opener for both teams.

NOV. 30—MIAMI 66, ROBERT MORRIS 51

The 'Canes improved their record to 3-0 with a 66-51 victory over Robert Morris in the Miami Arena. Steven Edwards tallied 25 points (one shy of his career-high) and Alex Fraser recorded his second career double-double with 10 points and a team-high 11 rebounds. Constantin Popa came off the bench to contribute 14 points and nine rebounds. Miami, which outrebounded the Colonials, 44-41, held Robert Morris to 28.6 (18-63) percent shooting from the floor.

DEC. 6—SYRACUSE 83, MIAMI 65

John Wallace scored 23 points and grabbed 10 rebounds and Lawrence Moten added 20 points and five assists as the 19th-ranked Orangemen (4-1, 1-0) opened the BIG EAST season with an 83-65 victory over the Hurricanes in the Miami Arena. Syracuse, which shot 56.9 percent (33-58) from the floor, also received 19 points and seven assists from Michael Lloyd in his BIG EAST debut and 10 points off the bench from J.B. Reafsnyder.

Miami, which shot just 37.5 percent (27-72) from the field, was led by Constantin Popa who gave a gallant effort in defeat. Popa severely sprained his right ankle just four minutes into the contest but came back and played 22 more minutes on the ankle which was later placed in a soft cast for a week. Despite the injury, Popa recorded his 13th career double-double with 17 points and a game-high 13 rebounds. Steven Edwards scored 14 points (all in the second half) and Mitchell Dunn added 10 for the Hurricanes (3-1, 0-1).

DEC. 10—MIAMI 67, FLORIDA A&M 53

Despite having five players miss the game due to assorted injuries the Hurricanes recorded a 67-53 victory over Florida A&M in the Miami Arena. The victory was UM's ninth straight against teams from the state of Florida and the fifth in five meetings versus the Rattlers. Sophomore Alex Fraser led the way for the 'Canes as he recorded his second double-double in three games, finishing with career and team-highs in points (19), rebounds (16) and blocked shots (three). Steven Edwards was Miami's only other double-figure scorer as he tallied 15 points.

DEC. 20—CLEMSON 75, MIAMI 55

Clemson shot 50.9 percent (29-57) from the floor and outrebounded the injury-plagued Hurricanes, 33-23, in recording a 75-55 non-conference victory in Clemson, S.C. Senior Rayfield Ragland came off the bench to pace the Tigers with 26 points (11-15 FGs) while freshman Greg Buckner connected on all seven of his field goal attempts and finished with 15 points. Buckner also recorded game-highs in both rebounds (eight) and steals (five). Steven Edwards led Miami with 13 points and freshman Kevin Norris, who made his first collegiate start, contributed 11 points and a team-high four assists.

DEC. 28—UNLV 56, MIAMI 55

Clayton Johnson's three-point field goal with 49 seconds remaining gave the Runnin' Rebels a 56-55 victory over the Hurricanes in the first annual Orange Bowl Basketball Classic. Miami had two attempts to win the game but Mitchell Dunn's pull-up baseline jumper with three seconds remaining caromed off the rim and Constantin Popa's follow-up tip did not drop.

Johnson and Patrick Savoy each finished with 16 points to lead the Runnin' Rebels while Kebu Stewart recorded a double-double with 11 points and 12 rebounds. Constantin Popa recorded his 14th career double-double for the 'Canes with a game-high 17 points and 11 rebounds.

DEC. 30—MIAMI 55, FORDHAM 43

The Hurricanes overcame a second-half deficit and outscored the Rams, 18-3 over the final 8:58, to close out the 1994 calendar year the way it started, with a non-conference victory. Trailing, 40-37, after David Mascia nailed Fordham's only three-point field goal of the game, the Hurricanes went on an 11-0 run over the next 6:37 and took command of the contest en route to recording a 55-43 victory.

Constantin Popa came off the bench to lead UM with 12 points while Steve Frazier and Mitchell Dunn each added 10 points. Ryan Hunter paced the Rams, who were held to 16 second-half points on 7-24 shooting (.292), with 11 points and Mascia added 10.

UNIVERSITY OF MIAMI HURRICANE

It lay silent for 14 years. Collecting dust and going unnoticed, the Miami basketball program was the Rip VanWinkle of college basketball from 1971 to 1985. Now, Hurricane Basketball is back. In a big way.

Since 1985 the Miami program has undergone such dramatic and frequent changes, it seemed that the Hurricanes were continually entering "a new era." First came the "Era of Miami Basketball" itself. Then came the "Bill Foster Era," followed by the "Tito Horford Era," "The Leonard Hamilton Era," and finally "The BIG EAST Era."

The latest step taken by the blossoming Hurricane program serves as the most dramatic in the 45 seasons and 69 years since the team's formation. With the entry into the BIG EAST Conference, the University of Miami not only shed its previous life-long status as an independent, it entered the ranks of the most competitive and successful basketball conference in the nation.

The road to conference affiliation in the BIG EAST has not been an easy one for those who have thirsted for basketball in this continually prospering section of the country. Moreover, the previous path traveled by Miami basketball players, coaches and fans was dotted by flashes of brilliance, color and sometimes disappointment.

Here is a capsule summary of the 69 years of Miami basketball that have intermittently played a part in the history of the athletic program at the University and its neighboring community.

THE 1920s
MIAMI'S FIRST TIME

- The Hurricanes fielded a freshman team in 1926-27, finishing 7-1 under Head Coach Art Webb.
- In 1927-28, the first official varsity basketball team at the University of Miami posted an 8-4 mark, knocking off Rollins, 51-15, in the opener.

Coach Hart Morris

THE 1930s
A MISSING LINK

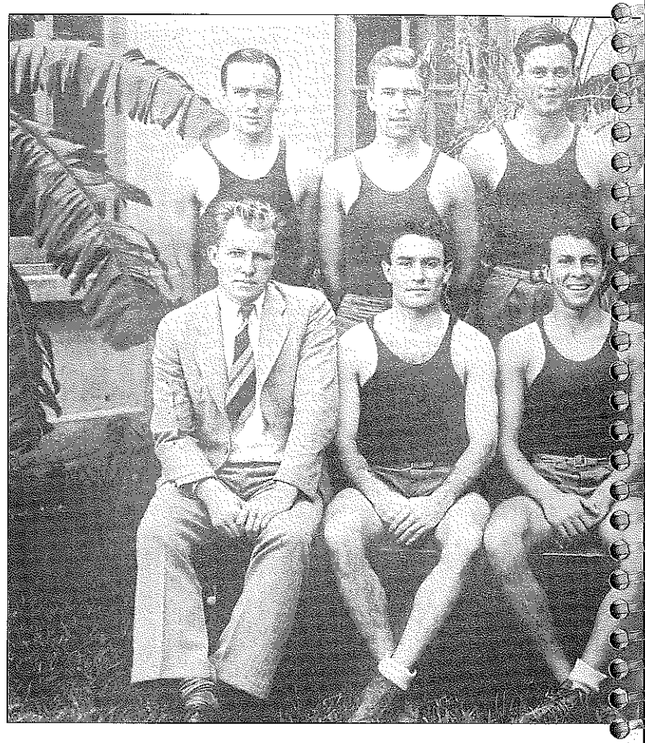

- Miami records list no official results from 1932 through 1938. During that period of time, representatives from the school played local AAU and church sponsored teams under Coach Tom McCann.
- The Hurricanes returned to intercollegiate competition in the 1938-39 season, posting a 4-6 record under Head Coach Hart Morris.

THE 1940s
WORLD WAR II STOPS PLAY

- Like many other institutions across the nation, Miami dropped intercollegiate basketball during the war years of 1942-1945.
- Morris returned as head coach along with the program in 1946 and was the UM mentor until 1952 when Dave Wike took over for a two-year stint as the UM coach.

UM'S GLORY YEARS

- In 1954, the University named Bruce Hale as its head basketball coach. The retired Air Force captain and former professional basketball star held the UM head coaching post for 13 seasons, leading the Hurricane program through its glory years of intercollegiate basketball. Before the end of Hale's tenure in 1967, the Hurricanes won 220 games and lost 112 for a .663 winning percentage. Hale's first Miami team turned in a 9-11 record, but there were no other losing campaigns in the next 12 years. The streak of non-losing seasons extended through the 1968-69 season – marking 14 consecutive campaigns of .500 basketball or better for UM.

- Hale's 1959-60 club was the only UM men's basketball team to ever advance to the NCAA Tournament and finish the season ranked in the Associated Press Top 10. That 1959-60 edition ran its record to 23-3 before bowing to Western Kentucky, 107-84, in the first round of the tournament.
- During that historic '59-60 NCAA Tournament year, junior guard Dick Hickox became the first UM basketball player to earn All-America recognition. Hickox averaged 22.1 points per game during that season en route to becoming a second-team AP and UPI All-American.

RICK BARRY'S ALL-AMERICAN YEARS

- The Dick Hickox-led Hurricanes of 1960-61 returned to post-season play — falling in the first round of the NIT to St. Louis, 58-56. The 1960-61 squad compiled a 20-7 record.
- In 1962-63, Miami advanced to the second round of the NIT before falling to Providence, 106-96. An opening round NIT victory over St. Francis (NY), 71-70, marks the only Miami victory to date in post-season play.
- From 1962 through 1965, Miami recorded three consecutive 20-win seasons, rolling up a composite record of 65-16. The star of these Hurricane glory teams was a brilliant scorer named Rick Barry.

Rick Barry
UM's 1st Consensus
All-American (1961-65)

BASKETBALL HISTORY - 1926-1995

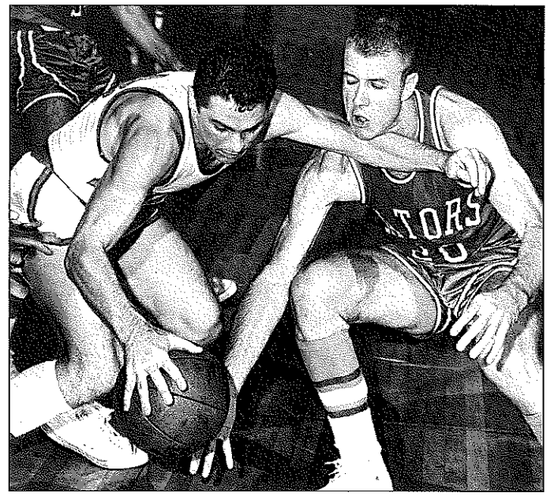

The 1928-29 Miami Hurricanes recorded a 13-6 overall record.

- In 1964-65, Barry became the Hurricanes' only consensus All-America selection. The 6-7, 200-pound native of Roselle Park, New Jersey led the nation in scoring with a 37.4 average in his senior season. He went on to become the only player in basketball history to win single-season scoring titles in the NCAA, ABA and NBA. He was inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, MA, in 1986.
- The 1964-65 Miami squad, led by Barry's scoring brilliance, established a new NCAA scoring record by averaging 98.4 points per game. The 'Canes, however, were not allowed to participate in the NCAA Tournament that year — after posting a 22-4 record — because of recruiting violations.
- Bruce Hale resigned after 1966-67 and assistant Ron Godfrey assumed the head coaching responsibilities.

THE 1970s
FIRST ERA ENDS

- Don Curnutt closed out his Miami basketball career in 1970 as the Hurricanes' third and last player to receive All-America recognition.
- February 27, 1971 — The last victory by a University of Miami men's basketball team came in the second to the last game of the season, a 100-94 triumph over Florida State at home in the Dinner Key Auditorium. The 'Canes shot a season-high 62.5 percent from the floor as all five Miami starters scored in double figures.
- March 1, 1971 — After posting a four-year record of 47-56 at Miami, Ron Godfrey resigned his post as head basketball coach, effective following Miami's final game of the season against nationally ranked Jacksonville.

Dick Hickox was named UM's first All-American in 1960. He led UM to a 23-3 record, the Hurricanes' first NCAA tournament and the school's only final regular-season Associated Press Top 10 ranking.

- March 2, 1971 — The last game played by a University of Miami men's team until 1985 took place at the Dinner Key Auditorium where one of the largest UM home crowds in years turned out to see the Hurricanes host nationally ranked Jacksonville. The Dolphins handed Miami a 94-75 loss that remained as UM's last contest for the next 14 years.
- April 22, 1971 — The University of Miami Board of Trustees voted to drop the sport "temporarily until such time as a permanent field house can be constructed on the main campus." Sagging attendance figures and serious financial losses were also believed to contribute to the discontinuation of basketball at UM.

IN 1983
UM COMMITS TO REBUILDING

- July 15, 1983 — Sam Jankovich was named athletic director at the University of Miami. Coming to UM after a successful stint as the athletic director at Washington State, Jankovich immediately announced that the resurrection of men's basketball at Miami would be his primary priority in the early months of his tenure, enabling UM to have "one of the nation's most complete and visible overall programs in the country.
- October 12, 1983 — The University of Miami Board of Trustees unanimously voted to reinstate men's basketball at the University of Miami. The Board made the decision after reviewing a report submitted by newly hired Athletic Director Sam Jankovich which stated that men's basketball can be a revenue-producing venture. Moreover, nearly $500,000 had already been raised in support of bringing basketball back to the University. It was also announced that the Hurricanes would be ready to compete on the Division I level in the 1985-86 season, and the downtown James L. Knight Center was home for the reborn program.

"This is an exciting day for the University and for the athletic program," UM President Edward T. Foote, II said. "And we are keeping in mind the priorities of academics first and athletics second ... we are pleased that the changes in the economics of intercollegiate basketball allow the University to resurrect one of the country's most popular sports. We look forward to welcoming these Hurricanes home again."

UNIVERSITY OF MIAMI HURRICANE

As a second-team All-American, Don Curnutt's career came to an end in the 1970s, so did Miami's first era of basketball.

IN 1984
FOSTER HIRED AS COACH

- March 21, 1984 — Bill Foster, a 47-year-old native of Hemingway, South Carolina was named the seventh men's basketball coach at the University of Miami. Foster came to Miami after 19 years as a head coach at three different institutions: Shorter College, North Carolina-Charlotte and Clemson. Foster also announced on this day that Clint Bryant, a long-time assistant at Clemson, would also join the Miami staff in a similar capacity.
- April 9, 1984 – Bill Foster announced the hiring of a second assistant coach, Seth Greenberg, who was serving as an assistant coach to Terry Holland at the University of Virginia.
- April 16, 1984 – Tim Harvey, a 6-10, 240-pound center, became the first basketball player to commit to the University of Miami in over 14 years. The Plainfield, New Jersey native announced that he would transfer to Miami after spending two seasons in the Georgia Tech program.
- July 1, 1984 – A third assistant coach was hired to complete the basketball staff as Miami native Cesar Odio returned home after serving as an assistant coach at his alma mater, Florida Southern College.
- October 11, 1984 – Nearly one full year after the announcement that basketball would return to the University, Athletic Director Sam Jankovich announced that a million dollar-plus practice facility would be constructed on the Coral Gables campus. The new all purpose structure – located between the Hecht Athletic Center and the Greentree Track would be funded through a gift from the James L. Knight Charitable Trust.
- The first phase of the 1985-86 basketball schedule was also announced on this day, and the line-up included such perennial powers as North Carolina, Georgia, Notre Dame, Marquette and Dayton.
- October 15, 1984 – The first men's basketball practice session in over twelve years was held on the patio in the center of campus. More than 200 members of the student body participated as Foster and his assistants searched for prospects under the warm Florida sun.

IN 1985
WITH EVERYTHING IN PLACE, MIAMI TIPS OFF AGAIN

- April 25, 1985 – Foster announced that the UM's 1985-86 basketball roster would include nine freshmen, one sophomore and one junior as the spring signing period ends for NCAA basketball.
- August 16, 1985 – Athletic Director Sam Jankovich announced that the 1985-86 basketball schedule had been completed and that network television coverage of the Hurricane program would include two games to be broadcast by CBS (Arizona) and ESPN (Notre Dame).
- Jankovich also announced the completion of a local television schedule (on WBFS-Channel 33) that would bring all nine UM road games back to Miami by way of live local broadcasts. Channel 33 would also carry selected home games in the Knight Center.
- WIOD Radio, the radio voice of UM football and baseball would also carry all Hurricane basketball games with veteran Hurricane announcer Sonny Hirsch at the microphone.
- October 15, 1985 – Basketball practice officially begins at the University of Miami in the Knight Sports Complex.
- November 12, 1985 – The Knight Sports Complex was dedicated at a gala banquet that was held on the basketball courts of the new structure. CBS basketball analyst Billy Packer served as the evening's guest speaker for an event which welcomed over 500 guests to the on-campus home of Hurricane basketball. The facility now serves as the practice home to the men's and women's basketball programs while also housing the men's basketball coaching staff offices. In addition, the Knight Sports Complex enabled the athletic program to more than double the size of the existing strength room, while also providing meeting rooms and lecture rooms for all of Miami's student athletes. The structure is located between the Hecht Athletic Center and the Greentree Track.
- November 22, 1985 – The brand new era of Hurricane basketball was ushered in by a young UM squad which defeated The Citadel, 85-77, in front of a sellout crowd of 4,984 at the Knight Center. Dennis Burns (24 points), Kevin Presto (22) and Eric Brown (21) combined to lead the Miami offense, while Bryan Hughes enjoyed the distinction of scoring Miami's first point in 14 years (a free throw with 18:34 remaining in the first half).

BASKETBALL HISTORY - 1926-1995

- November 30, 1985 – Miami stuns 1985 NCAA Tourney participant Georgia with a thrilling 81-78 victory to capture the first AMI Classic Championship at the James L. Knight Center.

END OF THE 1980s
UM MOVES FORWARD, UPSETS TOP 20 TEAMS

- March 5, 1986 – An 84-62 loss to Marquette in Milwaukee closed the Hurricanes' first season since 1970-71. Miami finished the year with a 14-14 record, giving Bill Foster his 19th non-losing record in 20 years as a collegiate head coach.
- The 1986-87 season – Though still considered "America's Youngest Team," Miami compiled a 15-16 slate – recording upset victories over Marquette, Stanford and Florida State, while losing by only four points to future BIG EAST foe Providence – a team that advanced to the NCAA Final Four.
- The 1987-88 season – Thrilling victories over both Providence and Virginia Commonwealth propelled the 'Canes to continued improvement with a 17-14 record. Following the season, center Tito Horford announced his intention to enter the NBA Draft without completing his final two seasons of eligibility. Miami was left with anything but a depleted roster as ten lettermen, including eight seniors, returned for UM's fourth season.
- April 12, 1988 – Athletic Director Sam Jankovich announces plans to move Hurricane Basketball to the new $56 million Miami Arena. Also home to the NBA's Miami Heat, the state-of-the-art basketball facility signifies a new era in the rise of South Florida basketball.
- December 10, 1988 – A crowd of 6,654 watches the Hurricanes run neck-and-neck for 40 minutes with ACC powerhouse Duke. Blue Devil Danny Ferry needs a superhuman performance to stop the 'Canes as he connects on 23 of 26 shots en route to 58 points. Ferry later calls Miami "a definite Top 40 team."

HURRICANES FLOOD THE AIR WAVES

WINZ & PAXSON SPORTS

WINZ Radio (940 AM), a Paxson owned station, will serve as the flagship station of University of Miami basketball and will provide daily Hurricane reports in morning and afternoon drive time. Veteran play-by-play announcer Sonny Hirsch returns for his 22nd season as the "Voice of the Hurricanes". He will be joined by UM graduate Dave LaMont, who will provide the analysis and Phil Latzman, who will anchor the pregame show. WINZ will carry a half-hour pre-game show before each Hurricane contest and will also broadcast a post-game show featuring an interview with UM Head Coach Leonard Hamilton.

WZTA Radio (94.9 FM) will broadcast a minimum of six Miami Hurricane games this season when WINZ has a conflict with the NBA's Miami Heat. WZTA will also carry both the pre-game and post-game shows when airing Hurricane basketball contests.

UM's games against Northeastern Illinois (Nov. 24), Florida Atlantic (Dec. 20), Connecticut (Jan. 6), Seton Hall (Jan. 8), Pittsburgh (Jan. 20) and West Virginia (Feb. 17) can be heard on WZTA.

WEAT (850 AM) in West Palm Beach will also broadcast all Hurricane games while WFTL (1400 AM) in Fort Lauderdale, WCHT (100.3 FM) in Islamorada and WWZN (540 AM) and WWNZ (740 AM) in Orlando will each air select games.

HURRICANE HOTLINE

WINZ will also serve as the home for Hurricane Hotline, a one-hour call-in radio show broadcast live every Thursday during the season from Cami's Seafood & Pasta featuring Coach Leonard Hamilton and his guests. Sonny Hirsch will serve as the host of the program which will air from 6-7 p.m.

WVUM (90.5)

WVUM Radio, the University's student radio station, will broadcast all Hurricane home games and the away contest at Villanova. Dave Aizer, Jason Solodkin and Jeff Hansel will form the broadcast team for the majority of the WVUM broadcasts.

WVUM will also broadcast a half hour pre-game show before every Hurricane home BIG EAST contest.

SPORTSCHANNEL FLORIDA

SportsChannel Florida will serve as the primary television home for UM basketball this season. The regional cable outlet will broadcast 14 University of Miami games, including 11 BIG EAST Conference clashes.

SportsChannel will also air a half-hour season preview on the Hurricanes, hosted by Dave O'Brien, in the month of November.

WPLG-CHANNEL 10

WPLG-Channel 10 will broadcast the Hurricanes' away games at Georgetown on January 13 and at Villanova on January 27. The games which will be produced and distributed by Creative Sports, Inc. are part of the BIG EAST Game-of-the-Week syndicated package.

ESPN/ESPN2

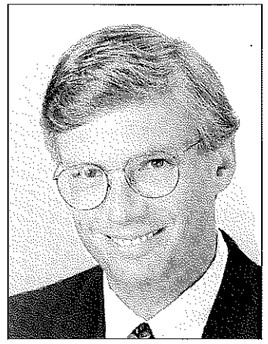

The Hurricanes will make a minimum of four appearances on the national cable outlets this season. Miami's February 14 contest at Providence and its February 28 game against Notre Dame will both be telecast on ESPN. The 'Canes will make their first appearance on ESPN2 when they host St. John's on February 20.

For the first time since 1986 ESPN has secured the rights to the BIG EAST Tournament. All BIG EAST Tournament games will be shown live on either ESPN or ESPN2, assuring the 'Canes of at least one more appearance on the national cable outlets. ESPN currently reaches more than 68 million homes.

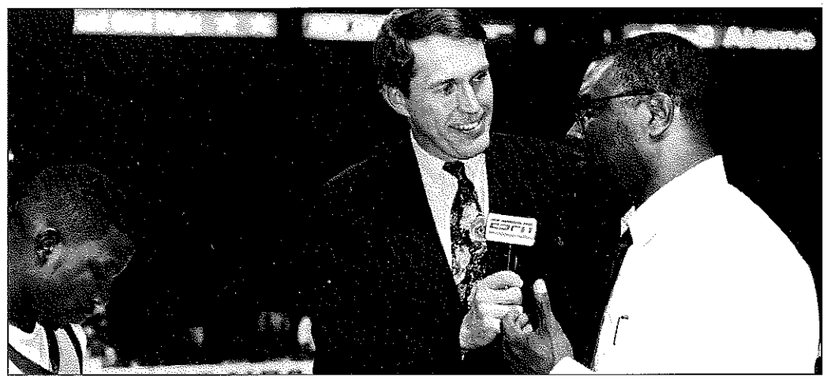

CREATIVE SPORTS

Creative Sports, Inc., purchased the rights to all BIG EAST games not shown on CBS or ESPN. Under the terms of an agreement with the conference and its member schools, Creative Sports owns the rights to all games not nationally televised and will produce the games for regional syndication and local market viewing.

CORAL GABLES & COCONUT GROVE (NEAR UM'S CAMPUS)

Coral Gables imparts an Old World ambience with some of Miami's best natural treasures like the 83-acre Fairchild Tropical Gardens and Venetian Pool, often called the world's most beautiful swimming lagoon. Some of the region's finest boutiques, gourmet restaurants and art galleries, as well as the Coral Gables Playhouse, are located here.

Coconut Grove is one of the oldest neighborhoods in Miami. Its enchantment lies in the carefree blend of bohemian and chic. Elegant restaurants are blended with casual outdoor cafes. Located in the heart of this vibrant neighborhood is CocoWalk, the new open-air retail and entertainment center complete with shops, outdoor cafes, trendy nightclubs and a theater.

Once a coconut plantation, Key Biscayne maintains a natural beauty rare for an area in such close proximity to an urban center. Several of the park's waterfront locations offer dramatic vistas of the city skyline.

In the past few years, images of SoBe (SoHo of the South, as South Beah is referred to) are splashed across the pages of fashion magazines. Some of the world's most famous models come for photo shoots and mingle with the slew of transplanted celebrities who work and play on the beach.
