Camps and Clinics

An institution's sports camp or instructional clinic is any camp or clinic that is owned or operated by a member institution or an employee of the member institution's athletics department, either on or off its campus, and in which prospective student-athletes participate. If you or your staff would like to work outside clinics, please contact the compliance office to ensure the camps meet the NCAA's criteria.

Camp Reminders:

- A football camp or clinic may be conducted only during two periods of 15 consecutive days in the months of June and July.
- Basketball camps or clinics may be conducted only during the months of June, July, and August and must include an education session detailing NCAA initial-eligibility standards.
- Camps or clinics involving prospective student-athletes may not be held during a dead period. All camps or clinics must be open to any and all entrants (limited only by number, age, grade level, and/or gender).
- Prospective student-athlete should not be employed at University of Miami institutional camps, unless he/she has signed an NLI with the University of Miami.
- In men's basketball, no individuals associated with a recruited prospect shall be employed at institutional camps

Notice of Renewal/Non-Renewal

Each year, student-athletes who are on athletic aid are required to sign a renewal or non-renewal letter, depending on whether their aid will be continuing the following year. The deadline for the renewal letters to be signed is July 1, and non-renewal letters must be sent to the student-athletes by July 1st. As we receive these letters back from the student-athletes, please remember to deliver these letters back to the compliance office so they can be logged and filed as needed.

Student-Athlete Employment

All student-athletes must notify the Compliance Office upon securing employment during the academic year or summer session.

- Student-athletes must be paid only for work actually performed.
- The rate of pay must be equal to that of a normal employee performing the same task.
- Student-athletes may not receive any benefits not generally available to all employees.
- They may NOT be paid in advance.

Note: Payment should be made by check or direct deposit only.

- If you know of student-athletes who have obtained summer employment, please direct them to the compliance office to complete the student-athlete employment form

Summer Drug Testing

Student-athletes are subject to random drug testing throughout the year, including summer periods. Regardless of an individual's location, the NCAA has the jurisdiction to require a student-athlete to submit to drug testing at any point during the duration of a student-athlete's time at the University of Miami.

It is therefore important for coaches and the Compliance Office to be aware of each student's contact information at all times, should one need to be reached. Please notify the Compliance Office should any contact information change during the summer period.

Ethical Conduct

The NCAA expects all individuals associated with intercollegiate athletics (coaches, student-athletes, and staff members) to act with honesty and sportsmanship on and off the field. Examples of unethical conduct are described in bylaw 10.1 including but not limited to participation in or failure to report violations to the Compliance Office. The information in this newsletter is intended as a guide and should not be used as a substitute for the NCAA manual. If you have any questions or concerns as to what may or may not be permissible, please utilize the Compliance Office as a resource.

COMPLIANCE MVP

We would like to thank Melissa Harris for being proactive about compliance questions related to facility use and other operational issues.

COMPLIANCE UPDATES

Use of student-athlete name, image, and likeness for outside entities or arrangements should be approved by the compliance office ahead of time. To prevent violations from occurring, should you see any student-athlete using their name/image/likeness to promote products, services or parties, please inform the compliance office.

IN THE NEWS:

NCAA asks for dismissal of “Kessler,” Alston Cases

Lawyers for the NCAA and a group of conferences that are facing two lawsuits challenging the association’s compensation limits for athletes asked a federal judge to dismiss the cases. The NCAA and the conferences argue that the decision of the O’Bannon antitrust case— which capped student-athlete compensation at the full cost of attendance- requires that the current Kessler and Alston cases be decided in the NCAA’s favor without further action.

The O’Bannon case is currently being appealed to the Supreme Court, however the Supreme Court has yet to decide whether they will hear it. Although the case is being appealed, the NCAA argues that the case is final and binding for the purposes of the Kessler and Alston cases.

The Kessler case is seeking to remove the current cap on student athletes’ compensation for men’s football and men’s basketball in the power conferences. The Alston case is also seeking to remove this cap for FBS football players as well as Division I men’s and women’s basketball players.

SELLING OR EXCHANGING AWARDS

Student-athletes that receive awards may NOT sell them or exchange them for any monetary value. If the award goes missing or is stolen it should be reported to the Compliance office.

Awards received by student-athletes may not include cash, gift certificates, gift cards that redeemable for cash, a cash-equivalent reward, or a country club or sports club membership.

Awards may be distributed at any point after a student-athlete's full-time enrollment at the certifying institution.

Awards may be provided to recognize special achievements, honors and distinctions. Local organizations may provide teams with awards as long as the award is approved by Compliance and counts towards the award limits.
