Now in his 41st season at Duke, Mike Krzyzewski - a Naismith Hall of Fame coach, five-time national champion and 12-time Final Four participant - has built a dynasty that few programs in the history of the game can match.

The numbers that illustrate Coach K's career are simply staggering:

- Five national championships (1991, 1992, 2001, 2010, 2015)
- Six gold medals as head coach of the U.S. Men's National Team
- Nine National Players of the Year (11 honors)
- Six National Defensive Players of the Year (nine honors)
- 10 consecutive top-10 AP poll finishes (1997-06)
- 12 National Coach of the Year honors (eight seasons)
- 12 Final Four appearances (tied for most in NCAA history)

- 12 ACC regular season championships
- 15 ACC Tournament championships (most in league history)
- 28 NBA Lottery picks (most in Draft history)
- 35 NCAA Tournament bids (most by one coach)
- 37 All-America selections (51 honors)
- 67 NBA Draft selections, including 41 first-round picks
- 65 ACC Tournament wins (most in league history)
- 97 NCAA Tournament wins (most in NCAA history)
- 126 weeks ranked No. 1 in the AP poll (most by a coach in poll history)
- 508 ACC wins (most in league history)
- 556 weeks ranked in the top 10 of the AP poll (most by a coach in poll history)
- 649 weeks ranked in the AP poll (most by a coach in poll history)
- 1,091 victories at Duke (most in NCAA history at one school)
- 1,164 career wins (most in NCAA history)

Coach K became the Division I men's career wins leader on Nov. 15, 2011, at Madison Square Garden, moving past his former coach Bob Knight with his 903rd victory. His historic 1,000th career victory came against St. John's at The World's Most Famous Arena on Jan. 25, 2015, as he became the first Division I men's basketball coach to achieve a four-figure win total.

Krzyzewski's 1,091 victories at Duke are an NCAA record by a coach at one school. With 1,091 of the Blue Devils' 2,208 all-time victories, Coach K has presided over nearly half (49 percent) of the men's basketball wins in Duke history.

Krzyzewski has won a league-record 511 ACC games (regular season and tournament), passing former North Carolina head coach Dean Smith (422) on Feb. 4, 2015. He has also won an ACC-record 190 conference road games.

Coach K's five national championships are the second-most in NCAA history. Krzyzewski and former Connecticut coach Jim Calhoun are the only coaches in NCAA history to win national championships in three different decades.

Coach K has led the Blue Devils into the NCAA Tournament 35 times - more than any other coach in history. He has taken Duke to the NCAA Tournament in each of the last 24 seasons that the tournament has been played - the longest streak in NCAA history, surpassing Dean Smith's 23 consecutive appearances from 1975 to 1997.

Krzyzewski holds NCAA Tournament records for games coached (127) and wins (97) while ranking second all-time and leading active coaches with a .764 NCAA Tournament winning percentage (min. 20 games). He has reached the Sweet 16 on 25 occasions, six more than any other coach in NCAA history, and has advanced to the Elite Eight 16 times.

Of the 1,387 games Krzyzewski has coached at Duke, 1,238 - 89.5 percent - have been as a ranked team. The Blue Devils are 1,007-231 (.813) as a ranked team under Coach K.

Coach K has taken top-ranked Duke teams into games on 254 occasions and compiled a 219-35 (.864) record as the AP's No. 1 team, ranking first in poll history in both number of games and wins as coach of a top-ranked squad.

Krzyzewski has tutored 67 NBA Draft picks during his time at Duke, including a total of 41 first-round selections that leads all active coaches. Duke has had at least one player taken in 33 of the 40 NBA Drafts during the Krzyzewski Era.

Since the inception of the NBA Draft Lottery in 1985, Coach K and Duke have produced 28 lottery picks - a draft-record total for both a school and a coach.

Through the 2019-20 season, Coach K's former Duke players have accumulated more than $2 billion in NBA contracts. Lottery selections who played for Krzyzewski at Duke have combined to earn more than $1.6 billion in contracts, an average of nearly $60 million per individual.

Under Coach K's watch, Duke has produced multiple All-ACC Academic selections in 12 of the last 13 years. The 2015 NCAA championship team featured a program-high five All-ACC Academic honorees. Quin Snyder, Amile Jefferson and Grayson Allen are the only players in Duke history to earn All-ACC Academic honors four times. Jefferson, a three-time captain, departed the university in 2017 with both bachelor's and master's degrees.

Krzyzewski has had six players collect a total of nine CoSIDA Academic All-America honors, headlined by two-time first-team honorees Battier (2000, 2001) and Mason Plumlee (2012, 2013). Allen became the sixth in 2016 when he garnered second-team accolades.

Fittingly, Coach K has earned nearly every award imaginable. The crown jewel of that haul, however, came in 2001 when he was inducted into the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame.

Since his enshrinement in Springfield, Mass., Krzyzewski has also been inducted into the Army Sports Hall of Fame (2009), the Chicagoland Sports Hall of Fame (2010) and the Duke Athletics Hall of Fame (2011).

While establishing Duke as one of college basketball's dynastic programs, Krzyzewski simultaneously spent more than a decade as one of the architects of the revitalization of USA Basketball. During his tenure at the helm of the program, the U.S. National Team amassed an extraordinary 88-1 record and claimed gold medals at the 2007 FIBA Americas Championship, 2008 Beijing Olympics, 2010 FIBA World Championship, 2012 London Olympics, 2014 FIBA World Cup and 2016 Rio Olympics, as well as a bronze medal at the 2006 FIBA World Championship.

Coach K was 24-0 in the Olympics as head coach of the USMNT and his time at the helm ended with the team in the midst of a National Team-record 76-game winning streak that began in 2006.

Sustained success under Coach K has resulted in coaching opportunities for several of his former players, as well as his former assistant coaches from both Duke and Army. More than 25 of Coach K's former players or assistants are currently either coaching or working in front office roles across professional and college basketball.

The Coaching Tree

Ten of Coach K's former players or staff are currently Division I head coaches: Tommy Amaker (Harvard), Kenny Blakeney (Howard), Mike Brey (Notre Dame), Jeff Capel (Pittsburgh), Chris Collins (Northwestern), Johnny Dawkins (Central Florida), Bobby Hurley (Arizona State), Greg Paulus (Niagara), Mike Schrage (Elon) and Steve Wojciechowski (Marquette).

Quin Snyder is currently the head coach of the NBA's Utah Jazz, headlining a long list of former players, staff and managers that are connected to the NBA. That list also includes Grant Hill as part-owner of the Atlanta Hawks, Elton Brand as general manager of the Philadelphia 76ers, Trajan Langdon as general manager of the New Orleans Pelicans and Shane Battier as vice president of analytics and development for the Miami Heat.

Krzyzewski has shown a firm commitment to taking care of his own, having at least three former Duke captains on his staff every season since 1996-97. The Blue Devils have won three NCAA titles, 12 ACC Tournament championships and eight ACC regular season crowns during that time.

The 2019-20 staff of Nate James, Jon Scheyer, Chris Carrawell and Nolan Smith all held the captain role during their playing careers at Duke.

Giving Back

Krzyzewski has been diligently committed to public service, both locally and nationally, throughout his coaching career. He is currently serving on boards for, while also assuming vital roles with, the Duke Children's Hospital, the Jimmy V Foundation for Cancer Research, the NABC Foundation, the CEO Roundtable on Cancer and the Emily Krzyzewski Center.

Coach K's philanthropic activities also include the establishment and funding of the Emily Krzyzewski Center, a community center in Durham named in honor of his late mother. The Center's mission is to inspire economically disadvantaged students to dream big, act with character and purpose, strive for academic excellence and reach their highest potential as future citizen leaders.

In May 2018, Coach K and his wife Mickie announced their single-largest philanthropic gift, a $3 million donation to the Emily K Center to kick start a $15 million fundraising campaign for the Durham-based Center. That campaign concluded on December 31, 2020 and raised $18.85 million to exceed the goal.

Rout of Clemson was nice, but emergence of Mark Williams is even better

By Brendan Marks, The Athletic (January 30, 2021)

THE ATHLETIC

This is not a “Duke is back!” story. Those may well be available elsewhere, but not here, where we deal in reality. One overwhelming win, against a team that has lost four of its last five games by 18 points or more, does not a season salvage.

But at the same time ... come on, now. Watch any one of Duke's first 11 games, then watch the Blue Devils' undressing of Clemson on Saturday, and say that's the same team. The players and uniforms and expectations may be unchanged, but the outcome was totally different. Things have clearly started to shift.

Chief among them is the return to health of freshman forward Jalen Johnson. A 6-foot-9 physical specimen, Johnson suffered an untimely foot injury in mid-December that robbed Duke of any early-season semblance of continuity. There was an adjustment period with him, then without him, then with him all over again. But early in Saturday's 79-53 win, Johnson used Clemson's P.J. Hall as a personal prop, vaulting over the defender and detonating on him for the most thunderous dunk Cameron Indoor has seen in a year. Johnson didn't even have to scream “I'm back!” thereafter – because the viral video of said act did it for him.

Johnson making an impact, however, isn't a new ripple to Duke's regular season; the dude had 19 points and 19 rebounds in his first college game. He's a projected NBA lottery pick, and for good reason. No, much more interesting to the Blue Devils' best win to date was the surprise emergence of a less-heralded member of the team's gigantic freshman class: center Mark Williams.

No pun intended with the use of gigantic either, although with his 7-foot frame, Williams certainly qualifies. And Williams, by the way, is less-heralded only by Duke standards – meaning he'd be a bona fide star just about anywhere else. A five-star talent and the No. 28 prospect in the Class of 2020? Coaches across the country would go to great lengths to land such a talent.

Yet here at Duke, even as the program embarked on one of its worst starts to the season in recent memory, Williams was given time. Time to adjust to the college game, both in terms of physicality and skill. Associate head coach Nate James, the Blue Devils' resident big-man whisperer, knows a thing or two about coaching up freshman big men such as Williams. He did it with Jahliil Okafor, Wendell Carter, Marvin Bagley III, and most recently, Vernon Carey Jr. Now it's Williams' turn.

“I mean, I've been working with Coach James a lot,” Williams said. “Just staying the course and remaining consistent, and then taking advantage of the opportunity I had.”

Against the Tigers, Williams posted the best stat line of his young career: 11 points on 4-of-6 shooting, to go along with five rebounds and two blocks. That he did all that in just 14 minutes of playing time – with no fouls or turnovers – is even more impressive.

Williams was one of Mike Krzyzewski's first two subs off the bench, entering the game about five minutes in – or about the same time, in the four starts he has made, that he usually subs out. That's a testament to Williams' growth, which is perhaps as impressive as any of Duke's freshmen since they arrived on campus in August. Back then, Williams was more of the string-bean body style, long and lanky and thin. Fine for dominating at the high school level, sure. But not so much against seasoned ACC bigs.

FOR DUKE'S COMPLETE CLIPS FILE, CLICK HERE

So Williams has lifted, eaten right and built his body to the point where he can both dish and receive a few body blows. Not fouling, per se, as Krzyzewski explained postgame, but the absence of that.

“A big thing for him, because we weren't able to play a lot of games and exhibitions and all that, it took him a while to learn what college basketball is about physicality-wise,” Krzyzewski said. “In the last week or so, maybe 10 days, he's really got a good understanding of that. Because he can be physical without fouling, and somebody can be physical with you without fouling.”

In that sense, Williams on Saturday simply used his size how he always has. As Krzyzewski put it, “Passing to Mark is different than passing to anyone on our team.” You're darn right it is. The Blue Devils have a liberty with Williams on the court that they otherwise don't: Throw the ball up and let the big guy go get it.

“You just get into the lane, you just throw the ball up, he'll catch it and dunk it,” fellow freshman D.J. Steward said of Williams. “It's really easy for him. He's an easy target, so it's really good for us guards.”

That sequence unfolded several times Saturday, and most of the time it was effective. And then there were the times that James' stamp on Williams was more stark, like when he spun over his right shoulder and laid the ball in off the glass. That's a post move, a skill move – a Nate James special.

What Williams did specifically Saturday, though, matters less in the grand scheme of things. Much more important is that this was the second straight game – he had a then-career-high six points in a win on Tuesday over Georgia Tech – where Williams showed not just growth, but difference-making potential. Johnson has shown it when healthy. Obviously Matthew Hurt shows it regularly. But Williams hadn't yet, not even to the same level as Steward and fellow freshman guard Jeremy Roach.

Now he has, and here's what to make of that. A team that at times has been missing something or another – consistent penetration or 3-point shooting or on-ball defense or rebounding – finally has something else to hang its hat on. In their first 11 games, the Blue Devils' the margin for error was minute, if that. If Krzyzewski's team didn't play perfectly, it would lose. But as the experience across the roster slowly builds, that's becoming the case less and less – because with each game Duke appears to be unlocking a novel philosophy or new personnel.

“There's just more,” Krzyzewski said in reference to his team's growing on-court options. “And our guys are unselfish kids, so they're looking for one another.”

What Williams' breakout, if we can call it that, signifies is that Duke isn't done growing. That was always going to be the case with a young team, but it's easier to rag on a down-on-its-luck blue blood than to let that process play out. If Williams can just do what he did Saturday – protect the rim a little, get an offensive put-back or three, provide a bail-out option for otherwise bad shots – then the Blue Devils suddenly have another element for opponents to address. The more of those, the better.

Which is also what you could say about Williams' minutes moving forward.

Asked how he views his role, Williams didn't mince words. “Offensively, just finishing around the rim, grabbing offense boards, tip-outs, extra possessions. Then defensively, obviously protecting the rim, guarding whoever I have,” he said. “That's pretty much it.”

It sure is. And that's all it needs to be.

MOORE OF THAT, PLEASE

- » Moore came off the bench at Pitt, giving Duke 31 minutes and hitting 5-of-10 from the field, including a career-high three made three-pointers, for 15 points.
- » He also logged four rebounds, three assists and a steal.
- » He matched his career high with three made three-pointers and scored 11 points with four rebounds in the Clemson win.
- » Moore is averaging 10.3 points, 4.7 rebounds and shooting .391 from the field over the last seven games after respective averages of 3.8, 2.8 and .219 over the first five.

BIG OFF THE BENCH VS. BC

- » Snapping out of a 1-for-21 slump by banking in a three from the top of the key, Moore dropped a career-high-tying 25 points on 8-of-13 shooting in the win over Boston College (Jan. 6).
- » The eight field goals marked a career high, with none bigger than a baseline jumper at the shot clock buzzer in the final minute to give Duke an 80-77 lead.
- » The sophomore also hit 7-of-8 from the free throw line, including the game-clinching toss to make it a four-point game with 11 seconds left.

ALL-ACC ACADEMIC PICK

- » Moore earned his first career spot on last year's All-ACC Academic Team, alongside senior Jack White.
- » It marks the 26th consecutive season Duke has had at least one selection to the All-ACC Academic Team. White and Moore were Duke's 95th and 96th all-time selections.

MOORE TAPPED TO NABC COALITION

- » The National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC) announced in August the formation of the NABC Player Development Coalition, a diverse collection of Division I men's basketball student-athletes that will provide valuable perspective and feedback on college basketball issues. Sophomore Wendell Moore Jr., is one of 11 selected to form the initial coalition.
- » In addition to creating a vehicle for student-athletes to address current issues, the coalition will also provide members with numerous professional and personal development experiences. The coalition will meet quarterly and have regular opportunities to address the NABC Board of Directors and NCAA committees.
