NORTH CAROLINA NOTES

Heels vs. Hurricanes

The Tar Heels and Hurricanes are meeting for the 29th time in a series that dates back to the 1980-81 season. Carolina leads the series 15-13, but the Hurricanes have won three of the last four and nine of the past 13 meetings.

• Miami came out on top in last year's matchup, 62-58 in Coral Gables on Jan. 5, 2023. After trailing through most of the game, the Tar Heels got within one with 49 seconds to play, but Miami scored the final three points to hang onto the win. Deja Kelly played all 40 minutes and led UNC with 19 points, including the 1,000th point of her career. The loss was the fourth in a row for the Tar Heels, who fell to 0-3 in ACC play. (They would knock off No. 4 Notre Dame in the following game and win the next eight in a row.)

• UNC won the last matchup in Chapel Hill, 85-38 on Feb. 6, 2022. The 47-point margin of victory was Carolina's largest in ACC play since the 2006-07 season. Deja Kelly scored a team-high 18 points, including four three-pointers in a row late in the second quarter.

UNC was 20-21 from the foul line and won the rebounding battle 53-34.

• North Carolina and Miami lead the ACC in defense, UNC giving up 59.1 points per game and UM allowing a league-low 57.9 ppg.

• In conference games only, the two top the list in field goal percentage defense, with Carolina leading the league at .368 and Miami second at .378. The two are also adjacent, yet at the bottom of the league standings, when it comes to free throw shooting: UNC is 14th at .659 and Miami is 15th at .618.

Next up

After two at home, UNC plays its next two on the road. On Sunday, the Tar Heels travel to take on Virginia for the second time in 2024. Next Thursday, Carolina makes the short trip to Raleigh to face NC State for the first of this season's two matchups.

Trending

• UNC is 3-4 this season against ranked teams. Carolina has losses to No. 1 South Carolina (H), No. 11 Kansas State (N), No. 12 UConn (N, trending H), and No. 21 FSU (A), and wins over No. 25 Syracuse (H), No. 16 Notre Dame (A) and No. 13 Louisville (H).

• UNC's 24-point margin of victory against Syracuse was the team's largest against a ranked team since the Tar Heels beat then No. 18-Syracuse by 24 in the 2020-21 season. The last time UNC had a larger margin against a ranked team was a 34-point win over UCLA in 2014-15.

• UNC shot 50 percent from the field against the Orange, marking the fourth time this season the Tar Heels have been at 50.0 or better from the floor. It was the sixth game in a row that Carolina had shot 41 percent or better, dating back to a 31.3 percent shooting night in the loss to No. 1 South Carolina. Carolina shot 38.7 at Notre Dame and 35.1 at FSU then has been at 45 percent or better for the past three.

• After one week out of the rankings, UNC climbed back in at No. 20 in the AP poll and No. 22 in the coaches' poll for the week of Jan. 8. The Tar Heels were the only team in the country to beat two ranked teams during the previous week. UNC is now No. 20 AP/No. 21 coaches.

• Six players on the roster have at least one 20-point game in a Carolina uniform. Deja Kelly has hit 20 points on 28 occasions (seven this season, including the past four games in a row), Alyssa Ustby seven (two this year), and Lexi Donarski and Maria Gakdeng two each. Paulina Paris and Kayla McPherson have reached 20 points once each, both during the 2022-23 season.

• UNC's 24 points off the bench against Notre Dame marked the team's highest in ACC play, highest against a ranked team, and third highest of the season. The Tar Heel bench has outscored the opposing bench just six times this season, with three of those coming in ACC play (Syracuse, Notre Dame, FSU).

• For just the second time this season (Vermont was the other), UNC trailed heading into the fourth quarter and came back to win in the Jan. 7 game at Notre Dame. In Tallahassee on Jan. 11, the Tar Heels were down by 21 in the third quarter and battled back to within three with 1:41 to play but fell 70-62.

• UNC outrebounded Notre Dame 47-41 to win the rebounding battle for the first time in ACC play. The Tar Heels followed that up with a 48-47 advantage at FSU, a 44-39 advantage over UVa, a 32-30 margin over Georgia Tech and a 42-38 margin against Louisville. UNC holds a +3.6 rebounding advantage in ACC play, which ranks fourth in the league.

• The win over Louisville marked the first time in ACC play and the sixth time this season that four or more Tar Heels have scored in double figures (Deja Kelly 23, Lexi Donarski 13, Alyssa Ustby 10, Indya Nivar 10). Reniya Kelly finished with a career-best nine and Maria Gakdeng with eight.

Stats Notes

• Deja Kelly leads the ACC and ranks third in the nation in free throw attempts with 130. She is 31-36 from the line over the last two games (7-8 vs UVa, 10-12 vs Ga Tech, 14-16 vs Louisville).

• Maria Gakdeng is shooting .655 from the field, a percentage that would comfortably lead the ACC if she had the required five makes per game to be ranked. (She has 4.1.)

• Against No. 25 Syracuse, Alyssa Ustby became the first player in Division I history to register 15 points, 15 rebounds and 10 assists against an AP-ranked opponent. (ESPN Stats and Info)

• Against Virginia, Deja Kelly became the first Tar Heel since at least 2009, the furthest back the stats track, with 25 points, 5 rebounds, 5 assists and only 1 turnover. (HerHoopStats)

Carolina's most recent action

Jan. 21: No. 23 UNC 79, No. 13 Louisville 68

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. – In front of a near-capacity Carmichael Arena crowd, the No. 23 North Carolina women's basketball team handed No. 13 Louisville its first Atlantic Coast Conference loss of the season Sunday afternoon, winning 79-68.

It marked the Tar Heels' third victory over a ranked team since the start of 2024 and gave the team its best ACC start – 6-1 – since 2013.

Senior Deja Kelly led the Tar Heel scoring with 23 points for her fourth consecutive game of 23 or more. She hit a career-high 14 free throws in 16 attempts and also handed out a game-high six assists. Graduate student Lexi Donarski scored UNC's first 10 points of the game – with five minutes to play in the first quarter it was Donarski 10, Louisville 9 – and finished with 13, including 3-7 shooting from three-point range.

Senior Alyssa Ustby scored 10 points and grabbed 12 rebounds to register her ninth double-double of the season and her fourth in seven ACC games. She also had a career-high seven blocks, more than double her previous best of three, to lead the Tar Heels to a season-best 11 as a team. Sophomore Indya Nivar came off the bench for 10 points.

The Tar Heels outrebounded Louisville 42-28, winning the battle of the boards for the fifth game in a row. After Ustby's 12, senior Anya Poole had eight, her high in ACC play, and junior Maria Gakdeng grabbed seven.

Carolina led by nine after the first quarter and shot 57.6 percent before halftime, its best in an ACC half this year, but still found itself tied up at the half, 36-36. The home team used an 11-0 run and outscored Louisville 24-13 in the third quarter to pull away. UNC shot 50.0 percent (7-14) and Kelly went 9-10 from the foul line in the period, and the Tar Heels led 60-49 heading into the fourth.

They were up by 12, 63-51, after a three by Reniya Kelly – assisted by Deja Kelly – with 7:44 to play, but the Cardinals continued to threaten. Louisville pulled within five, 66-61, on a Nyla Harris jumper with 3:41 remaining, but Nivar answered with a make on her only three-point attempt of the day to make the margin eight. Louisville cut it to six on three more occasions but never got closer.

Harris finished with 16 points for the Cardinals (16-3, 5-1). Oliva Cochran and Jayda Curry added 14 each.

The win is UNC's second in a row over Louisville in Chapel Hill, following a 66-65 victory in 2022 when the Cardinals were ranked No. 3.

The crowd was announced at 6,073, including more than 1,000 youngsters and their caregivers who participated in UNC's National Girls and Women in Sports Day celebration prior to the game, learning sports skills from members of UNC's 15 varsity women's teams.

Spotlight Week for the Heels

After one week outside the top 25, UNC earned its way back in with two emphatic wins. On Jan. 4, the Tar Heels hosted No. 25 Syracuse – the team that moved into the poll when Carolina fell out – and earned a 24-point victory, 75-51. It was the team's first win of the season against a ranked team.

UNC followed that up with a 61-57 win at No. 16 Notre Dame on Jan. 7 in the team's first true road game of the season. The Tar Heels were the only team to beat two ranked teams during the week and returned to the polls at No. 20 in the AP poll and No. 22 in the coaches' poll. Carolina was honored as the National Team of the Week by both ESPN.com and the U.S. Basketball Writers Association.

• Against Syracuse, Alyssa Ustby added to the night's excitement by handing out a career-high 10 assists to go with 16 points and 16 rebounds, earning the program's first-ever triple-double.

Welcome to the Family

In addition to the season-opening win, Nov. 8 was a big day because it marked the signing of two new Tar Heels, Blanca Thomas and Jordan Zubich. They'll arrive on campus next summer, ahead of the 2024-25 season.

"At the University of North Carolina, we want the most talented student-athletes who can make an immediate impact and whose best basketball is still ahead of them," coach Courtney Banghart said. "We recruit great teammates and great people. We want people that want to wear the Carolina uniform and to help us do something special together.

"As a staff, we aim for players that fit our programmatic needs at the right time. Blanca and Jordan are a home run for all the right reasons. I clearly want to recognize my current players who have attracted such high-quality players, people, and families, and we all can't wait to have both Blanca and Jordan here."

Thomas is from Charlotte, N.C., and attends Charlotte Catholic High School. A 6-5 post, she has led her team to the state's final four in each of the past two seasons after reaching the state quarterfinals in 2021. She was a first-team All-State pick as a junior after earning second-team honors in her freshman and sophomore years. The Charlotte Observer named her its Defensive Player of the Year in 2023.

Zubich is from Mountain Iron, Minn., and attends Mountain Iron-Buhl High School. A 5-11 shooting guard, she helped her team to a state championship in 2023 and has earned all-state honors in each of the past two seasons. A two-year team captain, she has already scored more than 2,000 points in her high school career.

She plays for Minnesota Fury, the same club for which current UNC senior Alyssa Ustby played.

• Both Thomas and Zubich were nominees for the 2024 McDonald's All-American Game.
• Zubich recently passed 3,000 points for her career.

Hull, Toomey to Sit This Season

Coach Courtney Banghart announced on Oct. 10 that two freshmen, Laila Hull and Ciera Toomey, will redshirt in 2023-24 while continuing to rehab injuries from high school. Both players underwent surgery over the summer as part of their continued rehabilitation, and by taking a redshirt year, each will retain four full years of playing time.

"When any player that you are excited to coach redshirts, there is obviously an element of disappointment as their process is a bit delayed," Banghart said. "But this decision also means that they get a year to rehab, build strength, and better prepare for the collegiate game, so in many ways it's a win. I've already been really inspired by the work ethic and dedication of both Ciera and Laila and am thrilled with their decision to get four full years with us on the court. I know we will continue to get their best as they work hard to return even stronger."

Hull, a wing from Zionsville, Ind., was Indiana's Miss Basketball and Gatorade Player of the Year in 2023. She averaged 22.4 points per game as a senior and finished her high school career as Zionsville High's all-time scoring leader.

Toomey, a forward from Dunmore, Pa., was named Pennsylvania's Miss Basketball as a senior, when she helped Dunmore to the 2023 state title. She was ranked as high as No. 3 among the players in this year's freshman class.

Season Ends for McPherson

UNC announced on Jan. 6 that redshirt sophomore guard Kayla McPherson will miss the rest of the season after sustaining a knee injury requiring surgery. McPherson appeared in seven games this season, starting three.

"I continue to be amazed and inspired by Kayla's resilience," UNC coach Courtney Banghart said. "We are all heartbroken on her behalf as she faces more time away from playing the game she loves and excels at, but her mindset remains so positive. While she attacks this setback, she is determined to impact our team in every way she can. We're a better team with Kayla, even when she is on the sidelines. Our entire program is behind her as she faces this new challenge."

McPherson sat out the 2021-22 season, her first in Chapel Hill, while continuing to rehabilitate a high school knee injury. She made her collegiate debut midway through the 2022-23 season, playing in 13 games and earning ACC Freshman of the Week honors.

After dealing with a knee issue in the preseason, she sat out the season-opener against Gardner-Webb then returned to the court against Davidson on Nov. 12. She played in the next seven games before being sidelined again.

"While I'm devastated to miss the rest of the season, I know that I can play an important role on the team even when I'm not in uniform," McPherson said. "I'll be cheering for my teammates from the bench and continuing to work hard to get back on the court. I want to thank our sports medicine team, our coaching staff, my teammates, my family and all of our fans for their support."

Story Lines

• The Tar Heels return three starters, five of their top seven scorers, and seven letterwinners from last season's squad. They add eight newcomers, the most of any season during fifth-year coach Courtney Banghart's tenure in Chapel Hill.

• Of the newcomers, five are freshmen and three are transfers – Lexi Donarski (Iowa State), Maria Gakdeng (Boston College) and Indya Nivar (Stanford).

• With eight new faces on the roster, offseason bonding was particularly important. The Tar Heels held a team pickleball tournament, played wiffleball and water polo as part of their conditioning, tried axe throwing, and went whitewater rafting during a day trip to the U.S. National Whitewater Center in Charlotte.

• Over the summer, the entire team and staff read "The Energy Bus," by Jon Gordon. The book emphasizes the importance and impact of a positive attitude in team dynamics.

• Deja Kelly spent part of her summer with Team USA as part of the squad that won silver at the FIBA Women's AmeriCup in Mexico in July. She also interned with SLAM magazine. She is now producing a podcast, NILosophy.

• Alyssa Ustby was selected to serve as the ACC's representative to the NCAA DI Women's Basketball Student-Athlete Engagement Group for 2023-24. She is part of UNC's Student-Athlete Advisory Council (SAAC), in addition to serving as a team captain, along with Deja Kelly.

• In July, coach Courtney Banghart started a two-year term as president of the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA).

• This year, UNC will celebrate the 30th anniversary of its 1994 NCAA title. The team will be recognized at the home game against Virginia on January 14th.

• Deja Kelly, UNC's No. 25, was named one of the top 25 players in the nation by ESPN.com during the preseason.

• Deja Kelly and Alyssa Ustby were both named to the Naismith Trophy Watch List and the John R. Wooden Award Watch List.

• Three Tar Heels were included on the watch lists for their respective positional awards: Deja Kelly for the Nancy Lieberman Point Guard of the Year Award, Alyssa Ustby for the Cheryl Miller Small Forward of the Year Award and Maria Gakdeng for the Lisa Leslie Center of the Year Award.

• Freshman Reniya Kelly had her No. 10 jersey retired by Hoover High School over the holiday break. Kelly was part of four state championship teams at Hoover and was MVP of three of those championships. As a senior in 2023, she was Alabama's Miss Basketball and Gatorade Player of the Year.

By the Numbers: Why the Tar Heels wear the jersey numbers they do

#0: ALEXANDRA ZELAYA

Zelaya wore No. 3 in middle and high school, but it wasn't available at UNC. Within the family, her older sister (Adriana) had claimed No. 1 and her younger sister (Avalyn) had No. 5. "I brought up zero and at first my family didn't really like it – you think, 'Is zero even a number?'" she said. "It's just really different. And I want to be different so that kind of highlighted everything I wanted it to be. So I picked zero and it's really grown on me."

#1: ALYSSA USTBY

Ustby wore No. 21 in high school but it was already taken at UNC so she picked No. 1. It had extra significance because it had recently been vacated by Taylor Koenen, a 2020 graduate who, like Ustby, is from Minnesota. "I'm keeping the Minnesota legacy going," Ustby said.

#2: PAULINA PARIS

Paris wore No. 23 growing up but it's retired at UNC – for Charlotte Smith, who hit the three-pointer to win the 1994 NCAA Championship – so she went with the first digit and decided to wear No. 2. (She writes "23" on her shoes to keep that number as part of her uniform.)

#4: LAILA HULL

Has worn 4 throughout her basketball career (since age 7) and says its her favorite number.

#5: MARIA GAKDENG

Wore 5 throughout middle school and high school and also through her two years at Boston College. She says it represents stability to her, even through a lot of change.

#10: RENIYA KELLY

Wears 10 because her birthday is in October, the 10th month.

#11: KAYLA MCPHERSON

Switched to back to 11, the number she wore throughout high school, this season after two years of wearing 14. (The number was worn by Ariel Young when McPherson arrived at UNC.)

#13: TEONNI KEY

Key has worn No. 13 since she started playing basketball and says it's her favorite number.

#15: SYDNEY BARKER

Is repping a new number this year because none of the others she'd worn were available.

#20: LEXI DONARSKI

She's always worn 21 but since it wasn't available she went with 20 as a fresh start in a new place.

#21: CIERA TOOMEY

The number was passed down to her from a family friend at the beginning of high school and she's worn it ever since.

#22: RYLEE GRAYS

Her father wore 23 in college and her mother wore 21, so she picked the number in between. Also, she's the second child in her family and the second girl.

#24: INDYA NIVAR

Chose it as a new number because her traditional number, 12, is retired at UNC for Ivory Latta.

#25: DEJA KELLY

Kelly wears the number in honor of her father, Darren, who played at the University of Texas and overseas. "Growing up watching him play inspired me," she said. "I decided to pick his number at a young age and it stuck."

#31: ANYA POOLE

The number was handed to her as a seventh grader and she's stuck with it ever since.

COURTNEY BANGHART
Head Coach · Fifth season at UNC, 17th season as a head coach

The 2023-24 season is the fifth at UNC for head coach Courtney Banghart, who has transformed the Tar Heel roster and led the team to NCAA Tournament appearances in each of the past three seasons and a Sweet 16 spot in 2022.

Banghart was announced on April 30, 2019 as North Carolina's head coach, the first new face in the position since 1986. She came to Chapel Hill after 12 years as the head coach at Princeton, where her teams won seven Ivy League crowns and made eight NCAA Tournament appearances. (Before her arrival, Princeton hadn't reached the tournament even once.)

A New Hampshire native, Banghart was a three-year starter at Dartmouth, where she twice earned All-Ivy honors. She still holds the Ivy League record for career three-pointers (273) and as a senior competed in the three-point shooting contest at Butler's Hinkle Fieldhouse during the men's Final Four in Indianapolis.

Including a WNIT appearance at Princeton, Banghart has led her teams to 12 postseason appearances in 16 seasons as a head coach.

More on Banghart:
• In July she began a two-year term as president of the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA).

• She was the 2015 Naismith National Coach of the Year and is the only current ACC coach to have won that honor.

• A player she coached was picked in the top 10 in back-to-back WNBA Drafts (Stephanie Watts from UNC 10th in 2021, Bella Alarie from Princeton 5th in 2020)

• In 2015 she was named to Fortune's list of the World's 50 Greatest Leaders. Also on the list that year: Pope Francis, Bill and Melinda Gates, Chief Justice John Roberts Jr., LeBron James, Elon Musk and Taylor Swift.

• She holds a bachelor's degree in neuroscience and a master's degree in writing and leadership, both from Dartmouth. Her graduate thesis was on sport leadership.

• She hitchhiked through Alaska after college (after ditching the outdoor leadership course in which she was enrolled) and has bungeed off a jump in Switzerland that was then the highest in the world.

• Right around the time she got the Princeton job, she and her brother were finalists to appear on "The Amazing Race."

• A four-time soccer state champion in high school, she planned to play that sport at Dartmouth until a coaching change made her rethink her path and talk the women's basketball coach into giving her a spot. (She also won two high school state titles in basketball and three in tennis.)

• She's a mom to three kids under the age of 10.
