PREVIEW

For the first time in 19 years, the Hurricanes have a new face at the helm of the program, as legendary coach Katie Meier retired at the conclusion of the 2023-24 campaign, and Miami brought in Tricia Cullop from the University of Toledo to take the reins of the program.

Cullop enters her 25th season as a Division I Head Coach on Sunday; and, she has accumulated no shortage of accolades during her career. Boasting a career record of 476-279 with 10 20-win seasons, Cullop has been successful at all of her stops throughout her time as a coach.

An Indiana native, Cullop played four years of collegiate basketball at Purdue, putting together a stellar career for the Boilermakers. After holding assistant coaching positions at Radford, Long Beach State, and Xavier, Cullop earned her first head coaching position in 2000 at Evansville University. By the 2007-08 season, Evansville was a 20+ win team and 2008 Missouri Valley Regular Season Champions, while Cullop was named Missouri Valley Coach of the Year.

After the 2007-08 season, Cullop accepted a new position as the Head Coach at Toledo, where she found tremendous success. After 16 seasons, 353 wins, 11 postseason appearances, six MAC Coach of the Year awards, five MAC Regular Season titles, and two MAC Tournament Championships, Cullop made her way to South Florida, where she is set to take over a Miami program that will aim to return to the NCAA Tournament and bring back the magic that fueled a spectacular Elite Eight run in 2022-23.

Along with a new coach, the Hurricanes squad will comprise many new faces, as Cullop and her staff worked to reload the Miami roster; however, a few familiar faces from the 2023 Elite Eight run remain, as well as return.

Haley and Hanna Cavinder are back with the Miami program after stepping away from basketball during the 2023-24 season. With one year of eligibility remaining, the Cavinders elected to return to Miami to finish out their collegiate career in the same atmosphere where they rose to stardom. Jasmyne Roberts returns for her fourth and final collegiate season, as she is set to finish her career at the same place it began when she stepped onto campus in 2021.

A variety of new players joined the program this past offseason, as Cullop and her staff worked to compile their roster with multiple freshmen signings, as well as adding coveted players from the transfer portal.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

Miami's locker room is closed to the media.

Interview requests should be directed to director of communications Trevor Marbut.

Head coach Tricia Cullop and selected players will be available to the media following a

10-minute cooling off period.

Cameron Williams joins the program for her final year of eligibility after playing for Notre Dame the past four years. Natalija Marshall made her way to Miami from Notre Dame, where she won an ACC Championship with the Irish last season. Darrione Rogers joins the squad from Mississippi State, and Daniela Albies transferred to Miami after a breakout 2023-24 campaign at Wichita State.

In addition to the impressive transfers that Cullop signed this offseason, she also managed to bring in the 18th best freshman class in the country, consisting of Ahnay Adams, Leah Harmon, and Simone Pelish.

Cullop has placed a tremendous emphasis on culture and building the type of culture that she wants in her program, and she is confident that she has the right pieces to create that culture and blend the mix of players she has put together to form a formidable team for the upcoming season.

At the forefront of the culture that Cullop is aiming to create are two players that Canes fans know very well: Haley and Hanna Cavinder. After a dominant three-year career at Fresno State by both players, they transferred to Miami ahead of the 2022-23 season. Haley Cavinder immediately broke onto the scene in the ACC, becoming a critical piece of the Miami team that made it to the Elite Eight. She earned 2023 All-ACC Second Team honors after averaging 12.2 points, 4.9 rebounds, and 2.5 assists per game, while knocking down 34.5 percent of her 3-point field goal attempts.

Hanna Cavinder also played an instrumental role in Miami's 2022-23 season, serving as a key reserve; she averaged 3.8 points, 1.6 assists, and 1.3 rebounds per game. The Cavinders are back after a brief hiatus from college basketball during the 2023-24 season.

In addition to the Cavinders, Jasmyne Roberts is the lone player that will take the court for the Canes this season and was also a member of the 2022-23 Elite Eight squad. Roberts enters her fourth and final season of collegiate basketball, all of which have been spent at the University of Miami, somewhat of a rarity in college athletics these days. After seeing limited action her freshman season, Roberts broke onto the scene her sophomore year, averaging 9.3 points, 4.9 rebounds, and 1.5 assists per game, while shooting an efficient 46.4 percent from the field. She elevated her numbers again last season, putting up 11.1 points and 4.9 boards per contest. Now, Roberts looks to take her game to another level and close out her college career in exceptional fashion with a tremendous senior campaign.

With a whole lot of fresh faces joining the program after Cullop took the reins, the two most high-profile additions are Cameron Williams and Natalija Marshall. Williams comes from a great basketball family, as her father, Aaron Williams, played 14 seasons in the NBA, while her uncle, Alvin Simms, also made it to the NBA before having a lengthy career playing professionally overseas. Williams spent the past four seasons playing for Michigan, and she had a stellar year for the Wolverines in 2023-24. As a senior last year, she appeared in all 34 games with 16 starts, and she posted season averages of 7.5 points and 4.6 rebounds per game, while shooting 54.8 percent from the field. Williams is expected to take on a key role with the Hurricanes in her final collegiate season.

Williams will be joined in the post quite frequently by Marshall, as the pair is expected to spend a fair amount of time on the court together. No stranger to the ACC, Marshall transferred to Miami after playing for Notre Dame for the past three seasons. Marshall won the 2023 ACC Regular Season Championship, as well as the 2024 ACC Tournament Championship with the Irish, as she brings great experience to Miami. Marshall was an essential piece for Notre Dame last season, appearing in 34 games, with four starts. She averaged 5.0 points, 3.7 rebounds, and 1.0 blocks per game, while shooting 50 percent from the field throughout the season. A talented athlete and skilled post player, Marshall is expected to be a significant playmaker for the Canes this year.

Miami will likely rely on a mix of youth and experience off the bench to complement their starting lineup. Darrione Rogers joins the mix after playing for Mississippi State last season and Depaul for three seasons prior to that. A 3-point sniper, Rogers has scored 1,399 points and buried 234 3-pointers at a 35.3 percent clip throughout her career.

Daniela Abies will compete for playing time in the post after joining the squad this past offseason following a breakout sophomore campaign at Wichita State. Abies averaged 13.0 points and 9.7 rebounds per game for the Shockers last season, while shooting 48.6 percent from the field and 42.9 percent from behind the arc.

Lemyah Hylton is back after sustaining a season-ending injury last February. Hylton had a formidable season off the bench for the Canes last season, providing consistent offensive contributions prior to her injury. She is expected to take on a similar role upon her return.

Cullop managed to sign one of the most talented freshman classes in recent memory, and they will have the opportunity to make an immediate impact on the program. Ahnay Adams, a point guard from New Bedford, Mass., was ranked as the No. 10 point guard in the nation by ProspectsNation.com and the No. 37 overall player in the country. She earned three consecutive Gatorade Player of the Year awards throughout high school. Simone Pelish, a guard from Poughkeepsie, N.Y., was a three-time NY Upstate Player of the Year and rated as a four-star recruit by ESPNW HoopGurlz. Leah Harmon completes the class, joining the Canes from IMG Academy, and she was rated as a five-star recruit by ESPN.

The new era of Miami Women's Basketball is set to begin on Monday, as the Canes will host Stetson to commence the 2024-25 campaign.

SCOUTING STETSON

Stetson is led by four-time ASUN Coach of the year and the winningest Coach in program history, Lynn Bria, who enters her 17th season at the helm of the Hatters.

Stetson is coming off a season in which they compiled an overall record of 17-15, including a mark of 12-4 in ASUN play. The Hatters closed out the 2023-24 regular season by winning 10 of their final 12 contests. After suffering a loss in the first round of the ASUN Championship, they were selected to participate in the WNIT where they lost to FIU to end the season.

The Hatters return just one of their top-five leading scorers, as senior Quentarra Mitchell, who finished the 2023-24 campaign ranked fourth on the team in points per game (8.3 PPG) is back for the 2024-25 season. Mitchell also ranked third on last year's squad in rebounds per game, pulling down 5.2 per contest. She appeared in 25 games, while making just one start, and will look to take on a larger role for Stetson this season.

Similar to Miami, Stetson has added numerous players through the transfer portal that are expected to make an immediate impact for the Hatters.

Tricia Cullop was named University of Miami women's basketball coach April 5, 2024, becoming the eighth head coach in program history.

Cullop comes to Coral Gables after spending the past 16 seasons as the head coach at the University of Toledo, where she compiled a record of 353-169. The six-time Mid-American Conference Coach of the Year led the Rockets to five MAC regular season championships and 11 postseason berths, including two trips to the NCAA Tournament. Prior to Toledo, Cullop spent eight seasons as the head coach at the University of Evansville.

A respected leader in college basketball coaching circles, Cullop served as the President of the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA) during the 2019-2020 and 2020-2021 membership years. In 2022, she received the WBCA Carol Eckman Integrity in Coaching Award, which is awarded to the member coach who best reflects Eckman's character traits of courage, ethical behavior, honesty, sportsmanship and commitment to the student-athlete.

Cullop earned MAC Coach of the Year honors in each of the past three seasons as her Rockets won a total of 85 games and captured three conference regular season crowns. In 2023-24, Toledo posted a 28-6 record, including a 15-1 mark at home, where the Rockets averaged 4,351 fans per game, good for first in the MAC and 33rd nationally. UT advanced to the quarterfinals of the WBIT.

In 2022-23, Cullop's squad won 29 games, advanced to the NCAA Tournament and earned the program's first NCAA Tournament victory in 27 years, upsetting fifth-seeded Iowa State before falling to fourth-seeded Tennessee. In 2021-22, the Rockets went 29-6 and advanced to the WNIT quarterfinals.

Cullop also led Toledo to the NCAA Tournament in 2017, which was its first

HEAD COACH TRICIA CULLOP

NCAA Tournament berth in 16 years. In 2011, the Rockets won the WNIT, the first-ever major postseason tournament title won by a MAC program.

Off the court, Cullop's Rockets posted the best grade point average in program history (3.84) in the 2023 fall semester. Six student-athletes earned a 4.0 GPA.

Cullop arrived in Toledo after eight seasons as the head coach at Evansville, where she compiled a record of 123-110. She was named Missouri Valley Conference Coach of the Year in her final season in 2008, leading the Purple Aces to the second round of the WNIT. Cullop was previously an assistant coach at Radford, Long Beach State, and Xavier.

A native of Bicknell, Ind., Cullop received her bachelor's degree in communications from Purdue. She was a team captain for the Boilermakers under former Miami head coach Lin Dunn, as well as a three-time academic All-Big Ten selection. She was named the Purdue Mortar Board Female Student-Athlete of the Year in 1993 and inducted into the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame in 2018.
