THE MATCHUP

Elon vs. Miami	Elon leads 1-0
Last 5 games: 1-0 // Streak: W1
02/06/40	W 58-30 Home
	Elon

INSIDE THE MATCHUP

- The Phoenix and Hurricanes met once previously on the hardwood on Feb. 6, 1940. Elon won 58-30 on its home floor.
- Elon is seeking its second straight win against an ACC opponent, having bested Notre Dame 84-77 in South Bend, Indiana, on Nov. 22, 2024, last season.
- The Phoenix has four total wins against power conference opponents in its NCAA Division I modern era (1999-present), including a second victory against an ACC squad; Elon won 74-69 at Clemson on Dec. 30, 2005. Elon also defeated South Carolina in back-to-back seasons (2011, 2012).
- Miami is 3-1 with decisive victories against Jacksonville, Bethune-Cookman and Stetson, as well as an 82-68 loss vs. No. 10 Florida in its most recent contest last Sunday. The Hurricanes are led by first-year head coach Jai Lucas.

STARTING FIVE

1. BUCKET GETTER

Graduate forward Chandler Cuthrell has been an imposing offensive force for the Phoenix, leading the CAA and ranking seventh nationally at 24.5 points per game through four outings. The graduate forward was named CAA Player of the Week on Monday after posting back-to-back career-high performances of 28 and 29 points against Marshall and Gardner-Webb. He has scored 20-plus points in every game while shooting 51.6% from the field. Cuthrell also ranks 10th in the CAA at 7.0 rebounds per game and has logged one double-double – a 20-point, 10-rebound showing in the overtime win at UNCG on Nov. 8.

2. DISH IT, PROTECT IT

Elon has taken excellent care of the basketball through its first four outings, averaging just 8.8 turnovers per game – good for 18th nationally and tops in the CAA. The Phoenix also ranks 23rd in NCAA Division I with a 1.97 assist-to-turnover ratio, highlighting the team's collective unselfishness. Leading the way are graduate guard Ja'Juan Carr and freshman guard DeMarco Johnson, who own impressive assist-to-turnover marks of 17-4 and 19-2, respectively. Johnson has already twice led the team in assists through just four career games with six in his collegiate debut vs. Belmont Abbey on Nov. 5 and eight on the road at Marshall on Nov. 12.

3. DOUBLE TROUBLE

Cuthrell's frontcourt partner, Kacper Klaczek, has been just as impactful through his first four games in maroon and gold. The graduate forward is one of only four players in NCAA Division I averaging at least 13.0 points, 8.8 rebounds, 3.3 assists and 1.0 blocks per game – a group that includes Duke's Cameron Boozer, Butler's Michael Ajayi and Grand Canyon's Nana Owusu-Anane. A native of Chorzow, Poland, Klaczek delivered his best outing in Elon's overtime win at UNCG on Nov. 12, posting 25 points and 13 boards. He enters the week shooting 50% from the field (19 of 38) and 47.1% from three (8 of 17).

4. LET IT FLY

The Phoenix has been both prolific and efficient from beyond the arc this season, leading the CAA in 3-point makes (12.8), attempts (34.0) and percentage (37.5%) entering Thursday's matchup at Miami. Elon has hit double-digit threes in all four outings – its first such stretch since a six-game run late in the 2020-21 campaign (Feb. 8-29) – and most recently buried 16-of-31 (51.6%) against Gardner-Webb. Eight different Phoenix have connected from deep, led by junior guard Randall Pettus II, who has gone 14-of-28 (50%) with multiple makes in every game, including a 5-for-10 performance last Saturday.

5. BENCH BOOST

Sophomore Bryson Cokley has quickly emerged as a valuable scoring spark for the Phoenix off the bench. The George Mason transfer – who originally committed to Wake Forest out of high school – is averaging 11.3 points in 22.8 minutes per game and has reached double figures in three of four outings. The 6-foot-6 guard delivered a season-high 14 points, including three 3-pointers, in the road matchup at Marshall and has recorded multiple threes in three games so far.

ELON 95, GARDNER-WEBB 84

November 15, 2025

Elon, North Carolina · Schar Center

ELON – Powered by a blistering first half and another career night from Chandler Cuthrell, the Elon men's basketball team rolled past Gardner-Webb 95-84 on Saturday night at Schar Center.

The Phoenix (3-1) shot 54.2% from the field and knocked down 16 3-pointers on a 51.6% clip (16 of 31), using a dominant opening 20 minutes to build a 49-27 halftime lead and control the game throughout.

Cuthrell led all scorers with a career-high 29 points on 10-of-18 shooting, including 3-of-4 from deep and 6-of-10 at the free-throw line, and added eight rebounds. Randall Pettus II added a career-high 21 points and hit five 3-pointers, while Ja'Juan Carr scored nine points on a perfect 4-for-4 shooting night and dished out six assists. Kacper Klaczek narrowly missed a double-double with seven points, eight rebounds and four assists, while Caleb Middleton provided a strong lift off the bench with seven boards and five points in 12 minutes.

Elon's early surge began with a 12-point run midway through the first half, highlighted by back-to-back threes from Pettus and a transition dunk by Cuthrell. The Phoenix hit 10 threes in the opening period and held Gardner-Webb (0-4) to 0-for-13 from beyond the arc to build their 22-point halftime advantage.

The Runnin' Bulldogs battled back in the second half behind 22 points from Jacob Hudson and 11 from Curtis Williams, trimming the deficit inside single digits late. But Pettus responded with timely threes, and Cuthrell scored 16 second-half points to keep the Phoenix comfortably in front.

BILLY TAYLOR

ELON MEN'S BASKETBALL HEAD COACH - 4TH SEASON AT ELON - NOTRE DAME, 1995

Billy Taylor, a veteran leader with 17-plus years of collegiate head coaching experience, is in his fourth season at the helm of the Elon men's basketball program. Taylor, who became the Phoenix's 19th head coach on April 15, 2022, has been a part of teams – either as a head coach or on staff – that have advanced to the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Tournament seven times.

Taylor has won 38 games through three seasons at Elon (2022-25), most recently including a 17-16 record during the 2024-25 campaign. It was the Phoenix's first winning season since 2016-17 and included marquee victories at Notre Dame – the program's fourth win against a power conference opponent in its NCAA Division I era – as well as Coastal Athletic Association foes Towson and UNCW, which finished 1-2 in the league standings.

Taylor – who reached 250 career wins during the 2024-25 season – was recognized as the midseason recipient of Collegelinsider.com's Hugh Durham Award, presented to the top mid-major college basketball coach in NCAA Division I, and was later named a finalist for the Skip Prosser Man of the Year Award.

Taylor has served as a head coach at three other institutions, including Lehigh (2002-07), Ball State (2007-13) and Belmont Abbey (2016-19). He arrived at Elon in spring 2022 following a three-year stretch as an assistant coach at Iowa (2019-22), his second stint with the Hawkeyes on Fran McCaffery's staff.

A two-time Patriot League Coach of the Year (2003, 2004), Taylor led Lehigh to both the regular season and tournament titles in 2004, earning a bid to the NCAA Tournament that season. He also guided Ball State to the 2009 Mid-American Conference (MAC) West Division crown.

Taylor went 81-69 in five seasons at Lehigh, including a 43-27 mark in the Patriot League. The Mountain Hawks were 20-11 overall and 10-4 in conference action on the way to winning the 2004 Patriot League regular season and tournament titles. His first season at Lehigh (2002-03) was marked by the nation's second-largest turnaround, improving its win total by 11 from the following season.

Taylor's 2005-06 squad set the school record for conference wins in a season (11-3).

Taylor's Ball State squads finished first or second in the MAC West Division three times and advanced to the MAC Tournament semifinals twice in his six-year tenure.

Taylor left Ball State following the 2012-13 season for his first of two stints at Iowa (2013-16), where he originally served as Director of Basketball Operations. During his three most recent seasons at Iowa (2019-22), Taylor and the Hawkeyes were a mainstay in the national rankings and the NCAA Tournament, winning the 2022 Big Ten Tournament title. The Hawkeyes won 26 games in 2022 – the second-highest single-season win total in program history – and Taylor's time on staff was highlighted by the play of two-time national player of the year Luke Garza, as well as Wooden Award and Naismith Trophy finalist Keegan Murray.

In between his stays at Iowa, Taylor was head coach at Belmont Abbey for three years (2016-19), initiating a turnaround for the Crusaders program. After 26 total wins over his first two seasons with the Crusaders, Belmont Abbey went 23-8 in 2018-19, a record that included a 14-4 mark in Conference Carolinas action. Taylor built the foundation for the program to go 61-25 in the three seasons following his departure in 2019.

Taylor has 25 total years of collegiate coaching experience, having started as an assistant coach at his alma mater, Notre Dame (1998-99). He also served as an assistant coach at UNCG from 1999-2002, helping the Spartans reach the NCAA Tournament in 2001 and earn a NIT bid in 2002.

A four-year letterwinner at Notre Dame, Taylor was recruited by Digger Phelps, was a team captain as a senior, and started 79 career games. He graduated with a degree in accounting and computer applications in 1995. He also earned his CPA license in 1998.

Taylor and his wife, Avlon, have two daughters, Tamia and Gavielle, and a son, Savion.
