SENIOR (2009-10)

After a solid start to her senior season, Nikki Bober had another year cut short by a season-ending knee injury. Bober tore the ACL in her right knee on Nov. 17, just days after opening the season with eight points, four rebounds and two blocked shots in a season-opening win over Davidson on Nov. 13.

Bober appeared in two games for the Huskers before injuring the same knee that knocked her out of Big 12 play during her junior season. She underwent surgery on her right ACL on Jan. 2, 2009, after injuring the knee in practice on Dec. 30, 2008.

Bober underwent another ACL repair on her right knee on Dec. 21, 2009, which was her fifth knee surgery since signing with the Huskers. She also tore her left ACL as a senior at Elmwood-Murdock High School.

When healthy, the 6-4 center from Murdock, Neb.

(pop. 266) was a reliable contributor for the Huskers. She played in 56 career games with one start as a junior against Southern Utah.

Bober earned her bachelor's degree in management in May of 2010.

JUNIOR (2008-09)

Bober suffered a season-ending knee injury in late-December after appearing in each of NU's first 12 games.

Bober's injury dealt a major blow to Nebraska's inside game, which had already been hit by the season-ending ankle injury to two-time All-Big 12 forward Kelsey Griffin.

Her Dec. 30 injury in practice came after she played one of the best games of her career to help the Huskers to a win over No. 24 Arizona State in Lincoln on Dec. 28.

Bober had a career-high four blocked shots against ASU, while playing a career-high 25 minutes. She also grabbed five rebounds and scored two points in the Husker win. The Sun Devils went on to advance to the NCAA Elite Eight. The timing of Bober's injury also took her out of the possibility of gaining a medical redshirt.

Bober, who underwent ACL surgery on her right knee on Jan. 2, made her first career start in Nebraska's win over Southern Utah on Nov. 22. She scored eight points, pulled down a career-best seven rebounds and blocked two shots in 20 minutes against the Thunderbirds. She added a solid effort with eight points, four rebounds, two assists and a block in 15 minutes of action against Long Beach State on Dec. 12.

Bober, served on the 2008-09 Student-Athlete Advisory Committee and earned two spots on the Big 12 Commissioner's Academic Honor Roll in the fall and spring semesters, including a perfect 4.0 GPA during the spring.

Bober saw action in all 33 games for the Huskers as a sophomore, averaging 1.7 points and 1.7 rebounds per game in 7.3 minutes per contest.

Her biggest contributions came with a season-high nine points on a perfect 4-for-4 shooting in a win at Long Beach State on Dec. 15. Bober's effort against the 49ers included the first three-pointer of her career. She added three rebounds, two assists and a block to help NU compensate for the absence of first-team All-Big 12 forward Kelsey Griffin from the NU lineup because of injury.

Bober added eight points and five rebounds in a win over Arkansas-Pine Bluff on Jan. 2. She produced the best Big 12 performance of her career with six points and four rebounds in NU's 55-45 win over Iowa State on March 5.

She supplied a huge defensive presence inside in NU's win over No. 15 Texas on Jan. 9, grabbing a season-high six defensive rebounds while adding a block and a pair of steals in just nine minutes. She pitched in two points against UT. She scored six points and had one board in six minutes in NU's win over Kansas on Jan. 12.

FRESHMAN (2006-07)

Bober enjoyed a successful collegiate debut against Florida Atlantic in the second game of the Veterans Day Classic in Tempe, Ariz., on Nov. 12. She scored a career-high 10 points on 4-of-5 shooting from the field, while adding a perfect 2-for-2 effort at the free throw line. She also grabbed two rebounds in a season-high 14 minutes.

Bober appeared in nine games and averaged 2.7 points and 0.8 rebounds on the year. She added two blocks and three steals, while shooting 57.1 percent (8-14) from both the field and the free throw line.

Bober appeared in five non-conference games, producing four points, one rebound, her first career

SENIOR (2009-10)

One of the most decorated players in Nebraska women's basketball history, Kelsey Griffin produced one of the best senior seasons in school history on her way to first-team All-America honors in 2009-10. The 6-2 forward from Eagle River, Alaska, averaged 20.1 points and 10.4 rebounds per game while leading Nebraska to its best season in school history.

The 2010 Big 12 Player of the Year, Griffin earned first-team All-America honors from the WBCA, Associated Press, U.S. Basketball Writers Association and the Wooden Award while powering Nebraska to its first-ever NCAA Sweet 16 appearance and its first Big 12 regular-season title.

Along the way, Griffin was named a finalist for every major national player-of-the-year award (Wade, Naismith, Wooden, Honda) and became Nebraska's first Lowe's Senior CLASS Award winner in any sport. She was also named a finalist for the V Foundation Comeback Award and the National Consortium on Academics and Sports Giant Steps Courageous Student-Athlete Award.

Griffin, who led Nebraska to its highest national rankings and first-ever NCAA Tournament No. 1 seed, closed her five-year career with a school-record 127 starts, while ranking third in school history with 2,033 points and second with 1,019 rebounds. She joined 1993 Wade Trophy winner Karen Jennings as the only Huskers in history with 2,000 points and 1,000 boards. Griffin also closed her career with a school-record 40 double-doubles, including 20 as a senior in 2009-10.

A three-time first-team All-Big 12 pick, Griffin also earned a spot on the Big 12 All-Defensive Team as a senior with single-season career bests of 60 steals, 26 blocks and a remarkable 29 charges drawn.

Griffin erupted for a career-high 36 points at Kansas State on March 6 to carry NU to the first perfect season in Big 12 history, helping the Huskers improve to 29-0 overall and 16-0 in the league. She hit 15-of-19 shots from the field against the Wildcats. It was Griffin's fifth 30-point effort of her career, including her fourth as a senior (31 points, 11 rebounds vs. Creighton; 30 points, 14 rebounds vs. No. 5 LSU; 30 points, 13 rebounds at No. 11 Oklahoma).

Griffin scored 20 or more points 17 times, including 11 games with 25 or more. She also produced 21 double-figure rebound efforts as a senior, including a career-high 17 rebounds to go along with 19 points and a career-best five blocks in a Feb. 27 win over Missouri.

Griffin earned six Big 12 Player-of-the-Week awards as a senior, including four straight to end the season. She became the first player in history to win four straight player-of-the-week accolades.

Griffin finished with 104 double-figure scoring efforts in her career, including each of the Nebraska's three games in the 2010 NCAA Tournament, when she averaged 18.3 points and 11.7 rebounds per game.

After a sensational start as a freshman, Griffin battled illness down the stretch, limiting her playing time during the last half of the 2006 Big 12 season.

In 2006-07, she was challenged by a breathing condition with effects similar to asthma. In 2007-08, Griffin played the entire year with a protective vest after cracking a rib in NU's final exhibition game.

Not even the rib injury and breathing condition could stop Griffin from averaging 16.8 points and 8.2 rebounds per game in Big 12 play. They also couldn't stop her from carrying the Huskers to their first NCAA Tournament victory since 1998.

Griffin erupted for 26 points going head-to-head with Xavier's post duo of 6-6 Ta'Shia Phillips and 6-5 Amber Harris to guide NU to a win over the Musketeers in College Park, Md.

However, in 2008-09 Griffin was forced to miss the entire season with a foot injury that required a pair of surgeries. She returned to full health before the start of the 2009-10 campaign.

"Kelsey is one of the toughest, hard-nosed competitors I have ever coached," Nebraska Coach Connie Yori said. "She is a warrior on the court and you get her best every night. Not only that, but she is a solid student and an outstanding person."

REDSHIRT (2008-09)

Griffin took a redshirt season after suffering a foot injury in August. The injury required surgery in December and a second surgery in June of 2009. She did not return to playing full-court basketball until September of 2009.

Griffin led the Huskers with 15.3 points and 7.2 rebounds per game, and ranked among the Big 12's top 10 in scoring, rebounding, field goal percentage and free throw percentage as a junior. She led NU to the third NCAA Tournament win in school history with 26 points in a 61-58 victory over Xavier on March 23.

Her effort against the Musketeers followed 21 points and 10 boards against Kansas in the Big 12 Tournament.

Griffin scored 20 or more points seven times in 2007-08, including three games with 26 points. She had seven double-doubles, including five in regular-season Big 12 play and a sixth in the conference tournament.

Despite being limited all season by a cracked rib suffered in NU's exhibition finale on Nov. 5, Griffin showed her toughness by taking a team-best 20 charges, including four in the NCAA Tournament.

After missing four games and sitting out three weeks with the injury to close non-conference play, Griffin averaged 16.8 points and 8.2 rebounds in Big 12 action. She improved each week, averaging 19 points and 8.7 rebounds over NU's final 10 regular-season games.

Griffin's Big 12 numbers came in just 27 minutes per game. She scored 269 points in just 433 minutes of league action, an average of 0.62 points per minute. She pulled down 131 rebounds for 0.30 boards per minute. Her per-minute scoring surpassed 2007 National Player of the Year Courtney Paris from Oklahoma, who averaged 0.58 points per minute in Big 12 play. Griffin's rebounds per minute trailed only Paris among league players.

She produced season highs with 26 points in wins over Xavier (March 23), Missouri (Feb. 21) and Colorado (Feb. 6), and pulled down a season-high 14 rebounds at Texas Tech (Feb. 24).

Her 26 points against Xavier tied for the second-best individual total by a Husker in NCAA Tournament history.

Griffin was the fourth Husker sophomore in history to capture first-team all-conference honors, joining Kiera Hardy, Karen Jennings and Maurice Ivy.

Griffin joined Hardy in becoming the first Husker duo to earn first-team All-Big 12 honors in the same season. Griffin ranked among the top 10 in the Big 12 in scoring, rebounding and field goal percentage, averaging 15.0 points and a team-best 8.3 rebounds, while shooting a team-best 54.6 percent from the field.

She had 10 double-doubles and six 20-plus scoring efforts, including four in Big 12 play. She scored in double figures 28 times and grabbed double-figure rebounds 12 times. She led NU on the glass on 20 occasions.

Griffin ranked seventh in the Big 12 in scoring (15.0 ppg) and sixth in rebounding (8.3 rpg) and field goal percentage (54.6 percent), while her 10 double-doubles were seventh-best in the league in 2006-07.

She stepped into the national spotlight with 23 points and 13 rebounds in Nebraska's 76-67 win over No. 13 Baylor in a Fox Sports Net national telecast at the Devaney Center on Feb. 3. She earned the Big 12 Player-of-the-Week award on Feb. 5, her second honor of the season after capturing the award on Jan. 8.

Griffin scored a season-high 24 points and grabbed 10 boards in a win over Kansas on Jan. 27. She had 22 points and eight rebounds against All-American Courtney Paris and No. 8 Oklahoma on Jan. 6. She pumped in 21 points with seven rebounds going head-to-head with Texas All-American Tiffany Jackson. Griffin helped the Huskers to their first-ever win in Austin on Jan. 3.

She posted her first double-double of the year with 17 points and 12 boards in a win over No. 18 New Mexico in Tempe, Ariz., on Nov. 13. She added a double with 13 points and 12 boards against Cal State Fullerton on Nov. 17. Griffin posted her third straight double-double with 22 points and 10 rebounds in a win at UC Irvine on Nov. 24.

She added a double-double with 13 points, 11 boards and three assists in NU's 60-57 win at Creighton on Dec. 19. Griffin produced back-to-back double-doubles to lead NU to a State Farm Classic title at Florida. In the opener against NCAA Sweet 16 qualifier NC State, Griffin erupted for 18 points and 10 boards in a 94-74 Nebraska victory, before adding 15 points and 13 rebounds in an 81-73 win over Florida on its homecourt.

Griffin added Big 12 road doubles at Kansas (18 points, 13 rebounds) and No. 21 Texas A&M (16 points, 10 rebounds). She had 17 points and seven rebounds in NU's Big 12 Tournament second-round overtime loss to Iowa State on March 7, before settling for 11 points and six rebounds against Temple in the first round of the NCAA Tournament on March 18.

FRESHMAN (2005-06)

Griffin produced one of the best freshman seasons in Nebraska history, capturing Big 12 Freshman-of-the-Year honors from the Dallas Morning News.

A member of the five-player Big 12 All-Rookie team chosen by the league coaches, Griffin was the fifth NU freshman in history to score 400 points. She closed her rookie campaign with 19 points and seven rebounds against Kansas State in the WNIT quarterfinals to finish fourth on NU's freshman scoring list with 424 points.

Griffin finished the year with 13.3 points and 6.0 rebounds per game, despite battling illness for the final nine games of the season. Her scoring and rebounding averages ranked among the top 10 on NU's freshman lists. She also remained in the starting lineup for all 32 games, becoming just the fourth freshman in Husker history, and the first since Meggan Yedsena in 1990-91, to start every game of her rookie campaign.

The first player from Alaska in Husker women's basketball history, Griffin set the NU freshman record with 121 made free throws, while her 174 attempts ranked second among Husker freshmen. Her 54.1 percent field goal shooting ranked third by an NU freshman.

Griffin achieved the 100-point scoring mark faster than any player in NU history, reaching the mark in the first minute of her seventh game. Her race to 100 was accelerated by 31 points and 14 rebounds against Texas A&M-Corpus Christi in her fourth career game.

Griffin's performance against the Islanders came on 9-of-18 shooting from the field and a 13-of-18 effort at the free throw line. Her 18 attempts tied the overall school record for free throw attempts in a single game. Her performance also earned her a spot on the Miami Thanksgiving Classic All-Tournament team.

SENIOR (2009-10)

Kala Kuhlmann was a major contributor for the Huskers throughout her career. She was also a leader for Nebraska as a senior, helping the Huskers to the best season in school history in 2009-10.

The 5-8 guard from Charter Oak, Iowa (pop. 508), averaged 3.4 points and 1.5 rebounds per game while appearing in all 34 contests as a senior, helping NU finish with a 32-2 overall record and the school's first Big 12 regular-season title with a perfect 16-0 mark.

One of Nebraska's top players off the bench, Kuhlmann helped guide the Huskers to their first-ever NCAA Sweet 16 after claiming the first NCAA Tournament No. 1 seed in school history. NU tied the Big 12 record with a 30-game winning streak to open the season, while becoming the first Big 12 men's or women's team to complete an unbeaten regular season (29-0).

Nebraska also finished No. 4 in the official NCAA RPI at the end of the season, after achieving the highest national rankings (No. 3) in school history during the year.

Kuhlmann started her first three games as a senior before returning to a reserve role in NU's fourth game.

She made her first career start on her 22nd birthday in NU's season-opening win over Davidson. She scored nine points, grabbed three rebounds and matched her career high with three steals against the Wildcats. Kuhlmann added a start at UNLV, scoring three points. She started her final game against Idaho State.

Although she was not a regular starter during her career, Kuhlmann earned the respect of her teammates with her selfless, team-first attitude.

A talented shooter, Kuhlmann capped 2009-10 regular-season non-conference play by tying her career high with 13 points on 5-of-5 shooting in NU's road win at Vermont on Jan. 4. Kuhlmann also knocked down a career-best three three-pointers against the America East champion Catamounts, who went on to advance to the second round of the 2010 NCAA Tournament.

She added a strong effort with seven points, on 3-of-3 shooting from the field, including a three-pointer, to go along with four rebounds, an assist and a steal in Nebraska's 14-point win over No. 5 LSU on Dec. 20. She scored seven more against another top-10 team in NU's 21-point win over No. 10 Oklahoma State on Feb. 3. She added six points on a perfect shooting night in a win over No. 22 UCLA in the NCAA second round.

She scored seven points and grabbed four rebounds in a lopsided win over Washington State.

An outstanding free throw shooter, Kuhlmann hit the final 10 free throws of her career dating back to a miss at Colorado on Jan. 30, 2010.

Kuhlmann closed her career by tying teammate Nicole Neals for 11th on Nebraska's career games played list with 122.

In addition to her success on the court, Kuhlmann was a star in the classroom as a three-time first-team academic All-Big 12 selection. A 10-time member of the Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll, Kuhlmann earned her bachelor's degree as a Spanish and psychology major in May of 2010.

JUNIOR (2008-09)

Kuhlmann continued to be one of Nebraska's most reliable players off the bench as a junior. She averaged 2.8 points and 1.8 rebounds per game while dishing out 32 assists and grabbing 14 steals on the year.

She played in all 31 games and averaged nearly 14 minutes per contest. She produced double figures in three games, including a career-high 13 points in a season-opening victory over Weber State on Nov. 14. She also dished out four assists against the Wildcats in just 18 minutes of action.

After contributing eight points and four rebounds in NU's win at Creighton on Nov. 17, she struck for double figures again with 11 points on 5-of-6 shooting from the field in 28 minutes of action in a road win at Denver to help the Huskers improve to 4-0 on the year. She added 12 points while tying her career high with two three-pointers in a win over Long Beach State on Dec. 12.

Montgomery helped lead Nebraska to the best season in school history in 2009-10, as the Huskers finished with a 32-2 overall record that included a 16-0 conference mark and the school's first Big 12 regular-season title. NU also achieved the highest national rankings in school history (No. 3) and tied the Big 12 record with a 30-game winning streak to open the season. The Huskers became the first Big 12 men's or women's team to finish a perfect regular season (29-0), before earning the school's first-ever No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament.

After helping power the Huskers to the first NCAA Sweet 16 in school history, Montgomery became the fourth player in NU history selected in the WNBA Draft. Montgomery was drafted by the New York Liberty as the top pick of the third round and the 25th pick overall in the 2010 draft. She joined fellow Husker forward Kelsey Griffin in the draft, after Griffin was chosen with the No. 3 overall pick by the Minnesota Lynx before being traded to the Connecticut Sun.

Montgomery and Griffin, who combined for more than 3,400 points and 1,600 rebounds in their careers, became the first Husker duo selected in the same WNBA Draft.

A talented scorer both inside and out, Montgomery tied for No. 3 in Husker history in career three-point field goal percentage (.385), while ranking ninth all-time with 80 made three-pointers in her career.

Her .789 career free throw percentage also ranked sixth in Nebraska history.

As a senior, Montgomery produced a season-high 24 points to go along with six rebounds as Nebraska clinched the Big 12 title with a win at No. 11 Oklahoma Feb. 24.
